The following are copies of letters written by an early Simpson County, Kentucky family to a relative back in Germany and which describe the rigors of early Kentucky life as experienced by an immigrant family.

The letters were written partly in Old German and partly in Dutch. A translation has been made from the Old German--almost a literal translation--so as to preserve the manner of speech.

The letters were kept by the relative and brought with him when he later emigrated. The originals are in the possession of Mrs. Ruth Lovelady of 1429 Park Street, Bowling Green, Ky., a descendant. The Society thanks her for permission to reproduce these letters.

Dear Friends:

We had a bad summer. I have had the fever for 5 months and I am better, but a friend of ours who comes here all the time had it also for a long time. He is healthy now. Fellina, she had it 3 times. It costs us a lot of money, and we could not make money the whole summer.

Now it is a little better. We make enough money that we can live good. I wanted to go farther but we don't have the money, so we have to stay here. The land is bad through the winter.

We think Fellina to go to Lusville. I would like to know what is with the railroad if they are working on it again, but not Fallina. She always want to go to her little daughter. She wants to travel, knows the . . . and other people . . . the summer, and if all animals are dead. The flour costs 9, . . the . . . that is all.

Please be so good and answer right away. I want to finish my writing, and many greetings and great all friends and how they are.

/s/ Daniel Hofnagel

Franklin, May 4, 1855

Dear Friend and wife:

We received your letter and learned from it that you are bad off. We are healthy and well off. If you want to come I will send you $10, but you have to write me everything, house number and the name of the . . . , otherwise it hard to mail money.

The mail will not take the responsibility.

When you get to bollin gruen take the Moore wagon if we are not there. It will run 2 times a week with some payment. If that is not possible you have to try to get her. The railroad will start in July or August.

Other news about us you will see when you get here.

your friend,

/s/ Franz Recker

Franklin, Ky. May 14, 1855

Dear Friend and wife:

We received your letter in the best of health and see that you are healthy also and would like to come over here. Therefore, I will mail you $13.00. I think that will get you to Booiling gruen and if you take the carriage to Franklin we will think you will make it. There will be an opportunity to get a carriage which will bring everything or otherwise we will send it by Gilbert and get you together with him. You will have no trouble, and I have no time to write.

yours,

/s/ Hofnagel

Hassville, 9 November 1856

Dear friend and wife:

We are healthy and are hoping you are the same. We knew that there is work here and Patrick started to work right away at home and makes 1 dollar a day. He starts in the morning at 9 and lets up when the sun goes down. There is other work here for $1.25 but it was too far to walk. The water is no good. We pay $6.00 for house rent, house, room and basement finished. Potatoes cost 50¢ a bushel. They are good to eat. I can't write anything now. The time is too short. There is enough work here to wash, but I don't want to do that. I am not in the mood.

We want to go out of town Sunday to see the railroad, then I will write in a few days. Johan . . . that there is money and send it in a letter which I will receive soon. I send greetings to all from the bottom of my heart . . . will send Liesje a nice . . .

Dear Mammy,

King Fraser came to our cabin yesterday and staid all night with us. He brought us beet and onion seed and gave me a needle and some flax seed. We came here because Tolliver hired Sam to live on the Ball land and hold it. One of our horses died at Cumberland Gap, and Sam sold the other to a man for some ammunition and food, and we made a boat and came down the river to the Fort and then walked here and put up a log cabin. We rowed down the river in the night and laid by in the day, and we walked three or four nights pretty near all night. We hear Mr. Tolliver is going to send some people out here, and I wish that he would, as it is lomesome when Sam is gone.

We have about two or three acres cleared and planted in corn and pumpkins and we have enough venzion dried to last for a year. My yellow linsey dress is nearly worn out, but the cottonade is not. Sam made me a buck-skin apron.

There are folks about twelve miles from us on Big Barren River, and a Mr. McFadden who was hunting stray horses, stayed all night with us about a month ago. He begged us to come up where he lived and said it was not safe for us here. But we don'e feel afraid if it was not so lomesome. King said that he was going to meet some surveyors and hunt for some military land.

Sometimes I cry about losing Bounce but Sam says that he knows that the Ingin that stuck a tomahawk into Bounce won't ever kill another dog for he put a bullet into his hide. They were here about one whole day, whooping and hollering about, tbut they were gone great cowards.

Sam says that if Tolliver will come out here next year we will go back on a visit. Tell everybody howdy and if you see any one coming here write me and send me somethings. I can get them at McFadden's.

Your affectionate daughter,

DAPHNE"

The above letter written about this time, on a scrap of paper apparently torn from the lining of a box or trunk, will give the reader a personal and close-up view of the perils and manner of living in these pioneer days. The writer of the letter, Mrs. Daphne Tiller, and her husband floated down the Cumberland River from near Cumberland Gap to the Fort at Nashville. From thence they walked up "The Cumberland Trace" until they reached WARREN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, where they settled on Gasper River.

