DAWSON SPRINGS, KENTUCKY - A RESOURCE PROFILE

Dawson Springs, located in Hopkins County, lies in western Kentucky's Pennyryle Region. The city is located 161 miles southwest of Louisville, Kentucky; 98 miles northwest of Nashville, Tennessee; and 239 miles southeast of St. Louis, Missouri. Dawson Springs had a 1990 population of 3,129.

Hopkins County, with a land area of 552 square miles, has a topography that ranges from nearly flat along the broad valleys of the Green, Pond, and Tradewater Rivers, to hilly in the southern and central portions of the county. Hopkins County had a 1990 population of 46,126.

The Economic Framework - The total number of Hopkins County residents employed in 1990 averaged 18,589. In 1989, manufacturing firms in the county reported 3,596 employees; wholesale and retail trade provided 3,965 jobs; 3,979 people were employed in service occupations; state and local government accounted for 2,163 employees; and contract construction firms provided 519 jobs.

Labor Supply - There is a current estimated labor supply of 28,649 persons available for industrial jobs in the labor market area. In addition, from 1990 through 1994, 14,267 young persons in the area will become 18 years of age and potentially available for industrial jobs.

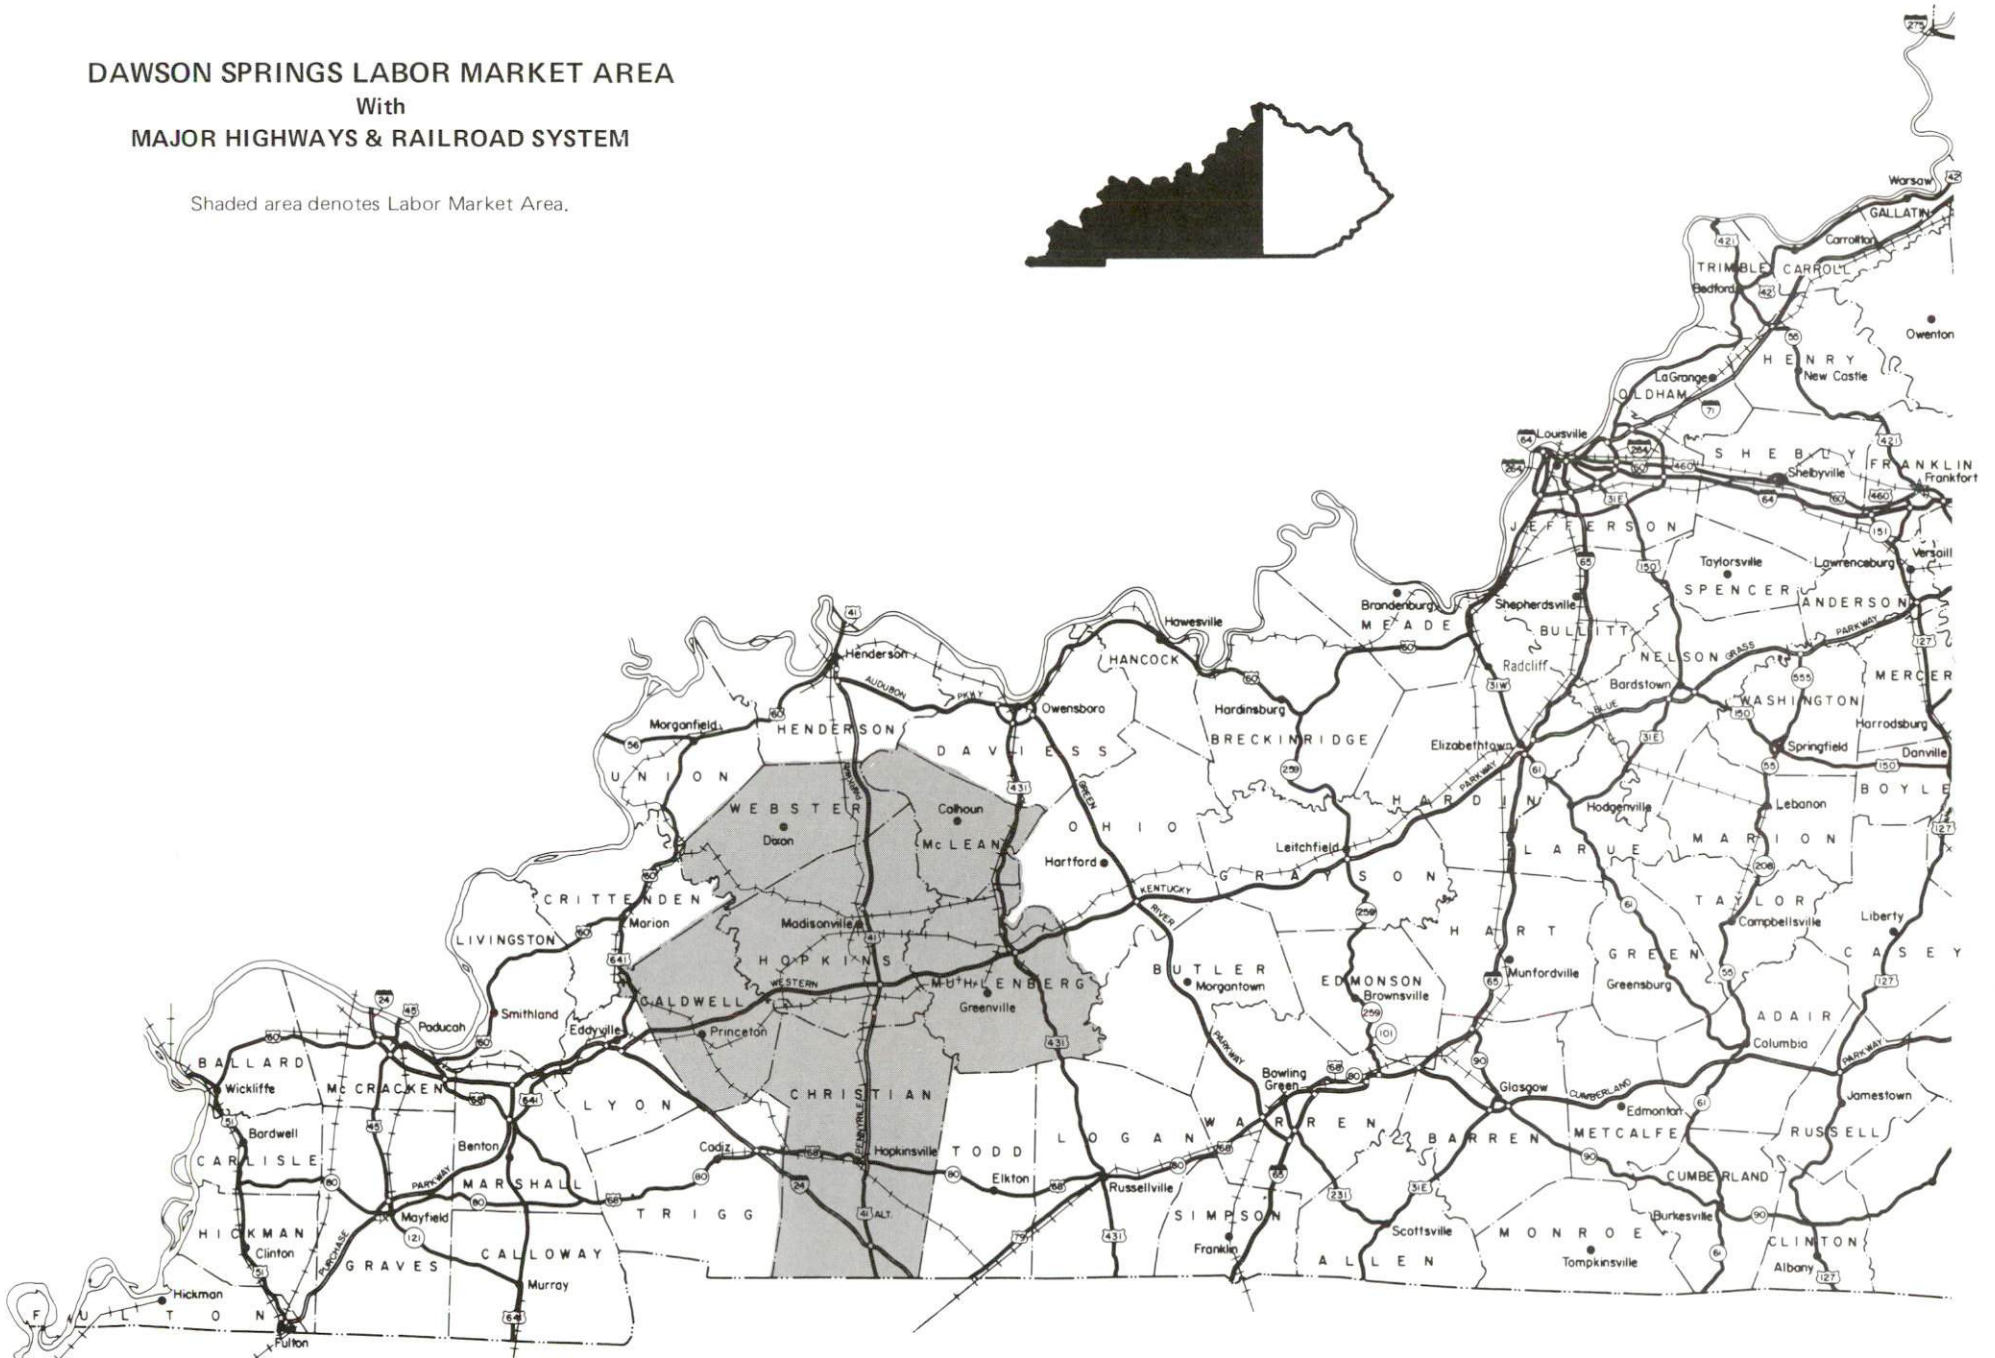

