EARLY HISTORY OF SMITH'S GROVE COUNTRY, continued. Dr N P Allen.

June 12, 1900:

(Items by Wm. Hendrick).

William Hendrick was in his eightieth year when I visited him in April, 1898, and his wife, Mrs. Nancy Hendrick, 77 years of age. They were married March 22, 1849 (?blur in paper). Mrs. Hendrick was Miss Nancy Petty; and they were married at the home of her parents at Poplar Spring, near the Hays post office. Mr. Hendrick cast his first vote in 1829? For Andrew Jackson for President. He was well known all over the county, having been County Surveyor for a number of years, and was better posted as to the early history of the county than any other person then living. The following items were given me by Mr. Hendrick:

John Dixon, Sr., entered a tract of land of 1,600 acres for his four children, namely: John Dixon, King Dixon, Rhoda Dixon and Patsy Dixon – 100 acres each. It was a square survey, and in the center of the square the cabin was built for the family to live in, so each one's claim could be held, as the cabin was partly in all four surveys. A large limestone rock is now to be seen on the corner of the four tracts as originally taken up. It is on the south side of the L. & N. pike, near the residence of Frank Amos, the old Dick Patterson homestead – two miles northwest of Oakland.

Patrick Matison bought one of the 100-acre tracts, known as the Sam --- place, now owned by Henry Cowles. A sister of Patrick Henry lived and died on that place, and was buried in the family burying ground just north of the family residence. The exact spot where she was buried is lost, as there are no tombstones to mark the place. She was the sister of Mrs. Matison.

John McNeal took up a tract of land east of Dixon" land and sold it to Sam Middleton in 1815 known as the Joe Collins place – on the L. & N. turnpike.

James Hendrick, the grandfather of W. J. Hendrick, Sr. bought of Rollins a government claim of 100? acres with Bird Hendrick as partner, in 1807. W. J Ford and Eugene Stone own the land now. Mr. Rollins first settled in this grove of timber around the little knob west of Smith's' Grove town site and it was then called "Rollin's Grove".

Lawrence Smith settled on the south side of the little town, and his sons, Wm. B. and John Smith, inherited his estate and settled on the south and east of the knob. Buck Smith, a cousin of Black Hill and Big John Smith (they were known by these names) settled on the northeast side of the knob. This grove of timber after the Smith's settled in it took the name of Smith's Grove. The first post office was named Cool Spring. It was on the Glasgow and Bowling Green road, near where M. B. Kirby now lives. John Craig was the first postmaster, and it was said he often carried the post office around in the top of his hat, and would hand the letters to his neighbors when he met them. The name of this post office was changed to Smith's Grove in the forties.

The Sharp land, where Oakland Station is located, was called Trunk Spring, and was first settled by David McNeal about 1820. The name of Trunk Spring was given because it was in the shape of a trunk, one end being out.

John Lucas settled the C--- place where Wolf sink is located, a noted sink in an early days got its name in this way: a --- horse fell into the sink and a wolf went in to eat the dead horse, but could not get out: it was then called Wolf sink. It covers an acre or more and its walls are solid rock and perpendicular, about 60 feet deep. Trees, such as oak and sugar-maple, grew in the bottom and reached the level of the ground around. Indian ladders were used to go down to the bottom on, as it was a place of resort by parties of young people in the settling of the county.

Mr. McNeal sold out to Solomon P Sharp. Southwest of Oakland, where Wm. Allen now lives, James Hendrick, Sr., and John Hendrick settled in 1818. It was first entered by Edward Rumsey and transferred to Turner and Sharp.

Hudson Martin, a pioneer of this part of Kentucky, settled the land where the town of Martinsville was located on the waters of Barren river. It is twelve miles south of the town of Smith's Grove. This land was first entered by a man by the name of Wickliffe. Martin bought the land and had a town laid off in 1820. It was a voting place as was also Dripping Springs in 1821. Warren County when first established extended to Green River, taking in Mammoth Cave, including a part of the territory of Edmonson and Barren counties. A few years afterward they were cut off and established as counties. A large strip of land was cut off the southwest end of Warren county, putting Coles' bend and the Buck creek country in Barren County, including Old Egypt and the Sinking creek country.

