Dr. Vincent Hears "Three Jacks" Played At Composer's Symposium

Dr. Jehn Vincent, head of Western's music department, has returned to the Hill after attending the annual Symposium of American Orchestral Music held by the Eastman School of Music. The festival, held in Rochester, New York, by the University of Rochester, from October 25 to October 28, was attended by nationally-known composers, critics, and conductors.

First performances of eight new compositions by American artists were given, entirely unrehearsed, by the Eastman-Rochester Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Howard Hanson, at the first session on Monday. The second session saw the debuts of six more symphonic works. Dr. Vincent's composition, "Three Jacks," was one of five presented during the third session.

Seven compositions were chosen from among those played in the first three sessions to be included in a concert presented Thursday night at Kilbourn Hall. In this 64th American Composers Concert, Dr. Vincent's "Three Jacks," a ballet suite in three parts, was one of only two played in entirety. It appeared first on a program including works by such well-known artists as David Diamond, Richard Nolen, and Johnny Green.

On Thursday afternoon a luncheon was given for the guest composers at the Rochester Club. During the intermission of the final session an open forum period was held. The composers, critics, and conductors made informal talks before more than three hundred spectators assembled for the concert.

Rabbi Milton Greenwald To Be Chapel Speaker

President Paul L. Garrett has announced that Rabbi Milton Greenwald of Evansville will be the speaker at chapel on Tuesday, November 30. Rabbi Greenwald's appearance here guarantees still another of the outstanding chapel programs which have marked the school year to date.

Rabbi Greenwald, a native of Louisville, was graduated from the University of Cincinnati and ordained Rabbi by Hebrew Union College at Cincinnati. He was Rabbi of the Temple Beth-El at Knoxville prior to being sent to the Washington Avenue Temple at Evansville.

He is past-president of the Evansville Rotary Club, the Philharmonic Orchestral Association, and chairman of the Interracial Commission. He was the founder and at the present time secretary of the Evansville Conference of Catholics, Jews, and Protestants and is also chairman of the Evansville Church-Industry Conference. He is well-known for his participation in numerous university conferences, including the Harvard Conference on Religion and Contemporary National and International Issues in 1940.

Dr. Sumpter And Willis Jones Have Article Published

In the October issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society was published an article "The Nitration of Isatin," written by Dr. Ward C. Sumpter, of the chemistry department, and Mr. Willis F. Jones, a chemistry major on the Hill.

The paper was first presented to the spring meeting of the Kentucky Academy of Science in Louisville in May, 1943.

Dr. Sumpter received the AB degree from Ogdon College in 1922, and the MA in 1923 from the University of Florida. He did his work for the doctorate at Yale University and received the Ph. D. in 1930. Since 1938 he has been teaching on the Hill.

Mr. Jones was a student on the Hill from September '40 to June '43. He was in the navy unit at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont, for five months, continuing his work in chemistry until he was recently ordered to duty at Norfolk Naval Base in Virginia.

Dr. Billings Describes Work Of Local USO

According to Dr. M. L. Billings, head of the psychology department, it is the purpose of the USO to serve the boys in the service who frequent our town. Entertainment in the way of dances, games, reading, and music is provided; writing materials are furnished, baths may be obtained and lunches are served.

The local USO serves the entire southwest area which is composed of Ft. Knox, with a total of 45,000 boys, Camp Campbell with a total of 85,000, 250 boys from the airport, and boys on maneuvers.

Dr. Billings, who is chairman of the local USO, stated that, "Since the local USO serves anywhere from 1,000 to 1,500 service men weekly, the situation has become a little difficult for the local organization to handle. Several weeks ago a representative of the Western Kentucky division of the National USO visited us, and was impressed by what we were doing. He is recommending to the National organization that we receive a contribution of $3,000 for renovation and extension and $1,000 for equipment and beautification of furniture, providing the community matches it. Up until the present time, the USO is one of those organizations which is affiliated with the national USO, but which is supported by local funds. Citizens by their generous contributions are a credit to the town and to the organi-

Post Office On Hill Serves Many

Since January 1 of this year, 334 mail packages and 1476 pieces of regular mail have passed through the college post office, located in the basement of Cherry Hall. Approximately 250 letters are dispatched daily along with numerous packages and miscellaneous items.

A sub-station of the Bowling Green post office, the college station handles mail for Western students and faculty members, as well as the mail for the air crew students.

Under the supervision of Dean F. C. Grise, three boys are employed. The present postmaster is Burdette Harman from Lebanon. His two assistants are Cleo Loy and Jimmy Barry from Columbia and Elizabethtown, respectively.

All equipment is furnished by the government, and all scales are standard post office scales. War bonds and stamps are on sale along with all types of postage stamps and money orders. The other services of the post office include C.O.D., insured package and registered mail service.

More than 125 persons are accommodated through the post office boxes and general delivery.

Founders Day Plans Completed

President Paul L. Garrett has just completed plans for the annual Founders Day program, which will be held in Van Meter Auditorium, November 18.

W. L. Matthews, vice-president of the Bowling Green Business University, will deliver the main address. Mr. Matthews was a personal friend of Dr. H. H. Cherry and is widely known as a public speaker.

The college Chorus will sing "Ave Verum Corpus," by Mozart.

Miss Mary Chisholm, of the music department will play the traditional "Normal March" written by the late Professor Franz J. Strahm. The invocation will be given by Dean F. C. Grise. Before and after the program a song will be sung by the audience, led by Mrs. Nelle Geoch Travelstead.

Miss Robertson Is Specialist In Stamps Of Western Hemisphere

Miss Gabrielle Robertson, protesting that her collection was only an amateur one, agreed to make public some facts about her stamp collection. Besides being a rather expensive hobby, Miss Robertson is convinced that stamp collecting is both interesting and instructive.

She specializes in American and other western hemisphere stamps, but has several from foreign countries. She gets much information about available stamps from the Sunday New York Times.

Blocks of stamps of four or more, particularly those with registered numbers and first day covers, are among her most valuable ones. Her oldest stamp is a Benjamin Franklin stamp from the 1851 series. Others in her collection include seven of the "overrun countries" series of twelve. This is a series of stamps honoring the overrun countries, only eight of which have been issued.

Another group from which she has several stamps is the Famous American Series, commemorating the work of famous American authors, poets, educators, scientists, composers, artists and inventors.

One of the many interesting facts Miss Robertson mentioned was the way in which stamps were designed. Several artists submit their designs to the government each time a new stamp is to be issued. The design most fitting for the occasion is selected, but the name of the artist is never printed on the stamp.

Although Miss Robertson is not ready to mount the stamps, she has arranged them in a succession according to the date of issue.

From Morn 'Til Night ASTP Boys Keep Busy

"Reveille" at 6 a.m. to the tune of a lusty "ding" from the alarm clock begins a typical day for a student in the Army Specialized Training Program. Drowsily he drags himself up the hill in time to report at 6:30. Then he is free until breakfast at 7:00. At 7:45 he must report for formation before going to class. He takes from 18 to 21 college credit hours and is enrolled in regular "civvy" classes. He attends classes from 8:00 to 4:00 except for certain free hours, during which he must report in and out at the library. Free hours are few and far between.

At noon he reports with his "buddies" for lunch. After classes from 1:00 to 4:00 he has physical training. After another free period he reports again at 5:50 for "retreat". At 6:00 comes "mess call" for supper. Free again until 7:00, he then reports for supervised study until 9:00 at the college library. From 9:00 until 10:30 he attends to his "extra-curricular activities." At 10:30 he must observe "lights out" unless he has to study. In that case he may stay up

Twelve Graduate Students Enroll For Work On Hill

Twelve graduate students are enrolled on the Hill for the fall quarter. Of the twelve only two did not receive the bachelor's degrees from Western. Jane Hulise, who is teaching at the Business University, received her degree from the Business University, and Kathryn McFarlane, also teaching at the Business University, received her degree from Mississippi State College for Women.

Rhoda Blossom Herrington is teaching piano while doing her graduate work. Ruby Warden and Fanny Warren are teaching in the city schools. Mrs. Robert E. Lively is teaching at the Bowling Green Business University.

The other graduate students who are not employed, but are doing graduate work are: Mary Laurine Cave, J. Leon Cook, Bonnie Jones Cowart, Ida Lacy Jones; Mrs. C. P. McNally and Mrs. Glenn Maxwell.

Capt. Stansbury Praises Work Of Women's Army

Everyone on the Hill will be interested in what Captain Ed Stansbury, former athletic instructor and assistant coach at Western had to say, in a letter received this week, by Mrs. Mary T. Moore, concerning the Wacs.

The following is an excerpt from his letter: "A word about the Wacs: the Wac organization is considered an integral part of the Army, and the personnel thereof is making a contribution unequalled in the annals of America's history. It is surprising the kind and amount of work now being accomplished by this organization. Those of us who have been accustomed to associating women with accomplishments in and around the home or office are agreeably surprised to see them taking over jobs in the Army which require endurance and stamina and, above all, they are relieving men for combat duty.

Registrar Canon Reads Paper Before Group

Registrar E. H. Canon read a paper before the College Division of the Kentucky Association of Colleges, which met in Lexington October 29-30.

His paper was based on the evaluation of credits earned by men and women now in the armed forces.

Registrar Canon is Chairman of the Committee on College Standards.

Dr. Griffin To Be Department Head In Texas

Dr. Judson R. Griffin has been granted a leave of absence until next September to serve as head of the department of geography and geology in the Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, Texas.

For the past twelve years Dr. Griffin has been at Western. He has been head of the geography department since the resignation of Miss Ella Jeffries last year.

Before coming to Western, Dr. Griffin worked on the Kentucky Geological Survey mapping geologically the counties of Kentucky. He also taught five years at the University of Illinois while working on the Ph. D. degree.

On April 13, 1943, Dr. Griffin was commissioned, a lieutenant, senior grade, in the United States Navy. He received a medical discharge September 29, 1943.

Dr. Griffin left Bowling Green for Texas on October 28, and his family expects to join him soon.

Two New Secretaries In Registrar's Office

According to Registrar E. H. Canon two secretaries have been added to the personnel of the Registrar's office. Miss Dorothy Howard, Providence, and Miss Carmen Hamock, a graduate of Western and former physical education teacher in the Bowling Green high school, are the new members of the staff.

