Our cover sketch for this issue is another work of art by Glasgow artist, Christeen Winston Snavely. The house is the most historic home in the city of Glasgow, KY and is presently the gracious home of Mrs. T.C. Delveaux (Annie Eliza Preston), who named the place of her birth, "Preston Place." The lovely home was that of her father, Lucian Preston who got the place from his ancestors, the Lucian Carden family. This massive structure was built in 1816 by Christopher Tompkins, one of Barren County's most illustrious citizens. (Readers will find that much of this issue contains the history of the Tompkins family in Barren County, especially Christopher Tompkins, who was once a candidate for Governor of Kentucky.) After his death the place changed hands a number of times. The wonderful history of this house is told in a number of ways as it has had numerous uses throughout its long life. The house was used as a Law School, a Girl's Boarding School, it was a hospital during the War Between the States, and a Boarding House among many other interesting modes of use. The house was originally a Federal-style house and in years later, a wrought iron portico was added in a French design. Persons seeking more information on this house may direct their inquiries to W. Samuel Terry, IV, Rt. 1, Box 272A, Cave City, KY 42127, who is compiling material on the house and the families occupying it for a history of the structure.

Membership is open to anyone interested in the history of the South Central Kentucky area, centering around Barren county. Annual dues are $8.00.

TRACES, the society's quarterly publication is received by all members. It is published seasonally: Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter. Members joining during the year will receive the past issues of that year.

Contributions are earnestly solicited. Family genealogies, marriage, Bible, will and probate, cemetery, court, and other records are all acceptable. You will be listed as the contributor on all material you submit.

Queries are accepted only from members, without limit, and will be published as space permits. Queries should be limited to about 50 words each.

Books to be reviewed in "Traces" must be sent with information as to the cost, including postage, and from whom the book may be obtained. Books become the property of the society library. Books should have some Kentucky interest. Reviews will be published as space permits.

Exchange of "TRACES" with other societies or publications is acceptable and welcome.

Meetings are held monthly, except December, at the Mary Wood Weldon Memorial Library, College Street, Glasgow Kentucky. The meetings, held on the fourth Thursday, begin at 7:00 P.M., CST. Interesting and informative programs are planned for each meeting and your supportive attendance is always welcome.

Back issues of the publication are available. Our supplies of the following issues are gone: Vol. 1, Nos. 1-4 (1973); Vol. 2, Nos. 1-4 (1974); Vol. 4, No. 4 (1976); Vol. 5, No. 1 (1977); Vol. 6, No. 2 (1978). All others may be purchased as long as the supply lasts at $2.00 each. Postage of 60c each is required unless mailed quarterly.

Correspondence of any type that requires a reply should always contain a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address all mailings to: South Central Kentucky Historical and Genealogical Society, Inc., P.O. Box 80, Glasgow, KY 421410080.

NEITHER "TRACES" NOR THE EDITOR ASSUMES RESPONSIBILITY FOR OPINIONS OR ERRORS OF FACTS OR JUDGEMENT EXPRESSED BY THE CONTRIBUTORS. ERRORS BROUGHT TO OUR ATTENTION WILL BE CORRECTED AS SPACE PERMITS.
THE PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS

We appreciate the patience and thoughtfulness of the membership as we have wrestled with our concern for getting a good quality quarterly to you. With this issue, we are back on schedule, and feel we can now offer you a good book, full of good information, on a reasonably good time schedule. Gladys Wilson and Sammy Terry and their advisory committee have done well.

With so much good historical and genealogical information available, we expect to get out a 40-to-50 page book each quarter. You can help by sending us reference books and materials you have that you no longer use, that might be of good use to other researchers. Or if you have found a particularly good book, get an extra copy and send it to our library.

TOMPKINS CEMETERY

Located off North Race Street behind "Preston Place," the home of Mrs. T.C. Delveaux, in Glasgow, KY.

Christopher Tompkins 24 March 1780 9 August 1857
Theodosia Tompkins 1815 1839
Benjamin C. Tompkins, son of T. Tompkins 1820 1840
Letitia, dau of C. & T. Tompkins 1842
John L. Tompkins No dates

Readers will notice that the tombstone of Christopher Tompkins says that he died in 1857, and this cannot be correct as he made a Codicil to his will in July, 1858 and the will was proven in August, 1858. Also, it is not known where his wife and other family members are buried, unless they are here without monuments. Also, it is said that some of the soldiers that died while the home was used as a hospital are buried in this lot, without stones.
The following sketch was written by Franklin Gorin, author of 'The Times of Long Ago', in which this may be found on page 105. Reprints of the book are available through the society. You will recognize that the house featured on our cover for this issue is that of Mr. Tompkins, built about 1816.

"Christopher Tompkins was born in Virginia in the year 1780, though we do not know in what part of Virginia.

"He was the son of John Tompkins, who emigrated to Fayette County, Kentucky, in 1794, but who died before he was permanently settled.

"Gwynn T., the oldest son, then purchased the beautiful farm three miles north of Lexington and settled the family there.

"Christopher went to live with the Hon. John Breckinridge, Senator, a man of considerable repute, at "Cabella's Dale," in Fayette county, near Lexington. He lived with him a number of years, and while there studied law. He had the advantage of legal teachings of Mr. Breckinridge; also of his library, an excellent one, both law and miscellany. He was a student, and improved his time and advantages. We do not know what school he attended, but we do know he was a good scholar, both in Latin and English, not a smatterer. He was a grammarian, logician, and arithmetician. He often said arithmetic mathematics was the foundation of a good education.

"His pronunciation was good - very good - he drank deeply of the British classics; he read them with a relish and pleasure up to a late period. He was also a good and accurate historian, familiar with both Ancient and Modern History.

"He was sober and temperate in all things.

"He would amuse himself in leisure moments with his friends by a game of chess or whist, though he was not an expert at either. His language was chaste, his only oath "By Jupiter."

"His knowledge of books was no doubt acquired, to a considerable extent, after he commenced the practice of law.

"He began his practice as a lawyer in the Green River country. Whether he first settled at Henderson or Greenville in Muhlenburgh County, we do not know. He, however, lived in Greenville, where he was induced to go, no doubt, on account of the good society there of the Worthingtons, Wings, Rumseys, Mcleans, Weirs, Shorts, Eaves, McNarys, Russells, and so on. While there he was a constant and welcome visitor at the home of General Samuel Hopkins, near the Red Banks, who had a number of charming daughters - educated and refined women.

