Western Rich in Tradition

History

In 1906, the Kentucky General Assembly enacted legislation establishing the Western Kentucky State Normal School, a two-year institution.

In 1922, Western became a four-year institution known as the Western Kentucky State Normal School and Teachers College. The first degrees were awarded by the institution in 1924.

In 1930, the Kentucky General Assembly removed the words "Normal School" from the title, making it Western Kentucky State Teachers College. In 1931, Western began offering the Master of Arts Degree.

In 1948, the Kentucky General Assembly removed the word "Teachers" from the name, thus making it the Western Kentucky State College.

On June 16, 1966, Western achieved university status and thus became Western Kentucky University. The colleges which now constitute Western Kentucky University are the Potter College of Arts and Humanities, the Bowling Green College of Business Administration, the College of Education, the Ogden College of Science, Technology and Health, and the Graduate College.

Since its formation in 1906, Western has striven to become a highly respected center of learning where qualified students may receive general and specialized higher education at the undergraduate and the graduate levels. Today, Western Kentucky University proudly serves the educational needs of thousands of students from Kentucky and its neighboring states.

Purpose

Western Kentucky University is a center of learning, established and supported by the Commonwealth, to fulfill the missions of promoting education, research and service.

Opportunities for members of the academic community to engage in research activities are provided by the University. Emphasis is given to research related to a faculty member's academic specialization.

The University's program of public service includes on-campus and field-based activities, technical services, workshops, seminars, cultural experiences and opportunities for adult and continuing education.

As you come to know Western, you will be fascinated by the way in which the dedicated employees of varying skills and professions contribute to the successful promotion of education, research and service.

Presidential Welcome

Welcome to Western Kentucky University where quality education, research, and public service are 75-year trademarks. Western has always been a very special institution of higher education. Dr. Henry Hardin Cherry, Western's first president, spoke of the "Spirit of the Hill" and expressed the ideal that Western should "impart to its students a burning zeal to do and to be something." It has been Western's dedicated faculty and staff through the years that have helped to make Dr. Cherry's ideal a reality.

I am very proud of Western's faculty and staff. This special edition of The Personnel File is designed to familiarize you with employment at Western Kentucky University and with the assets of the city of Bowling Green. As a prospective new faculty member or as a new employee of Western, I believe you will find the information contained in this newsletter to be useful.

We look forward to having you as a member of our faculty and staff since we believe you will make a unique contribution to the progress and development of our University.

Please do not hesitate to call upon me or others at Western if we can be of service to you in any way.

Donald W. Zacharias
President

Campus Setting

Located on a hill overlooking the city of Bowling Green, the Western campus is acclaimed as one of the most beautiful in the nation. The portion of the campus known as College Heights commands an impressive view of the Barren River Valley and is a distinctive landmark of the city. There are 66 major buildings on the approximately 200-acre main campus, with another 785 acres on the University Farm.

Existing to Meet Your Needs

I would like to join with the President in welcoming you to Western and to the Department of Personnel Services. As a member of the faculty or staff, you will be working with 1,500 other employees who contribute daily in making this institution one of the best in the country. In this department, we emphasize the word "service" in our title, and the principle of service is basic to the fulfillment of our role in personnel administration for the University.

You will find our personnel staff to be friendly and professional in dealing with your needs. We know that we exist to foster your satisfaction in employment conditions, to provide you with opportunity for career growth, and to provide progressive services and benefits. Our regular operations include administration of the benefits program, recruitment and placement of staff employees, maintenance of employee records, position classification, wage and salary administration, postal operations, identification services, and payroll/travel management.

In addition to those regular services, we have developed new programs designed to meet complex and changing employee needs. Recent innovations include an employee orientation program, a training and development program, and a faculty-staff newsletter.

This special edition serves to introduce you to our newsletter, The Personnel File, which is published September through May during the academic year. We regard The Personnel File as a vital communication link to all our employees regarding employment issues, benefits and other work-related activities.

Please know that your concerns are ours; your personal and professional goals are ours. Let us know how we can best help you to achieve them.

