COLLEGE HEIGHTS

It is our duty to sanctify this great hill by hard study; by expressing its harmony, its order, its articulation, and its stateliness in our lives; by seeing to it, that its nobility is not marred by a single mark or desecrated in any other way; by making the beautiful sunrises and sunsets which we shall witness from this hill, the rising of a soul in a world of promise and opportunity and the setting of a soul amidst the splendors of a life well lived; and by making this beautiful physical panorama that we shall witness from this hill-top and from classroom windows a spiritual panorama to be transmuted into life, and, finally, through a patriotic use of things spiritual and things material, by unlocking the door that confines an imprisoned self and allowing a new and greater citizen to step forth—a blessing to man, a servant of God.

H. H. CHERRY.
