Description: Notecards created by Lowell Harrison while researching his book Western Kentucky University. The cards transcribed below are for 429 topics beginning with C ranging from Cabell Hall to Cuthbertson, Sterrett.

Each topic may represent a single card or multiple cards. Some topics have been split into decades.

A card has a source, a title and a date above the red line. Links to digitized source materials have been added in the database.

Additional information about the source may be included in the note section, such as name of correspondents, dates of correspondence or page numbers of newspapers and books.

Harrison’s notes follow and occasionally a direct quote will be made indicated in quotation marks. Some of Harrison’s writing is illegible. In these instances a word is indicated by ---.

The source above is the College Heights Herald, Friday, October 6, 1972 issue.
 Topic is in the upper right hand corner – Concert: Chicago 1972

WKU - Notecards - Calendar Club

Walter Nalbach Interview, Dec. 7, 1976 - Calendar Club - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dls_ua_records/882

Walter Nalbach: That is right. Including History. I take a little more leisure, set my own time to do things. Fortunately, I'm still associated with the Rotary Club I enjoy very much and then the Calendar Club which I enjoy very much. And that's something to look forward to, because that kind of thing keeps you on the ball. That is, the Calendar Club, because whatever the topic is, you're gonna do some reading.

Lowell Harrison: Now, just how do the programs work on that?

WN: The Calendar Club?

LH: Yes, uh-huh.

WN: Well, there are twelve members in the club, and we do not have any constitution, just more or less understanding to basic club. We have a Vice-President and then, of course, we have a Secretary-Treasurer and then each member carries a number, one through twelve. I'm number ten. And then we take time [turns?] about in entertaining the club. We meet once a month, excluding two months of the year - this time it'll be because one meeting fell on Thanksgiving and that would be during the holidays. And then the class is composed - two members appear on a class topic that the two members may suggest or any member of the club may suggest and whatever the group decides, that's the topic of discussion for the next meeting. And each member is given about 15-20 minutes for his presentation, usually some take 20, some take a little more, and then after they're through with their presentation, then the topic is open for discussion and each member is called on by number to make his contribution on whatever he wants to, see.

LH: So you could hit a tremendous variety of topics?

WN: Oh, yes. And the nice thing about this organization, too, is the diversified group interest. We have, well, a judge and a lawyer; we have two doctors; we have two prominent farmers, two educators and two people in business, so we have a diversity of people in it which is good because any topic you discuss, you have a crossroads, you know, see, talking about some agricultural development, you have two people there who are in tune with it, see. So, it's a great organization.

Henry Cherry Papers: 85 - Campus 1906
Folder 5 (1935-37)
Henry Cherry's Chapel Address, April 24, 1935 (Wednesday) - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dls_ua_records/8588
6 "When we came on this Hill, it was a thicket. I heard the owls. I saw the rabbits. The foxes were up here and the Whipper wills." Planned it from the start got experts to lay it out. "Look now at what we have. I walk around this Hill in the circle four or five times a day because it is so beautiful." Says it's the most beautiful place in the South and perhaps anywhere.

College Heights Herald, 4/23/1925 - Campus 1925 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dls_ua_records/2227/
1 Bed of black tulips blooming west of Administration Building [Van Meter Hall] were donated by advanced freshmen class in 1924, spring to commemorate their reading Dumas, La Tulipe Noire. Other classes have also had projects to beautify the campus.

College Heights Herald, 1/14/1926 - Campus 1926 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dls_ua_records/2237/
6 Miss Elizabeth Woods labors to make the Hill beautiful, although she was given a 4 hour course after the term began, thus making her carry the heaviest load on the faculty. More flowers planted this past year than ever before. One bed, between Administration Building & Potter Hall is a map of Kentucky.

Henry Cherry Papers: 12 - Campus 1927
General Correspondence 1927
Henry Cherry to Mrs. Thomas Whitney Isgard, Elmira, N.Y. Nov. 10, 1927 - "The Hill is without question the most beautiful place in Kentucky." Homecoming (last Saturday) "was the greatest day ever held on College Heights." "The Stadium is not a s large as many, but it is the most beautiful I have ever seen." Our football team beat favored University of Louisville, "... and it was the greatest game ever played in Bowling Green."

Henry Cherry Papers: 14 - Campus 1929
General Correspondence 1929
Henry Cherry to Eugene Jones, Pittsburgh, July 20, 1929 - "College Heights is the beauty spot of the South."

William Buckman Interview - Campus 1957 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/687
William Buckman came back to WKU from military service. Most classes were being taught in Cherry Hall. Math & physics were on same floor in Cherry Hall (2nd floor). Still had chapel, but thinks it may have met only 1-2 per week - maybe even bi-weekly. Buckman said he presented at each 1 program re: recognition of honor graduates. Garrett Student Center had been built, was actively used. Goal Post - a center of activity. Both students & faculty went over between classes.

Dero Downing Papers:47 - Campus 1961
Campus Acreage
Gives the total acreage as 141.0 acres.

William Buckman Interview - Campus 1967+ - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/687
WKU was exciting when he came in 1967. "You had growth." Many coming in. New science building, money for equipment. He set up one of the best labs in southeast U.S. New faculty. Much interchange between people from different disciplines. Couldn't set up such a lab now. We're now far behind. Half of physics faculty has left - can get much better pay in industry. Much equipment is out-of-date. Don't have the support facilities for research. Example: had to get library reprints within a reasonable time. Poor shop time, inadequate supplies. Much harder to accomplish anything now. Had a good graduate program then, which stimulates the faculty.

Kelly Thompson: The campus, as you would understand, was small and compact in those days. I don't recall any building impressing me in that respect, but the campus was beautiful. The orderliness of the campus, a tradition which we have tried to maintain throughout all the years, was very eye-catching. Being both well-attended and well-landscaped, it was most attractive. Added to that was the great personality of Mr. Diddle as he took me on a tour of the campus and explained the various buildings and other physical equipment. Actually, the gymnasium at that time was an old wooden structure located immediately back of where Cherry Hall now stands [Red Barn]. It was a barn-like structure. There was nothing about it that would impress anyone. The Training School contained a small gymnasium, but it would seat only 300 people. Insofar as buildings were concerned, there were none that were really impressive. Van Meter Auditorium, which is now known as Van Meter Hall, was the focal point of the campus. It and the new library, now Gordon Wilson Hall, sitting along beside it were the two jewels on the hilltop crown that stood out at that time. But the personality of Mr. Diddle was so overwhelming that every aspect of the campus was one of warmth, inspiration and of beauty.

WKU - Notecards - Campus - Selection
Henry Cherry Papers: Box 1 - Campus - Selection 1909
General Correspondence 1909
J.E. Darland, Representative American Bank Company, Louisville to Henry Cherry, Feb. 4, 1909 - Understands there are some problems over selection of property. Hope Bowling Green people will be behind. Would hate to see school moved for a trifling reason. "If I were selecting property there I would secure it further away from town than Potter College and secure there as much property as you have there. This selection should be made with regard to the far distant future, not for the present."

WKU - Notecards - Campus Farm
1 "Uncle Joe" McCarty was 72 on Oct. 17. Remember then they had 1 team of mules to work 60 acres. He & Dr. [Marion] Ford went to Wisconsin and bought a carload of dairy cows - only 2 were purebreds. Helped build tennis courts where heating plant is now located. Negro cabins where Goal Post is located. Wants to see the Hill crowded with students again.

Page 4
Board considered purchase of additional grounds. Mr. J. Whitt Potter reported on the options he held & Board made a personal examination of the several tracts.

Dec. 22, 1908 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/bor/1908/mtgs/1/
Orders options taken on all property that would be suitable site for WKU.

The following options were reported:
- Briggs Farm 100 acres $20,000
- Ogden Field 100 acres 25,000
- Fair Grounds 137 acres 50,000
- Kirby-Cabell 110 acres 40,000
- Bagby 124 acres 27,500

Voted to buy the Potter College for Young Ladies property at price of $55,000.

Gives list of the properties on Potter College Hill on which options were held & the prices. 12 were listed, ranging from .35 acres to 87.46 acres. Two most expensive were Potter College - 4 acres $30,000 and B.F. Cabell, 4 acres, $20,000.

1 Workmen busing installing underground telephone and electric wire conduits. As wires are placed underground, the unsightly poles will be removed.

College Heights Herald, Thursday, May 13, 1965 - Campus Mail 1965 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/3887
6 Post Office in Cherry Hall is beneath the offices of deans (vice presidents) Raymond Cravens, John Minton, William Hourigan. There is an air duct between the floors. "But uninitiated observers at either end are startled to see a secretary walk over in front of a desk seemingly throw two or three letters on the floor, explains, 'Campus mail,' and walk away, or to observe mail clerks calmly retrieving letters fluttering down from the ceiling as if it were an everyday occurrence (which it is)."

College Heights Herald, Wednesday, April 14, 1971 - Campus Ministry Council 1969
Rev. Frank Jump to Dero Downing, April 30, 1970 - United Campus Ministry is now the official campus representation for the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), Episcopal Club, Presbyterian Church in the United States, and the United Presbyterian Church in the USA.

Dero Downing to Rev. Carl W. Peterson, 9/2/1970 - The body that deals with religious matters on campus is the Western Religious Council, which goes back over 40 years. Paul Cook has replaced Dr. Hatcher as sponsoring of it.

4-5 page plan of the future campus.