Martinsville was the rival town of Bowling Green, Glasgow and Scottsville. There were three stores, a blacksmith shop, a tavern built of brick and used as a residence and to accommodate travelers and land hunters, as there were people from Virginia and the Carolinas coming in as emigrants to this the new Eldorado of the West. A large tobacco warehouse was on the bank of the river at Martinsville and numbers of flat boats were built there and loaded with tobacco, corn and bacon for the New Orleans market. This town flourished for a few years, but being off the main thoroughfare from the North to the South and so far away from the county seat it soon began to go down and disappeared between 1830 and 1840, and, where a thriving town once flourished briars and brambles now hold undisputed sway, and only a pile here and there remains to tell the tale where the smoke went up from many a happy hearthstone in the days of the long ago.

June 12, 1900:

The first churches built in the Smith's Grove country were Old Grove Baptist Church two miles northwest of Smith's Grove, Old Sinking Creek, eight miles east, and Shiloh Cumberland Presbyterian church three miles southwest. The first grist mills were Robert Wallace's horse mill where J. W. Scrivener now lives, John Lewis' horse mill where A. G. Whitlow now lives, and David Grizzle's little water mill at Big Elk Springs. Mr. Hendrick, when a small boy, went to mill and took the toll and put it back into the sack, thinking the miller was stealing his corn. There were two grist mills on Big Sinking Creek – the John Huffman mill and the Urias Rasdall – and one on Little Sinking creek – the Peter Moore mill. This mill and the Huffman mill are still running. Each mill ground corn and wheat and had a boiling chest to bolt wheat flour by hand.

Felix Wright had a tramp wheel grist mill at Poplar Springs, near Hays. The land is now owned by R. J. Hays. The mill was just back of the Hays Cemetery.

Mr. Hendrick said his grandfather, Robert Walker, sold to George Wright, Sr, 400 acres of land for two hound puppies and a pair of leather breeches. His grandfather Walker was with Daniel Boone in his trip? To this part of Kentucky. (Smears). Pack saddles were used instead of wagons to that day for carrying household goods and supplies to the settlers in the West.

The first cotton gins were Wm B. Smith's, near Oakland, and Henry Edward's, in the Big Spring country.

The first mail carried on horseback between Louisville and Nashville in 1840 was discontinued after a year's trial. The mail had been carried by stage for a number of years and then the experiment of carrying by horseback to make shorter time was abandoned, and carrying by state was before on trial. It was then carried by stage. There was a stage stand at Charley Lucas' on the L & N pike, near Mispah church eight miles northwest of Smith's Grove.

The great pigeon roost embraced several thousand acres and lands from Sunny Side to — Station. (paper torn). I will note it in a — paper.

Battalion and — musters were held annually — on the turnpike. — were held at Adam Bra... and Dr. Wm. Ford's. About 1844 a grand muster was held at the school house near Dr Ford's and a nephew — named Giles ... the slave of Lewis D... was killed by Reason Roman who was on guard. The colored man and two others approached the guard during the night, and on being halted failed to obey and when they approached near the guard he fired his U. S. musket loaded with powder and hemp— wad. It struck the soft part over the heart, producing death almost instantly. I remember seeing the wad removed by the doctors. Mr. Roman, for fear of prosecution, paid Mr. Dunn $600 for the loss of his slave.

George Wells, who lived south of Barren river, was over at Mr. Alexander's in Edmonson county. He and Alexander were bear hunting and tracked a bear to a cave. As they entered the mouth of the cave, Wells' gun went off, accidentally killing Alexander, but — over the matter, so great was his sorrow and grief. He never regained his right mind while he lived.

The Inevitable Laws of Genealogy

- The records you need for your family history were in the courthouse that burned.
 - John, son of Thomas, the immigrant whom your relatives claim as immigrant ancestor, died on board ship at the age of twelve.
 - The public ceremony in which your distinguished ancestor participated when the platform under him collapsed ... they didn't tell you he had a rope around his neck.
 - Records show that the grandfather, whom the family boasted, "He read the Bible at four years and graduated from college at sixteen," was at the foot of the class.
 - Your grandmother's maiden name for which you've searched for years was on an old letter in a box in the attic all the time.
 - You never asked your father about his family because you weren't interested in genealogy while he was alive.
 - The family story your grandmother wrote for the family never got past the typist. She packed it away "somewhere" and promised to send you a copy, but never did.
 - The relative who had all the family photographs gave them to her daughter who had no interest in genealogy and no inclination to share.
 - A great-uncle changed his surname because he was teased in school. He moved away, left no address, and was never heard from again.
 - Brittle old newspapers containing the information you desired has fallen apart on the names, dates and places.
 - The only record you find for your great-grandfather is that his property was sold at a sheriff's sale for insolvency.
 - The portion of the index you need is continued in the next issue, only the publisher died prior to publication.
- When you find the obituary for your grandmother, the information is garbled. Her name is exchanged with her daughter's, the whereabouts of her sons is unknown, the date for her father's birth indicates he was younger than she was.
 - The only surname not found among the three billion in the Mormon archives is yours.
 - The vital records director sends you a negative reply, having just been insulted by a creep calling himself a genealogist.
 - The 4 volume, 4,800 page history of the county where your great-grandfather lived is not indexed.

