Silver Stars Steel Orchestra

Thursday, September 7, 1978; Ivan Wilson Amphitheater

The Silver Stars Steel Orchestra has been exciting New England audiences with the penetrating sounds of steel for the past several years. Steel band music is a 35-year-old Trinidadian innovation in which 55 gallon oil drums are fashioned into musical instruments—pans. It is music played by ear, "wrap-around music" that emerges from the consciousness of its arrangers. The Silver Stars Steel Orchestra is an authentic Trinidad steel band featuring calypso, rock, classic and pop. What they enjoy most, however, is playing for a good party where the crowd, captured by the percussive sounds and pulsating rhythms, "break away" and jump up with Trinidadian abandon.

Harry Carey, Jr. and The Westerns

Thursday, October 5, 1978; Van Meter Auditorium

Harry Carey, Jr. is one of film's all-time great western character actors. In this unique one-man show, "Harry Carey, Jr. and The Westerns," the veteran movie star takes a nostalgic and light-hearted glimpse at the movies. He reveals the humorous side of the famous and not-so-famous—Ward Bond, Jimmy Stewart, John Wayne, Richard Widmark, Henry Fonda and others. It is an exciting multi-media presentation. To anyone who has ever loved movies...an evening with Harry Carey, Jr. is a "must see."

Martin Luther King, Jr. : A Portrait

Wednesday, February 14, 1979; Garrett Conference Center Ballroom

"King: A Portrait" recreates the most moving moments from Dr. King's life. Presented as a one-man tribute to a spiritual missionary, this drama by Rev. Arthur Langford recaptures the inspiration, eloquence and forceful leadership of "A Twentieth-Century Moses." Langford makes contemporary black history leap alive with fresh and original vigor. He relives the momentous career of Martin Luther King, Jr.—a diligent worker for human rights. Included in this production are renditions of Dr. King's most significant writings.
