Dr. Cornette Accepts Deanship At Baylor

Talisman Work Is Progressing

Work on the 1945 Talisman is progressing in harmony with the schedule set by the staff, according to Rebecca Hughes, co-editor.

A black background with gray overtones has been selected for the cover of this year's annual with the word Talisman in red letters. The book will be the same size as last year's with the same sections and features.

Already the introduction has been written and sent to the engravers. The dedication has been decided upon, and class pictures have been taken.

At class meetings Tuesday, the members of the class will elect their class representatives, one boy and one girl to be featured in the Talisman.

Also at the class meetings candidates will be nominated for campus favorites. Each person will nominate four candidates and those candidates who receive majority votes from the members of all the classes will be voted on by the student body in chapel. A queen will be chosen from this group and six campus favorites.

Shelton Named Head Of Odgen Association

Raleigh Shelton was elected president of the Odgen Association at a banquet at the First Presbyterian church December 26. Shelton, who received the last diploma awarded by Odgen college before it was merged with Western 17 years ago, succeeds Thomas W. Hines. Other officers elected were: Rex A. Logan, vice president, succeeding Mr. Shelton, and Dr. L. K. Causey, secretary, succeeding W. Embry Smith. Reelected were: Will J. Turpin, corresponding secretary, and F. H. Moltenberry, treasurer.

Rhodes K. Myers, principal speaker, discussed rehabilitation and readjustment in his speech entitled "What Shall We Do Then."

Also present was W. C. Sumpster, the first student to enroll in the college when it was opened 67 years ago.

ALEXANDER SUCCEEDS FRIES AS VIOLIN TEACHER

William Alexander, Canton, Ohio, arrived December 23 to succeed Robert Fries, who recently resigned as violin teacher in the music department of Western. He will teach violin and conduct the college orchestra.

Mr. Alexander received the degree of bachelor of school music at Mt. Union college, Alliance, Ohio, and the master's degree at North Texas State Teachers college, Denton, Texas. He was at one time supervisor of public school music at Greens-town, Ohio, and was later a faculty member of the North Texas State Teachers college, and then was connected with New Mexico A. and M. College.

Mr. Alexander's recital work includes concert appearances in Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New Mexico, and he has played with the Austin, Texas, Symphony Orchestra and the Canton Symphony.

29 Students Enrolled In ROTC

First Sergeant Harry J. Morton has announced that twenty-nine students are enrolled in R. O. T. C. this quarter. They will fire the prescribed course put out by the War Department. They will fire for record on a Class F (indoor) Course.

Any boys who qualify for this course are either experts, sharpshooters, or marksmen. For those qualifications they will receive medals from the War Department. These are the scores they must attain in a Class F. Course to achieve these medals: out of a possible 200, a minimum score of 180 is expert, 160 is sharpshooter, and 130 is marksman. Any lower score disqualifies the student.

Following this course, Sgt. Morton will select 5 boys who have the highest scores to compete in the William Randolph Hearst R. O. T. C. Rifle Competition. Firing will begin January 24 and continue through to February 1.

Lieutenant Clarke Killed In Action

Lieut. Richard J. Clarke, 26, was killed in action, November 25, in Germany, according to word recently received by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Clarke.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clarke, Lieut. Clarke was serving with an armored division.

He was graduated from Western in '39 and was active in several fields while on the Hill.

Lieut. Clarke was married to Miss Jennie Hodges, who survives with two daughters, Connie Ann, 2, and Paula Marie, 3 months.

Clarke entered the service June 1, 1941, and had been overseas since June 3, 1944. He received his training at Fort Knox.

Will Assume Duties March 16

Dr. James P. Cornette, member of the faculty of the English department since 1930, has accepted the deanship of Baylor university, Waco, Texas, and will go to his new position at the close of the present quarter, on March 16. He will go to Baylor with a leave of absence status extending through next year.

A native of Hopkinsville, Dr. Cornette was reared at Russellville, where he attended high school. He was graduated from Kentucky Wesleyan college with the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1929. He received the Master of Arts degree in English from the University of Virginia in 1930. He was granted the Doctor of Philosophy degree by George Peabody college in 1938.

Coming to Western in 1930, Dr. Cornette is recognized as one of the outstanding members of the faculty. He is also recognized as one of the most popular commencement speakers in Kentucky. Since 1938 he has been Director of Freshman English.

Candidates For ROTC Queen Named

J. B. Hutson Appointed Deputy To Byrnes

Dr. J. B. Hutson, a former student at Western Normal School, has been appointed deputy to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes.

Hutson taught in Calloway county rural schools and afterwards received his degree in agricultural science at the University of Kentucky. He then worked as a field worker in farm management.

At one time he helped a farm agent interview a Kentucky mountaineer and the agent recommended him for a post in Washington.

During the Hoover administration Hutson conducted an agricultural survey for the Government.

Since then he has served as director of the Food Production Administration, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation and assistant administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

SIMS HAS ARTICLE PUBLISHED

Lieut. John Earl Sims, AB '33, who is now in the United States Navy, has again had an article published in the Coronet magazine. His latest article, "Duel of the Deep," appeared in the December 1944 issue. In the issue of January, 1944, "The Odyssey of Miranda" was published.

