A typical Western-Murray game in Western's Stadium.

Dedication

This program is dedicated to the continuance of that wholesome spirit of keen competition, fine chivalry, and clean sportsmanship which exists between the colleges of Western and Murray and of which this annual football game is a most eloquent expression.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS

This program has been published under the sponsorship of the Western Athletic Committee. The sole objective in the creating of this publication has been to present a souvenir football program from which one might familiarize himself with the colleges and the various coaches and players. There has been no thought of financial profit in the presentation of this book. The rates of the advertising herein and the retail price have been set at figures only high enough to insure the cost of publishing.

A most earnest vote of thanks is given to those who have helped make this program possible with their advertising. Without their cooperation it could not have been printed. It is sincerely hoped that they will be amply repaid in patronage from the thousands of fans who will see the 1937 Western-Murray football game.

Paul L. Garrett, elected president of Western Teachers College September 1, to succeed Dr. H. H. Cherry, who recently died, will move into the president's home on the campus in the near future.

Mr. Garret was educated in the elementary schools of Shelby county, Georgetown College, the University of Chicago and the University of Kentucky. He has been in school work since his graduation from college, except for a period of one year in which he served with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. He is a member of the American Legion and attends the Baptist Church. His wife formerly was Virginia Ellis of New Castle.

Greetings!

Western is happy to be host on the occasion of the Football Classic of West Kentucky, a game marked by courageous fight and fine sportsmanship.

Welcome to all who love Murray!
Welcome to all who love Western!
Welcome to all who love the game!
Welcome to the Hill!

MURRAY COLLEGE NEWS ACCOUNT OF MURRAY-WESTERN FEUD

Nov. 15, Murray, Ky.

The annual Murray-Western gridiron feud flares into life again when the Thoroughbreds of Murray invade the Hilltop stronghold of Western at Bowling Green Ky., Saturday afternoon, November 20.

The game promises to be a football classic, deciding such pertinent questions as the KIAC and SIAA championships, and what happens when an unstoppable object meets an immovable one. In their six years of football relations, Western has won 4 and Murray 2.

The two teams are well-matched; both big, powerful, fast and aggressive. Murray has specialized in offensive football featuring speed and deception. Western has developed a powerful offense and a stubborn, unyielding defense.

Coach Roy Stewart of Murray states, "I am not ready to concede the game to Western. I think the team will win that gets the breaks—or makes the breaks. Their line is more powerful, especially on defense, but our backfield is stronger, principally because we are able to use two sets of backs.

"Our reserves should be stronger since we have used them very liberally all season,—in fact, no one feels that he is a substitute.

"On the basis of past games they will out-kick us.

"Our boys will not be afraid of them. It will be a much better game to watch this year, for both teams, especially Murray, are using a more open attack and will be taking plenty of chances."

A comparison of season's records fails to make either team a favorite in the coming battle. Each team has lost one non-conference game: Murray bowing to Hardin-Simmons of Abilene, Texas, and Western losing to Western Michigan State of Kalamazoo, Mich. Western may boast of beating Bradley Polytechnic Institute of Peoria, Ill., by the score 21-0. The University of Iowa was able to beat Bradley only 14-7. Murray is proud of a victory 21-14 over the Middle Tennessee Teachers of Murfreesboro, Tenn., who have not lost a conference game for two years.

Western is Strong

The Western team is liberally sprinkled with capable men.

At the center position is Clarence Caple, captain. Caple was chosen on both the 1935 and 1936 All-KIAC elevens and is generally considered as one of the best linemen ever to perform at Western.

At the guard positions are: Joe Cook, alternate captain and Freeman Carothers. Cook is one of the most aggressive players on the team and really likes to "rough it up." He was chosen on the All-KIAC team last year.

Carothers is the hard, rugged, driving type of guard.

Playing tackle are two sophomores both weighing over 200 pounds: Sam Paneninto and Walter Malone. Both men are hard-charging, rough and ready footballers. Malone closely resembles Max Schmeling and is the best boxer at Western.

The flank positions are filled by Batsel and Cooner. Both men play brilliant defensive football and are good blockers.

Outstanding in the Western backfield is Glen "Butterball" Williams, fullback. Williams was Western's high scoring back last year and has scored most of the Hilltoppers' touchdowns this year. His specialty is smashing the center of the line. He has never worn a headgear.

Joe Gill is quarterback and blocking back. He is a capable field general. To date he has kicked 10 points after touchdowns out of 12 attempted.

Jimmie Baker is wing back and is one of the fastest men on the Western team.

