Western Sinks U. of L. Nine, 21 to 8

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 28.—Western Teachers' College defeated the University of Louisville nine here today in the first game of a double-header by a 21 to 8 score and was leading, 9 to 7, when darkness halted the second encounter in the first half of the ninth inning. Western was off to an early and overwhelming lead of ten runs when nine hits, including four doubles and a triple, were bunched with two errors and a base on balls. Three more runs were scored in the third, two in the fourth, five in the fifth and one in the seventh to complete the toll of 21.

The Cardinals hit Oliver hard and would have made things more interesting for the Diddlemen but for errors. Jeffries, Koster, Groot and McDonald hit triples for the Kingmen that accounted for four runs but the lead of the locals was too great to overcome.

Two of the Cardinals' runs were scored in the second, two more in the third, one in the fourth and the remaining three in the ninth.

In the second game, Western again forged to the lead when Myers' triple scored L. Ellis, who had walked. However, the Cardinals came back in their half to shove across one runner when Jeffries walked, took third on Groot's single and scored on Robertson's single. Western tied the score in the fourth when Nicholson singled, took second on a fielder's choice, went to third on Tom Ellis' single and scored on another fielder's choice. Again University of Louisville wrested the lead from the locals when, in the fifth inning an error by Myers at short permitted Brennan to reach first safely. He went to second on C. Evans' error at second on which Koster also was safe, stole third and scored on Robertson's infield out.

For the third time Western tied the count in the sixth, a triple by Williams and a sacrifice fly by Tom Ellis accounting for one run. Three more runs were scored by Tom King's men in their half of the sixth and another in the seventh to end the scoring until the first of the ninth. At this juncture, Western got busy and scored six runs. Myers hit for two sacks, scoring Peyton and Morris. Nicholson also hit a double, scoring Smith and Myers. Then, with darkness rapidly closing in, Coach King demanded that the game be called which would have made the score revert back to the eighth inning since U. of L. had not batted. The umpire refused to do this when King insisted that such action would entitle his boys to the game by a score of 7 to 3. Twenty minutes were squandered in arguing the point and finally Umpire Evans left the field after declining to give a ruling, leaving the outcome of the game in doubt and both coaches claiming the victory.

WESTERN-WESLEYAN

Playing the Panthers in their own den, tired from a nerve racking victory over Louisville the day before, the Western Teachers lost to the Kentucky Wesleyan basketballers by the margin of 16-19. There is nothing to be said, only we very readily disagree from the opinion of the Courier-Journal whose writer formed the conclusion that the Winchester team is superior to that of Diddle's. Evidently the writer is an expert to derive such a broad conclusion on three points. We would suggest that he, instead of slinging a prejudiced pen, take up a career in picking basketball teams, and I am sure that undoubtedly he can tell us just how many points the University of Louisville is above the Teachers.

Stopping the sarcasm and getting down to business, the Panthers scored four points right off the reel. We have heard of teams stalling or rather freezing the ball in the final minute, but it is a new experience to witness a game of stalling throughout the entire contest. 'Tis exactly what the Panthers did. Webb, Coach of Wesleyan, sat on the bench with cold sweat flowing freely, and telling his charges to hold the ball. This they did through the fray which accounts for the close score. Now, with a team stalling, how can Mr. Gridler, writer of Courier-Journal, determine the best team. Western was never given an opening, and above all Harry Glenn, terror to opponent scorers, was watched by two Panthers like a hawk hovering above a chicken yard.

Western led by one point after thirteen minutes of the second half had passed, but Winchester tied the score with a free throw, and three minutes later Ham Glenn, pride of Wesleyan, sank a counter establishing a lead which the Teachers could not overcome.

It was the turning point of the tourney; Wesleyan beat us

WESTERN DEFEATS TENNESSEANS IN BASEBALL DOUBLE

Local Teachers Take First 7 to 6 and Second by 5 to 2

(By TOM HAZELTON)

Western Teachers added two more to their string of victories Monday and Tuesday at Murfreesboro, Tenn., at the expense of the Middle Tennessee Teachers by the scores of 7 to 6 and 5 to 2, respectively.

The Diddlemen played bangup baseball in both contests, sensational fielding and timely hitting marking the performances as among the best of the season. Rogers, Shepherdsboro boy, occupied the mound for the local Teachers in the initial contest and for four innings he blanked the Tennesseans. In the fifth, however, one run was garnered off him after the Diddlemen had lead 5 to 0 from the third inning until this stage of the game. He continued to pitch winning ball until the eighth, when a blister on his pitching hand forced him to retire with the score 7 to 6 in favor of Western, after four runs had been scored by the Murfreesboro lads. Oliver finished the contest, holding his opponents in check during the remainder of that stanza and the next. In this game the locals were out-hit, 10 to 8, but their blows came when needed, while the Tennesseans were wasting hits in all but three innings.

Basil Smith occupied the mound for Western in the second encounter and the big fellow held Middle Tennessee in check throughout. He granted ten hits, but kept them so well scattered that they amounted to nothing except in third and sixth innings, when the Murfreesboro tallies were chalked up. Smith struck out ten men and added one more hit to his fattening list.

Carl Evans pulled the most sensational fielding stunt of the two games when he dived at a hot grounder that looked like a sure hit, spearing the apple and throwing from a prone position to nip the runner at first. Rogers also contributed a fancy fielding stunt in the second contest by making a shoestring catch of a liner to right field.

According to Coach Diddle and others who saw the game, head-up baseball was necessary to beat the Tennesseans, as they had added several players to their roster and played a greatly improved game over their performances on the local diamond.

Western Trims Transy Nine By 6 to 2

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 14.—Western Teachers defeated Transylvania in the second game of their two-game series here this afternoon by 6 to 2 after having trailed the Pioneers until the fifth inning, when the Teachers scored three runs.

Only three errors were committed during the contest, two of them being charged to Transy players and the other to Western. Western hammered out eleven hits, six of them being bunched in two innings to score their six runs, while Transy recorded seven safeties, which Oliver, Baugh and Peyton, Western twirlers, kept well scattered.

Oliver started for the Pedagogues, working seven innings and allowing only four hits. Baugh twirled in the eighth stanza, retiring the side in one, two, three order via the strike-out route and then gave way to a pinch hitter. Peyton finished up the contest by allowing three hits in the final frame.

Extra base blows were fewer today than yesterday. Western's sluggers clouting out two and Transy getting one. Matheny of Transy and Nicholson of Western hit doubles and B. Evans of Western crashed out a triple. Nicholson, Tom Ellis and Ashcraft were Western's best bets in the hitting line, getting two safeties each. Dickinson and Jones of the Pioneers socked a like number of safeties.

Western's next games are with Middle Tennessee Normal here on April 14 and 15.

Basil Smith Defeats Centre 5-4 After His Mates Win Opener 7-5

Big Fellow Blasts in Four Runs and Scores
Other Personally to Capture Eleven-Inning Tilt

(By TOM HAZELTON)

When duty whispered low, 'Thou must,' "Baz" Smith replied, 'I can.'

And he did! So satisfactorily, in fact, that his name will be inscribed in the Hall of Fame at Western alongside those who have made athletic history as having been the man who turned the greatest single feat ever performed by a Western student.

It is possible, but not probable, that in years to come some other pitcher will equal Smith's feat, but it is safe to say that none will surpass it. Seldom, if ever, has baseball seen one man defeat nine others on the baseball diamond as "Baz" did here Saturday in the second game of a double header with the Centre College Colonels, after eleven innings of thrilling baseball.

Western had won the first game from the Colonels by 7 to 5 after a tough battle and it was the fourth inning with one out when Smith stepped into the picture to show the Danville boys that while "a stitch in time may save nine" a "Smith in time beats nine." At the time of his assuming the pitching burden, the score stood at 3 to 0 against Western. Faurest, Colonel center fielder, was at bat. "Baz" started out in his usual form by busting Faurest in the ribs and walking Petrie, but from then on, it would have been difficult to convince a Centre man that Dazzy Vance or Grover Alexander was not pitching for Western.

After his fatal start, Smith made Varney, Centre twirler, ground out to second, for the second out. Harris then singled, scoring Faurest, but Smith bore down and fanned Thompson to retire the side. Not another man was able to hit Smith safely from then on until the seventh inning, when two singles were flung from Colonel bats but did no damage. Those three hits told the story insofar as Centre was concerned, for those who were not easy infield outs, went out via the ozone route, Smith whiffing 12 men in all. He walked two other men besides the first one, and they were the only Colonels fortunate enough to reach first base except for the two who singled in the seventh and died without advancing further than the initial sack, one being doubled off first by Williams on a foul fly and the other remaining there to expire when Purdom flied out.

In the meantime, "Baz" was not depending upon his prowess as a pitcher to establish his right to a place in the Hall of Fame. The alleged heavy end of the batting order having failed to produce runs, though hitting now and then, Smith went to work to pull the contest out of the fire. His first base blow was contributed in the sixth stanza, a nifty little single over second. He took second when Curly Ellis was safe on Thompson's muff of Udlock's throw. Myers singled, sending Smith around in the direction of third, where Faurest tried to nip him but failed when he threw wildly to Purdom. Ellis went to third on the play but died there when Nicholson fanned and Williams flied out to right.

All the more remarkable were the next three hits made by Smith as they were garnered with two out and the ball game apparently resting in Centre's embrace. Many of the customers, thinking this to be the case, went home in the ninth before seeing Smith put the reverse English on the Colonels and thereby did something for which they will be a long time forgiving themselves.

But to get back to the seventh inning. Tom Ellis, first man up, singled sharply to left. Bulldog Evans flied out to left. Carl Evans was safe on a fielder's choice that retired Tom at second. The play was an attempted double but Goings handled the ball poorly and threw wild at first, Carl going to second. Rogers bounced a single off Thompson's glove, Evans halting at third. Rogers stole second and Smith came through with a base knock over second, scoring both Evans and Rogers.

The eighth stanza was unproductive of excitement except that occasioned by Smith's fanning out three Centre men. But in the ninth it was different. B. Evans went out on an infield blow that seemed sure to go for a hit. Carl Evans struck out. Rogers again came through with a sockdolager that would have been good for two and maybe three bases had not Petrie made a beautiful one-hand stop of the knock as it took a hop far to one side of him. Again Rogers stole second, going to third when Hyatt's throw went to center field. Captain Thompson, Coach Biles and the Centre players conferred over the advisability of walking Smith, but evidently decided that he was just a morning glory and would shrivel up and fan out. But "Baz" had no such intention and on the second ball pitched, he socked a third single that tantalized Goings, going just too near first for him to reach. L. Ellis went out to center to retire the side. In Centre's half of the ninth, Western having batted first, Smith struck out two men and walked the other, but Williams erased this one on an attempted steal.

Nothing occurred in the tenth except Nicholson's double, but he was erased at third on an infield out, so the rally produced little enthusiasm. Then came the eleventh and the final feature of the game that brought the fans out of the stands to smother Smith in congratulations and embraces. With two out, Rogers was safe at first on Varney's error, Udlock fielding the apple and throwing it a mile over Thompson's head to permit Rogers to go to second. Two balls were served Smith and neither was within a yard of the plate. Centre was afraid of him and Varney was trying to walk the big fellow. However, this did not coincide with Smith's plans, so he picked out a nice high one that was meant for ball three and socked it to right-center. Rogers cantered home with the winning run.

Centre threw two pinch hitters into the fray in her half of the eleventh in an effort to tie the count, but Smith added their name to his list of strikeout victims after having fanned Hyatt for the first out.

Beside the feats of Smith, other features of the game were the ability of Rogers to get on at opportune moments; Cy Williams' excellent catching and Harris' hitting. Cy hung up a record for catchers in the collegiate game to shot at when he assisted in seven putouts. Oliver pitched nice ball in the first contest and in both games the fielding was, as a rule, exceptionally good.

Kentucky Colleges Can Depend On State Material for Coaches

WESTERN NORMAL PILOT MAY BECOME RIVAL OF MORAN.

By HENRY CLAY ANDERSON.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 16—Now that "Jack" Winn has been made coach at the University of Kentucky it seems as if Kentucky schools will not have to depend upon outside material for mentors in athletics. One of the newest and most promising coaches in collegiate athletics is Ed Diddle of the Western Kentucky Teachers' College and Normal School at Bowling Green. Diddle, a native of Columbia, Ky., was chosen by Athletic Director Smith and started off with a boom by beating the University of Louisville team in the first football game of the season.

Athletics had never been given a place in the activities of the Western school before this year, which made Diddle's task all the harder, but undaunted he whipped into shape a team which lost but one game on a schedule of ten, and that to the strong Vanderbilt Reserve team at Nashville.

Diddle's men scored a total of 242 points to their opponents 18, which speaks for his ability as a coach. Every man on the squad of thirty-two will return for next year.

Diddle may duplicate the feat of his old football tutor Charlie Moran at Centre, where he was captain of the football team in '16. He also was basketball captain in '19, when he was picked as a member of several of the post season mythical all-State and all-Southern squads. He is doing double duty this winter as coach of both Varsity basketball teams at Western, girls and boys, each team having a full schedule with Diddle's Alma Mater being scheduled against the boys' team at Danville tomorrow. Both teams have made the same auspicious beginning as did the football team. The boys' Varsity defeated the Diddle has arranged a heavy schedule for both teams which is given below, and if he has the same success as in football, the Western Kentucky Teachers' College stands a chance to take a place in the collegiate athletic world along side her famous neighbor at Danville.

BETHEL WINS ONE FROM WESTERN IN TWELVE INNINGS

Baptists Score Winning Tally on Blow By "Froggie" Thorp

(By TOM HAZELTON)

Bethel College and Western tangled at the Fairgrounds Saturday in another of the games for which they have become famous and Bethel finally emerged victor, 6 to 5, after twelve innings of neck and neck battling.

The Baptists were the first to score, bringing in two runs in the opening stanza when Newman, first up, hit a single, stole second and scored on Thorp's base blow. Thomas and C. Wines flied out to Rogers and Stephens was safe on Red Myers' error. Thorp scoring during attempts to field the ball. Duncan then went out, C. Evans od's fast ones. Wildly to catch him at third, scoring a moment later on an infield out.

Western counted again in the sixth when Nicholson drew a pass and cantered home ahead of Cy Williams when the latter blasted out a homer. It looked like big doings in this inning, when a moment later, Tom Ellis socked a double that just cleared the third sack, but he was doubled off second when Bulldog Evans cracked a liner into Stephens' outstretched hand. Bethel was unable to score in the sixth, seventh and eighth, while Western's only other scoring effort prior to the tying tally in the ninth, was produced in the seventh on Carl Evans' single and successive errors by Thorp and Newman. Duncan counted Bethel's run in the ninth when he was safe on an error, took third on Underwood's single and waited for Newman to come up and blast out a hit before scoring. Then Western tied the count again in the ninth when C. Evans singled, went to second on a but by Oliver that was intended for a sacrifice but went for a hit, was sacrificed to third by Les Ellis and scored on Myers' sacrifice fly to left field.

The tenth and eleventh innings saw neither side scoring, though both produced threats. Bethel's coming in the tenth and Western's in the eleventh. In the tenth, Froggie Thorp hit his third safe blow of the encounter, a double. He went to third on C. Wines' infield out, but expired at the plate when M. Wines tried to squeeze him in. Western's threat was a two-bagger by Carl Evans, but his mates could not push him on around. Oliver whiffing and Les Ellis flying out to left.

Bethel scored the winning run on a single by Newman, an error by Myers and Thorp's fourth hit of the day. Western staged a rally that put three men on in her half of the twelfth, but fell short when John Morris, batting for Rogers, hit to first for the third out. Nicholson was safe on C. Wines' error. He went to third when Thomas came in too far to catch Williams' line drive, which just brushed his glove but died there after B. Evans had drawn a pass. Nicholson could easily have scored on the error by Thomas had it not appeared so certain the Bethel outfielder would make the catch and when the ball went on through the Baptist outfielder, Sammy was in the act of scampering back to first to prevent a possible double play and the time lost in getting started again cost a run.

Western and Bethel will meet twice more on the local diamond before the school year closes, so at least two more good games are assured local fans.

AN GUMES TUESDAY TO PLAY PEDAGOGUES

Methodist Nine Performs in City Twice During Week

(By TOM HAZELTON)

Western and Kentucky Wesleyan are slated to cross bats twice on the old athletic field on Russellville pike this week, the first contest being set for tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock and the second being down for Friday afternoon at the same hour.

Wesleyan is playing the University of Louisville at Louisville this afternoon and unless the men of the Methodist institution are first-class grippers as well as fairly good ball players, they won't have a chance with the Kingmen, as the latter always plays just enough baseball to make a box score imperative and takes the rest out in chin music.

The Cardinals are still croaking about an alleged victory they scored over Western in one game of a double header here last month. Their alibi on that game, the windup of which was 9 to 7 in Western's favor, was that the contest should have been declared off in the eighth inning on account of darkness, which would have given them the victory by 7 to 4. But at the time of the eighth inning no

Teachers Are Leading 7 to 0 In Home Coming Day Tilt With Cardinal Eleven Here

Powerful University Of Louisville Team Fails To Make Score

By T. PERRY WESLEY

Sports Editor Times-Journal

Western Stadium, Nov. 5.—A cold wind sweeping across the field chilled the crowd which watched the Hilltoppers clash with the Cardinals for honors in Western's Homecoming Day game, which was played here this afternoon. Coach Ed Diddle's boys came onto the field and were hailed with a roar of applause and went into a series of runs to get warmed up. The University of Louisville team received a noisy ovation and began warming up on the field.

Teachers West

Special to The Bowling Green, Ky. Times-Journal. In a sea of blue and white, the Kentucky Teachers College Wesleyan football team played here this afternoon. The game was played in excellent conditions, it was one throughout. The Western used almost no substitution on the bench.

The game opened with the Teachers being downed on the first play. Killbrew made five yards on the line and a first down was gained. In the next two plays the Teachers gained twelve yards around Wesleyan's halfback. Wesleyan's halfback passed on his 10-yard line and was downed in his trap. The ball was punted to the 40-yard line on the next play. Wesleyan then received a first down on the 40-yard line. Wesleyan made a first down and the next play. The ball was between the posts, however, then blocked a Wesleyan's result made the Teachers' touchdown. The try for point failed. After the kick-off the quarter ended with the ball on Wesleyan's 35-yard line.

Williams Kicks Field Goal.

Wesleyan lost fifteen yards on the first two plays of the second quarter. Wesleyan kicked to Nicholson on his 43-yard line. Adkins threw Western for a 5-yard loss. On the next play Williams ran forty yards and had an open field for a touchdown, when he dropped the slick ball on the 10-yard line. He recovered, however. The Teachers were unable to score a touchdown, but Williams kicked a field goal.

As Dr. H. H. Cherry, president of Western Kentucky State Teachers College, introduced several speakers at the formal dedication exercises of the stadium, an airplane, piloted by Lieut. Frank Datin, circled overhead, and at a height of 800 feet dropped the football to be used in the game. The ball fell at one corner of the gridiron and bounced several times before it was caught by Bruce Harrison and given to the referee.

Playing straight football, neither team scored in the first quarter. The score at the end of the first quarter was: Teachers, 0; Louisville, 0.

Captain Throgmorton, recovering Koster's fumble behind the University of Louisville's line, made a touchdown in the second quarter, and Williams made the extra point by booting the ball over the Cardinal goal. The score was 7 to 0 in favor of Western Kentucky State Teachers College as the crowd that filled the new stadium cheered themselves hoarse at the end of the second quarter.

Teachers Easily Down Wesleyan By 22 to 0

Special to The Courier-Journal.
Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 30.—Playing in a sea of mud, the Western Kentucky Teachers' College defeated Wesleyan by the score of 22-0 here this afternoon. Although the game was played under unfavorable conditions, it was an interesting one throughout. Coach Diddle of Western used almost every substitute on the bench.

The game opened with Western being downed on her 30-yard line. Killbrew made five yards through the line and a first down was made in the next two plays. Williams made twelve yards around end. Adkins, Wesleyan halfback, intercepted a pass on his 10-yard line and was downed in his tracks. Western then failed to make a first down and drop-kicked on the next play. The ball did not go between the posts, however. Weaver then blocked a Wesleyan punt and as a result made the Teachers' first touchdown. The try for point failed. After the kick-off the quarter ended with the ball on Wesleyan's 35-yard line.

Williams Kicks Field Goal.

Wesleyan lost fifteen yards on the first two plays of the second quarter. Wesleyan kicked to Nicholson on his 43-yard line. Adkins threw Wesleyan for a 5-yard loss. During the first half, the Normal team went through the Evansville line will and within three minutes of the opening had registered their first touchdown, Reynolds carrying the ball forty yards for the score after breaking through the Evansville line. The second quarter netted Bowling Green second touchdown when "Cy" Williams, half, carried the ball ten yards through the Purple line. Interference on the part of the Normal team was reflected.

The Evansville aces played their opponents on even terms during the third quarter. Both teams resorted to punting. On two occasions, the Evansville team held the Teachers on punts when the ball was within a yard of the goal line. Neither team scored.

In the final quarter the Evansville defense crumbled and the Kentucky team went through and around the line

The next time Western got the ball a touchdown was made via pass from Nicholson to Killbrew. The try for point failed. Little ground-gaining was accomplished by either during the remainder of this quarter.

At the beginning of the last quarter, Wesleyan was forced to punt. On the next play, Williams of Western, made a beautiful 35-yard run for a touchdown. Williams then kicked the goal.

At this stage of the game, Coach Diddle began running in substitutes and continued to do so until the end of the game. The game ended with the Wesleyan Panthers marching down the field through the Western reserves.

ball in the second half and while the Western Teachers scored 21 points they themselves increased their point total by sixteen markers.

Of the ten Berea men used in the game, Curtis Johnson was the only one who could do a great deal. He scored four field goals and two free shots. Louisville and Western Teachers showed power this afternoon and the game between those two teams tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock may be the feature game of the tournament.

Transy Wins.

In the first game Thursday night, Transylvania defeated the Eastern State Teachers' College five, 36 to 26. The scoring efforts of Transy were led by Jack Curtice, Louisville Male High School student two years ago, who amassed fifteen counters. In the last half Curtice and Camp staged a spurt that netted Transy sixteen points. Each of them scored eight points in this period.

The floor work of Camp and the shooting of Curtice stamped them as the best pair of forwards to have exhibited at the State meet so far. Camp added a neat defensive game to his record, stopping many Eastern plays. Gentry led the Eastern Teacher scorers with nine points, while Deaton excelled on defense.

C. A. Webb, who last year coached at Kentucky Wesleyan, is the Transylvania coach. Coach Webb introduced the idea of an intercollegiate basketball tournament into Kentucky. This is the third year of the meet.