Transportation - The Western Kentucky Parkway and U.S. Highway 62, both "AAA"-rated highways, serve Dawson Springs. The Western Kentucky Parkway provides access to Interstate 24 and the Pennyryle Parkway. Sixteen trucking companies serve Dawson Springs with interstate and/or intrastate service. Paducah and Louisville Railway provides main line rail service to Dawson Springs. The nearest scheduled commercial airline service is available at Evansville Dress Regional Airport near Evansville, Indiana, 75 miles north of Dawson Springs. A local airstrip with a 3,100-foot turf runway is located one mile northeast. Lake Barkley, the nearest navigable waterway, provides riverport facilities 28 miles west of Dawson Springs.

Power and Fuel - Electric power is provided to Dawson Springs and portions of Hopkins County by Kentucky Utilities Company. Hopkins County is also served by the Green River Electric Corporation and Henderson-Union Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation. Natural gas service is provided by Western Kentucky Gas Company.

Education - The Dawson Springs Independent School System provides primary and secondary education to residents of Dawson Springs. The remainder of Hopkins County is served by the Hopkins County School System. Twelve colleges and universities are located within 95 miles of Dawson Springs. Vocational training is available at the Madisonville State Vocational-Technical School, 25 miles northeast; and the Caldwell County Area Vocational Education Center in Princeton, 16 miles west of Dawson Springs.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Structure