University Seal

The Seal of the University contains two important ideals of the University. "Life, More Life" stresses that education should increase the individual's power and desire to live a life of excellence. "The Spirit Makes the Master," the motto of the University, expresses the belief that "Spirit"—that is, attitude, motivation and will to achieve—is a primary condition in the mastery of any discipline, task or problem. It challenges all to exert themselves completely in the pursuit of truth and excellence.

Expand your Resources Through Library Services

The Division of Library Services is available for your use during your career at Western. You may consult books or periodicals; borrow books; listen to records and tapes; view slides, filmstrips, and microfilm; utilize the collections of the Center for Research Libraries; make Xerox copies; use library-supplied typewriters, etc.

All faculty and staff are encouraged to learn what the libraries have to offer and know how to take advantage of their services.

Helm-Cravens Complex, located near the center of campus, houses the greatest collection of resources. Other libraries are maintained to serve the specialized needs of other disciplines. These include: the Science Library located in the Central Wing of the Thompson Complex, Room 125; the Kentucky Library and Museum in the Kentucky Building; and the Educational Resources Center on the third and fourth floors of the Education Complex.

The Division of Library Services is there for your use. Don't hesitate to take advantage of these outstanding facilities.

Bookstore Supplies Faculty and Staff

The College Heights Bookstore, located in the Downing University Center, provides textbooks, supplies, and other instructional material to the University. The bookstore will receive orders on textbooks and supplementary material from faculty members through the department heads. The bookstore is open from 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. during the spring and fall semesters, and from 8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. during the summer.

Don't forget to present your I.D. for a 10% discount!

Post Office— Close and Convenient

The College Heights Post Office, located on the lobby level of the Garrett Conference Center, is a contract station of the U.S. Post Office. The College Heights Post Office offers many services including stamps, money orders, insured and registered mail, C.O.D., and special deliveries.

Faculty and staff members may rent private mail boxes at the post office.

In addition, the University provides a campus mail service for the delivery of written communications that pertain to official University business. Campus envelopes are available in all departments for faculty and staff use. Questions regarding the College Heights Post Office or the campus mail service may be addressed to Mrs. Emily Kitchens at 745-3093.

Employee Training & Development Programs

Do you remember this story's headline? Make a note of it, as it is your key to personal and professional growth as a Western employee. This logo and title make up the headline for the bulletin board briefs that are posted throughout the year to inform you of upcoming Employee Training and Development Program (ETDP) courses.

Faculty and staff members, who have developed expertise in the public and private sector in a variety of areas, volunteer their time to conduct these courses. This exchange of knowledge exemplifies the spirit of the University.

ETDP courses range in topic from personal development to actual job skills. They are scheduled throughout the year, varying in length from 1 - 10 sessions, with sessions varying from 1-3 hours in length. Information on current course offerings is readily available in the most recent issue of The Personnel File, on departmental bulletin boards, or by calling the Department of Personnel Services. Interested in proposing or conducting a course? Please contact the Department of Personnel Services.

The growth opportunity is here under the headline you can't forget. Don't pass it up.

Don't Forget Your Parking Decal!

All faculty and staff who operate a motor vehicle on campus between 7:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday-Friday must register that vehicle with the Department of Public Safety. Faculty/Staff decals authorize parking in legally designated parking spaces, exclusive of reserved spaces, within any parking area. The Department of Public Safety is located in the Parking Structure. The phone number is 745-2549.

COLLEGE HEIGHTS

College Heights, on hill-top fair,
With beauty all thine own,
Lovely jewel far more rare
Than graces any throne!

Chorus

College Heights, we hail thee;
We shall never fail thee;
Falter never—live forever,
Hail! Hail! Hail!

College Heights, with living soul
And purpose strong and true;
Service ever is thy goal,
Thy spirit ever new.

College Heights, thy noble life
Shall e'er our pattern be,
Teaching us through joy and strife
To love humanity.

Media Services Benefits University and Community

The Division of Media Services contributes to the University by encouraging and supporting applications of a variety of media.

The Television Center, located in the Cochran Wing of the Academic Complex, serves the University, community, and state by producing educational and instructional television programs. Production activities include instructional videotapes, programs for broadcast on Kentucky Educational Television, and informational programs about University activities for broadcast on public and commercial stations.