"Christopher Tompkins represented the county of Muhlenburgh in the House of Representatives in 1805. While in the Legislature he met Theodosia Logan, whom he married. She was a daughter of Gen. Benj. Logan, an early pioneer of Lincoln County, who moved to Kentucky in May, 1777, and built Logan's Fort, near Stanford, in which he lived. He was a celebrated Indian fighter, and the progenitor of a race of noble men.

"Tompkins, soon after his marriage, removed to Russellville, where he was residing when he received the appointment of Circuit Judge of this circuit, about 1809-10. He removed to this county and settled on a farm on Boyd's Creek, two and a half miles from Glasgow, where the late Carey Snoddy lived and died.

"Afterwards, about 1816, he built the brick house on the Bardstown turnpike where Lucian Carden now lives, and removed to Glasgow, where he resided until the death of his estimable wife, and until his children who were living had married.

"He presided as Judge at the March term, 1818, on the trial of John C. Hamilton for the murder of Dr. Sanderson. On that trial all the rulings of doubtful character were decided in favor of the prisoner.

"It is a remarkable fact, during his long life as Judge, he never had a serious difficulty with his bar. He presided with dignity, firmness, and courtesy; his bar loved him; he had no favorites, or if he had, he never let it be known while on the bench.

"Not a whisper or insinuation was ever heard against his honor, integrity or the firmness of his decisions. However, we do not intend to convey the idea that he never misconceived or misapplied the law, for "to err is human."

"He was esteemed, and truly a learned, honest and upright Judge. He enjoyed and possessed the confidence and respect of his bar, officers of the court, litigants and the public, throughout his circuit in a degree seldom obtained by present Judges.

"He was honest in his dealings, pure in his morals, modest, diffident and unobtrusive in his intercourse with his fellow man; he was humble, quiet and unostentatious; he was a stranger to that pride which proceeds from little minds, from riches, birth, place or connections. He was always approachable by the poor or distressed, and ready to assist all with his advice, counsel or purse. He was above and hated a mean act.

"As a husband, father, master and friend, he was all that nature admits. He disliked the wanton destruction of birds, animals, and so on. He was in favor of the general emancipation of slavery, provided the condition of slaves was not rendered worse, and satisfaction made to the master. He was opposed to avarice in all its phases. He was economical from principle, prudence, and perhaps, from necessity. He was not rich - he owned a few slaves, his house in town, and some personal property. He had a growing family of ten children to be educated and maintained. His salary was always low, from $1,000 to $1,500 when highest. His dress was plain but neat. He always had a large circuit, at one time it included Wayne, Cumberland, Adair, Green, Barren, Hart, and Monroe counties, and perhaps Casey County.

"In politics he was firm and unflinching. He opposed the new election of a Governor upon the death of Gov. Madison, in 1816, which created much excitement and strife that was finally settled by the people, that the constitution provided the Lt. Governor to administer the government until a regular election. He was opposed to the Stay-laws of 1820, Replevin laws, New Court and Banks of the Commonwealth, because of their bad policy and their violations of the Constitution.

"In 1824, he resigned the office of Circuit Judge and became a candidate for Governor in opposition to the New Court party. He was defeated by Gen. Desha.

"He immediately formed a partnership with his nephew, John Tompkins, a young lawyer of Glasgow of much promise, and resumed the practice of law.

"After the Whig and Democratic parties were formed, he being a great admirer of Henry Clay and his measures, to-wit: The Missouri Compromise, the U.S. Internal Improvements and the protection of Home Manufactures, he espoused the cause of the Whigs.

"He was always opposed to political life, though he held and loved political principles, and it was only by the urgent importunity of friends that he would consent to become a candidate for political office. Acting upon these principles he had been a candidate for Governor, and yielding again to his friends' wishes he became, in 1831, a candidate for Congress in this district against Joel Yancey, who had beat his old friend Frank Johnson in 1827-29. Tompkins beat Yancey a handsome majority in the district, and 20-1 or 2 votes in this county. This was quite a victory, Yancey having never been beaten before in this county. In 1833 Tompkins was a candidate for re-election. Elijah Hise was his opponent. He was again elected.

"At the expiration of his term he declined to become a candidate again, and was succeeded, as he wished, by J.R. Underwood, his ever intimate friend.

"He continued the practice of law with his son, C. Tompkins, Jr., after his return from Congress, until his son's death, April 5th, 1837.

"C. Tompkins, Jr., was one of the most promising young men of the county - young as he was, twenty-nine years of age, he had been twice elected to the House of Representatives of the Kentucky Legislature, in 1835 and 6. He died at Frankfort, not having returned home after the close of the session. He had given general satisfaction, and his death was universally regretted.

"Ben Monroe having resigned in 1837, Christopher Tompkins, Sr., was again appointed Judge of the Circuit Court; and, as before, gave entire satisfaction.

"At the March term, 1843, he again resigned a Judge, and was succeeded by Richard A. Buckner.

"In 1843, and for two or three months in each of the succeeding years, he delivered a course of law lectures to about twenty young students, from this and other counties.

"In 1850 he was a candidate for a seat in the convention that framed our present Constitution. A cry was made "he is an abolitionist." He was defeated, although he declared that he would be against any proposition to abolish slavery without satisfaction given to the owners, and the condition of the slaves made better. At his death he emancipated his slaves.

"He determined to retire to private life, having lost his wife, three unmarried daughters - Letitia, Elizabeth and Caroline, and three promising sons (his only sons), John, Christopher, and Benjamin, in their young manhood, when all his hopes and wishes promised to be realized and his good name and fame perpetuated. These trials weighed him down, together with the one caused by the death of his trusty servant, Frederick, who was killed by his carriages horses while carrying his daughter Ann, and one other young lady to a wedding. The horses ran off one mile from Glasgow. They were perfectly gentle - one of them Tompkins' old favorite brown horse Allan-bane. They were frightened by some imprudent, reckless young men galloping behind and up to the carriage, darted from the road into the woods killing faithful Frederick instantly. They dashed the carriage against a tree and greatly endangered his daughter's life.

"Tompkins, like all men, was not exempt from the trials and griefs of this world.
"He was a firm believer in the Christian religion, but from some unknown cause never united with any church. We must not omit, he was remarkable for his accuracy in describing places and things which he had seen, and relating what he had read or heard.