Mr. Sims was football coach and English teacher at Butler high school in Princeton, Kentucky, until he went to the Navy in April, 1942.

Retakes will be made next week for those who were unable to have their picture made last week, and for those who wish other than the first picture made. Pictures will be taken in Room 5, Cherry Hall. Watch bulletin board for exact time.

Carolyn Winsch, Lucille Hanna, Martha Stevens and Mayme Johnson have been nominated as candidates for queen to represent the Reserve Officers Training Corps unit at Western, according to an announcement sent out by Sgt. Harry J. Morton, unit instructor.

The candidates will be voted on by the unit in a few days and the queen will be featured in the Talisman for 1945.

Carolyn Wintch is a freshman on the Hill. She came to Western from Munfordville where she was graduated from Munfordville high school in 1944, and she is studying to be a laboratory technician.

Lucille Hanna, a sophomore and an art major, is from Fordsville where she was graduated from high school in 1943. One of Western's cheerleaders, she was re-elected from last season.

Last year's "Miss Freshman," Martha Stevens came to Western after she was graduated from Middlesboro, high school in 1943. A music major, Martha is planning to teach public school music.

Mary Adelaide Johnson, known on the Hill, as Mayme, is a sophomore from London. She transferred to Western last September from Sue Bennett College at London, and is majoring in home economics. She is accompanist for the Cook Twips.

Lieut. Rollie Moore Killed In Action

Lieut. Rollie F. Moore, son of Mrs. Marian Moore and the late Lieut. J. R. Moore, of Morgantown, was killed in action in Germany, November 26, according to word received from the War Department recently. Lieutenant Moore attended Western. He had been in the service since April, 1942, and had been overseas since June. He received the Purple Heart medal for wounds received at St. Malo in August.

David Helm To Play Compositions

David Helm, junior on the Hill, has been invited to play his piano compositions before the Glasgow Music Club on Wednesday, January 17. The two compositions which he will play are "Sea Moss," and "Two Maestoso Variations on a Moderato Theme."

"Sea Moss" was one of the five compositions to receive a superior rating at the National Federation of Music Clubs Junior Competitive Festivals in March 1944. There were sixty-nine entries in the contest. "Two Variations" was also entered in the contest and received a rating of excellent.

In September, 1944, some of the pieces were selected to be played before the National Board of the National Federation of Music Clubs. Among those selected was "Sea Moss."

David has completed another composition for piano entitled, "Suite to an Old Lady."

Bowling Green, Kentucky, January 12, 1945

The founding of this college was backed by the idea that everything possible would be done to allow people who had the sense but not the dollars to have a college education. Another idea in the founders' minds was that Western should be a democratic institution—never recognizing organizations which would lead to the raising of one group over another. These standards have been kept to the highest possible degree.

But a situation exists now which threatens both these principals.

There are those students working on the campus and in the business places of Bowling Green, who make either wholly or partially their college expenses. There are other students who are fortunate enough to have all their expenses paid and are not forced to work. Which students of the two groups have the more character and industry? Your only reasonable answer should convince you that no distinction should be made between the two.

Some of the things done are petty—and would probably be sufficient proof that the young are careless and have no respect for the feelings of others. Things such as taking hours to order at the lunch rooms and then changing the order four times before it arrives, being brusque with those who serve you. Some of these students are working, because there is a definite shortage of help now and they want the experience along with their college work. Although this fact should not cause you to make a difference between those who have to and those who want to, it should make you watch your attitude toward all groups concerned.

Betty Tucker Blackwell has returned from Frankfort, where she spent the holidays with friends.
Jeanne Hill has returned from Orangeburg, South Carolina, where she attended the Culler-Barr wedding.

New Blood Plasma Dedication Label

In response to numerous requests, the Red Cross label on the standard Army-Navy package of blood plasma has been redesigned so donors may dedicate their blood in honor of a friend or loved one in the armed forces. The inscription goes right on the label as shown above. One label may be filled out for each blood donation made on or after December 7, 1944.

Book Review

Juanita Britt

Simone by Leon Feuchtwanger has the beauty and simplicity of a legend. Simone, the heroine of this book of the same name has been orphaned by an irascible father whose radicalism, despite his nobility and integrity, brought about his death thereby leaving his only child to the mercy of his step mother, Madame Peonchard.

Only because of social connections did Madame Peonchard bring herself to accept the responsibility of caring for this child, the father of whom she hated. Simone was required to do a servants work in return for her food, clothing, and lodging. They lived in a fine villa in a little French town in Bergundy, and the story opens during the month of June in 1940.

Simone was grateful to Madame for her fine home, and she might never have thought further had it not been for the coming of the war.

The story opens specifically on a summer day when Simone goes into town to market for Madame. The battle had not yet reached the village, but the hundreds of streets gave evidence of its proximity. Shops were closed with placards hanging on their doors with such inscriptions as "No Bread," "No Meat," "No Tobacco."

