In 1872, several Glasgow citizens, among then the Reverend N. G. Terry, pastor of the Glasgow Baptist Church and former principal of the Allen Lodge Female Academy, planned the founding of a women's college which they hoped would be endowed and controlled by the Liberty Association of Baptists. The group of promoters included Governor Preston H. Leslie, Major Christopher T. Cheek, and S. E. Jones. These men spearheaded an effort to obtain the backing of the Liberty Association and to secure a charter for the institution from the Kentucky Legislature. During the next year the proposed charter was taken before the Association at its meeting in Horse Cave. The issue of support was favorably resolved, after which the Association took up the question of location. Three communities, Glasgow, Smiths Grove and Cave City, competed for the designation; and Glasgow was chosen as the home for the college because its citizens offered the largest financial inducement, approximately twelve thousand dollars.

It is said that the Christopher-Tompkins house on North Jackson Highway (today owned by Mrs. T. C. Delvaux) was first proposed as the site for Liberty College in 1874, but that it was rejected because of the high incidence of typhoid fever which plagued the north side of the town. In contrast, the city's south side was relatively free of the fever; it was believed that the fumes emanating from oil wagons passing through the south side en route from the Oskamp wells to the depot killed the germs. The site selected for the college was a hill owned by Mariah Everett southwest of the town square, facing what is today Liberty Street. A large brick building on the lot was razed to accommodate a new 140 by 80 foot brick building, part of which was two and part of which was three storeys. The brick mason was James Shirley. In 1875 the building was completed at a cost of $25,000. Classrooms and accommodations for forth boarding students were available.

The graduating class of 1878 consisted of four women. Eighteen graduates joined their ranks in the next two years.

The college became co-educational about 1891. Liberty College closed in 1911, having graduated 133 students. The college's buildings passed into the hands of the Barren County Board of Education in 1912, and they housed the Glasgow Graded and High School from 1915 until their demolition and replacement in 1931.

NOTE: Vandenburg Co, IND Marriages: Samuel Davis to Lissie Curry Dec 3, 1898. Samuel Davis to Katie Steinhaner Aug 10, 1902. We had children of Thompson Davis as James and Bennett but they probably were James T and Bennett A whose marriages are shown at Vandenburg Co, IND.

My ancestor is believed to have been Elijah BOWLES, b ca 1751; at City of Richmond, Henrico Co, KY 1782-1785; m Mary __; had infant son Claibourne BOWLES as of 1782; this Claibourne BOWLES is believed to have been Claibourne BOWLES, Sr m Mary
Palmore, (dau of Joseph Palmore of Buckingham Co, VA) who were likewise my ancestors being the parents of Elbourne BOWLES m Elizabeth AUSTIN-at Bedford Co, TENN 1840 and at Lincoln Co, TENN 1850.

Elijah BOWLES, b ca 1751, was not a son of Thomas BOWLES nor is his relationship to Thomas BOWLES known now. However, Thomas BOWLES made his will in Henrico Co, VA Nov 19, 1783 and the executors Thomas BOWLES and Jno. Winn. (O Book 2, p 189, Henrico Co, VA) sued Elijah BOWLES (ibed, p 190) and this appears to have been for debt. Descendants of said Elijah BOWLES are eligible to the S.A.R. and D.A.R. as he contributed to the fund for training recruits for the Army before the signing of the Treaty of Paris.

Elijah BOWLES appears to have been at Barren Co, Kentucky 1810 per census and his son Claiboume BOWLES appears to have been at Barren Co, Kentucky per 1810 census listing him as "Cleburn Bowles".

In order to connect Barren Co, Kentucky Bowles with Virginia Bowles I have attempted to copy the handwritten will of Thomas BOWLES, of Virginia and records pertaining to his estate to show heirs.

HAVE YOU FOUND YOUR REVOLUTIONARY WAR ANCESTOR?

