A NEWSLETTER

The group on Change in Professional Associations, being in need of information, proposes the issuance of a daily newsletter. Any group desiring to have a brief notice printed should get the material to Harvy Smith at lunch, and, facilities permitting, it will be ready for distribution at dinner or the evening meeting.

Change in Professional Associations (Rm. 320; meeting in 110 1st hour Wednesday)

To determine what sort of change ought perhaps to be promoted, we must find out what is going on. Would there be general interest in the SEHE circulating brief reports of meetings of interdisciplinary and/or activist groups? (eg. New University Conference, ACLS, Am. Acad. of Arts and Sciences; radical caucuses in Sociology or Mathematics, etc.).

Specifically:

- 1) Is there anyone at this meeting who was at, or could report on, the New University Conference?
- 2) What radical caucuses, anti-organizations, consortiums, interdisciplinary groups are you in? Would you be willing to write a brief letter saying what they are doing?

Reply to: Henry Clark, Anne Murphy, Chuck Vandersee, Paul Ward, Howard Reed, Jim Lowe, or Edward Ordman

List of Change-oriented Groups in or on Professional Assns.

For more information write: Albert Szymanski, Graduate Sociology Students Union, 203 Haskell Hall, 605 W. 115th Street, New York, N. Y. 10025.

JOURNALS AND NEWSLETTERS

We know that there are radical sociology journals and newsletters being published and we would like to give a listing including tables of contents in the summer issue. Please send a copy to us if you have one. Among those we know of but except for Columbia do not have are: Catalyst at Buffalo, Berkeley Journal of Sociology, Et. Al. at USC, The Lemming at UCLA, Rhubarb at Wisconsin, and three at Columbia, The Human Factor (sociology); Ripsaw (interdisciplinary) and Autonome (education).