Because of the social prominence of Madame Peonchard she was able to obtain many articles of food, even rare delicacies, that other people were flatly refused. Simone called at the back doors of the shops and the proprietors slipped their wares into Simone's basket.

Simone's Uncle Prosper sold black market gasoline in addition to using his trucks for shady dealing. Simone rebelled inwardly against this. Her resentment is heightened by the cutting remarks about her uncle made by Maurice, one of the truck drivers. One of Simone's best friends is an old book dealer, and one of Simone's favorite characters is Joan of Arc. One night, after reading of this Saint she fell asleep and dreamed that she and the Maid of Orleans were one.

The author succeeds in his contrivance to build up a parallel between these two. Like Joan of Arc, Simone feels that a task has been commissioned to her and that she must not fail in her attempt in the execution of it. In a short time she develops from an adolescent into a grown young woman, defiant of the grim fate impending her.

This is one of the most impressive compositions resultant of this war.

Lieut. Sam Panepinto Killed In Action

News has been received here of the death of Lieut. Sam Panepinto, former Western football star from Gary, Indiana. He was killed in action on the European Front.

Lieut. Panepinto was born in Gary and attended high school there. He entered Western in 1940 and was captain of the football team that year. He later played football professionally with the Long Island Indians in New York.

Before entering the service in March, 1942, he was employed in the Kingsbury Ordnance Plant. He received his commission in the Army intelligence in November, 1942, and went overseas in January, 1944.

Lieut. Panepinto's bother, Joe Panepinto, who also starred on Western's football team, died in service September, 1943, on the North African Front.

The other night at the high-point of the University of Louisville-Western game a coke bottle accidentally sailed from the balcony to the bleachers below to miss the head of one of the more illustrious members of Western's personnel—who, wholly unaware of his narrow escape continued to applaud the Toppers. Only by a hair's breadth was calamity avoided. In our efforts to cheer the Red and Gray on to victory let us not forget the welfare of those fans in the downstairs cheering section.

—HILLTOPICS—

Sometimes on the battlefields and even in the camps in this country, American soldiers are volunteering to give blood plasma. These fellows are offering their lives, should it be necessary that they be blood donors, too, when we civilians are really sacrificing so little?

The blood donors mobile unit of the Red Cross will be in Bowling Green, January 22-26. When one realizes that sometimes as many as 84 pints of blood plasma are needed for one man, it becomes the duty not only of the citizens of Warren county but for every able bodied person to give a pint of blood so that no shortage will needlessly cost lives when the casualty lists are growing daily.

If you are over 21, or 18 and have your parents' consent, make it your business to register this week.

—HILLTOPICS—

As one enters the Kentucky Library, he is conscious of a fiery red "something" on the floor in front of him. As he examines the red "something" more closely he sees that it is a Nazi flag fifteen feet by six feet. In the center of the flag against a circular white background a swastika stands out as if defiantly mocking the observance and benediction. The gory red of the flag symbolizes human destruction wrought by the blood thirsty paper hanger of Berlin and his lesser lights. Already the flag is becoming soiled with tracks of those who attempt to show their hatred and contempt for the tyrannical acts of the war-crazed monster of the world. The flag was presented to the Kentucky Museum by Major Bill Saunders, a former member of the ROTC personnel on the campus. Maj. Saunders was given the flag by the burgomaster of one of the German villages occupied by the Allies.

—HILLTOPICS—

Training for the Red Cross Nurse's Aid Corps will begin next week. Instruction will be for two hours three evenings each week during the class training period. All applicants must be 18 years of age, high school graduates and willing to contribute 150 hours of volunteer service during the year. This is a great opportunity for girls on our campus who have aspirations for serving their country while still in school. If you have an excess of spare time and an earnest desire to aid your country as we strive for an early victory, enroll at once!

A Parent's Silent Prayer

"Dear Lord;

You gave your son to save the world.
You didn't count the cost
In blood and sacrifice;
You gave your son that we might live.

Dear Lord,

Can I do Less?

I give the world my son
That he may help to save
The things for which your son
So nobly died.

If, when the victory's won, dear God,

And you send back my son,
I'll press him to my breast and thank you, Lord.
And if he goes to join your son, I'll understand
And through my tears, rejoice

To know that my son and the Son of God
Go hand in hand.—Amen."

For the past few days the above prayer has been on the bulletin board in Cherry Hall. Many people have made copies of it and everyone who has read it has commented on the beautiful thought behind it. However, no one is exactly sure who wrote it. We are printing it in tribute to the author, whose name did not appear on the copy, for the noble and beautiful words of comfort it will bring to the many who read it.

Our Debt

We owe it to the men who are fighting for us to do all we can to help make a peace that is wise and honorable and lasting. We owe it to them to stand firm, when firmness can win a point that we are certain should be won. We owe it to them to come out of the ivory tower of our own perfectionism, when compromise is necessary and when responsibility should not be shirked. We shall need patience for the task ahead. Patience and perseverance and willingness to try to understand other people's point of view, and faith, above all else.

