SPRINGFIELD, KENTUCKY - A RESOURCE PROFILE

Springfield, the county seat of Washington County, is located in central Kentucky's Blue Grass Region, 57 miles southeast of Louisville, Kentucky; 54 miles southwest of Lexington, Kentucky; and 193 miles northwest of Knoxville, Tennessee. Springfield had an estimated 1988 population of 2,940 persons.

Washington County, with a land area of 301 square miles, had an estimated 1988 population of 10,400 persons.

The Economic Framework - The total number of Washington County residents employed in 1988 averaged 4,491. Manufacturing firms in the county reported 518 employees; wholesale and retail trade provided 456 jobs; 247 people were employed in service occupations; state and local government accounted for 393 employees; and contract construction firms provided 112 jobs.

Labor Supply - There is a current estimated labor supply of 12,808 persons available for industrial jobs in the labor market area. In addition, from 1990 through 1994, 8,602 young persons in the area will become 18 years of age and potentially available for industrial jobs.

Transportation - The nearest rail service is provided by CSX Transportation at Lebanon, 8 miles south of Springfield. "AAA"-rated highways (80,000-pound gross load limits) serving Springfield include U.S. Highway 150, Kentucky Route 555, and Kentucky Route 55 south of the city. Kentucky Route 55 north of Springfield is a "AA"-rated (62,000-pound gross load limit) trucking highway. The Blue Grass Parkway, 16 miles north of Springfield via Kentucky 555, is a controlled-access, multilane toll road connecting Lexington, Interstate 64 and Interstate 75, 54 miles east of Springfield, with Elizabethtown, Interstate 65, and the Western Kentucky Parkway, 43 miles west of Springfield. There are eleven common carrier trucking companies providing interstate and/or intrastate service to Springfield. The nearest scheduled commercial airline services are available at Bluegrass Airport, 50 miles northeast of Springfield near Lexington, and at Standiford Field, 62 miles northwest of Springfield near Louisville. Two small craft airports are also located near Springfield.