Completing the backfield is George Bibich, Western's triple-threat man. He does most of the team's punting, passing, carrying the ball, and calls signals. Fast, shifty, and elusive, Bibich is the most spectacular ball-carrier on the Western team.

Murray Has Stars

Against this powerful Western lineup, Murray will play such stars as:

C. W. Hardin, considered by those who have seen him play as one of the best centers in the South, a surety for All-State, and All-SIAA, and an excellent chance of being placed on the Little All-American. He is an accurate snapper-back; an excellent charger offensively; good on backing up the line; an excellent play diagnostician; and one of the best men ever seen on pass defense. He weighs 179 pounds, but makes it up with pep and fight.

Murray has five guards they can throw at the Hilltoppers, any of them capable of giving the Andersonmen a busy afternoon. Capt. Elmer Cochran, leading guard candidate for All-Conference honors, will start at one guard with Buster Neese, amiable veteran, or Lacey Oowney, rugged son, at the other. Dennis "Dutchman" Horlander, one of the roughest boys in the business, and Lewis Applegate, another tough boy, will be able to replace them capably. The guards will average around 175 pounds with Neese, the heaviest with 200, and Applegate the smallest at 171.

Murray will throw two sophomore tackles at Western, but that is not a qualifying statement, as all Murray's tackles are sophomores. Pete Gudauskas, Herman Morris, or Edd Donoho will probably get the starting assignment, but Grant Brandeis, Julian Craddock, and Bob Smith, will see action before the skies have grown dark. The Murray tackles prove to be the most vicious group ever to play at Murray, but right now they need seasoning.

The two ends that Coach Stewart start will certainly be deserving of the spot on the line-up, as there are six flankmen that have been waging a battle royal for the starting posts since the first of the season. Probably Alt. Capt. Jones, an excellent defensive end and a good blocker, and Jim Allison, hard driving, slashing, and pass-catching man from Owensboro will get the starting assignments, but Dale

Director of Athletics

Carl "Swede" Anderson, who is director of athletics at Western Kentucky State Teachers College, Bowling Green, Kentucky, has served in that capacity since the fall of 1934 and since that time he has also been the head coach in football for the Kentucky Hilltoppers.

From 1930 through the 1933 season Coach Anderson was at Kansas State College, where he was aiding the Kansas College in rolling up some impressive gridiron records, as assistant to some able coaches.

Coach Anderson is a graduate of Geneva College of Beaver Falls, Pa., where he played football under the tutelage of Coach Bo McMillian, who is now the head football coach at Indiana University.

William (Gander) Terry is the assistant to Coach "Swede" Anderson of the Kentucky State Teachers College and as must be admitted that they make a good coaching pair

Mr. Edgar (Farmer) Stansbury after graduating from Western coached football and basketball at Lancaster, Kentucky High School. Four years ago he came back to Western bringing with him two outstanding backfield men in Jimmie Baker and Waddell Murphy. Coach Stansbury teaches Physical Education and is head Freshman football and basketball coach.

Willard (Baldy) Day and Eck (Leaping Lena) Branham are Western's Assistant Freshmen coaches. "Baldy" and "Lena" are both capable coaches who like Coach Terry and Coach Stansbury played under the Ole Maestro Carl (Swede) Anderson.

No more ankles to tape with all the annoying foot odors, no more patching of equipment, no more hunting this or that my work is done. I am turning the team over to the coaches and they in turn wish they could pass it on to the Downtown Coaches for this game, but I don't think they will take it until a couple of hours after game time.

WESTERN COLLEGE HEIGHTS HERALD'S ACCOUNT OF MURRAY-WESTERN FEUD

November 16

With the seventh annual renewal of what has developed into Western Kentucky's outstanding athletic event only a few days away, the Hilltoppers are being worked overtime by Coaches Anderson and Terry in an effort to have them at their peak when they clash with Murray's Thoroughbreds in the Western stadium Saturday.

up against the Racehorses, because with Murry scouts in the stands, Coach Anderson kept his intricate plays under cover, and used his reserves as much as possible in order to forestall possible injuries to his regulars.

Both Boast Great Centers

Although both Western and Murray possess the most powerful lines in the history of the schools, the main interest will be focused pinto tip the scale sat better than 200 pounds, while Guduaskas and Donoho weigh around 200.

With Alternate-Captain Joe Cook till a doubtful starter, Murray has a decided advantage at the guard positions. Captain Elmer Cochrane, an All-Conference man, and Dacey Downey, a sophomore sensation, will serve to offset the Hilltoppers advantage at the tackle berths.

MURRAY COACHING STAFF

Coach Stewart, who came to Murray from Union University where he successfully coached, is beginning his sixth year as head football coach. During this time he has won one S. I. A. A. championship, had one team to win the K. I. A. C. championship twice, and has averaged winning more than six games per season.