And because we shall need faith let us be done with this talk that we have lost the cause for which we fight. We are winning that cause, winning it splendidly and for the benefit of generations still to come, with every step that brings us closer to Berlin and Tokyo.—From an editorial in New York Times.

Club Notes

Iva Scott Club

A program consisting of descriptions of several of the fields open to home economics majors was presented following a brief business session of the regular monthly meeting of the Iva Scott club. The meeting was held in the Kentucky Building, Tuesday evening, January 9.

French Club

Sally Edwards found the doll in the king's cake and was crowned queen of the king's fete at the January 8 meeting of the French Club in the faculty room of the Kentucky Building. The queen chose her king, Oren Gosnell; as prince, Jo Fish; as pages, Jeanne Allen and Martha Stevens.

Before the coronation and toasts, Jean Grise continued the G. I. Tour of Paris, begun at the November meeting, with a description of the Bayeux tapestry sent by her husband from Paris. This tapestry has been sent to Paris to be shown to American soldiers by the city of Bayeux, the first-liberated city in France.

English Club

The English club held its first meeting of the quarter, Thursday, January 4, in the faculty room of the Kentucky Building.

During the short business session, officers were elected for the winter quarter. Mrs. Claire Bryant Barr was unanimously reelected president; Joan Dienes was elected vice-president; Grace Evelyn Reep, secretary-treasurer; and Jimmy Kereiakes, sergeant-at-arms.

Following the introduction of several new members, refreshments were served.

Next meeting will be held February 1 in the Kentucky Building.

Dr. Mary I. Cole spent the Christmas holidays in Florida visiting friends. During her stay she visited Vero Beach, Fort Pierce, and West Palm Beach, Florida.

Dr. C. P. Denman has returned to school after being ill for several weeks.

Mrs. Wilson Brown and son, "Sandy," of Mount Ulla, North Carolina, visited on the Hill recently with Mrs. Gladys Brown of the psychology department.

Rose Johnson spent the Christmas holidays with her mother in Paterson, New Jersey.

Faculty Notes

Dr. B. C. Cole, of the biology department, was installed as president of the Bowling Green Kiwanis International at a banquet held at the First Presbyterian church, Thursday evening.

Dr. M. L. Billings, head of the psychology department, was speaker at a joint meeting of the Westminster and First Presbyterian churches on January 2. The purpose of the meeting was to plan closer cooperation between the two churches.

Dr. J. Reid Sterrett of the English department who has had a leave of absence to teach in the Indiana, Pennsylvania, State Teachers college, has returned to the Hill.

Miss Frances Anderson spent several days in Chicago during the holidays attending a meeting of the American Historical Association.

President Paul L. Garrett will deliver the Founder's Day Address at Georgetown College, January 15. President Garrett is an alumni of Georgetown.

On Saturday, January 18, President Garrett will be in Owensboro where he will deliver the midwinter Commencement Address at the joint exercises of the Owensboro high school and the Owensboro Technical high school.

Alumni Notes

Mrs. W. M. Doyle, formerly Naomi Henderson, Western graduate in '44, is now living in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Mr. Doyle is in the service overseas.

Captain Edward M. Ray, Bowling Green, who received the M. S. degree at Western, has been injured and is now hospitalized at Tuscon, Arizona.

Dr. Charles Robert Allen, MS '33, was a recent visitor on the Hill. He is on leave of absence from the Texas Medical School and has returned to the University of Wisconsin, where he received the Ph. D. degree.

Dr. Julian B. Cole, Gorgas Hospital, Canal Zone, was a recent visitor on the Hill. He holds the commission of First Lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

A. P. Young, Jr., AB '43, visited on the Hill January 2. Mr. Young is technical laboratory assistant in the organic chemistry laboratory at Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, Ohio.

Jeanne Payne, Western graduate now teaching in Oakland, Illinois, recently spent a weekend in Chicago where she visited with another former student on the Hill, Lillian Choncoff. Lillian lives in Gary, Indiana.

Presenting "Deacon" Jones Sophomore Class Prexy

By Juanita Britt

Laurence "Deacon" Jones graduated from the vice-presidency of the freshman class of last year into the presidency of the sophomore class of this year by popular acclaim. Jovial, good-natured, and with a steady undercurrent of sincerity and determination about him, he is a familiar figure on the campus and most easily recognized by his height.

"Deacon" Jones is from Hickman, or, to be explicit and put it as he did, "Hickman on the sunny banks of the Mississippi in the Jackson Purchase."

He played basketball during his four years at Hickman High, and when Coach Diddle gave him a try out last year for Western's basketball team, he came through with flying colors. As a result, he was placed on the varsity team in center position, a place which he still retains. In addition to his athletic activities, he is a diligent pre-med student.

Last year sports writers in and around Buffalo, New York, in choosing the two "All-Memorial" teams, chose "Deacon" Jones as one of the ten players. These ten boys are selected annually from the aggregate of teams who play in the Memorial Auditorium in Buffalo during the season. This is not the first honor that has fallen "Deacon's" way. In 1943 Coach Diddle selected him as one of the players for the Kentucky All-Star Team. He is one of two veterans on Western's basketball team this year. In the first game of the season he scored twelve points. Favorable predictions have been made concerning his playing.

