Dear Robin,

This bird rested in hedington amidst a flurry of activity, and I took it home with me before the others had a chance to contribute. That was, perhaps, not the right thing to do. They are going to send their contributions to Uncle Joe.

The wedding was lovely. Laura was serene and beautiful, and Bob, her new husband, is really a nice fellow.

Jenny had a good time at the reception with Bob's brother, Bill, who is 17. Josh was a little bit too

"independent" to ask Bob's 15-year-old sister to dance much, but he liked her.

Amidst the preparations for the wedding, we learned of Uncle Brown's death.

Uncle Brown's family was in California when it happened, and I learned of it as I read my mail while taking the ferry boat across Lake Michigan. I was really sorry to hear it.

I had been composing a letter ^{in my mind} to tell him of a visit with Glenn and Sue Keddall in California. Glenn was a class mate of Brown and Ed at Western, and he talked about knowing Uncle Brown, and Ed.

By the way he said it, I could tell that he had been proud to be their friend.

Scott, that opening night debacle was something you didn't deserve! I hope the rest of the season has been better for you.

I hope David's feeling fine by now. Hernia scars pull a little for a long time. Time with pigeons sounds nice.
Sylvia, your statement about being a librarian was wonderful.

Everyone should be so lucky to love his/her job. And every student should be so lucky to have that kind of librarian.

Jettie, your description of your trip to Geneva makes me want to go back to Niagara Falls.

Sally's corporate position sounds really challenging. I hope she likes it.

Joe, I'm so glad you've learned that females are for loving. I submit that males are here for loving, too - mainly. I know some nice ones, several of whom contribute to this Robin.

You're right. Abby is a doll.
We had such a good time with her in Puddington.

Love, Gm
