JOSEPH JEWELL – REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER

Contributed by Joyce Stover, 387 Stover Road, Burkesville, KY 42717-9734 jstover@duo-county.com

This man is not to be confused with Revolutionary soldier Joseph Sewell, who also lived in this county for a while. This Revolutionary soldier applied for a pension in 1832, stating that he was 80 years old at the time; that he was born in Huntington Co., NJ; that he went to Orange Co. NY in 1776; that he went to VA to live in 1784; that he came to Cumberland Co., KY, in 1808. He mentioned his daughter, Sarah C. Lewis. He was a lieutenant in the NY Militia, and his pension was approved on 12 April, 1834, for $320.

I could find no deed earlier than 1822 for land purchased by Joseph Jewell. On 22 February, 1822, a deed was recorded from deputy sheriff Lemuel Stockton to Joseph Jewell, land in Lawson Bottom, from the estate of Frederick Shores. Two other deeds are recorded during his lifetime. On 18 January, 1837, one from Richard Lewis and his wife Catherine to Joseph Jewell, land in Lawson Bottom, and the other recorded on 7 July 1837, from Joseph S. Bledsoe and wife E. S. to Joseph Jewell, 2 tracts of land on Lawson Bottom. The January, 1837 deed was evidently the last deed executed by Richard Lewis, who was the son of Thomas Lewis of Lewis Creek. Catherine, of course, was the daughter of Joseph Jewell, the same as the Sarah C. mentioned in his pension application. The Lewises had previously, in 1819, sold the land in Lawson Bottom to Frederick Shores.

The will of Joseph Jewell was signed on 24 July, 1839 and recorded on 13 August, 1840. Heirs mentioned were daughter Catherine Lewis; granddaughters Celina and Serena Lewis; and granddaughters Polly Black, Louisa Keeton, Patsey Cox, Susannah Lackey, and Patsey Ferguson.

Census records of the county support the evidence found in other county records. In 1810, Joseph Jewell's household consisted of one male over 45 and one female over 45. In 1820, the previously mentioned male and female were joined by a female 16 to 26 and 2 males under 5. By 1830, Joseph was the only one in the household, aged 70 to 80. In the 1840 census, he was listed as a Revolutionary pensioner, aged 88.

Catherine Lewis' sale and appraisal are listed in Will Book F, pp. 94-96, dated 18 November, 1858, and p. 253 of the same book, dated 4 August, 1860. The two daughters of Catherine Lewis were:

1. Celina, who married Hamilton Davis. They moved to Putnam Co., MO., as proven by a deed recorded in Deed Book N, p. 176, 23 March, 1854. They deeded her share of her grandfather Jewell's land to B. E. Terry.
2. Serena, who married Mathew K. Amyx, as proven by a deed recorded in Deed Book O, p. 325, when the couple deeded Serena's share of her grandfather's land to Bethany E. Terry.

The other granddaughters are a little harder to identify. An entry in Cumberland CO., KY. circuit court records on 18 April, 1822, was a suit between Nancy Jewell and Thomas Jewell. I don't know that this was for a divorce, but it seems likely. Two charter members of the Salem Baptist Church of Christ when it was organized in 1808 were Nancy Jewell and, as rendered by Judge Wells in his history, James Jewell. One wonders if it could have been Thomas. Several deeds of the county shed a little more light on Jewell's heirs. Deed Book N, p. 308, dated 6 January, 1855, is a mortgage from Sandford H. Ferguson and wife Patsey to M. Alexander, their interest in the land of her mother, Mrs. Nancy Jewell, deceased. In Deed Book N, p. 324, dated 23 March, 1855 is a mortgage from Susan Lackey to M. Alexander, interest in the estate of her mother, Mrs. Jewell's land on Brush Creek. A deed from Sanford H. Ferguson and wife Patsey; Susan Lackey; and Jacob Carter, attorney for children of Charles Carter who inherited through their mother, deed land to Powhatan Thurman. The land was on Brush Creek and was inherited from Nancy Jewell, deceased. This was recorded in Deed Book N, p. 42, 13 August 1855. A similar deed, signed by the same people, was to Samuel Snow, land on Brush Creek which was from Nancy Jewell, deceased. This deed was recorded in Deed Book N, p. 424, dated 13 August, 1855. A power of attorney to Jacob Carter, recorded just prior to the two deeds, was from Jesse C. Arnold; Marthey Ann Arnold; and George and Nancy Winn of Schuyler CO., MO. It was dated 26 May, 1855 and was recorded in Deed Book N, p. 421.