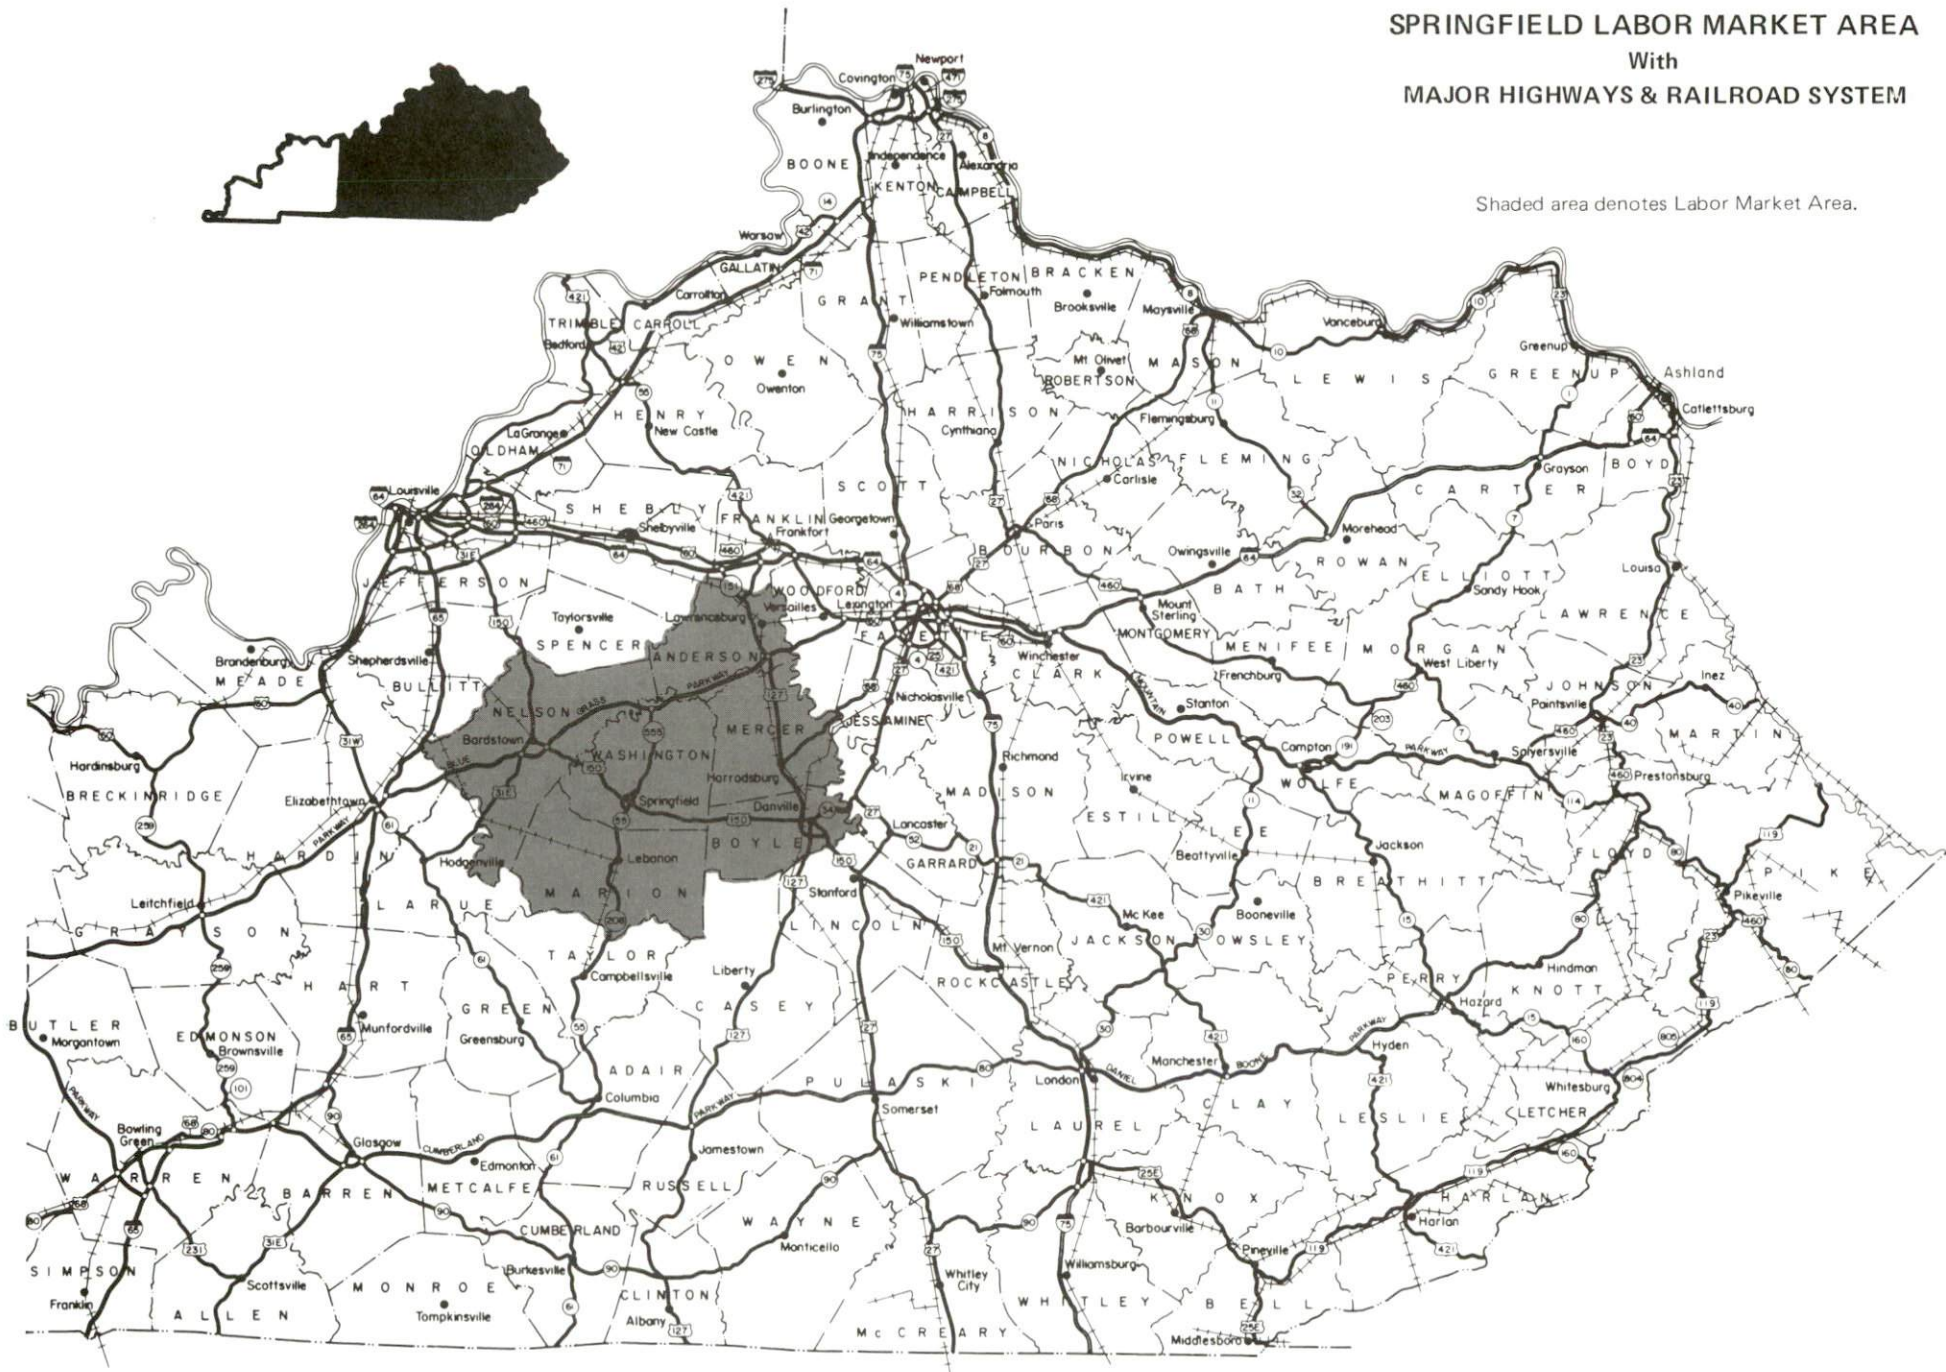

Power and Fuel - Kentucky Utilities Company provides electric power to Springfield and parts of Washington County. The remainder of Washington County is served by East Kentucky Power Cooperative through various rural electric cooperatives. Western Kentucky Gas Company, whose source of supply is Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, serves Springfield with natural gas.

Education - The Washington County Public School System provides primary and secondary education to students in Washington County. A parochial elementary school also operates in Springfield. St. Catharine College, an independent, two year, co-educational college, is located 3 miles west of Springfield. In addition, 14 institutions of higher learning are located within 60 miles of Springfield. The nearest state vocational-technical school is located at Elizabethtown, 43 miles west of Springfield. Vocational education is also available at the Marion County Area Vocational Education Center at Lebanon, 8 miles south of Springfield.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Structure

Springfield is served by a mayor and six council members. The mayor is elected to a four-year term and the council members serve two-year terms. Washington County is served by a county judge/executive and six magistrates elected to four-year terms.

Planning and Zoning

City agency - Springfield Independent Planning Commission

Zoning enforced - within city limits

Subdivision regulations enforced - Within corporate limits of Springfield

Mandatory state codes enforced - Kentucky Plumbing Code, National Electric Code, Kentucky Boiler Regulations and Standards, Kentucky Building Code (modeled after BOCA Code)

Local Fees and Licenses

The city of Springfield levies a one percent occupational license tax on wages, salaries, and commissions of individuals and on net profits of businesses. The city also levies a twenty-five dollar business regulatory license fee and an annual $50 unloading license fee. An insurance premium tax is levied based on six percent of the premium in the city, four percent in the county. Washington County also levies a business license fee, ranging from $25 to $150, based on the number of employees.