Gov. Flem D. Sampson gave the opening address of the tournament. In the Governor's party were Mayor D. B. Scoble of Winchester; Dr. Charles J. Turk, president of Centre College; Dr. George Colvin, president of the University of Louisville; Dean John T. O'Rourke of the University of Louisville Dental School; B. M. Brigman, dean of Speed Scientific School of the U. of L.; Coach Tom King and Prof. Ralph E. Hill, head of the mathematics department of the University of Louisville.

In the second game on the night's card, Georgetown College walloped Kentucky Wesleyan by 44 to 27. Wesleyan led most of the first half but slumped near half-time to be behind at the whistle by 19 to 14. In the second half Allen and Hawkins got into action and caged eight field goals between them to put Georgetown far in the lead.

Hawkins led the Georgetown scorers with fifteen points while Allen was close behind with thirteen and Boswell came next with ten. Hummel led the Wesleyan point-getters with eight.

ch Louisville and Western Teach showed power this afternoon and the game between those two teams tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock may be the feature game of the tournament.

Transy Wins.
 In the first game Thursday night, Transylvania defeated the Eastern State Teachers' College five, 36 to 26. The scoring efforts of Transy were led by Jack Curtice, Louisville Male High School student two years ago, who amassed fifteen counters. In the last half Curtice and Camp staged a spurt that netted Transy sixteen points. Each of them scored eight points in this period.

The floor work of Camp and the shooting of Curtice stamped them as the best pair of forwards to have exhibited at the State meet so far. Camp added a neat defensive game to his record, stopping many Eastern plays. Gentry led the Eastern Teacher scorers with nine points while Deaton excelled on defense.

C. A. Webb, who last year coached at Kentucky Wesleyan, is the Transylvania coach. Coach Webb introduced the idea of an intercollegiate basketball tournament into Kentucky. This is the third year of the meet.

Gov. Flem D. Sampson gave the opening address of the tournament. In the Governor's party were Mayor D. B. Scobie of Winchester; Dr. Charles J. Turck, president of Centre College; Dr. George Colvin, president of the University of Louisville; Dean John T. O'Rourke of the University of Louisville Dental School; B. M. Brigman, dean of Speed Scientific School of the U. of L.; Coach Tom King and Prof. Ralph E. Hill, head of the mathematics department of the University of Louisville.

In the second game on the night's card, Georgetown College walloped Kentucky Wesleyan by 44 to 27. Wesleyan led most of the first half but slumped near half-time to be behind at the whistle by 19 to 14. In the second half Allen and Hawkins got into action and caged eight field goals between them to put Georgetown far in the lead.

Hawkins led the Georgetown scorers with fifteen points while Allen was close behind with thirteen and Boswell came next with ten. Hummell led the Wesleyan point-getters with eight.

Winchester, Feb. 23.—Coach Tom King's University of Louisville Cardinals and the Centre College Colonels opened the 1927-28 Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament here in the Kentucky Wesleyan College gymnasium this afternoon and the Cardinals now are past their first obstacle in their quest for the championship of Kentucky. The Kingmen disposed of the men of Potthoff by 36 to 17. The game was the third meeting of the teams and the third victory for the Cardinals over the Colonels. The other two scores between Louisville and Centre were 33 to 17 in the game at Danville, and 36 to 21 in the game at Louisville.

Western Teachers' College and the Berea College quintette met in the second game of the tournament and the men of Coach Ed Diddle were victors by 38-22. The game was the third meeting of these two teams, Western Teachers won the other two games by 45 to 31 and 32 to 24.

Louisville had no difficulty in mauling Centre. The first half was particularly close, ending 19 to 10, but in the second half, Centre was not in any way able to combat the Louisville team. Three field goals and one free throw were all the Cardinals allowed the Colonels to score. In the first half, three field goals were all the Colonels scored, but they were count four foul goals.

Libbey First to Score.
Louisville and Centre spent the first three minutes of the game "feeling out" the other. Libbey sank a free throw given him at the expense of Maggard and Staley made one at Libbey's expense to tie the count at 1-1.

Maggard looped one in from the foul line to put Centre ahead of the Cardinals for the only time they were very close to even tying the men of King. Craddock flipped in one from the foul line and then another and Louisville was ahead to stay 36-0. Eddie Weber sank four field goals to lead Louisville point-makers. Ben McDonald, who was used as a substitute for Weber and for Craddock, accounted for three field goals and a free throw. Clyde Miller, substitute center, got in for his share of the point-garnering by dropping in three loopers. Browne and Craddock each registered five points. Liberty was credited with four.

Staley Scores Six Points

Staley scored six points and O'Neill, is nearest Centre rival for scoring honors, registered four markers.

Centre had fifteen personal fouls called on it and Louisville was charged with fourteen personals. Louisville made only six of the fifteen free throws. Centre made five free throws out of fifteen chances.

Ingormorton was the outstanding player in the Western-Berea game. He scored fourteen points to lead the attack. Hornback and Ellis also were instrumental in the destruction of Berea. Evans of Berea was the first scorer. At one time during the first half, Western was ahead by 9 to 2. The score at the end of the first half was 17 to 6 in favor of the Didsmen.

WESTERN DEFEATS BEREA FOR RIGHT TO BATTLE CARDS

Transy and Georgetown Also Victors at State Tourney

Western Teachers College came through the first game of the Intercollegiate Net Tournament for the state title in which the men of Diddle have taken part, by a score of 38 to 22 against the Berea College Mountaineers. The game was the second on the day's program, the first day of the three-day meeting. Other winners of the day were University of Louisville over Centre, 36 to 17, Transylvania over Eastern, 36 to 26, and Georgetown over Wesleyan, 44 to 27.

As a result of their victories Western and University of Louisville clash this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock while in the first afternoon game. Centre and Berea tangle in a consolation game. Eastern and Wesleyan meet in the evening consolation number at 7:15 while Transylvania and Georgetown go to bat at 8:30 o'clock in the semi-finals.

Saturday, there will be only two games, that between the losers of the 2 o'clock and 7:15 Friday games and the final between the winner of the Friday 3:15 and 8:30 game.

Winners yesterday were favored to emerge victorious from their first encounters. Louisville played up to form to defeat Centre, making it three over the Colonels for the season, while Western's tourney win over Berea was also the third of the year. Transylvania showed its best form in defeating Eastern while Georgetown loafed through the game with Wesleyan to win at will.

Eddie Weber and Bennie McDonald were stars of the Louisville outfit in the first game while Throgmorton was outstanding in the Western-Berea fracas. Hornback and Ellis also played well for the local boys. Camp and Curtice were instrumental in Transy's win, their 12 and 15 points respectively being enough to put the game on ice. Gentry was best for Eastern with 9 points. Allen Boswell, and Hawkins, the big guns of the Tigers, played havoc with Wesleyan, scoring 13, 10 and 15 points respectively of the 44 accredited to their team. Hummel and Strother were best for Wesleyan with 8 and 6 points.

WESTERN LOST TO CARDS BY 35 TO 29

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 25.—The University of Louisville Cardinals defeated the Western Teachers' College quintet in the first semi-final game of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Basket Ball Tournament here Friday noon by 35 to 29. The Cards will meet Georgetown in the finals tonight. Georgetown defeated Transy, 27 to 16, in the final game Friday night.

Louisville led by 18 to 13 at half time, but the Teachers threatened repeatedly in the closing period and at one point trailed by only three markers.

The only other game of the afternoon program was a consolation tilt between Berea and Centre, Centre winning by 40 to 18.

In the first game on the night's card, Eastern Teachers' College defeated Kentucky Wesleyan, 31 to 22.

For the second twenty minutes during the second half of their game with the Western Teachers' College basketeers, the University of Louisville netmen were played on almost even terms. The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 13. That last half was the greatest twenty minutes of basket ball that those who crowded the Kentucky Wesleyan gymnasium for each session have seen during the tournament.

The Louisville-Western game was the kind needed to put the fans back into the right kind of a mood, for the first consolation game was as slow and uninteresting as any of the games yet played. Centre had absolutely no trouble after the first half and buried Berea under an avalanche of points to win by 40 to 18.

Eddie Weber, Coach Tom King's ace in the hole, almost paralyzed the Pedagogues with his accurate shooting. Even the fans feared him for they continually cried "watch Eddie." If Eddie Weber had not been in the game, Louisville might be out of the tournament, but he was in the game and Louisville and the winner of the Georgetown College-Transylvania University game will battle it out in the final tonight.

Except for about two or three minutes near the end of the game, Louisville played deliberate basket ball and its slow, powerful drive running into a quick break under the basket was too much for the Western netmen.

Louisville's success against Western is due in part to the guarding. The work of Cline Miller, who was substituted for Libbey, especially was outstanding. Miller milled around under his banking board and when a Western player cut loose, Miller stepped and if Spencer or Browne did not snag the ball, Miller did. Seldom the Western forwards were able to get through and take more than one shot at the hoop.

Both of the teams had to resort to much shooting from outside the foul line, and the shots that the Teachers made in the last period, when they were closest to the Cardinals, were the most sensational of the tournament. Hornback let loose one from outside the foul line that put the Pedagogues within three points of the Kingman and the crowd, almost for Western to the man, went wild. Myers, a substitute forward, also put through a shot when Western needed it. With two minutes to go, Throgmorton looped one in from the vicinity of the seventeen-foot line. Weber ended the scoring with another of his loopers from outside the foul zone.

Louisville was ahead by four and five points throughout the first half and never was the team approached nearer than three points. In the first half it was Western Teachers committing all the personal fouls and in the second half it was Louisville. Louisville was charged with fourteen personals and one technical and Western had fifteen personals. Louisville had 21 chances and made eleven of them. Western had 17 chances and made nine of them.

It is hard to decide which of the Western team did the most for it. Hornback crashed thru with points when they were needed, Ellis totalled eight, Winkenhoffer was the defensive power of the Teachers and the man that started the drives toward scoring.

Western Represents S. I. A. A. In Tourney

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 25 (AP)—By a strange trick of fate, the team winning the Kentucky intercollegiate basketball tournament will not represent Kentucky at the S. I. A. A. tournament at Chattanooga this year.

Robert T. Hinton, secretary of the association, announced today upon his return from Atlanta that Western State Teachers' College of Bowling Green would represent the State. The Teachers were eliminated from tournament play yesterday by the University of Louisville, which met Georgetown College tonight to determine the tournament winner.

Hinton, in explaining that Western Normal was given the call over Georgetown and Louisville, said the association did not select the representatives on basis of local tournament outcome, but on the basis of games played throughout the season. Each team, to be eligible, must have played eight games. He said the association committee considered the records of Western, Louisville and Georgetown and found that Western's record was six wins and five losses; Georgetown, six wins and six losses, and Louisville, five wins and two losses, the Louisville team being out because of only having played seven games.

The committee will not consider but two games played with any S. I. A. A. team and neither Georgetown nor Louisville were able to improve their standing in the tournament which closed tonight. Louisville was credited with a victory over Western last night, thereby running its average to five won and two lost. Had Louisville drawn any other team but Centre, which they already had played twice, the Cardinals would have had a better standing.

Coaches Walter Hovater of Georgetown and Tom King of Louisville said they were satisfied with the percentage basis and said it was the best way of selecting the conference representative.

all in the second half and while the Western Teachers scored 21 points they themselves increased their point total by sixteen markers.

Of the ten Berea men used in the game, Curtis Johnson was the only one who could do a great deal. He scored four field goals and two free throws.

Both Louisville and Western Teachers showed power this afternoon and the game between those two teams tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock may be the feature game of the tournament.

Transy Wins.

In the first game Thursday night, Transylvania defeated the Eastern State Teachers' College five, 36 to 26. The scoring efforts of Transy were led by Jack Curtice, Louisville Male High School student two years ago, who amassed fifteen counters. In the last half Curtice and Camp staged a spurt that netted Transy sixteen points. Each of them scored eight points in this period.

The floor work of Camp and the shooting of Curtice stamped them as the best pair of forwards to have exhibited at the State meet so far. Camp added a neat defensive game to his record, stopping many Eastern plays. Gentry led the Eastern Teacher scorers with nine points while Deaton excelled on defense.

C. A. Webb, who last year coached at Kentucky Wesleyan, is the Transylvania coach. Coach Webb introduced the idea of an intercollegiate basketball tournament into Kentucky. This is the third year of the meet.

Gov. Flem D. Sampson gave the opening address of the tournament. In the Governor's party were Mayor D. B. Scobie of Winchester; Dr. Charles J. Turck, president of Centre College; Dr. George Colvin, president of the University of Louisville; Dean John T. O'Rourke of the University of Louisville Dental School; B. M. Brigman, dean of Speed Scientific School of the U. of L.; Coach Tom King and Prof. Ralph E. Hill, head of the mathematics department of the University of Louisville.

In the second game on the night's card, Georgetown College walloped Kentucky Wesleyan by 44 to 27. Wesleyan led most of the first half but slumped near half-time to be behind at the whistle by 19 to 14. In the second half Allen and Hawkins got into action and caged eight field goals between them to put Georgetown far in the lead.

Hawkins led the Georgetown scorers with fifteen points while Allen was close behind with thirteen and Boswell came next with ten. Hummell led the Wesleyan point-getters with eight.

Western Beats Transy By 14-9

Special to The Courier-Journal.
Bowling Green, Ky., April 13.—
Coach Ed Diddle's Western Teachers inaugurated their 1928 baseball season here this afternoon by trouncing the Transylvania Pioneers 14 to 9. Coach Diddle used seventeen men in the game in order to give everybody on the squad a chance to perform. His frequent changes caused unsteadiness in his team's fielding, five errors being committed. The Pioneers made ten errors. These errors with ten hits, which included a homer, two triples and two doubles with men on bases, caused Transy's defeat. Baugh started on the mound for Western, working three innings without granting a hit. He struck out five men and issued only one pass, then was jerked to give Smith a chance. The latter, though wild, allowed only six safeties in the next three innings. Peyton twirled the last inning, the contest being called in the seventh on account of darkness. The two teams meet again here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Western Whips M. T. T. C. By 21 to 2

Special to The Courier-Journal.
Bowling Green, Ky., April 24.—
Western Teachers' College won its third game in as many starts here this afternoon when it trounced Middle Tennessee Teachers' College from Murfreesboro by a 21 to 2 score. Thirteen hits, together with fourteen errors on the part of Tennessee players, were bunched in four innings by the Diddlemen to score four, nine, five and three runs, respectively. The Teachers lost no time in snatching an opportunity to score, four runs being driven across the plate in the initial stanza when four errors accounted for one run and left the bases filled until Tom Ellis smacked out a long two-bagger to score all three runners. Things went along quietly after this until the fifth inning when Coach Diddle's men scored nine runs on seven hits and three errors. In the meantime, Oliver, Western's righthanded ace had held the Tennesseans to three bingles, which had done no damage and it was not until the seventh, when Smith went into the box for Western, that the visitors were permitted to score. In this seventh inning they pushed two men across the plate on two hits and a couple of passes. Smith then settled down and retired the side. Western scored five runs of her remaining eight runs in her half of the sixth and added the final squario of markers in the eighth. Westerners watched their opportunities and converted them into runs later in the game, errors on the part of the local infielders contributing to the success of every scoring attempt made by the boys from Murfreesboro. Baugh started the contest for Bowling Green, but was yanked from the box in the fourth with two men out after Askins had tripled down the first base line. Les Ellis was the only Westerner to garner more than one of the eight safeties recorded for the Diddlemen, his total being two. Western's next opponent is the University of Louisville, which comes here Saturday for a double-header, the first game starting at 1:30 o'clock. The score:

Western Loses To Tennessee Teachers

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 25.—The Middle Tennessee Teachers turned on their conquerors of yesterday and captured the second of a two-game series from the Western Teachers College here today by a score of 8 to 1. Off to an early lead in the first inning the Teachers played such a bang-up game afield that would-be rallies on the part of Western were squelched. The Tennesseans also watched their opportunities and converted them into runs later in the game, errors on the part of the local infielders contributing to the success of every scoring attempt made by the boys from Murfreesboro. Baugh started the contest for Bowling Green, but was yanked from the box in the fourth with two men out after Askins had tripled down the first base line.

Louisville Net Team To Leave Today for Long Awaited Tests

The University of Louisville basketball squad will leave at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Winchester, where the Cardinals will participate in the Kentucky Inter-Collegiate Tournament which opens there Monday afternoon. Coach King will rely upon Gentile, Marks, Blackerby, Koster, Weber, Daugherty, Roth and Borgman to carry his colors to victory in the tournament which will determine Kentucky's representative in the S. I. A. A. Tournament which will be held at Macon, Ga.

What chance the Cardinals have is hard to say. Any team is likely to win this tourney, so open does it seem. Of the eight aggregations entered, not one is outstanding. All have played brilliant basketball at times, only to follow it with the most hopeless sort of a game.

From reports which have come from Winchester, the game between the University of Louisville and Western State Normal, which opens the tournament at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, is the feature of the first round. The Teachers recently defeated Vanderbilt, and this feat has caused out-of-town fans to regard the Teachers as the winners over the Cardinals, but the men of Coach King can't see it that way.

The tournament has aroused the keenest of interest throughout the State, and Winchester is preparing to give a throng of visitors a royal time.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 20 (AP)—The stage is all set for the beginning of the Kentucky intercollegiate basketball tournament which opens here Monday. Play opens in the early afternoon when the University of Louisville Cardinals meet Coach Ed Diddle's Western Teachers. The second game will be the Ogden Wesleyan battle. Transylvania and Georgetown oppose each other in the third game and Centre battles Berea in the fourth, the latter two being played at night.

The Cardinal-Western Teachers' battle bids fair to be the feature of the day, though all teams appear evenly matched.

The Cardinals and Pedagogues have fought two close battles this season, the Cards winning the first by a one-point margin, but losing the next by three points. Most critics expect the teachers to win on account of their recent impressive victory over Vanderbilt.

Advance seat sales for the tournament have been heavy, more than 700 reservations already having been made. Georgetown has reservations for the entire student body for the Georgetown-Transylvania game.

Western Gains Revenge On Kingmen By Handing Them 3-Point Beating

Game Was Thriller From Start To Finish and Winner Was Not Decided Until End

(By Alvis Temple)

ALL the elements of a good novel were contained in Western's 31 to 28 victory over University of Louisville last night on the Teacher's own floor, and the splendid arrangement of the chapters of excitement more than pleased the large crowd that overflowed the gymnasium.

The lead established by the Louisville bunch was kept interesting during the first half owing to the closeness of the count and although the Kingmen were leading on a 16 to 12 tally at the end of the period, there was plenty of promise for a good fight in the final section.

The promise was fulfilled from the instant the ball was tossed into the air until the gun called the time, and when Glenn came forward with a goal as the climax of the last fifteen seconds of play and Denning tossed a foul shot after the time was out, there was a good repetition of "they all lived happily ever after." That shot of Glenn made history according to Western fans. Just as soon as time was over every one of them surged onto the floor and there were enough backslaps and congratulations administered various members of the team to tide over a long period of utter friendlessness.

Individuality on the part of the Westerners probably kept the victory as narrow as it was. The Teachers have shown more teamwork this season than they displayed last night and will be forced to again reach that level of development before they can cut much of a figure at the tournament.

Craddock seemed to be the bright light on the King outfit. He established a tally of nine points which, strangely enough, was equaled by three Westerners, and was the high point mark of the contest. Blackerby repeated his performance against Ogden and took an early journey to the bench with a record of four personal fouls in fourteen minutes.

For Western, Hornback demonstrated the most class. He is aifty performer and has a smooth style of action. Denning was only credited with nine points but a persistent travel took several marks off of his scoring. Ed Ward was back in center after a lay-off of several games and did fair work. He was succeeded by Throgmorton after a short time who played in a consistent style. Winkenhoffer being saved on account of an injured knee and had little opportunity last night. At the guards Glenn and Mansfield had their hands full but did good work.

IN FINAL MINUTE TO BEAT LOUISVILLE

Diddle's Charges Get Revenge From Old Enemy For Defeat In Early Season.

L. L. Valentine

"Just as a story book ends," so ended the game Wednesday night, February 17 at the Teachers' gymnasium with the University of Louisville. Tense, throbbing heart-strings, nerve axons and dendrites stretched into screaming tensivity, vocal organs strained unto a pleading whisper of prayer, all suddenly snapped and collapsed as Harry Glenn, hero of many battles, sank a counter from mid-court just as the gun banged its roaring declaration of the final second of the fray that untied the 28-28 count. Over eagerness on the part of a Louisville player in that, to him, a heart-breaking second accounted for a foul made by Denning after the crowd had swarmed over the court to shake the hands of the victors. The final score was 31 to 28.

Western players, with happy and almost hysterical tears streaming down their face and utterly hammered into a shaking fatigue, filed wearily but happily into their dressing room. Louisville players, with bitter taste of a last minute defeat coursing through their whole soul, groped blindly for the soothing showers. It was to Western a moment that will be lived over and over as a supreme height of joy and glory. It was for Louisville a moment of utter darkness, but from the very darkness of their grief these players, defeated but not beaten, can derive pleasure in the fact that they fought a fight worthy and honorable, a fight that only athletes with absolutely loyalty to their school, their coach, and to themselves are capable of fighting. Theirs was a glory only experienced by ones who are great enough to take defeat.

Louisville started the scorer's pencils when Moriarty found the aperture for a field goal. Western a moment later duplicated. A seesaw affair continued throughout the first half, but in the later moments of the first period Louisville gained a four-point lead and at the end of the half the score was 16-12 in favor of Louisville. The prospects looked very gloomy, but as hope springs eternal in the human breast, the spectators prophesied an outcome similar to that of the Kentucky-Wesleyan game. Coach Diddle wore a grim and determined smile; Coach King, of Louisville stepped jauntily as to the outcome; however, he is in this school that will perpetuate a desire for the athletes of high standard, the only athlete that will ever bring glory to his school. It is not the mere playing of the game; not winning or losing, but it is how the game was played. It is the loyalty to friends, school, and self, and that willingness to fight to the bitter end that is really worth the while. And when a team has developed this spirit, it has accomplished something.

DIDDLE USES THREE TEAMS ON BETHEL

Pedagogue Netters, Led By Hornback,
Win By 59-22.

The Western Normal basketball team continued its success by snowing Bethel College under a 59 to 22 count at Russellville, on February 15. The victory was the second of the season over the Baptists, and marked the fourth consecutive win for Coach Diddle's men. Coach Diddle used three complete teams and every man on the squad, with the exception of the injured Winkenhof, saw service.

Bethel never had a chance, as Western stepped out into an early lead and were never headed. Denning and Hornback started things off with a bang, and Western was soon leading by 10 to 0. After nine minutes of play the Teachers were on top by 20 to 4, and Coach Diddle sent in a new team. It seemed that these boys could not get started and were replaced by a new five. The half ended with Western on the long end of a 21 to 11 score.

The second half saw the original five starting back, and the counters poured in from every angle until the score stood 38 to 15 in favor of our boys, when Coach Diddle began to send in substitutes. R. Throgmorton replaced Ward, and Curley Ellis went in for Denning. Goals now began to come in from every angle and the score mounted rapidly. Hornback and Glenn sank goal after goal, and Ellis and R. Throgmorton dropped in their share. Buckles went in for Glenn and sank two baskets; the game ended with Western leading by 59-22.

