LANDMARK REPORT of Bowling Green & Warren County

Vol. II, No. 7 - Feb. 1982

STATE HISTORIC PRESERVATION FUNDING

Landmark Association Board of Directors member, Riley Handy, was one of several preservationists from across the state to testify before the House Appropriations and Revenue Subcommittee on February 15, 1982. Representing the Landmark Association, Mr. Handy expressed concern over the Heritage Division's 70% reduction in funding and staff reduction of 78%. (The Brown Administration had asked for a 20% across the board reduction at all levels of state government.)

Kentucky's Main Street Program has been extremely successful in generating private investment into economic development through historic preservation in downtown areas not only in Bowling Green, but in the other five Main Street Project cities as well. Ironically, Governor Brown has addressed the need for economic development in Kentucky's downtown areas.

Landmark asks that the membership voice its concern to Representatives Jody Richards and Billy Ray Smith and to Senator Frank Miller by calling (502) 564-8100 or by writing in care of Legislative Offices, Capitol Annex, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.