That he was born in Lunenburg County, Virginia. That he was drafted for 18 months under Capt. Buckner Stith, that he was 17 years old [b. ca. 1760] and cannot now remember the month nor even the year in which he entered the service, that he served under Capt. Stith from Lunenburg County to Cabin Point, a little town on the waters of the James river and about 200 miles from Lunenburg County, that there Col. David Marryweathers took command of his company. Thence they marched to Norfolk thence, they crossed James river at James Town, and thence to Yorktown where they found General Washington's army. He states that they arrived in Yorktown two or three months before the surrender of Cornwallis and continued there until the surrender. He states that after the surrender he with his company marched with the prisoners to Fredricksburg. His term of service, 18 months, being now at an end, he received a written discharge from his Capt. which he brought with him to Kentucky, but which was unfortunately destroyed. He further states that he knows of no person by whom he could prove service and that he has documentary evidence of the same..

The History of the Keysburg Baptist Church.

In the early 1800's the Union Church at Keysburg Kentucky was organized, consisting of the Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian; collectively. Services were held alternately by the denominations.

In the month of July, in the year of our Lord, Eighteen hundred and twenty-six, the Baptist Church of Keysburg Kentucky was constituted.

The Constitution was drawn up by Rueben Ross, Sugg Fort, S.W. Boren, John Wilson and Brethren R. Linsley, Hillsback, H.W.B. Smith and James Grigsby. The Articles of Faith were adopted.

The first pastor of the church was Rev. Jack Wilson from 1825-to 1829.

The Keysburg Baptist Church joined the Bethel Baptist Association in 1827. The first time the Keysburg Church hosted the annual meeting of the Association was in 1847 and again in 1862.

At the commencement of the year 1847 under the pastorate of Rev. W.S. Baldry the questions of a new meeting house was agitated in the community in which the Church united and aided in the erection of the House in which the Church now holds her meetings.

The Church continued prosperous during the Pastorate of Rev. Baldry, (1838-1851), and during the first ten years of the Pastorate of Rev. F.C. Plaster. At which time the war between the North and the South swept over our section and left its sad effects upon the Church and community taking many of the best young men to war and to their grave.

In September of 1879, a great Revival was held at the Church with the Evangelist Rev. J.G. Kendall and J.C. Porter. 73 members were added to the Church at this time.

In 1889, the Methodist built a new Church building in the community and discontinued the services with us. Shortly after this, the Presbyterians also discontinued their services here. Thereby, the Baptist became sole owners of the Church building.

The Church Continued her regular meetings of Worship one Sabbath a month with business sessions Saturday afternoon.

For sometime after this, nothing of historical interest occurred.

In 1941 the Church was wired for electricity and ceiling lights were installed in the Church building, replacing the kerosene lights that were used.

In 1947 the Church began having services two Sabbaths a month, instead of the previous one.

In 1952 gas heat was installed in the building.

In 1955 four new Sunday School rooms were built. Also in 1955 we began having full-time services.

In 1957, new hard-wood floors were laid in the Church auditorium, a new choir was built and the interior of the Church was re-decorated.

In 1961, new entrance doors to the Church were installed, and the wood-work in the Church was painted white.

We are a member of the Southern Baptist Convention among thirty-three thousand co-operating Baptist Churches.

The Keysburg Baptist Church is 137 years old, it being one of the oldest Baptist Churches in Kentucky.

The Church has had many trials and forbearances, but by the Love of God, and the faith and prayers of many, she has withstood these: and continues to worship together in unity to witness to the loss of our community.

Auburn In The Long Ago

"Uncle Winkfield Hall.

One of the most picturesque and unusual personalities in or around Auburn in my boyhood was Uncle Winkfield Hall. He was a farmer and a good one. He had two fine outstanding, upright sons, Monroe and Scott. "Uncle Wink," could not read or write, but was a good businessman and very prosperous. He grew up under the old dispensation and was always too busy to be bothered. He was a Christian man, but formed a habit of using cuss words in boyhood and they would just slip out. He never in his heart or mind was profane. He was a golden-hearted man. I worked on his farm (his and son Scott's) for three summers and learned to know, appreciate and love him. He rode "Dan," his black horse everywhere he went. One day I was hoeing weeds in the garden, he spied me and came out. We had a heart-to-heart talk. He was a man of sterling character and his word was his bond. During that talk he said, "Henry, folks say I cuss. Anyone who says that tells a damn lie," and he went on telling about something else, never for an instant realizing what he had said. "Miss Nan," his second wife, I knew well and she was a fine woman. I never knew his first wife, who was the mother of these sons.

