FIRST FOUR GENERATIONS OF THE HAYS FAMILY IN WARREN CO., KY

- Joseph Hays
Rt. 2, Box 377-A
Smiths Grove, KY. 42171

SAMUEL HAYS:

This narrative begins with Samuel Hays, a Scotch - Irish pioneer, of the Shenandoah Valley region. Little as of yet is known about Samuel except that he married and raised his family in Augusta Co., Virginia. His wife's christian name was Elizabeth but her surname is not yet known. From the Augusta County records we find a Samuel Hays in 1753 with 100 acres on the James River in the Borden Tract. In 1763 this Samuel with wife Elizabeth sold this land to William Thompson and moved onto 215 acres in the Beverly Manor that belonged to his father Patrick Hays of Derry Twp., Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. In 1769 Patrick deeded this land to Samuel and the remaining 259 acres of a 474 acre patent to Samuel's brother William Hays. (Chalkley Vol. 3, pp. 316, 368, 406, 488)

It is known that Samuel by 1779 had moved to Rutherford County, North Carolina, after their homestead burned in Virginia. Samuel remained here until 1798 when he and his family moved to Warren County, Kentucky. Only three of his children are known; James, William, and Samuel, Jr. Samuel Hays, Sr., by 1805 had died by witness the proven will of his in the Warren County Courthouse.

JAMES HAYS:

James Hays, son of Samuel Hays, Sr., was born in Augusta County, Virginia date unknown. Here he lived until the family moved to Rutherford County, North Carolina. He removed to Davidson County, Tennessee, (now Sumner County) by 1783 where he entered a land preemption right of 640 acres on the East Fork of Station Camp Cr. In 1784 on the 10th day of May, James married Rebecca Hendrick in Lincoln County, Kentucky (this county included lands just north of the Tennessee state line and south of the Green River). There is little doubt that this is the same James Hays that is mentioned by General William Hall in his eyewitness account of the attack on Greenfield Fort in Sumner County, Tennessee, on April 28, 1793 by 260 Indians. General Hall relates, "I told (Wm.) Neely, who with Hays had joined us, to take a chance at him (Indian) ... He mounted the fence and deliberately looking about him, Hays, who was ready for him, took cool aim, and shooting him through the armpits, he fell over backwards upon a hill of corn, quite dead, the blood spouting out a foot on each side of him" James Hays was cited to Secretary Daniel Smith as "a young man (who) behaved with Great Bravery for which he deserves the notice of his countrymen." James had six children born in Tennessee before moving to Warren County, Kentucky, by 1798. This year, 1798 was the arrival date of James' father and brothers from North Carolina. James was the father of ten children, seven boys and three girls, by his wife Rebecca before she died sometime after 1810. He remarried in 1820 to Mrs. Sarah (Knowles) Smith and in 1830 they along with five of their children and their respective families moved to Montgomery County, Missouri. Some of his children returned to Kentucky but James and his wife Sarah no doubt died and were buried in Missouri.

WILLIAM HAYS:

William Hays, son of Samuel Hays, Jr., was born 10 March, 1761, in Augusta County, Virginia. In 1780 after having moved with his family to Rutherford County, North Carolina, he enlisted in the NC militia under Col. Charles McDowell at Gilbert Town in Rutherford County. His regiment was defeated by the British troops under the command of Major Patrick Ferguson at Sugar Creek, SC and returned to Gilbert Town. His regiment hurried to Watauga when Major Ferguson arrived at Gilbert Town and there met regiments commanded by Col's William Campbell, Isaac Shelby, and John Sevier and together they marched to a victory at Kings Mountain, 7 October 1780. William Hays having contracted yellow fever was furloughed by his captain while at Gilbert Town and missed fighting at one of the major turning points in the war for the colonists but luckily missed the cruel proceedings which followed. When the colonial army arrived at a place now known as Red Chimneys, just west of Gilbert Town, 14 of October they sentenced twelve of their Tory prisoners to death many on trumped-up charges and succeeded in hanging nine before the proceedings were stopped. One of the Loyalist leaders put to death for murder was Capt. James Chitwood and neighbor of William Hays. Captain Chitwood was to have been more than a neighbor, he was to become his father-in-law.

That fall William journeyed to Kentucky and in the spring of 1781 he was drafted for the purpose of fortifying Fort Clark at the Falls of the Ohio and conveying from there a magazine to Harrodsburg. That same year he also volunteered to guard Denton's Station and helped to defend Hite's Station from the Indians. He stayed in Kentucky until the fall of 1785 and then returned to NC. The following year he married Frances Anne Chitwood, daughter of the above mentioned Capt. James Chitwood.

