ORGANIZATIONAL HISTORY

The Children of the Confederacy (COC) is a youth auxiliary of the United Daughters of the Confederacy (UDC). The organization is open to males and females “from birth” to the COC convention after their 18th birthday, who can trace their lineage to a confederate ancestor, or to a member of the UDC. The group has historically held meetings with veterans, widows and historians of the Civil War, observed Confederate memorial days, decorated graves, sponsored scholarships, published “Southern friendly” materials, and participated in philanthropic activities. The first COC chapter was organized in 1896 and incorporated the following year at Alexandria, Virginia.

The Children of the Confederacy Creed reads:

Because we desire to perpetuate, in love and honor, the heroic deeds of those who enlisted in the Confederate Services, and upheld its flag through four years of war, we, the children of the South, have united in an Organization called the Children of the Confederacy, in which our strength, enthusiasm and love of justice can exert its influence. We, therefore pledge ourselves to preserve pure ideals; to honor the memory of our beloved Veterans; to study and teach the truths of history (one of the most important of which is, that the War Between the States was not a rebellion, nor was its underlying cause to sustain slavery). and always to act in a manner that will reflect honor upon our noble and patriotic ancestors.

The auxiliary has divisions in over twenty states. The Kentucky Division disbanded in 1985.

THE COLLECTION

The collection consists of Children of the Confederacy membership application forms from Kentucky, 1920-1963. The forms include basic information and genealogical data about applicants. The originals are alphabetized by applicant’s name, while the photocopies are alphabetized by the name of the ancestor who was in the Confederate Army.