Mrs. George Luce and Mrs. Freeman Teuton, formerly Frances Kingery, and Ann Hall, respectively, have just resigned their positions.

Jean Allen To Have Title Role In Fall Production

Under the direction of W. Reid Sterrett the cast of Claudia went into rehearsal Monday, October 25. This will be Dr. Sterrett's 19th production for the Western College Players, and will be presented Tuesday, December 7.

The choice of Claudia for the annual fall production is a happy one in view of the wide popularity of the Claudia stories written by Rose Franken. The adaptation of the stories was made by the author herself. Of the play Life Magazine said: "The play is a deeper character study than the original stories, and it thoroughly succeeds as entertainment!" Mrs. Franklin

D. Roosevelt wrote in My Day, "I liked the Claudia of the book and I like her in the play." In this selection of Claudia by the College Players, the audience is assured of a warm, human and enormously effective entertainment.

From the recent tryouts the Claudia of the forth-coming production will be played by Jean Allen, a graduate of Bowling Green high school and a freshman at Western. Warren Watwood, a senior in college, will play David, the husband of Claudia. Warren made his first appearance with the college group last spring in

"Freedom And Bread" Is Hitler's Newspaper Motto

Lieutenant James Gant, Clarksville, Tennessee, former pre-veterinary student on the Hill, from September '39 to February '41, who visited in Bowling Green recently brought to Miss Stonecipher, of the foreign language department, a copy of "Volkischer Beobachter", Adolf Hitler's own newspaper.

Lieutenant Gant entered the air forces after attending Western for two years. He became a bombardier and last year was sent to North Africa, where he took part in campaigns in Tunisia, Pantelleria, and Sicily. He also participated in the first bombing of Rome. He picked up the copy of the "Volkischer Beobachter" in Sicily, where copies were distributed by the German army for propaganda purposes. Having seen active service in the field, Lieutenant Gant is now in this country awaiting orders for duty here.

The edition of the "Volkischer Beobachter" received by Miss Stonecipher, is the south Germany edition, published in Munich on May 3, 1943. Its articles are written in typical German propaganda style, with verbal attacks at the Jews in control in Moscow, London, and Washington. Its motto is the ironical "Freiheit und Brot" or "Freedom

Do You Respect Your Flag?

Do you respect your flag? . . . If you were asked that question, undoubtedly you would answer with an emphatic "yes." And yet how many actually show this respect?

At about 5:30 p.m., every day a few minutes after "To The Colors" is played by the bugler, "Retreat" is sounded, and the "Stars and Stripes" which have waved all day over the campus, are slowly lowered. There is not an air crew student or a boy in the ASTP that does not assemble for "Retreat."

What should we do? On an army post we would be required to stop and face the flag. A lady would stand at attention, as would a man, if uncovered. If covered, however, he would remove his headdress and place his hat over his heart. All cars would stop.

We are not on an army post, although we do have soldiers and air crew students here. It should not, however, be a question of "having to." As Americans we should want to show our respect to the flag and for all it stands.

If you are near the spot where the flag is lowered, stop and pay honor to your flag. If anywhere on the campus and you can see the flag as it is being lowered, stop. You are an American citizen—it's your right, your privilege and your duty. Think what that flag meant to the boys at Wake, Corregidor, Bataan—they died for it.

Support Our Advertisers

In Bowling Green the College Heights Herald is the only official college news publication. It is largely through the Bowling Green merchants that a newspaper of its type is possible. The Herald presents its advertising space to the merchants on the selling point that it is the best medium of advertising. The Herald will not take a "complimentary" ad, because it wants to give full value to its advertisers.

You on the Hill who want to see continued improvement in your college paper should support those advertisers to the fullest. If you read the Herald carefully you will find that practically every one of your needs can be taken care of by a Herald advertiser.

Too, it is many of these same advertisers who have helped in years past to bring us a play-by-play description of our basketball and football games. It was with their help, backing and cooperation that we have heard the breath-taking games from Madison Square Garden.

They are willing to work with us, so let's give them, in return, our support. Remember, we are helping ourselves, our college paper, and our school by cooperating with the Bowling Green merchants.

Powers Has Nothing On Western!

By Jean Paxton.
Speaking of models, John Robert Powers has nothing on Miss Mary Ruth Lemons of Western's art department. Recently in her Drawing and Design Class, Art 200, she had several very pulchritudinous young women to serve as models.
Several pencil and crayon sketches were made of Alma Stevens and Alva Marian Matherly, Western sophomores. Two of the Training School children were also called up for service. Miss Nancy Reeder, teacher of the second grade, chose little Miss Belinda Kerr and Master Joe Taylor Williams for subject matter.

Belinda is a roly-poly little girl who proudly wears an oak leaf on her collar. Her father is Major Kerr, serving with the U. S. Army in Italy. Joe Taylor, who has recently lost a tooth, grinned widely for his audience as he proudly displayed his missing tooth in his hand. "They sat as still as little statues," said Miss Lemons—"much more still than the college girls did."
These sketches will be on display from November 8 to November 19 in Room 300, along with some done by other students in previous Life Sketching classes.

Display Is Now On Exhibition

A display of materials consisting of photographs, posters, and pamphlets on the Netherlands, the Netherlands East Indies, and the Netherlands West Indies is being exhibited on the second floor of the library.

In the display are 12 large photographs measuring 21" by 28". They consist of scenes in Holland and the East and West Indies.

One scene is of a great oil refinery in Aruba, off the coast of Venezuela. It is said that American soldiers are located there today to protect it. Among the pictures there is one showing the royal family of Holland.

The Exile Governments and agents in the United States are glad to furnish school material concerning their government. The material displayed in the library and similar displays of the Netherlands may be secured by organizations interested in exhibiting it.

Students Transfer To Western

Nine students who have done college work elsewhere are attending Western for the first time this year. Seven of them are from out-of-state colleges. Only two, Martha Durham, Campbellville College, and Goldia Lois Gayhart, Lees Junior College, are from Kentucky colleges.

Two, Mary Jean Grise and William Highbough, are transfers from Peabody College.

The other five from colleges in Indiana, Tennessee, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi are: Betty Hanks, Central Business College; Marianna Melton, Oomberland University; Reba Nell Owens, Atlanta Junior College; Mrs. O. R. Renfro, Northeast Junior College; and Phyllis Ann Ringo, Mississippi State College for Women.

HILLTOPICS

By Muriel Dann

Navy Day last week was a day for Western to be proud. Many of her sons are wearing the "Navy Blues"—and they are wearing them with honor.

HILLTOPICS

In a recent magazine article Ethel Barrymore, a great actress, was quoted as saying that one of the greatest things in the world was "Not to forget that when life knocks you to your knees, which it always does and always will—well, that's the best position in which to pray, isn't it?"—Yes, how much brighter situations look as we rise from our knees. Prayer is sure to give help and solace.

HILLTOPICS

The Herald staff wishes to express its appreciation to Dr. J. L. Harman, president of the Business University, and Rev. A. Kershaw, of the Episcopal Church, for their letters concerning this year's Herald. It is a true inspiration to us to receive a comment from busy business men who take time to pass along a good word.

HILLTOPICS

Class elections are over for another year. From the roster it looks as if each class had made a good selection. And it all was done very quietly—was there any campaigning?

HILLTOPICS

All who went to see the opera "Faust" reported a very enjoyable evening. As on many trips of that sort, however, there was a funny side. . . . it seems that a few of the students received tickets seating them to one side of the stage. During one highly emotional scene of the opera, a sign could be spied (almost backstage but not far enough back) with the words clearly visible—"Grand Ole Opry—Now Showing."

HILLTOPICS

I hope the air crew student concerned (name unknown) won't mind my telling this story on him. One day, recently, at noon a guard was slowly marching back and forth by Potter Hall, when from across the campus came a dog—species, just dog. The dog wagged his tail, which was far too much tail for so small a dog, in a most friendly gesture and took his place at the feet of the soldier.

There must have been some remark exchanged because the dog sat right there, and only his adoring eyes followed the soldier to the side door of Potter Hall. It was a few seconds before the boy returned, proudly carrying a small package in his hand. There beneath the tightly wrapped napkin were a few scraps which the boy had saved from dinner. When the dog had finished these, he looked at the boy and walking toward him, licked his hand . . . his only means of expressing an appreciation. The dog had found a real friend, while the soldier was remembering the dog he had to leave behind. Neither was aware that someone was watching them.

HILLTOPICS

Here's a thought to remember and practice—"If someone does not give you a smile, give him one anyway—no one needs one more than someone who has none to give."

Book Reviews By Western Grads Appear In Courier-Journal

By Gloria Harris

To the average Western student, book reviewing is considered art, but to A. J. Beeler, Jr., BS '35, and to Mrs. Mary Hodge Cox, AB '34, it is merely routine. They are among the leading book reviewers for The Courier-Journal. Both were former members of the Herald staff, and became interested in literary work while attending Western.

Mr. Beeler received the MA degree at the University of Louisville and wrote for his Master's thesis a biography of the famous Kentucky novelist, Elizabeth Madox Roberts.

In the October 10 issue of The Courier-Journal, Mr. Beeler reviewed "She Came to the Valley," by Cleo Dawson, a resident of Lexington and a former member of the English department of the University of Kentucky.

In the October 17 issue of The Courier-Journal, he gave an excellent review of "Take Nothing For Your Journey," by Ann Steward, another Kentucky writer. Miss Steward gained recognition with the publication of her first novel, "Let the Earth Speak," which was released in October, 1940.

The manner in which Mr. Beeler handles these two novels is admirable. His choice of words is unlimited, yet he never seems to lose sight of his reader in making his reviews interesting and comprehensive.

Mary Hodge Cox reviewed "Retreat from Restev," by Paul Hughes, in the September 26 issue of The Courier-Journal.

The style of Mrs. Cox is interesting, and she avoids the abstract manner of book-reviewing, which sometimes breeds disinterest in the prospective reader.

A review by either of these Western graduates should automatically place that book as a "must" on your current reading list.

