THE COUNCIL OF ACADEMIC DEANS

October 22, 1969

The Council of Academic Deans met in Dr. Cravens' office Wednesday, October 22, 1969. All of the deans were present except Dr. Page who was represented by Dr. Kenneth Brenner. President Downing and Dean Keown also participated in the meeting.

The agenda that had been forwarded to the deans was set aside in order to discuss the matter of student representation on University committees and the Academic Council.

Prior to taking up this discussion Dr. Minton handed out a memorandum concerning the graduate faculty asking the deans to confer with their department heads concerning appointments. This was followed by a lengthy discussion centered around the topic of student membership on the various committees and an assessment of the views of the deans.

It was generally agreed that insufficient study had been given to the question of student voting and other forms of participation and that this should be explored in great detail before a decision was reached.

Those present also agreed to support a motion that would recommend the proposal before the Academic Council to the committee.

Members of the Council of Deans were reminded to bring their materials for this meeting to the meeting on October 27th.