"We will want you to act as Registrar of the institution." Should cooperate closely with Mr. F.C. Grise, Chairman of Faculty Committee on Credits and Entrance Requirements. Miss Florence Stallard will be your 1st assistant; she doesn't want to be Registrar.

"I am recommending that you get all you can in your line of work. I think now that I shall be forced to call upon you to teach a few classes, but we will work this out together. Whatever is done will be done with a view of not only advancing College Heights, but with a view of professionally and economically advancing you . . . At any rate I am going with you with a view of helping you to establish yourself in a splendid, outstanding way and in becoming one of the first Registrars in this country. This letter will serve as a contract. I would be will for you to preserve it."

Encourage him to teach a summer school, " . . . and while connected with the summer school, that you will do what you can to influence students to enter our institution at the opening of the fall session or later. I am counting on you to help us make College Heights advance in a large and outstanding way. I am looking faraway(?) to your connection with us."

"P.S. Since writing the above, it has occurred to me it would be well for you to be with us at least a week prior to the opening in order to get things in shape and to get your bearings and properly located. You would naturally, however, want to do this."

6 Mr. Cannon [sic] has assumed duties of Registrar.

Kelly Thompson Papers:14 - Canon, E. 1959
Correspondence - General
E.H. Canon - "never the fellow to push his way into the front row when a picture was being made."
" . . . on his face a little wistful smile, half deprecating, half that of one who has discovered that he lives in a humorous but --- world."
"Gentle and quiet and modest, yes. But not tired . . . one who never flinches when meeting the world."

Registrar 1925-1959 "firm guidance tempered with kindness and understanding."

1A14 University Programs: Misc. - Canon, E.H.
Box 1 Founders Day Programs
Ernest Hubert Canon. Born at Murray, July 10, 1887. Life Certificate at WKU; degrees from University of Kentucky 1924 & 1925. High school principal 1917 & at several schools. Registrar at WKU 1925, retired 1959.

Murray Ledger & Times, 10/13/1977 - Canon, E.H. E.H. Canon was from Calloway County. Taught 3 one room schools before going to WKU as student in 1909. Would run out of money, go back to teaching. Went to WKU about 1925 & was registrar for 34 years.

Dero Downing of E.H. Canon: "He carried the catalog in his head, and it was he who produced it."

Dero Downing Interview, March 22, 1978 - Canon - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc_ua_records/695
James Bennett: You mentioned registration a while ago. I assume that was when Mr. Canon was registrar. I want to ask you something. I have heard at registration he pulled out a classroom chair and set it in the corner of the hall there in Cherry Hall, and ever student came by and he approved their cards. Is that true?

Dero Downing: You were not registered at Western until you had those registration cards, initialed by E.H. Canon, and it was a great relief when you finally able to make it through that last station there where Mr. Canon - actually, he sat on a high stool at an elevated table, and he sat there as the final checkpoint, making certain that you did not have an excessive number of hours, making certain that you had a sufficient number of hours, making certain that whatever the program of study to which you had made a commitment that you were engaged in a strong, challenging list of courses - and just an outstanding individual, knew every student on campus, was personally interested in the students, and E.H. Canon over the years has had a great influence on Western, and he's had an impact on my personal and professional life, not only at the time that I was a student here, but later as be [we?] became associates and colleagues and as members of the faculty-staff at Western, and I've always had a great deal of respect for him. But the registrar at Western, as I'm sure was the case in a number of institutions of our type and size, the registrar was a significant position - well, it continues to be, of course, in the life of an institution of higher education. But in those early years, you had the dean of the college and he was the dean of all deaning. I think it was an appropriate title: THE Dean of THE College. And the registrar ranked right alongside of the dean of the college in terms of being one of the four or five principal administrative officials in the university. You had the bursar was another, and or [of] course, Miss Florence Schneider, who was an outstanding lady and a very fine individual as well as being a competent fiscal officer, was the bursar. Mr. Canon was the registrar and Dr. [Finley] Grise was the dean of the college. And when you took those three individuals you had primarily the backbone of the administrative staff working with and under the president of the college.

News from Western, April 10(?), 1978 - Canon, E.H. Died April 9 in nursing home. Came to WKU in 1909 as student after teaching in 1 room schools. Then principal at several schools. Became WKU's Registrar in 1925. Kelly Thompson: “He carried the catalog in his head, and it was he who produced it.” (Doesn’t say when he retired.)

When regents meet July 14 Randall Capps (43) is expected to be named assistant to President Donald Zacharias. Rhea Lazarus has announced his resignation to devote full-time to private business.

Randall Capps became assistant to the president in 1979. Had been department head for 11 years. Will be on sabbatical this fall, then will return to teaching in the spring.

1 Dr. Ronnie Sutton says WKU may start a career planning program by fall semester. Dr. Jerry Wilder submitted plan to Sutton in October 1975.

Faye Carroll to be reassigned at her request to teaching; George S. Masanat to become acting head. W.R. McCormack asked hold on this until underlying reasons could be determined. Dero Downing said she implied that the responsibilities, some of which she disliked, were detrimental to her health & she was happier in the classroom. Had conferred with her. William Buckman said he had talked with her. She was upset over some things, such as a member being given tenure without her approval, but the reasons Dero Downing gave were also deciding factors. Passed, unanimously.

Council on Public Higher Education
At July 9, 1962 meeting, Council on Public Higher Education voted that beginning September 1, 1962 freshmen cannot have cars on campus. Beginning September 1, 1963, this will apply also to sophomores. Effective September 1, 1962, those on academic or disciplinary probation can’t operate cars on campus, regardless of classification.
Council on Public Higher Education has decided that beginning in September 1962 freshmen will not be allowed to own or operate cars on campus. September 1, 1963, this will be extended to Sophomores with less than a B average. Purpose, Council said, was to encourage academic achievement during critical first 2 years of college. Will also help with problem of parking spaces.

General Correspondence 1920
The Mammoth Cave trip started at Southern Normal with Professor J.R. Alexander who took his Scientific class to Mammoth Cave for a week’s study "wagonettes for girls and invalids and sole leather for the distinctly masculine element." Boat, he thinks, has been discarded. Party of 36 left Bowling Green on June 4, 1908. Road wagon carried "other ---" quilt, food. Raining 7 some girls assumed they wouldn’t go. Rousted them out. Ate dinner at Dripping Springs, 16 miles out. Started out again at 2:00 now in hilly country. Stopped at Cedar Sink - 150' deep, about 20-30 acres. Got to cave just before sundown, pitched tents. But because of rain, girls spent night in hotel & boys in hayloft. Started short route at 9:00 next morning. Describes the cave. Came out of cave at midnight, very tired. On Saturday, went to Colossal Cave w miles away. Next morning, 3 miles by steamboat to Ganter's Cave. Broke camp at sunrise Monday, June 8. Stopped at Dripping Springs. Got to Bowling Green at 6:00 p.m.

332 Friday, June 16. The 1914 record of N.P. Hudson [Hutson?] was 5:45. In 1915 J.B. Hudson lowered it to 5:35. Journey is 29 miles. D.Y. Dunn made the 29 miles (11 in blinding rain) in 5:15. Dunn also walked back & thus won the pair of shoes. Most combined walking with riding.
333 Storm hit at Dripping Springs. Finally ate there, crackers, ham, sandwiches at Glasgow Junction. 334 All walked last 9 miles from there. Spent week in camp there. Much fun. Did see cave as well, & also saw the "wonderful new Onyx Cave opened just a year ago . . . "

WKU - Notecards - Cedar House

Gordon Wilson Diaries Sept. 26, 1918 - Cedar House 1918 A disaster he has long feared has occurred in late summer. Trimming the cedars several years ago weakened them & allowed the bagworm to do more effective work. Last winter’s long cold also contributed & the dry, hot summer finished the job. Probably not over ½ dozen cedars are fully alive. Others are dead or have only a few green limbs. Fears their loss will drive away many of the birds.

WKU contributed all the dead cedars on Hill. Students had pledged labor. Murphy Brothers of Louisville had drawn up plans and donated them. Uncle Billy Craig led seniors in clearing ground, but other classes then helped. Axes swung all summer. George Page & H.M. Yarbrough were among those who swung broad axes. Logs rolled into place. "A smashed finger, a joke, a dead cedar, and a dream went into the making of the building.” Logs in place by fall, 1920. Girls then chinked them. Money raised, roof was on by winter. Rugs, furniture added & Senior Reception Committee opened the doors. Many receptions, parties, lazy winter evenings before the fire place. Then taken over for library. When new library is completed it will be empty. What use will be made of it?

4 Gordon Wilson, "Passing Institutions of Teachers' College." Says late comers will have no idea of what Vinegar Hill looked like before the cedars died. He loved to ramble there, even before WKU got it. Much wild life, especially birds. One day in May, 1912 he saw 75 nests there. Shade so dense there was little vegetation beneath many of them. Severe drought in 1918 & the bagworms were worse than Wilson has ever seen them. Trimming those on north side may have killed some, but more died from natural causes. Stood there 2 years, vegetation springing up. Then students under direction of William Craig cut trees & dragged logs to site & built cedar house. That fall each class donated a full day's work to help complete the job. Birds have never come back as they once did. "the campus is beautiful in its way, but it is hard for us old-timers to forget the cedars and the wild tangles on the slopes.