Museum Register Is Story Itself

From service men and women to school teachers and groups of pupils—this is the record of visitors in the register at the Kentucky Building. "The gift of the class of '35" is gradually becoming one of the Kentucky Museum's most cherished possessions. In it can be found a story unlike any other.

While turning through its pages, daily becoming soiled and worn, one is astonished at the vast number of persons who visit this museum of art, history, and literature. During the past year, visitors from all the states except Wyoming, Nevada, Arizona, Washington, and Oregon registered. These visitors included service men, particularly those from camps in Kentucky and surrounding states, groups of pupils from schools near Bowling Green, and all the distinguished men and women who visit the campus. Several Alaskans and three Yugoslavian refugees were the only visitors from out of the country this year.

The largest group of visitors consisted of the 400 or more cadets stationed on the Hill.

Unique among the Museum's visitors is a group of small boys who are daily patrons of the bird room. Every afternoon a group of the neighborhood's little boys walk quietly up to one of the assistants and very politely ask to see the bird room. They have seen this particular room countless numbers of times, but they always bring a friend who has not. No one could possibly refuse these boys with their eager young faces, so they are taken to the room to see the unusual specimens. There the lads study the birds as long as they wish, but never too long, for tomorrow will find them back again with a friend who has not seen the bird room.

Western Girls In Beauty Event

On Thursday night, October 28, the Lions Club held its regular Fall Festival. Twenty-nine girls participated in the beauty contest at the climax of the program. Seven of the girls were students on the Hill. Each contestant was sponsored by a local firm.

In the beauty event Miss Rebecca Mae Simpson, sponsored by the Charles Store, was chosen queen. She was closely contested by Miss Juanita Watson, representing the C. D. S. Stores, and Marian Norman, Farmers Supply Company.

Miss Simpson was awarded a $25 war bond.

Those from Western participating were: Mavis Gabbard, Virginia Whitcomb, Elizabeth Thessen, Waldeen Ferren, Paula Donnelly, Doris Blewett and Edna Earl Hughes.

The music was furnished by Roy Holmes and his Orchestra.

President Garrett Honored At Chape

Dr. John Vincent, head of the music department, presented his second chapel program of the year, Tuesday, November 2, with two faculty members and two students taking part. The program, honoring the birthday of President Paul L. Garrett, consisted of several of Dr. Vincent's favorite compositions.

Emily Ogden, soprano, sang "Morning," by Speaks. Gene Stewart played a cornet solo, "Napoli," by Bellstadi. Mr. Arthur Henderson played two piano solos, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach-Hess and "Hills of Anacapri," by Debussy. Mr. Robert Fries concluded the hour with two violin solos, "Caprice Venois," by Kreisler, and a lively Spanish rondo.

Boys Enjoy "Open House" At Airport

On Sunday afternoon 75 teen-age boys enjoyed the "open house" sponsored by the 321st OTD stationed at Western. The boys showed much interest in the Air Forces Cadet Program and in the Army Air Base. They had a chance to inspect all of the planes displayed and had an opportunity to ask questions.

Major Edward Penhalegon, of the 152nd Reconnaissance Squadron, gave a flying exhibition of the latest types of Army pursuit ships. Chief Pilot H. C. Gammon, of the War Training Service, displayed the light planes used in training the 321st OTD.

There were approximately 800 civilians present at the demonstration. Among those present were: Lieut. Warren, Adjutant of the 152nd Reconnaissance Squadron; Lieut. La Violette, Wac Recruiting Center, Bowling Green; Lieut. Murch, Bowman Field; Lieut. Homer Hardesty, Bowman Field; and Lieut. George S. Updegraff, Lieut. A. M. Collins and Lieut. Allan Hadley, members of the College Training Detachment at Western.

Music Recital To Be Presented Soon

An integral part of the cultural life of College Heights is the group of student recitals presented each year by the music department. This practice is to be continued if a sufficient number of students show interest in keeping up the tradition. Recitals are presented about once each month and include solos and ensembles, both instrumental and vocal, which are performed by students and other interested musicians.

Departmental head, Dr. John Vincent, has not yet determined the date of the first recital, but such a program for the year is expected.

Student Sings At Kiwanis Club Meeting

Emily Ogden, a junior on the Hill, presented a musical program at the Kiwanis Club meeting, October 28. Emily sang a group of vocal selections, one of which was "Say a Prayer for the Boys Over There". Doris Mae Darter accompanied at the piano.

Recently Emily also gave a fifteen minute radio program over WLBJ.

The Lions Club held its annual Fall Festival and Victory Queen contest on Thursday night, October 28, at the Armory. The contest was won by Miss Rebecca Mae Simpson of Humboldt, Tenn., a student at the Bowling Green Business University. Miss Marian Norman and Miss Juanita Watson tied for second place. The contestants were: Seated, left to right—Margaret Mitchell, Dovie Lapidus, Juanita Watson, Rebecca Mae Simpson, Marian Norman, Patricia Hall, Margaret Vickers and Evelyn Banks. Second row, left to right—Paula Donnelly, Juanita Church, Emily Richardson, Doris Blewett, Katherine Hunt, Mary Elizabeth Shute, Waldeen Ferren, Grace Evelyn Smith, Mavis Gabbard, Dorothy Smith, Elizabeth Thessen and Marian Roberts. Extension Dept. Has New Courses

According to Mr. W. M. Pearce, director of the Extension department, four new courses have been added to the list of subjects available to students interested in correspondence work. The four courses are Education 100a, Education 113, Education 210 and Education 350.

Mr. Pearce added that several men in the armed services were taking certain courses that the army has approved. The War Department has a contract to pay one-half the cost of the correspondence courses up to twenty dollars.

The department is planning to offer a course in Tennyson and Browning in the near future.

Several high school students are taking courses in order to graduate, or to make up deficiencies. Many of the high school students enrolled are boys who will soon be 18 and wish to finish high school before being inducted into the armed forces.

There was an extensive write-up on Miss Emma Moss, of Horse Cave, in the Roto-Magazine of Sunday's Courier-Journal. Miss Moss attended Western in 1925-26, summer term.

Faculty Wives Win Floral Prizes

The Bowling Green Garden Club held its annual chrysanthemum show on Friday afternoon, October 29, in the Watkins building on College street.

First prizes for specimens were won by Mrs. Bert R. Smith, Mrs. Paul L. Garrett and Mrs. Ward Sumpter. Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Sumpter also won second prizes for specimens. A first prize for arrangements was awarded to Mrs. Garrett. Second prizes for arrangements went to Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Garrett, while both Dr. and Mrs. Bert R. Smith were awarded third prizes. Dr. Smith is a member of Western's education department.

Prior to the Civil War Glasgow had had two colleges.

Miss McIntire To Be Dietitian

Miss June Rosetta McIntire will act as dietitian in the Potter Hall dormitory during the absence of Miss Helen Gwin. Miss McIntire assumed her duties yesterday.

After receiving the AB degree from the Municipal University of Wichita, Kansas, Miss McIntire received the MBA from the University of Chicago. Before coming to Western she was assistant Naval training dietitian at the Memorial Union Cafeteria, University of Kansas.

Miss Gwin has been given a year's leave of absence. She has been dietitian on the Hill since 1930.

Lieut. Painter Lost In Action

Word has been received at Western that First Lieutenant Jack B. Painter, former Western student, has been missing in action in the European war theatre since August 17. Lieut. Painter came to Western from Lebanon, Kentucky and was a student here in 1937.

He is the son of Dr. F. F. Painter, veterinarian, and Mrs. Painter, now of Columbus, Ohio, where his father is connected with the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry.

Lieut. Painter enlisted in the Army Air Forces in January, 1942. He received pilot training at Dorr Field, Fla., and Sumter, S. C., and was stationed at the Army Air Base, Pueblo, Colo., before embarking for an operational base in England last April.

Resident Donates Books To Library

Mrs. J. E. Clarke, a new resident of Bowling Green, has donated 100 volumes from her library to the college library. Mrs. Clarke has made extensive use of the library and has shown her appreciation by giving these books.

Mrs. Clarke is the wife of Chaplain Clarke, who is stationed at Camp Campbell, Kentucky. She and her twin daughters reside at 1216 State street. The twins attend the fourth grade at the Training School.

Rotarians Hear Dr. Earl Moore

Dr. Earl A. Moore, of the English department, spoke on behalf of the War Fund and Community Chest Drive at the meeting of the Bowling Green Rotary club at the Helm Hotel on October 27.

Stressing the typically American spirit, Dr. Moore said, "Compulsion is alien to the American way of life, and the fact that we do what we want to do is important to us as free United States citizens." He mentioned the 25 charities which would benefit from the War Fund program, telling the Rotarians that much valuable assistance was given to service men beyond the official functions of government.

Mr. Will B. Hill, Western's Field Representative, was guest of the Rotarians at the meeting.

Former Student In Wave Training

Margaret Kathryn Burr left Tuesday, November 2, for Hunter college, New York City, where she will begin training for the Waves. She attended Western from 1941 to 1943. While on the Hill she was a member of the Ministerial club and the Education Council.

During the past summer, Miss Burr worked in Louisville as an airplane inspector and also attended the University of Louisville. Her home is in Adairville.

Colleges Agree To One-Day Holiday

According to Dean F. C. Grise, one day, Thursday, November 25, will be observed for Thanksgiving.

All state colleges and universities have agreed to take only one day for Thanksgiving. This adds an extra day to the Christmas holidays.

All classes scheduled on Friday and Saturday will meet as usual. Students who have such classes are expected to attend them.

B. J. Madden To Speak

B. J. Madden, state service officer of the American Legion, will speak Tuesday night, November 9, at 8:00 o'clock, at the Legion Home. All veterans of World War I and II of Western are invited to attend.

Philosophy Degree Is Granted To Miss Betty Jones

Miss Betty Lee Jones, student on the Hill from September '39 to August '41, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lee F. Jones, was granted the degree of bachelor of philosophy in general course by the University of Wisconsin board of regents at its recent meeting.

Miss Jones was one of 262 students who upon completion of their studies at the end of the summer semester were granted degrees this fall.

She recently accepted a position as student child welfare worker, with headquarters at Glasgow.