Instructional programs recorded on videotape are available for individual or classroom use. For specific offerings, consult the Videotapes Catalog. Individual viewing of videotapes is offered through the Media Retrieval Center located in the Helm Library. Portable video-cassette players and receivers needed for instruction will be placed in classrooms upon request of a faculty member. For more information, contact the Television Center, 745-2153.

The Audiovisual Center, located in room 101 of the College of Education Building, loans audiovisual equipment, distributes 16mm films, offers instructional graphic design, and photographic production.

Faculty members may check out slide, filmstrip, overhead, opaque, and 16mm projectors, record players, and tape recorders.

University-owned films relevant to many subjects are available to the faculty for instructional purposes. In addition, the Third District Film Library, a cooperative organization of 36 school districts, maintains a collection of over 6,000 educational 16mm motion pictures. To arrange a film showing, contact the film library at least three working days in advance. A projectionist will be provided upon request.

For more information regarding services offered, contact the Audiovisual Center, 745-3745.

Yes, You Do Have a Voice!

The Faculty Senate at Western is an elected body of representatives from the faculty whose functions are to provide a forum for the concerns and interests of the faculty community and to furnish advice and recommendations on policies that pertain to faculty.

The Academic Council, comprised of representatives from the faculty, student body and administration, is the principal agency for curriculum review and control and for the determination of degree requirements, standards of scholastic achievement and rules governing faculty-student relations.

All faculty members are invited to attend monthly Faculty Senate and Academic Council meetings.

The Academic Council meets at 3:10 p.m. the fourth Thursday of each month in the Regents Room in Wetherby Administration Building.

The Faculty Senate meets on the second Thursday of each month at 3:10 p.m. in the Garrett Conference Center Ballroom.

Faculty House— “Hide-Away on the Hill”

For a relaxing place to socialize or take a lunch, try the Faculty House on top of the hill. The “log cabin” behind Cherry Hall is open Monday-Friday from 7:00 a.m. - 2:45 p.m.

The Faculty House is also available for private parties, receptions, and meetings at no charge. To reserve the Faculty House or for more information, contact Theresa Gerard at 745-2456.

Research Made Easy Through Computer Services

Western provides computing services for academic and administrative functions through the Office of Academic Computing and Research Services.

In addition to providing hardware and software resources, Academic Computing and Research Services also provides support for research design, statistical analysis and data archiving.

Through Library Services, the University subscribes to the two largest archives in the country: the Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research and the Roper International Data Library Association.

The objective of Academic Computing and Research Services is to provide the best quality support possible for instructional and research needs.

To initiate service, contact the office in Room 245, Grise Hall, or call 745-4981.

Red Towel Tradition Lives on

Western Kentucky University's red towel tradition originated with the late E. A. Diddle—former Hilltopper coach, one of basketball's revered legends and a member of both the Naismith and Helms Athletic Foundation Halls of Fame.

Through 1,062 Hilltopper basketball games—759 of them victories, the fourth highest total ever for a coach—Diddle clutched a red towel in his hands. He kept it there as he guided his teams to 32 championships in three different conferences, as he developed 13 All-Americans and 16 professional players, as he took his team to 11 national post-season tournaments (eight times to the NIT and three times to the NCAA) and as he led Western to 18 seasons in which it won 20 or more games.

He chewed on it, threw it in exultation, cried on it during the rare moments when things didn't go right, waved it at fans and used it to signal to his players.

The red towel became synonymous with Ed Diddle... and Ed Diddle became synonymous with Western's winning athletic tradition. For years it has been traditional for fans at every Hilltopper sporting event to wave red towels as they cheer for the "Big Red." When a Western team goes on the road, fans fly red towels from their automobiles as they make their way to the site of the game. No real Hilltopper fan would be caught without his red towel!

Coach Diddle passed away in 1970 at the age of 74, but his memory will live as long as a red towel waves on the Western campus. And red towels will wave there as long as the Hilltoppers compete in intercollegiate athletics.

He's Big Red!

Who is Western's number one fan and goodwill ambassador? Who can win the hearts of an entire community and college campus? Who else, but Big Red, Western's nationally acclaimed mascot.

You will not be able to resist laughing when this big, red, furry creature with large round eyes, cavernous mouth and an infectious grin bounds toward you. Go ahead—hug him!