WKU - Notecards - Central Board

Henry Cherry Papers:20 - Central Board 1933
General Correspondence 1933
Henry Cherry to Rainey T. Wells, Omaha, Neb., Jan. 31, 1933 - Hears a strong effort will be made to establish one board for all state schools or at least to put the teachers colleges under one. Suggests that WKU work on Senator Williamson, who will be a key.
Henry Cherry to Rainey Wells, Feb. 21, 1933 - Committee of [James] Richmond, Frank McVey & Henry Cherry was appointed to work out a coordinating commission. Cherry stopped in Frankfort & asked Richmond directly what he favored. He said he had favored one board for the 5 universities & one for the 4 teachers colleges, but he was changing & now favored separate boards. Thinks there will be no trouble keeping our boards as they are. At last meeting of commission Henry Cherry had "to fight with great energy" a proposal that would have created one central board. Another plan would have put board under control of University of Kentucky with a chancellor over entire system. Hopes this part of the fight is over. There may still be serious situations ahead.

Henry Cherry to Rainey Wells, March 24, 1933 - Agree that basis of report is worry. "... I have made up my mind to fight to the end, even if I costs me my professional standing and the success of the work of the Commission. I have been on the battle front before. I don't like to fight until I have to, but when I enter the battle I am (modestly speaking) a pretty good soldier." Misses you. James Richmond doesn't confide in me (new president of Murray State University) & I never know where he stands. [James Richmond was State Superintendent of Public Instruction from 1932 to 1936. He was president of Murray State University from 1936 to 1945.]

O.J. Jones of Department of Education is trying to show that the teacher's colleges have benefited at expense of the rural schools. He & a few others have been trying for 5 years to do this. Doesn't realize that 85% of the success of school system depends on the teachers. The teachers colleges are a part of the public school system. If they fail, the whole system will fail.

This has been an exhausting affair. H.L. Donovan has been splendid; Payne(?) hasn't come to the front as he should have.

Henry Cherry to Rainey Wells, June 26, 1933 - Enclosed is copy of proposed organization of a Coordinating Council. "It is not what I wanted but it seems it is all I can get." It is better than the original proposal. There's strong movement for a central board, & several legislators now favor it.

Henry Cherry to Rainey Wells, July 15, 1933 - He is disturbed as to final outcome of education program in Kentucky. Report of Commission will call for a central board but with each school having its own board of regents. Of course this isn't consistent. Much good in the report. Dr. Taylor of University of Kentucky had more to do with the whole procedure than anyone else. "Mr. Richmond has been very kind to the University." It has been in the lead all the way.

124 State made no provision for training teachers in most of century(?). They got training wherever they could, were certified by examination. Act of 1888 placed preparation of the exam in a state board of examinations. Several changes, but Act of 1884 provided (125) for 3 types of certificates. 1) First Class - showed mastery of the subjects taught. Good for 4 years, could be renewed by endorsement of the county superintendent. 2) Second class - imperfect knowledge. Good for 2 years. Could be issued only a 2nd time. 3) Third class - indifferent knowledge. For 1 year. Couldn't be issued again. Certificates were valid in county where issued. Demand arose for state-wide ones. Acts of 1875 & 1884 moved in that direction. Tests taken in county, forwarded to state board of examiners who issued the certificates. Good for 5 years, renewable if the person taught continuously. Act of (126) 1894 added several other requirements. Good for 8 years & were renewable. Fee raised from $3 to $4 dollars. State Diploma was highest - in Act of 1893. 24 years old; good moral character; average grade of 90 in English literature, physiology, algebra, higher arithmetic, geometry, physics, elementary Latin. Good for life in all schools in state.

9 New certification law became affect in Sept. 1932.
College Elementary Certificate - At least 32 hours (lists what is required, only 4-7 hours electives)
Standard Certificate - 64 hours with 10 hours of electives included. Good for 3 years.

19 Up to Sept. 1, 1935 the Department of Education at Frankfort will issue the college elementary certificate for completion of 32 hours of college work with C average. The standard certificate is issued on basis of 64 hours with life extension on basis of teaching experience. These will not be granted after Sept. 1, 1935

Rose, Harry. Morehead - Certification
396 Says no change of substance was made in teacher certification requirements from 1934 to 1950 (Outlines the 1950 ones in some detail).
399 Council on Public Higher Education in 1950 voted to drop 2 year provisional(?) elementary certificate after Sept. 1, 1953 a degree would be required.
400 After 1950 the legislature delegated certification requirements to State Board of Education upon recommendation of Council of Public Higher Education.
403 Beginning in 1953, each school was given more flexibility in determining its own program for certification.

Adopts Academic Council recommendation for a new certification program for secondary teachers. Will consist of 6 3 hour courses & teaching experience (10 hours). Increase is to 28 hours from present 20.

Albert Chandler Papers, Box 86 - Chandler's Visit 1937
Albert Chandler was present for tournament. Several people thank him:

Carl Anderson to Governor Chandler, March 15, 1937 - Says he made good impression, gained new friends. People realize that you are sincere in providing a good administration.

Albert Chandler to Harper Gatton of Madisonville, Aug. 28, 1937, who had recommended Paul Garrett - “You know of my interest in Paul, and I think that his appointment is assured.”

1 Governor Albert Chandler was here Tuesday - Wednesday. Tuesday afternoon about 1,100 persons at reception in Garrett Student Center. He spoke to about 220 at basketball appreciation dinner. Wednesday, Albert Chandler spoke at chapel, Van Meter was filled with 1,500 people.
Policy adopted when a line executive officer who holds faculty rank voluntarily returns to full-time faculty service:
1 sabbatical leave
2 adjusted compensation
President - 80% of current administrative salary
Others - 75% of current administrative salary
3 If available, etc. transitional office space & secretarial help. Not over 1 year. For benefit of the university, not the person.
Passed with no opposition.

2 Gordon Wilson great editorial: "Western and Tradition" - Every college develops its traditions. Can become handicap if too rigid. At WKU a number of traditions have disappeared: Chestnut hunt, boat excursion, Mammoth Cave camping trip, Mock Congress, literary societies, daily chapel, special train to Kentucky Education Association. War stopped others that may or may not be resumed: Senior Day, Mother's Day, Homecoming, Congress Debating Club. "Other traditions will develop and grow old and die, if Western is to adapt itself to ever changing conditions. No age, not even the early years of Western, is worthy of deification."

Some of the distinctive things that are gone:
1. Annual boat excursion
2. Annual chestnut hunt at Cherry farm
3. Geography camping trip to Mammoth Cave
4. Daily chapel
5. Literary societies
6. Play & game hour in fort after supper in summer
7. Annual exam for teachers' certificates
8. Picnic at Lost River, or Jennings Creek, etc.
9. Faculty-Student baseball game
10. Cabell Hall
11. Old Potter College building [Recitation Hall]
12. Old bell on post to announce hour.
13. Weekly faculty meeting
14. Annual work day
15. Annual Mock Congress, Henry Cherry presiding
16. Derby hats & floor length dresses
17. Huge class - 125 in Grammar 2 & 160 in Nature Study
18. Franz Straham's hour concerts at 30 minute (scheduled) chapel
19. Chautauqua circuit programs
20. Old fashioned --- in houses, both college & private

Beichman, Arnold. Dark Ages - Changes
46 Says universities helped accomplish their own downfall in 1960s - 1st, under pressure "by politicians ambitious to win over the intellectual classes and later by academics who saw in the university a vehicle for revolutionizing American politics and Government."
78 Says the universities in 1960s abandoned academic neutrality - "the one doctrine indispensable to its moral integrity . . . " Clark Kerr said that involving the university in politics "changes the university for the worse more than it changes society for the better."
New orthodoxy: "It is the duty of the university to alter society; to transform the inhuman economic system into something more humanistic" Clark Kerr said that involving the university in politics "changes the university for the worse more than it changes society for the better."

Arts have a "new modernism" - the auto-everything(?) "The common denominator has been the irrational passion to destroy, or at least to fragment, de-

80 Part of decline is due to the second rate intellects who flocked to graduate schools in 1970 & held to the revolutionary attitudes of their undergraduate days. More & more in history they are giving Marxist interpretation.
84 Professor Steven Marcus (Columbia): "What we are confronted with in higher education in America is a situation of mass functional illiteracy. The situation itself is not entirely new, but the scale is unprecedented . . . " First 2 years of college are remedial.
Paul Gagnow (University of Massachusetts): says that (86) "in the modern American university nobody takes responsibility for what is taught . . . The participatory democracy(?) of curriculum-making somehow manages always to end at the same point; anything must be declared to be as good as anything else, but the balance of departmental enrollments (and operating budgets) is distributed . . . Letting students ignore the events and ideas that have shaped their world is called you're gonna have more faculty, more plant changed?

54 Lowell Harrison: Mr. Nalbach, as you look back over the years that you've been associated with Western, what would be something that, one of the things that might very well simply be the physical expansion. But are there any other ways in which Western has changed?

Walter Nalbach: Oh, many ways, I suspect, aside from the physical plant expansion. I think from every angle there has been growth; in my improvement; I think the faculty - there's a great improvement in that area. Not to take away any credit from the past people, but Western is a big school today and accompanying that, you're gonna have more faculty, more plant - you name it.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, Dec. 4, 1979 - Changes 1960s - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5579

6 Article by Tom Clark-Todd, Kentucky Film Commission, who was student at WKU 1967-71. Talks about changes then. "We wore plaid flowered shirts, patched jeans and desert boots. And no wardrobe was complete without an army surplus field jacket. We were independent thinkers, and showed it be dressing alike."

"Posters were our art form . . . ."

New type of music.

More open talk about sex, but "personal inhibitions were just as common then as any other time."

Extensive use of drugs, especially marijuana.