Mrs. Garrett Sponsors Club

Mrs. Paul L. Garrett is sponsoring a club for the wives of air crew students on the Hill. Another faculty wife is usually present to act as assistant hostess.

The meeting is held in the Cedar House on Wednesday afternoons from three to five o'clock.

A variety of card games are played, with prizes for the winners for the day. Refreshments are served at the close of the meeting.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint the aviation students' wives with each other, with the faculty and with the campus.

The cooperation of Mrs. Garrett, the Cedar House staff, and the college personnel has made this Wednesday meeting a permanent activity.

Mrs. Smith Serves With Tuberculosis State Board

It has just been announced that Mrs. Bert R. Smith, wife of Dr. Bert R. Smith of the education department, has been elected to serve three years on the Executive Committee of the Kentucky State Tuberculosis Association Board. Mrs. Smith will begin her work immediately.

The State Board is located at 620 South Third street, Louisville.

For the past few years Mrs. Smith has been working with the local tuberculosis board.

Quotable Quotes

"It is a truism to state that every thoughtful man and woman in the United States today is giving serious consideration to the structure of the post-war world. It has been estimated that there are some 137 organizations and societies, to say nothing of individuals, which are busily engaged in drawing up blueprints of the world as it should be reconstituted when the guns have been silenced. This is as it should be, for every man of good-will is agreed that it will take the cleverest thinking of the best brains of our time to attain a stable equilibrium following history's most disastrous conflict."—The Rev. Dr. John Tracy Ellis, Catholic University of America.

"For the present, no doubt, the liberal arts must remain subordinate to a variety of vocational training programs indispensable to the winning of the war. None of our great universities or colleges, however, has wholly done away with its teaching of the humanities or abandoned the intention of reviving this phase of its activities at the war's end. Changes in teaching methods may be expected. No doubt interest will be focused on new subjects as a consequence of our fresh awareness of the Orient, of Latin America and of the Soviet Union. But such changes can be counted upon to broaden, rather than narrow, the scope of our intellectual concern. To meet the problems of the post-war world, men will need above all else to cultivate a knowledge of themselves."—The Washington Post, quoted in the George Washington Hatchet.

"To be at home in all lands and ages; to count Nature a familiar acquaintance, and Art an intimate friend; to gain a standard for the appreciation of other men's work and the criticism of your own; to carry the keys of a world's library in your pocket and feel its resources behind you in whatever task you undertake; to make hosts of friends among the men of your own age who are to be leaders in all walks of life; to lose yourself in generous enthusiasm and cooperate with others for common ends; to learn manners from students who are gentlemen, and form character under professors who are Christians; this is the offer of the College for the best four years of your life."—William DeWitt Hyde, Harvard, '79, reprinted in the Wartburg Trumpet.

"The United States has not the option as to whether it will or will not play a great part in the world. It must play a great part. All that it can decide is whether it will play that part well or badly. I believe in that ardent patriotism which will make a nation true to itself by making it secure justice for all within its own borders and then, so far as may be, aid in every way in securing just and fair treatment for all the nations of mankind."—Theodore Roosevelt.

"Our one aim is complete victory over our enemies and their way of life. To that end we expect our students to choose work which will equip them for leadership and service at this time. We know that our students will want this training as quickly as possible. Therefore, our entire program is planned to permit year-round attendance and a wide choice of necessary war-time studies. We shall cooperate with all students in their effort to obtain the best possible training in the time at their disposal.

"We are determined, in spite of changes from peacetime policies, that standards of instruction and good learning shall not be lowered. No educational values will be sacrificed.

"Our one goal for our students is that they become stalwart, understanding, and useful. That, we believe, is the heart of education, whether in peace or in war." At the start of its 1943-1944 year, the Univ. of Miami, Florida, voices its academic aims, and, at the same time speaks for all colleges and universities in this nation at war.

"The smart college woman gets herself organized and goes shopping instead of spree spending. The process calls for intelligence, but it is fun and the results are both personally satisfying and provocative of general approval. You really get your money's worth when you quit spending and begin shopping."—Lynn Christian, writing in the Oklahoma City University Campus, advocates planning before buying for college women.

"America's appointment with destiny depends in a large measure on our vision and sincere effort to effect an enduring understanding with Russia. The degree to which we succeed in gaining an amiable understanding with the Soviet Union would have a direct bearing on the duration of the present war and in the prevention of World War III."—Professor Charles Prince, of the Indiana University science department stresses the need for immediate cementing of Russo-American friendship.

"Not one soldier inquired about a veteran's bonus. The majority don't give a thought to getting anything out of the war—glory or money—but they do want assurance of jobs and chances for self-improvement. For them the war has no glamor or adventure. It is merely something that must be finished as quickly as possible."—Mrs. Roosevelt speaks of the temper of American soldiers after her island-hopping trip in the South Pacific.

Teachers Hold Study Centers

Two study centers are being held by Mrs. Horace McMurtry, of the education department, and Dr. C. H. Jagers, Training School director.

Mr. McMurtry is holding his study center at Madisonville. It is composed of county teachers who meet every Saturday. They spend most of the day working on their education courses for which they receive college credit. The courses are arranged to help the teachers in their daily classroom work.

Dr. Jagers' class is held at Munfordville and is composed almost entirely of emergency teachers. The class of sixteen is in session for four hours every Saturday. The instruction has been devoted to the common branches of teaching with emphasis on reading, arithmetic, and spelling.

Holmes To Furnish Music For Dances

Roy Holmes and his orchestra have been engaged to play for dances on the Hill this year, according to Dr. H. L. Stevens, head of the committee on entertainment. A number of dances, both formal and informal, have been scheduled. On occasions when Holmes' orchestra is unable to play for student dances, the music will be provided by the air students' dance band, which has already proved its capability on several occasions and has become popular with Western students. This orchestra is composed of air crew students and contains several former members of well-known dance bands.

Funeral Services Held for Barr Twins

Funeral services were held Wednesday, November 3, for Charles and David Barr, twin sons of Lieutenant and Mrs. William E. Barr. The babies died Tuesday morning at the Bowling Green city hospital. Services were conducted at the grave in Fairview cemetery by Rev. Dr. R. T. Skinner and Rev. Fred P. Turner.

Mrs. Barr was formerly Claire Bryant of Bowling Green, student on the Hill from September, 1940, to September, 1942.

Capt. Stansbury Praises Work Of Women's Army

"Times like these present situations which call for tough mental, moral and physical fiber, and these situations fall on men and women alike. My guess is that women will come through with flying colors."

The monthly payment in the Wacs is the same as that in the Army. Officer's pay is equivalent to that of the Army. Private, $50.00; Private First Class, $54.00; Technician, 5th Grade, $66.00; Corporal, $66.00; Technician, 4th Grade, $78.00; Sergeant, $78.00; Technician, 3rd Grade, $96.00; Staff Sergeant, $96.00; Technical Sergeant, $114.00; First Sergeant, $138.00.

In addition to the above pay, enlisted members of the Wacs are provided with food, quarters, clothing, and dental and medical care; so the base pay is practically net, over and above living expenses.

Others in the cast at this time are: Sarah Beatty, Glasgow; Betty Lou George, Oklahoma; Katherine Sweet, Louisville; Carter Webb, Hopkinsville; James Willoughby, Hartford; and Luther Wilson, Russellville. As in previous productions of the Western Players, the scenery for Claudia will be under the personal direction of Miss Mary Ruth Lemons of the art department, assisted by a selected group of talented young artists. Work on the set is scheduled to begin within the next two weeks. From past settings done by the artists on the Hill the audience who will see Claudia will find nothing lacking in the environmental background of the play. Of Claudia a reviewer's estimate was "Irresistible... A very funny play... not a wisecrack play, but one with laughter stemming up from the deep roots of living."

British, Canadian War Posters Displayed

For the past two weeks British and Canadian War Posters have been on display in the art department. These were issued by Director of Public Information under the authority of J. T. Thomson, Minister of National War Service in Ottawa. The posters were done by both Canadian and British artists and were printed in both countries.

Ford is now somewhere on the west coast.

Word has just been received by the Herald that Pvt. J. L. Miller is now taking an ASTP course in engineering at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Indiana. J. L. says that they don't have any spare time at all, since they go to classes 35 hours a week, besides the different formations they have occasionally. He added, "I do find time, however, to enjoy reading the College Heights Herald, and I look forward to each issue."

J. L. was vice-president of the freshman class last year.

Ensign Curtis Craig, who attended Western from September, '32 to January, '35, has returned from sea duty. He is now visiting at his home in Central City.

Aviation Cadet Edward L. Henry, BS, '39, U. S. Air Forces, is stationed at Harris Field, Cape Girardeau, Missouri. He is taking primary flight training.

Cadet Henry was vice-president of the 1939 graduating class, and after leaving Western was employed as agriculture teacher and county school supervisor. In December, '39, he married Frances DePoyster of Central City, a Western student from September, '37, to June, '39, who is now teaching in the Central City schools.

Cadet Henry received pre-flight training at Maxwell Field, Alabama.

Pvt. Chalmers Embry, U. S. Marine Corps, spent last Friday, October 29, on the campus after returning from San Diego, California, where he received basic training.

Pvt. Embry will report next week to Wright Junior College, Chicago, for radio technician's training.

Bill Solley, former Western athlete who played football with the Hilltoppers last year, is at Maxwell Field, Alabama.

James C. Graham, son of Dr. and Mrs. V. Graham, Bowling Green, was recently appointed a Naval Aviation Cadet and was transferred to the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Florida, for intermediate flight training at the "Annapolis of the Air."

Upon graduating he will be commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve or a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Cadet Graham attended Western from September, '39 to July, '42, before entering the Navy.

Louis C. Parrish, son of Mr. B. M. Parrish, Holland, a former student and varsity athlete at Western from September, '40 to February, '42, recently received the Navy "Wings of Gold." He was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve, following completion of the prescribed flight training course at the Navy's "Annapolis of the Air," Pensacola, Florida.

Before being assigned to a combat zone Lieut. Parrish will go on active duty at one of the Navy air operational training centers.

