AUTOGRAPHS

I have such royal guests to make my summers fleet;
Love and her gorgeous train; I bar my heart against none:
You knock, you call, your voice is heavenly sweet,
As with your sly glance you stand at my heart's door,
I open it a little way in doubt, and lo:
Love moves upon her flower-disked seat to give you room;
The others smile assent - you enter - now I know
Angels will find welcome where love has her home.

Respectfully
H. A. C.

While all are changing here below, I ask to be retained in thy fond heart as a small oasis in the great desert of forgetfulness. And if we never meet again, let each strive for that land, where parting is unknown, and where "we shall know as we are known."
"For this life is not worth having, with all it can give;
For something beyond it - poor man sure must live!"

Susie Grayson.

"Forget Me Not"

L. M. Croxson,

May guardian angels all thy footsteps attend and may you never need a friend and in every age most happy be all I ask remember me

Miss Anne:-

Remember me as a true friend,

W. L. Morrison.

April 22, 1883.

Dear Amelia

May these few words recall to your memory the friend whose sincere wish is that much usefulness may be for you in the future and those with whom you mingle may say: "We are better for her having been among us".

Truly your Friend

Dear Amelia

When in future years your eyes may carelessly fall on these few scribbling lines, will you kindly remember your friend and schoolmate.

Dear Miss. Amelia-

"It is not just as we take it
This troublesome world of ours;
Life's field will yield as we make it,
A harvest of thorns or of flowers.

Your sincere friend"

Dear Spritts:
Though I've met thee but seldom thy sweet face has often presented its self in fancy, and I can never forget the expression of those lovely eyes: the gentle grace that is ever present when thou art near: Keep it ever with thee, my fair friend. There is nothing more attractive, and sure to gain you friends.
May angels attend thee.

Sincerely,

Wm. & M. West.

Dear room-mate,

May the screen which hides from your ken your future prospects, as it gradually drawn aside, reveal to you anethy and sweet roses from which you may quaff many cups of joy.

Dear Amelia.

We've had some happy hours together,
But joys must often change its wing,
And Spring would be but gloomy weather
If we had nothing else but Spring.

Time leaves its imprint on each face,
No matter grave or gay

My wishes are ^{that} it never may chase; your happy smiles away
