COLLECTION NOTE

Collection contains photocopies of two volumes entitled "Office Record Book of County Superintendent" which include information about each school in Warren County, Kentucky from 1909-1928. Most sheets contain the following information: school's physical description, the school population for the given years, the enrollment, the average attendance, and each school's expenses. Many of these pages also include a photograph of the school building. These photographs were copied, and the negatives and proof sheets for them are found in folders 5-12; folder 13 contains information relating to the photographs.

The collection also includes a school census for 1932 and 1934 for Warren County, Kentucky schools. These sheets include only cumulative information about the student body at a particular school, including the number of students in each age group between ages 6 and 17 as well as the gender in each age group, total number of students, illiterates, those who completed the 8th grade, and those who were blind, deaf or crippled. Each school's sheet is signed by the census enumerator (a trustee of the school district) and the county superintendent.

These materials were copied by the Kentucky Library & Museum with the permission of the Warren County Schools in 1997 as part of the Warren County bicentennial celebration.
