W. R. Sego Sr. Doing Solo Work

Rev. Charlie W. Mayes, manager and co-worker with W.R. Sego, Sr., says:

The Segos began singing together in 1946 and that W.R. Sego, Sr. began singing with the Sego Brothers & Naomi in 1956. He has enjoyed and appreciated every concert he has ever participated in with them. However, the time is drawing so close to the coming of Christ that we need to hurry and get out the message for this dispensation.

So, now, by the direction of the Holy Spirit, W.R. Sego will be singing solo, and bringing a message of hope to a disturbed world. Salvation to the sinner; deliverance to those who are bound; healing to the sick; and the endowment of power to live an overcoming life.

Many years have been wasted on outward manifestations and carnal desire; but the time has come to seek Christ for inward strength for the crises ahead.

Satan is going forth to kill and destroy. Christ wants a people who will lift up a standard and go forth as an army counteracting the powers of evil with the Word of God.

W.R. Sego is the composer of many wonderful gospel songs, including "I've got a Mansion in the Sky," "Too many Jonahs," "He saved my soul," "Nineteen Candles," and many more.

Jerry Monday's Personal Testimony

I'm so thankful to "REACHING OUT" for asking me to write my testimony for this issue. It's not only a pleasure, but a real privilege to share it with you and I pray that you'll get a blessing from it. My most important purpose is to lift up Jesus and try to tell you some of the wonderful things he has done for me.

First of all, I have been playing the piano and singing since I was about five. I studied, lived and breathed country music and dreamed of fortune and fame.

My break came in 1965 when the Stonemans asked me to join them.

Jerry Monday

singer and just didn't care a whole lot about switching to Gospel. When the pressure got so strong and I finally yielded to God, He gave me a love for Gospel Music that far exceeded country music. I became so wrapped up in Gospel music and church work, I almost forgot Country music. I learned that when you seek Him first, everything else falls right into place (Matthew 6:33). I also learned that feeling His presence is immeasurable, compared to fame and worldly riches.

No, I don't make as much money now, but, my friend, God provides as He Immediately, I found myself on their weekly, nation-wide TV program and later on the Tonight Show, Mike Douglas Show, Hollywood Palace and other network specials. We travelled over at least forty-three states and Canada and were elected "Vocal Group of the Year" by the Country Music Association. I wrote a number one country song, made three movies and got to know many famous people.

The fame was now here, the money was now here, but I still lacked something inside for with each accomplishment, I felt more depressed. Finally, one morning, at a church in Nashville, I received Jesus as my personal Saviour and felt a great burden lifted. He actually took a wretch who had either taken part in, or witnessed some of the most terrible and sinful events around, and made a new creature out of him. I can never thank Him and praise Him enough for saving my unworthy soul.

However, as a babe in Christ, I had no Christian friends to turn to for guidance and didn't really realize how the only friend I really needed was Jesus. So when I got depressed or lonely, I turned to the only source I knew. I would call up old friends of the world who naturally did not understand me and didn't want to talk about my Jesus. I would "just visit" some of the old hang outs to "see how everybody was getting along" all the time, falling right into Satan's snare. (I believe this is where a lot of us Christians fall short. When someone gets saved, the devil jumps right up there on his shoulder and some of us Christians don't extend the slightest hand to them like we should. Consequently, he turns back to his worldly friends and starts backsliding.)

After leaving the Stonemans, I returned to the night clubs, only to be more miserable than before, even though I was making about $500 weekly. I thank God that he never left me during that time, but kept nudging me and calling me to sing Gospel music. Now I respected what Gospel music stood for, but I was a country promised me in His word. Within the last month alone, there has been over $150 worth of work done on my car FREE because some Christian brothers wanted to help me in the spreading of the Gospel. God blesses me with an abundant supply of food, clothing and the other necessities of life. So who needs $500 a week? HIS GRACE IS SUFFICIENT!

I'm not as popular with the world now but, in spite of my mistakes and shortcomings, I'm known throughout Heaven. Now, tell me, which is the most important? When I worked the night club circuit, I used to pass an address book around the room. When I had a return engagement in that area, I'd send out cards and woo people into the Hell holes of the world. My mailing list grew to about 2000. Out of the 2000, approximately 20% would come. Also, out of that 2000, I've had about five come to be with me in a church service. Where did my fame go?

On the other hand, Christian brothers and sisters have supported me with prayer, offerings, special favors, etc., etc., and the biggest percent of them usually come back time after time. (Oh, incidently, I haven't started a new Christian Mailing list yet, either. That is, I haven't asked people at the various churches to put their name on one.)

In the sinner's world, we basically remain strangers. In the saved realm, we are brothers and sisters making up a family whose father is God who supplies this wonderful love that makes us love even our enemies. I am now experiencing the happiest, most peaceful, joy-filled life I've ever known. And as the song says, "If it keeps gettin' better and better, oh, Lord, I don't know what I'm gonna do." The reason for this great change in my life can be summed up in one name---Jesus.

He can do the same for you and He will if you'll just seek Him with a humble heart, believing and asking Him to forgive you of your sins and save your soul. He loves you right now more than any one, no matter what you may have done. Won't you get on your knees and surrender to Him today?
