VOL. 4, No. 4

Oct., Nov., Dec., 1982

The following Item is from a collection of papers owned by Mr. William Staples, of Hopkinsville. It is unknown who prepared this, nor when it was done. However, it has so much information that we are reprinting it in the hope that it may be of benefit to some of our members. The arrangement is somewhat unusual, since it starts with the last generation under study and goes backward to the oldest known generation. It is not known how much of this is proven, but it may supply a starting point for further research.

The following is the last item on the Welborn family in the collection of Mr. Wm. Staples.

On Board the Will Kyle
Sept. 19th, 1880

Dear Folks at Home:

I thought I would write you a few lines this Sabbath eve as I had nothing else to do and would like to hear from home as soon as possible.

Well, we got on the steamer Evansville on the night of the 15th inst., at 12:00 P.M. Got to the city of Evansville Thursday eve at 5 o'clock. While going through the lock at Spottsville some 20 miles back, Tommie G brought around Jackie Roll. We didn't pass but a few words with them. T.G. said Jake told him that he was going to marry this month, to one of the foremost ladys in Spottsville. I suppose he is a miner there.

While there Mr. Davis's friend and cousin, Mr. P. Jones, who is pilot on the Evansville came 'round and Mr. D. introduced him to us (Lou and I). He (Mr. Jones) invited us to come go up in the pilot house with him. We did so and had such a pleasant time -- 'tis so nice up there can see as far as your eyes will let you. We stayed up there till we got to Evansville, there we left him. He thanked us very much for our company. Seems to be a very pleasant man. Said he thought I favored his old sweetheart Molly Sharp. Oh we enjoyed staying up in their very much.

We got on board here, the Idlewild, a steamer running from Evansville to Cairo. We got there about 7 P.M. then got on this steamer. She lay at Cairo all night putting on freight, etc. We like to have not gotten a berth on here -- so crowded, but a young man who was going to the same point that we were, gave us up his room. I've heard several persons say they never saw a boat so loaded as this one is. 'Tis over a hundred feet long and has on board about $15,000 worth of freight, etc. There is about 200 new buggies-- all put on at Cairo, and over 1,000 bbls. of flour. Oh, she looks like a good sized town herself. She aims to get to Memphis this eve about 7 o'clock. We are now about 50 miles of there, sailing down the Mississippi stream pretty rapidly. I thought I would have this mailed at M. when we get there this eve. The boats all have been making slow time -- have so many stopping places and now and then get on a sand bar. The waters are very shallow -- often not more than 8 or 8½ ft. deep. Then she "goes slow". I heard the Captain say a while ago that we would lie over at Memphis tonight. They say there is a bad place in the river down below a few miles. I expect that is his object in staying there. If that's the case we wont get to Friar's Point before Mon. night and then will have 28 miles to travel by land. So you see it's going to take us till Wednesday or thereabouts to get us to our place of destination.

I'm getting awful tired of living this way so long. Though we've been fairing sumptuously every day since we left. Have just everything you can think of (nearly) that's good to eat. We are all gaining flesh, having nothing much else to do but eat and sleep, but I'm getting tire of both. So much of it.

I'm now sitting down at the lower end of the boat, on a large cushioned chair, by the side of a fine piano. Here comes a girl and boy now for a play. Yes, they are singing "In the Sweet By and By". Oh, I'm feeling so sad now. When I think how far we are drifting from our dear old home and the loved ones there. I'll go to our room, Lou wants to write some. And now may God bless you all. Write soon to your dear sister and child, or to us,

Yours lovingly,
Mattie Welborn

QUERY: Martha Anne Wray, b. 1827, m. Elijah Whitson in Wilson Co., Tenn., in Dec. 1845; by 1850 they were in Locan Co., Ky., along with a kinsman, Willis Wray; in April, 1860, she remarried to William Green, in Logan Co; in 1870 she was living next to kinsman, Willis Wray, in Muhlenberg Co. =====

CAN YOU HELP? Mrs. Terra W. Towle, 42383 Proctor Rd., Canton, Mich., 48188, is a new member, who apparently is related to about half of Muhlenberg County. Those of you who are working on the following families should get in touch with her and find out just how you can help her, or she can help you: Cash, Forrester/Forrestor, Gossett, Green, Groves, Jarvis, Loney, Mercer, Metheny, Moore, Randolph, Stewart/Stuart, Tyson/Tice/Tyce/Tisen/Tison, Uzzel, Vincent/Vinbon. We know you are out there, so get busy!

INFORMATION NEEDED: The July issue of The Heritage, addressed to Willard G. Laster, Jr., a long-time member of the Society, at 6521 W. Ebinger Drive, Niles, Ill., was returned with a notation "Not deliverable as addressed." All other mail had been sent to that address with no problems. An attempt to reach Mr. Laster by telephone brought the information that the phone had been disconnected. Can anyone tell us the present whereabouts of this member? We would like for him to continue receiving the copies of The Heritage for which he has paid.