Earl Houchins, Western student from September, '39 to February, '42, graduated from the Naval Air Training Center, Corpus Christi, August 4, and was commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Dorothy MacDaniel, AB '34, is working on the Link trainer course given Waves at the Naval Air Station, Atlanta, Georgia.

"Buck" Snyder, former Hilltopper basketball star and now a Marine trainee at Millsaps College, Mississippi, was on the Hill Wednesday, October 27. "Buck" was a student at Western from September '39 to March '43.

Pete Sparks, BS '43, visited the Hill upon returning from Columbia University where he received the Ensign commission. "Sparky" was a member of the Hilltopper eleven last year.

Lieut. (j.g.) Sam Middleton, who attended Western from '39 to '41, has just been promoted to a full lieutenant. Lieut. Middleton has been training to be a naval pilot in Dallas, Texas, since August.

Lieutenant Joseph E. Howard is now stationed in England. He recently took a course at the University of Edinburgh, where he says he attended lectures by world authorities in their fields. Lieutenant Howard writes enthusiastically of the charm of Scotland and the Scotch people.

Arvin E. Upton, Western, '33, is located at the Army Air Base in Richmond, Virginia, where he is doing personnel work. After leaving Western, he attended Harvard law school and received the LL. D. in 1938.

Previous to his induction into the army in May, 1943, Mr. Upton practiced law in Louisville. He graduated from Adjutant General Administration School in Washington, Pennsylvania, before being sent to Richmond.

He is the son of Mrs. A. E. Upton of the English Department.

Training School

The training school senior class is sponsoring a sale of war stamps and bonds. Purchases may be made any morning at 9:00 o'clock in the office or in the room adjacent to the office.

The senior class officers who have been elected for the year are: Harold Logsdon, president; Carroll Brooks, vice-president; and Marie Powell, secretary and treasurer.

An interesting class in salesmanship is being sponsored by the government, and taught by Mrs. Ashcroft. The class meets on Tuesdays and Thursday, at 9:00 and at 3:00 o'clock. It has an enrollment of twenty students.

Since starting the sale of defense stamps a month ago, the Training School has sold $133.25 in defense stamps.

Wacs To Sponsor Dance

According to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. H. L. Stephens, chairman of the dance committee, a free informal dance sponsored by the Wac recruiting office will be held Friday evening, November 12 at the Western gymnasium, from 8:00 to 12:00 o'clock. The Bowman Field orchestra will furnish the music.

There will be a show sponsored by the Wacs preceding the dance. An extension of invitations will be announced later.

until 11:30. On weekends he is free from Saturday noon until Sunday at 7:30 p.m. when again he studies until 9:30 in the library.

As you can see, Western's boys in the ASTP are kept busy every minute. It is, however, these boys in this program who will help to bring final and complete victory to our country.

Mr. Ivan Wilson Has Water Colors On Exhibition

Mr. Ivan Wilson, head of the art department, has a group of water colors on exhibition at Nacogdoches, Texas, State Teachers College. Included in the exhibit is a set of 35 water colors combining his works of the past two years.

After its stay in Texas, the exhibit will be returned here for rearrangement by Mr. Wilson, with the addition of some of his more recent works.

Lieut. (j.g.) Cornell McMurtry, BS '41, has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace McMurtry. For the past eight months he has been an instructor in the Naval Air Corps at Lake City, Florida. Lieut. McMurtry is being transferred to another base.

Pvt. Elizabeth Endicott, AB '35, is taking basic training at the Third Wac Training Center, Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Upon completion of basic instruction she will be sent either to an Army specialist school, assigned directly to an Army camp to replace a man in one of the 155 non-combatant jobs that are being taken over by Wacs, or she may apply for officer's candidate school.

Faculty -- Notes

Miss Sybil Stonecipher, member of the language department faculty, has done 650 hours of Red Cross work. These 650 hours do not include the 80 hours preliminary work that is required. She began her extra hours the first week in December, 1942, and she is hoping to have 700 hours by the first week of next month.

Mr. Horace McMurtry, of the education department, represented Western at the Second Educational District Teachers Meeting in Madisonville, October 22.

Miss Gladys Guy was the weekend guest of Lieutenant and Mrs. Jack Mann of Montgomery, Alabama.

Miss Sibyl Stonecipher, of the foreign language department, has gone to Lexington to attend the 25th annual meeting of the Kentucky Classical Association this week-end. She also will visit Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Skinner. Dr. Skinner was formerly head of the Western chemistry department.

Dr. M. L. Billings spoke to the Younger Woman's Club of Owensboro, November 2. His subject was on some psychological aspects of child care.

A-S Richard Farrar, cadet stationed at Western, was visited last week by his mother, Mrs. Bird Farrar from New York, N. Y.

A-S Emerson Cohen had as his guests his mother, Mrs. Augusta Cohen and his aunt, Miss Lippmann from New York, N. Y.

Mrs. Sherman Brown visited her husband, A-S Sherman Brown on the Hill last week.

A-S David Donovan was visited by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Donovan, and his sister, Mrs. Thomas Lyons. Mr. and Mrs. Donovan and Mrs. Lyons are from White Plains, N. Y.

Mrs. Shirley Cherry and Melvin Cherry were guests of A-S Cherry during the past week.

Pfc. Dominick Farruggio visited his brother, A-S Joseph Farruggio on the Hill. Pfc. Farruggio is in Tennessee on maneuvers.

Mary Nell Sparks visited her home in Central City last week.

W. J. Hanley, Columbus, Ohio, recently visited his sister, Miss Lillian Hanley of the Extension Department.

Charles Wilson, former Western student now attending the University of Louisville, was a visitor on the Hill last week.

Mrs. E. S. Ferrill, Buffalo, visited her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Upton of the English department, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gregory, Portland, Tennessee, were visitors on the Hill Saturday. Mrs. Gregory, a former student of Western, is now teaching in Tennessee.

Wacs get regular Army pay

WAC pay is Army pay! Wacs get the same as Army men of the same rank. A WAC private gets $50.00 in cash every month—all clear. Her food, rent, clothing, medical and dental care are supplied free.

In addition, Wacs get many other benefits—such as life insurance at special low Army rates, free mail, furlough rates on round-trip railroad tickets—all the benefits that men in the Army get!

Dietetics Association Holds Dinner Meeting

On Tuesday evening, November 2, at 7:00 p. m., the South Central Association Group of the Kentucky Dietetics Association held a dinner meeting at the Helm Hotel.

The speakers were Dr. W. H. Strowd, official of the National Soft Wheat Millers' Association, and Miss Florence Imlay, nutrition specialist of the University of Kentucky.

Cadets Play For Dance

A dance, for the Western students and the air crew, was held Friday night, October 28, from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock at the gym.

Music was furnished by the Cadet Orchestra.

School's First Faculty

The faculty which had been selected to inaugurate the program of Western in 1907 was as follows: H. H. Cherry, President; A. J. Kinnaman, Ph. D., Dean; Fred Mutchler, Ph. D., Science; Frederick W. Roman, A. M., History and Literature; J. M. Williams, A. M., English and Mathematics; J. R. Alexander, A. B., Mathematics and Physics; R. P. Green, A. B., Geography and Ancient Classics; Sarah E. Scott, Primary Supervisor; W. L. Gebhart, Public School Music; C. W. Fulton, Drawing and Penmanship; Irene Russell, Instrumental Music; Annie Marie Egenhoff, Expression; Susan Irving, First Grade, Training School; Anna Barkley, Second Grade; Jennie West, Third Grade; Lydia Flenniken, Fourth Grade; Mattie McLean, Secretary; H. H. Egner, Registrar and Bookkeeper; Josephine Payne, Hostess, Students'

The Chapel Hour

Following are a list of chapel programs to come:

Tuesday, November 9: President Paul L. Garrett will talk on "odds and ends"

Thursday, November 11: Dr. C. H. Jagers.

Tuesday, November 16: Dr. Basil Gauntlett, nationally-known pianist.

Thursday, November 18: W. L. Matthews—Founders Day.

Home; Parthenia Weller, Librarian.

In 1906, when it was converted into a state institution, the Southern Normal School had been in existence thirty-one years, having been founded in 1875 by A. W. Mell at Glasgow, Kentucky, under the name "Glasgow Normal Institute." H. H. Cherry, who in 1906 passed from the management of the Southern Normal to the presidency of the Western Normal, served as president of the Western Kentucky State Normal School, later the Western Kentucky State Teachers College, for thirty-one years, until his death on August 1, 1937.

Births

Lieut. and Mrs. Paul O. Egner of Brownwood, Texas, announce the birth of a baby girl on October 31. She has been named Patricia Ann.

Mrs. Egner is the former Jewell Lee Castle, BS '41. Lieut. Egner is stationed at Camp Bowie.

Announcement has been made of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Richards, October 28, at Franklin. He has been named Joseph Henry.

Mr. Richards is the brother of Miss Frances Richards of the English department on the Hill. Mrs. Richards, formerly Ruth Snider, received the AB degree from Western in '38.

A daughter was born Wednesday, October 27, at the City Hospital to Ensign and Mrs. Harold Williams. She has been named Betty Welch.

Ensign and Mrs. Williams, the former Miss Betty Welch, were Western students. Ensign Williams is now in foreign service.

Western Trade School Offers Free Training

Western's NYA workshop has been reopened as the Western Trade School. This school opens a free training program for both men and women, from the ages of 17 to 60 and offers training in welding and machine-shop trades.

The training is also offered to those employed in industries where they wish to better themselves in the job that they are doing.

Those participating in the supplementary training usually enroll for two-hour evening classes each day.

The Western Trade School has been open for three weeks, and now has 51 enrolled in the work.

Several trainees have already been placed in essential industries locally since the program started.

The legislative act establishing Eastern and Western was signed on March 21, 1906.

Westerners See "Faust" In Nashville

Many Westerners attended the opera, "Faust" by Gounod, at the Ryman Auditorium in Nashville Monday, October 25. Among those who went were: Gwendolyn Beller, Virginia Whitcomb, Mr. Will B. Hill, Nola Tinsley, Marian Patterson, Eugene Stewart, Hilton Sisk, Reeves Morgan, Martha Bates, Eleanor Orenshaw, Pvt. Joe Thomas, Greta Napier, Helen Watson, Tom Lilly, Warren Watwood, Mattie Rihard, Emily Ogden, Ida Lacy Jones, Dorothy Coke, Martha Stevens, Peggy Thompson, Frances Taylor, Doris Bagby and Muriel Dann.