"Judge Christopher Tompkins died in this place August 9, 1858, at the residence of his son-in-law, Dr. James Hall, who then resided here, aged eighty; greatly esteemed and regretted.

"Four daughter and several grandchildren survive him, none of whom live in this county.

"His eldest daughter, Ann, married Dr. Reuben B. Garnett, son of Richard Garnett, Esq., the 22nd of October, 1843. He died at Benton, Mississippi, where he had moved to pursue his profession, soon after his removal, in 1836, leaving one child, a daughter, Theodosia. He was much respected, and his death was greatly regretted.

"His widow lived many years single, devoting herself to her child and its education. The daughter married an estimable man, Mr. Frank Emory, and they are living in Philadelphia.

"Mrs. Garnett, a few years since, married the Rev. Wm. L. Breckinridge, D.D., formerly of Kentucky, and a brother of the late Rev. Robert Breckinridge, D.D. They are now living in Chicago, Ill.

"Eugenia Tompkins married Wm. Garnett, a son of Richard Garnett. Their eldest son, C. Tompkins Garnett, fell in the late war in the attack upon Vicksburg, fighting nobly and bravely for the defense of his country; another son, Gwynn, is a learned and rising lawyer of Chicago.

"Theodosia married Dr. James Hall, a son of Judge Michael W. Hall. She is now a widow, mother of several quite promising children, one C. Tompkins Hall, a Lieutenant in the U.S. Army. She is living in Illinois.

"Davidella married Thomas Crutcher, son of Henry Crutcher. He is dead; four children, also promising, survive him. She is living in Hart County."

Will of John Tompkins, Book 3, page 17.

"Glasgow, Ky., October 4th, 1830. The last will and testament of John Tompkins. In the name of God amen, I John Tompkins being sound in my mind do ordain and establish this to be my last will and testament. Item 1st. I give unto my Dear beloved Brother, Gwyn R. Tompkins, my negro boy Mingo. Item 2nd. I given unto and bequeath unto the said Gwyn R. Tompkins in trust my negro girl Eliza for the use and benefit of John Tompkins Powel and to his heirs and assigns forever free from the claimed (...) of any debt(s) of his father. Item 3rd. There are between fifteen hundred and two thousand dollars debts owing to me in this country, Constables receipts, notes, and judgements, the only judgement I now recollected in the Circuit Court against Lowry Bishop, I promise not to sue out execution on that until next Christmas; the other notes, receipts and so on I believe will be found in my possession. I give to my dearly beloved sister Catharine one hundred dollars. The account between my highly esteemed uncle and benefactor, Christopher Tompkins shall be squared up to this time if he says so. His Will and mine must be the same. Item: (...)illegible) that my honest Debts I owe in this world may be paid, not leaving money thank God. Item: Mr. Moss and myself have kept our accounts very disconnected. I propose giving him twelve dollars in Commonwealths paper together with a note of about twenty dollars assigned by C. Tompkins to me and said Moss for a full settlement up to this time. I have a good many small debts about town but I presume I have assets against all of them, some of my Brothers and sisters, I mean my beloved Brother William and my sister Theodocia Harrison are well provided for and I trust may never come to want on that account I give them nothing and now pray that God may wipe away all fowl spots from character and receive me into heaven through the arms of one ever blessed Jesus. Amen. Item: I constituted Gwyn R. Tompkins and Christopher Tompkins, Senr., my executors requiring of them no bonds for the faithful execution of this will I give everything not otherwise disposed of in this will to my brother Gwyn, trusting that he will use it in the family in assisting my younger Brothers and other members of the family according to their necessities. Signed in the presence of Wm. M. Tompkins, B.B. Crump, and C. Tompkins, Junr.

GAZZAM NOTES ON THE TOMPKINS FAMILY

The following notes on the Tompkins family were taken from letters to the Kentucky Historical Society from Joseph P. Gazzam of St. Louis Missouri. The letters were written in 1936.

John Logan Blaine's sister, Mary Jane Blaine, married November 14, 1826, Wm. May Tompkins of Fayette County, KY, son of Gwyn Reade Tompkins and Sally Ann May and grandson on John and Ann Tompkins who came to Kentucky and finally settled in Fayette County, KY, in 1794. Judge Patrick Watson Tompkins of Vicksburg (son of John) Bible states that John and Ann Tompkins came to Kentucky in the Spring of 1793. Ann was the daughter of Daniel Tompkins. Dorothy, a daughter of John and Ann Tompkins, married Vivian Goodloe 5 August 1784 in Lincoln County, Ky. Wm. May Tompkins and Mary Jane Blaine had a number of children, one of which was Logan, another was Cornelius, who married Louisa A. Benoist of St. Louis.
NOTES AND BIBLE RECORD OF P.W. TOMPKINS

The following record is from the vertical files of the Kentucky Historical Society, Frankfort, Kentucky.

"At a very early period of the Colonial history of America a man by the name of Gwyn, an Englishman, married the daughter of an Indian near the cape of Virginia who had some authority in the land and when Gwyn asked him for ground to plants his peas and tobacco upon, he gave him the little island off the cape, now called Gwyn’s Island. There Gwyn planted; he raised three children by his Indian wife, a son and two daughters. Two Welshmen, Read and Tompkins married those two daughters, from which the present family of Tompkins is descended. One branch of the family at an early date emigrated to New York, to which the late Governor and Vice President Dan C. Tompkins belonged; another branch emigrated to South Carolina. John Tompkins, the grandfather of the writer of this memo emigrated with his family to Kentucky from Virginia in the Spring of 1783. His sons were James, Humphrey, Gwyn, Francis, John, Gatel, and Christopher. This is the family tradition.

"Thomas Helm, who married Jane Pope emigrated at a very early day to Kentucky from Virginia and built the fort at Junction Valley where Elizabethtown now stands. His sons were John, Benjamin, George, Charles, William and Henry. The last was killed by the Indians.

"Capt. Patrick Watson served in the Revolutionary War as Captain in the Virginia line. His parents emigrated from Ireland. The wife of Capt. Watson who was the daughter (Abigail) of Benjamin Blythe and was born and reared near Phillipsboro, Pa., was also of Irish extraction, his parents having both emigrated from Ireland.