They tell this story on "Uncle Wink". When he was courting Miss Nan, she remarked to him, "Mr. Hall, you are no spring chicken," to which he replied as only he could or would, "I God, madam, you ain't no fillie." Anyway, he won her, and they were very congenial and happy. Monroe Hall married a sister of Col. Church Blakey, and they had three sons, Whitsett, Scott and Church. Whitsett and Scott are now living near Auburn and are prosperous farmers and own some of the finest land in Logan County. Church has been dead many years. Their home was on the Bowling Green pike, about one-half mile from town. Scott, Sr., the youngest of "Uncle Wink's" sons, lived with his father, about three or four miles out. He had a fine wife and his children were daughters. He and his wife were mighty nice to me. I worked on the farm during three summers and look back on it as one of the outstanding experiences of my boyhood. Mr. Scott Hall was musical and so was his wife. Mr. Scott Hall was a philosopher as well as a farmer. I said one day to him, "Mr. Hall, it is a shame for these negro men (he employed several) to work so hard all week and then spend their money riding the train on Sunday excursions. He said, "Henry, it is a real blessing, for if they did not spend it, they would not hit a lick of work the next week."

Mr. Scott Hall worked right along with his hired men and took the lead. He could get more work done in a day than anyone I have ever seen on a farm. I gave him the best I had and learned much from him. This father and two sons were prosperous farmers and splendid Christian men.

Yours sincerely,

THE SAMUEL GOODMAN STORY

The first record of Samuel Goodman in Warren County, Kentucky is his marriage to Elizabeth (Betsey) Davis on April 4, 1800. Her security was listed as John Davis--perhaps her father. The parents of Samuel are unknown. The 1800 Census of Kentucky does list two Goodmans in Barren County- John and Jesse (one of them may have been his father), as well as Samuel in Warren County. The Warren Co, Ky Tax List records that Samuel was a taxpayer from 1800-1813. The 1810 Warren Census shows Samuel in the 26-45 age group (perhaps 30-35 then), as well as his wife. It also shows that they had 4 sons (under 10) and 2 daughters (under 10). Those two girls were Priscilla and Minerva but the names of the sons are unknown. It is possible that a third daughter (Elizabeth) was born to them in 1812.

Samuel and family did live in Warren County but in that northern part that was later cut off into Edmonson County (date of formation - 1825). That area is now the Southern part of Edmonson, just south of Green River.

A very interesting but sad story about this family has been passed down from generation to generation. "One day Indians came and began to attack. The father and mother sent the two little girls out the back way and told them to go to the river (Nolin or Green?) where they would be safe. Meanwhile, the Indians had killed (or carried off) the parents and the rest of the family. The two girls (ages 6&7) had found safety and were soon discovered, but were so frightened they could hardly remember their names".

This legend or family tradition- not unlike many other pioneer stories, must contain at least some truth or fact. My own research into this seems to verify the story. The October 1819 Warren County Court appointed guardians for two Goodman girls- "Court names Ephraim Blackford guardian of Minerva Goodman, 12 year old daughter of Samuel Goodman -deceased, till she reaches 18" and also- "Court names Samuel Cherry the guardian of Elizabeth Goodman, 7 years old". A later Warren County Court ordered that "Job Wilkerson to be guardian of Priscilla Goodman daughter of Elizabeth Goodman, deceased?". The fact that the court was unsure of Mrs. Goodman's death, reflects the idea that she may have been carried away by the Indians. Still another fact proves the untimely death of Samuel Goodman was his estate and inventory settlement recorded in the July 1813 Court Order Book.

Priscilla and sister Minerva did survive. William Whalin married Priscilla and they reared a large family (see group sheet), as did her sister Minerva- who married Richard Michael Raymer (my g.g. grandfather). Both sisters live to old age but they never forgot that sad story of their parents. Priscilla passed down the story to her great grandson, who would later be my next door neighbor! Minerva handed down the facts to her grandson-Samuel J. Raymer, my grandfather! I obtained the story from a few scraps of paper he had written it on, many years later. How strange it is that this story (which happened 170 years ago) would be preserved for us by being written on those scraps of paper!

