FA 83      The VOICE of the People

4 boxes. 54 folders. 86 items, 1989.
 Typescripts, transcripts, cassette tapes, and videotape.

1989.115.3

COLLECTION NOTE

Over 300 individuals from Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam settled in Bowling Green, Kentucky in the early-1980s with the assistance of the Western Kentucky Refugee Mutual Assistance Society, Inc. which operates the Bowling Green Refugee Center (now known as the International Center of Kentucky). The Khmer represented about 60% of that number and the Lao and Vietnamese constituted approximately 20% each. "The Voice of the People" project was the result of an "Oral History Materials and Methods" class taught by Dr. Lynwood Montell at Western Kentucky University.

The project includes an introductory paper and seven papers by students who interviewed the informants. All of the interviews were oral and recorded on cassette tapes, except for one video interview on a videotape (Box 1, Folder 10). Some interviews are full transcribed, others only partially, and some only include an interview index/summary. All the interviews on cassette tapes and videotape are included. The interviews have also been digitized and are saved in the WKU Sound Archives.