The Cemetery Adventure— New Researcher Meets the Challenge

By Kathleen. (CaBlue335@aol.com)

(This summer, we had the pleasure of meeting Kathleen and her aunt who were in Barren County researching. She later sent me this e-mail which she said I could share with you. We talked about the difficulties in finding old family cemeteries in Kentucky. Sandi)

"My Dad has told me about a small cemetery in southern Indiana where my gg-grandparents are buried. He hadn't been there in 15+ years and asked me to look for it, if we had time, and take pictures. All he could remember about it was that it was near Tell City, IN; you had to go through a covered bridge to get to it; then down and around a curve; and it was on top of a hill on the right. Not much to go on, but I really wanted to find it. We stopped at a gas station in Tell City and asked about the covered bridge. The guy told me there was only one in the area and gave me directions to it. After getting a little lost and scaring my Aunt half to death (the area we got lost in was worse than the worst back roads of KY) we finally found the bridge! On the other side of the bridge the land was very flat, until we came to two big hills on the right side. I thought it must be on top of one of those hills, but I didn't want to have to go wandering around both of them — so we stopped at a house to ask. A guy came out and said, "Yeah ... there's an old, old cemetery up on that hill over there. No road to it anymore though ... you gotta walk up through the woods." He was looking pretty skeptical at the thought of "me" walking up that hill. The woods were thicker than anything I'd ever been in before. To be honest, I'm the type of person who freaks out if there's a spider in the house .. I would never have gone up there in my right mind!

But, something took over, I HAD to find that cemetery!! I asked him if they had snakes around there and he said, "Well ... I've never seen one that'd do nobody no harm." By now my Aunt was a mess ... she gets nervous and upset easily. We got back in the car and she said she didn't want me going up there – those guys I talked to would probably go up the back way and attack me; or there could be a stile up there and some moon-shiner would come after me with a shot gun. I told her I didn't come all this way and not see it just because of the woods. She said, "Ok, you've got 10 minutes, then I'm sending someone in after you." So, I tucked my jeans into my socks, put my jacket on and pulled the hood up and started up the hill. It was so gross! I've never been so scared and so excited at the same time! The growth was almost knee high in places and there was that stuff from the bag worms (I think that's what they're called) hanging down all over the place – which I thought at first was spider webs and I freaked out and turned around until I remembered those weird little worms you guys have around here!

I picked up a stick and used it to knock that stuff hanging in my way and kept hiking up the hill. I didn't see anything; I was getting worried that I wasn't going to find it before dark. My heart was pounding, I was out of breath and scared to death – and finally looked up and I could see the tombstones across the ridge of the hill. I let out a scream! I was so excited! I started running up the hill as fast as I could. I got to the top and there was a good sized area that was leveled off. It was beautiful – or was at one time. There was so much over growth I couldn't tell exactly how many graves were there. There were maybe 10 headstones visible – so I started checking the names. The most recent date I saw was in the late 1800's and I was getting the feeling that was the last time someone was up here!

I couldn't find the one I was looking for. Then I started wondering if it was any of the stones that had fallen, and maybe it was completely grown over. My heart was really pounding at this point, I was starting to panic. All kinds of thoughts ran through my head. What if there were snakes underneath the stones that had fallen? I couldn't see what I was walking on. What if I fall into a grave? (I don't know if that's even possible but it really gave me the creeps!) As I started looking around I realized this was the perfect setting for one of those horror movies where the zombies rise up out of the graves and attack the naïve girl who went walking through the woods. I wanted to get out of there, but I couldn't go without seeing the headstone I came for. Then I saw it – way off to one side, under a tree. It looked exactly like my Dad had described it. It had been a tall four sided monument type stone, but when he saw it 15 years ago, a tree had fallen next to it and broke it in two places. He propped the pieces up against the base and they were exactly where he had left them (we compared pictures when we got home). It was close to dark when I found it so I took my pictures and hurried down the hill. I was so anxious to get out of there, and the hill was so steep, that I came flying out of the woods and landed on all fours at the side of the road. Anyone watching must have thought it was some mad woman comin' out of the woods.