"But in retrospect, I suspect that we were less radical than we wanted to believe and that Bowling Green residents may have been a little more tolerant than we thought at the time."

"Our shortcomings were more apparent because of our impatience with our adversaries' shortcomings."

"The period shook each of us right down to our roots and forced us to evaluate our lives. Some of us became criminals for fleeing the country or refusing the draft some became alcoholics, some developed drug problems and others turned to religious cults."

"Yet most survived and have turned out to be stable 30-year-olds with most of the same hopes and fears of other generations. That time was important to everyone . . . I wouldn't have missed it for the world."

Courier-Journal, Dec. 26, 1974 - Changes 1974 - Article by Richard Wilson on the problems faced by Kentucky's regional universities. The boom years are gone when enrollments went up 15% or more per year. "No more high rise dormitories will be built anytime soon. "Not that growth was bad. Sheer size gave the formerly small and often-provincial teachers college a university atmosphere. The new buildings, streams of out-of-state students, improved faculty and respectable athletic teams all game the schools a new identity."

During --- period "strong-willed and politically influential presidents such as Morehead's Adron Doran and Eastern's Robert Martin, coaxed massive state appropriations from willing governors and legislators."

15 years ago, the 5 schools enrolled 11,346 and had state appropriations of $6,200,000. This year: 41,551 and $62,400,000. In recent interviews, officials say that the slackening enrollments give them a chance to put their house in order. Between 1969 & 1974 enrollments grew 15.2%.

Raymond Cravens: "The real opportunity for us now is to use the foundation we built in the 1960s as a base for the academic diversity the future will require."

Have the schools with expanded graduate & associate degree programs been responding to regional needs or just trying to keep up enrollments? Much of growth in recent years have been in these areas. Is quality being lost? Graduate degrees can now be earned without student ever being on campus. "If program diversity is the educational name of the game for the regional schools, none of them has mastered the art as successfully as Eastern."

"EKU's President Martin recalled recently that he foresaw a diminishing job market for new teachers in the mid-1960s and began then to explore alternative needs his school could meet.

"Martin chose two new educational areas in which federal educational planners were developing an interest - law enforcement and allied health. The interest was translated into federal grants on which EKU capitalized.

"There's no question that Bob Martin foresaw the shifting emphasis of educational needs 10 years ago and got there before anyone else in Kentucky, one state official said recently. "This year nearly 30% of EKU's students are in program in these two fields.

In the regional schools - 10 years ago about 75% of students were in teacher training program. It is now about 15%. "Time and circumstances have dashed the hopes and aspirations of some of their leaders to become major, prestigious universities. The schools now know what they are, but they have not fully determined what they are going to become."

Walter Nalbach Interview, December 7, 1976 - Changes - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/882

54 Lowell Harrison: Mr. Nalbach, as you look back over the years that you've been associated with Western, what would be some of the changes perhaps that have impressed you most? Obviously, one of the things might very well simply be the physical expansion. But are there any other ways in which Western has changed?

Walter Nalbach: Oh, many ways, I suspect, aside from the physical plant expansion. I think from every angle there has been growth; in my improvement; I think the faculty - there's a great improvement in that area. Not to take away any credit from the past people, but Western is a big school today and accompanying that, you're gonna have more faculty, more plant - you name it.
WN: And that throws a new light on the situation. But I can see that in the faculty, the type of faculty... many of whom are ones that are people who have been with us, are engineers. They're stable. I think they made a contribution. Some are coming, growing - they'll make a wonderful contribution to the university. I think curriculum-wise is expanding - we have offerings now like which we've never had. You name it, we have it.

L.H.: Which you couldn't have had in the small school.

W.N.: That's right, you couldn't see it. So taking it from the point of view of faculty, your curriculum, your offering, you could just name any facet of it - there's been a great expansion and improvement in my judgment.

8 Essay on 1970s by Tom Beshear, College Heights Herald reporter. - Few burning issues to get excited about "... students have become more practical and interested in their studies and careers ... There is less of the blatant idealism that characterized the '60s . . . the clear-cut issues don't exist now."
10 Quotes Ann Murray, "I'm seeing more respect for authority now . . . Students become more self-centered."

272 Donald Zacharias pointed out several worthy developments:
Associated Student Government retreat for students
New formed Spirit Masters
Student Development Foundation
273 Endless meetings on the "Bluegrass Plan." Frustration over finances help explain why Donald Zacharias allowed his name to be considered for presidencies at North Texas and Wyoming.

WKU - Notecards - Chapel
29 "At 9:30 o'clock every school day the faculty and students assemble in Vanmeter Hall for worship. In connection with the brief religious service, there is offered a scripture reading and an inspiring address on some ethical problem or ideal. The general uplift of life set ageing here often constitutes little less than a new birth for the student. Here, often for the first time he comes to realize what it is possible for him to do and to be in the world. New ideals are set and a new life begun."

Yell:
"Life Class, Life Class 1909
Watch us next year, see us shine
Throughout Kentucky from East to West,
Spreading the tidings of the S.N.S.
Thankful, Thankful be we all
As we stand in Van Meter Hall."

Singing, scripture reading, prayer, speeches. Then one of the students moved that since faculty had given Thanksgiving Day, we give them a holiday on Nov. 26. Pass unanimously. (Apparently there was a holiday on Friday).

32 Chapel on Dec. 19 was in charge of students, each of whom impersonated a faculty member. "... in some instances the mannerisms of the teachers were so vividly revealed to them that they have promised to reform at once."

I put great stress upon the value of chapel. In fact, I have discovered that practically all those students who make and send up the school standard and sustain it while here, and after they have been here, and those who finally graduate, are students who never miss Chapel.” John has assured him that he won’t miss any more. Libraries: Margie Helm Correspondence - Chapel nd
1923-29, A-B
Miss Margie Helm to James A. Barnes, Madison, Wisc., May 26, 1925 - Thanks for sending the copy of his MA thesis. "The thesis was handed about from faculty member to faculty member in chapel this morning. And everybody was complimentary. Dr. Stickles, Dr. Kinnaman, Miss Ragland, Mr. Craig, Miss Mattie McLean, and many others were quite delighted with it."

Henry Cherry: Box 9 - Chapel 1925
General Correspondence 1925
L.C. Guffey, Kansas State Teachers College, Pittsburgh, Kan., to Henry Cherry, June 17, 1925 - Would like to be on the Hill "and hear your fiery, enthusiastic addresses that you are in the habit of making. I certainly shall never forget the talks and addresses I heard you make . . . I have not forgotten all of your expressions and most certainly have not forgotten the substance of many of your inspirational remarks to the student body."
What for the future? This term has seen some "splendid" chapel programs, and the hall appears completely filled.

Another talk by Arndt Stickles, Feb. 14 "Tendencies in the College." Says "flood of students" new in college.

Henry Cherry expected everyone to attend chapel. "... I tell you, he could tell you who was there." Henry Cherry might call upon someone without warning to get up and talk. He had some very interesting programs.

1 Freshman (unusually talented) gave chapel program on Nov. 17

General Correspondence 1926
Mrs. Lida Williams Moore, Owingsville, to Henry Cherry, Aug. 11, 1926 - "I often recall talks that you made at chapel that were real moral lessons. There were so many good things to be heard at 'chapel.' I don't think I ever missed one all the time I was in school. We were just like one big happy family. Every body knew every body else. I always try to get that feeling into my school . . . ."

4 On Monday, July 13, Dr. Arndt Stickles spoke briefly on the National Education Association meeting he recently attended in Memphis. "His talk was interesting, and like all of Dr. Stickles' talks, it was thoroughly enjoyed by the students."
"In none of the meetings was there any new current in education introduced that is not being advanced by our own school. If they are right, we are right."

1 Student (unsigned) reveals thoughts of a spectator at chapel. After a few months speakers appear to have much the same comments, so attention wavers. Eyes & attention than to the stage. "The great of our little world are upon that platform, each one recalling to every student in the vast hall some memory of the hours spent in classes with him." Henry Cherry & you remember the immortal words: "If Mr. A. and Mr. B. don't work together the community is bound to fail because you cannot lift the level of the group higher than that of the individuals." Arndt Stickles - "the man who watches the clock." "... his terrifying mabit (habit) of thrusting forth his finger like the hand of Fate . . . ." Mr. Stephan - "immobile countenance" Gordon Wilson in 2nd row - "in his usually irrecressible (sic) good spirits . . . ."

"Suggestions for Improvement" of Chapel (Unsigned, but presumably Finley Grise's)
3. "Co-operation of lunch rooms near the campus. These places are becoming more and more of a nuisance, in that so many of our students, both boys and girls, are going there to smoke and play cards."
8. "Quit exactly at ten o’clock. The ten-ten period has been almost wrecked for instructional purposes."
9. "See that all members of the faculty attend regularly, sit on the stage, and cut out their talking."

Teachers College Heights, Nov. 1932 - Chapel 1932 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/1962/
11 At Homecoming 1932 - "At 10:00 o’clock the crowd met in the auditorium and after a short band concert a regular chapel exercise was held. The president was at his best and the old students expressed themselves as being delighted with the opportunity of engaging again in an old fashioned chapel service. The chapel at Western has always been a place where the kindly and progressive spirit of the institution has prevailed, and it is from here that famous ‘Spirit of the Institution’ emanates." [sic]

Henry Cherry Papers: 20 - Chapel 1933
General Correspondence 1933
Henry Cherry to A.L. Young, Peabody College, July 31, 1933 - Chapel is daily, 30 minutes (45 in summer). President presides & is responsible - no committee.
Imp: aspects: inspirational, informational, recreational, religious. Especially the first. No compulsory, but always crowded. "The biggest thing in the institution is the morning Assembly here." Not compulsory for faculty but all attend. "While I have never revealed such an attitude, I would not be interested in the re-employment of a member of the faculty who did not attend chapel." We make essential announcements but try to keep them brief. No funds are provided. No credit. "We feel that the Assembly hour should be of a nature that the student should regard it as a privilege and opportunity to attend."