Between one-third and one-half of the adult men in the rebelling American Colonies performed military service of some sort in defense of American freedom at some time during the eight years of the Revolutionary War. If you are descended from a male American born before 1765, there is a high likelihood that evidence exists of his military contribution to winning American independence.

The "S.C.G.S.Research Team" of the Southern California Genealogical Society, Inc will search for the name of your forebearer among the 80,000 veterans who filed claims for Revolutionary War pensions, among the Daughters of the American Revolution, among the 14,000 officers who served in the American forces, and among the tens of thousands of soldiers included in the most comprehensive published collections of service records for each of the original thirteen colonies: New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, as well as for Maine and Vermont.

The indexes of books and sets of books totalling 59 volumes of records will be combed, and you will receive a full report on the evidence of Revolutionary War service discovered.

Send the full name of your ancestor, with all variations of the spelling of his last name, and a fee of five dollars for each name searched. Allow three weeks for delivery.

KY. GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL NEWS is preparing a comprehensive Directory of Family Searchers and Genealogists which will list all possible family researchers and genealogists searching for KY ancestors.

The Directory will consist of essentially a listing of all possible persons and their surnames of interest (or full given names if desired) being searched in Kentucky classified on the basis of KY counties of interest and time frames as applicable. Since surnames and timeframes being listed will be categorized by applicable counties, the Directory's usefulness to readers will be greatly enhanced. Readers can immediately find interesting surnames identified on the basis of counties and exact time periods together with the current names and mailing addresses of searchers of that line.

Any person searching in Kentucky is invited to submit one free listing in this new KY Directory without further cost or obligation. Subscribers to the KY Genealogical & Historical News may submit as many free listings in the Directory as they desire for themselves.

For more information on this new Directory of KY Family Searchers and Genealogists, write and send a long SASE to:

ROOTS-BBS: Now there is an online bulletin board in California just for genealogists. Called ROOTS-BBS it is for anyone and everyone interested in searching out ancestors and the application of computers to that type of research. Best of all, it is free for the price of a telephone call.

Simply set your modem to 8/N/1 (8 bits/No Parity/1 Stop Bit) and dial (415) 584-0697 in San Francisco. The Bulletin Board supports 300 and 1200 baud. You will be asked for your name and then be presented with easy to follow menus. You will find a wealth of information. For example:

Where to search for East European (German) records
Where to find Italian vital records
Tips on getting Irish church and civil records
There is a first hand account of a beginner's foray into the world of genealogy. Also available are programs that will:
Compute a Soundex value for any name
Compute a birthdate from tombstone ages
Print a five generation pedigree chart
Configure an Epson printer from an online menu, and much more.

If that hasn't struck your fancy then how about free file management software or free communications software? And for the really hard core there are lists of other public bulletin board systems.

Questions and surnames inquiries are encouraged. So, if you have a question, need help, want to help other researchers, or simply want to chat with another micro-rooter - call ROOTS-BBS (415) 584-0697 and join in! For more information you may also write Brian Bonner Mavrogeorge, 89 Stoneybrook Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94112.

BIRTH AND DEATH RECORDS - In reference to "Where to Write for Birth and Death Records," in the Fall 1985 issue of TRACES, I have found the following fee changes this year: Florida, $4.00; Idaho, $6.00; Iowa, $6.00; Virginia, $5.00 (appropriate application form required); Washington, $6.00. It's very frustrating to send what you believe to be the correct fee only to learn, several weeks later, that the fee has changed!

WHO CAN BE A MEMBER OF THE HCK?
This monthly Kentucky history and genealogy newsletter is a useful tool for researchers and those seeking publicity for projects and publications. Each sixteen-page issue features up-to-date "how-to" articles in genealogy, preservation, conservation, museum studies, and other heritage fields. In addition, history organizations around the state use the publication to publicize special events, books, and membership opportunities. Each issue contains three sections, "Notes from the Saddlebag," "Calendar of Events," and "Reports from the Field." A questionnaire is included for interested parties to forward information for publication in a future issue. Subscriptions are $7.50 (member of member-organizations) and $9.50 (non-member).