Better Lighting For Library Is Discussed

According to Miss Margie Helm, head librarian, lights in the library are not as strong as they might be. The administration has discussed the lighting condition and is hoping to replace them in the near future. Priorities make it difficult to obtain them immediately. However, there will be better lights as soon as possible.

Music Notes

By Gwen Beiler

Pvt. Arthur Ashby visited on the Hill October 25. Arthur, a former music major, is now stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, in an overseas unit of the Medical Corps.

A group of Westerners visited Nashville last week to attend the opera. An excellent presentation of "Faust" was given by the Charles Wagner on Tour Company. From the comments heard on the Hill since then, every one of the group thoroughly enjoyed the evening. It was well worth waiting until the gray hours of dawn for the train home. Upon arriving at the station, we found Dr. Vincent, who was leaving New York to hear his "Three Jacks" played by the Rochester Philharmonic at the American Composers' Symposium.

Freeman Teuton has taken the final step. On Tuesday he and Miss Ann Hall were married at Cadiz. Mr. Channon played the organ at the ceremony. Freeman will be remembered for his twirling and strutting as drum major for Western's band during his college career.

Another drum major, Clarence "Woody" Wood is now in Army Pre-flight training at Maxwell Field, Alabama. He says in a recent letter, "I'm playing with a solid cadet orchestra. Six brass, five saxes and four rhythm. All three trumpets are ride men and the first trombone player is another Higgenbottom." He also states that after running seven miles every day his feet are so sore that he limps on both of them. "Woody" will be remembered for his versatility at the piano. He played with Roy Holmes and was a favorite entertainer at many programs on the Hill.

The college chorus under the direction of Mr. Channon has elected officers for the coming school year. They are president, Gwen Beiler; vice-president, Dorothy Grise; secretary, Martha Bates; treasurer, Martha Stevens; and librarian, Emily Ogden.

The halls of the music building are missing the rhythmic strains of boogie-woogie this year. Harold "Benny" Burkhead is no longer around. No doubt he is now entertaining his buddies at North Camp Hood, Texas.

Mrs. Travelstead had an unusual experience last week—rather an unfortunate one. While driving back from Louisville she almost lost control of her car due to a flat tire. The tire had been repaired the same day, but a tool was left in the tire, causing it to blow out. That is not all—Mrs. Travelstead had to get out in the rain and change the tire herself.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright Beasey, former music students, have moved from Washington, D. C. to Gary, Indiana. Mr. Beasey will be remembered for his singing and his cornet playing, and Mrs. Beasey, formerly Jane Larkey, was a much-called-upon singer. They have a small son.

Occasionally they see Irma and Ambrose Paluzzi, also Western music majors, who are living at Gary.

It seems that this was homecoming week in the "spider web". Otto Mattel is visiting here this week. Otto, a graduate of the department, will be remembered for his fine clarinet playing.

We were glad to see Elizabeth McChesney back. She is here spending a few days vacation from her work in Dayton, Ohio. During Elizabeth's school days she was an active singer, and also a member of the band and orchestra.

Pvt. Durwood Mefford visited on the Hill last Tuesday on his way home for a nine-day furlough. "Dagwood" (as he was known to his friends); a former music major, is now in the armored forces at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

One of the highlights of this week was the music chapel program which

All-Girls' Chapel Becoming Custom

"All-Girls' Chapel" is fast becoming an institution on the Hill. The first of its kind was held during the spring quarter of 1943 under the direction of Miss Susie West McClanahan, who inaugurated the program.

The first one this year was held in Van Meter Auditorium Thursday, October 21. Various members of the student body and faculty participated in the program.

The theme "personality plus" was uniquely carried out, and those girls fortunate enough to be in the audience acclaimed the chapel one of the best they had attended.

Students Attend BSU Convention

According to James Barry, president of the Bowling Green Baptist Student Union, the annual meeting held at Georgetown October 22 to October 24, was a success. The program for the two days was not only delightful, but was a great inspiration to all those present. The many speakers were all well-known Baptists, whose presence added much to the two-day assembly.

Those attending from Bowling Green were all Western students: James Barry, Fred Becker, Burdette Harmon, James Oshiro, Ethel Gipson, Shirley Taylor, Doris Mae Darter, Elizabeth Young, and Geneva Lafferty.

was dedicated to President Paul L. Garrett on his fiftieth birthday. Emily Ogden, soprano, opened the program. This was the first time chapel-goers have heard Emily since last spring when she was featured with the orchestra. Gene Stewart, of the music department, played Belstedt's brilliant cornet solo "Napoli". This was Gene's first appearance on the Western stage.

Mr. Arthur Henderson and Mr. Robert Fries rounded out the program with interesting and well-chosen numbers.

An appeal is being made by Mr. Robert Fries, conductor of the orchestra, to all students who play an instrument and could become a member of the orchestra, to see him at their earliest convenience. The greatest need is for strings, flutes, trombones, oboes, and bassoons.

Practice is held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the bandroom of the music building. The purpose of the orchestra is to play for chapel programs, dramatic performances, and concerts. It affords the student an opportunity to study symphonic masterpieces and to acquire an understanding of the classics.

Cadet Orchestra Plays For Sorority Dance

The Kappa Beta Pi Sorority at the Bowling Green Business University sponsored a formal backward dance last Saturday evening at the tobacco barn at 5th and College streets.

The Cadets Orchestra, made up of Air Corps students at Western, played for the affair. Hours were from eight until twelve.

Cadets who desired to attend, but knew no Western or B. U. girl, posted their names on the B. U. bulletin board. Girls wishing a date, asked one of the boys whose name was posted, met him at the B. U., and then took him to the backward dance.

The idea of co-education was gaining headway in Kentucky in 1875.

Music Department Members Attend Rally

Several members of the Western music department attended the rally of the Band Booster club of the Simpson County high school held at Franklin, Tuesday evening, November 2. The Simpson County band is directed by Paul S. Ferren, former music student on the Hill. Dr. Vincent gave the principal address on the program, which included a piano solo by Mr. Arthur Henderson, cornet solo by Gene Stewart, and three French horn duets by Jaeleen Godfrey and Helen Watson.

Pres. Garrett And Lieut. Updegraff To Attend Meeting

President Paul L. Garrett and Lieutenant George S. Updegraff will attend a meeting of commanding officers and college presidents at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, November 15 and 16. The purpose of the meeting is for the presidents and commanding officers of the colleges and universities, where College Training Detachments (Aircrew) are located, to meet together and to have open discussions. Major General T. J. Hanley, Jr., Commanding General of the Army Air Force Eastern Flying Training Command will be on the campus of the University to speak to the group. Other schools in the South that are interested in having the College Training Detachments at their schools are also invited to attend the conference.

and Bread." A prominently placed article titled "England Humiliated Before Jews in Kremlin" is a prime example of Nazi propaganda. The writer maintains that the Polish people have discovered that thousands of Poles have been massacred by the Russians, and that the British have had to degrade themselves by trying to keep peace between the Poles and "the Jews of the Kremlin." It ostentatiously observes that "It always happens when one gets in bad company that one must descend to the lower level of that company." Such a statement exemplifies the whole tone of the publication. One column is devoted to the "brutality" of the Jews while another announces the birth of twins to "a fine example of young German womanhood." Another extolls the bravery and heroism of 100 Germans who, like Leonidas and the Spartans, held a pass in the African hills against "thousands of Americans." This newspaper, Hitler's own publication, is the first of its kind to reach the Hill, and it affords first-hand information on German news reporting and the ideas which form the basis of German propaganda.

Write Him A Letter But Don't Tell Him Of Your Troubles -- He Has Plenty Of His Own

"Everybody in the outfit was feeling kind of low. Our mail came, and the next day was our second big battle. The mail made a lot of difference in the way that battle went. Everybody went into it feeling good—they had heard from home." No artful blurb, this, from the facile typewriter of a Washington publicity man. Those are the words of a battle-hardened combat soldier, recorded by men of the Army's Special Service Division during an investigation to discover the kind of mail soldiers like to get. Multiply that statement a thousand times and you'll understand why Army officials consider mail from home the greatest little morale-builder ever invented.

There's such heap big medicine in a V-mail envelope from home that unsentimental Army men are prepared to use the whole might of the armed forces to assure its delivery. For the first time in the history of the war, a boy in a slit trench can get—by airmail, no less—his page of ardent nothings from Mary, Jane, Lou or Dorthie. The Army tenderly cradles a shipment of mail on every ship and plane leaving this country. From rear installations in combat areas, planes shuttle the mail to the most advanced foxhole. In North Africa, one Army Post Office on a much-bombed airfield dug its quarters fifteen feet underground—and the mail went through. Thousands of former civilian postal clerks, bristling with pistols and Tommy guns, and specially tutored in the ways of Army mail, do their jobs so well that a letter addressed simply to "Tex, Machine Gun Company, Camp" actually reached the soldier.

What's the soul-nourishing vitamin in a letter from home? Interviewers of the Army Service Forces grilled thousands of servicemen on this point. The answers provide an infallible recipe to follow when you're writing to your own serviceman. Family chin-chat, news of friends, home-town gossip—these are the basic ingredients. The boy wants to know how the family is doing financially, and that you're busy as a beaver shortening the war on the home front. He'll be secretly tickled to hear that a mad afternoon of Victory gardening brought Uncle Wilbur down with lumbago. And don't forget to tell him, in a manly sort of way, that you're all crazy to have him back. Tell him what's happening to his friends in the service; you know more about them than he does. Write about the girls he knows, and who's marrying whom; but if his special girl is gadding about with other men, for heaven's sake, just forget the whole thing. Write about the town's night life, and what's cooking at the places he used to like. How are the home teams making out? Is point rationing turning Mother into a C. P. A.? Have his family, and his country, any plans for his future after the war? He wants to know. Spare him your worries; he has his own. Don't mutter about civilian hardships; his are worse. Be happy and newsy. Is your letter fit to be read in a foxhole? Then you've written a piece that Steinbeck couldn't better.