In fact, favorable predictions may be made about everything concerning "Deacon" Jones.

Ensign John B. Thomas, Jr. is doing special work at the University of Colorado in Boulder. Mrs. Thomas, the former Rena Belle Angle, is also in the Colorado city. Ensign Thomas was a Herald Editor and recipient of the Trustees Medal upon his graduation from Western.

William G. Cox is stationed in New Guinea with the medical detachment of the Navy.

First Lieut. George Grise, although now in Germany, was in Holland a very short time ago. Of the latter country he writes: "The people of Holland surpass any I've ever seen for genuine hospitality. They're quite modern, but very poor right now. They offer many lessons in patience and endurance. None has suffered as they."

From the Atlantic waters comes word from Ensign Dero Downing. Dero is stationed on an LST boat, and his brother, Alex, is with the ground forces in England. Dero writes. "Alex and I recently spent a seven-day leave together, two days at his base, four days in London, and two days aboard my ship. . . . It was wonderful; you can imagine how much it meant to us, not having seen each other for fourteen months. I also have a kid brother overseas—he is somewhere in France."

Sketch of Odgen Graduate—Wade

Editor's Note: From time to time the Herald presents brief sketches of Odgen College graduates. The following sketch is by Dr. Ward C. Sumpter of Western's chemistry department.

Bailey Meador Wade was born in Scottsville, Ky. His early education was received in the city schools of Scottsville and Bowling Green. He graduated from Odgen College in 1921 with the A. B. degree. He received the M. A. degree from Indiana University in 1927 and the Ph. D. degree from Peabody College in 1938.

Following his graduation from Odgen, Wade taught in the public schools of Kentucky until 1926. From 1927 to 1929 he was Principal of the Union City, Tennessee High School. He was adjunct Professor of Education, University of Georgia from 1929 to 1932, an instructor at Castle Heights Military Academy from 1932 to 1934 and head of the DeMont College from 1934 to 1936. He became Dean of Piedmont College in 1936. He left Piedmont in 1941 to become Professor of Psychology at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga.

Dr. Wade was a member of the Western faculty during the Summers of 1927 and 1928, and of the University of Tennessee during the summer of 1929. Dr. Wade is now Industrial Training Specialist with the Warner Roberts Air Service Command at Macon, Ga.

Dr. Wade is a member of the N. E. A. and of Phi Delta Kappa. Among his writings are "Aims of teaching English in the High School" and "History of Secondary Education in Tennessee." Dr. Wade is the brother of Mrs. Wayne Patterson of Bowling Green.

ACP Rates '44 Herald

For the first semester of 1944, the College Heights Herald was awarded the All-American Critical Service certificate of first class honor rating.

These certificates are awarded by semesters by the Associated Collegiate Press Association. The Herald rating was sent by the University of Minnesota School of Journalism.

The ratings listed in order of their rank are All American, superior; First Class, excellent; Second class, good; Third Class, high average, and Fourth Class, no honors.

Joan Dienes recently spent the weekend in Louisville with relatives.

DR. WILSON ANNOUNCES ANNUAL BIRD COUNT

Dr. Gordon Wilson has announced the 27th Annual Bird Count held on December 24. These counts are taken by bird students all over America on the same day during Christmas week. As many different kinds of territory as possible are explored.

This year there were two parties from Western, Dr. L. Y. Lancaster and Mr. Charles Taylor composed one party and Dr. Wilson, Dr. B. C. Cole, and Mr. J. R. Whitmer, the other. Dr. Lancaster's party stayed at the Mouth of Gasper and Dr. Wilson's party around Woodburn and Lost River.

Although the weather was not favorable, 46 species of birds were found. The greatest number of species ever found was 56.

The two parties saw 7,243 individual birds. Crows counted for 5,000. The usual species were in about the regular numbers. The only kinds that failed to be seen were water species.

This report in detail will be published in the March-April issue of the Audubon Magazine Supplement.

New Relics For Kentucky Building

Mrs. Clarence Nahm, Bowling Green, recently presented to the Kentucky Museum some articles which had been handed down in the family of the late Clarence Nahm.

A quilt, made by M. Nahm's grandmother in 1843, was included in the assortment, of gifts. Two curio walking canes, A Civil War pistol, and a saber from the Spanish-American War were given along with two parasols which were popular in the Gay Nineties.

Mrs. Nahm also gave to the Kentucky Library one of the few known copies of Marshall's History of Kentucky, Volume I.

Mrs. Nancy Beck, Bowling Green, recently gave the museum two weapons used in Civil War days—a four-foot shotgun and a Derringer pistol.