Teachers College Heights, March 1934 - Chapel 1934 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/2114/
23 According to a 1933 survey made by George Peabody College, WKSTC was the largest teachers college in the nation. The 5 day a week non-compulsory chapel was the largest in U.S.

Henry Cherry Papers: 24 - Chapel 1935
General Correspondence 1935
A.A. Page, Lexington to Henry Cherry, Nov. 17, 1935 - Says that chapel stands out as the most impressive aspect of his college life. "At first I went because others went, but I soon caught the 'spirit of the hill' and went because I wanted to go. It was at the chapels that I got a vision of what one could do if he was willing to try and try with all his might. It was there that I came to realize that if I wanted society to improve that I must first improve - that if Wanted my neighbor to paint his fence posts red that I must first paint mine red. It was at chapel that I believe that most of the students got the foundation for a philosophy of life - That life was an ideal, a spirit - in the same sense that I have so often heard you refer to Western when you would say: "Western is not a campus, not a group of buildings, not a library and class rooms, but a spirit.' It was at chapel that the students came to have a feeling of unity in that each one was striving for the same good. That good was to become better teachers in order that Kentucky's children might have a better opportunity."

Henry Cherry Papers: 85 - Chapel 1935
Folder 5: 1935-37
Henry Cherry radio speech, WSM Nashville, Dec. 8, 1935 - "The Place of Chapel in the Life of a College" Chapel programs "are the best medium and method, in building up the morale of an institution, and in inspiring young manhood and womanhood . . . It is at chapel Western sees ideals of education in action." Voluntary but "practically universal." "The chapel is a clearing house of ideas. Faculty, and occasionally students, speak in open sorum (forum), and a fine democracy pervades the assembly . . . Each is free to speak his thoughts, and to challenge the thoughts of others." " . . . what the balance wheel is to the watch, chapel is to the institution."

O.J. Wilson interview with Finley C. Grise, Aug. 28, 1967 - Chapel 1937
Finley Grise said that when Paul Garrett became president he told him that Henry Cherry was probably the only educator in America who could conduct daily

Outside sketch and a floor plan of a proposed chapel - rather small, with 188 seats.

Assembly Programs

Paul Garrett is having Archibald McLeish speak in July at chapel. (He is lecturing at Peabody.) Paul Garrett often picks up people fairly cheaply who are going to be in Nashville. Seumas MacManus, Irish poet, was another one at WKU in 1952. (He was here more than once. Several letters from him.) Paul Garrett spends considerable time on chapel program. Usually guests spend night at President's house. In 1951 chapel is meeting one time a week, usually on Wednesday. But Paul Garrett shifts it to get the programs he wants. 1951 - Robert P. Tristram Coffin speaks in July.

2 Editorial about attending chapel indicates that it is held only on Wednesday.

2 Editorial: "The noise problem in chapel is slowly becoming a problem which could grow into something much larger if we do not take immediate action. While in chapel, such things as talking, fumbling with books, and other distractions should be avoided."

College Heights, 27:1, September 1958 - Chapel 1958

12 Meets on Wednesday at 10:00 a.m.

13 It is a required course for freshmen & carries ½ hour credit per semester.

Gordon Wilson Diary, Aug. 2, 1959 - Chapel

Has attended his last chapel as member of faculty - estimates he has been at over 5,000. Some gave him some of his greatest thrills in life. "President Cherry's 'swimming the river' speech was one such . . . " Dr. J.A. Kinman - "the obsession of the immediate." Old Professor A.L. Mell repeatedly one of his old speeches, still with fire. Dr. Fred Mutchler. Mr. Franz Strahm and Liszt's "Second Hungarian Rhapsody." Gordon Wilson said he missed very few, seldom deliberately, although it was sometime "thein and monotonous."

Paul Cook Interview, 8/2/9185 - Chapel 1950s - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/925

Chapel was 1 day per week for everyone. Upperclassmen were cutting it a great deal. Mandatory for freshmen - secretary checked seating chart. Good place to make announcements, pep rallies. Can't remember any speakers who made a lasting impression.

Kelly Thompson Papers:14 - Chapel 1961

Chapel Assembly

Memo: Dean of Students Charles A. Keown to Kelly Thompson, July 18, 1961 - Last year freshmen filled all but 272 seats in Van Meter. In 1961-62 they will probably fill all of the, leaving nothing for faculty & upperclassmen. Suggests dividing freshmen into 2 groups & requiring each to attend every other Wednesday. Would go to 25-30 person counseling group on the other week.

Kelly Thompson Papers:18 - Chapel 1961

Faculty Meetings

Kelly Thompson's agenda, Faculty Meeting, Sept. 11, 1961 - Chapel is each Wednesday 10:00 - 10:45

32 (No chapel - is assembly) meets once a week. Required for freshmen, carries ½ hour credit.

Gordon Wilson Diary, March 2, 1964 - Chapel

"It took a good deal of pump-priming to see that our chapel was attended well every day in the week. I, personally have been sent out many times to visit as many parts of the campus as possible to 'warn in the bands,' as we used to say when were called out to work the roads around Fidelity."

Kelly Thompson Papers:14 - Chapel 1964

Chapel Assembly

Memo: Kelly Thompson to Administrative Office Heads, Oct. 23, 1964 - Assembly (Wed. 10:20) has important place while offices should remain open, heads of the offices should be in assembly. Two rows of seats reserved for faculty & staff down front. (Folder-huge - is full of chapel infractions).

Memo: Charles Keown to Kelly Thompson, July 1, 1964 - Recommends that it continue to be required for freshmen (& a few small groups), but will have to be alternated, every other week.

Kelly Thompson Papers:38 - Chapel 1967
There is a schedule of chapel programs for the spring 1967. There is one per week. (Wednesday). (Was this the last semester except for Freshmen Assembly?)

Gordon Wilson Diary, Dec. 12, 1967 - Chapel

“Any person who ever attempts to explain the strange influence of Western must reckon with chapel as a force.” In early days, most students attended, with zeal. Was considered an honor to be asked to appear on a program. (Gordon Wilson remembers his early appearance). Lists (he’s done so earlier) some of the programs that especially stirred him. “Chapel was the very center of things, good and bad; it was Western in group action.”

4 Carlton Jackson: Tell me something about the convocations that you used to go to at Western. I remember when I came here we had to go to them one convocation a week. But I think there was a time that the faculty went to two convocations a week, or maybe three? And sometimes, as I have been told, you have to stand up and make an impromptu speech. Can you remember any incidents?

James Poteet: Well, at chapel - chapel was every day -

CJ: Oh, every day. I see.

JP: Yes, when I came here now and on through Mr. Cherry’s - 1937 - and then it dropped out I think under Mr. Garrett to three times a week and then by the time you came here I guess it was not compulsory at all, was it for the faculty?

CJ: Once a week.

JP: Once a week?

CJ: Yes sir.

JP: Then as to the convocations, I mean as to faculty meetings we, of course, had one in the beginning and then we never had faculty meetings over once a month and of course at the chapel everybody would sit on the stage and Mr. Cherry had a way of calling on different faculty members, going around to make a little speech at Chapel and that -

CJ: Did you ever make a speech?

JP: I made two.

CJ: Can you remember what they were about?

JP: One of them was on - I called it the “Virginia Triangle.”

CJ: What did you say?

JP: Jamestown, Yorktown, Williamsburg. and that was the term that had been used about, you know, the tri-cities, trade centers. See, Jamestown was the first colonial center and then it moved to Williamsburg and Yorktown was over on the York River and that is where the - if you go there today you'll see boas could - come back up in from the York River up to Williamsburg and when I made that speech they just had opened that connecting memorial colonial parkway from Jamestown. It goes under Williamsburg and on to Yorktown. It's no commercial traffic on it at all and on that basis I took a look at Jamestown and on to the fight at Williamsburg and then on to the Battle of Yorktown or in that area I don't know what I said, but I remember that distinctly. The other one I really don't know, I don't recall.

CJ: Do you remember anyone ever being called upon to speak and just not being able to?

JP: No, I don't recall.

CJ: They all had -

JP: Some didn't make a speech.

CJ: I see.

JP: I know once or twice they asked me to make a speech and I said I didn't have anything to talk about.
CJ: What - President Cherry would ask you to make a speech?

JP: Oh, yes, as long as he was living five years there, you see. Six years. Oh, yes, and then another thing at chapel, it was called chapel while it was kind of like a convocation - the scripture reading was done. President Cherry would call on anyone who would like to quote from the Bible, a Biblical verse. One would stand up here and give a verse and over there a verse and one a verse and then he would call on different members of the faculty. That's one thing I didn't do - to read in prayer. Of course, there some who were who enjoyed it very, very much.

James Poteet Interview - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/883
Was daily under Henry Cherry, trailed off under Paul Garrett. One a week under Kelly Thompson. Henry Cherry would call on faculty members to speak. James Poteet says he made two. Some didn't speak. He was asked once or twice & he said he didn't have anything to say. Henry Cherry would also ask anyone to rise and give a Bible verse.