John Miller, frosh coach, is a Murray graduate and letterman. This capable Murray grad has been in charge of freshmen, and much of the varsity's success is due to his untiring patience with the frosh.

Moore, coming to Murray as line coach this season from Connecticut State has had experience in three fields of football—as a college player, a college coach, and as a professional player and coach. He has previously assisted Andy Kerr and Bo McMillin in coaching schools.

The Murray eleven threw a bombshell into the Western camp on Saturday morning when news of Murray's crushing 32-7 defeat of Ellis Johnson's unbeaten and untied Morehead Eagles became known. Previously, the Toppers were rated about even with the Eagles by virtue of their 26-0 victory over Eastern, a team which Western defeated 23-0. As a result of last Friday's victory, Coach Roy Stewart's team looms a favorite to score their third victory in seven starts against the Andersonmen.

Western's victory last Saturday over the Western Illinois Leathernecks by 28 to 0, failed to indicate how the locals might stack on the battle between two great centers. Captain Clarence Cagle of Western, two-time All-K.I.A.C. selection, will be opposed by C. W. "Jellico" Hardin, said to be one of the best defensive pivot men in the South by those who have watched him perform. Their showing in the forthcoming game will probably determine the All-K.I.A.C. selection for that position this year.

Both teams have a pair of sophomore tackles who probably will receive starting assignments. Guduaskas and Doncho for Murray and Malone and Panepine for Western. The Toppers hold a slight advantage here due to the fact that both Malone and Pane-

Western's flankmen appear superior to the Murray ends, though the visitors' replacements at that position are stronger than the Hilltoppers'. Batsel and Cooper will probably get the call from Coach Anderson, while Coach Stewart will use Deibert and Bland.

Western Has Kick Advantage

Western's biggest advantage will be in the kicking department. If Henry Cooper, the Hilltopper flankman, can continue the kicking performances of previous games, he will undoubtedly outkick any booter that Murray has to offer. To date, the best punter the Thoroughbreds could produce Caple, a product of Ludlow High School, learned his football under a former Western athlete, "Teddy" Hornback. Generally considered as one of the best linesmen ever to perform for Western, Caple is in his third year as a varsity man and has had the honor of being chosen on both the 1935 and the 1936 All-K. I. A. C. elevens. Clarence was a member of the basketball squad here as a freshman but has since forsaken the sport due to a knee ailment which, if aggravated, might handicap his ability on the football field.

Joe Cook (Alt. Capt.) Marion, Ky., Senior
Age 22 Wt. 181 Guard

Joe, like Caple, is enjoying his third year of varsity football and is one of the most aggressive players in the state. Added to his unusual natural talent for the game is a willingness for work and a never-say-die spirit. Cook was chosen on the All-K. I. A. C. team last year as a junior and will likely repeat.

Murray-Western Band Feud Is Renewed

By Tom Flake

(Murray College News)

When two of the greatest football rivals in this territory meet at Bowling Green next Saturday, two college bands will be vying for musical honors.

The 80-piece Murray band will accompany the Thoroughbreds to the "Knoll" and will take the field between the halves to uphold its title, "Best Band in the SIAA."

Prof. William H. Fox, director of the Murray aggregation, has prepared what is expected to be one of the most unusual sets of maneuvers ever performed on a Southern field.

The Western band, according to the College Heights Herald, Western student publication, is going to present "the latest in novel entertainment."

"To the scintillating rhythms of 'Old-Fashioned Love,' " says the Herald, "the Western band will go through the complicated routines of the Big Apple, carrying and playing their instruments at the same time."

Popularity of the "sing band" idea as well as the "swing" motif was proved at Dyersburg when a choral version of Union's alma mater was offered, but it was not learned whether singing will be a part of the Bowling Green program.

Deibert, Tommy Atwell, Ralph Love and Gene Bland, will be in there before very few minutes have been clocked off. The end group as a whole, possess everything that an end should have, speed, power, blocking fineness, excellent defensively and great in supporting their teammates.

Coach Stewart's two backfields will be composed of Bill McRaven, Paul Fowler, Judge Mitchell, Charlie Yarbrough, Tex Beale, Hugh Finley, Bill Thompson and John Jasper. Several of these boys are candidates for all-conference honors, and their performance in the Western game will be their final test in showing their effectiveness.

The rivalry which has grown up between Western and Murray is one of the most intense of the state. Murray State College, though not nearly so large as Western, has successfully challenged Western in every athletic or intellectual department. With the collegiate supremacy of Western Kentucky at stake, the two schools have competed with no quarters asked or given for the last seven years.

seldom get off a kick for more than forty yards, while many of Cooper's loots in recent games travelled for better than fifty yards.