Faculty and Students Attend Fun Frolic

A get-together in the form of a fun frolic was held at the Kentucky building Friday, October 22, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. All members of the faculty, Western students, and air crew students were invited. The program consisted of music by the 321st CDT orchestra, group singing, solos and games.

Send snapshots, of course, but when you photograph Mother be sure she's not poised winsomely in front of an important arsenal. The enemy is sly at sifting information from such little things. One succulent topic you must never write about is the weather. Sorry, it's a military secret; and so is any discussion of adverse conditions affecting your farm or industry. The censor's shears will snip where your vigilance lapses, so write on only one side of the paper. Then the innocent won't be cast out with the censorable.

If you're smart, you'll use V-mail for all overseas points. It's faster, and it will be delivered in spite of Hell or high water. If a mail-carrying ship is sunk, your ordinary letter is irretrievably lost, but the V-mail is reprocessed from the original at the point of dispatch and sent by the next available means of transportation.—Reprinted from Ediphone in the S. I. N. U. Egyptian.

Hill Athletes Now Are Wearing Uniforms Of U. S. Armed Forces

From all reports, a large majority of Western's athletes of last year are in the service of their country. Of the forty-odd men composing the basketball and football squads, all but four are either in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps. Two of those are farming, and the other two are back on the Hill plugging away with the Toppers.

Four of last year's Diddlemen are in the Marines. "Buck" Sydnor and Donald Ray are at Millsaps College, Jackson, Mississippi; Oran McKinney is at Paps Island, and Chalmers Embry is taking special training in Chicago.

Another four are in the Navy—Johnny Oldham and Paul Champion are at Great Lakes; Charlie Ruter is in the V-12 program at Middlebury College, and Dero Downing has recently received his commission at Columbia University.

With the Army are Odecia Spears, Charlie Moran, Harding Shelby, Dave Stephenson, Howard Goodner, and James Young, while Skiles Harris is tilling the soil.

The remaining two, Charlie Atkinson and Bill Edmiston are members of the sophomore class at Western.

Western's list of gridders with the fighting Marines includes: Lieutenants Harold Swaney and Bob Cagle. Four others are with the Leathernecks, too. "Boots" Abel and Dallas Arnold are at Millsaps. Al Zimmerman is at Purdue, and "Buddy" Keys is at San Diego.

The Navy roster contains five of Coach Winkenhofers' men. Ralph Gadd and "Red" Sparks are ensigns, Bob Wilson is at Northwestern, Edward Capps is in the V-12 program, and Jim Kinduell has enlisted.

Wearing khaki are Bill Solley, James Green, Bill Pawley, Lloyd Redman, Albert Shelby, Charles Paris, Ray Mills, Siler Steele, Lou Cullen, John Stoll, and Johnny Mazola.

The other farmer from Western's roll of athletes is Bill Hammack.

The state of Kentucky made very little provision for the education of her teachers until 1906.

Spikes Cleats and Sneaker

By Marion Miller

Earl Ruby, in his column in the Courier-Journal, recently gave Coach Diddle and the physical education department a very complimentary write-up. Ruby, along with other sports writers of the nation, has been quick in the past to see the possibilities of Western teams.

—W.K.T.C.—

All the chirping heard in the gymnasium lately isn't from the girls who are beginning to outnumber the boys there. It seems that a flock of birds have invaded the scene of many tough net battles. . . maybe to get a bird's-eye view of the Hilltoppers?

—W.K.T.C.—

Recent visitors on the Hill include two members of previous Western cage teams. Seeing Dero Downing and "Buck" Sydnor again on College Heights reminds us of the jubilant student body who received them on their return from past years' successful sweeps through the East.

—W.K.T.C.—

At this time last fall, Western's grid-men had completed four games—two wins and two losses. The season's opener was dropped to "Ole Miss," and the other defeat went to Youngstown. These blotches on the record were overshadowed, however, by two surging victories over Marshall and Morehead.

—W.K.T.C.—

Lieutenant Sweede Anderson, USN, who coached football for Western from '27 to '36, with the exception of a few years when he was away with Bo McMillin at Kansas State, visited on the Hill last week. After leaving Western in '38, he was with McMillin at Indiana University until he accepted a commission in the Navy.

—W.K.T.C.—

Although its organization was doubted for some time because of the scarcity of ping-pong balls, the annual Cedar House ping-pong tournament is to begin soon. Invited to enter the matches are all ASTP, civilian, and aircrew students.

Ping-Pong Tournament Is Being Organized

According to an announcement on the Cedar House bulletin board, a ping-pong tournament is being organized for all civilish, ASTP, and air crew students on the Hill.

Formal entrance is accomplished by giving the entrant's name and a registration fee of 15 cents to Elizabeth Young, the director of the event, by Wednesday, November 10.

The drawing will be held some time before the following Monday, and a general schedule of play will be posted by that time. If the game is not played and reported to the director by a date which is to be stipulated, the match will be forfeited.

The winner will receive 50% of the total registration fees in the form of War Savings Stamps. The runner-up prize is 25 per cent of that sum, and the rest will go to the Cedar House fund to pay for the balls.

All students are urged to enter the tournament to enlarge the competing field.

Cardinals Show Great Prospects

With only four days of hard, fast practice under their belts, the College High Cardinals are beginning to show great possibilities as a victorious basketball team.

The new appointed coach, Frank "Bear" Lawrence, with two stars back from last year, in the persons of Don Harris and Carroll Brooks, is fairly well satisfied concerning the progress of the team.

Trying new tactics in the coaching of the team, Lawrence is training the boys closely in the way of the Hilltoppers.

Three boys who saw considerable service last season, and a transfer from Hartford, are expected to aid the team greatly when the schedule opens at Franklin, November 16. These are Philip Binzel, Glyn Seward, Tom Pollis and Billy Sandifer.

Other netters at the opening practices were Henry Brady, John Carmichael, Sam Cook, Eddie Diddle, W. B. Fisher, Joe Fox, John Goodner, Jerry Guttman, Morris Meyers, and Billy Rourke.

Two Cardinals from Jimmy Salato's successful team of last year are in service, and one is with Coach Diddle at Western. Buddy Carter and Bill Foshee are serving with the armed forces, and Hal Gilmore is working with the Hilltoppers.

WAA Urges Girls To Attend Meetings

The Women's Athletic Association urges the presence of every girl interested in volleyball, badminton, basketball, and other women's sports, at the weekly meetings, Monday evening, at 7:00 o'clock, in the gym.

This association was organized at the beginning of the year to partially replace the disbanded intramural sports leagues. As yet the attendance at the meetings has been rather small. All girls are invited to attend the meeting Monday night to enjoy an evening of recreational sports.

New Teams To Play Toppers

Western's Hilltopper basketball team will have again this year opportunity to further enhance the recognition brought to Bowling Green by previous teams. According to Coach E. A. Diddle, the schedule will probably call for double engagements with Murray, Morehead, Marshall, Berea, Tennessee Tech, Evansville, the University of Louisville's V-12's and a half dozen service teams. Also slated are games with three leading teams of the East.

Highlighting the playing card will be a road trip through Philadelphia, New York and Buffalo during the Christmas holidays. In the course of this invasion of the Eastern strongholds of basketball, the Diddlemen will be pitted against Canisius College, Temple University and either Long Island University or Brooklyn.

Listed among the probable opponents for this season's conflicts are several teams which the Toppers did not meet in regularly scheduled games last year. These are Morehead and Berea whose squads Western did not play until the KIAC tournament, and the University of Louisville V-12's.

Also new rivals are the teams contracted for the trip to the East. During the last successful mid-season blitzkrieg up East, Western met St.

Bonaventure, City College of New York, and La Salle College.

The Big Red team is continuing to improve in all aspects of the sport, according to Coach Diddle. They are working hard to tie last year's victorious record, and are beginning to show spirit and fight that is so typical of Western teams. Mr. Diddle does regret, however, the fact that there is not at least one of last year's players back to set the pace for the oncoming freshmen.

Intramural Sports Out For Duration

Intramural athletics will be another short item on the extra curricular activities list this year, according to Ted Hornback, who has directed the program at Western in the past.

Along with football and baseball this series of sports engagements has been placed on the dormant shelf for the duration.

The elaborate program, which included teams from Pershing Rifles, Arts and Crafts, Cherry Country Life, and other sizable organizations, constituted an important part of the athletic program of the year.

Partially replacing the loss will be the Women's Athletic Association, which meets for the same purpose, but does not have stipulated teams.

Conditioning Class Adopts Army Methods

Because of the dire need for building strong bodies before they are needed for military service, the conditioning sports class has increased its meetings from two days to four, according to the instructor, Ted Hornback.

Another change in the general pattern of this physical education course is the physical fitness schedule prescribed by the army for the air students.

Mr. Hornback explained that because most of the boys would sooner or later be subject to the physical workouts of the army, he had changed to the army's methods of testing the improvement of the boys.

"Already one of the enrollees has completed the required number of pushups at one time, and could have done more," said the instructor, "and the remarkable thing is that he was disqualified for military service."

In changing from the old course to the new one, the class has dropped several exercises, such as rope climbing, but these have been replaced by more calisthenics, which are usually held two days a week. The other two sessions are devoted chiefly to touch football and cross-country running.

The grade received in the course will be given according to the army plan of testing improvement of physical conditions.

Earl Shelton Is To Be Team Mentor

Harry Earl Shelton, stellar member of Coach Ed Diddle's Hilltoppers basketball squad, and who, in 1942, was named a member of the All-State and All-Southern teams has been selected as mentor of the Daviess county high Panthers.

At Western, Shelton played four years of basketball under Coach Diddle, and was a member of the team holding second honors in the National Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

His major, while on the Hill, was physical education, and he minored in biology and agriculture.

Cadets Have Formal Review Every Saturday

Each Saturday afternoon a formal review of the cadets is held in the stadium. To take the place of a band, recordings of famous marches are played to add colour and dignity to the review. The reviews are held at 1:15 each Saturday, and a cordial invitation is extended to all Western and Business University students, as well as the town people, to attend.

On November 5 and 6 there will be a District Home Economics Conference at the Home Economics building.