Finnie Sharp—What girl on the campus wouldn't give her one good eye for a 21-inch waistline like this guy has? And those curly locks, too! Finnie is blonde and good-natured, about five feet ten, and that tapering waistline is admirably suited for those sport jackets he wears. They can be heard a mile away. Definitely some man about the campus, Finnie really gets around with blonds from Chestnut street. A graduate of Madisonville High School and a junior on the Hill, he plans to enter the Dental School of the University of Louisville soon. Doing OK for himself scholastically, considering the curriculum he is following, Finnie is a member in good standing of the "Organic Chemistry Groaner's Club." (As aren't we all?) Popular with all the students, Finnie served as vice-president of the Biology Club last quarter.

Nedra Hines—She's blonde, about five feet five, blue-eyed, a good looker, and she lives on Chestnut street. (Ah, hah!) A biology major, Nedra is serving her last term on the Hill and graduates in March. This giggling and altogether likable girl will be missed around the campus for her red-rimmed specs and her golden voice which echoes from lab to lab. She was graduated from College High approximately three and a half years ago. Somehow struggling through her college career, Nedra has managed to be in on everything going on, and was secretary-treasurer of the Biology Club last quarter. In recognition for her outstanding record, Nedra was last quarter voted a member of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Jim Huter—He's the guy who always comes through in a pinch, the student who always makes the grade even though he sleeps through several classes a week, the boy who steams through when Western needs him most.

A veteran of one year on the Hilltopper basketball squad, Herr Huter was graduated from Louisville's St. Xavier High School in '43. Coming to the Hill as one of the members of Diddle's first all-freshman team, blond-haired Jim soon proved his ability at the guard position and became a member of the starting five. One of the most popular and likable on the campus, Jim, a physical education major, was this year elected vice-president of the sophomore class. Playing his second year on the Big Red team now, the fair-haired is still banging up the points on the hardwood, and here's hoping he'll be doing the same for a couple of years more.

Dot Maxwell—She's a Long Island Yankee with an accent like a Northeaster, but she's one of the best gals who ever had the good sense to come south. A short gal, about five feet three and bouncy, Dot has dark brown hair and brown eyes. A friendly little character with personality plus, "Mixwell" is already known to everyone around. She likes her men very tall and dark, but she'll take them otherwise. A fiend for music, Dot is majoring in the stuff, having attended the Eastman School of Music before coming to Western as a sophomore last summer. Now a junior and veteran of one hectic quarter in West Hall, Dot can look down her nose at underclassmen with all the experience of a seasoned dorm dweller. Modest possessor of a beautiful contralto voice, Dot is the Mary Van Kirk of the Hill. Soloist with that famous (?) group of dance artists, the "Wacketeers," she is well on her way to stardom, dressed glamorously in the Wacketeer uniform of blue jeans, plaid shirt, and bow tie.

Maurine Sublett, Western graduate, is working toward the Master's degree in history at the University of Wisconsin.

Jack Pedigo was in Nashville, Monday on business.

DAVIS-LOWE

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Davis, of Harrodsburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Lieut. Carlton Merrill Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Lowe of this city.

The wedding took place at the Harrodsburg Methodist church on Saturday, December 16, the Rev. Clarence V. Krebs, pastor, officiating. Miss Maxine Chaney, a student at Western, was Miss Davis' maid of honor.

Mrs. Lowe is a graduate of the Harrodsburg high school and is a former student of Western.

Lieutenant Lowe is a graduate of College High School and attended Western. He received his commission at the infantry school, Fort Benning, Georgia.

CULLER-BARR WEDDING

Miss Bette Carolyn Culler, of Orangeburg S. C., became the bride of Edward Wallace Barr, Jr., of Bowling Green, on Saturday, December 30.

Miss Jean Hill, a student of Western, was a bridesmaid in the bridal party.

Mrs. Barr, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Culler, was, until the time of her marriage, a student at Winthrop college in Rock Hill, South Carolina.

The bridegroom, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Wallace Barr of this city, has been in the service for two years and has been in Orangeburg with the Army Air Corps for the past seven months. Before his induction he was a student at Western.

EAKINS-REICH

The marriage of Miss Jane Eakins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade R. Eakins to First Lieut. Robert David Reich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph P. Reich, of Gadsden, Alabama, was solemnized on December 27 at the Christ Episcopal church. The Rev. A. L.

Kershaw, rector of the church, was the officiant.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Dessie Barlow of Harlan, a former student of Western, sang the traditional wedding songs.

Miss Cecile Eakins was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Elizabeth Puryear, Mrs. William N. Vogler, Mrs. Walter E. Richardson, Jr., sister of the groom, and Miss Maxine Dodson.

The ushers were Walter E. Richardson, Jr., Lieut. William A. Benson, Jr., Warrant Officer James David Francis, and Henry Bradley, Jr.

Miss Eakins, Miss Puryear, Miss Dodson, and Warrant Officer Francis are former students of Western.

Mrs. Reich is a graduate of College High and attended Western, Business University, and George Washington university. For the past three years, she has resided in Washington, D. C., where she was employed as secretary to Major General William N. Porter, chief of Chemical Warfare Service.

