From the President

Many thanks to all our readers and advertisers of Gospel Reaching Out for without you and the Lord we could have never made Gospel Reaching Out what it is today.

This decade will give us many opportunities to reach out even further. Continue to work and pray until his soon return.

A GOOD name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.

The rich and poor meet together: the LORD is the maker of them all.

This is the new daughter of Garry and Lula Polston. Sarah Nicole Polston was born December 14, 1979 and weighed in at 8 lb. 4 oz.

Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim B. Polston of Jabez, Ky. and Ezra Coffee of Mannsville, Ky.

Built in 1804, Old Mulkey Meeting House is the oldest log meetinghouse in Kentucky. The church has 12 corners, said to represent the 12 Apostles, and three doors supposedly symbolic of the Trinity. A pioneer cemetery in the churchyard includes the graves of Hannah Boone, Daniel Boone's sister, and 15 Revolutionary War soldiers. In nice weather, groups still gather at the historic shrine to enjoy picnics and reunions. Old Mulkey Meeting House State Shrine is on Highway Ky - 1446, three miles south of Tompkinsville. It is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and admission is free.

VIEWPOINT

Editor's Note: This is in reply to last month's article "Sorry, God Doesn't Use Drummers" sent in by a reader. We asked for your comments or opinion on this and here are some that have replied. We would like to continue this column of Viewpoint. If you have a question, whether it be about the Bible, instruments, etc..., write us. We will find someone to answer or we will print your letter and ask people to reply. We conclude that if it is done in a Christian manner it will reap good results.

January 8, 1980

Dear Editor:

I praise God for the young people that will go on and use the talent that God has given them. The church that won't let the drums in -- Why? Could it be that God is not there. When God comes after his Church, I guess there will be drummers coming with him. But how about the church that has left the drumming out. What if God said, "Sorry I can't use you." This statement has hurt so, if this one has stopped going to church. If you do it to one of my little ones, you do it also to me. Pastor, there's not that many churches that don't like gospel groups with drums. A group that would leave their drums at home, I would not let them in at my church.

To Gospel Reaching Out:

I'm glad you ask people's feeling about drums. I never did hear any music from drums. I never did hear any music from hand clapping while a good song is being sung. I think if a group wants to soon be out of business, just do those two things.

Thanks,
H.D. Carter

Hello, I'm Kevin Dorsey. I am 16 years old and I go to Hart County High School. I play the drums for the Dorsey Family and I have played for other groups.

I was saved at an old fashioned altar when I was 10 years old. I do know what the Lord is about. I have gotten many blessings playing for the Lord.

I think people against Gospel Drummers are mislead. I believe there is nothing wrong with any musical instrument that is used for the honor and glory of God. Thanks, Leslie, for sticking up for the drummers.

Kevin Dorsey
Rural Route 1
Munfordville, Ky. 42765

This is in reply to the article "Sorry God Doesn't Use Drummers", which appeared in your January issue.

Perhaps we are too quick to express our dislikes or feelings sometimes without realizing the impact it will have on others. If everyone liked the same instrument or song, things would become very dull for us, but because we don't like a certain instrument doesn't make it wrong. I find that cymbals are mentioned being used on three occasions in the Bible. Aren't the cymbals a part of the drums? If it was permissible then, why is it so wrong now? Anything could be misused.

I don't think any instrument being played too loudly is appropriate for church service, but is he or she is using their talent for the glory of God, why shouldn't we be for them, too.