In the ball-toting department, the 'Breds have a decided advantage, possessing three speedy backs in Yarbrough, Mitchell and McRaven, who run and pass with equal skill. Rounding out the Murray backfield is Bill Thompson, who is an effective blocker at his quarterback post. "Canonball" Bibich must be depended on for whatever long gains the Western team makes. Fullback "Butterball" Williams is particularly effective, however, in cracking an opposing line for short gains. Williams was an All-K.I.A.C. selection last year, and has a fine chance to repeat this season. Gili and Baker will handle most of the blocking assignments for the Toppers.

Both teams have capable reserves, the strength of which may determine the outcome of the game.

President Richmond, Murray, Sends Greetings To Western

As Murray comes to Western this year for the seventh annual grid classic between these great educational institutions of Western Kentucky, may we express our appreciation of the wholesome and friendly rivalry that exists in the minds and hearts of the players, students, administration, and faculty of the two colleges.

Murray's Thoroughbreds are coming to Bowling Green determined to win if they can. We are sure that Western's Hilltoppers are imbued with the same desire for victory. On the other hand, we believe we are expressing the mutual sentiment of both teams in saying that goodwill, clean play, and Kentucky sportsmanship are the underlying motives that will continue to inspire us all.

We know that the day will be a huge success regardless of who wins or loses. It will always be a success so long as the same brotherly feeling continues to prevail.

May the best team win!

(Signed) JAMES H. RICHMOND, President.

Arnold Winkenhofer, College High Football Coach

Arnold Winkenhofer, a local boy, has made an excellent record as a coach and a teacher, and leader of various clubs on the "Hill." Winky or "Lum," has had ten years of coaching experience and has had some remarkable successes. He coached his first year at Dawson Springs then shifted over to Princeton where he finished in the A Division or among the leaders of the Little Sixteen Conference for five years. After his achievements at Princeton, Winky was imported to College High in 1933. In 1936, Winky had his most successful season by losing only one game and that to the city Champions of Nashville, who had experienced three previous undefeated seasons. While at Western Winky was under the tutorship of Coach Diddle and Coach Anderson. Here he was the Captain of the 1928 basketball team and a member of that year's K. I. A. C. team and also received an honorable mention for All-State football.

BIOGRAPHY OF DR. HENRY HARDIN CHERRY

Henry Hardin Cherry was born November 16, 1864, nine miles north of Bowling Green. Violence was abroad in the land. It was on that day that Sherman, leading 60,000 men, started on his terrible march from Atlanta to the sea. Before the child was a month old those prodigalities in blood, the battles of Franklin and Nashville, had been enacted. This natal accomplishment of struggle was in great part fitly symbolic. He lived almost seventy-three years, and never knew any peace. He was a fighter. Always one fight more.

He was the seventh of nine strong sons. After he was six he went to school about two months yearly. On January 22, 1885 he walked to Bowling Green through eight inches of snow and entered the Southern Normal School. Except for a brief interval his life was spent in the institution from that day on. In 1891 he was made an instructor, in 1892 president. The school then had twenty-eight students. Under his dynamic leadership, the enrollment rose rapidly. In November, 1899, the building burned. This crisis was the first major test of the stuff of which he was made. Not a recitation was missed, and within a year a new building was ready. The fine vitality of the school was recognized in 1906 when the legislature by official act transformed the Southern Normal School into the Western Kentucky State Normal School. Sixteen years later, by the same authority, the institution was given full college rating. In 1928 the college was authorized to offer graduate courses and degrees. In 1933 and 1934 the college was the largest of its kind in the nation. Henry Hardin Cherry was that kind of builder. He was for forty-five years an active member of the Kentucky Education Association, twice its president, for twenty years a director. He conceived the idea of the Farmers Chautauqua, and served as the chairman of the State Speakers Committee during the war. He was the author of two books, Our Civic Image and Our Governments and Education, the Basis of Democracy. He was married on April 11, 1896, to Bessie Fayne, and they are the parents of three children, Josephine, Elizabeth, and Hardin, Jr.

Henry Hardin Cherry died August 1, 1937—died after three score and twelve years packed with achievement, but too soon. So much work yet to do, so many battles to be waged. The thunder of battle never faded from his ears, and they grew tired from the din. He never dropped back and marched with the rank and file, but always ahead, searching out the land, blazing trails. And his life too often was lonely and hard, as the life of a frontiersman always must be. But he set into motion great deeds whose influence shall continue through the years, creative deeds whose end is the human brotherhood he envisioned.