11 Carlton Jackson: You had chapel every day?

Kelly Thompson: Yes.

CJ: How long did it last?

KT: Forty-five minutes.

CJ: And a faculty member could be called on to give an impromptu speech?

KT: Absolutely. Sometimes it was well planned; other times it just happened. Dr. Cherry, unless he was out of town presided. This was the great leavening influence in those days - the contact with the student body. Chapel was noncompulsory. You didn't have to be there, but you'd better be, you know?

CJ: Yes. Good politics.

KT: He had instilled in the faculty and in the student body that you just don't cut chapel. In visiting in later years with so many people, they invariably go back to something that happened at chapel. It was a fascinating hour and was a tremendous influence in the life of the school at that time.

CJ: What time of day was chapel?

KT: Most of the time it was at 10 o'clock; however, in experimenting it was moved to 9:30. The hour depended upon the class schedule, but for years it was at 10 o'clock.

17 Carlton Jackson: I'm still interested in daily chapels. In fact, I'm fascinated by daily chapels, because when I came here we still had chapel once a week. That was as recent as 1961, and I know they continued through '64 or something like that. From once each day you went to three days a week. That was a brilliant move, because they had the new wing of Van Meter Auditorium. Chapel was held in that new wing.

Kelly Thompson: Yes.

CJ: Then, finally, from three days a week down to one day a week . . . And if I'm reading it correctly, the daily meetings were much more intimate than they were in the latter-day period.

KT: Very much so. During the period that you're talking about we generally had some kind of structured program - good, bad, or indifferent - we didn't leave it to chance. Back during the period that I was describing where we went to chapel every day, rarely were they structured. It was a get-together. Anything could happen. Maybe Dr. Cherry would ask a faculty member, with a little warning, to discuss a certain thing at heart. If the faculty member was lucky, for example, he might run into Dr. Cherry the day before and he would ask him. But maybe it was the morning of chapel and he'd say, "Dr. Jackson, I'm going to call on you this morning and I'd appreciate it if you'd give us a few remarks about so-and-so;" that's all the warning you had. They were impromptu. Most of the speeches were extemporaneous. He loved to call on members of the student body. Sometimes he would save the last half of the program for some big event coming up. Perhaps homecoming is two weeks away and he would say, "I'm going to call on a member of the student body, the faculty too - anybody - I just want some of you to give us your opinion of the first homecoming you attended." He was always accused of having three or four spotted in the audience. He loved to use the word spontaneity - he loved to have things happen spontaneously. Actually, I don't believe that he ever had people spotted. Sometimes these things happen so effectively that people said they just didn't know. I think what actually happened was that there were a number of students who were so imbued with the spirit of chapel that they kept prepared. They just said to themselves, "Well, I'm going to get up and speak sometime;" and they prepared themselves for the opportunity and they'd do so well, having thought it through so thoroughly, that it sounded as if they'd been given advanced warning. But it was a social occasion, Dr. Jackson. Let's take the faculty for example. All the faculty received their mail in Dr. Cherry's outer office in Van Meter Auditorium, where chapel was held all the time.
CJ: Right. It was still that way when I came.

KT: So, for an hour before chapel, those members of the faculty who did not have a class at that time began assembling in that area to pick up their mail, to visit with each other; and from 9 o'clock until 10 o'clock every morning, Miss McLean's office, which was Dr. Cherry's outer office, and the surrounding area out in the hallway and in the rotunda of Van Meter Auditorium became a visiting center. People transacted business. If you wanted to talk to some faculty member, you knew you could see him there. There was no faculty house. There was no central place where people dropped in for a cup of coffee or anything like that. That area was a social center for a short period every morning. A faculty member who wanted to see a student would send word to the student to meet him just outside Miss McLean's office right before chapel - all things like that. The students who came early, milling around, got to know faculty members there, and it not only served its purpose for the institution, but it had a great social effect. You will remember, of course, that we were small enough in those days to have this. For example, we could invite the Training School over on a special occasion, and there would be plenty of room in Van Meter Auditorium to absorb the 500 students from the Training School. The capacity of Van Meter was approximately 1,500 people, and we were ranging anywhere from 1,000 to 1,200 students, and probably on any given day, 20 percent of the student body would be unable to attend. So, it really was a tremendous social influence in the life of the institution. It was bond of communication that tied people together. It was an occasion that provided the information for everybody to stay abreast of what was going on. Every chapel program started with announcements.

CJ: I see.

KT: Dr. [Finley] Grise was the chief announcement-maker. Written announcements were always sent to Dean Grise and he made them, but there was no reason why if someone had failed to get one in and it was important that he couldn't rise and make it himself. Everything imaginable in the way of communication took place at chapel. When we grew larger and I was president, I often thought how wonderful it would be to have a forum of some kind where the same type of information could be put out to the larger group that occurred in Van Meter Auditorium. Probably one of the most difficult problems facing any president of a sizeable institution is how to communicate; and it has often been said that if you take enough time to communicate with everybody, you won't have anything to communicate about. Back then with this system of everybody getting together and all the announcements being made daily, everyone had the feeling at least that he knew what was going on all the time and this was a great advantage.

CJ: Yes, I can see that it would certainly give a sense of belonging.

KT: Sense of belonging, yes.

CJ: This, I think, is important . . .

KT: A person would go downtown and somebody would ask him about something, and he'd say, "Oh, yeah, I can tell you about that." That brings a great attitude a spiritual pride that comes from the feeling of being an intimate part of the institution. In later days it's often, "Gee, that's the first I have heard of it. I never hear anything."

CJ: Right! Do you remember any faculty member ever simply refusing to respond to a request to speak or perhaps being unable, you know - freezing up or something like that?

KT: No. I don't remember that. I'm confident that some begged off probably, but I don't remember . . .

CJ: I do know that some of the faculty members later published some of their speeches. Dr. Poteet, for example, gave a speech on the golden triangle of Virginia.

KT: Oh, I'm glad you mentioned that.

CJ: That was published in the Courier-Journal.

KT: I'm glad you referred to that, because I want to clear up one point. The general format was, just as I described, extemporaneous, a get-together type situation. But for special events where we wanted to really observe something, then an individual was chosen to do a paper, make a speech, or someone from the outside was invited in, and that was all included in the announcement that two weeks from tomorrow we're going to have so-and-so on campus. For example, on Monday, an announcement would be made that on Thursday Dr. Poteet is going to give an address in Commemoration of so-and-so or in honor of so-and-so. When these special programs occurred and when the occasion warranted time and research, a person was either called in or Dr. Cherry's office and an invitation extended to him well in advance or a letter was written to him, asking him if he would do something. There were many such occasions, and we can find today in the archives at Western many very profound addresses and papers that had been prepared for special chapel events.

Ted Hornback: Well, he [Henry Cherry] was around. We knew he was here, and he made himself known to the study boy. Of course, chapel was compulsory. Everyday we had chapel, and if students didn't go to chapel, Dr. Cherry was out looking for them. I know on many occasions he would come down to the Western Lunchroom or Mr. Tichenor's. A boy named Puch Mansfield - a basketball player - worked for one of those places and I worked for the other as soda jerks. And he would appear without any notice at all and stick his head in the door and people would yell, "Oh, there's Dr. Cherry," and they'd start running for cover. And he would say, "Get out of here and go to chapel," and he would herd them right out on out to chapel. And at chapel occasionally he would say, "Well, this morning after we have a few quotations from the Bible we're going to get out on the campus and pick up paper and clean the campus." And that's what we would do. He was - his door was always open to students. He was a very outspoken, gregarious person, loved by all students and mimicked by all. And that still happens.

Ed Stansbury Interview, Nov. 5, 1976 - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/888
10 James Bennett: That seems like a double term for that.

Ed Stansbury: That was a must item at ten o'clock, as I recall, everyday.

JB: Every day. That's what I wondered.

ES: Every day. And you were supposed to be there. The faculty's supposed to be there and the student's supposed to be there. And they were unless they had some good reason for not being there. The faculty sat on the stage and the students sat down in the audience, of course, and Dr. Cherry, when he was in town and he was usually here unless the legislature was in session, always had something to say at chapel and he built what was known in those days as the "other thing." A spirit. An image. And he was a past master at selling whatever he had to sell. Everything he did was with a great deal of enthusiasm. Great deal of enthusiasm. He was just a dynamic personality. He really was. You couldn't help but be inspired when you sat either as an instructor or on the faculty or as a student. And he was, of course, the beginning of this thing and many of us really got our start from listening to him because he was a great inspirational speaker. There were no limits, you know. You just don't hear much of this sort of thing anymore.

JB: No, that kind of oratory.

ES: And his - his emphasis on coming to chapel and going to class and doing the right thing created a spirit here that I think has continued through the years.

JB: Now, is this how the motto "The Spirit Makes the Master" comes from?

ES: Yes, that's where it came from.

JB: And the assembly was every day?

ES: Every day.

JB: And everybody attended?

ES: Absolutely!

JB: When I came on the campus, joined the faculty in 1960, we still had assembly once a week and the faculty - I think just the first year I was here - the faculty still sat on the stage. I heard Dr. [Arndt] Stickles and other talk about it that you never knew whether you were going to be called on or not, that Dr. Cherry would just point to someone and say, "Talk to us."

Ed Stansbury Interview, Nov. 5, 1976 - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/888
12 James Bennett: And the program was rather informal; someone just got up and . . .

Edgar Stansbury: Right.

