The Elusive Ancestor

I went searching for an ancestor. I cannot find him still.
He moved around from place to place and did not leave a will.
He married where a courthouse burned. He mended all his fences.
He avoided any man who came to take the U. S. Census.
He always kept his luggage packed, this man who had no fame.
And over 20 years or so, this rascal changed his name.
His parents came from Europe. They should be on some list
Of passengers to the USA, but somehow they got missed.
And no one else in this world is searching for this man.
So, I play gena-solitaire to find him if I can.
I'm told he's buried in a plot, with tombstone he was blessed;
But the weather took engraving, and some vandals took the rest.
He died before the county clerks decided to keep records.
No family Bible has emerged, in spite of all my efforts.
To top it off this ancestor, who caused my many groans,
Just to give me one more pain, betrothed a girl named JONES.

1852 Deaths in Butler County, Kentucky Vital Statistics Records

Transcribed by Gail Jackson Miller
425 Midcrest Drive
Bowling Green, KY 42101

In 1852, Kentucky passed a law requiring the registration of births, deaths, and marriages by the State. Clergymen, midwives, and physicians were required to return these to the County Clerk's Office on or before January 10 for the preceding year. The law was repealed in 1862. These Kentucky Vital Statistics Records contain the earliest public records of death in the State.

Butler County's first death records were recorded for the year 1852. Each entry contained columns to record: Name of Deceased, Age, Sex, Condition, Occupation, Residence, Place of Birth, Name of Parents, Place of Death, Time of Death, Cause of Death, and Remarks. These records are available on microfilm through the LDS Family History Centers, the Kentucky State Archives, and the Kentucky Library. The present transcription records only the name; age; sex: M-male and F-female; condition; M-married, W-widowed, and S-single; parents or owners of the deceased; and the death date. Those interested in additional information should consult the original record.

Ingram, Lovell, Morgan, Eaves. My 2g grandmother, Mary Ann (Polly) Ingram, b 179?, married Michael Lovell in Logan Co, KY 17 Dec 1810. She had two sisters, Hannah H. and Temperance; neither married. I found a letter which stated that Tempy and Hannah Ingram raised Mary Ann Ingram Lovell's baby after Mary Ann died 10 Oct 1823. Her baby was Mary Elizabeth Lovell, b 15 Feb 1823, who later married William K. Morgan. According to Temperance Ingram's gravestone in Antioch Cemetery, Muhlenberg Co, KY, she was born in Brunswick Co, VA, 5 Feb 1794. Possible other family members are: Luraney Ingram, b 1780 Brunswick Co., VA married John S. Eaves, Sr, 2 Sep 1806 in Logan Co, KY. Griffin Ingram and Isaac Ingram were probably brothers. Seeking information about their parents. *Jane Lovell Paige, 206 E. Dr. John Walton: Muhlenberg County Physician

Tom Duncan, "Muhlenberg Countians Honor Dr. John Walton",
The Courier Journal,
23 June 1962.

Central City, KY, June 22.

Muhlenberg County paid Tribute Friday night to a small, 80 year-old landmark, Dr. John P. Walton. The still-active physician, who has practiced here 54 years, was honored at a testimonial dinner of the Central City Business and Professional Women's Club. It was labeled as Boss' Night—to lure the modest doctor to the event. Several years ago he killed plans for a "Dr. Walton Day" because, according to him, he "hadn't done anything." That isn't the view of Muhlenberg Countians. They credit him with typifying the best of the old-time country doctor, while always keeping abreast of medical advances.

When he began practicing here he traveled by horse and buggy, by train, and, when necessary, on foot. But his outlook is reflected by his new air-conditioned office. Actually, friends say the only reason he agreed to a new office after some 50 years was because he was told he had to move to the ground floor or quit practicing—he says he never will quit.

The son of a Methodist Minister, the Rev. D. F. Walton, Dr. Walton was born at Harydyville in Hart County. When his father held a pastorate at Sonora in Hardin County, Dr. Walton met his wife-to-be, incidentally, the granddaughter of two physicians. Dr. Walton's brother-in-law, Dr. J. C. B. Ray, who lived near Owensboro, probably influenced him to become a doctor. Dr. Walton was graduated from University of Louisville Medical School in 1906. After practicing briefly in Denver, CO, he returned to Kentucky. And he began practice here in 1908. He and Mrs. Walton—as bright-eyed, pleasant, and popular as her husband—were married in 1909. They have a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Roach, Johnson City, TN.

Dr. Walton's career, which includes delivering more than 5,000 babies and being instrumental in establishing Muhlenberg County's only hospital, was recounted at the dinner. Mrs. Gene Evitts, a nurse in his office, reviewed his life. Mrs. David Cohen presented him with a loving cup in recognition of his work. He was named an honorary life member of the B. & P. W. Club. Civic clubs, other physicians, and City and County government leaders were present at the dinner, arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. E. L. Adkins.

Who Was the Graves Family Buried in Hamm Cemetery in Muhlenberg County?

[The second in a series of articles on burials in the Hamm Cemetery. See 21.3.]

Submitted by Dorann O'Neal Lam
1449 Longview Drive
Bowling Green, KY 42101

The Hamm Cemetery was copied by Mrs. Marian G. Hammers of Madisonville, KY on 25 Nov 1973. Mrs. Hammers wrote that the cemetery was "located about 1 1/4 mile east of Highway 62 near Martwick, KY, on a gravel road which crosses the Western Kentucky Parkway. Cemetery is located a few feet from the toll road. Cemetery is abandoned, many stones down and covered in moss and sod but many of these were found and copied," and "there are many sunken graves with no headstones and also a number of sandstones in this cemetery."¹

The oldest burial found was J. S. Hamm in Apr 1809. The earliest dates of birth were for Ann Graves who was born ca 1757, followed by Mary Furguson, born 15 Dec 1758, and then John S. The Kentucky Land Grants: Using an important tool

A critique of

Willard Rouse Jillson, The Kentucky Land Grants
(Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc., 1971)

Submitted by Gail Jackson Miller

Willard Rouse Jillson's two part series covering the early Kentucky Land Grants provides a single source to search the various types of grants for an ancestor's land. The book includes Virginia Grants (1782-1792), Old Kentucky Grants (1793-1856), Grants South of Green River (1797-1866), Tellico Grants (1803-1853), Kentucky Land Warrants (1816-1873), Grants West of Tennessee River (1822-1858), Grants South of Walker's Line (1825-1923), Warrants for Headright (1827-1849) and Grants in the County Court Orders (1836-1924). Entries for each section include the name of the grantee, acreage, book and page of the original grant, date of survey, county, and watercourse. There is also a section describing land grants in Kentucky, the specifics of each type of grant, and general availability of the records.

Land is often the key to solving genealogical problems. This book allows the researcher to quickly survey the grants for his ancestor and his ancestor's family and friends. Since the county and watercourse are listed, relatives and neighbors can be tracked quickly. The dates of the surveys give a starting point for searching the history of a particular property. Grouping of the grantees by letter of the surname makes finding an individual relatively simple.

Problems in the work fall in three general groups. The introductory section is weak in its description the land grant process, description of the specific grants, and how the originals can be obtained. Each type of grant is listed in a separate section forcing a search of each section for an ancestor's grants. Since the surnames are not listed strictly alphabetically, then names might be missed. Dates listed for surveys are not always representative of the actual grant.

Pioneer families in Muhlenberg County almost always had grants. Often the grant can provide the key to locating the actual property where your ancestor lived. Jillson is a must for taking the first step into land research in Muhlenberg County.