Boys In ASTP Given Workouts

Besides carrying an extra heavy program of studies, the ASTP boys at Western are exercised fully in a physical fitness program.

They receive regular workouts three days a week in touch football, softball, volleyball, and some cross-country running. The future engineers choose different teams for these seasons, but on Saturday morning regular teams under the captainship of Arthur Fox and Joe Petty vie for the title of the unit.

On the other two days, the class holds scheduled calisthenic sessions to bring into use any other muscles not exercised in the competitive sports.

Class Elections Now Completed

At class meetings, Thursday, October 28, the senior and sophomore classes completed their elections of class officers for the coming year.

The senior class officers are: president, George Riggs; vice-president, Nick Grady; secretary, Lucille McMurtry; treasurer, Dorothy Grise; and sergeant-at-arms, Joe Meers.

The sophomore officers are: president, John Gaddie; vice-president, Jimmy Keriakes; secretary, Roberta Wilson; treasurer, Alva Matherly; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Ingram; and reporter, Helen Henry.

Bedridden Poet, Ruby Dell Bougher, Publishes Book

By Pat Thomas

Miss Ruby Dell Bougher, a poet of Southern Kentucky, has published a new book entitled Chips of Cedar. Oddly enough, she derived the title from her childhood love of playing with chips. The theme of the poetry is war.

Miss Bougher, who lives several miles from Morganfield, attended Western for high school and junior college work. She graduated from Georgetown College "cum laude."

Since 1936 her world has consisted chiefly of a pretty view from her window and her friends. She has been bedridden since then. Always cheerful, she has a definite trust and faith in God.

Her first published poem appeared in the Christian Herald in 1934. The poem was a success, and the Christian Herald has published many more of her poems.

Later she has had several books published, among them being "Doorways and Windows" and "Candles on the Sill."

Ted Malone read her poem "The Invalid and the Bird," over a coast-to-coast network.

Miss Bougher has paid honor in verse to the late President H. H. Cherry and to the late Professor J. H. Clagett, for many years a member of the English Department.

Even today Miss Bougher cherishes the memory of her days at Western and her friends here.

As human as home

WE want you to think of the L & N Railroad as a personal, friendly institution—not just steel rails, monster bridges, huge shops, big buildings, long trains and fast, powerful locomotives. That is but the physical picture. The "Old Reliable" is far more than that.

It is private and free enterprise, performing an essential public service. It is a half billion dollar investment of about 8,000 stockholders . . . now distributing about $66,000,000 in good wages to 31,000 employees and purchasing about $40,000,000 of equipment and supplies per year. Thus it quickens the commercial life of every community it serves by aiding alike the farmer, merchant, businessman and laborer.

During peacetime, the L & N performs a necessary public transportation service. In the present war, still under private ownership, it has proven even more important, capable and dependable. As compared with World War I, it is performing a phenomenal and much greater service.

At no time has any other agency done so much to develop its territory. It is the largest taxpayer in many counties and hence is a major support of schools and functions of government. Its management and extensive organization are sons of the South, who are intensely serious in aiding Southern development.

The L & N is as personal and human as its local agent, its trainmen, its officers . . . as their children who play in your streets and who go to your churches and schools . . . as all its employees who strive to be good citizens and neighbors, who serve tirelessly to meet the war's transportation job and whose 3,000 sons are at the fighting front.

When the war is won, the "Old Reliable" and its employees will work to make a better railroad, to serve you modernly and to aid in the South's inevitable growth. Its purpose and achievement point high. It is both your capable servant and friendly neighbor.

LEON'S

Rabbi Rauch Heard At Chapel

"Power must be used as a means to an end and not the end itself." This was the idea running throughout Rabbi Joseph Rauch's chapel talk Tuesday, October 26, in Yan Meter auditorium.

Dr. Rauch is rabbi of the Temple Adath Israel in Louisville. He spoke here in connection with the war fund and community chest campaign.

Dr. Rauch particularly stressed the difference between Germany and the United States. "Germany," he said, "wants power for the sake of power; the United States wants power for protection, for education, for freedom and for mass religious beliefs."

The speaker stated that moral and morale complement each other. The morale of a people is the totality of a spiritual force that can be poured into a man to make him ready and willing to stand up for his morals.

According to Dr. Rauch, it is not our defeat the enemy wants but our extermination. Our country has been driven to exercise the law of preservation so that long after the last shot has been fired we shall remain victorious and shall not be found wanting in the silent artistic challenge awaiting us.

Dr. Rauch was introduced by President Paul L. Garrett.

Alumni Flashes

By

Raymond C. Hornback

Route 4, Louisville, Ky.

WITH KELLY THOMPSON'S invitation last week to write Alumni Flashes again this year came greetings to all of the Western group in this part of the State. It certainly was good to hear from somebody at Western. I have been so busy with my work at the Curtiss-Wright Airplane Corporation that I haven't had time to do anything else, not even write to any of the Old Grads. I am supervisor of training for Curtiss. Started one year ago this month as an inspector on the Final Assembly line, and after three months accepted a position as instructor in the Quality Control Department. Recently I have been promoted to supervisor of all inspection training.

THERE ARE MANY WESTERN grads working at the Louisville Curtiss plant. M. W. "Red" Chapman, '33 graduate in physics, came to Curtiss in January of this year as an instructor and now is the Chief instructor in charge of the riveting training. After graduating from Western, he worked six months for the TVA. He taught two years in the Howell high school in Christian County; taught and coached five years at Woodburn high school in Warren County; and worked two years for the United States Employment Service in the Technical Service Division, doing job analysis work and training all new Employment Service personnel. "Red" married Lucy Wave, 1935 graduate of the University of Kentucky and is the proud father of a four year old daughter.

I SEE "RED" DORSEY EVERY day when I go down on the Final Assembly line where he is a foreman of inspection. He has promised several times to give me a writeup on what he has been doing since he left Western, but I find that at this writing he has failed to do so.

WILBUR BRANSON, BS '35, is an instructor in aircraft blueprints, job instruction training, and supervisory courses at Curtiss-Wright in Louisville. He taught in the Webster County school system for two years and the Hopkins County schools for thirteen years. Wilbur married Evelyn Clayton of Hanson and has four children, three girls and one boy.

LAST SUNDAY EVENING MRS. Hornback, Ray Rice, and I attended a dinner and theatre party with Bob and Hallie Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. Peck Nisbet and daughter Sue. Bob is principal of the Salisbury School at Twenty-second and Magazine streets in Louisville, and Hallie is a teacher in the Fern Creek high school. Peck is the chief spectrographer at Tube Turns in Louisville. While walking down Fourth street, we met and had a short chat with A. A. Page, president of Cumberland College.

D. B. CASWELL, AB '29, FOR THE past eight years a member of the Eastern Junior high school faculty, has been named principal of the Masonic Home School in Louisville. D. B.'s teaching experience began in the rural schools of Hart County. He has taught in the Elkhorn high school in Switchback, West Va., the Fleming, Kentucky high school, the Butler, Kentucky high school, and served as principal of the Grand Rivers high school and the West Point high school. He has been active in the professional and social life of Louisville teachers, serving as president of the Phi Delta Kappa group and chairman of the Economics Committee of the Board of Directors of the Louisville Educational Association. Mrs. Caswell was Miss Bertha Draper, a former school teacher, who, along with D.B., is proud of their two daughters, Virginia Lee, 6, and Jeanette Draper, 14 months.

SEVERAL WEEKS AGO MRS. Hornback and I were pleasantly surprised to meet Mr. and Mrs. Emburger at the Caswell home. You will remember them as Roman and Meta Riley. Roman is teaching music in the Barrett Junior high school, and Meta Riley is teaching English at the Highland junior high school in Louisville. We enjoyed recalling our Western days, for it had been about fifteen years since we had seen them. We discussed many of our teachers on the Hill and courses we had taken together. One course in particular seemed to have given both Meta Riley and your correspondent about the same trouble, it was that of drawing subjects from a box for impromptu speeches in Mrs. T. C. Cherry's public speaking class. How

The operating costs of the USO are borne by local support. Since it does not have sufficient funds to hire an expert conductor, the organization is dependent upon volunteer work, which is done by 15 to 25 individuals exclusive of a group of women hostesses and chaperones who have generously entertained and supervised by meeting, visiting, and serving lunches for the boys.

The USO is making an appeal to the girls of the town and colleges to help entertain the boys whenever they can. In order to assist at the USO, according to Dr. Billings, a girl must be eighteen years of age or older; she must have the consent of her parents and the recommendation of her pastor or some other responsible person.

well I remember my first draw, "Astronomy." Well, there was nothing left for me to do except discuss the moon as it had shone down on me and my gal in the Spoonholder. This I did in the allotted time, never getting any closer to the subject, "Astronomy," than the Spoonholder.

FIVE YEARS AGO ALUMNI Flashes was first published in the Herald. By the very hardest of efforts it has been impossible to make practically all of the issues, but at times we have had to do a lot of writing and calling to secure enough news to make a presentable column. Will you pledge your support this year when everybody is busy with the war program and time is so precious. Sit down tonight and write me that letter that you have started many times before. Send all material to E. C. Hornback, Route 4, Louisville, or call MA 7430J if you are in the Louisville area.

Church Opens Service Lounge

The First Presbyterian Church at 10th and State street, Sunday afternoon, October 17, opened its service men's lounge between the hours of four and six. Quite a number of the Air Crew students and their friends enjoyed the freedom and ease of this first get-together. Mrs. Lida Gardner and Miss Georganna Page welcomed the men, serving them hot coffee and sandwiches.

The lounge is to be open each Sunday afternoon during the fall and winter, at four o'clock. Dr. J. Reid Sterrett, chairman of the Soldiers' committee of the First Presbyterian church, says that it is hoped that the men of the 321st Air Detachment will be frequent visitors at the Service Men's lounge since it is especially for the air students on the Hill that the church parlors are being opened. He further stated that the committee hopes the men will make this spot on the corner of 10th and State their home when they are down on the Square Sunday afternoon and will feel free to drop in or to bring their dates with them. Those who are married are invited to bring their wives. The visiting families of the air students are also welcomed.