State and Local Property Taxes

All property in Kentucky, except items exempted by the state constitution, is taxed by the state. Property which also may be taxed by local jurisdictions includes land and buildings, finished goods inventories, automobiles, trucks, office furniture and office equipment. Local taxing jurisdictions in Kentucky include counties, cities, and school districts.

All property in Kentucky is assessed at 100 percent of fair cash value.

St. Catharine College

St. Catharine College, located 3 miles west of Springfield on U.S. Highway 150, is an independent, two-year, co-educational college founded in 1931 by the Dominican Sisters of Kentucky. St. Catharine is committed to providing a solid liberal arts education in a religious context and emphasizes the spiritual, ethical, intellectual, and social development of each student. The College's low student-faculty ratio allows students a maximum of individual attention both inside and outside the classroom.

St. Catharine College offers accredited programs in 25 areas of study, including agriculture, horticulture, and the liberal arts, and confers the Associate in Arts, Associate in Science, and Associate in Applied Science degrees, and a one-year certificate program in office occupations.

Many events and cultural activities are open to the community, including concerts, art exhibits and fairs, sporting events such as basketball games, guest speaker appearances, the annual Peace with Justice Week programs, Homecoming celebrations, convocations, various professional seminars, and continuing education classes.

Vocational Training

Vocational training is available at both the state vocational-technical schools and the area vocational education centers. The state vocational-technical schools are post-secondary institutions. The area vocational education centers are designed to supplement the curriculum of high school students. Both the state vocational-technical schools and the area vocational education centers offer evening courses to enable working adults to upgrade current job skills.

Arrangements can be made to provide training in the specific production skills required by an industrial plant. Instruction may be conducted either in the vocational school or in the industrial plant, depending upon the desired arrangement and the availability of special equipment.

Bluegrass State Skills Corporation

The Bluegrass State Skills Corporation, an independent public corporation created and funded by the Kentucky General Assembly, provides programs of skills training to meet the needs of business and industry from entry level to advanced training, and from upgrading present employees to retraining experienced workers.

The Bluegrass State Skills Corporation is the primary source for skills training assistance for a new or existing company. The Corporation works in partnership with other employment and job training resources and programs, as well as Kentucky's economic development activities, to package a program customized to meet the specific needs of a company.

RECREATION

Local

A wide range of public recreational facilities and events are available at Springfield. The city maintains two excellent parks - Idle Hour Park and Springfield Swimming Pool Park. Idle Hour Park features 4 tennis courts; 2 baseball diamonds; a softball diamond; basketball, volleyball, croquet, and shuffleboard courts; horseshoe pits; a tot lot; and a picnic area with three shelters and a concession stand. Features at Springfield Swimming Pool Park include the community pool; basketball courts; a playground; and a picnic area. Three additional tennis courts are located on the grounds of the Washington County schools.

The Washington County Sorghum Festival is Springfield's largest recreational event. Held annually on the first weekend of October, the festival honors Washington County's sorghum producers and offers a variety of activities for the entire family. The festival includes a fireworks display, a hot air balloon race, contests, entertainment, booths, arts and crafts, a parade, an antique car show, and preparation and serving of a 10-foot pizza and a 10-foot biscuit with sorghum and butter.

Many events at St. Catharine College are open to the public. These include concerts, art exhibits, annual performances by the Actors Theatre of Louisville, various professional seminars, and the annual Hofstetter Peace with Justice Lecture.

Lincoln Homestead State Park, 5 miles north of Springfield, is a 153-acre park on land settled by Abraham Lincoln's family. The actual building in which Nancy Hanks, mother of President Lincoln, lived during her courtship with Thomas Lincoln is preserved here as well as a replica of the 1782 cabin where Thomas Lincoln lived as a boy. The park also has a museum, a gift shop, a picnic area, and an 18-hole championship golf course.

Willisburg Lake, an attractive fishing and boating lake of about 160 acres, is located 10 miles north of Springfield on Kentucky Route 555. Facilities for boat rentals and trailer camping are available.