Every man in the Western lineup performed well. The passing was the best exhibited this season, while the field goals were all rung up on short, crisp shots. A pleasing feature of this game was the fact that the Western players rang up eleven out of thirteen free throws, showing great strength in a branch of the game in which they have hitherto been decidedly weak.

Ted Hornback, displaying the same form that he has shown in last five starts, was highpoint man of the game, accounting for nineteen of the Pedagogues points. These were accumulated by means of eight field goals and three free throws. Otis Denning played his usual consistent floor game, and in addition rang up sixteen points for his team. Glenn, while considerably off in his goal shooting, played his same old, ever-to-be-relied-on floor game and whanged the hoops for eight points. Ward and R. Throgmorton played games, both offensively and defensively, while Mansfield was a tower of strength at guard. Curley Ellis and Buckles scored two field goals each and showed that they have real ability.

Higgins, of Bethel, scored fifteen points for his team and was the outstanding player on the Bethel squad. However, he took so many shots that he spoiled his team's passing and broke up their teamwork. Haynes also played well for the Baptists.

Glenn Scores 20 To Seal Doom Of Louisville; Wesleyan Stalls To Beat Teachers.

Diddle's Pedagogues, casting terror before them, arrived in Winchester favorites to win the tournament, which was held under auspices of Kentucky Wesleyan College of that city. Diddle's Pedagogues failed to live up to that expectation, but they created a state-wide sensation; they uncovered to the State's eyes a real basketball team, and on that basketball team they showed the spectators a star, hitherto unknown save to his own mates, but a star who now bids fair to be a unanimous choice for the mythical All Kentucky five. Pap Glenn, Western running guard, showed the state some basketball, a caliber that has never been uncovered by any basketball player in this state for many seasons. He, as the Courier-Journal says, did more with his little basketball than George Washington ever did with his hatchet, and we'll say that going some. Robinson will vouch for that.

TEACHERS DEFEATED BY METHODISTS

Georgetown Quintette Defeated By Berea College. Resolutions

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 24.—Kentucky Wesleyan and Berea College will fight it out Wednesday night for the State basketball championship of Kentucky. Berea won the right to meet the Panthers when the tall men from the Kentucky mountains conquered Georgetown College's quintette here last night 32 to 27. Wesleyan, in the afternoon, had defeated Western State Normal 19 to 16.

Berea, led by the long, sharp-shooting Wright, who has been their mainstay for the last two years, staged a sensational comeback in the second half of the game. The Tigers were leading at the close of the first period 13 to 12 when Wright began to follow in his shots and drop the ball through the basket. He made twenty of his team's points and was the pivot around which the whole Berea plan of attack revolved. Bradbury, captain and star of Georgetown, gave a valiant exhibition for his Tigers, but the determination of the Bereans was not to be denied.

Kentucky Wesleyan's Purple-clad basketball team won its way into favoritism to capture the State championship by a well-earned 19 to 16 victory of Western State Normal in the afternoon game here yesterday. The Purples played heady, methodical basketball, combined a conservation and cautious attack with an absolutely airtight defense and scored a triumph before a gymnasium filled with a crowd made wild by the coveted victory.

Western virtually dribbled its way out of the tournament. Every time one of the visitors had the ball he immediately would start dribbling down the floor for the basket. Even when alert guarding had broken a Wesleyan attack and the Wesleyan players were scattered around under the Wesleyan basket, the Teachers would dribble rather than pass and Wesleyan would hastily construct its defense. And then too, Glenn, Western's siege gun on offense, was spiked by the ever present Bacon or the ever watchful Rouse, two men to whom must go the greatest amount of the glory of the victory. But there is plenty of glory for all.

For down right, redhot, wholehearted cheering, this section of the country wins the cake. The noise was terrific and there was something to make noise about. Wesleyan went into the lead at the outset, and except for a few moments during the second half maintained it throughout. But that maintenance was by so slight a margin, was in such immediate danger of being erased by a Western basket, and the play and the pace so scorching that all the spectators, even those not connected with either college, stood on tip toes throughout and screamed encouragement to their favorites. For it was impossible to be impartial in such an atmosphere. The strife was too contagious. To be in the swim one had to arise and yell. And everyone did.

The first half closed with Wesleyan leading 11 to 7. Immediately at the start of the second period, Wesleyan adopted a holding game, getting in the corner and passing the ball back and forth. The Teachers naturally came down from their offense and sought to gain possession of the ball. Once or twice Webb, Wesleyan's minute forward, broke away in the clear and had chances for crisp shots but fate was against him and he missed. Finally, Western, for the first time went into the lead at 13 to 12. Free throws followed, and with seven minutes to go, Western was still leading 14 to 13. Webb tied the count at 14 to 14 and a minute later Ham Glenn of Wesleyan, and a cousin of Glenn of Western, put his team in the lead at 15 to 14. From then on Wesleyan led, Ham Glenn having the honor of putting the game on ice with a basket tossed from an acute angle.

The last minute of the game was frenzy. No other word can describe it. Wesleyan's cheer leader informed the crowd that only sixty seconds separated them from victory, and they made the most of it. As the two teams blazed away at the basket every Wesleyanite arose and cheered an accompaniment, and then Timekeeper Rip Van Winkle fired the shot heard 'round Winchester and Wesleyan had won. The better team won. Wesleyan played heady basketball, wasting no shots, taking no chances on losing the ball when possession of it meant victory. Bacon, Ham Glenn and Rouse were best for the winners. Hornback and Glenn shone for the losers.

WESTERN'S basketball team is facing a heavy schedule this year and will have several offerings for Bowling Green fans that should be heartily appreciated.
Bowling Green, Centre, Kentucky Wesleyan, Louisville and Vanderbilt will be among some of the stronger college teams to be seen on the local floor and one of the best independent teams in the South, Burk's Terrors, will also be engaged here. This team is a combination of some members of the famous Rambler five and of former college players.

All of the foreign engagements will be played with Kentucky schools unless some of the open dates are taken by institutions out of the state. The most important trip to be taken during the season will be to the Kentucky College Basketball Tournament at Winchester. This is the first year for this tournament and will be attended by seven of the larger schools of the State. In this manner, there will be a sure method of deciding the champion for the season.

Vanderbilt appears on the Teachers' schedule for the first time.
The Commodores have a reputation for a good basketball team, and their appearance in Bowling Green should be greeted with a large crowd.

Guyon's Charges Prove Inadequate To Demands Of Strenuous Schedule

Tired Quintet Shows Little Real Basketball and Diddlemen Have No Trouble Annexing Game With Subs

THE much touted Union University five proved no match for Western last night and was vanquished with a 26 to 21 score. The extended tour of the Tennesseans this week had apparently robbed the players of desire for further basketball encounters and they put up a rather listless appearing fight although the defensive work was always good.

The teachers were vastly superior than the five point margin of the final score would indicate. Diddle was not certain as to the best players on his squad, and after the score was certain to be entered on the proper side of the ledger, he started a stream of substitutes. Different combinations of players were tried out by way of experiment.

Wickenhoffer and Glenn were the stars in the shooting section of the contest. Wickenhoffer brought in twelve points by neat shots after splendid field work and the goals by Glenn were netted without touching the ring of the backboard. Both of these players have their old time ability.

Denning couldn't hit his stride last night although his floor work and assistance was good. Ward jumped center creditably while Pitchford put up a plucky fight at guard.

Hornback, Thompson and Taylor showed up best for the subs. Thompson netted a goal after being in the play less than a minute. He has speed and will make a dangerous threat for a regular position before the season is over.

Chambers, lanky center and Stewart, forward, brought in eight points apiece to add to Union's record. Chambers had trouble in getting the ranza in the first section and didn't bring a point until the last half.

The victory of the Western is important in that it was achieved after four days' practice since the holidays. Considering the work was severely handicapped before Christmas day by the illness of Coach Diddle, the Pedagogues did exceedingly well to overcome obstacles. They have bright prospects for the remainder of the season and it is likely the record this year will be the best in the history of the school.

The lineups were:

Union	Westmoreland	2 F	Wickenhoffer
Stewart (8)	F	Denning (3)
Chambers (8)	C	Ward
Mercer (3)	G	Glenn (3)
Dodds	G	Pitchford

Substitutions — Ellis for Wickenhoffer, Thompson (2) for Wickenhoffer, Hornback (2) for Denning, A. Throgmorton for Ward, Taylor for Pitchford.

Referee — Petie.

Diddle's Charges Have Tough Assignment For This Evening's Program

Bethel Game Gave Teachers a Little of the Practice Needed To Down Fast Tennessee Basketball Organization

(By Alvis Temple)

BURK'S TERRORS, one of the best teams to appear in Bowling Green this season, will be the opponent of Western Teachers at 7:30 tonight at their New Training School Gymnasium. Diddle and his men are making every preparation to give the visitors a warm reception.

The Terrors are a combination of some members of the old Nashville Rambler team and former college stars. Three men of Rambler fame that are expected to be in action tonight are Lichenor, Costello and Chest.

Week before last they subdued Vanderbilt by an 18 to 9 score on the Commodores' own floor and have won a large per cent of the other games played this season.

Western's Varsity is in good condition for the match and will be backed up with plenty of reserve strength on the bench.

Bethel Easily Beaten

Last Saturday night the basketball squad of Bethel College visited the Teachers and were rather inhospitably defeated with a 46 to 15 count.

During all of the first half the entire second team of the Diddle aggregation engaged the Loganites, and their 21 to 5 lead at the half way mark indicates a wonderful reserve strength.

The Varsity came in during the last period and completed the addition test. Psychologically, they were favored to fluke out completely as viewing a walk away of the subs in the first half did their mental state no good as far as playing ball was concerned. However, they went into action with a good show of strength, only missing numerous close shots and fumbling a few passes as a result of their natural over confidence.

Western's expected victory was made extremely interesting by the battle of the substitutes. In Hornback, Buckles, A. Throgmorton, Mansfield and Ellis, the Teachers have a five that will do credit to any college and Thompson, to all appearances, was not a bit worse than those named.

When the first string went in, Glenn seemed most at ease. He accounted for ten points during the period.

Lineups:

Bethel	Western

Substitutions—Bethel: Brandenburg (2), Sanders, Wilson. Western—Spencer (2), Thompson (1), Glenn (10), Winkenhoffer (4), Denning (4), Ward (5), Pitchford, Myers (2), Taylor. Referee—Peder-son.

The Freshman squad defeated the Richpond High Varsity 21 to 12 in a preliminary to the Varsity game Saturday night. The contest was an interesting one, being fast and reasonably close.

Lineups:

Strength of Cardinals And Methodists to Put Teacher to Real Test

Latter Probably Best of Two as Their Record Embraces Wins Over Transy, Centre, Berea and Ogden

(By Alvis Temple)

CAPTAIN PITCHFORD and his crowd of Western Teacher basket players left this morning on a two-day trip to engage the highly touted University of Louisville Cardinals at Louisville tonight and the undefeated Kentucky Wesleyan squad at Winchester tomorrow night. Both of these games are hard ones and the outcome cannot be safely doped.

Diddle chose seven men to make the journey. A. Throgmorton, Denning and Hornback were the forwards named; Glenn, Pitchford and Mansfield were designated as guards, and Ward was selected to fill his customary place at center. Winkenhoffer, forward, renewed an old injury to his knee in the Burk Terror dispute Monday night and was not able to make the trip.

U. of L. will be met on the new Louisville Elks floor. This is slightly larger than the one the Teachers are accustomed to, but will probably make little difference other than is expected on a strange floor.

This will be Louisville's first game at home this season and will be Western's first match away from Bowling Green. Louisville fans are expected to turn out in large numbers as up state sport writers have been boosting King's outfit as one of the State's best. They have only played one game this season, but they showed up so well in that contest and have such a wealth of good material that there is no doubt that many of the claims are justified.

The probable lineup tonight:

Western		Louisville
Throgmorton	F	Koster
Denning	F	Weber
Ward	C	Miller
Glenn	G	Marks
Pitchford	G	Blackerby

Wesleyan is considered an even more dangerous opponent than Louisville. The Winchester lads have registered wins over Transylvania, Centre, Berea and Ogden and are already casting covetous eyes at the championship crown. They have an unusually large floor that may cause the Diddlettes some concern.

Diddle Will Start His Second Team in Battle With Bethel Net Quint

Youngsters Will Get Their First Chance To Perform In College Colors Against Baptists Friday Night

(By Alvis Temple)

DIDDLE'S Teachers will engage the Bethel College Baptists tomorrow night at 7:30 at the new Training School gymnasium. Plenty of room for all spectators is provided in the new gymnasium and will give an opportunity for townspeople to attend the game. All of the remaining games this season will be played on this court.

The Teachers are favored to win over the Russellville lads by a comfortable margin so Diddle is intending to give some of the more promising of his youngsters an opportunity to make good. Hornback and Buckles will be started at the forwards, Thompson and Mansfield will serve as guards and the circle will either be occupied by A. Throgmorton or Tom Ellis. Several men will probably get a chance. The varsity five will be in readiness on the sidelines and will be used whenever needed during the game.

Western has harvested a good crop of High school grads this year and there is some excellent basketball material among the number. A chance to work in a college game will help them a great deal and will prepare them for the high school schedule that is being dated for the new semester.

Ed Weber Tosses Foul After Game Ends To Bring Team Triumph

By REYNOLDS GIRDLER

Just like the story book ends, so ended the basketball game between the University of Louisville and Western Kentucky State Normal teams at the Elks gymnasium last night. The Cardinals won, 28 to 27, on a free throw nonchalantly tossed by Eddie Weber after the final gun had banged, and after Western, by a herculean effort and a rally that seemed impossible of achievement, had tied the score at 27-all.

It was one of the greatest games ever seen in Louisville. The Cardinals at the start went sailing into an early lead, a lead that seemed prodigious and insurmountable. It might have been to any team other than these Teachers from Bowling Green who are comrades all, in every sense of the word. After ten minutes of play in the first half the Kingmen were leading 11 to 0. Slowly, by little chunks, the Teachers chopped this margin down, until the half ended 14 to 8.

The attack on this tally was renewed with redoubled vigor in the second period, when a rally was started that mounted to a frenzy, swelled into a concentrated, smashing, bashing attack that tied the score with fifty-five seconds to go, and then suffered the bitter fate of being all for naught because one man, unintentionally, fouled Ed Weber as he was in the act of shooting, and because the Cardinal forward, not at all flustered by the task before him, undismayed by any consequence, stood on the line and tossed the basket and the one point that marked the narrow, but certainly sufficient margin between victory and defeat—victory for Louisville, and defeat for Western.

With six minutes to go, the score was 27 to 18, and Louisville was leading. Glenn, star athlete of Western, called the signal for attack when he walloped the basket from mid-floor. A minute later Hornback sank one and Winkenhoffen made it 27 to 23 with a free throw. Play now was at fever pitch. When Glenn again came through with a basket, making the score 27 to 25, the Cardinals called time out. There were fifty-five seconds remaining to be played, fifty-five seconds of agony for all concerned. Coach Ed Diddle of Western was all over the bench. There was the toss-up, then a mad rush, three times Glenn and Hornback pounded the rims and three times the ball rolled off. And then, from an acute angle, when all hope seemed lost, Hornback, fair-haired and slim, sank the basket that tied the score. Only a few seconds remained. Again came the toss-up, and Ed Weber came spinning out of the flurry. He shot, missed, but a Western player had fouled him. As he took his place at the line the gun sounded. Surrounded by a milling knot of players, he calmly and deliberately tossed the ball and it didn't even hesitate as it went through.

The Western players rushed over to their coach. "It's all our fault, coach, but we'll not lose again."

Teams like this might lose, but they are never beaten."

Those last mad milling minutes paled into insignificance anything that had gone before, no matter how sensational. There were plenty of sensations in the game with the sensational ending. The playing of Jim Blackerby for Louisville was one of these. He has no peer on a Louisville basketball floor. Weber and Koster also did valiant work. Glenn, Hornback and Hichford were best for the losers.

Burk's Terrors Nicked By Two Points in Net Tilt With Diddle Five

(By Alvis Temple)

WINNING their third consecutive game, Western Teachers eeked a 33 to 31 win over the Burk Terrors outfit here last night in what may be safely classed as one of the best games ever played in Bowling Green. Although the play did not start until 10:07, owing to the delay on the road of some of the visitors, the spectators who showed their loyalty to Western were amply rewarded with a high class exhibition between two fast teams under top-notch officiating.

The Terrors came to Bowling Green with an idea of winning. Not that all teams don't make the journey with that intention, but the Nashville outfit had only lost one game this season and before that contest had triumphed in thirteen games. Chattanooga's famous Rail-Lites, champions of Tennessee, was the only squad that had defeated the Terrors and this could only be accomplished in three overtime periods.

Play started at high speed and kept the pace until the final gun. B. Richter scratched the scoring column first on a foul made by Denning of Western, but the center redeemed himself within the next few seconds by dropping in the first of his many neat shots. On a double foul, Ward of Western brought in his free toss as Chest missed and when Glenn and Denning each brought in a field goal it looked as if the Terrors were in for a sound beating.

After a conference they came back into the play and tied the score, and from there on to the end of the half the battle was close with Western showing a slight advantage. At the end of the division Diddle's organization was leading 15 to 13.

Winkenhoffer was the lead-off man in the second half scoring and he was quickly followed by enough shots to put the Teachers ahead, but the edge was cut down again by the visitors. The last three minutes of play witnessed a frantic battle of the visitors to bring in the goal to tie the score and the successful attempt of Western to hold their lead by pulling all five men under the Tennesseans' goal.

Every Westerner did his best. Denning stands out above his teammates with a high point total of twenty-one points, while Glenn gave all he had at running guard.

Pitchford had his hands full at standing guard but played one of the best games of his net career. Richter and Petty were the principal stars for the Terrors. Costello, far famed center, does not seem to be the same player he formerly was and stayed on the sidelines during most of the game.

Lineup:

Burk Terrors		Western
L. Richter (1)	F	R. Throgmorton
Petty (8)	F	Denning (21)
Costello (7)	C	Ward (3)
Chest (1)	G	Glenn (6)

Substitutions—Terrors: Eaton (1) Western—Buckles, Winkenhoffer (2), Hornback. Referee—Pederson, Centre.

Wesleyan Quint Hands Western Defeat After Locals Lead For Time

Diddlemen Show Speed and Class at Outset But are Finally Forced To Bow Beneath 30 To 17 Tally

(By Alvis Temple)

THE second game on Western's Up-state journey was lost last night when the strong Kentucky Wesleyan team brought in a crushing 30 to 17 win. The local Teachers were outclassed during the last period but at the end of the first half the much touted Methodists were only leading by one point.

Diddle's outfit showed speed at the outset of the contest and led Wesleyan for some time but this superiority was cut down by improved shooting.

Denning brought in eight points to earn high point distinction for Western, but he was surpassed in the scoring effort by Webb and Bacon who scored nine points each.

The Teachers will return home today and will be idle until their meeting with Centre here next Friday.

Lineups last night were:

Wesleyan		Normal
Webb (9)	F	Winkenhoffer
Bacon (9)	F	(2) Hornback
Glenn (5)	C	(3) Ward
Rouse (2)	G	(1) Glenn
Jones	G	(2) Pitchford

Substitutions: Wesleyan: Ross (1) for Rouse; Buckley (4) for Jones. Western Normal: Denning (8) for Winkenhoffer, Throgmorton (1) for Ward.

Referee: "Happy" Chandler, Transylvania.

Western Looms on Net Horizon as Contender For Statewide Honors

*Defeat of Wesleyan By 17 Points Clearly Establishes Superiority of Diddlemen
Over Their Methodist Opponents*

(By Alvis Temple)

A NOTHER formidable contender for the state college basketball title appeared Saturday when Western brought in a crushing 38 to 21 win over the famed Kentucky Wesleyan five on the Teachers' own court. A capacity crowd was thrilled time after time by sensational plays of Diddle's men and when the Teachers finally topped the 13 to 9 lead established by Webb's team in the first half the noise sounded like a near riot.

Until only about eight minutes of the play were left the score was represented by only one point difference, first one team forging ahead and then the other. "Pap" Glenn had just established a 22 to 21 lead with a neat shot, when Hornback, Western forward, took the bit in his teeth and ran wild for three successive field shots. "Pap" accounted for two in a row with his distinctive style of shooting and Hornback added another. Glenn contributed one and Hornback dropped through another in the last minute of play.

The work of the Teachers is to be complimented and their comeback after the slow battle with Centre rates them as a squad hard to dishearten.

Cousins "Pap" and "Ham" led in the scoring for the two teams. Pap Glenn was high man for the Teachers and the game, with a total of 16 points while "Ham" Glenn, Wesleyan center accounted for 13. The Wesleyan Glenn was probably the best center that has stepped before a Bowling Green audience this season but Throgmorton, Diddle's choice for the circle, was able to hold his own.

Winkenhoffer started at guard in the place of Captain Pitchford, who is out with a cracked collar bone, but his old knee caused him to be removed early in the second half. Mansfield, Munfordsville guard, was called to fill the vacancy, and acquitted himself with honors.

Western will leave tomorrow for a return game with Centre which they are determined to enter on the winning side. Wednesday night the opponent will be Transylvania at Lexington.

The Lineup:

Wesleyan		Western
Bucklar	F	Denning (4)
Webb (4)	F	Hornback (12)

Teachers Add to List Of Victories By Seven Point Win Over Transy

March Toward State Title Continues and Latest Invasion Adds Further Laur- els To Diddlemen's Lot

(By Alvis Temple)

THE 31 to 24 victory of Western last night over Transysylvania University on the Pioneers' own court completed a perfect invasion of Central Kentucky for the Teachers, and they will return home today with the scalps of two more worthy opponents hung up to dry. Transy is another contender for the Kentucky net honors and the victory of Diddle's five on the Pioneer floor indicates again the strength the Teachers should be able to muster in the College Tournament at Winchester.

Western was in the lead thruout the entire game last night.
Very few shots were missed and the team work was up to par but the plucky Lexington outfit managed to trail at a dangerous distance until the final few minutes of play.
At the end of the first quarter, the Diddlemen were declared superior by a 16 to 12 lead.

Glenn earned high point honors for the team with a total of eleven marks but he was edged out of the game scoring honors by Adams of Transy who accounted for 14 of his team's points. In bringing in 9 points Hornback kept up the scoring that has earned him a regular berth on Western Varsity.

The next game in the Teacher squad will be the meeting with Louisville Presbyterian Seminary
here next Tuesday. The Louisville aggregation has already dropped two contests in Bowling Green but is hoping for better results on the next visit.