"This is the brief history of the families from which I have descended and am connected with as I have collected it from the oldest members of those families. /s/ Pat. W. Tompkins"

John Tompkins, son of John Tompkins and Ann his wife, whose maiden name was Tompkins, also, daughter of Dan Tompkins, was born in Culpepper County, VA on the 21st day of March 1771.

Abigail Tompkins, wife of John Tompkins, daughter of Patrick Watson and Abigail, his wife, whose maiden name was Blythe, was born 17th day of March 1778 at Abingdon, VA.

George Helm, son of Pat. W. Tompkins and Mary Jane, his wife, was born at Brandenburg, KY 7th August 1831.

Julia Blanche Tompkins (name was changed to Mary Jane after the death of her mother) daughter of Pat. W. Tompkins and Mary Jane Tompkins, his wife, was born at Brandenburg, KY 20 December 1833.

The remainder of the Bible record is not connected to the area or the state of Kentucky, and is therefore, omitted. Another person has made the following notes on the last page of the manuscript, which seems to tie the families together.

"The Rev. John Gwyn, a church of England clergyman, had a son Dr. Edmund Gwyn, who married Lucy Bernard, a daughter of Col. Wm. Bernard and their daughter Lucy Gwyn married Thomas Reade, a son of Col. George Reade and Elizabeth Martain and their daughter Joyce Reade married Christopher Tompkins of North River Gloucester County, Virginia and was the mother of the John Tompkins who went to Kentucky in 1783." (NOTE: This John was the father of Christopher Tompkins who resided in Barren County, KY.)
In the name of God, amen! I Christopher Tompkins of the County of Barren and State of Kentucky, do hereby make, publish and declare my last Will and testament as follows:

In the first place, I revoke and annul every Will I may heretofore have made, declaring this present writing to be my only true last Will and Testament.

It is my Will that the whole of my estate of which I may be seized and possessed at my death, of whatever description, not herein specifically disposed of, be equally divided among all my children, namely, Sarah Ann Garnett, Eugenia Garnett, Theodosia Hall and Davidella Crutcher, they and each of them accounting for and bringing into hotch-pot the sums herein charged against them respectively, as well as legacies as for advancements.

My daughter Sarah Ann is to account for and bring into hotch-pot on the partition and distribution of my estate, the sum of one thousand five hundred and fifty dollars, the estimated amount of advancements made to her. My daughter Eugenia is, in like manner, to account for the sum of one thousand and fifty dollars.

In the month of April or May in the year 1846 I placed in the possession of my daughter Theodosia Hall a negro boy slave named William, estimated to be worth, at that time, four hundred dollars. Now I do hereby give and confirm to my said daughter Theodosia, for her own exclusive separate use and benefit, the said boy William, and furthermore, I do hereby give and bequeath to my said daughter Theodosia my negro woman Emeline and her child, together with her future increase, as well before as after my death, to and for the separate and exclusive use and benefit of my said daughter Theodosia, and I estimate the said woman Emeline and her increase as aforesaid to the value of six hundred dollars. My said daughter Theodosia is to account for and bring into hotch-pot the forementioned sums on the division of my estate, and also the farther sum of fifty dollars for certain household goods heretofore given to her. Moreover, I devise to my said daughter Theodosia, for her exclusive use and benefit in like manner the property in the town of Glasgow which I recently purchased of Robert Murrell, consisting of a house and part of lott No.55 on Green street fronting the public square, and three lotts in the Southern division of said town. For this property I paid said Murrell one thousand dollars, and my daughter Theodosia is to account for this sum also on the distribution of my estate. It is my will and earnest desire that my said daughter Theodosia shall enjoy all the aforesaid property, and whatever she may derive from my estate either as a legatee, or heir, or distributee, from from the control and from the contracts and debts of her husband, James P. Hall; and the better to effectuate my purpose, I do hereby vest the title to said property in my friend William E. Munford of Barren County, to be held by him in trust for my said daughter Theodosia according to the true intent and meaning of this will, and the said Trustee William E. Munford is hereby impowered to dispose of, sell and convey (with the written consent of the said Theodosia) all or any part of said property at such time and in such manner as may best promote her interest and comfort. But it is my will and desire, if my daughter Theodosia should survive her husband, that the said trustee shall, on the happening of such survivorship, forthwith transfer and convey to her the absolute title and possession of the property; and if during the lifetime of her said husband the said Theodosia should depart this life leaving children, in that case the said Trustee is, in like manner, to transfer and convey to them the absolute title to said property.

"I hold two notes on Doctor James P. Hall for money lent, one for one thousand and three hundred dollars, and the other for one thousand one hundred and eleven dollars and a few cents: now, it is my will and desire that my executor hereinafter named shall use his own discretion as to the time and means of collecting the money due on said notes, and he is not to be responsible in case of failure to collect the same; it is my will, that whatever money may be collected on said notes, as well as all other money to which my daughter Theodosia may be entitled on the distribution of my estate, my said executor is to hold and appropriate to the exclusive use and benefit of my said daughter Theodosia Hall, in such manner as he, my said executor may judge best for the promotion of her interest and comfort. And my said daughter Theodosia, on the settlement and distribution of my estate is to account for the principal mentioned in said notes, without any interest.

"I do hereby give and devise, to my said daughter Davidella Crutcher my negro man Julius, for her exclusive use and benefit, to be free from the contracts and debts of her husband; and I estimate his value, including the hire she has received, at nine hundred dollars, for which sum she is to account on the division of my estate. She is to be charged furthermore with five hundred dollars heretofore advanced to her in money.

"I give and bequeath to my daughter Sarah Ann Garnett, my negro man Isaac, and she is to account for him at the price of six hundred dollars.

"My negro woman Mary is old and will probably only be an incumbiance to her owner at no distant day, if she should live. Therefore, to provide for her support and maintenance if she should live to be unable to do anything for a livelihood, hereby direct, that my negro boy, Edward, her son, shall be appraised, and one hundred and fifty dollars deducted from his appraised value, and I bequeath them both to such one of my daughters as may be willing to receive them and account only for the price thus fixed and reduced. If Mary should not live to make such an arrangement necessary, then I devise the said boy Edward to such one of my daughters as may be willing to receive him at his appraised value. If no one of my children should be willing to receive them on the terms specified, then my executor is to sell them or the survivor, and if Mary should be living, make provision for her support as he may think her condition requires. If it should become necessary to sell, my executor may make the sale by private contract or otherwise according to his discretion; but he is not to sell to a negro trader.