Those members who were in attendance at the July meeting of the Society heard the good news that The Harbin Memorial Library is to be given $5,000.00 with which to add to its genealogical collection. With good luck many new books will have been ordered by the time this reaches you, also some additional microfilm copies of census records. Both the Greenville and Central City Libraries have very good research collections, but this should add greatly for those climbing their family trees.

Reminder: If you write someone for information or help in any form, please be sure to include a self-addressed envelope, stamped, for use in replying, otherwise you may not get a reply. With postage rates and paper supplies being as high as they are, it is unfair to expect others to bear the expense of helping you. And, without such an envelope, your request may go immediately into a waste basket!

The following is one of many family sketches prepared by Mr. Otto A. Rothert as a preliminary to the publication of his "A History of Muhlenberg County." This article originally appeared in The Muhlenberg Sentinel, Dec. 9, 1910.

SKETCH OF THE RUSSELL FAMILY

A Distinguished People Once Prominent in Muhlenberg's Affairs.

Greenville was founded in the spring of 1799 by Colonel and Mrs. Wm. Campbell. Mrs. Campbell was a daughter of Gen. Wm. Russell, of Revolutionary fame. Two of her brothers, John C Russell and Samuel Russell, were also identified with the establishing and building of the new town.

I shall not attempt to give the names of all who belong to the Gen. Wm. Russell family, but shall confine this sketch to the three of his children and those of their descendants who were more or less connected with the history of Muhlenberg County.

Gen. Wm. Russell was born in 1735 and died in Virginia in 1793. He took a leading part in the battles of Brandywine, Monmouth and Yorktown, and was a commander in the French and Indian War. He also fought in the battle of King's Mountain, where he helped defeat the British on October 7, 1780. This battle, fought in North Carolina, was "the turning in the tide of success that terminated the Revolution."

Gen. Wm. Russell's first wife was Tabitha Adams; his second wife was Mrs. Elizabeth Henry Campbell, who was a sister to Patrick Henry and the widow of Gen. Wm. Campbell, the hero of King's Mountain. Gen. Wm. Russell was the father of a large family, all of whom were distinguished people. Russellville, Ky., is so named after his second son, Col. Wm. Russell, who was born in 1758 and died in 1825.

The three children of Gen. Wm. Russell and his wife, Tabitha Adams Russell, who located in Muhlenberg county were:

I Mrs. Tabitha A. Campbell

II. John Coates Russell.

III. Samuel Russell.

I. Mrs. Tabitha A. Campbell.

Tabitha A Russell, before coming to Kentucky, married Col. Wm. Campbell, the son of Patrick Campbell, who was a cousin to Gen. Wm. Campbell, of King's Mountain fame.

In 1795, or, according to one version, in 1797, Col. and Mrs. Campbell and their five children settled on a part of the military land granted to Gen. Wm. Russell in the Green river country of Kentucky, embracing the ground on which the city of Greenville is now built. They and their companions first located on the site of an old Indian camp and called their new home Caney Station. This historic spot is situated one mile west of Greenville Illinois Central depot. In June 1799 this colony moved about a mile and a half in a southeasterly direction to where it had been decided that the court house was to be built, and there began the present town of Greenville, of which Col. Wm. Campbell is the "Father" and his wife, Mrs. Tabitha A. Campbell is the "Mother."

Four daughters and one son had been born to Col. and Mrs. Campbell before coming to what is now Muhlenberg county. Col. Wm. Campbell died in 1800, at the age of forty-two, in Lexington where he had gone for medical treatment. His widow continued to live in Greenville, and, being a woman of education and means, gave their children many advantages. Mrs. Campbell was born in 1764 and died in Greenville in ____.

Their only son died in youth. Their oldest daughter, Elizabeth (or Mary Elizabeth), became the first wife of Elder Barton W. Stone, who was then beginning his great evangelistic work in Kentucky. Z. F. Smith, the historian, shows that in his doctrine Elder Stone was the forerunner of Dr. Alexander Campbell, the founder of the Christian church. Each of the three other daughters of Col. and Mrs. Campbell married an officer of the War of 1812: Tabitha R. to Captain Alney McLean; Anna S. to Lieutenant Charles Fox Wing and Mary C. to Lieutenant Ephraim McLean Brank, all of whom were leading men in Western Kentucky and a great credit to Muhlenberg county, where they lived and died.

STONE

Elizabeth Campbell became the first wife of Elder Barton W. Stone on July 2, 1801. She died on May 30, 1810, leaving no children. Elder Barton W. Stone was born in Maryland Dec. 24, 1772 and died in Missouri on Nov. 9, 1844. He is buried at Jacksonville, Illinois, where he resided with his second wife and five children.