Lineups last night were:

Western	Transy

TEACHERS DEFEATED CARDINALS

Diddle's Men Will Play Vanderbilt Here Friday Night.

before the terrible onslaught of Ed Diddle's Western Teachers here last night and took the little end of a 31 to 28 score. It was not until the final seconds of the play that the 28-point tie was broken when Glenn dropped in a long one just a little past the circle. A foul, called on Gentile in the last play gave Denning the opportunity to put in the free throw that established the 3-point lead.

From the time Moriarity got the first goal, the Louisville team kept ahead until about five minutes after the start of the second half. The end of the first priod found the score favoring the Kingment, 16 to 12. After Western cut down the lead in the second half, the score was tied repeatedly and excitement was at fever heat until the final gun. Overwrought nerves of players of both teams nearly gave down, but the game was pushed to completion.

Blackerby again was ruled off the floor in the first half via the personal foul route. He was penalized quickly tonight and after the first fourteen minutes of play was retired to the bench. Nine points was the high score gained by the leaders in the scoring of both teams. This tally was reached by Craddock of Louisville, and Hoarnback, Denning and Glenn for Western. Craddock, the Mnnfordville lad, played an excellent game, as did Captain Gentile, who was out last night.

The line-up:

Louisville	Pos.	Western

Weber (5)F....	(9) Denning
Moriarity (4)C.....	Ward
Koster (4)G.....	(9) Glenn

Substitutes: Louisville — Craddock, 9; Gentile. Western—Winkenhoffer, R. Throgmorton, 4.

Diddle's men will play the strong Vanderbilt University team of Nashville at the new Normal gymnasium Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Glenn's Accurate Eye Decides Fierce Game; Wesleyan Beats Ogden

By REYNOLDS GIRDLER.

Of The Courier-Journal Sports Department.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 22. — Western Kentucky State Normal and Kentucky Wesleyan were triumphant in the first two games which opened the Kentucky intercollegiate basketball tournament here this afternoon. Western, or to be more exact, "Pappy" Glenn, Western center, defeated the University of Louisville 40 to 32 in a stirring clash, while Wesleyan walloped Ogden College, 45 to 21.

The Louisville-Western game, as expected, featured the afternoon's play. The tall, rangy boys from Western, with a will to win and a passing attack that swept over Louisville's heads, smashed their way into favoritism for tournament honors even though they will be opposed by Wesleyan in the next game. The Teachers had a well-conceived and well-executed game, but it was the uncanny shooting of Glenn, coming at the most opportune moment, that won for Western.

Game Is Close One

Up until the middle of the second half, when Glenn broke into his wild streak of basket-making, it was anybody's game. The lead changed hands frequently, and never varied more than two or three points.

The Cardinals took the lead at the outset, but gave way before the first half closed with Western leading 18 to 16. Spectacular shooting by Koster and Marks again gave the Cardinals the lead temporarily and just when everything looked rosy and Cardinal, Glenn came to the fore. G. Washington never did as much with a hatchet as Glenn did with a basketball today. He hewed the Cardinals into submission with his long strokes. He splintered their defense into bits with his keen eye for the hoops and his jagged dribbling. He made two points in the first half and eighteen in the second.

Miss Following Shots

The Cardinals gave a sterling exhibition of basketball. They never gave up. But they were helpless on following shots because of the height of the Teacher's and hopeless before such basket-making as "Pappy" Glenn unfolded. Koster, Marks and Blackerby were outstanding for the Cardinals.

Substitutes: Louisville—Daugherty. (2)

Wesleyan was far superior to Ogden in the second encounter. The Ogden boys wore red and green uniforms, but during the first half their display of basketball essentials ended with their uniforms. They perked up in the second period, however. Smith accounted for fifteen of their twenty-one points. The winners were able to score whenever they pleased. Bacon and Webb led the attack.

cope successfully with the determined attack and efficient guarding of the Berea boys. Maggard and Wright scored thirty-three of Berea's points. Wright gaining seventeen of these. German accounted for eleven of Centre's points.

The semi-finals will be played tomorrow afternoon and night. Western State Normal meets Kentucky Wesleyan tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock Georgetown clashes with Berea.

Western Shows Stuff.

About the only thing fans here can agree on, is that the winner of the Western-Wesleyan game tomorrow should triumph in the finals. Of these two teams, Western displayed the better brand of ball, but that may have been due to the fact that they were forced to give everything they had to conquer the Cardinals while Wesleyan meandered under wraps to a victory over Ogden.

There was a large crowd on hand this afternoon to see the start of things. Winchester has just cause to be proud of the new gymnasium which is everything advance notices said it was. The tournament is being conducted in splendid fashion, and the officiating handled by Lane and Garret of Cincinnati, is a feature of each contest.

Diddlemen Continue On In March Toward State Championship Honors

Attention of State Focused Upon Teachers as Crushing 54 To 19 Win Registered Over Charges of Coach Red Maher

(By Alvis Temple)

SHOWING a complete reversal of the exhibition given here last Friday night when the Centre Colonels brought in a 22 to 18 win, Western Teachers redeemed themselves at Danville last night with a 54 to 19 landslide. At the first half finish the locals were leading only on a 16 to 15 score but they went back in the second period and looped swift tosses from all portions of the floor in addition to holding the Centre lads to one field goal and two free tosses.

Only meager reports have been received here concerning the game, and there is probably no person now in the city that witnessed the contest, but it is easy to visualize the splendid teamwork that Western undoubtedly loosened to cause the second period to become a cloudburst of scoring.

After giving such a good account of themselves last night it is also easy to predict Ed Diddle and his boys taking a very prominent role in the Kentucky College Tournament which will be held at Winchester the first of next month.

They have now shown themselves worthy of notice by Louisville and Wesleyan, two of the strongest teams in the meet and also by the Colonels.

Tonight the Teachers will engage the Transylvania University Pioneers at Lexington in a contest which the locals are slightly favored to cop. This will be the only game between these two teams before the tournament as the changing of the meet dates forced Transy to cancel the engagements with Western and Ogden here.

Hornback and Glenn continue their scoring last night but Denning came from behind and took the high point lead with a total of eighteen points. At the start of the season, Denning was the leading point maker of the team but of obscurity. His return to old time form last night will be a great aid to the team's strength.

Lineups:

Berea, led by the long, sharp-shoot-twenty of his team's points, and was

Kentucky Wesleyan's Purple-clad basketball team won its way into favoritism to capture the State championship by a well-earned 19 to 16 victory over Western State Normal in the afternoon game here today. The Purples played heady, methodical basketball, combined a conservative and cautious attack with an absolutely airtight defense and scored a triumph before a gymnasium filled with a crowd made wild by the coveted victory.

Western virtually dribbled its way out of the tournament. Every time one of the visitors had the ball he immediately would start dribbling down the floor for the basket. Even when alert guarding had broken a Wesleyan attack and the Wesleyan players were scattered around under the Western basket, the Teachers would dribble rather than pass and Wesleyan would hastily construct its defense. And then too, Glenn, Western's sedge gun on offense, was spiked by the ever present Bacon or the ever watchful Rouse, two men to whom must go the greater amount of the glory of the victory. But there is plenty of glory for all.

Wesleyan Takes Lead

For down right, redhot, whole hearted cheering, this section of the country wins the cake. The noise was terrific and there was something to make noise about. Wesleyan went into the lead at the outset, and except for a few moments during the second half maintained it throughout.
But that maintenance was by so slight a margin, was in such imminent danger of being erased by a Western basket, and the play and the pace so scorching that all the spectators, even those not connected with either college, stood on tip toes throughout and screamed encouragement to their favorites. For it was impossible to be impartial in such an atmosphere. The strife was too contagious. To be in the swim one had to arise and yell. And everyone did.

The first half closed with Wesleyan leading 11 to 7. Immediately at the start of the second period, Wesleyan adopted a holding game, getting in the corner and passing the ball back and forth. The Teachers naturally came down from their offense and sought to gain possession of the ball.
Once or twice Webb, Wesleyan's minute forward, broke away in the clear and had chances for crisp shots but fate was against him and he missed.
Finally, Western, for the first time went into the lead at 13 to 12. Free throws followed, and with seven minutes to go, Western was still leading

Wesleyan went into the lead at the outset, and except for a few moments during the second half maintained it throughout. But that maintenance was by so slight a margin, was in such imminent danger of being erased by a Western basket, and the play and the pace so scorching that all the spectators, even those not connected with either college, stood on tip toes throughout and screamed encouragement to their favorites. For it was impossible to be impartial in such an atmosphere. The strife was too contagious. To be in the swim one had to arise and yell. And everyone did.

The first half closed with Wesleyan leading 11 to 7. Immediately at the start of the second period, Wesleyan adopted a holding game, getting in the corner and passing the ball back and forth. The Teachers naturally came down from their offense and sought to gain possession of the ball. Once or twice Webb, Wesleyan's minute forward, broke away in the clear and had chances for crisp shots but fate was against him and he missed. Finally, Western, for the first time went into the lead at 13 to 12. Free throws followed, and with seven minutes to go, Western was still leading

State College Fives Seem Evenly Matched For Hoop Struggles

By REYNOLDS GIRDLER,

Of The Courier-Journal Sports Department.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 21.—Winchester, and especially Kentucky Wesleyan, welcomed with open arms the seven college basketball teams which with the Wesleyan quintette comprise the field entered in the basketball tournament opening here tomorrow to determine Kentucky's representative in the S. I. A. A. tournament to be held in Macon, Georgia.

The University of Louisville team, Louisville's hopes in the event, arrived here at 7 o'clock tonight after a tiresome journey on almost every known kind of vehicle. The Cardinals, who open the tournament tomorrow at 2 o'clock with Western State Normal, missed the bus they were scheduled to have taken, rode to Frankfort in another that went by 11 o'clock, and finally hove into Lexington on an inter-city car. They went the rest of the way to Winchester on a bus.

There is no outstanding team in the tournament. It is an open affair. Following the Cardinals' game with Western, Kentucky Wesleyan, the team, meets Ogden College. In the night, Georgetown and Centre clash and following that Centre battles Berea.

Western Is Favored.

Winchester fans here believe Western, conqueror of Vanderbilt, can subdue the Cardinals. The Cardinals themselves feel differently. Each team has beaten the other and this third clash is eagerly awaited by both, as it will serve as the final recognizing as well as the test for tournament fitness. Winchester fans are solidly behind the team representing Wesleyan this year. They feel that Coach Webb has assembled the best team ever to wear the Purple and White, and despite the recognized strength of Ogden, they are sure the Panthers will be returned the winners. The victors in this clash will meet the winner of the Western-Louisville game Tuesday afternoon.

Georgetown After Pennant.

The entire student body of Georgetown is coming here to witness the battle between Transy and the Tigers Monday night. The Georgetown boys are red hot favorites to win the pennant to be presented the school having the best cheering section.

Centre, buoyed by her recent return to real form, is out to triumph over the tall men from Berea. Berea has had a well-balanced team out for the past two years. In Wright, elongated center, they have a man recognized throughout the State. Centre supporters, however, feel Staley, Colonel pivotman, will stop Berea's siege gun. Interest in the tournament is high and record crowds are expected to throng into Winchester's new $100,000 gymnasium.

"Pap" Glenn Named as Guard and Captain and Doug Smith as Forward

Choice of Daily News Sports Writer Also Includes Mohnney, Wright, "Ham" Glenn, Bradbury and Kagin

(By Tom Hazelton)

INTO the choosing of an all-star aggregation in any branch of sports must enter to a greater or less degree the element of personal favoritism, no matter how hard the critic may try to eliminate it. There also is to be considered the fact that few who choose those mythical teams have actually seen all the men named in action so that there is more than a possibility that some potential star may be overlooked in the selection.

Tom Hazelton's All-State Team

Mohnney (Kentucky)	Forward
Smith (Ogden)	Forward
Bradbury (Georget'n)	Forward
Wright (Berea)	Center
Glenn (Wesleyan)	Center
Glenn (Western) capt	Guard
Kagin (Centre)	Guard

For these reasons, it is not without some trepidation that the average sports writer embarks upon the attempt to choose a representative, and at the same time, a popular team to whom he refers as the acme of perfection in that particular branch of sports. And when one's average is in the making this trepidation is comparable only to that which assails the student swimmer upon the occasion of his first sortie alone.

Follows Customs

It is customary for an all-star basketball team to be made up of two and sometimes three men to each position and I am adhering to this custom for the reason that the men named appear to me to be so nearly of equal ability that to name but one in each position would be to do an injustice to several players of high calibre. At one time or another, in the past two years, I have seen every man named on my "All-Kentucky College Basketball team" with the exception of one, in action in one or more of the principal games upon their team's schedules and it is a matter that would require months of study and observation of each man to name a team comprised of stars of more outstanding ability.

To begin with I place Gayle Mohnney, of the University of Kentucky, at one forward with Douglas Smith, of Ogden College, and Bradbury, of Georgetown College, as his running mates. Mohnney is without a peer in Kentucky basketball circles and the Southern tourney at Atlanta will prove him to be one of the best men in the South. Smith and Bradbury are his nearest rivals always playing dependable games and sometimes approaching the superhuman in their efforts.

Wright Best Center

Wright, of Berea College, looks best at center, though "Ham" Glenn of Kentucky Wesleyan, has shown to advantage in this position this year. Underwood, of Kentucky, is another center of sterling worth, but the grapes go to Wright and Glenn. The former, in one game last year, made fifty points in a total of sixty-six garnered by his team and this year has played spectacular basketball. It was mainly due to his work that Berea won the State College championship. Underwood would not look so good if he were not with a team that rates as one of the strongest in the South and for this reason I am giving the boys on the lesser college teams their just deserts.

Harry "Pap" Glenn, of the Western Teachers' College, is as much in a class by himself at guard as is Mohnney at forward. His playing has been the sensation of a team that gave the old dope bucket several kicks this season and he would be a valuable acquisition to any team, even in much faster circles than he has been used in playing in. Bill Kagin, of Centre College, rounds out the other team. Kagin is a back guard while Glenn is of the roving type and the two would make a most admirable guarding combination. Kagin has proved the only player of real class on an otherwise very mediocre quintet this season and but for an injury his fame would have spread further. Glenn is also named Captain for he is an admirable field general.

Would Be Hard to Trim

This team would be a mighty sweet one to see in action after as much practice as the average team usually gets before starting on a schedule. There would be Mohnney, Smith, Bradbury, Wright and "Pap" Glenn to do more shooting than any team could care to have to guard against while Kagin and "Ham" Glenn would be plenty of opposition for an offense by an opponent, especially when aided by the above, who are no slouches in the guarding game. Glenn, it is true, is a center but he shows best at guarding, though now and then he takes the bit between his teeth and goes on a shooting spree. Kagin was never known to shoot to amount to anything but for that matter, neither was anybody lese when Kagin guarded him. Every man on this team is a clean, sportsmanlike player, also.

Honorable mention is merited by McFarland, Kentucky, Webb, Wesleyan, Collawn, Berea and Weber, Louisville forward; Underwood, Kentucky, Koster, Louisville, centers; Jenkins, Kentucky, Carey, Kentucky and Rouse Wesleyan, guards.

Western Normal Battles Centre Gridiron Team to Scoreless Tie In Danville

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Danville, Ky., Sept. 25—The Colonels of Centre College outweighed ten pounds to the man, played Western Normal to a scoreless tie on Cheek Field here this afternoon.

It was indicated by the play this afternoon that Centre will present a passing aggregation. They made four first downs, three of them by the aerial route. Western Normal made but one first down, that on a series of line plays.

It rained during most of the battle and the field and ball were wet and muddy. Fumbles were numerous but hurt neither team very much as the man who fumbled usually recovered. Centre drew 65 yards in penalties, while the Teachers were handed 15 yards.

Normal presented a very good defensive team, but her offense was weak. She was in a position to score in the last minutes of the fray when Goings' punt was blocked on his own ten-yard line by Nicholson, left end for the visitors.

Byrne and Killigeres both tried Centre's line for a total of four yards and Byrne dropped back for a place kick from the 20-yard line. The kick failed and it was Centre's ball on her own ten-yard line. Faurest went around end for six yards as the game ended.

At the beginning of the second half, Centre launched a vigorous pass attack which netted two first downs in quick succession. Goings to Knuckles, was good for 20 yards and on the next play a pass to Litterell netted 15. Three line plays failed and Lauer dropped back for a place kick. His kick was blocked by Taylor. Western Normal punted to Faurest, who was downed in his tracks. On the next play, Faurest went 12 yards over tackle for the fourth and last first down of the game.

A run by Fendley in the second quarter was good for 15 yards.

Normal plugged away at a conservative game taking few chances. She usually punted on the third down and when in dangerous territory on the second. Centre played the opposite type game, seldom punting before the fourth down and on two occasions drew penalties because of the failure of two passes within the four down interval.

Notwithstanding the condition of the field and the ball the punts were good. Normal averaging thirty-eight yards while Centre averaged thirty-four. Goings did the kicking for the Colonels, while Byrne punted for the Teachers.

Centre presented a "pony backfield" with Lauer, 165; Littrell, 137; Fendley, 148; Goings, 160, and Faurest, 140 alternating. The lads on numerous occasions seemed to get started for good runs only to slip and fall in the mud.

Normal was much stronger in the running back punt department than Centre, making 100 yards in this manner, while Centre made but sixty-five. Normal was also strong on the defense, and the Centre backfield had a hard time getting through.

The only line plays that netted Centre any yardage were a few off-tackle smashes by Lauer.

In Centre's line Captain McClure and Parker were outstanding. Faurest, a member of the squad last year, played a good game at half and turned in some neat gains around the end.

Centre tried twelve passes, completing two for thirty-five yards. Normal tried two, but completed none. There were no damaging passes intercepted by either team. Five of Centre's starters, S. Alexander, Parker, Goings, Fendley and Knuckles, were playing their first game of varsity football. Only one man on the team, Captain McClure, is playing his third year of football.

Lineup:

Centre	Position	Western Normal
Thompson	LE	Nicholson
S. Alexander	LT	Taylor
J. Robinson	LG	Meyers
McClure	C	Throgmartin
Parker	RG	Terry
Kagin	RT	T. Ellis
Knuckles	RE	Wick
Goings	QB	Winkenhuis
Fendley	HB	Killigeres
Faurest	HB	Byrne
Lauer	FB	Cahoon

Substitutions: For Centre—H. A. Alexander for Kagin, Clarkson for Robinson, Bush for Parker, Hyatt for Knuckles, Grubbs for Hyatt, Estes for Grubbs, Knuckles for Ester, Littrell for Fendley. For Western Normal—Lincoln for Taylor, Boone for Throgmartin, Simpson for Cahoon, Reynolds for Terry. Officials—Doak of Pittsburgh Referee—Mouat of Birmingham, Umpire—Dexheimer of Sewanee.

TEACHERS WIN LAMBUTH GAME HERE SATURDAY

Tennesseans Unable To Cope With Pedagogues After Diddle's Eleven Gets Under Full Steam — Winchester Scouts Watch Contest

Lambuth College of Jackson Tenn., bowed in defeat here Saturday afternoon before Western Teachers' College, the tally registering 31-13. The visiting outfit proved itself a plucky organization, putting up a good fight throughout the entire contest, but was clearly outclassed after the Diddle organization got in running condition.

A second string lineup started for Western and in very few minutes Lambuth had crossed the goal twice and registered one point on a try after a kick. One of these touchdowns was by the line buck method and the other came when Simmons intercepted a pass and raced sixty yards to score.

A string of substitutions from the Western bench soon had most of the varsity men in the ranks and the tilt turned favorably to the locals. Toward the end of the half Williams dropkicked from the 28-yard line for the first score. This was followed by a safety when the Lambuth back, kicked from behind his goal line, missed a bad pass from center.

The second half had barely started when T. Ellis caught a Lambuth punt and ran twenty-five yards to the scoring strip.

Captain Killebrew intercepted a pass a few minutes later and after stepping off thirty yards of the fifty to the goal, and after the distance had been shortened about ten yards by line play, received another pass and scored. Williams again kicked for point. If credit could be given individuals for touchdowns it should be mentioned that Williams was responsible for the next score, while Nicholson deserved credit for the last. Both ter, Williams punting from his 10-yard line, punted out of bounds on his own 86-yard line. Little Tom Ford, who distinguished himself throughout his stay in the game, then reached high in the air to grab Espie's pass for a twenty-seven yard gain, putting the ball on the 9-yard line. On the next play Espie pursued a devious course over the remaining nine yards to the goal line. Several times Espie looked as if he were downed, but each time he slipped away and continued in another direction. Ford drop-kicked the extra point.

Shortly after this, the big argument started. Nachand was called back to punt and kicking from

Cardinals Stage Rally to Defeat Western by Sixteen Point Margin

Pedagogues Lead at End of Half By Seven Point Majority But Succumb to Drive In Last Periods

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8.—The University of Louisville Cardinals found themselves in the second half of their game with Western Kentucky Normal Saturday afternoon at Parkway Field, and found themselves with a vengeance, literally sweeping their opponents from the field with an attack of slashing line plays, sweeping end runs and bullet-like passes that could not be stopped.

Clearly out-played in the first half, the Cardinals drove across with four touchdowns in the first two periods to win by the score of 26 to 10.

On several occasions the game threatened to degenerate into a general debate, but each time the things were finally smoothed over. In the third quarter, Killebrew of Western Normal in receiving the ball on a reverse end run from Nicholson, fumbled and Kielkopf, of Louisville, scooped the ball up and raced forty yards down the field for a touchdown.

Referee Shadoan then called the play back on the grounds that Killebrew was tackled before he got the ball. At this point Coaches King and Diddle entered the fray and for thirty minutes the only action that took place was vocal.

It finally became settled that Umpire Gleason had called the touchdown good and that Head Linesman Byles sustained him in this view. Coach King pointed out that Shadoan didn't have anything to say on such a play anyway, and so the matter ended.

Normal had things all her own way in the first half and was the first to score. The score came as a result of Williams' interception of Drewry's pass. Nicholson passed to Wicker for twenty-five yards and Williams zig-zagged sixteen yards off right tackle for a touchdown.

The Cardinals begin to assert themselves early in the third quarter. Williams punting from his 10-yard line, punted out of bounds on his own 86-yard line. Little Tom Ford, who distinguished himself throughout his stay in the game, then reached high in the air to grab Espie's pass for a twenty-seven yard gain, putting the ball on the 9-yard line. On the next play Espie pursued a devious course over the remaining nine yards to the goal line. Several times Espie looked as if he were downed, but each time he slipped away and continued in another direction. Ford drop-kicked the extra point.

Shortly after this, the big argument started. Nachand was called back to punt and kicking from his own 15-yard line, he punted to Nicholson on his own 35-yard line. Nachand's play throughout the whole game was of the highest order. He did most of the kicking and his punts ranged from fifty to sixty-five yards in length.

Nicholson ran the ball back to the 50-yard line before being forced out of bounds. Cahoon gained one yard through left guard, and on the next play, which was a reverse end run, Killebrew fumbled the ball and Kielkopf went over for a touchdown. After the big argument, Ford kicked the extra point, making the score: Louisville 14, Normal 7.