CAMPBELL

James Campbell, Sr., who married Jane Sample, was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, on December 25, 1754, or as he put it when he applied for a Revolutionary War pension, he was born "on Christmas Day before Braddock's defeat." It is fitting that a person who remembered an event leading to the eventual establishment of the United States with more clarity than he remembered his birth year should have served in the American Revolution. (The Bureau of Pensions, Washington, D.C., lists his birthdate as December 25, 1752.) Information regarding his service was furnished for DAR and SAR membership by descendants. James is listed in the DAR Patriot Index, 1966, on page 111, in the Kentucky Pension Roll, 1835. His war claim was number S-30310. One of the earliest known DAR applications was by Lou Olleman, who mentioned a family Bible record as proof of family lines. Her relatives, who used her application as base data, do not know where the Bible is now. Lou Clemons Manchester, DAR #631754, lists the following as James's service record:

Date of Enlistment	Length of Service	Rank	Officers under whom served
1775 or 1776	3 mo.	Pvt.	Capt. Joseph Nelson, Shelby, N.C.
?	2 mo.	Indian Spy	Capt. James Hubbard, Col. John Sevier
1780	2 mo.	Pvt.	Capt. Christopher Taylor Col. John Sevier
1780	2 mo.	Pvt.	Capt. Davis Col. Sevier

He was "out against" both the Chicamauga and Cherokee Indians and was in the Battle of King's Mountain. At the time of the American Revolution, the service of James Campbell, Sr. was in the North Carolina line and his residence was in the section of North Carolina which later became Washington County, Tennessee.

Records indicate that James Campbell's father was another James Campbell and that his mother was named Mary. Two family researchers have separately reached the conclusion that he descended from the Earl of Argyll of Scotland, but they are researching further to verify their current conclusion.

Jane Sample Campbell was the daughter of Moses Sample, who was the son of Samuel Sample. Jane's mother was Ruth Woods, the daughter of William Woods. Two of Jane and James Campbell's children are named Ruth and Moses.

Perrin's History of Kentucky, 1887, records that James Campbell, Sr., was a soldier of the American Revolution, one of the first settlers of East Tennessee, and an early pioneer of Monroe County, Kentucky. Apparently James migrated to Barren County (in the section which later became Monroe County) by way of Warren County, since his oldest daughter, Elizabeth, married Thomas Rasdell in Warren County on October 9, 1799; James gave his consent. The Campbell homestead is supposed to have been two miles north of Fountain Run. In the 1810 census of Barren County, James Campbell is found with one male 16-26, one male over 45, one female under 10, two females 10-16, one female 16-26, and one female over 45 years old. Jane Campbell having died in 1818, the 1820 census of Monroe County lists James with one male over 45 and one female 16-26. He is also listed in the 1830 census but died about 1840. The burial sites of Jane and James Campbell are unknown, but they probably were buried on their farm.

Two of Jane and James Campbell's children married children of Benjamin, Sr., and Sarah Gray Downing. Benjamin Downing, Jr., and Isabella (Ibbie) Campbell had a marriage bond issued in Barren County, Kentucky, November 28, 1811. They lived and are buried on the farm bought by Sarah Gray Downing in 1807 and added to by family members through the years. The farm is now owned by Jimmie Celsor. Sophia Downing and James Campbell, Jr., married in Barren County, March 27, 1813. They were still in Monroe County, Kentucky in the 1820 census, but sometime after that time, they moved to Missouri. Whereas Virginia is known as the Mother of Kentucky, Kentucky is referred to by some writers as the Mother of Missouri because so many Kentucky residents moved to Missouri about the time of her achieving statehood in 1821. James, Jr., died in Cole County, Missouri, September 26, 1879.

FORGOTTEN MEN.

Moss-grown gravestones tilt, lean... fall down, in this old burying-ground chiseled names, dates...erased by wind and storm.
 Once saplings, these huge gnarled trees form quiet shadows across untended graves.
 The old Church stands in crumbling dignity
 a silent sentinel, ever on guard.

In this proud field, rest hardy Pioneers:
 the dreamers, do-ers...the brave and strong...
 widows, orphans, babes...the weak, halt, lame.
 Lives knowing mostly, hard hours of toil.
 Tears, with little ease or joy, mixed-in.
 Homes rose out of the wilderness...for a Future.
 Now sleeping in the cold deeps of earth
 enmeshed, caught there in Time's warp, these once-vital bones moulder...lie forgotten!

The Seasons in Nature's constant flow...
 without will or guile,
 come and go...come and go...
 Spring's budding...Winter's snow.
 Pause then, traveler! Reflect awhile!

???????????? GENEALOGICAL QUERIES ?????????????

Would like any information on CHARLES QUIGLEY REYNOLDS born July 22, 1861 and died October 22, 1926. He married first NANCY TIBBS October 23, 1880 in Warren Co. with MARION TIBBS and J.B. POTTER presence. The only names the family can give me is Aunt Dice, Uncle Chap, Aunt Pop (they think her name was MARY GREEN). On the 1880 census PATTY A. REYNOLDS was listed with her son CHARLES Q.

Can find nothing on NANCY TIBBS REYNOLDS except marriage bond. Feel she may be buried around the Middle Bridge Road area. She died before June 1889 (Iguess) because Charles married the second time then. Ramona Bobbitt, 2718 Smallhouse Road, Bowling Green, Kentucky 42101 or phone 843-6918