Dawson Springs is governed by a mayor and six council members. The mayor is elected to a four-year term, while the council members each serve two-year terms. Hopkins County is governed by a county judge/executive and seven magistrates. Each county official is elected to a four-year term.

Planning and Zoning

Joint agency - Hopkins County Joint Planning Commission
Participating cities - Dawson Springs, Earlington, Madisonville, Hanson, Nortonville
Zoning enforced - Not presently enforced in Dawson Springs
Subdivision regulations enforced - All areas
Mandatory state codes enforced - Kentucky Plumbing Code, National Electric Code, Kentucky Boiler Regulations and Standards, Kentucky Building Code (modeled after BOCA code)

Local Fees and Licenses

The city of Dawson Springs levies a 1 1/2 percent occupational license tax on gross wages, salaries, and commissions earned within the city, and on net profits of businesses operating within the city. Business license fees ranging from $35 to $200 are assessed on various types of business operating in Dawson Springs. An annual truck operators license of $25 and a car license of $10 are required.

PROPERTY TAXES

The Kentucky Constitution requires the state to tax all classes of taxable property, and state statutes allow local jurisdictions to tax only a few classes. All locally taxed property is subject to county taxes and school district taxes (either a county school district or an independent school district). Property located inside of city limits may also be subject to city property taxes.