MCLEAN

Tabitha R. Campbell was born Jan. 29, 1785, and died in Greenville Feb. 17, 1850. She married Judge Alney McLean, who was born in North Carolina, May, 1779 and died in Greenville on Dec. 31, 1841. Alney McLean was a son of Ephraim McLean, and his wife, Elizabeth Davidson. Judge and Mrs. McLean were the parents of ten children:

1. Mary Short, who married Lewis Reno.
2. Charles W. Short, who married Sue Reno.
3. Lucy Short, who married Sam J. Lands
4. Minnie Short, who married J.J. Kahn. (Note: Should be "I. J.")

Mrs. Lucy Wing Short's second husband was Dr. W. H. Yost. No children by her second marriage.

4. Lucillia Wing, married Prof. James K. Patterson, formerly of Greenville but now of Lexington. Their only son, Wm. A. Patterson, died in ____.

3. Dr. E. B. Yost, who married Bertha Grimes. No children.

II. John Coates Russell.

John C. Russell and his family were identified with the early upbuilding of Greenville, but they were not represented in the county after the Civil War. The name of John C. Russell, who, in 1808, moved three miles southeast of Greenville into what is now the Pleasant Hill neighborhood, is perpetuated in the traditions of the Russell old Field, which, in the forties became the Russell Race Track and which today is divided into a number of up to date farms, each being referred to as a part of "the Old Russell Survey." In 1807-09 John C. Russell was a member of the State legislature.

John C. Russell, son of Gen. Wm. Russell, was born in 1769, came to Muhlenberg in 1800, and died in Butler county on Nov. 17, 1822. He first married Anna Clay, who was a daughter of Rev. Eleazer Clay, of Virginia, and who became the mother of all his children. She died near Greenville, Nov. 3, 1817. His second wife was Sarah Allen. John C. Russell and his wife, Anna C., were the parents of five children:

1. Jane E. Russell, who was born in 1794 and died in 1861. She married Rev. C. Duvall.
2. Tabitha A. Russell, who was born in 1796 and died in 1862. She married Lucius C. Duvall, of Union County.
3. Lavinia G. Russell, who was born in 1803 and died in 1874. She married Rev. Wm. B. Dozier, of Mississippi.
4. Dr. Wm. Clay Russell, who was born Dec. 26, 1806 and died in Elkton in 1890. He married Mary S. Farley.
5. Cynthia Ann Russell, who was born in 1811 and died in 1867.

III. Samuel Russell.

Samuel Russell and his family were closely identified with the early history of Greenville and Muhlenberg, but, like John C. Russell, they were not represented in the county after the Civil War. Samuel Russell built the first house in Greenville and in it the sixth and seventh county courts were held, pending the completion of the first court house. He and his wife conducted the first hotel in the town, The Russell Tavern. They were later succeeded in the hotel business by their son, Robert S. Russell. The historic "Russell House" stood opposite the court house on Main Street south of Main Cross Street. The old landmark was torn down in 1867.

Samuel Russell, son of Gen. Wm. Russell, was born in 1770 and died in Greenville Oct. 23, 1835. In 1794 he married Lucy Roberts and a few years later moved to Muhlenberg county. Mrs. Russell died in Greenville in 1851. Samuel Russell and his wife were the parents of eight children:

1. Robert Spotswood Russell, who moved to Paris, Tenn. in 1865 where he died in 1873. He married Celia McLean, who was a daughter of Robert McLean, Sr. One of Celia McLean's brothers was Dr. Robert McLean and one of her uncles was Judge Alney McLean, both of Muhlenberg County. Mrs. R. S. Russell was born Oct. 24, 1814 and died Oct. 28, 1873. Robert S. Russell and wife were the parents of four children:

1. Ed M. Russell, of Paris, Tenn., who is a frequent visitor in Greenville.
2. Samuel Russell, who died in 1872.
3. Rebecca Russell
4. Lucy Russell.
2. Jane Russell, who married Henly Moore, of Russellville.
3. Henry C. Russell, who married Hanna Patterson, of Tennessee.
4. Tabitha A. Russell, who married first Wm. Crumbaugh and then Judge P. Hines, both of Bowling Green, Ky.
5. Catherine Russell, who married Richard James of Muhlenberg. No children.
6. Eliza Russell, who married Wing Kincheloe. No Children.
7. Mary Russell, who married Lewis R. Richards, of Memphis.
8. Samuel Russell, who died at the age of 18 in 1872.

In the foregoing sketch I have given all the data I have gathered on the subject of the Muhlenberg county branches of the Russell Family Tree. It is probable that I have made a number of mistakes. I will appreciate having my attention called to any errors and will also gladly receive any information relative to names and dates that are missing.
