GMA PRESENTS DOVE AWARDS SEPT. 30

By Joan Melloan

The 1974 Dove Awards, presented by the Gospel Music Association for excellence in the field of gospel music, were announced September 30 from the stage of the new Grand Ole Opry House in Nashville, Tennessee.

The gala evening began with an overture by the Dove Awards Orchestra. The orchestra, conducted by Bill Walker, presented a medley of the songs nominated for "Gospel Song of the Year." Brock Speer, GMA president, welcomed the large crowd of more than 1,500 gospel music performers and fans. Rev. Millard

Reed, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Nashville, gave the invocation.

Speer then introduced the Rev. Bob Harrington of New Orleans, Louisiana. Better known as the "Chaplain of Bourbon Street", Rev. Harrington served as emcee for the two-hour awards program.

First announced winner of the evening was Don Butler of Nashville, Tenn., for writing the "Best Backliner Notes of a Gospel Record Album." He penned the backliner of the "Blackwood Brothers On

Hart County GMA Plans Family Night

A gospel singing with the emphasis on families is coming up on November 16 at the Hart County High School. The theme of "Family Night" is in keeping with the idea that gospel music is music for the entire family.

Numerous door prizes will be given in recognition of such things as largest family in attendance, couple married the longest, and many more.

Talent for the singing has not been confirmed at press time although a number of the top groups in Southern Kentucky are expected to be on the program.

The Hart County GMA is sponsoring this concert as an event where families will be offered the opportunity to enjoy an evening together. An informal atmosphere will be created with the audience being able to sit around tables with their refreshments.

Be sure to take advantage of this opportunity for an evening of family enjoyment. The program will begin at 7:00 P.M.

Radiothon Raises Over $400

The Hart County Gospel Music Association's March of Dimes Radiothon raised an unofficial total of $405.04. The program was held on October 17 at the

From The Editor

By Johnny Melloan

A lot of good things are happening in gospel music. Many of these happenings are things that you probably never thought about and they may seem to be somewhat insignificant. But they have a great deal of importance because they are helping to give gospel music more recognition, as well as respect, among the general public.

During the recent Dove Awards Presentations there were many things which gave evidence to the progress which has been made in gospel music. A full orchestra furnished the background music for the ceremonies. Special sets were used on the stage of the new Opry House which had been designed especially for the Dove Awards.

James Blackwood and Brock Speer expressed the sentiments which were no doubt felt by many of their contemporaries. Blackwood spoke of his early background in gospel music when it was found only in small, rural churches. He expressed the pride he felt because gospel music was now also heard in the world's most impressive auditoriums. Speer made the simple, but powerful statement, "Our music is as good as anybody's." You had to feel good when men such as these, who had grown with gospel music from it's most humble beginnings, displayed their feelings of satisfaction at the progress made by gospel music.

Another good thing occurred early last month as many states, including Kentucky, joined in celebrating "Gospel Music Week." This is a major event in that it offers a special week in which to recognize the contributions of gospel music to the American public. As "Gospel Music Week" grows in prominence in the next few years it will create a time when a vast variety of special events can be undertaken to promote the growth of gospel music. Norman Odum, chairman of the Special Projects Committee of the Gospel Music Association, has done a great deal of work to secure proclamations in each state as well as a "National Gospel Music Week."

You may wonder why these things are important. The main idea is that gospel music is reaching the point where it can quit apologizing for it's inadequacies and be proud of it's achievements.

Gospel music is better than ever. Tell that to someone.

By Donna Stanton

"And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, 'All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.'" (St. Matthew 28: 18 - 20).

Sssh! The Good News of Jesus Christ is a secret. Don't tell a single soul because they might laugh at you. Or worse yet -- they might want it too! Just keep it hid in some dark corner of your life and never let it show.

According to an old legend, when Christ ascended into Heaven the angels asked Him what He planned now in order to get the message out to the multitudes on earth. the Lord answered. "I have left eleven disciples to whom I have given the Commission to go and make disciples of all nations." Immediately one of the angels soberly asked, "But suppose they fail -- what then?" And Jesus replied, "I have no other plans."

Jesus told his disciples (that means us, too) to "teach all nations." It is the duty of every Christian to tell others about Christ. Did I say "duty"? It's a privilege!

The joy of salvation is so wonderful we should want to pass it on. We should shout it from the mountaintops, broadcast it over the airwaves, reflect it in our daily lives.

But witnessing isn't always easy, you say. Nowhere do we have the promise that it would be. The Devil is "running to and fro, seeking whom he may devour" and he is always ready to throw an obstacle in our path.

The times and the society we live in seems wicked and unresponsive to the Gospel. "Don't long for the 'the good old days', for you don't know whether they were any better than these!" (Ecclesiastes 7: 10)

It seems that even in Solomon's day, there were people unwilling to live in "modern times." The past is gone and we can't change it. There is a vast need in our society now. We must speak to the people in their language because the Gospel is meant to be understood by everyone. Let's stop squabbling and get on with it.

And when we think we've reached the end of our strength and our faith is almost gone, we have this promise to hold on to: "And, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world..!"