"I desire that my negro man Nelson shall choose his mistress among my children, and I devise him to the one he shall select, free of charge, relying that he will be cared for and provided with suitable comforts, if he should happen to outlive his usefulness.

"I do hereby authorize and empower my Executor hereinafter named to sell, transfer and convey my real property, not herein devised, either entire or in parcels as he may think fit, and on such terms and on such credit, at public auction or by private contract, as he may judge most prudent and advantageous to my family - the proceeds, of course, to be distributed as my other estate. It is my will and desire that my daughters Eugenia Garnett and Davidella Crutcher shall, each of them have and enjoy their respective portions of my estate of every description, to and for their own exclusive use and benefit, free from the control, and contracts and debts of their respective husbands.
"I do hereby nominate and appoint my son-in-law William Garnett Executor of this my last Will and Testament.

"In testimony that this instrument of writing is my last Will and Testament, I have with my own hand written the same and every part thereof, and now on this 4th day of February in the year of our Lord 1852 subscribe my name thereunto with my own proper hand.

"I Christopher Tompkins think it expedient and deem it my duty to make the following modifications of and additions to my will, which bears date on the 4th day of February 1852, and I do hereby declare this instrument to be a codicil to said Will, to be taken and construed with the same as part thereof.

"Having, since the date of said Will, advanced to the husband of my daughter Eugenia Garnett the sum of three hundred and eight dollars, she is, on the partition of my estate, to account for that sum in addition to what is charged against her in my will.

"I have already conveyed to a Trustee, for the use and benefit of my daughter Theodosia Hall, the house and lots in Glasgow, purchased by me of Robert Murrell, and also my negro woman Emeline and her child or children, and my said daughter Theodosia is to account for said property at the prices specified in said Will. And I now give and devise the lot in the town of Glasgow conveyed to me by William E. Wade and also the three lots in said town conveyed to me by William H. McMurray, to William E. Munford, in trust for the separate use and benefit of my daughter Theodosia Hall; and I do hereby give the said trustee like power, and request of him the performance of the like duties with respect to this property as provided for in relation to other property. And my said daughter Theodosia is, on the partition of my estate, to account for said lots at the price of one hundred and fifty-two dollars and eight cents, the consideration paid for them; but as James P. Hall has satisfied that sum towards the payment of his note to me for $1300, the said sum of $152.08 is to be deducted from said note, and my said daughter Theodosia is to be accountable only for the balance left of said note, without interest.

"I do hereby make the following change and modification of the provisions of my said Will respecting the two notes therein mentioned which I hold against Doctor James P. Hall: My daughter Theodosia is to be charged with the amount of only one of said notes, viz: that for $1300, less by $152.08 according to a previous clause in this codicil, without any interest, and whatever money may be collected on said note is to be paid to and for my said daughter Theodosia's exclusive use and benefit; and whatever may be collected on my other note on said Hall mentioned in my Will, is to be distributed as my other estate.

"Against the said James P. Hall, as surviving partner of Halbert and Hall, I hold a small account and two notes, assigned to me by C.C. Orr of Louisville: Now my Will is, that of these debts my Executor collect (if not paid to me in my lifetime) the sum of $370.80 (the consideration paid by me) with interest thereon from the 18th day of June 1853 - the residue of said assigned debts is not to be collected but released to said J.P. Hall. Furthermore, a judgement had been obtained in the Barren Circuit Court against the said J.P. Hall, surviving partner as aforesaid, by Brannon, Administrator of Walker, for some seven or eight hundred dollars; which judgement and the note on which it was founded were transferred to my for a valuable consideration: Now as said Hall has satisfied and paid the said consideration, the said judgement is not to be enforced but released to him.

"I do hereby appoint my friend William E. Munford Trustee for my daughter Davidella Crutcher as well as for my daughter Theodosia Hall, and do hereby vest him with the title to their respective portions of my estate (except as herein otherwise provided) to be held by him for their separate use and benefit respectively; and I do hereby give to said Trustee like power and request of him performance of like duties as provided for in the case of my daughter Theodisia. And in case of the sale of the property of either of my said daughters, the money arising from such sale is to be vested and appropriated in such manner as may be deemed not judicious for the advancement of their interest, and the subsistence and comfort of themselves and families. And it is my Will, that if my negro man Nelson should, in conformity with the provisions of my Will, fall to any of my daughters having a husband living the property in said Nelson shall be vested in said Trustee in the manner and with the power and duties aforesaid.

"In my Will I devised to my daughter Sarah Ann Garnett my negro man Isaac, to be accounted for at the price of six hundred dollars - I have since given said Isaac to her and placed him in her possession as an advancement, and she is to account for him at the price already mentioned. And I have recently advanced to my said daughter in money the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars, including some small debts I paid for her in Glasgow. On the distribution of my estate she is therefore to account for the said sum of $350 in addition to the other sums charged against her.

"It is farther my Will that my daughter Davidella Crutcher, on the division of my estate, shall, in addition to other sums charged against her, account for fifty seven dollars, the amount paid by me for certain silver ware purchased for her. Whatever money may be coming to the use of my said daughter Davidella as Heir, legatee, or distributee of my estate, I desire and direct my Executor to lay out in stock of some safe Bank or Banks, to be selected by him; the said stock to be held by and in the name of William Garnett, in trust for the separate use and benefit of my said daughter Davidella; and the said William Garnett is directed to appropriate the dividends as they shall accrue, to the use and benefit of my daughter last aforesaid. But it is my will and desire, if my said daughter Davidella should survive her husband, that the said William Garnett shall, on the happening of such survivorship, forthwith transfer the said stock to her; or if, during the lifetime of her husband, the said Davidella depart this life, leaving children, in that event the said stock is to be transferred to them; providing, however, that if any of said children should die under twenty-one years of age and without issue, his, her or their portion of said property shall be vested in the survivors or survivor; and if all the said children should die under age and without issue, the whole of said stock shall be divided among my Heirs and distributees.