Special local taxing jurisdictions (fire protection districts, watershed districts, and sanitation districts) levy taxes within their operating areas (usually a small portion of community or county).

Property assessments in Kentucky are at 100% fair cash value. A 15% reduction is automatically granted for accounts receivable.

Vocational Training

Vocational training is available at both the state vocational-technical schools and the area vocational education centers. The state vocational-technical schools are post-secondary institutions. The area vocational education centers are designed to supplement the curriculum of high school students. Both the state vocational-technical schools and the area vocational education centers offer evening courses to enable working adults to upgrade current job skills.

Arrangements can be made to provide training in the specific production skills required by an industrial plant. Instruction may be conducted either in the vocational school or in the industrial plant, depending upon the desired arrangement and the availability of special equipment.

Bluegrass State Skills Corporation

The Bluegrass State Skills Corporation, an independent public corporation created and funded by the Kentucky General Assembly, provides programs of skills training to meet the needs of business and industry from entry level to advanced training, and from upgrading present employees to retraining experienced workers.

The Bluegrass State Skills Corporation is the primary source for skills training assistance for a new or existing company. The Corporation works in partnership with other employment and job training resources and programs, as well as Kentucky's economic development activities, to package a program customized to meet the specific needs of a company.

RECREATION

Recreational facilities are abundant in and around Dawson Springs. The Dawson Springs Community Center has a full-time recreational director and provides year-round recreational programs for all ages. Small stage productions are presented at the center in addition to an annual barbecue, and banquets. The Dawson Springs Municipal Park offers playgrounds, four ball fields, running tracks, a basketball court, two lighted tennis courts, picnic areas and shelters, and a public swimming pool. Construction of a walking trail is currently under way at the park. The city of Dawson Springs is utilizing a Land and Water Conservation Grant to complete the $15,000 project.

The Dawson Springs Museum and Arts Center offers a variety of exhibits and displays, hosts historical tours and productions, and sponsors amateur art shows.

Located just south of Dawson Springs is the Pennyrile State Forest. This state forest, Kentucky's largest, contains 15,000 acres of native pine and hardwood trees. Hiking trails and picnic areas are located throughout the forest.

A variety of water sports may be enjoyed on the 857-acre Lake Beshear, which is located adjacent to the Pennyrile Forest.

Pennyrile Forest State Resort Park is located six miles south of Dawson Springs. The lodge and cottages nestled within the trees provide excellent accommodations. Other facilities and activities include a dining room, a gift shop, rental rowboats and pedal boats, a nine-hole golf course, hiking trails, horseback riding, picnicking, playgrounds, shuffleboard, swimming at the lodge pool and sand beach at the adjacent Pennyrile Forest Lake, and two tennis courts.

COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENTS

Recent

Ottenheimer and Company, Inc. completed an expansion in 1990, increasing employment from 40 to 102.

A $2.5 million renovation and expansion was recently completed at the Dawson Springs wastewater treatment plant. Treatment capacity at the plant was increased from 320,000 to 364,000 gallons per day.

In recent years, Dawson Springs has implemented many improvements to the community's appearance and to the quality of life. Through the Main Street Program, local banks have made available low interest loans for the renovation of buildings. Three buildings have already been renovated since the program began. In addition, an "adopt a spot" program was started in which community organizations and businesses maintain areas of the community by planting flowers and keeping the areas litter free. The Dawson Springs Museum also continues to grow and to offer exhibits illustrating Dawson Springs' heritage.

Under Way

West Hopkins Industries, Inc. is in the process of developing a master plan for the development of their industrial park. The economic development organization is working with a consulting engineer to create a plan to install utilities, an access road, and to have environmental audits performed. There are currently 35 acres available in the park. West Hopkins Industries, Inc. also plans to place options on additional land for industrial sites.

In 1990, Buckhorn Corporation announced that it would implement a $20 million expansion over the next five years. A new 25,000 square-foot warehouse and loading facility has been constructed and eleven employees were added in 1991.

Construction of a walking trail at the Dawson Springs Municipal Park is scheduled to be completed in July 1991. The city of Dawson Springs invested $7,500 in the project and received a matching Land and Water Conservation Grant to complete the $15,000 project.