In 1798, William, his family, father and brother moved to Warren County, Kentucky. He had seven sons by his wife Frances before her death in 1803. He lived the remainder of his life in Warren County, and marrying twice more; 1) Elizabeth Greathouse, 1805, and 2) Nancy Haynes, 1841. He had no children by either of these marriages and died testate 25 September 1851 having outlived all three of his wives.

FLOWERS

The surname of Flowers may have developed from the old French term "le floer", meaning arrowmaker; from "le fleur", meaning "the flower"; or from "flour", denoting the trade of a miller. The "s" could have been added according to the Welsh custom of putting an "s" at the end of a word to indicate "son of." The name was in use in England as early as 1273, when John le Floer and William Floere were listed on the Hundred Rolls. The surname Flowers is most abundant in the English counties of Wiltshire, Dorsetshire, and Somersetshire. Flowers immigrants to America are recorded as early as 1623. Lamrock Flowers was an inhabitant of Hartford, Connecticut, in 1636. In the 1790 census of the United States, the name appears more often in North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and South Carolina than in other states.

The earliest Flowers in our lineage which has been documented is Patterson Flowers, who was born in Virginia of English and Irish origin. His son, Joel Flowers, was born in Buckingham County, Virginia, and migrated to Monroe County, Kentucky, about 1834. Perrin's History of Kentucky states that he was a soldier of the War of 1812, but that is not confirmed by records of Virginia soldiers of that war. Joel Flowers married Elizabeth Branch, a daughter of Jonathan Branch, a farmer and shoemaker who was in the 1820 census of Buckingham County, Virginia, and who also migrated to Monroe County about 1834. In Monroe County History 1820-1970, Dr. Lynwood Montell lists the Flowers family as early residents of the Indian Creek area. Joel's and Elizabeth's daughter, Mary Frances Flowers, married John Douglas Arterburn and became the grandmother of Lela Frances Brooks, who married Bertie C. Downing in 1895.

CARPENTER

Samuel Carpenter, Sr., whose son, Samuel Eaker Carpenter, married Sarah Gray Downing, was born and reared in North Carolina and served in the North Carolina Legislature before he settled in Barren (now Monroe) County, Kentucky in 1797. His wife was Catherine Eaker. Both families were of German origin, and according to Robert C. Carpenter of Route 1, box 216-A, Bessemer City, North Carolina, the Carpenter family name was originally Zimmermann. As late as 1775, Samuel was using the name Kar-pender, which was later changed to the Anglicized spelling of Carpenter. His brother Joseph, who remained in North Carolina, retained the name of Zimmermann.

Samuel Carpenter's will was probated in May 1811, mentioning children Samuel L. Carpenter, Sally Latimore, Susannah Lattimore, Margaret Orr, Barbara Skittle, Elizabeth Short, and Fanny Green Carpenter.

Samuel Eaker Carpenter, born 1791 in North Carolina, served in the Kentucky legislature from 1841 to 1842 and from 1849 to 1850. He served as a state senator from 1844 to 1845. He was a member of the First Baptist church of Scottsville, which was formed in 1841.¹ The first child of Samuel L. and Sarah Downing Carpenter was Joseph D., whose son Tibbis founded the Carpenter Drug Company, which expanded to the Carpenter-Dent chain. Samuel L. Carpenter's will was twelve pages long, not only naming out describing parcels of land left to his eight children.

GAINES

I am looking for information on the family of Peter Martin who died in Simpson Co., KY in 1820. He was married to Elizabeth Henderson whose mother was Frances Moore Henderson (died at home of daughter Lucy Henderson Gaines in 1818, Warren Co., KY). Peter and Elizabeth Martin had the following children: Mariah S, Edward L, John Henderson, Bennett H, Ann L, Malinda P, Matthew, James M, Peter, Eliza L, Lucy Jane, and Virginia Travis Martin.

The heirs of Peter Martin were defendants in suit in 1820 brought by John Lewis Moore. Other named defendants were John B. Smith, Sr. and John Lewis.

Peter and Elizabeth Martin had come from Albemarle County, VA. sometime before 1815. I think they probably come by the Sumner Co., TN route, but do not know.

Would greatly appreciate hearing from anyone having information on this line.
