LANDMARK ANNOUNCES ANNUAL FLEA MARKET — APRIL 24

Location: Fairview Plaza

The 1993 Landmark Flea Market is set for April 24 at Fairview Plaza from 7:00am to 3:00pm. We appreciate Mike Buchanon's donating the space again this year.

Anyone with items to donate should bring them to Fairview Plaza on Saturday, April 17. Volunteers will also be available that day to pick up. Anyone needing this service should call Flea Market Chair, Ken Thomson at 843-4431, or the Landmark Office at 843-5545. If items need to be picked up earlier, please call Ken. He has offered to store items at his Bowling Green Antique Mall on the Square.

Preferred sales items include: those of architectural interest, antiques, furniture, jewelry, household items, and sporting goods. Landmark will not sell clothing this year.

WORKERS NEEDED
A variety of workers are needed to help make this year's Flea Market successful. Please call Ken Thomson or the Landmark Office at the above numbers to assist with the following jobs: April 17 - drivers to pick up sale items; April 19-23 - sorters, organizers, and prieters between 10:00am and 3:00pm; April 24 workers needed for shifts from 6:00-10:00am, 10:00am-2:00pm, and 2:00pm-4:00pm.

PREVIEW PARTY
Landmark Members will get a "sneak preview" of all the great fleas the night before the public sale. For fun, food, and fleas, come to the Flea Market on April 23 at 7:00pm. The committee also has a great program planned for your enjoyment.
BE OLD HOUSE PROUD

If you live in a house that is at least 50 years old and retains most of its original architectural integrity, you are eligible to display a Landmark plaque. Louisville Stoneware designed the blue and white plaques which are available at the Landmark Office at $20 for members and $25 for non-members.

Activities & Events:

ARCHITECTURAL SALVAGE
- Landmark maintains a "salvage barn" of architectural items which have been removed from razed and renovated houses. These items are available for sale, at nominal prices, throughout the year. For more information, call Ken Thomson. A sample of old doors, windows, hardware, and other items from the "salvage barn," will be on sale at the Flea Market this year.

FOUNTAIN SQUARE BOOKS
- The new Landmark book, A Stroll Around Fountain Square, $3.75, is for sale at several locations on Fountain Square and at the Landmark Office. Board member Jonathan Jeffery compiled the book which describes the architecture and history of the buildings around the square. Jonathan’s book encourages us to look carefully at the unique details of these lovely old structures that we often take for granted. The brick sales of A Stroll Around Fountain Square indicate the high degree of interest in our downtown. Jonathan will be autographing copies of his book at the Flea Market Preview Party.

SUCCESSFUL HOLIDAY OPEN HOUSE
- Many people attended Landmark’s Holiday Open House held at the home of Ron LaCone and Betsy Barber, 1522 Chestnut Street. Ron and Betsy have restored their home from attic to basement. Outstanding features include: the interior columns, intricate woodwork, tile floor in the dining room, and beautiful fireplaces throughout the home. Our thanks to Ron and Betsy as well as to Teddy Loo Bryant and her Refreshment Committee who served the decorative and delicious snacks.

MEMBERS HEAR UNIQUE PROGRAMS
- Landmark members were treated to two interesting and informative programs recently. In October, Dr. Marilyn Carter, WKU Associate Professor of Home Economics and Family Living, presented "Historic Kentucky Theaters." In February, members heard Dr. Michael Ann Williams speak on "Documenting Life in a Log House." Dr. Williams is an assistant professor of Folk Studies at Western University.

MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL TIME
- March is Membership month for Landmark Association. We encourage members to respond promptly to the first letter and save Landmark the cost of additional reminders. Now, more than ever, Landmark needs all its local members to remain active and participating. Your support does make a difference.

JEFFREY SPEAKS AT DBA
- On February 9, Board Member Jonathan Jeffery offered a slide presentation of the buildings on Fountain Square at the monthly meeting of the Downtown Business Association. Jonathan focused on recently restored buildings and showed "before and after" photos.

1352 CHESTNUT STREET:
- A home that wears its years gracefulliy! Accessed by fine details inside, consisting of raised paneling, built-in bookcases in living room. Three bedrooms, 3 baths, formal living room, dining room, updated kitchen. Contact Steve Cline - 502-781-1234.

SCOTTVILLE ROAD

1224 COLLEGE STREET
- Restored Traditional, brick home, 4 bedrooms, cottage on rear of property, new wiring, updated kitchen, new drywall, new F/A & electric air. Beautiful wood moldings. Sooky Bennett - 502-781-1234

HISTORIC PROPERTIES ADVERTISING

The Landmark Association Newsletter is accepting advertisements of historic properties for sale. Properties must be at least 50 years old and should include a photo of the property along with a description. Price of an ad is $35.