The Cardinals scored one more touchdown in this period when Drewry passed the ball from Normal's 40-yard line to Pitchford, who took the ball and sped to the 5-yard line, where he stepped out of bounds. Pitchford gained three yards around left end and on the next play, Mayhall took the ball over, only to fumble and have Blackerby to recover to make the score good. Pitchford's place kick was low.

In the fourth quarter, Normal managed to advance to Louisville's 56-yard line, and there, failing to gain, Williams booted a dropkick over, making the score, Louisville 20, Normal 10.

The play became rougher as the game progressed and for a time it seemed that a man was knocked out on each play. Espie was injured in the side, Mayhall was knocked cold and Ford retired limping.

The forms of the players were fast becoming indistinguishable in the last quarter when the Cardinals shoved over their last touchdown.

With a well-timed slashing attack that swept the Pedagogues off the feet, Coach King's men worked the ball down the field to the 20-yard line, from where Drewry passed to Nachand for the final mark.

The teams were near the center of the field when the final whistle was sounded.

Western Normal Arrives Home Today

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 26.—Eddie Diddle and his Western Teachers' eleven will arrive here early tomorrow morning from Clarksville, Ark., where they were defeated by the College of the Ozarks 15 to 3 in the last game of the season.

The Mountaineers' touchdowns came in the last half. Kentucky led in the first half 3-0 by virtue of a beautiful dropkick by Williams from the 35-yard line, but the Mountaineers mashed, passed and circled ends in the final period for fifteen first downs.

The Western crew completed two long passes in the waning moments of the game for forty yards, but the belated attack was spoiled by an intercepted pass.

TRANSY NICKS TEACHERS 7-3

Diddlemen's Defeat Comes As a Surprise To Grid Fans

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 15.—In one of the greatest upsets of the year in Kentucky football, the Transylvania Pioneers, coached by James Elam, former Louisville Male High mentor, defeated Eddie Diddle's Western Normal eleven, 7 to 3 here Saturday afternoon. The Western Normal team, which held Centre to a 0 to 0 score earlier in the season, encountered a scrappy 155-pound line, against which they could not gain consistently, and on the other hand fell prey to the sweeping end runs of Captain Lewis and Ware Crutcher and Frazier.

Getting off to a running start which startled the visitors, who had been doped to win the game by at least three touchdowns, the Pioneers outplayed their seventeen pounds heavier opponents in every period of the game. Except at the start of the second half when Normal end runs and off-tackle plays carried the ball to the 2-yard line, where Williams, who found the Transy line impenetrable, kicked a field goal, Western Normal did not get close to the Elammen's goal line. Williams, aided by beautiful interference, gained Western's only ground, and he was the star as far as the visitors were concerned.

Transylvania's winning touchdown came in the second quarter after a march straight down the field line from Western Normal's 45 yard line, after they had gained possession of the ball when Weaver fumbled a pass thrown by Ware, which he had intercepted. The Pioneer captain sprinted around right end on the first play after gaining possession of the ball for a 15-yard gain, made possible primarily by the pretty work of "Dinger" Frazier in front of him to block out would-be tacklers. Ernest Crutcher knifed his way through left tackle for a nine-yard gain and Battenfield fought his way through the center of the line for four yards and another first down. The ball was on Western Normal's 17-yard line. Although Crutcher failed on the next thrust through right tackle, the brilliant

Ware took the ball on a wide right end run on the next play over the last white line for a touchdown. He kicked goal.

Ware's trusty toe and Transylvania's fine line kept the ball in Western's territory during the rest of the period and, although the Diddlemen did launch and offense late in the quarter, they were too deep in their own territory to do any damage and had to content themselves with keeping the score down.

The visitors started the third quarter as an inspired football team, crashing through for long runs until the ball was within easy scoring distance. Ware kicked off to Williams who was down on Western's 35-yard line. Captain Killebrew skirted Transy's right end on a pretty run to place the ball on the 50-yard line. Williams hit right tackle for a bare three yards, and Simpson, substitute, on the next play went seventeen yards on another end run for a first down on the Pioneer's 20-yard line.

Winkenhoffer hit center for two and Killebrew went over right tackle for eight yard and first down on Transy's 10-yard strip. Williams started around end, but cut in on Transy's right tackle for five yards. Winkenhoffer's thrust was good for three yards, and the ball was on Transylvania's 2-yard line. Williams tried center, but found a brick wall and he stepped back to his 10-yard line and booted a perfect drop kick between the bars for 3 points to bring the score 7 to 3, and incidentally end the scoring.

Western relied on their end runs by "Winky" and Williams to gain the necessary yards and although they made thirteen first down to Transylvania's ten, they could not get within scoring distance, due to fumbles and the spunky Crimson line, which they had not anticipated before starting the game. Weaver, big seven-footed center, wearing "77" and who everybody nicknamed Red Grange, fumbled passes on three different occasions which would undoubtedly have gone to touchdowns. While Coach Diddle used numerous substitutions Coach Elam used only one substitute during the entire game, Wilson for Lehman at left guard early in the game.

PEDAGOGUES DEFEATED BY NOTRE DAME

Teachers To Play Ohio Wesleyan Here Sat- urday Afternoon

In the first baseball game of the season for both teams. Notre Dame defeated Western Teachers College here yesterday afternoon by 6 to 2. The contest was a peppy one, but there was much evidence of ragged playing on both teams.

The visitors got off to a running start in the first inning and earned two runs, but they were held scoreless after that rush until the middle of the game. Then two marks were chalked up and in the final inning two others were brought in.

Western's two runs came in the third inning and were earned in a two-base hit by Killebrew. Howton of Western lammed out the longest hit of the game when in the first inning he drove a three-bagger to the centerfield fence. Boone, Western tosser, made a fine showing against the Catholics and worked for seven innings. He was relieved in the Eighth by "Lefty" Baugh who finished the game. The visitors also used two pitchers, starting Ronay and finishing with Besten.

Western has a strong team this season and expects to be a formidable contender for state honors. Ohio Wesleyan will be played here Saturday.

Batteries—Notre Dame: Ronay, Besten and Silver; Western—Boone, Baugh and Hammers and Myers. Umpires—Spugnardi, Pederson and Blackwell.

Eddie Ward Pitches Superbly and Is Relieved For Future Contests By Barnes and "Lefty" Baugh

IT WAS chilly enough for the spectators to button up their top-coats at the Western-Ohio Wesleyan game here Saturday afternoon, but the Teachers warmed things up considerably when they brought in a 12 to 7 victory. There were too many errors on the part of both teams but the steady hitting of the Westerners was a feature of the afternoon.

Although the weather is not yet settled and one of the longest winters in recent history is still on deck, the baseball season is in full swing as far as Western is concerned. Wednesday afternoon Defiance College will be entertained here and the Ohioans will attempt to get off a little better than their sister institution did Saturday. Very little is known of the strength of the invaders.

The first inning of the game Saturday started off in a very agreeable fashion, each team allowing the other one run. The argument didn't start until the second bracket when Western brought in two runs, but was extremely one sided when at the end of the fifth inning the tally was chalked 12 to 1. During this time Ward had been on the mound for Western, and to use a time honored but serviceable expression, he had Wesleyan at his mercy. Barnes was run in at the start of the sixth but was unable to control his tosses. Four runs were brought in by Wesleyan in this inning after the bases had been filled on walks. After one and one half innings of work Barnes was relieved by "Lefty" Baugh who conducted ceremonies until the end of the game.

As a catcher, Myers demonstrated his value to the Western team and also proved to be one of the most consistent players on the nine. Howton defended his claim of being the swat king by stepping to the plate five times and accounting for two triples and a double. Killebrew and Ward each made two hits.

Diddlemen May Get By With Third Contest of Year—"Unless and If"

Ardent Bids are Extended By Both Players and Fans For Spring To Spend Day In City

(By Alvis Temple)

IF THERE is anything in a name, Western will have plenty of opposition tomorrow afternoon facing Defiance College at 3:45 at Normal Field. The Ohio team is down this way making a Southern tour and, incidentally, playing a few ball games and is stopping off to give the Diddlemen the once over.

This is the first stop in Kentucky for Defiance. In a two game series with Cumberland University they broke even with one win and one defeat. Yesterday, they acted foolish and played the Nashville Vols with a resulting score of 14 to something or other and today will be ready to shake the Tennessee dust off their shoes after playing Middle Tennessee Teachers College at Murfreesboro. They will be on the homeward journey tomorrow.

If Spring just remains long enough to accept the heartily expressed invitation to the game tomorrow there should be a good crowd in attendance. Bowling Green has a multitude of baseball fans, but so far they have not evinced a desire to attend a game and suffer a slow death from exposure.

However, they don't know what they have been missing. For a college team, the Western nine is going to make a reputation this season and the starts already made show real ability. Yesterday was the first ideal practice day of the season, but the boys showed marked improvement over the game Saturday in which they successfully trounced Ohio Wesleyan.

Diddle's lineup will be practically the same that started the fray Saturday but there is to be a change made in the pitching staff. Local fans will have an opportunity to see Weaver in action in the box. He is the long-heralded six foot seven inch party and is reported to be able to stretch a goodly portion of the distance from box to plate.

His reputation as a twirler has been noised abroad and he will have to do some neat work to come up to the expectations of fans.

TEACHERS DEFEATED BY EVANSVILLE

Bowling Green High School Also Loses To Scottsville

Western Teachers were defeated here Tuesday afternoon by Evansville College in a ten-inning argument ending 8 to 7. The Hoosiers reversed the decision rendered Monday when the Teachers brought in a 6 to 3 win and Tuesday fought from the very start to accomplish a victory. The winning run came in the tenth when Weaver passed Tismore. He took second on a wild pitch third on passed ball and scored when Myers threw wild over third.

Heavy hitting featured the play of both teams. Howton of Western and Southern of Evansville hammered out home runs. Rea, Evansville pitcher, was hard hit throughout the game but he was not relieved. Excellent support by his teammates accounted for the two victories. This work was centered around Wyttenback, Southern and Simpson.

Ward and Diddie of the opening twirler and was relieved. He was relieved in the seventh by "Lefty" Baugh, who took the game with two men on bases, his side on the side on strikes. Weaver was substituted in the ninth inning after Southern had tied the score. Myers and Howton hit best for Western.

The Teachers will play at Louisville Friday afternoon and Tuesday at Louisville and Tuesday afternoon Bethel College at Russellville.

Scottsville High School baseball team Tuesday defeated the Bowling Green High by a score of 11

PEDAGOGUES DEFEATED BY BETHEL

Prebyterians Win By A Score Of 6 To 3 Saturday

Coach Diddle's Pedagogues lost the second baseball game played with Bethel College McKenzie, Tenn., Saturday afternoon, the score being 6 to 3. The first game Friday afternoon the locals won, the second 2 to 1.

Boone pitched in the first four innings of Saturday's game for the locals. He was relieved in the fifth inning by Ward. They struck out thirteen men. Normal allowed four hits and Bethel six. The Teachers made four errors and Bethel none.

The Pedagogues will play Evansville College team Monday and Tuesday, April 19-20. This team is considered a strong one and two games are promised by Coach Diddle.

PEDAGOGUES DEFEATED UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The Pedagogues were defeated in the second of the series of games Saturday afternoon at the Parkway Diamond in Louisville. The winning team, the University of Louisville secured a score of 6 to 4 against the locals. Ward and Ball were in the box for the locals. The Pedagogues secured eight hits and the visitors twelve hits. No errors were made by either team.

The Pedagogues will play Bethel College at Russellville tomorrow afternoon and State University, Lexington, on the Normal diamond Thursday afternoon.

Teachers Defeat Bethel College Team Tuesday

The Teachers defeated the Bethel College team yesterday afternoon at Russellville by a score of 12 to 0. Only eight innings were played on account of the storm. Weaver pitched for the locals, striking out fifteen men, allowing four hits and made no errors; Grisom for Bethel struck out only two men, allowed sixteen hits and made three or four errors.

The locals will play the State University team here tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 o'clock on the Normal diamond.

WESTERN BEATS BETHEL

In the first game of the series with Bethel College Western Teachers brought in a 2 to 1 victory over the Tennessee Presbyterians. The second and last game will be played this afternoon.

PEDAGOGUES TAKE ANOTHER FLING AT EVANSVILLE NINE

Locals Were Victors By 6
To 3 In First Game of Series Here

After defeating Evansville College by a 6 to 3 score here yesterday, the Pedagogues are taking another fling at the Hoosiers at Normal field today. Ward is in the box for the locals and Rea is holding down that end of the game for the visiting aggregation.

Yesterday's battle was an interesting one but Hammers put the climax in the wrong place when he stepped up to the plate in the first inning and straightened out a homer to bring two other men in ahead of him. Glenn tried the same stunt in the third inning and succeeded in accomplishing a base circle but it so happened the bases were empty and his performance was dimmed somewhat by the rapid scoring of Hammers.

After the first inning, Skinstier of the Hoosiers, tightened up considerably and did better work. Weaver was in the box for Western and had the visitors well in hand. When he was relieved in the sixth inning, he had allowed the opposition only two hits and had them scoreless. E. Howton relieved the long boy and finished the contest with numerous substitutions being made from the Diddle headquarters.

Friday and Saturday the Teachers go to Louisville, to meet their old friends King's University of Louisville charge. Western is very anxious to make a good showing against the Cardinals.

Western And Kentucky Battle Eleven Frames To Nine And Nine Tie

Teachers Fight Uphill All Way Thru Contest and Knot Count In Last Half of Ninth Inning

(By Tom Hazelton)

WESTERN TEACHERS' COLLEGE and University of Kentucky baseball nines battled eleven innings to a nine-all tie here yesterday before darkness put a halt to one of the most exciting contests ever staged on a local diamond.

Things looked dark for the home town lads at the start of the game and it was not until several spasms had been played that the Diddlemen began to take any real interest in the game.

With the score at 8 to 4 against them the Teachers started to fight back in earnest and it seemed that their comeback was destined to bring them to victory at several stages of the closing stanzas.

With the score at 9 to 7 against them, the Pedagogue tied into Werte, steller Kentucky twirler, who had the locals eating out of his hand up to that time, and when the smoke had cleared away two runs had been made to tie the count. Hammers booted away a chance to win the contest right in this frame when he attempted to steal third and was caught a mile. If Hammers had held his base he would have brought across the winning run for Howton ingled sharply down first base line and Boone, who was on first at the time, was nipped at the plate in attempting to bring in the needed tally. Thus the side was retired and the contest went into the two extra stanzas. Kentucky threatened in the tenth when Riffe "bore down" on the apple for what was labelled four sacks until Howton put the quietus on wildcat hopes by racing deep into right center and jumping high into the atmosphere to bring the sphere down to where it could do no more damage. Western threatened in the eleventh but the threat was shortlived.

Diddle and his men go to Evansville today for a two game series with the Hoosier nine. The Teachers are endeavoring to take both these contests in order to uneven the tie that now exists between the two, both having won a game in a previous series here.

Teachers Battle Cats to Tie In 11 Innings

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 23.—In the most exciting and nerve-racking game of baseball played in Bowling Green this season, the University of Kentucky and Western State Teachers battled to an eleven-inning, 9-to-9 tie. The game was a freehitting affair, with the Teachers making an uphill battle throughout, finally scoring two runs in the last half of the ninth to tie the score. A walk to Glenn, singles by Howton and Hammers, and Goodwin's error on Riffe's throw to the plate gave Western the score necessary to knot the count. There was no scoring in the tenth or eleventh, although Western threatened in the tenth and Kentucky in the eleventh. A great catch by Howton of Riffe's bid for a home run and Meyers' work at shortstop helped Ward out of a bad hole. Darknes ended the game at about 6:30 o'clock.

Lefty Baugh started on the mound for Western and Skinner started for Kentucky, but neither lasted. Bunching hits off Baugh in the first and third innings, the Wildcats counted six times, while the Pedagogues kept hammering away at Skinner until they forced his retirement in the sixth. Ward, who relieved Baugh, had one bad inning, the fifth, in which the Cats bunched hits for three runs. Riffe, with a double and two singles, led the Blue and White attack, which Anderson made a double and two singles and Alberts and Vossmeier made two hits each. Hammers, with a triple and a single, drove in three runs.

Diddlemen Engage Cats Under Freshman Edict That Bans Four Stars

Game With Bethel Which Locals Won 12 To 0 Puts Them On Edge For Coming Contest

(By Bill Warren)

AFTER defeating Bethel yesterday afternoon by a 12 to 0 score, the Diddle nine is preparing for the University of Kentucky here tomorrow and is expecting one of the best games of the season. The Wildcats are making their first appearance in Bowling Green and the Westerners are hoping to give them a warm reception when action starts at Normal Field at 3:30.

The local aggregation is to perform under a freshman rule which will deprive the Teachers of the services of the Ellis boys, one of them at short and the other in the right outpost, and will also take Weaver and Boone from the pitching force.

Diddle is by no means pessimistic over the outlook, however, as he has assurance of a strong team representing his training.

Baugh or Ward will be summoned to do the tossing for the Westerners.

Only eight innings were played in the slaughter of the Bethelites at Russellville yesterday afternoon. Weaver, on the mound for Western, had the Preachers at his mercy and held them to four hits and fanned fifteen men. The Pedagogues gathered sixteen hits off Grissom, pitching ace of Bethel.

Central Normal Is Beaten By Teachers

Special to The Courier-Journal.
Bowling Green, Ky., May 14.—The pedagogues of the Western Kentucky Teachers' College made it two straight today by defeating Central Normal from Danville, Ind., the final score being 7 to 3. Aside from the initial inning and with the exception of some wildness on the part of W. Glasgow, the fans witnessed an exciting pitching duel with Huey Osborn for the visitors. The Teachers made six of their runs in the initial frame, ten men participated in the slugging feast and secured two doubles and two singles which a walk was responsible for the final score on Huey pitched.

Pedagogues Whitewash Indiana Team By 6 To 0; Ward Hurls Airtight Ball

Special to The Courier-Journal.
Bowling Green, Ky., April 9—Ed Diddle's Pedagogues of the Teachers College white washed the aggregation from Indiana University here this afternoon at the Fair Grounds.

the final count being 6 to 0. The Teachers showed Leslie Mann and his squad of seventeen players, manager and trainer a brand of ball that would do credit to the Western conference. Herb Ward pitched airtight ball and was supported by flawless fielding.

Ward kept the six safeties made on him scattered, while his teammates made the most of their nine hits collected. Dalley, who was on the mound for the visitors pitched good ball, considering the fact that this was his first game. He was relieved in the seventh by Horde, who allowed two of the six runs. The Teachers started their scoring in the third frame forcing in three runs on two lone hits coupled with two free trips to the initial sack and four errors.

Glenn drove in another tally with his three bagger in the fifth. Howton and Vincent crossed the plate in the seventh and eighth innings respectively, bringing the final tally to six earned runs. Howton made a spectacular catch of Kight's fly in the fourth receiving the pill around his shoestrings and completing a couple of somersaults, landing on his feet with the ball safely lodged in his glove.

The brand of ball as displayed today by the Teachers will land them up with the leaders in Kentucky collegiate baseball when the final summaries are computed.

Pedagogues Nick Transylvania 16 To 5

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 1.—Diddle's Pedagogues, resplendent in nifty new uniforms augmented by a dozen or two new bats, under lowering skies and accompanied by wintry blasts, welcomed Pat Devereaux' pastimers from Transylvania for the initial game of the season on the Teachers' field by beating them 16 to 5. Both teams went to it in the first inning rather gingerly on account of the chilling blasts of wind. The pitchers opened up on their curves but were cautioned against too much steam.

The Transylvanians drew the first blood in the inning on a hit by Nixon coupled with an error by Vincent and a base on balls handed to Kirkpatrick. The Teachers came back in the fourth with hits by Taylor Howerton, Glasgow and Killibrew and coupled with a base on balls handed to Hammer chalked up four tallies. The Pedagogues were never headed from then on, adding markers in every succeeding inning except the sixth until the total reached sixteen when the final frame was counted.

The visitors secured two runs in the eighth and two more in the final inning chalking up five at the final tally. Diddle's men ran up their sixteen runs on fifteen hits aided by nine errors on the part of the Lexingtonians. Only four bobbles were recorded against the local boys, two of which were responsible for two of the visitors runs. Considering that a total of nine hits were registered against Valentine the proteges of Pat did not take full advantage of their opportunities.

Valentine pitched his first college game and made a most favorable impression, outpitching Borders and striking out six men to Borders one.

Both teams played good ball considering the weather but the visitors need more drilling in sizing up situations, while Diddle can profitably spend time on base sliding. Members of both teams failed to take advantage of close plays. Transylvania will meet Western again tomorrow on the college diamond.

Tennessee Normal Is Defeated By Pedagogues

Murfreesboro, Tenn., April 21—Ed Diddle's Pedagogues played the Middle Tennessee Normal School nine here this afternoon and won their first game played on foreign soil. It was their fifth consecutive victory of the season. The final count was 14 to 7. Both teams were severely handicapped by terrific wind which blew in from the middle Tennessee plains carrying with it eddys and whirlpools of dirt and dust.

W. P. Glasgow was Diddle's choice and opposed Heath on the mound. The wind and dust confused both twirlers. Lows, the first man up for Tennessee, hit the first ball for a two bagger and romped in home on a passed ball. Two hits in the sixth gave them another tally. The visitors scored their runs in the second, third, fifth, seventh frames, chalking up two to a frame with only nine hits to their credit. The Pedagogues have shown a faculty of making each hit count to the utmost in the five games played which is a powerful factor in offensive baseball.

While the dope had it that Ward was to start the game for the Kentuckians it was decided the last minute to keep him in reserve for the return game here tomorrow or the game with the University of Louisville next Saturday with Valentine Barnes. Glasgow and Ward who have shown their caliber thus far as moundsmen Diddle should have no worry concerning his battery for the remainder of the season with the ever reliable Hammers on the receiving end. Cardinals Are Beaten By Pedagogues, 17-8

By HENRY CLAY ANDERSON.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 19.—Big Chief Diddle and his band of warriors from the Western Kentucky Teachers' College added the fourth and biggest scalp to their trophy belt here today, performing the operation on the Crimson aggregation from the University of Louisville. Thurman and Kelly were the victims of seventeen runs, while the three batterymen of the Teachers divided up the eight scores of the visitors. The Louisville nine was outclassed in all departments of the game. Ward, Diddle's pitching ace, started the game and twirled masterful ball for five innings, holding the visitors hitless for four innings. His wildness resulted in three passes and coupled with Taylor's error gave the visitors their first run in the second frame. The Pedagogues started their assault on Thurman in the first inning, chalking up four runs on three hits. Collecting six safeties in the second they made each hit a run and added five more on four hits in the fourth. Single tallies in the third and seventh accounted for the total. Kelly, who relieved Thurman in the fourth, was the victim of six Teachers' runs. Valentine who won his first start against Transylvania relieved Ward in the fifth frame. Diddle saving his ace for the two games scheduled Monday and Tuesday with the Middle Tennessee Normal.