"I own two young negro men - one by the name of Julius, now at Nashville in the state of Tennessee, the other by the name of Edward, now at Louisville. I wish them both to be free, but the laws of Kentucky do not permit a free negro to live in the state; therefore, I devise my Executor to give notice to Edward that he may leave the state and be free, or remain in it and be a slave as heretofore, at his option; and he may have six months after notice to make his election. If by or within that time he shall decide to leave the state and settle elsewhere, he is immediately thereupon to have his freedom. If Julius can, consistently with the laws of Tennessee, remain in that State a free man, he is hereby at once emancipated, as he has a wife in that State and does not, as he says, desire to leave. But if the laws of Tennessee are, in this respect, similar to those of Kentucky, he is to have notice and time to make his choice as in the case of Edward; and if he shall agree to leave and reside out of the two states aforesaid, he is thereupon to be free. On Julius and Edward becoming free as aforesaid, my Executor is to give each of them fifty dollars, to provide them necessaries until they shall be settled. If Julius and Edward or either of them should not obtain their freedom as herein provided, then the disposition heretofore made of him or them is to remain unaltered. In case Julius should be free the sum of six hundred dollars is to be subtracted from the amount heretofore directed to be charged against my daughter Davidella. Since writing the foregoing pages, I have advanced to my daughter Sarah Ann Garnett, at one time twenty dollars, and at another time, one hundred dollars; to my daughter Eugenia Garnett, one thousand dollars; to my daughter Theodosia Hall, fifty seven dollars and fifteen cents, towards the expense of her new building; and to my daughter Davidella Crutchers, in various disbursements for her benefit, one hundred and eighty-five dollars and sixty-two cents; and my said daughters, on the distribution of my estate are to be charged respectively with the sums aforesaid, in addition to the former charges. And it may be that I shall hereafter find it expedient to make and charge other and farther advancements to one or more of my daughters: Now, to obviate the necessity of making another formal addition to my Will, it is my intention to enter all such advancements on a paper or small blank book to be kept for the purpose and (illegible) my Executor and my children to observe and conform to such charges and entries in the settlement and distribution of my estate.

"The money to which my daughter Theodosia Hall shall be entitled on the distribution of my estate is to be appropriated for her use and benefit in such manner and for such purposes as she may approve or request of her Trustee in writing.

"In testimony that this instrument is a codicil to my Will, to be taken and construed as part thereof, I have written it wholly with my own hand, and now subscribe my name this 8th day of May in the year of our Lord 1857. /s/ Christopher Tompkins."

"I Christopher Tompkins have, since the date of the foregoing codicil, have made advancements as follows Viz: to my daughter Eugenia Garnett, about the 15th September 1857, the sum of one thousand dollars; to my daughter Davidella Crutchers, about the 2nd day of January 1858, the sum of sixty dollars; and they are to account for these sums respectively on the distribution of my estate. Also, to my said daughter, Davidella, in the month of June, 1858, the sum of fourteen dollars and 91 cents. Any farther advancements I may find it expedient or necessary hereafter to make to my children (if any) will be entered and charged on this paper and I request my Executor and my children to observe and conform to such charges and entries in the distribution of my estate. I have declined making any such entries or charges on a separate paper or small blank book as mentioned in a former codicil.

"In testimony that this instrument is an addition to and to be taken and continued as part of my will, I have written the same with my own hand, and now subscribe my name this 7th July 1858. /s/ Christopher Tompkins."

"Barren County Court, August Term 1858. The foregoing writing purporting to be the Last Will and Testament of Christopher Tompkins, dec'd, was this day produced in court with the codicils thereto attached and therebeing no subscribing witnesses thereto, James P. Bates and William E. Munford being sworn, Testified that the said writing and codicils with the signatures thereto are wholly in the hand writing of the deceased, whereupon the same was ordered to be recorded as the Last Will and Testament of said Christopher Tompkins, dec'd. Att. Travis Cockrell, C.B.C.C."
The following is from the files of the Kentucky Library at Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green, Ky. The research was done by Miss Margaret Hargrove for Lockwood Barr.

JAMES EUBANK, born in 1750, son of James Eubank and Peggy Lewis, was a Revolutionary Soldier. He died in 1816; the will was probated in Henrico Co., VA., May 8, 1816. His marriage to Mary Ann Browning took place on March 21, 1783. Five children are mentioned in the will: Williamson, Nancy Grinstead, Joseph, Elizabeth and Rebecca. (Note #)

Deed records in Barren County, Kentucky, show Power of Attorney given by Elizabeth Eubank to David R. Twymon of Barren County to receive from John Whites, guardian, money or estate of James Eubank (Oct. 13, 1819-G 253). Elizabeth and Rebecca Eubank to Zacheus Quisenberry (Feb. 6, 1822 - H 386); and Elizabeth and Rebecca Eubank to John S. Myers of Richmond, Virginia (July 5, 1828 - H 386 - L 116).

JOSEPH EUBANK, son of James Eubank and Peggy Lewis, brother of the Revolutionary soldier, James, mentioned above, was born May 9, 1763. He was married to Elizabeth White November 27th, 1794. They moved to Barren County, Kentucky, in 1805. Five children were born to them in Virginia, five in Kentucky. This Joseph died in Barren County October 11, 1850. His will (3-327), written January 13, 1845 was probated before April, 1851.

JOSEPH EUBANK (Jr.), son of Joseph Eubank and Elizabeth White, was born in Henrico County, VA., on August 12, 1797. He was "one of the best known and most prominent men in the early days of Barren County." He married Elizabeth James Bransford March 17, 1829, and "for some little time they lived on top of the big hill beyond South Fork Creek on the Gallatin Road. By trade he was a silversmith and carried on his business on the Green Street side of the Square, about where the New Farmers National Bank stands." He moved to Texas 1853-54 and died July 8, 1883. There were six children, at least 3 of whom (Emma, Cyrus, and Charles Edwin) went to Texas; the older, John Bransford, died in Barren County, Ky., in 1879. This Joseph is apparently the one referred to in the records of the county as Joseph, Jr.

JAMES EUBANK, son of Joseph Eubank and Elizabeth White, was born near Glasgow, Kentucky, on March 29, 1805. He was a brother of the silversmith, Joseph mentioned in the preceding paragraph. He married Mary Jane Bransford, s sister of the Elizabeth Bransford mentioned above, on October 29, 1833. They moved to Texas about 1854 (Cf. Deeds W-347, where James Eubank and Wife, Mary Jane make deed to John G. Davis, May 29, 1854), where he died March 31, 1886. This James was "a tinner by trade; his place of business was in a shop with his brother on the Green street side of the Square near the middle." There were 11 children.

