REVOLUTIONARY WAR SOLDIERS

Dear Friend,

This record is not quite so complete as the abstracts heretofore made, as I found that it would take many years of time to copy them at length, giving the names of Captains, Lieutenants, Colonels, and Generals under whom all these soldiers served.

The mere fact that a pension number is given opposite each soldier's name with the letter "S"preceeding the number is evidence enough that the soldier did serve and was granted a pension.

When the letter"W"precedes the pension number it is an indication that a pension was granted the widow.

When the letter "R" precedes the pension number it is an indication that the pension was rejected for various reasons. Sometimes the soldier could not prove that he had served the required number of months to justify the department in giving him a pension. And it is an evident fact that many Revolutionary War records were lost or destroyed, and even though some of these soldiers had their pension rejected, they probably should have received a pension but they could not furnish the necessary proof, as many times they were living far distants from any fellow soldier who served with them, making it impossible to secure the affidavits.

I wish to advise however, that the records were carefully abstracted and all family history, such as names of children and all relatives, are given.

If a complete copy of any pension record in this book is desired,including the military service, names of officers under which the soldier fought, names and number of battles in which he participated, and in fact, a complete copy, I wish to advise that upon receipt of a letter with one dollar enclosed, the request will be given prompt attention.

The 1810 census of Kentucky is now ready for sale by counties.

The marriages and wills of most Kentucky counties are ready for sale, as well as most of the Kentucky Revolutionary War pension abstracts.

Yours faithfully,
Annie Walker Burns Bell
Washington, D. C.

This letter was written a long time ago and a copy of the letter and the following information was found in the Harbin Memorial Library in Greenville, Kentucky and the Central City Public Library in Central City, Kentucky.