Pergesen was hit by Valentine and scored on successive hits by Wagner and Thurman in the fifth. U. of L. got its fighting blood up in the seventh and chalked up four runs as the result of a two-bagger by Pergessen, followed by base hits delivered by Koster, Osborn and Wagner. Two other tallies were obtained in the eighth off of W. P. Glasgow, who was sent in for Valentine. Ward and Howlen connected for home runs.

Ed Diddle and his Pedagogues traveled Munfreesboro, Tenn., to engage the M. T. N. for two games Monday and Tuesday, returning home for a two-day rest and then on to Louisville for a return game with the University of Louisville Saturday, April 26. The score:

PEDAGOGUES WIN SECOND CONTEST FROM HOOSIERS

Teachers Make 6 of Runs In Initial Frame of Pitchers' Battle

The Pedagogues of the Western Kentucky Teachers' College made it two straight here yesterday by defeating Central Normal from Danville, Ind., the final score being 7 to 3. Aside from the first inning and with the exception of some wildness on the part of W. P. Glasgow, the fans witnessed a splendid pitching duel with Huey on the mound for the visitors. The Teachers made six of their runs in the initial frame, ten men participated in the slugging feast and secured three doubles and two singles which with the walk was responsible for the scoring. From then on, Huey pitched magnificent ball. The fielding on the part of the Indians was ragged. Glasgow's wildness gave the visitors a tally in the fifth and two scores in the seventh. Valentine playing in Glenn's place at third gave a good account of himself and will hold down the berth for the remainder of the season. Glenn's ankle keeping him on the bench. Score by innings:

Pedagogues Win From Normal

Teachers' College 12-1 Wins Second Contest

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Murfreesboro, Tenn., April 22.—The baseball team from the Western Kentucky State Teacher College, Bowling Green, made it two straight here this afternoon by beating the Middle Tennessee Normal in a well earned victory of 11 to 0. The game up to the eighth inning was a pitching duel between Ward, Western's hurling ace and Thompson with the Tennessean having a slight edge, holding the visitors to three scratch hits in five innings. Ward pitched a great game of ball but his team mates did not accord him the usual defensive support. Fifteen hits are credited to each side but Diddle's aggression fell into their old habit of making each hit count the limit and the game was on in the sixth, seventh and eighth frames.

When nine runs were squeezed out of eleven hits. Glenn who holds down the third bag like Joe Schepner led the great offensive by piling two two-baggers and a triple. The pedagogues return to Bowling Green tonight where they will have a breathing spell before their return game with the university of Louisville at Louisville on Saturday. Today's game makes the sixth consecutive victory for the teachers in as many starts. The score by innings:

U. of Louisville Proves "Soft Pickings" for Ed Diddle's Nine

By HENRY CLAY ANDERSON

Big Chief Diddle and his band of warriors from the Western Kentucky Teachers' College added the fourth and biggest scalp to their trophy belt Saturday afternoon, performing the operation on the Crimson aggregation from the University of Louisville. Thurman and Kelly were the victims of seventeen runs, while the three batters of the Teachers divided the eight scores of the visitors. The Louisville nine was outclassed in all departments of the game. Ed Diddle's pitching ace, started the game and twirled masterful for five innings, holding the visitors hitless for four innings. His wildness resulted in three bases and coupled with Taylor's error game the visitors their first run in the second frame. The pedagogues started their assault on Thurman in the first inning, balking up four runs on three hits. Collecting six safeties in the second, they made each hit a run and added five more on four hits in the fourth. Single tallies in the third and seventh accounted for the total. Kelly, who relieved Thurman in the fourth, was the victim of six Teachers' runs. Valentine, who won his first start against Transylvania, relieved Ward in the fifth frame, Diddle saving his ace for the two games scheduled Monday and Tuesday with the Middle Tennessee Normal.

Pergesen was hit by Valentine and scored on successive hits by Wagner and Thurman in the fifth. U. of L. got its fighting blood up in the seventh and chalked up four runs as the result of a two-bagger by Pergessen, followed by base hits delivered by Koster, Osborn and Wagner. Two other tallies were obtained in the eighth off of W. P. Glasgow, who was sent in for Valentine. Ward and Howlen connected for home runs.

Ed Diddle and his Pedagogues travel to Murfreesboro, Tenn., to engage the M. T. N. for two games Monday and Tuesday, returning home for a two-day rest, and then on to Louisville for a return game with the University of Louisville Saturday, April 26. The score:

Pedagogues Show Old-Time Form And Win

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., May 17.—Showing a complete reversal of the form of yesterday, the Western Teachers' College defeated the Middle Tennessee Normal of Murfreesboro by a 21 to 7 score here today. A feature of the game was the consistent scoring of the Teachers, who crossed the plate at least once in every inning. The batting of Horn, Vincent, Killibrew, J. Glasgow and Howton featured. Horn, J. Glasgow and Howton hit home runs for the Teachers, while Thompson hit for the circuit for M. T. N. The visitors hit W. Glasgow hard, but could do little with Ward and Frazier. The victory gave the Teachers eleven wins out of thirteen games for the season. Included in these are five victories and one defeat among the Kentucky colleges, which gives the Teachers an undisputed claim to the State title. Score:

Cardinals Perform Like Champions, And Wallop Pedagogues By 7-5 Score

Batting and fielding like champions behind the mystifying hooks and curves of Clark Bailey, the University of Louisville nine advanced a big step toward the State collegiate title at Male High School Stadium yesterday conquering the undefeated Western Kentucky Normal combine by 7-5.

It marked Western Normal's first defeat in two years and the first defeat that has been sustained in that time by Sam Ward, Western Normal's pitching ace, who blanked Indiana University by 6-0.

After a first bad inning when Coach Diddle's team made four runs on four hits, Clark Bailey settled down, grew more mystifying as the struggle progressed, and yielded the Pedagogues but one hit. Only eighteen men faced him in six of the nine innings.

For the first time in two weeks Coach Currie was able to put his full team on the field and the Cardinals merited all the fine things that have been said about them. After Western Normal had taken a 4-0 lead, the Cardinals scored three in their half of the first, one in the second, and then came from behind in the fatal seventh with a glorious rally.

The Cardinals supplemented their good batting and Bailey's brainy pitching with fine work afield. Only two errors were recorded against Coach Currie's charges.

The Cardinals broke up the ball game in the seventh as the skies threatened a downpour and the University of Louisville band was playing an inspiring march. Nelson, first up, fled to Glasgow. Kaster walked and Bush singled. After taking the count of three and two and fouling three straight, Captain Osborne singled through the box scoring Koster and Bush. Osborne pilfered two stations and scored when Hans Waggoner reached first on Taylor's misplay.

Koster, Bush, Osborne, Thurman and Waggoner accounted for the three runs scored in the first. One run was tallied in the second on Pergrem's single, Bailey's sacrifice and Koster's single.

Pergrem and Nelson played great fielding games. Koster, Bush, Osborne and Ray were the heavy hitters for the winners. Taylor hit a triple for Western. H. Glasgow, Pedagogue centerfielder, robbed Thurman of a home run in the first by making a seemingly impossible one handed catch.

An impressive thing about the Cardinals yesterday was the unabating chatter afield and on the bench. The box score:

Cardinal Nine Battles Pedagogues Today At Male High School Field

The University of Louisville baseball team will meet Coach Ed. Diddle's Pedagogue nine of Western Kentucky State Normal this afternoon at Male High Park in a return engagement, and will endeavor to gain revenge for the defeat sustained at the hands of the Teachers last week at Bowling Green. The game will begin at 3:00 o'clock.

The Cardinals have a tough proposition confronting them. Ward.

Teacher hurler, has the reputation of being one of the best twirlers in the state, and he probably will oppose the Cardinals this afternoon. It was he who gave the Louisville team a 17 to 8 trimming at Bowling Green.

Clark Bailey, star moundsman for the locals, possibly is Coach Enke's choice for duty today, though the Cardinal mentor gave no definite statement. Hargis Bush, the star outfielder of the Cards, who was out of the game at Bowling Green, will return to the line-up this afternoon.

The Pedagogues attended the game yesterday between the Colonels and the Blues in order to get a few pointers, even though they don't seem to need them, if any idea of their strength can be gleaned from their victory over Louisville. Coach Enke eased up on his men yesterday afternoon, but has been giving them strenuous drills for the past week. The nearness of the game with the University of Indiana has acted as a stimulant in the Cards' practices as a victory over the Hoosiers would mean a great deal for the locals.

The visitors already have a triumph over the Hoosiers, having beaten Coach Mann's charges in the first Kentucky game played by the Bloomington team. Hence some idea of the relative strength of Indiana U. and Louisville may be gained from today's encounter.

A dance will be given in honor of the visiting team and the U. of L. alumni here for K. E. A. tonight. It will be held at Preston Lodge.

Pedagogues' Nine Win Third From St. Mary's

Lebanon, Ky., May 28.—The Western Kentucky Teachers' College team defeated St. Mary's here today by 13 to 8, the pitching of Barnes and the hitting of Killigrew of the visitors, featuring the contest. The victory for the Pedagogues makes the third out of four played this year with St. Mary's and indicates that the Bowling Green team is a powerful machine. The score.

granted the Saints but two safeties. The Cardinals beat Wesleyan by 7 to 2, the team which Notre Dame barely nosed out by 3 to 2.

Last Saturday the Pedagogues beat Louisville at Bowling Green by 17-8, catching the Cardinals at a most inopportune time as Nelson and Bush, sluggers and good fielders, were out of the lineup and the pitching staff was in bad shape. At that eleven of the Western runs were made off Thurman in the first two innings. With Kelly on the mound the remainder of the game the Cardinals played winning ball.

The Cardinals will be ship-shape for Saturday. Nelson and Bush will be back and hope to catch up with Osborne, Waggoner, and Pergreen who have been fattening their batting averages. The hurling staff is being whipped into shape and some changes will be noted when the team takes the field.

The alumni and the Western Normal team will be guests of honor at a dance to be given by the University athletic association at Preston Lodge Saturday night.

Teachers Drop First Game In Two Years; Bethel Next Opponent

The Pedagogue nine of the Western Kentucky State Normal School and Teachers' College returned Sunday from Louisville, where they lost a heart-rending game with the University of Louisville. The game was more of a surprise than a disappointment, from the fact that the Teachers had so decisively defeated the Cardinals earlier in the season. Bailey on the mound backed by good support and several bad breaks that "comes once in a lifetime" tells the story. Diddle's men will go to Russellville Tuesday to play the strong Bethel aggregation there Tuesday afternoon. Following is the box score of the Louisville game:

granted the Saints but two safeties. The Cardinals beat Wesleyan by 7 to 2, the team which Notre Dame barely nosed out by 3 to 2.

Last Saturday the Pedagogues beat Louisville at Bowling Green by 17-8, catching the Cardinals at a most inopportune time as Nelson and Bush, sluggers and good fielders, were out of the lineup and the pitching staff was in bad shape. At that eleven of the Western runs were made off Thurman in the first two innings. With Kelly on the mound the remainder of the game the Cardinals played winning ball.

The Cardinals will be ship-shape for Saturday. Nelson and Bush will be back and hope to catch up with Osborne, Waggoner, and Pergreen who have been fattening their batting averages. The hurling staff is being whipped into shape and some changes will be noted when the team takes the field.

The alumni and the Western Normal team will be guests of honor at a dance to be given by the University athletic association at Preston Lodge Saturday night.

Cardinals Meet Pedagogues Saturday

Kentucky collegiate baseball eyes will be focused on Male High School Stadium Saturday afternoon when the Cardinals of the University of Louisville and the Pedagogues of the Western State Normal clash in the imbroglio which may determine the State championship.

Both teams are regarded as the two best in the State. Indiana University of Louisville has a winning average so far and has the distinction of holding a victory over the famous St. Mary's nine. In that game Bailey granted the Saints but two safeties. The Cardinals beat Wesleyan by 7 to 2, the team which Notre Dame barely nosed out by 3 to 2.

Cardinal Nine Battles Pedagogues Today At Male High School Field

The University of Louisville baseball team will meet Coach Ed. Diddle's Pedagogue nine of Western Kentucky State Normal this afternoon at Male High Park in a return engagement, and will endeavor to gain revenge for the defeat sustained at the hands of the Teachers last week at Bowling Green. The game will begin at 3:00 o'clock.

The Cardinals have a tough proposition confronting them. Ward.

Teacher hurler, has the reputation of being one of the best twirlers in the state, and he probably will oppose the Cardinals this afternoon. It was he who gave the Louisville team a 17 to 8 trimming at Bowling Green.

Clark Bailey, star moundsman for the locals, possibly is Coach Enke's choice for duty today, though the Cardinal mentor gave no definite statement. Hargis Bush, the star outfielder of the Cards, who was out of the game at Bowling Green, will return to the line-up this afternoon.

The Pedagogues attended the game yesterday between the Colonels and the Blues in order to get a few pointers, even though they don't seem to need them, if any idea of their strength can be gleaned from their victory over Louisville. Coach Enke eased up on his men yesterday afternoon, but has been giving them strenuous drills for the past week. The nearness of the game with the University of Indiana has acted as a stimulant in the Cards' practices as a victory over the Hoosiers would mean a great deal for the locals.

The visitors already have a triumph over the Hoosiers, having beaten Coach Mann's charges in the first Kentucky game played by the Bloomington team. Hence some idea of the relative strength of Indiana U. and Louisville may be gained from today's encounter.

A dance will be given in honor of the visiting team and the U. of L. alumni here for K. E. A. tonight. It will be held at Preston Lodge.

Western rushed the ball through the bewildered Louisville linesmen during the earlier part of the second quarter to the 7 yard line, but an untimely 15 yard penalty forced them to make the pass which was grounded.

Third Quarter Punting Bout.

The third quarter was more of a punting bout. Western displaying the only class of the period when they carried the ball up to the 9-yard line, only to lose on a fumble. The fourth period found both teams opening up an aerial attack, and Louisville in addition contributed a number of desperate runs by the far-famed "Poahy" Marks. The ball was carried down to the 7-yard line and a pass from Marks to Miller completed the journey.

The game was hard fought from start to finish, and while it would be hard to say that Louisville did not deserve the touchdown registered, it is evident that Western should have at least brought in two touchdowns. Fumbles were the main cause of the reversal and came at a time when they would do the most damage.

Glenn, Pitchford Stars.

Glenn and Pitchford were the brilliant lights in the backfield of the Teachers. Glenn made nice gains throughout the entire contest, while Pitchford was a terror in bucking the line. Both of these men were run repeatedly.

Cahoon and Taylor, in the line, demonstrated a better brand of play than their teammates. It was plain that Western's line was far superior to that of the visitors, and the playing of these two helped to make the point clear.

As, Koster and Ford were the top players in the University of Louisville section of the exhibition.

A play by play summary of the game follows:

First Quarter—Louisville kicked 54 yards. Ward returned, fumbled, Western recovered. After three line plays, punted 35 yards. Louisville returned 10 yards. Tried two plays and punted 36 yards. Western returned 11 yards. Glenn made 13-yard gain through line, first

Teachers Defeat Cardinals By 7-3 Score

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., May 19.—Coach E. A. Diddle's Western State Teachers' evened up the four-game series with the University of Louisville by taking the final game by a 7-to-3 score here this afternoon. Weaver held the visitors safe all the way, while the Teachers bunched hits in two innings off Hartfield to score six of their runs. Weaver let the Cardinals down with eight scattered hits and struck out twelve men in winning his seventh victory of the season.

The Teachers counted four times in the first inning. With one out, Killebrew singled and was forced by Glenn. Howton tripled to right, scoring Glenn. T. Ellis was hit by a pitched ball. Hammers then hit to left field for the circuit, scoring Howton and T. Ellis ahead of him. In the third Glenn singled and took second when Koster fumbled the ball. Two infield outs then scored Glenn. The Pedagogues got their final runs in the eighth, when Glenn tripled and scored on a passed ball and Howton singled, stole second and third and scored on Daugherty's overthrow of third base.

The Cardinals scored their first run in the second inning. Robertson singled to short and was forced by Pergam. Killebrew, in trying to complete a double play, threw wild to first, and Pergam took second. Espie got a hit through short, and Pergam scored when Myers fumbled the ball.

The Kingmen counted again in the fourth on an overthrow of first base by Myers and Pergam's single. Louisville scored its final run in the ninth when Tallamini tripled down the right field foul line and scored on Koster's sacrifice fly to Throgmorton. The fielding of Pergam and Nachand for the Cardinals was sensational at times.

Capt. Botto, Denning and Owen Leave Five With Big Gaps to Fill; Glenn, Ward, Frazier, Pitchford Return to Fold

When Coach Ed Diddle called his Western Normal basketball team together last night for the initial practice of the 1924-25 season, thirty-six men reported for duty. The boys were full of "pep" and "rarin' to go" but the coach didn't give them a very stiff practice, practically all of the time being spent in floor drill and shooting goals.

Absence of a number of star performers on last year's team was keenly noted. Botto, who captained last year's five and copped three letters in basketball during his career at Western, left a guard vacancy and carried with him an enviable basketball record. Denning, master of the long shot, left a record that will keep some forward on his toes to match. Western also suffered a big loss when Owen, one of the fastest forwards that ever held that position on a Western team, graduated.

Defeat Centre in 1923

Several other excellent net performers left Western last year, but they left a record of clean play and sportsmanship for their successors to maintain. But tradition of ethics is not all that they left to the succeeding team. They left the glory of a victory over Centre. Never will that glorious and thrilling victory lose place in Western's history. This year's team will have to play real basketball to maintain the standard set by that victory.

But Western was by no means rendered destitute of basketball material by graduation last June. She has in Glenn, Ward, Frazier and Pitchford the nucleus of a splendid net team. These men rank at the top of the long list of Western stars. Glenn, captain of this year's team is one of the best guards that ever held that position on a Kentucky college team.

State U Team

He started on the State University freshman team in 1922-23 and contributed much to Western's success last year. "Pap's" regular playing never fails to draw a rousing applause from the fans.

Ward, veteran center, is a record performer. He is going strong. Frazier, forward, is a record performer.

the last two years. His playing last year was better than the year before and there are strong indications that he will do even better work this year. Pitchford, who won a letter the 1922-23 season, and would have probably won a second letter had he been in school last year, is making a brilliant start this year. Around these four letter men Coach Diddle expects to build his team.

New Material Shows Well

Some of the new material showed up splendidly in the workout last night. Calloway, who made a whiz bang of a record with the Horse Cave Independents last year, appears to be Denning's equal with the long shot. His eye for the goal could scarcely be more accurate. Throgmorton and "Litte" Denning, last year's subs, big fair to earn letters this year. Moseley, Botts and Rhoda also demonstrated that they deserve to rank among the high class players.

Diddle intimated that he would give his men intense training this season, and that they would be called upon to face a stiff schedule, which will be announced later.

The coach said that fifteen more men have announced their intention of reporting for practice tonight, among whom is Paul Taylor, one of Bethel's best last season men.

Pass, Marks To Miller, Gives Kingmen Game In Closing Six Minutes

By JACK BUTTON.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 10.—The glory is Louisville's. The University of Louisville Cardinals left the fair-grounds here this afternoon with a battered football bearing the score "U. of L. 6, Western 0." They also took with them the wholesome respect of E. Diddle's Pedagogue eleven. Individual honors belong to "Poachy" Marks, who tore off yardage through Western's seasoned line like a high-powered racing car; Uncas Miller, who made the sole marker on a ten-yard pass from Marks, following a rapid march down the field on line plunges and Pitchford, the bulwark of Western's driving force.

Seventy-two fresh and confident gridders filed onto the field at 2:30 this afternoon. As many bruised, bleeding and grimy heroes left the field at 4:30. Both teams made numerous substitutions.

Although the Cards gained the laurels, which they richly deserved, the Pedagogues shed glory upon themselves by plucky fighting. The hard, driving force of the Teachers was tremendous and matched only by Louisville's skill in passing.

Louisville outplayed Western in the first quarter, at one time getting within one foot of Western's goal line. But Western's mighty line put forth every available ounce of energy and held the Cards for downs three times. Then came a lucky break for Western in the form of a five-yard penalty for the Cards for offside. Daugherty was the offending player.

Western got within fifteen yards of the Cards' goal line in the first quarter on a pass intercepted by Pitchford on Louisville's forty-five-yard line.

Cardinal Line Holds.

King was forced to take Koster out early in the first quarter and substitute Ford, who made a worthy record.

Western had the edge on the playing in the second quarter, and prospects were strong for Western to score. But the U. of L. line was too strong for the Teachers and they were forced to punt. The half ended with the ball in the Cards' hands on their own 45-yard line.

Valentine received the second kick-off on Western's ten-yard line and advanced the ball to the thirty-yard line. Glenn tore off six. Simms was penalized five yards for off-side. Pitchford then reeled off twenty-one yards through the line on the most sensational run of the game. Glenn then gained five, followed by two from Pitchford. Pitchford then fumbled and Moran recovered his twenty-six-yard line. After that the Cards, who at the time appeared demoralized, put more punch in the game and played the offensive until the final pistol shot.

Score Marker.

After fifty-four minutes of sawing up and down the field, when the fans had begun to predict a scoreless game, Ford took the ball on Western's thirty-one-yard line and advanced it to the eleven-yard line.

Falling to buck the line, Marks passed the pigskin to Uncas Miller, who received it on Western's goal line. Taylor blocked Williams' kick for the goal. Neither goal was in danger during the remainder of the game. Both teams made about the same yardage and number of first-downs. It was a battle to the finish, with the victory doubtful until the marker was scored.

Western Normal Beats Bethel, 24 to 6

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 3.—Ed Diddle's Western Kentucky Teachers' College grid outfit triumphed over the Bethel College (McKenzie, Tenn.) eleven in a hectic game here this afternoon by a count of 24 to 6. The Teachers completely outclassed the Parsons from start to finish. Western would undoubtedly run the score higher if Diddle had not taken the opportunity to try out his entire squad. Western made more than three times as much yardage and first downs as Bethel. Western was set back about 100 yards in penalties for off-side and holding.

The Tennesseans scored the first touchdown early in the first quarter on a 20-yard pass from H. Parnell, full, to W. Parnell, left end. The try for goal went wild.

Western's first marker was made in the first quarter by Pitchford after the ball had been carried 50 yards down the field on line plunges.

Pitchfork bucked over a second touchdown in the second quarter, both trials for goal failed.

Captain "Pap" Glenn intercepted a Bethel pass on Western's 25-yard line near the close of the second period and ran 75 yards for a touchdown.

Having run in almost his entire squad in the first half, Diddle started the second half with his original line-up. Killibrew carried the pig-skin over for a touchdown following a series of line plunges by Glenn, Pitchford, Killibrew and Glasgow. Pitchford was the greatest ground gainer of the game, going through the Tennessee line repeatedly for gains ranging from five to twenty yards. Glenn, Killibrew, Glasgow, Valentine and Winkenhoffer also gained on nearly every run.