JB: Now, they did from time to time as I understand it, bring in speakers, public figures. Quite an educational . . .

ES: Yes, in those days most of the folks in attendance here were from the country and they weren't as well read as folks are today. There was no TV and transportation wasn't anything like it is today. And they listened with a great deal of interest and enthusiasm to the people they knew. Some foreigner didn't make much of an impression because world affairs were not as well known in those days so [Henry] Cherry, [J.R.] Alexander, [Arndt] Stickles, [Finley] Grise and the like were the folks that really - we listened to.

Walter Nalbach Interview, December 7, 1976 - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/882
25 Lowell Harrison: What were some of the other chapel programs?

Walter Nalbach: Oh, they had musical programs. Bring in outstanding people to present the program - governors, politicians, famous musicians would put on a solo of some kind, announcements - all announcements were made in chapel, then the faculty presented programs - great talks on various subjects, and occasional pep rallies due to football or basketball - there were always certain type of activities going on on campus.

E.H. Canon Interview - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/689
Met daily. Everything closed down. Programs varied a good deal. Henry Cherry would sometimes call for quotations. Says that Henry Cherry occasionally went out into the audience to shake a student who was talking.

Sara Tyler Interview - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/897
Henry Cherry's chapel talks were inspirational. He told great stories. He didn't speak from a manuscript. Paul Garrett's chapel talks were quite different. Most enjoyable were when he read passages he liked from the books he had read.

Ward Sumpter Interview - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/890
(Problem. Ward Sumpter talks about chapel & Henry Cherry. He joined faculty in 1938; Henry Cherry died in 1937.)
Hans Henry Cherry would say to some of the faculty: "Go out here and see if you can't round up the students that are in the spoonholders." Sometimes he'd go out himself and gather in students and perhaps faculty members - who were playing hooky. Wasn't really a religious service. Henry Cherry sometimes call on students for favorite verses from the Bible. Henry Cherry would also call on faculty to speak, usually with some warning. [Arndt] Stickles spoke often; [Franz] Strahm was often on the program. No one else could play "The Normal March" like he could.

Tom Ellis Interview - Chapel - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/698
Re: chapel & Henry Cherry: "Well, he expected everybody to go. All the football players had to go. Well, he didn't demand them but he, I tell you, he could tell you who was not there." Faculty sat on stage. Henry Cherry would sometimes call on someone without warning to talk. He got some interesting programs.

Liles, Parker Memories - Chapel
“This was the highlight of the day.” Nearly everyone attended. All could get in Van Meter. “The lectures by Dr. Cherry really did something to us . . . made us believe we could go out and set the world on fire.” Recalls chapel incident. Dr. [Arndt] Stickles was lecturing on current events. When he got up his pants leg caught between knee and ankle. Henry Cherry go ---, finally got up, slipped over behind Stickles and yanked the pants leg down --- ---. Stickles wasn't embarrassed at all.

He said it was because there, the students are brought together in a chapel formation, while here each student is a stranger on the campus with 30,000 others.”

Chapel brings visions to those who look forward, inspiration to those who plan nobler achievements, faith to those in doubt and courage to those in despair. Chapel is the voice of The Spirit of the Hill - the voice, perhaps, of That Other Thing.

Chapel Assembly

Bunch of letters regarding visit of Theodore Ullmann, pianist, on March 1, 1961.

Raymond Cravens to Kelly Thompson (March 7, 1961) describes Ullmann's conduct on stage in detail. Conclusion: "The students were certainly rude to Mr. Ullmann, but I believe that the circumstances surrounding the beginning of the program precipitated in part the action on their part. Our students were indeed uncultured in their reception of Mr. Ullmann - he was certainly uncultured in the remarks that he made."

Kelly Thompson report to Grace Fund Director, Music Foundation Artists Bureau, March 8, 1961 - "All reports coming to me have been to the effect that Mr. Ullmann is truly an outstanding pianist. All reports coming to me indicate also that he does not have the slightest conception of what constitutes good manners. We deeply appreciate the cooperation of the Music Foundation Artists Bureau, but had we known that Mr. Ullmann was such an ill-mannered musician, we would have declined the opportunity." We don't want him again.

Albert Theo, Grace Fund Director to Kelly Thompson, May 31, 1961 - A "through investigation" shows that Ullman "conducted himself in a heroically exemplary fashion," and we are returning "your ill-conceived communication(?)" with its "scurrilous ---" in "a gesture of charitable forbearance."

Albert Theo to Kelly Thompson, June 9, 1961 - "Our hearts bleed in sympathy for students of Western Kentucky State College who may ask for bread but receive only stones."

Albert Theo to Kelly Thompson, June 13, 1966 - "Please be advised that no further offers will be made to any representative of Western Kentucky State College by any member of Music Foundation Artists Bureau during the term of office of the individual who is presently serving as President of Western Kentucky State College."

No communication from any administrative officer at WKU will be received unless accompanied by check for $1500 to pay for piano recital of March 1.

Clippings 1912-14

Clipping, nd, not --- - Henry Cherry is "a live wire. He is not only a successful college president, but a great booster for rural betterment." Consideration of rural farmers' Chautauquas in 4 Warren County areas. Many speeches, etc. Smallest attendance was 200; ran as high as 1,500 several times. Then, big county mass meeting. "It is a pity every Kentucky county has not such a man as he."

Henry Cherry Papers:Box 2 - Chautauqua 1912

General Correspondence, 1913

Henry Cherry to Dr. A.P. Bourland, Washington - Held Chautauqua at Mount Pleasant School House last week. "I am really astonished myself at the results achieved. It has almost changed the ideals of a community within five days." Says he conceived idea over a year ago. 1200-1500 attended. Submitted plan to Mr. John B. McFerran of Louisville who put up $1,000 & said he would provide more if it was needed. At close of 1st one, people voluntarily raised $300. Mr.

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabbe, Aug. 14, 1913

Henry Cherry to Dr. James I. Vance, Nashville, June 17, 1913 - James Vance will speak at WKU on July 20. Henry Cherry wants him to speak in the Chautauquas. "The movement is a new one, and as far as I know nothing of this nature exactly has ever been done." Expects to have a series of 4 in Warren County. Will erect large tent & start program on a Sunday. 1st day will be devoted to religious life of the community. Other topics during the week will deal with problems of rural life: education, roads, home-making, soil fertility, etc. Demonstration work will be done on the grounds. "Steropticon lectures" etc. to uplift and improve the audience. "No charge will be assessed. It is a work of love paid for by private contribution . . . It has occurred to me that you might be willing to make his extra contribution to the movement, in view of the motive, without any additional fee."

Henry Cherry to George Cherry, Medford, Ore., Jan. 20, 1914

Henry Cherry to Bailey Cherry, Route 5, Bowling Green, Oct. 6, 1913 (Bailey is brother who got married in 1912). - "The last two days of the Chautauqua crystallized into tremendous audiences, a high interest and a most aggressive and sympathetic support . . . I do not believe that I have ever witnessed a more delightful experience than I had the last evening . . . when hundreds of people came to me to express their very great appreciation for the work done, for the benefits derived, and for the good accomplished. I have never been made to feel, that a piece of work was appreciated more than the work I did at Richardsville . . . Even the boys who were indifferent in the beginning became active listeners and earnest supporters. The ideals of a community were changed and the people put to thinking."

At closing meeting they asked Henry Cherry to speak on consolidated schools. Wanted him to help them get a Farmer's Club organized for community improvement.

Henry Cherry to Dr. P.P. Claxton, Commissioner of Education, Washington, July 23, 1913 - Gushes over success of this Chautauqua. Are using a tent seating 800-1,000 people. People in Browning School community sent 12 wagons & teams over to Mt. Pleasant to pick up the equipment & move it. "I have always believed that people will do the right thing after they understand it; . . ."

"I am more convinced than ever before . . . that the people do not need money so much as they need vision, intelligent stimulation and direction."

Accounts of our Chautauqua movement have appeared in hundreds of magazines and newspapers across the country. We have formed a state organization to promote them across the state next summer & I have been made chair. It was participating in the Chautauqua. Feels that he shouldn't be out full amount, but also realizes it was no fault of yours. Will leave matter up to you & Mr. White. Would be willing to share cost. Under no condition would he accept over $12.00. Thinks the White boy should have come to see me about it.

Henry Cherry to James Vance, June 28, 1913 - Deeply appreciates his willingness to speak at the Farmers' Chautauquas on Sunday, July 13.

McFerran insisted I preside "... I never had a better time, nor have I at any time in public life felt that I accomplished more good in the same length of time."

Wrote personal letter to every property holder in the county & general literature & signs. Courier-Journal sent special reporter who stayed the entire time. "Will do 3 others, then close with a Greater Warren County Convention."

(A.P. Bourland is Executive Secretary, Conference for Education in the South.)

At closing meeting they asked Henry Cherry to speak on consolidated schools. Wanted him to help them get a Farmer's Club organized for community improvement.

Henry Cherry to Mr. Eldridge Smith, Richardsville, Oct. 16, 1913 - Apparently a practically new tire (cost $19-20) was cut by a son of Mr. White while Henry Cherry was participating in the Chautauqua. Feels that he shouldn't be out full amount, but also realizes it was no fault of yours. Will leave matter up to you & Mr. White. Would be willing to share cost. Under no condition would he accept over $12.00. Thinks the White boy should have come to see me about it.

Henry Cherry to Bud White, Greencastle, Oct. 16, 1913 - Writes to him (about same words) about the cut tire. Believes his son should come & talk to be about the matter.