I ran back to the van and yelled, "I found it!" My aunt looked relieved that I was back! This one event has me completely hooked on genealogy – if I wasn't already – I definitely am now, especially on cemeteries. I can't go past an old cemetery without wondering who's buried there and getting the urge to document all the information in it."

QUERIES...QUERIES

ELLIOTT-CAWTHORN-CAUTHRON-SCHRIMMINGER-SCRIMAGER: Need info on the parents of Nancy ELLIOTT born 1804/06 NC. She md Martin BIRD Cawthron 9/16-1823 Rutherford Co TN. When Martin's mother, Jane (?) CAWTHORN died 1839, Coffee Co TN, Martin and wife move to near Edmonson, KY. Nancy (ELLIOTT) CAWTHRON'S father lived over one ridge from them; he was living in Cumberland Co KY. Was his name either Samuel or Thomas ELLIOTT of Stewart's Creek, Cumberland Co? Nancy and Martin Bird CAWTHRON's son, Daloney (Tobias) Euell, b 3-5-1832, md Mary Magdeline SCHRIMMINGER (aka Scrimager) on 4-20-1856 in Edmonton, Ky. She was born 10-29-1839 KY (per census). Who were her parents? Jeanne M Harden, 592 Alandale Drive, Tallmadge, OH 44278-1412

FOSTER-HAMMETT-HILL-LOAFMAN-PERKINS-GILLILAND-MINYARD-LYONS-MARSHALL-BARTLETT: Seeking parents of the following: James A Foster, James HAMMET - resided Allen Co KY. Sarah Hill, wife of Elijah TINSLEY. Martin Loafman (also his wife), Joe or Jodda PERKINS and wife, Emily BARBER, John Gilliland and wife, Betsy Wilson, md Glasgow 1799, Tom MINYARD and wife, Mary Elizabeth, Joseph LYONS, Sr., MARSHALL and wife Mary, Solomon BARTLETT who md Isabelle MARSHALL. Robert Lee Gillan, 3585 N 1110 W, Thorntown, IN 46071-8901.

HONEYCUTT: William B HONEYCUTT (b 1830 NC) first appears in the 1850 Barren Co census as a newlywed with wife, Mary (Cable?) and mother, Sarah. William and Mary eventually had at least 11 children: William J, 1851; John J, 1855; Nancy J, 1856; James B, 1858; Sarah E, 1860; Mary A, 1862; Susan J, 1864; Andrew Stephen, 1866 (my great-grandfather); Dorthua A, 1868, Hiram W, 1870 and Doris E, 1876. In 1860, William's mother, Sarah, was living next door to the younger couple along with one Francis Cable, age 15, possible of brother of Mary. Thereafter, she lived with her son, at least as late as the 1880 census when her relationship to him could be verified. Wife Mary (1829-1909) and eldest son William J (1851-1881) are buried in the Poplar Log Cemetery in Barren Co. But who was William B's father and Sarah's husband? Where and when did William B and Sarah die? Where were they prior to moving to Barren Co? Eager to exchange info with Honeycutt cousins. Sandy London, 3 Oleander Drive, Northport, NY 11768 (or sandira@worldnet.att.net).

ISENBERG/ISENBURG/ISENBURGE: Seeking info on Jacob Cline/Kline Isenberg born in late 1849 or early 1850 in TN. Would like to hear from descendents of Henry & Nancy ISENBERG that are listed in the 1850 & 1860 Barren Co KY census. Is the son named Jacob our Jacob? Age and state of birth is what we are going on at present. Our earliest record of our Jacob ISENBERG is 1880 census in Collins Co, TX living with wife, Delila, and stepson, James. Living close to a Daniel ISENBURG (Jacob is 30 and Daniel is 35 and he was born in TN) could they be kin? Then on the 1900, 1910 & 1920 census, Jacob is in Wise Co, Tx. He had only one son, Simeon Jacob, born on Jan 4, 1885. Don D and Marlene Isenberg, 1290 Woodside Drive, Duncan, OK 73533.