The Parnell brothers at full and left end were Bethel's main dependence. The Parsons tried the aerial attack throughout the game, but seldom gaining by it. The game ended with the plucky little Tennesseans on the offensive near Western's goal.

The line-up:

Western	Position	Bethel
Ward	L. S.	W. Parnell
Hunt	L. T.	Laws
Meyers	L. G.	S. Cunningham
A. Throgmorton		Dalton
Taylor	R. G.	Hampton
Apoon	R. T.	Dickerson
Barnes	R. E.	Fields
Glenn	L. H.	Glass
Killibrew	R. H.	Tirre

Western Normal Eleven Leaves For Game

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Sept. 25. — Coach E. A. Diddle's nineteen husky representatives of the Teachers' College football team left Bowling Green Friday morning at 9:36 o'clock for their first game of the season at Kalamazoo, Mich., which will be played Saturday afternoon. The Michigan team has defeated the local boys two successive years and they are out for revenge this year. The boys have had three hard weeks of training for this tussel. They have all entered this season with the best spirit ever seen in a Western team.

However, they will be handicapped in the first game in the absence of Ward, White and Howton, who are regulars. This will force Coach Diddle to put new material at right end, center and at fullback, but as new men have been pepped up for these positions, it is to be hoped that the team work will remain. The following men are making the trip: Glasgow and Valentine, quarterbacks; Pitchford, full; Captain Glenn, half; Killebrew and McBride, half; Barnes, Winkenhoffer and Throgmorton, ends; Hunt, Cahoon and Coffey, tackles; Meyers, Haines, Taylor and Buckles, guards; Throgmorton, center.

All this week has been spent in polishing off the rough places for the game. The team play has not reached mid-season form, but a lot has been done within the last week. The backfield will have plenty of both weight and speed. The line is exceptionally fast, as well as heavy enough for the roughest duty.

All in all, the team will be the best balanced team that has represented the institution in years. Those who keep in touch with the school and the team expect that this will be a very successful season.

PLAN TO GREET DR. KASEY

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 7. — Coach E. A. Diddle and members of the Teachers' College football team were the guests of Dr. H. H. Cherry, president of the Teachers' College and also of the Bowling Green Rotary Club at the weekly meeting today at the Helm Hotel. Dr. Cherry was Diddle's principal speaker, and Coach Diddle thanked the Rotary Club for its contribution to the Rotary Camp for a week camp two weeks prior to the opening of the fall term of the Teachers' College. There were thirty members of the team in attendance.

Other guests were Dr. George W. Cheek, new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; Philip E. Binzel and Malcolm H. Crump, Jr.

Dr. Cherry announced that the new $200,000 teachers' training building on Normal Heights will be dedicated October 30 and the model training school on the Normal Boulevard the same day. There also will be a meeting of the Third District Teachers' Association, which will be attended by every teacher in the district, and a reunion of ex-service men. There will be a day and night programme.

A two-day agricultural fair will be given, at which time prizes will be awarded. Prizes will be offered on all kinds of school work, woodwork, needlework in all the grades, field crops, garden products, poultry, canned fruits and preserves, jellies, cakes, candies and vegetables.

Gov. W. J. Fields and many other state and country officials will be in attendance.

Cardinals Ready For Western Battle

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 9.—Coach Tom King and twenty-two members of the University of Louisville grid squad arrived here at 3 o'clock this afternoon for the tilt with Ed Diddle's Pedagogues here tomorrow afternoon. Coach King gave the Cards a light workout this afternoon and reports that his team is shipshape.

Coach Diddle said today that his men were in better condition than they have been at any time this season and that he believes that the defects displayed in last Saturday's game have been corrected by the strenuous drill this week. Diddle has been running his men day and night this week. He has been feeding them on signal drill and scrimmage in the afternoons and "skull" practice at night. Like the Cards, the Teachers are fresh from a victory last Saturday.

Western is animated by a desire to avenge the defeat received at the hands of the Cards last year.

Both coaches this afternoon announced the probable lineup which follows:

3 CONTESTS CARDED ON STATE GRIDIRONS FOR DECISION TODAY

U. of Louisville Meets Bot
Western; Kentucky U.
Plays Georgetown

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 11.—(By A. P. Yeased Wire)—Today's gridiron card for Kentucky has three intercollegiate games written on it, while down below them another had been written but was scratched off last night.

Lexington carries the long end of the contests, two games being scheduled for this afternoon in the Blue Grass metropolis. The University of Kentucky will take on the Georgetown College at Wildcat Stadium while Transylvania University is entertaining Kentucky Wesleyan's football players.

The University of Louisville and Western Teachers College play the third game at Louisville.

The game that was scratched was scheduled between Centre and Carson-Newman at Danville. The Centre officials cancelled the game when it was charged that the Tennessee College team carried several men who were ineligible.

SECRET PRACTICE IS ORDER OF DAY FOR PEDAGOGUES

"Beat Louisville," Motto of Cardinals; Pep Characterizes Recent Workout; Varsity Unusually Enthusiastic

SECRET practice was the order of the day at Western's training quarters yesterday afternoon as the squad swung into training for one of the most important games on the season's schedule. "Beat Louisville" is the man-sized motto for the week, and the pep that characterized yesterday's workout will work wonders if kept up until after Saturday's game.

Varsity Is Enthusiastic.

The Varsity was unusually enthusiastic. After a consultation concerning some of the poor points of the Bethel bout, a signal drill was held with special emphasis being put on the work of each man in every play. The second team was also full of spirit and Quarterback Winkenhoffer kept them going to the best of advantage.

On Card Only Three Years.

Louisville's visit will give Bowling Green one of the best offerings on the home card this year. Western has only been playing the U. of L. for three years, but in that time rivalry has arisen until both schools look forward to the game from season to season. The score in 1922 was a 6 to 0 win for Western and in 1923 they repeated the performance. Last year Louisville played a great game and won with a tally of 13 to 6 when the Teachers were entertained in Louisville.

Rooters To Make Trip.

A large crowd of the university rooters are expected to make the trip with the team as it is reported that the Jefferson Countians are anticipating a victory.

From the rivalry existing

Aside from the rivalry existing between the two teams, the game is important as the first match of the newly formed Kentucky Conference. Dopesters all over the state will be watching Bowling Green this week, and there more than likely will be several scouts present representing other members of the conference.

Western Blanks Transy In Poor Game

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 14.—Eddie Ward, veteran end for the Western Kentucky Teachers' College, staged a comeback this afternoon after two seasons of mediocre playing and toted the pigskin forty-eight yards after receiving a twenty-yard pass from Winkenhoffer for the touchdown that beat Transylvania 7 to 0. Cahoon making the point for goal on a place kick.

Eddie was the best player on the field this afternoon. In fact, his playing was all that kept the game from being the punkest ever played by a college team. He mixed in every play. The good tackles he made were numerous. He often rushed behind the opposing line and threw the Pioneers for losses. He succeeded in breaking up every Transylvania pass attempted on his end of the line. Ward is a fast man and a good end but for the last two seasons he has been off form. Today, however, he played the brand of football that made him Western's grid hero in '22 and '23.

The first half of today's game was rotten, but both teams started the second half with a new spirit, making fewer wild plays and more gains. Killibrew, Western half, ran the Transy kick back forty-seven yards. Transylvania did better with their passing attack the second half.

Western outplayed Transy throughout the game, taking six first downs to the Pioneers' four. The bad playing of both teams was largely due to a shakeup in the lineup, both teams having valuable men out of the game with injuries. Only once did Transylvania have a chance to score.

Lineup and summary:

Western	Position	Transylvania

Wesleyan Trims Teachers By 13-0 Score

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 30—On a sloppy field, the Kentucky Wesleyan gridgers defeated the football team from Western Normal of Bowling Green here this afternoon by the score of 13 to 0. At no time of the game did Ed Diddle's teachers show any signs of crossing the goal line of the Methodists, although with a better field it might have served the Normal's swift backs, B. Glenn and Kilhews, more advantageously. The two teams battled in midfield for three periods, and on account of the mud and wet ball numerous fumbles prevented any kind of fast work by either team. In the third quarter, Glenn, for the locals, was given the ball for successive end runs and, with good interference, planted the pigskin behind his opponents' goal twice in the first few minutes of the period. A drop-kick for goal was made on the first touchdown, but a pass from Glenn to Johnson for the second failed. The Normal team was on the defensive most of the game, being unable to gain until the final quarter when B. Glenn got away for a thirty-yard run.

College of Ozarks, Kalamazoo Normal On Teacher Schedule

Star, Expects Machine to Do Well

5 HOME, 4 OTHER GAMES

Two intersectional contests, one with the Kalamazoo, Mich., Normal School and the other with the College of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Ark., feature Western Kentucky State Normal's 1925 football schedule. The Kalamazoo warriors will be played away from home as the first fray of the season. The Ozarks' game will take place here as the finale of the year.

E. A. Diddle, former Centre star, for the last three seasons head gridiron coach here, expects his machine to be well seasoned. There is a dearth of letter men, however, both in the line and the backfield.

Only eleven letter men are slated to return to school this fall to be led by Cpta. Harry Glenn, 22, of Owensboro, who has played on the varsity two years. He is a student in the College of Arts.

Other letter men include: E. B. McClure, Corydon, Ky., guard; W. H. McFarlan, Owensboro, tackle; Eddie Ward, Morgantown, end; Ruel Henderson, Dawson Springs, half; L. J. Schford, Connemaugh, Pa., half; W. Wells, Murray, full; J. T. Glasgow, Murray, quarter; Babe Hunt, Bowling Green, guard; B. J. White, Bowling Green, center, and Michael Coffey, Henderson.

Opening Practice Sept. 1.

Opening practice begins September 10, fifteen days before school opening, for initial preparation before the opener September 26 with Kalamazoo. The team probably will average about 185 pounds, which is more than many leading elevens of the country weighed last year.

Western Normal's games are played at the Fair Grounds here, which provide seating capacity for 6,000. Five home and four foreign games make up the schedule:

September 26, Kalamazoo Normal at Kalamazoo.

October 3, Bethel, Tenn.

October 10, Louisville.

October 17, Middlesboro Normal at Murphreesboro, Tenn.

October 24, Centre.

October 31, Kentucky Wesleyan at Winchester.

November 7, open.

November 14, Transylvania, pending.

November 21, Evansville.

November 26, College of the Ozarks.

Normal Schedule This Season Hardest Ever In Local's History

Louisville U., St. Xavier and Michigan Normal to Be Taken On

From all indications the line this year will be the heaviest that ever represented a college in Bowling Green. It looks as if the line will average from 185 to 195 pounds. The addition of big McFarland will strengthen the line and give more weight to it.

He has been working regularly at right tackle, and is showing the real stuff in the line. He is a candidate for an All-State berth this year. Bull Wells and Babe Hunt will make any man's team, and it will be a disappointment to all who see them play if they are not given a berth on this mythical eleven. These boys will bear the burden of the hard work this year. They are heavy, experienced, and are able to stand the gaft.

The schedule to be played this year is the hardest ever undertaken by any Western team. The games open here with Campbellsville College on Saturday, September 27, where they will meet John Carroll University, which is one of the strongest teams in the state.

Play Louisville University
The University of Louisville will be played there on October 11. Middle Tennessee Norman will be here on October 18. Kalamazoo College, which ranks next to the University of Michigan in that state, will then play here on October 25. November 1 is an open date which will be scheduled for Bowling Green.

The team then goes to Lexington to play Transylvania. St. Xavier will be tackled at Cincinnati on the 15th. A trip to Evansville, Ind. to play Evansville college will then follow for the 22nd. On Thanksgiving Day, we will go to Russellville to play Bethel.

The games this year will be played at the Fair Ground. The field will be laid out so that the spectators can sit in the grandstand and see every play. This will be done for the benefit of the townspeople who would like to see the games with comfort.

Big Game at Kalamazoo
The big game this year will be the game with Kalamazoo on October 25. This big game is an experiment with the athletic forces of the school. They hope that the people of Bowling Green are anxious to see some real football in action, and this game was scheduled for that purpose.

If it does not prove to be successful financially, it will be continued for another year. This team has a northern football actually ranked second in the state of Michigan, the University of Detroit accepted. This day is designated as home-coming day, and all the old students of the school are expected to return for the game. A history-making crowd is to be present for this occasion.

Campbellsville Proves Easy For Teachers In Opening Game 65 to 0

Now that the practice game with Campbellsville College is history, Ed Diddle's Pedagogues with a 65 to 0 victory beneath their belt, will settle down to serious work for their first big game of the season at Cleveland, Ohio, next Saturday. John Carroll University will take on the Teachers in all probability will show them a real brand of football.

The game Saturday was productive of several things. In the first place it was truly a practice game as thirty-eight men were sent into the fray by Coach Diddle after the regulars had set the pace.

The drizzling of rain somewhat hampered the play of both teams and many fumbles resulted which probably kept the score down to 65. Diddle presented many new faces in the lineup and particularly in the backfield positions. Wells, a two hundred pounder, played the entire game at fullback and displayed a versatility which augurs well for the Teachers and looks like an All-State position for the newcomer.

Glasgow and Frasier both looked good at the quarter and Glenn and Killibrew, holdovers from last year in the backfield, will bear the brunt of the positions at half with Adams, Valentine and Howton always ready. Captain Hunt at his old position at guard together with Champion and Neisz at guard and tackle are the veterans but will be given a hustle by a wealth of material that is just awaiting for an opportunity. McFarland, the big boy from Lexington looks to be a tower of strength.

H. W. HUNT LEADS WESTERN ELEVEN FOR 1924 SEASON

Veteran Tackle Elected At Annual Football Banquet At Mansard Hotel

"Babe" Hunt, veteran tackle on the Western eleven, was elected captain of next year's squad at the annual football banquet held at the Mansard hotel. The recognized ability of the big fellow on the field and in the class room makes him an ideal captain, one whom the team and school are glad to support. During his freshman year and two years on the varsity, Hunt has missed only one game entirely, and his playing has been an all important factor in the success of the team for the last two seasons.

38 at Banquet

The football banquet was by far the greatest event of its kind in the history of Western athletics. Thirty-four players, two business managers, and Coaches Smith and Diddle were present. Coach Smith, who acted as toastmaster, gave a review of Western football history from the time fellows reported for practice in stocking cap head gear to the present. Manager Owen then gave a summary of the year's work. Ex-Captain Ward spoke of the team's prospects for the next year, and members of the squad were called on for short talks. Among this number were Botto, Miller, Croft, Price and Ridley, all of whom expressed regret at leaving and assured their team-mates of whatever service they could render.

After the responses of the old-timers, Coach Diddle took charge and distributed the coveted "W's." Those who received letters were: Ward, Cartwright, Botto, Killibrew, Wells, Croft, Barnes, Price, Horn, Hunt, Pitchford, Ridley, Bates, Neisz, Myers, Champion, Glasgow and Glenn.

KALAMAZOO WINS FIRST TWO GAMES IN EASY FASHION

Northerners Will Present Strongest Eleven Ever to Appear in City

All indications point to the "Piece de resistance" of local football in the game next Saturday when the Pedagogues of Western Normal take on the strong Western Normal team from Kalamazoo, Mich. The game will be played at the Fair Grounds.

Unquestionably the Michiganders will present the strongest and most polished football machine ever presented by a foreign invader.

Coaches Diddle and Moran realize the strength of their next opponents and have ordered the entire squad to report at 1:30 and stay until dark. This is the first time such a drill has ever been given the Teachers.

Resting Over Week-End.

A dispatch from Kalamazoo says: "Earl Martineau's Western Normal gridgers are taking a rest this week-end before getting out next week for Bowling Green on their only trip of the season. They play the Kentucky State Normal of Bowling Green Saturday, Oct. 25.

"Two opponents have been put away in as many stars by the Kalamazoo Teachers.

"Two weeks ago Alma College, champion of the Michigan inter-collegiate conference was defeated 6-0. St. Viator of Bourbonnais, Ill., was defeated 6-0. Both games brought out something of mid-season speed and were anything but early season conditions.

"The schedule originally called for a game every week but it was revised to leave an open date before the Bowling Green trip. Coach Martineau is taking advantage of the respite to spend some time on his offense.

A football rally of the entire student body is being called tonight to practice songs and yells.

Pap Glenn

outside with a hint of confidence now better acquainted with that supreme effort and punch characteristic of Diddle's teams.

The last lap started with a rush Diddlemen scoring first. A fast and successive falling of the balloon through the nets and the score stood 20 all. From that marker on it was a speculative doubt without much speculation as to the final score, as more prayers were heard than speculations.

The referee, Peterson, announced the score 24-23 in favor of Louisville with six minutes to go. Louisville players began "freezing" the ball, and the Westernites began invading foreign territory. Diddle's five-man defense was broken up, and the Kingmen worked the ball under the basket for a dip counter. Western then shot a foul and in a superhuman spurt scored two successive field goals, the last one by the blond Hornback, who was injured in the play. The Cards then sank a long basket and knotted the score 28 all. With about a minute to go the ball was tossed up in center, and with a rush the Louisvillians started for their basket. Up, majestically, looping beautifully, the ball sailed for the goal. An awed silence, then a roar of thanks as the ball fell slowly and reluctantly from Louisville's basket into the waiting arms of Glenn. Dashing madly from under the danger zone, Glenn dribbled to the center of the floor, with red-coats following frantically. Here Pap Glenn stopped. Momentum carried the red-coats on. Deliberately the accurate shooting Glenn shot at the basket. The ball, followed by a thousand eyes, turned over, and over, and over, then settled comfortably, unperturbed by the deafening roar of the audience into the waiting and loving arms of Western's goal, just as a flash and a hoarse crack from the timer's pistol stopped the game. Denning shot a foul after the crowd had swarmed wildly onto the floor.

No individual won or lost the game. It was a battle of wits, doggish determination, and real basketball. Every player contributed his share. Fate chose Pap to end the game. The lineup: Western (31) Louisville (28) Hornback F. (9) F. Marks (6) Denning F. (9) F. Weber (5) Ward C. C. Moriarty (4) Glenn G. (9) G. Koster (4) Mansfield G. G. Blackerby Substitutions, for Western: Throgmorton (4) for Ward, Winkenhof for Denning. Pedagogue Squad Sees First Scrimmage of Season on Monday

Western Warriors Getting In Shape for Campbells- ville Saturday

Monday afternoon the Western squad saw its first scrimmage since reaching town. Coach Diddle picked out two teams, and it proved that the teams were equally matched. This time the eyes of the coach were trained on the old men who have done service before.

Captain Babe Hunt bore the brunt of the defense, stopping play after play on his side of the line. Durham, the new lineman, was invincible on the defense, and showed a stirring attack on the offense. 'Tape' Nieze continues in the same old hard-hitting, fighting way to down his opponents with little gain. 'Bull' Wells made some hard line bucks and pulled one brilliant off-tackle smash.

Killebrew is good at most all times, and is improving with experience. White was a bear on the defense. Brazier piloted his team to a touch-down after a very hard first half, which had been made.

The seconds scrapped for every inch of ground and showed a surprising defense. Doc Adams, the boy from Rice City, made two hard tackles, hurting his leg on a hard tackle of 'Bull' Wells. Euel Howton carried the ball like an old-timer. His line smashes will be hard to stop, and he is fast on his feet around the ends. Roy Porter shows up mighty fine on the defense, getting in every play coming through the line. He is a sure and hard tackler.

Eddie Ward had a bad side, and was not allowed to tackle in the scrimmage. Horn looks good at all times. He is one of the most trustworthy ends that this school ever had. Champion started the fray with the regulars, but got a bad leg in the mixup. Midnight Meyers was kept out of the play on account of a bad hand, which has had the attention of a doctor. Montgomery, playing left end for the seconds, was hard to get around on end runs. McFarland, the big tackle, was not allowed to run with the regulars on account of his not knowing the signals. The big fellow is in good shape, and claims that he will be ready for the battle with Campbellsville College on Saturday.

There were about a dozen new fellows out for the team yesterday. It was the first time the team had practiced since coming in from camp, and all the fellows who could not come out on camp were out on the field for a place on the team. They were not allowed in the scrimmage yesterday on account of a lack of conditioning. They will be put through the paces, and will be given an opportunity to show just what they can do under fire. There is some good material in the bunch, and it is hoped that the coach will find another Glenn in the bunch. It will be remembered that Glenn came to us last year without any previous experience, and, before the end of the season, made one of our best players. Great things are expected of Glenn this year. He made three letters on the Hill last year, and was a star in all branches of athletics.

It is hoped that the coach will give the new material a chance to work out in the game next Saturday. The method of substitution will give an opportunity for him to use a good many of the new men who are showing signs of having the stuff. Whether or not the coach to do this, depends largely upon the result of the game in the early quarters. All the new men are hoping for a chance in the game.

TEACHERS START LONG JOURNEY TO CARROL GRIDIRON

Seventeen Men and Coaches Bade Adieu By Members of Girls' "Pep" Club

WESTERN TEACHERS COLLEGE SPECIAL COACH EN ROUTE TO CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—(Special to The News)—Seventeen of as fine specimens of physical hardihood, athletic chivalry and football fitness as ever graced the Gridiron on College Heights entrained this morning for their first foreign invasion of the season. Accompanied by Coaches Ed Diddle and Tom Moran and Henry Clay Anderson. The special car by Mr. Blow pulled out at 9:46 amidst the cheers of the Girls' "Pep" Club and the best wishes of Captain "Babe" Hunt who was unable to make the trip on account having been confined to the bed since the game with Campbells-ville.

The leaving of Hunt cast a pallor of sadness and sympathy over the squad. Eddie Ward was the last to board as somehow or other it seemed that he had a hard time tearing himself away from Mrs. Ward, a week-old bride.

Skull Practice Broken Into

We had hardly gotten settled when it was announced that skull practice would be the order of the day. This was broken into, however, just the other side of Elizabethtown when Mr. McGuire, who supervises the car ahead, extended an invitation to visit his domain and we were treated to a most welcome spread of roast beef, potatoes, head lettuce, milk and bread.

The boys will stretch their sea legs at Louisville and Cincinnati and then taps will blow followed by dreams of victory on the southern shores of Lake Erie.

The following compose the squad: Ward, Meyers, Howton, Frasier, Glasgow, Horn, Glenn, Champion, Killibrew, Barnes, White, Neis, Durham, Wells, Porter, McFarland and Taylor.

Pedagogues Primed For John Carrol U. Battle At Cleveland Saturday

Ideal weather enabled Coaches Diddle and Moran to put the Pedagogues thru a stiff workout preparatory to their invasion of Cleveland Saturday.

Sickness during the week has handicapped Coach Diddle considerably. Captain "Babe" Hunt was taken sick after the first half in the game with Campbellsville and was sent to bed where he has been ever since with a case of intestinal poison. The other convalescents have reported for duty, but the absence of "Babe" has left quite a gap in the line.