"A Mr. Eubank, a clockmaker, had his place on the square; he had clocks for sale and set one correctly and the others struck just a little later; it took several minutes for them to finish striking; and when they struck at noon all the country people on the street stopped to hear them. He made the first fruit cans I ever saw and my father bought some of them. They were fastened with sealing wax. He was a mechanical genius." Note # Two children, Edward and Thomas, are not mentioned in the Will. Nancy's husband's name is also given as James Grinstead; Joseph married Nancy Smith and went to Adair County; Elizabeth died in Barren County in 1852; Rebecca married Jessee Everett in 1853, late in life, no children.

Notations from Franklin Gorin's The Times of Long Ago

39 - Thomas Eubank
40 - William Savage, the first clock maker. Kept a tavern and erected a cotton gin at the Cross Roads.
He was succeeded in business by Eubank and Jeffries. They afterwards dissolved; Jeffries set up a separate shop, and Joseph and James Eubank, brothers, sons of Joseph Eubank, one of the first settlers, continued the business. They had no superior as natural mechanics anywhere... they married sisters, daughters of Thomas Bransford, one of our best citizens.
41 - Henry Eubank - Richardson Eubank - Thomas Eubank
74 - In 1841 Reynolds... formed a partnership with James Eubank, who, as heretofore stated, was a man of great genius, and the admitted, best natural mechanic ever in Glasgow... They carried on the business for several years, when Reynolds purchased Eubank's interest. (Wool Carding)
95 - Our old friend, William Savage, his boys, Joseph Eubank and other were kept busy supply the demand (for silverware).

SKETCH OF HENRY HALEY

The following sketch was written by Franklin Gorin, author of The Times of Long Ago, written about 1876. It is found on page 133 of that work which is available as a reprint through this organization.

"Henry Haley, one of our earliest pioneers, bought and settled on John Jameson's farm lying between Prewitt's Knob and what is now called Flint Knob. The Flint Knob and the surrounding country were covered with a most beautiful grove of sugar, ash, poplar, oak and other growth. The spot formed one of those oases in the Barrens that added beauty to the surrounding country. He was one of nature's noblemen. He settled directly on the trace from New Orleans to Limestone, where he resided in the wilderness administering to the wants of all, especially to the boatmen returning to New Orleans.

"He was kind, generous and hospitable. He had sons and daughters like unto himself. They were the idols of his heart, and the great desire of his life was to raise them up moral, pious men and women. He was a member of the Baptist church, a pious gentleman of the highest order. During the latter years of his life he was greatly afflicted with the shaking palsy. Those whom God loves he afflicts.

Maximilliam, one of his sons, married in Virginia, a lady of highest virtues and qualifications.
"Patrick, another son, married that lady's half-sister.
"Henry married Betsy Martin, a daughter of Joseph Martin, who owned Prewitt's Knob and the adjoining land where he lived. After Henry's death his wife married William Dickey, and she is now a widow the second time.
"John married a Miss Murphy, we believe. They moved to Warren County, where they were greatly esteemed.
"Merriman married Nancy Dunn and they also settled in Warren.
"One of the daughters of Henry Haley, Sr., married David Shelton, a schoolmate of the writer under Rev. John Howe.
"Another daughter married Robert Jameson, and settled in the neighborhood.
"Maximilliam Haley and David Shelton moved with their families to Illinois, where both raised large families, which are both prosperous and highly respected.
"Patrick Haley and his family moved to Missouri.
"The neighborhood of Prewitt's Knob, which had been one of the best in the county, became after the death of Henry Haley and the older citizens, between the years 1825-30, so immoral that Prewitt's Knob received the name of Buzzard's Roost; however, it is once more a most excellent neighborhood - one of the best in the county."

SKETCH OF HAIден TRIGG

The following sketch was also written by Franklin Gorin and may be found on page 97 of The Times of Long Ago.

"Haiden Trigg after marrying in Bedford County, Virginia, emigrated to Kentucky before 1800; came to Barren County in the fall of 1798 or '99, and settled four miles from Glasgow. He was one of the first Justices of the Peace of the new county, and one of the first Trustees of the town of Glasgow. He assisted in the organization of the new county, Barren; was a Representative in the Legislature of Kentucky in 1803, and was the second sheriff of this county.

"He was of commanding appearance, and a man of pleasant manners and address, hospitable and kind to his neighbors and friends. He was a friend of his of his country and its institutions.

"He left us after a dozen years or more and removed with all his family to the state of Tennessee. All of his children, except Mrs. Daniel Curd, and Alanson Trigg, followed him to the same state. He was esteemed and respected by all that knew him. He died in the state of Tennessee."

Revolutionary War Record of James Chism

(The following was written on letter-head stationery of the Edmund Rogers Chapter D.A.R., Glasgow, KY. Members of the Jenkins family were members of the organization.)

James Chism was born in Virginia in 1754, enlisted soon after the Revolutionary War began. Private in the 2nd Virginia Regiment. He served in this and the 10th Virginia Regiment until the close of the war, when shortly he removed with his family to Kentucky, where he had been given a land grant of 100 acres for his services. This land was in the part of the state known as "The Great Barrens," but which is known today as Monroe County, Kentucky. Here he joined his brother-in-law Nathan Breed who was a Lieutenant in the Revolutionary War, serving under Gen. John Sevier from Green County, Tennessee. These brothers-in-law were close friends, now became neighbors and four of the Chism children married four of the Breed children. James Chism patented his land, built a handsome home, increased his holdings and became possessor of many slaves. He was a public spirited man and leading citizen of "The Great Barrens." He died in 1819.

M.J. Standard, according to this she died before her child was born. She could have died on March 18 or some other combination of the dates.)

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF COL. JAMES GREENE HARDY

The following sketch of this Barren countian was written about 1876 by Franklin Gorin. Mr. Gorin's writings were published in book form, known as Times of Long Ago, reprints of which are available from the society. This sketch can be found on page 123.

"Col. Hardy, son of Isham Hardy, was born in Lunenburgh County, Virginia, May 3rd, 1795. His father emigrated to this county at an early day and settled in the Blue Spring neighborhood.