Lieutenant Reich attended Baylor Military Academy, Chattanooga, and was a student at the University of Alabama. He enlisted in the army in the spring of 1942 and received his commission at Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, in December 1942. He was stationed at Yale university, New Haven, Connecticut, before being transferred to Memphis, where he is with the Fourth Ferrying Command as Chemical Warfare Service officer.

Ensign Sam Tinsley attended the Western-T. P. I. game.

Bill Moore Edwards, and Joe Ryan, students of Western last quarter, attended the Western-T. P. I. game.

Betty Roberts spent the past weekend at her home in Owensboro.

Mary Nell Sparks, a junior on the Hill, visited her parents in Central City recently.

The strength of the Hilltopper squad is now the same as before the holidays with three new recruits joining the Red and Gray to take the place of the three lost. Those squadmen not entered in school this quarter are Joe Ryan and Bill Edwards of Russellville, and Bob Wagoner of Moundsville, West Virginia. Their replacements the Roy Winchester, Buck Atkinson and Junior Heintz.

Roy is a 5' 8", 157 pound sophomore who hails from Science Hill. He is returning to school this quarter after serving some time in the Navy.

Buck is no newcomer to the Hill, having served under Coach Diddle the two previous basketball seasons. He is 6' 4" tall, weighs 186 pounds and calls White Plains his home. His presence has been keenly felt in practice.

The third recruit is Junior Heintz from Palmyria, Indiana. He is a 6' 1" lad and tips the scales at 151. Junior played high school ball at Morgan Township and was a teammate of a Topper regular, "Zeke" Kennedy.

We welcome these boys and feel that they will greatly bolster the strength of the squad.

—W. K. T. C.—

Present for Western's game with T. P. I. last Saturday were three former Red and Gray basketeers: Marine sergeant Oran McKinney, Flight Officer Charlie Moran of the Air Corps, and Sailor Bob Gillespie. They watched their old school gain a 41-31 victory over a scrapping T. P. I. quintet.

McKinney, All-American while here at Western a couple of seasons back, starred with Cherry Point Air Station last season. He is now back in the Leatherneck livery, after beginning the cage grind with Camp Lejeune.

Charlie, whose home is at Horse Cave, was a member of the squad two years ago and was president of the freshman class before entering the service.

Bob is from Graham and was a regular on last year's Red and Gray team. He was drafted in October, staying here long enough to give this year's squad some pointers he had gained by experience last season.

—W. K. T. C.—

Perhaps a factor in Western's victory over the University of Louisville was the presence of Oran McKinney at the practice session Tuesday. "Mac" donned some basketball togs and joined in the scrimmage on the defensive side. The Toppers showed marked improvement and followed up with a great performance and a win over the previously undefeated Louisville squad.

—W. K. T. C.—

University of Louisville's coach, Bernard "Peck" Hickman, was by no means a stranger to the Hill. Hickman was an outstanding student and basketball player at Western during the years of 1932 through 1935 and served as captain of the team in 1934. He was selected as an All-State guard and All S. I. A. A. guard in 1933, 1934 and 1935. Since graduating from Western, Hickman has produced many fine high school basketball teams and his work now at the University of Louisville is outstanding. More success to you, Peck.

—W. K. T. C.—

Hats off to our Hilltopper team for their great performance against a University of Louisville quintet that had swept through nine games without a defeat. The boys' first half performance was a reminder of former Red and Gray fives, as they outplayed and outfought the favored Louisville team and go into halftime with a nine-point lead, 25-16. The second half saw Western protect its margin until eight minutes remained; then staved off a determined Cardinal rally to win by 44-41.

Toppers Turn U. of L. 44-41

A fighting band of Hilltoppers gave the University of Louisville Sea Cards their first defeat of the season, Wednesday night, January 10, in a scrapping battle which ended 44-41.

Coach "Peck" Hickman, a former Westerner, had a hard fighting team which kept the Toppers on their toes. Forward Zeke Kennedy paced the Western squad with 11 points and Kupper, Louisville forward, kept his team in the game by piling up 16 points.

The first half ended with a score reading 25-16 for the Western team. During the second half the Sea Cards slowly gained on the Toppers until three points separated the two teams with two minutes to go. In the last minutes, Kupper fouled Huter, who made the score 43-39; Kupper hit a short shot to boost the margin to 43-41 and Huter completed scoring of the night at the foul line when he was permitted to make the toss for Murphy who had been fouled seconds before the whistle.

Hilltoppers Defeat T. P. I. Quintet

In a closely played game in Western's gym, Coach Diddle's Hilltoppers defeated the Tennessee Polytechnic five by a score of 41 to 31. Western's quintet had a lead of 21 to 18 at the half, although the sharpshooting of T. P. I.'s Jacobs threatened the Toppers several times.

This was the seventh victory in eleven starts for the Red and Gray team. Jim Huter chalked up twelve points while Kennedy followed with eleven. Jacobs was high-point man for the Eagles with fourteen points to his credit. Jarrel scored seven points.

The game opened with two free throws by Jacobs, but the score was quickly tied by the Diddlemen. Much of the game dragged in the last half and many of the shots were wild.