Have you ever tried to locate the key person in a county to help you with your research? Telephone a museum to make a donation? Find the appropriate speaker for your heritage organization's meeting? To answer these and other questions about local societies, The Directory is now available. This unique, 110-page spiral-bound reference book provides names, addresses, areas of interest, and publications for over 300 heritage organizations in the Commonwealth. Also included is a 30-page listing of over 200 knowledgeable speakers available to address Kentucky history and genealogy topics. This publication is now available for $5.00 (members of HCK member-organizations) and $7.50 (non-members).

All local heritage organizations in the Commonwealth were surveyed concerning publications available. The results have been computerized and a list made available. Over 400 publications are listed with ordering information. The list is FREE with an SASE.

A Brief Sketch of the Contents

Clyde Clayton Simmons was perhaps Barren County's most avid oral historian. The youngest son of Capt. James Marion Simmons and his second wife Sarah Catherine Hamilton, from his childhood he heard Civil War tales from his father and the Union veterans of his neighborhood. Starting in the early 1930's he and his wife Mattaleen traveled the countryside talking to the old timers who could remember the events that shaped the county's history. His idea was to encompass that area which made up Barren County in 1799. It was to be a journey around the county. World War II and the rationing of gasoline cut short his Sunday afternoon interviews; he then turned to revising the articles that he had written for the local newspapers into book form. Sadly, the end of the war found him with a notebook half full of names to be interviewed, most of whom had passed on during the war years. He, himself, was never to finish this work because he lived less than five years after the war. For many years those persons interested in the history of the county have wanted his book to be published. Here it is — as he wrote it — both the chapters that he had written and the parts that he had revised. Both the articles that he had written — and the parts that he had revised — provide a wealth of information for the historian and researcher. This publication consists of three hundred seventy pages of text told in Clyde Clayton Simmons' inimitable style. This chronical of the area will hold you for hours upon end of nostalgic pleasure.

To the works has been added an index of 71 pages detailing the names of the people who made the history of the era, and adding up to more than six thousand individuals who made the history of the era, and adding up to more than six thousand individuals who made the history of the era, and adding up to more than six thousand individuals who made the history of the era, and adding up to more than six thousand individuals who made the history of the era. This publication consists of three hundred seventy pages of text told in Clyde Clayton Simmons' inimitable style.

After March 30, 1986 the price will be $27.50, plus tax and postage. If you wish to save postage do not return this form to where you may pick up your copy mailed. HISTORICAL SKETCHES OF BARREN COUNTY, KENTUCKY
By Cecil E. Goode, editor of Barren County Heritage, a pictorial history of the County, published in 1980

A collection of historical sketches first published over the last three years in the Glasgow Daily Times, expanding on some of the subjects treated in Barren County Heritage and covering subjects not included in that book. RENEWAL TIME

This will be the last issue you receive for the year 1985. Due to the Christmas rush, and to the fact that certain postal distribution centers hold back third class mail until after the rush, our Winter issues are not mailed until January of the following calendar year. It is not unusual for us to be late with an issue, as with this one. Our staff is entirely volunteer, and is not always available at the precise moment when needed. Please be patient with us. The Spring, 1986, issue should be ready for mailing about April.

Remember, queries are free to members, and are not limited as to number, although the editor does reserve the right to limit the number of queries per member, per issue. Also, in order to keep our quarterly up to expectations, we do need material to publish. If you have anything of interest to this area, historical or genealogical in nature, please contribute it for publication. Our quarterly can only be as good as you, the members, make it.

We now have a place to keep our books, and to make them available for local research. We would be delighted to receive any you might wish to donate to our library. Family records are also appreciated. We are working on files that some day can be used for research purposes.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION
