BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Mackie E. (Smith) Bennett was born on 1 January 1880, in Bowling Green, Kentucky, the daughter of Colonel Thomas J. and Ella B. (Wright) Smith. She was one of nine children. Her maternal grandfather, Dr. Thomas B. Wright, was Bowling Green's first mayor (1870-1871) and her father was the city's seventh mayor (1880-1891). She was educated at Bowling Green's St. Columba Academy and attended the Southern Normal School in Bowling Green. In 1923, she graduated from Western Kentucky State Normal School and Teachers College. She taught one year at Ludlow, Kentucky, prior to accepting a position as sixth grade teacher at Center Street School in Bowling Green. She continued teaching until 1937 when she became the school's principal, a position she held until 1950. When the Center Street School was razed, the new school was named Parker-Bennett in honor of Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Rubye S. Parker.

Bennett was a member of numerous civic organizations, lineage societies, and social clubs, including the Board of the Bowling Green-Warren County Welfare Center, Business and Professional Women's Club, Current Events Club, Daughters of the American Revolution, Delta Kappa Gamma, Order of the Eastern Star, Past Matrons, Sue Young Sewing Circle, Sue Young Society, Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary, and the Rebekah Lodge. She was a faithful member of the State Street Methodist Church, where she taught the Golden Rule class for forty years.

Mackie and William Samuel Bennett, a clothes salesman, were wed on 7 December 1904, and had no children. He died in 1949. She died on 6 August 1966 and is interred in Fairview Cemetery.

COLLECTION NOTE

Approximately one-half of this collection is comprised of Bennett's Center Street School grade books (1921-1949). Several of the grade books contain a classroom census that lists: child's name, birthday, parent/guardian, address, occupation of parent, doctor, and telephone number. Also included are minutes/reports of several organizations including the Community Chest, Daughters of the American Revolution, and United Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary. There is a large group of administrative and financial records of the Sue Young Sewing Circle, which was chartered in 1916 by a number of female members of the State Street Methodist Church. The records cover the period from 1915 through 1948. The club was named for Susan Elbert Young (1849-1914), the wife of the church's minister (1913-

1916), Dr. J. H. Young. Young died unexpectedly at the Norton Infirmary in Louisville and is buried in Lexington, Kentucky, her hometown. Also, there are minutes of the Sue Young Society from 1949 to 1959.