Anyone having an interest or more information on this line can contact me. In all the years I've been researching, I've never been contacted by anyone researching this line. However, my interest in all the Revolutionary soldiers who came to this county spurred me to write this column.

The Bible Record of Henry Clay and Frances Harvey Kerr

By Nancy Pfannenstiel

Henry Clay Kerr and his wife, Frances Harvey both descend from families who were early settlers of the South Central Kentucky area. Henry Clay Kerr was the sixth child of John and Sarah Scott Kerr. They were married 23 December 1803 in Surry County, North Carolina.¹ Their first child, Abraham, was born in North Carolina in 1805, but by 1807, the Kerrs had re-located to Overton County, Tennessee. About 1809, Sarah Scott Kerr's father, Jesse Scott, joined them in Tennessee, along with the family of his daughter, Nancy, who was married to John Coe. Jesse Scott's land abutted the state line with Kentucky in Overton County. After returning from the War of 1812, where he fought at the Battle of New Orleans, John Kerr moved his family a few miles north into Monroe County, Kentucky. Through the Scotts, Henry Clay Kerr was related to not only the Coes, but also the Sims, Halsell, and Barry families of Cumberland and Monroe Counties, Kentucky.²

Frances Harvey was the daughter of John Harvey and Patsy Chamberlain. John died in Barren County in 1824. John was the son of Joseph Harvey and Lucy Ballard. Joseph served in the North Carolina line during the Revolution. He died in Barren County on March 25, 1828. Lucy Ballard Harvey died October 4, 1851. Although her place of death is given as Monroe County, Virginia, it is probably Monroe County, Kentucky, where she was enumerated in the home of her son, James Harvey in 1850.³ Frances Harvey and Henry Kerr were related by marriage before their marriage! Henry Kerr's sister, Frances "Fannie" Kerr married Frances Harvey's brother, Wilson Nicholas Harvey in 1837.⁴

⁶ According to a brief genealogy of the Henry Kerr family compiled by Mrs. Garrison, Patsy Kerr was married three times. She first married "Jack Coleson during the Civil War and he was killed in battle: fought in Henry Kerr's barnyard". [This would be in Overton County, Tennessee.]

The Woodson House

The house known as the Woodson House was the home of Anthony L. And Eliza B. Chapline Woodson and their nine children. During the "Battle for the Bridge" Colonel Robert A. Smith was wounded on September 17, 1862, and was taken to the Woodson House to recover. Mary E. Brent, only eight years old at the time, remembered Colonel Smith being brought to the house and played on the front porch. Later when her Aunt Eliza Woodson returned home, Eliza insisted that he be moved into the house and put to bed. After his death the following day, he was placed in a crude coffin and buried in a corner of the garden at the rear of the house, where he remained until returned to Jackson, Mississippi, for burial. The Woodson House and farm received much damage due to the strategic importance of the massive Louisville-Nashville Railroad Bridge over the Green River near Munfordville. A strong Union garrison was maintained to protect the railroad throughout the war; in fact, it was not until the latter part of September 1865, five months after the close of the war, that the military hospital was closed and the last soldiers left the area.

During this military occupation of the village, many citizens were inconvenienced and in most cases subjected to considerable monetary loss. Many residents' homes and buildings were requisitioned by the Union military. Scores of acres of prime timber were cut for lumber and fuel; fortifications were built and a network of roads criss-crossed what used to be fertile fields. Anthony Woodson and his wife suffered one of the biggest losses, as it was on his farm (one of the finest in the country) that the battles of December 17, 1861, and September 14-17, 1862, were fought. Fortifications were built on their land, barns and outbuildings were burned, timber was cut, and all his rail fences were torn down to be used for firewood. The fences were torn down not once but several times throughout the entire war. The war deprived the Woodson family of all their farm income.

It is uncertain when the original house burned. Most likely it was destroyed following the "Battle for the Bridge", as the home was not included in the claim the family filed for reimbursement from the Federal Government. Congress had passed an enabling act in 1864 to reimburse loyal civilians for losses caused by the armies in battle and through occupation. Woodson's claim was for $12,126.00. As many people considered Anthony Woodson a "Southern man," the money was very slow in coming. Years later the family finally accepted, $4,594.00 in settlement.

With this money the Woodsons rebuilt their home using the same foundation and much the same design as the original. The old Summer Kitchen is the original. The spring flowers in the garden have been there since the war.