"Hardy early gave promise of more than ordinary talents; his education was limited, but as good as the country in his neighborhood afforded; he was, however, self-educated, a good speaker, and succeeded in making a favorable impression on his neighbors, and being unable on account of a white swelling to work upon the farm he taught a school near home for some time. While teaching he improved his mind and speaking greatly, and became a fluent speaker. His language was good, pronunciation also. He was not a logician but a sophist.

"He was elected to the House of Representatives of the Kentucky Legislature in 1827, '28, '29, '30, '38, '39, '40, '44,
'45 and '47.

"As a Democrat he was frequently defeated, but he bore his defeats manly.

"He became a candidate for Lieutenant Governor as a "Know Nothing" with Charles S. Morehead who was the "Know Nothing" candidate for Governor in 1855. They were elected by a considerable majority. He was admitted to be the most talented man of his party (Democrat) in this county, and he had no superior in the state as a debater. After he identified himself with the "Know Nothing" party he fell in the estimation of most of the Democrats. He was an able debater in his canvasses, and always conducted them like a gentleman.

"He was an honest man; in the Legislature if his party declared for measures which he thought wrong he never sustained them.

"In middle age he was an unsuccessful merchant, and later in life he was Master Commissioner in Chancery.

"In his early manhood he married Miss Elizabeth Edwards, daughter of Thomas Edwards, a large family distinguished for their natural good sense. By her he had eight children. Some years after the death of his wife he married a second time, Eliza J.
Smith, widow of Elias Smith, by whom he had two children. His third wife was Miss Menerva K. Guffy.

"Most of his descendants reside in Hart; three in this county. He early united with the Baptist church, and was an active and influential member until his death. He died in Glasgow, July 16, 1856." NOTE: Hardy is buried on his farm near Rock Spring Baptist Church where he was a member. He has a slab-type marker; unfortunately, it was nearly destroyed several years ago, leaving it crumbled and unreadable. A State Highway Marker marks the road leading to his grave (Hwy. 31E).
Chap. 320 - Page 216 - Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky That Seth Botts, jun., is hereby released from all the obligations and disabilities consequent upon his intermarriage with his late wife, Ellen D, and restored to all the rights and privileges of an unmarried man. Approved Feb. 16, 1837

Chap. 326 - Page 220 - Whereas, it is represented to the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, That Talbert Thomas departed this life intestate, and left behind him a wife and several infant children, and that he owned, at his death, several tracts or parcels of land, lying in the county of Monroe, in this State, together with personal estate; all of which has been sold (except said land and the negroes of said Thomas) by his administrators, viz: Samuel Thomas and Harmond Howard, the proceeds of which have been applied by them to the payment of said Talbert's debts, but which falls far short of paying the same - Wherefore, Be it enacted that the said administrators may, provided they think it beneficial to the heirs of said Talbert, file their bill in chancery, in the Monroe circuit court, praying for a sale of so much land as will be of sufficient value to pay the balance of Talbert's debts ... this bill shall not be construed as taking from or preventing the widow of said Talbert Thomas from claiming and receiving her dower in any or all of said land ... Approved Feb. 16, 1837

Chap. 327 - Page 221 - Be it enacted ... That the marriage contract between Jeremiah K Sullivan and his wife Mary Sullivan, so far as respects Mary, is forever dissolved, and she is restored to all the rights and privileges of an unmarried woman. Approved Feb. 16, 1837

Chap. 331 - Page 223 - Be it enacted ... That a company shall be, and is hereby incorporated as a body politic and corporate, by the style and name of Bardstown and Greensburg Turnpike Road Company, for the purpose of constructing a turnpike road from Bardstown to Greensburg by way of Campbellsville, which company shall have perpetual existence ... that the company shall have a capital stock of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to be divided into fifty shares each - (Sec 3) That John P Little, John S M'Closkee, William Porter, William Hobson, Samuel Hutcheson, Woodrough Haskins, John B Chandler, James Sivley, William Turner and Thomas Cave, of Green county; and Samuel Beal, Peter Sweet, Thomas G Linthecum, Joseph Knot, Richard Spaulding and Benedict Spaulding, of Nelson and Marion counties, be, and they are hereby appointed commissioners, for the purpose of receiving subscriptions of stock to said company, who shall cause books for that purpose to be opened at Greensburg, Campbellsville, Lebanon, Springfield, and Bardstown on the first Monday of May next. Approved Feb. 17, 1837

Chap. 332 - Page 224 - An Act to Amend an Act - entitled, an act to incorporate the Glasgow and Scottsville Turnpike Road Company - Be it enacted, That so soon as two hundred shares of one hundred dollars each, shall be subscribed by individuals in the stock of said company, the commissioners shall proceed to give ten days notice, and appoint a time and place for the meeting of the stockholders in the town of Glasgow. . . and they shall proceed to further organize the company . . and they are hereby authorized to make the stone or artificial part of the road at least ten feet in width, . . . with the concurrence of a competent Engineer, and by and with the authority of said Board of Internal Improvement, to construct said road by grading only, wherever from the nature of the ground said road passes over a durable and good road can be made without stone . . .

Approved Feb. 17, 1837

Chap. 335 - Page 226 - Be it enacted . . . that from and after the passage of this act, instead of holding elections at D H Harrison's Tan Yard, in the Pond Precinct of Christian County, the same shall hereafter be held at the dwelling house of James Harkins, under the same regulations now prescribed by law . . . that an election precinct shall be established at the house of Jesse Gregory in Boone County, and that the location of the lower precinct of Boone shall be removed from the house of Mrs Sleet to the house of George Black. App. Feb. 17, 1837

Chap. 336 - Page 226 - Whereas, Roger Barton did make an entry for nine hundred and twenty eight acres of land on Nolynn, then in Nelson County, now in the county of Edmonson, which was surveyed by Philip Philips, deputy surveyor of Nelson County, on the 5th Jan 1786, as appears by a copy of said survey from the books of the surveyor of Nelson county, but owing to said Barton having been slain in St Clair's defeat, the plat and certificate was never returned to the Register's office, and consequently no patent ever issued therefor - For remedy whereof, Be it enacted . . . that upon production of a copy of said survey, from the books of the Surveyor of Nelson county, the Register of the Land Office is directed to issue a Patent for said land to the heirs of said Roger Barton, Provided however, That said patent is not to prejudice the title of any person having claim to said land, adverse to said Roger Barton. Approved Feb. 17, 1837