Paul Taylor reported in uniform yesterday and his presence was welcomed with enthusiasm as he is a big 200 pounder with several years of experience behind him. Taylor played last year at Bethel. The position of tackle seems to have been his weakness. The practice this afternoon will be the last before the squad en-trains for the southern shores of Lake Erie to lock horns with John Carrol University at the American League park Saturday afternoon.

The backfield men are all in good shape and with the exception of Hunt the line looks A-1.

While Saturday's game will be played in a mammoth stadium before a metropolitan crowd and with a team on which there is no dope, the Pedagogues will leave Friday morning on the 9:46 in better shape and potentially stronger than any trip for the last three years.

Returns, quarter by quarter, will be given out in the Teachers auditorium Saturday afternoon.

Game With John Carrol Strengtnens Pedagogues For Louisville U. Fray

Reaction of Playing Before Metropolitan Crowd, Long Journey and Machine-like Work of Enemy Reasons for Defeat

(By "Ach")

An analytical story of the football game between the Pedagogues and John Carrol University at the American League Park, Cleveland last Saturday, presenting a dissection of the play, causes for result, alibis and so forth is what the faithful followers of the Teachers want and even though there are many angles to be considered I shall try, by request, to give a few of the outstanding features of the contest.

In the first place there is no alibi. In the second place the writer would rather have had the Pedagogues meet defeat in this game than any other on the schedule. Again there was the inevitable psychologic reaction, which was so forcibly demonstrated in the game with Vanderbilt two years ago, and which was mentioned Friday in connection with a metropolitan crowd and a fifty-thousand capacity Stadium. Another thing was the style of football presented by John Carrol Saturday.

On Train 40 of 53 Hours

As an added feature let me mention that Diddle's squad was on the train 40 out of the 53 hours they were away from home.

The first contention can be eli-the opportunity of seeing a good Football Machine in action and felt it as well; that the afore mentioned psychologic reaction has been experienced and Thoroughly Digested; and that they will be in a most receptive mood for the gruelling drill that will be their allotment for the coming practices.

Old Style Football Used

As for the style of football that John Carrol presented it was as old as the game itself, but was a splendid example of what a well-greased machine, with a plentiful supply of extra parts, is capable of doing in straight football. There were in the neighborhood of sixty men in uniform on the bench, and I say without fear of contradiction that there wasn't any choice between them when it came to executing the movements for which they had been drilled. Plummer at half, Carny at center and Huske were the exceptions, as these men displayed particular individual ability. If Diddle had an All-Star squad of seventeen men he could not have weathered this great reserve of potential material.

Forty-eight hours of physical inactivity must, of course, be figured in the comparison.

The game is history. The student body of Teachers College and their loyal supporters in Western Kentucky have every reason to be proud of the boys who represent them on the gridiron.

All Glory to John Carrol.

Teachers And Cards

Renew Ancient Feud

Saturday Afternoon

Cityville Gam

Back on their own football field, with home fans supporting them once more, the University of Louisville Cardinals will renew an ancient feud Saturday afternoon at Parkway Field, when they battle the powerful Pedagogues of Western Kentucky State Normal. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Twice the Teachers have met and vanquished the Cardinals, last year at Bowling Green, and the year before at old Eclipse Park. This year the Teachers claim to have the best team in their history, and one of the games they are most eager to win is the one that will be unfolded this afternoon at Parkway Field. Western opened its season with a 65 to 0 victory over Campbellsville, and though they were beaten by a large score last week, they were beaten by a team that plays high-grade football—John Carroll College of Cleveland. The Teachers

The Teachers are coached by E. Diddle and Tom Moran, two young mentors who know football. Tom Moran, son of Uncle Charley, was head coach last year at Carson-Newman.

Coach Enke may present a different football team than the one that began against Kentucky last week. Several substitutes who have been banging away in practice and showing real form will be given their well-deserved chances today. Burrows, Berry, Fulzotte, Koster and Weuller are among those who in all probability will get their opportunity Saturday.

A football rally attended by the greater number of U. of L. students was held last night and talks were made by the various athletic heads. The student body is at fever pitch for the game, and a large crowd is expected. In addition to the box-office at the park tickets for the game may be procured at Pookman's Pharmacy, Elks Building.

Western has a husky team. McFarland, former star at Kentucky, is playing tackle. The team will outweigh the Cardinals, but Coach Enke is relying upon his aerial attack to carry him to victory.

The probable lineup:

Louisville	Position	Western
Burrows	L. E.	Horn
H. Dougherty	L. P.	Durham
Caudill	L. G.	Barnes
Gentile	R. E.	Porter
Berry	R. G.	Champion
Osborne	R. T.	McFarland

Pedagogues Will Play St. Xavier, Evansville Bethel In Final Games

*Diddle's Men Out to Avenge Loss of 28-14
Contest at Cincinnati; Thanksgiving Battle at Russellville Ends Year*

The Pedagogue eleven will meet St. Xavier College at Cincinnati on Saturday. This game is also to be a tough battle, but likewise a victory. St. Xavier beat Western 28 to 14 last year in a game in which Western led at the end of the first half 14 to 0.

Western is resolved to have vengeance this year. Davis, the St. Xavier halfback who caused the defeat of Western last year is playing with St. Xavier this year, but he is not expected to be so dangerous this year, the Western team being more familiar with his methods of play. This game will be received in Bowling Green play by play.

Western will journey to Evansville Nov. 22 to play Evansville College. This college has never before been on Western's schedule and the team doesn't know just what to expect. According to reports received, Evansville has a strong team.

On November 27 Western meets her ancient Turkey Day rival, Bethel College, at Russellville. The game with Bethel has always been a much anticipated event. Arrangements are being made for the students of Western to accompany the team to Russellville in a special train.

Pedagogues Lose

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 25.—Western Teacher College lost to Kalamazoo Normal here today, 24 to 0. Coach Martineau's gridders were victors in the greatest game ever played on a local gridiron. The victory was well deserved. The Pedagogues were outweighed fifteen pounds to the man, but were able to put up a defense that Coach Martineau frankly admitted surprised him.

TEACHERS DEFEAT BETHEL TEAM 70-0 IN HECTIC CONTEST

Western Runs Wild In Battle at Russellville; Score Runs at Will

The Western Kentucky Teachers' College closed her 1924 football season yesterday with a 70 to 0 victory over Bethel College. The Parsons did their best to win, but their effort was unequal to the task and they went down in the most overwhelming defeat ever inflicted on them by a Western team. Coach Diddle sent practically every member of the squad into the game, and still the score climbed.

The Bethel line furnished little opposition, "Bull" Wells was not given an opportunity to display his tremendous driving force. The game called for fast sprinters who could reel off long runs. Western made runs through the line and around the ends and completed passes at will.

WESTERN DEFEATS EVANSVILLE 35-0 IN FAST CONTEST

Pedagogues Display Old- time Fighting Spirit In Hoosier Contest

Displaying their old time fighting spirit, Ed Diddle's Pedagogues overwhelmed the Evansville College eleven in a fast football game Saturday.

The Hoosiers played a good brand of football, but they found it impossible to penetrate the stone wall that Captain "Babe" Hunt and his fellow linesmen maintained. Neither could they stop the line plunges of Ritchford and Wells. Repeatedly the two went through for big gains. Western backs also went around the Evansville ends for many long gains. The aerial attack of the Diddle-Moran men dazzled the visitors, just as it has surprised every other team that has encountered Western this year.

Diddle and Moran are drilling their squad hard this week in preparation for the game with Bethel College Turkey Day. Owing to the strong rivalry that has long existed between the two schools, this game is regarded as a big event. A large number of Western students are planning to attend the game at Russellville.

Western Student-Body Welcomes Kalamazoo Team to City

Pedagogue "Pep" Runs High; Diddle's Team Ready to Do "Stuff"

Coach Martineau, Former All-American Back, and 30 Gridders Given Glad Hand By 1,000 Students On Arrival Friday

Primed for a battle royal, Coach Earl T. Martineau, former Minnesota All-American halfback, and his thirty Michigan Normal grid- ders arrived at Bowling Green in their special car last evening at 6:35 o'clock.

With colors flying, and shouting cheers that rolled through the ether like a tidal wave, the Western Kentucky Teachers' College students, a thousand strong, marched from College Heights to the railway station, where they gave the visitors from Michigan an honest-to-goodness Kentucky welcome, later conducting them to the Helm Hotel for dinner.

Never before was Western so enthused over a game. A series of "pep" meetings this week has set the entire student-body on edge. They literally inhale the breath of love for the school and exhale a spirit of loyalty and faith that permeates all Bowling Green. The people of Bowling Green have caught the spirit and are "carrying on." Confidence is the thing that Western and Bowling Green have the most of. Bowling Green believes in Western and Western believes in its team.

Grid Classic of Year.

Today's game is decidedly the classic of the season for both teams. Each appears to fully realize they are meeting a foe of proven ability. Neither team is expecting anything less than a tough battle to the finish; therefore, proud will be the winner of the laurels.

When Pedagogue meets Pedagogue at the fair grounds this afternoon there will be a band of music and rooting heretofore unequaled in Bowling Green football history. The Business University students will be there to lend their support to the Kentuckians, while in Kalamazoo the comrades of the Michiganders will see the game play by play as it will be wired to them by Mr. Reid, Michigan's basketball coach. They will root body and soul for their heroes.

Social To Follow Game.

Tonight the students of Western will entertain the Michigan team with a party on College Heights.

Both teams are in excellent condition for the game. Coaches Diddle and Moran have drilled their men hard all the week and report them in the pink of condition. The boys have sworn they will carry Western's colors to victory. The Kalamazoo team cancelled a game last week in order to rest for today's game. Coach Martineau says that his men are "rarin'" to go. It is estimated that Kalamazoo outweighs Western by an average of five pounds, their heaviest man, N. Johnson, left guard, weighing 195 pounds.

Probable Line-Up.

Western Normal Overwhelms Invaders

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 18.—Western Normal and Teachers' College defeated Middle Tennessee Normal from Murfreesboro here this afternoon to the tune of 44 to 0. The Pedagogues seem to have come into their own once more after their defeats at the hands of John Carroll at Cleveland and the University of Louisville last Saturday. The awakening did not come until the second half of the game this afternoon for the Tennesseans held the Teachers to a lone touchdown for the first two quarters. The first touchdown came in the first five minutes of play after Frasier made twenty yards around right end from the center of the field. Glenn made a first down and was on the receiving end of a beautiful pass from Frasier which netted thirty yards and the score. The try for point failed.

The Pedagogues had the ball in Tennessee territory most of the time, but lacked the final punch when within scoring distance. A fumble four yards from the goal line in the last two minutes of play cost the Teachers a possible score in the second quarter.

The original lineup started for Western at the beginning of the third quarter and the dash, precision and aggressiveness which made victories possible the last two seasons was, for the first time, apparent. Plunges through the line, long end runs with perfect interference, clock-like passes and all-around football clocked up 38 points as the result of touchdowns by Glenn, Frasier, Wells and Pitchford. Two tries for points were successful.

Coaches Diddle and Moran made many substitutions in the last half. There were no casualties and Diddle will have a full week of prepping before the game with the strong Western Normal team of Kalamazoo, Mich., here next Saturday. The lineup:

Western (44).	Positions	Tennessee (0).
Horn	R. E.	Bishop
Taylor	R. T.	Presgrove

Substitutions—Western — Durham for Barnes, Wells for Howton, Ward for Galloway, Champion for Neisz, Barnes for Wells, Wells for Glenn, McClure for Neisz, Valentine for Howton, Sterett for McClure, Winkenfuss for Ward, Weldon for White, Coffey for Barnes, Glasgow for Frasier, Throgmorton for Galloway, Sturgeon for Sterett, Wallas for Durham, Meyer for Throgmorton, Pitchford for Killibrew. Pedagogues' Fumbles Prove Costly; Lose To Transylvania 13-0

Western lost to Transylvania 13 to 0 in a football game played in a continuous downpour of rain Saturday. Playing on a muddy field with a slippery ball, neither team had an opportunity to demonstrate its skill. It was anybody's game, and the lucky team won. Both teams fumbled the slippery ball many times, and the field was too slow for plays requiring speed. Line bucks were the order of the day. Most of the passes attempted by both teams were incomplete.

Western, playing in Transy territory most of the time, made twice as much yardage as Transy and seven first downs to Transy's four. Western fumbled once on Transy's five yard line and twice on her fifteen yard line. These fumbles cost Western a victory. The two touchdowns that Ware made by long runs were made from fumbles recovered from Western. Pitchford carried the ball more than any other Western back and always for substantial gains. Many times he carried the ball into Transylvania territory, only to lose by fumbles.

Ware, playing quarter, starred for Transy. "Punk" Thompson, the star whose position Ware played, was not in the game, but he was apparently not needed. The last two plays of the game were passes from Frazier to Valentine and Glynn, which netted Western 25 yards each. The game ended with Western in possession of the ball near Transy's goal.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 10—(Special)—Western Kentucky will leave its Bowling Green campus this week to battle St. Xavier College's eleven here Saturday afternoon. Last season the Kentucky Teachers gave the Saints the scare of their lives and the Xavier representatives triumphed only by the margin of one touchdown and point after touchdown. Coach Joe Meyer of St. Xavier believes that the Teachers will come north to avenge the 21 to 14 defeat and consequently he is rehearsing some new plays for the encounter.

Following the Kentucky Teachers, St. Xavier will host Otterbein

here on Home-coming Day, Nov. 22. Otterbein has been the Home-coming attraction for the last several years and the 1923 meeting resulted in a 7 to 6 victory for the visitors.

The present season has unearthed a veritable star in Tom Mussio, 130 pound right halfback of the Saints. He measures only a few inches in excess of five feet and is recognized as one of the finest, if not the smallest man playing in Ohio college football. Mussio was a third-string man on the 1923 squad but he developed into the season's sensation here this fall. He is a junior. It is believed that he will prolong his good work until the season is terminated Thanksgiving Day, when Haskell Institute plays here.

Open Season Saturday

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 8.—Western State Teachers' College will open its basketball season here on Saturday night. The first game will be with a team representing the 115th Division, Aviation Corps, from Nashville. This team is composed of former college stars.

A letter to Coach Diddle states that the team will fly up from Nashville Saturday afternoon in three ships, and requests that he make arrangements for a landing field. The girls' basketball team will play a preliminary game with the Alumni.

Boys And Girls Win For Western Normal

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 10.—The basketball season opened here tonight for the Western State Teachers' College. The boys' varsity and the girls' team were given an opportunity to show their wares and both came through in high glory. The Western co-eds stacked up against a team of alumni including the three captains for the last three years. The undergraduates won by a margin of 1 point. The final score was 18 to 17. The varsity was pitted against the team representing the 105th Observation Squadron, T. N. G., from Nashville. The team expected to fly up, but inclement weather prevented. This team was composed of former college stars from Vanderbilt, Cumberland, Peabody and Sewanee, but Diddle's men took the game at the start and never let go. Western won 60 to 19. Lineup:

Wesleyan Quintette Defeats Western, 20-16

Special to The Courier-Journal.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 14.—Kentucky Wesleyan showed a reversal of form here tonight and won from the Western Kentucky Teachers' College after being defeated by Ogden College last night. The score ended 20 to 16. The Winchester lads took the lead and never lost it. The only flash of form displayed by the Teachers came in the second half when a spurt enabled them to tie the score but the visitors were not to be denied and forged ahead to win.

Kentucky Wesleyan Defeats Pedagogues In Thrilling Battle

Parsons Give Teachers Thrill of Life In Game Ending 20 to 16; Johnson, Forward of Visitors, Is Stellar Performer

Ed Diddle's Pedagogues slipped on the banana peel of self-confidence last night and dropped a basketball game to the Kentucky Wesleyan quintette 20 to 16. The Parsons gave the cocksure teachers the surprise of their lives. Before Western was hardly aware of the fact, Wesleyan had gained a substantial lead, which they relinquished for only a few moments in the last half.

Only once did Western show par form and that was when they tied the score in the first of the last half. But then came another slip that they never recovered from.

Western concedes that the Parsons simply outplayed them. They were fast and their teamwork perfect. Johnson, Wesleyan forward, earned the right to be called one of the best forwards that ever played on Western's floor.

Glenn Plays Great Game.

Captain "Pap" Glenn, as usual, played a sterling game for Western. A better guard than "Pap" could hardly be found. He is the same in every contest. He always puts out all he has and never lets the shadow of defeat effect his spirit. When the game goes the wrong way he sticks his chin out a little farther and puts more punch into his playing. His playing last night was the best ever seen in Bowling Green. His long shots were spectacular and his guarding all that saved Western from a worse defeat.

TEACHERS DEFEAT EASTERN, CENTRE IN NET CONTESTS

Pedagogues To Play Bethel
On Jan. 31; Co-eds Meet

Coach Ed. Diddle's Western Basket-eteers have given the slip to the jinx that followed them last week.
Perhaps the jinx abides on the home floor and didn't feel like making the trip to Richmond and Dan-played splendid basketball Monday night when they beat Eastern Teachers' College 30 to 16 and when they won the extra period contest with Centre Tuesday night.

Diddle has no game scheduled for his team until Jan. 31, when they play Bethel College on the home floor. This long respite will give the men time to get in some good practice.

Winkenhoffer Plays Great Game.

basketmen in a thrilling overtime contest here tonight, 34 to 32. The game was the hardest fought on the Danville floor this season. At the end of the regular playing time the score was tied at 30-all. During the five-minute extra period, Galloway and Glenn registered field goals for Normal, while German was the only Colonel able to sink a throw.

There never was more than four points separating the two teams during the entire contest. Both showed an excellent defense, most of the shots of both teams being long ones. Normal led at the end of the half, 20 to his credit, was the high point man for the Colonels and the star of the game.

Galloway, with eleven points, and eight points, led the visitors' attack.

WESTERN QUINTET DEFEATS BETHEL BY 26-14 COUNT

Pedagogues Take Slow, Uninteresting Match; Capt.
 Glenn, Chief Luminary

The Western quintet easily took a slow, uninteresting game from the Bethel College five by a score of 26 to 14 last night. The Western cagemen at times almost went to sleep, but even at that they couldn't help but win. But Bethel really deserves more credit than Western in that they appeared to be fighting their best; but they seemed to be off form in team work and goal shooting.

Captain Glenn, as usual, boosted Western's score. Although handicapped by an injured knee, Eddie Ward, veteran Western center, played a good game. Barnes, Bethel's captain, played the best game for the visitors.

TEACHERS' WIN U. OF L. GAME

Diddle's Five Outclasses Kingmen By 56 to 25 Count

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 17 —Coach Ed Diddle's Western Normal Pedagogues gave the University of Louisville Cardinals their soundest drubbing of the season at the Knights of Columbus gymnasium last night completely outplaying the Kingmen in every department to win by 46 to 25. In order that things might be unanimous, the Louisville girls lost to the Transylvania lassies by the count of 14 to 12.

The girls made the best Louisville showing of the night, for they almost defeated a team that had beaten everything this season, including the girls of Georgetown College, while except for ten minutes of the second half, the Cardinal boys did everything except improve their reputation.

Western Normal possesses a brilliant team, the best that the Cardinals have met this season, and the Teachers were evidently playing only in form when they swept the ball down in the court time and again last night to leave Louisville far in the ruck. With Hornbeck and Walken in the lead, Normal would secure the ball and get down the floor to a clean shot at the basket before Louisville could ever formulate a defense.

The Cardinals were far off in goal shooting, but it was Normal's tight defense, as much as anything else, that kept their score down. Western got off to a fast start, scoring seven points before Blackerby could score one point, and then increasing their count to nineteen before Louisville could score again. The score at the half was 21 to 6.

The second half was decidedly different from the preceding 20 minutes of play, and for a time it appeared that Louisville would come within striking distance of Western. The Cardinals began to show more signs of fight, and picking up on the offense, brought the score to 23 to 32, before Hornbeck, Walker and Ellis added thirteen points in succession while Libbey was scoring one field goal.

In Western the Cards were simply confronted with a phenomenal team that was practically invincible. On the offense, the Teachers negotiated the length of the court at a lightning speed that found Louisville entirely unprepared to meet it. On the defense, Western was equally efficient, holding the local forwards to a few shots, most of which they missed.

Teachers Down Fliers In First Cage Game; Girls Defeat Alumni

105th Observation Squadron Proves Easy for Western, 60-19; Co-eds Victors Over Strong Ex-Basketeers, 1-17

Ed Diddle's Pedagogues copped the first net game of the season Saturday night from the 105th Observation Squadron T. N. G. ave. by the overwhelming score of 60 to 19. The aviators were "in the air" during the entire game. They played well at first, but the work of Captain "Pap" Glenn at guard, and "Slim" Galloway, at forward, soon took all their "pep" away. "Slim" seemed never to know when to quit tossing the ball through the goal. Almost too fast for the score keeper to keep the count, he tossed the ball into the basket, making 12 field goals during the game. Heaves, the soldiers' champ guard, couldn't stop him.

Major Bennett, the star aviator forward and former Sewanee College star, might have made the score different if he had not been guarded by "Pap" Glenn, who broke up nearly every one of the major's attempted shots. At the close of the game the major said that until he played in that game he thought that he could play basketball, but Glenn had convinced him that his job was flying.

Ward Displays Old Skill.

Eddie Ward, veteran center, displayed that same skill in tipping off the ball and running the floor that has earned that berth for him three years in succession. As usual, Eddie showed that he was familiar with the location of the basket. He has never been known to go through a game without making one or more goals.

Frazier at forward, and Pitchford at guard, showed that they were qualified to hold positions on the Western quintette.

Diddle played every man on the squad and the reserves added to the lead made by the first five.

All of the aviators are former college cagers. Van der Croft, Peabody, Cumberland and Sewanee, intended to come to Bowling Green being their alma maters. They in planes, but inclement weather prevented them making the aerial trip.

Undergrads Win on Fens.

The Western co-eds took the first cage game of the season from the alumni Saturday night by the close score of 18 to 17. Both teams made the same number of field goals, the undergraduates getting their margin on fouls.

The alumni team was composed of former letter players, three of them having been captains of Western teams. The playing of Mrs. Ramon Ridley, formerly Miss Lola Isles, who held a forward position on the State Collegiate basketball team two years in succession, was the sensation of the game, 10 points going to her credit. She was well supported by her teammates, Emma Lee Morrison, at forward, and Beulah Snider, at center contributing the other seven points. Alma Davis at guard, thrilled the fans as she has for the last three years with her spectacular plays.

Monin Leads Serving.

Anna Monin lead in points for the undergraduates, making some skillful shots. Anna, won a letter last year, played even better Saturday night than she played last year, which is indeed a record to be proud of. Anna's running mate, Hattie Baird, distinguished herself in passing and shooting goals. Barksdale, center, did excellent work. Pearson demonstrated that she is qualified to fill the position of running mate to Captain Emily Snider, whose worth was discovered last year. Snider came in for a lot of credit for the victory, her close guarding, breaking up many of Ridley's and Morrison's shots.