Westerners See Toppers In East

Former Westerners who were on hand to cheer the basketball team on its recent trip East were: Kelly Thompson, former Publicity Director who is now with the Navy; Muriel Dann, '44 graduate and editor of the Herald; Tom Zoretic, who played football here in 1937-40; Harry Gossett, a member of last year's team; Don Harris, who attended the Training School last year and is now with the Merchant Marine; Jean Baskett and Mrs. Sue Hendrick Hadley, both former students on the Hill.

Going with the team from Kentucky were: Mrs. Ed Diddle and Mary Jo; Betty and Anna Jo Cook, who performed at the half in the Eastern games; Mamie Johnson, the Twins' accompanist, and Mr. and Mrs. Huter, the parents of Jim Huter, guard on Topper squad.

Bell Embry who is doing directed teaching at Auburn, spent Christmas in Florida as the guest of Lieut. John Johns and his parents. A member of the 220th C. T. D. at Western, Lieut. Johns recently returned from overseas.

Okolona School Principal T. T. Knight, a leader in the field of education in Jefferson County, summarizes the accomplishments of the graduates of the school which he has headed for the past sixteen years.

"We have 17 commissioned officers in the Army, Navy, and WAVES. They rank from a Major in the Army to Second Lieut. Good fortune has followed our men and women to all parts of the globe. At present only one graduate has been reported missing in action. Of the 350 to 400 men in the armed services who have attended Okolona School, only two have been killed. There is a trickle of second generation children starting in the lower grades, and they seem to be even more apt than those sixteen years ago."

If you will make a similar evaluation of your school, your alumni columnist will be glad to devote a part of the column to this type of material. Your friends the world over will be happy to know something about you and yours.

A paragraph from Leroy Fay's letter: "You probably have heard by now the news of my father's death on October 22. His passing was rather sudden. My wife and I were called home, arriving there just in time for the burial. We have since returned to San Francisco where I am still stationed."

Leroy is assistant editor of the Barracks Watch, a United States Coast Guard publication. He is a graduate of Western and served on the College Heights Herald staff while attending.

Strauther Grise, A. B. '34, brother of Western's Dean F. C. Grise, finished his Master's degree at Peabody College and his Doctor's degree at the University of Kentucky, served as dean of Wesleyan College, Winchester, Ky., and is now director of the training school at William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Virginia. In a recent letter to Uncle Billy he writes, "I am always grateful for any message from you. It gives me great satisfaction to know that you are still on the job at Western. Such stability as has been manifested by you and others at Western helps to give me the feeling that some of these days this dreadful war will end and that we may all have a chance to be at Western again to enjoy such fellowship that has been enjoyed by such an enormous number of Westernites in the past."

"I greatly enjoy the College Heights Herald. Life gets to be drudgery unless I can hear from home, and to me College Heights is one of the most cherished spots of my native habitat, Kentucky. I really, like thousands of others, got something there which has stayed with me and has inspired me through the years. Perhaps you will be surprised to know that this morning as I went up to the First Methodist church here in Williamsburg to teach the Men's Bible Class, I took along a little book called Education the Basis of Democracy, for the lesson theme for today was Christianity and Democracy. I quoted liberally from Dr. Cherry's book, and I think that he rather than I was responsible for the praise which I received from our minister and from one of the distinguished professors of the College of William and Mary. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you all. All of you deserve the best."

Changes In Faculty

The following are recent changes made in the teaching staff at Western are: Dr. J. Reid Sterrett of the English department has returned to the college after a leave of absence during the fall quarter. Prior to his return to the campus, Dr. Sterrett taught speech and dramatics in the teachers college in Indiana, Pennsylvania.

Dr. A. Earl Moore, also of the English department, has had his leave of absence extended one additional quarter in order that he may continue his teaching in Yale University. His work is being handled by other members of the department.

Mr. William Alexander, M. A., New Mexico A. and M. College, has been employed to take the place of Mr. Robert Fries, teacher of violin, who resigned at the end of the fall quarter.

Miss Mary Chisholm, who was on leave during the fall quarter, has returned to her work on the Hill. She was granted a leave to teach piano in Arthur Jordan Conservatory in Indianapolis. She and Mrs. Elaine Taylor will teach the courses which were offered during the first quarter by Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Forrest Conway. Mr. Conway is now serving in the armed services of the U. S.

Mr. Horace McMurtry, department of education, is teaching on the campus this quarter after spending the fall quarter in the field helping teachers and supervisors in county schools.

Miss Thelma Lurding Volunteer Instructor

Pictured in the Courier-Journal recently was Thelma Lurding, BS '37 of Louisville. Miss Lurding was shown as a volunteer instructor for teaching Red Cross nutrition classes.

There is an urgent need for qualified volunteer instructors to teach nutrition classes, and Miss Lurding seems to be doing her part toward fulfilling this need.

Requirements for an instructorship include a BS or AB degree in home economics and one year work as a home economics teacher or home economist affiliated with a public service. The instructor lectures and leads class demonstrations in the preparation of food of all types.

In the picture from the Courier-Journal Miss Lurding is shown giving a few pointers on nutrition to three women.