She did not win, but her remarks created a furor - it "exploded a verbal bomb." She gave view of cheating, stealing, etc. that goes on on campus. Told of professors who give the same tests over many years. "To blame either students or faculty alone for such conditions is to shift too much dirt on to one side or the other. Students and professors make up this institution we call Western. Both should be aware of standards and realistic ideals.

"Professors who either are consciously closing their eyes to conditions or are gullible enough to feel that old tests with a few minor changes cannot be duplicated are excellent tools in a cheater's hands." Miss Hanson has made a valuable contribution.

1 Administration decided WKU to add 2 black cheerleaders to varsity squad. Three defeated candidates who got more votes than 2nd black are unhappy. Marcia Nevitt: "This is definitely discriminating against the white students." Squad was increased to 9 to add 1 black; then a 2nd was appointed although 3 whites had received more votes last spring. Last night Associated Student Government Congress passed resolution denouncing the increase from 6 to 10. Blacks had demanded that 2 be added. The vote was 13-7 with 7 abstaining. Called it an "arbitrary action." Blacks met last week with Dero Downing once and Charles Keown twice. Announced Friday evening that squad would be increased from 6 to 9. This would add 1 black.

8 Dissatisfied, about 250 blacks gathered in lobby of Wetherby Administration Building Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. Charles Keown spoke, said University wanted a transition period. Crowd changed "we shall overcome." Dero Downing there stood on bench and spoke. Said that cheerleaders would no longer be elected. Said increase would be to 9. Asked for 3 leaders to consult with him in his office. Steve Edwards to Dero Downing: "If looks could kill, you'd be dead right now." Another

He could not have made a great mathematician, because mathematics has to deal sometimes with finite numbers. It would have been hard for him to understand that anything must be either finite or infinite. He could never have starred as a football player, because his goals have been to make a great mathematician, not a great athlete. Mathematics has to deal extensively with the theory of limits. It may be doubted if he could ever have been brought to acknowledge that anything could have a limit. He could never have been an extravagant person, because mathematics has to deal with finite numbers. It would have been hard for him to understand that anything could have an end."

"He could never have gotten much thrill from mountain climbing, because mountains have tops, and that fact would have destroyed the significance of the challenge."

Undated, unsigned letter to Kelly Thompson - Complains about unfair low grades in organic chemistry. Says students are a select group - pre-med, pre-dental, majors, etc. Then why should grades be so much lower here than elsewhere? Points out error Dr. Ward Sumpter made but for which he made no adjustment. "Can one department be allowed to change the course of so many students' lives?"

Henry Cherry to Henry Wright (New York City), June 12, 1936 - He has 3 lots on Normal Drive, each 50 feet and 279 to 299 feet deep. Thinking of building a court there. Drive in center about 18' wide, would have 66 feet on each side. May build substantial home of each side at front, smaller ones in back "to meet the needs of the institution." Could he do a little study or sketch? (Says nothing about pay. I doubt if the possibility of a conflict of interest ever crossed Henry Cherry's mind.)

Henry Cherry's Chapel Speech. Oct. 10, 1935 - He is furious because WKU's application for a new building (Cherry Hall) hasn't been approved. All the other Kentucky schools got grants. The one that really bothers him is Morehead State University, she got $767,000 and WKU got none. "My program is to go out and set the leaves on fire in Kentucky. I am not going to stand for it. I will get me an automobile, a talking automobile, one with a loud speaker, and I'll go myself. "I know I am making a dangerous speech, but I don't care. 1 Several other colleges in Kentucky have secured Public Works Administration allocations for buildings, but WKU has not. Congressman Glover Cary & Senator Eaton [Marvel Logan] visited campus last week & pledged support to get it. Plan is to raze Potter Hall [Recitation Hall] & erect $500,000 classroom building on that site. WKU would be ready to start week Dec. 15.

1 Has artist's conception of how new classroom building will look. Captain Brinton B. Davis has drawn plans & is now working on specifications for new classroom building to be erected on site of Potter College [Recitation Hall]. Expected to be completed in 1 year. Board awarded excavation & foundation contract on Dec. 28 for $27,000. Workers are now tearing down the old building that was erected in 1889. Not fireproof, & it has become totally inadequate for needs. New one: 250' on 15th Street. Two wings to the rear. Some 60 classrooms & offices & labs & post office, bookstore, registrar's office. Grant & loan from National Progress Works Administration.

Henry Cherry Papers:74 - Cherry Hall 1936
Report to Regents, May 25, 1936
Says that Recitation Hall with wood interior, narrow stairs & halls, was a fire trap. Over 1200 students crowded into it every day. Building inspector have told us for years it was unsafe. Last spring, PWA announced policy for public buildings of 45% grant, 55% long term loan of 4%. Regents applied for loan & grant for classroom building on same site. Faculty committee (Lee Jones, chairman) studied it, planned (?) with architect Captain Brinton B. Davis.
25 Dec. 30, 1935, government announced approval. Started at once to raze & remove Recitation Hall on WPA project which didn't cost WKU except to supervise and truck it away. Salvaged much of brick, stone, lumber, etc. Bid of $27,000 accepted for excavation and construction of foundation
26 Government has agreed to grant of $252,800 & will purchase bonds for 30 years at 4%. But with consent of PWA bonds were sold to a syndicate of bonding houses.

Dero Downing Interview, March 22, 1978 - Cherry Hall - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/695
4 James Bennett: Cherry Hall was fairly new then, too, wasn't it?
Dero Downing: Classes had commenced in '37 in Cherry Hall, so it was a relatively new facility and a magnificent one. All of this part of the state of Kentucky took great pride in the beautiful classroom building, which I'm pleased to say continues to have a great deal of personality and is today one of the truly outstanding educational facilities on any campus, not only in the state of Kentucky, but just about anywhere you could find.

JB: One of my students was asking me just today - he was helping me prepare this - and he said, "I hear that there used to be a lot of departments in Cherry Hall."
And I had sort of forgoten that when I came, we had just about - except for some of the science buildings and agriculture and music and home ec - just about everything was in Cherry Hall, and that was in 1960.

DD: Yes, Cherry Hall housed most of the departments on campus. We had the - what's now the industrial education annex was the home economics building, and then we had the music building. And down on the Ogden campus we had the old Ogden Hall and Snell Hall where the department of Biology and Zoology was located there and agriculture was located there, but Chemistry and Physics, for example, were in the first level of Cherry Hall.

his most effective work there.

“...I sho' don’t apply for presidency & hasn’t applied since first elected. “I have been kept in the position as a result of the public opinion that prevails.” (?)

Salary is $4,200 with prospects of $4500 or 3,000. “The Board of Regents of this institution has given me almost unlimited latitude in the development of the school.

“I would not be interested in detail work. If I am anything, I am an executive. I like constructive work. If he had the money, he could easily build attendance to 2500 or 3,000. “The Board of Regents of this institution has given me almost unlimited latitude in the development of the school. They have aggressively backed me up at every point, thereby making school unity, loyalty and hard work easy. I have never had any difficulty in matters of discipline and in handling students and faculty as well as laymen.”

“I should say here, however, that I work with men and not at them. While my Board of Regents has trusted me, I have always made them my cabinet when I needed counsel and direction.” Salary is $4,200 with prospects of $4500 - $5000. “I would want to work out in the State as well as at the school.” Probably does his most effective work there.

(Was a chapel talk by A.L. Crabbe; picture of Henry Cherry). - Says nearly 40 years ago young Henry Cherry was supposedly dying of typhoid. Amazed by procession of visitors, he raised up & cried: “Get out of here. Every last one of you, get out and stay out! I'm not going to die, not by a long sight. Now, get out!” They did, and he recovered. Born Nov. 16, 1864, one of 9 sons, near Hall's Chapel. Hard work, "age of crude, but red-blooded virility." Henry Cherry averaged 2 months of school per year. Jan. 22, 1885 he entered Southern Normal School. Walked carrying his suitcase. Little money. Next wagon to town brought him food from home. Ran out of money, taught penmanship at Scottsville. Was very successful at it. People at Gainesville called him over, then so did other communities. Re-entered Southern Normal in September 1891. J.R. Alexander was president. He had Henry Cherry take civics. Then Alexander went to Mississippi & J.T. Williams became president. He asked Henry Cherry to become business manager as well as teach. Then Williams left & work was halted pending re-organization. Henry Cherry became president & T.C. Cherry head of Department of Instruction. They opened in September 1892 under a new charter with 28 students.

1895 - Southern Normal School was resurrected. J.R. Alexander came back to the staff. Building burned in 1899 - no insurance, nothing saved. But school opened the next day. New building ready by fall 1900. Enrollments grew. Most student either taught or invited to teach. Filled need for schools not then met by the state.

1906 - legislature provides for 2 normal schools. It is now one of best teacher-training institutions in America. "The reason therefor may be stated in one name - that of its President."

"The rising bell which awakened Kentucky from its educational apathy was rung by H.H. Cherry. Others have lent able hands in tugging at the rope, but he tolled the initial peal." He has been closely assisted with the process of legislation.

Married Miss Bessie Fayne, is "a wise and devoted husband and father." Devoted to his elderly mother & memory of his father. "He has never failed a student in a crisis." In 1905 when Bowling Green bank went broke he came to the rescue of 300 hysterical students. "This has left him with a permanent pauperism of the bank account." He is given a stewardship for which accounting must be made . . . He disburse every dollar with the keen consciousness that its mission is a holy one. Constantly he has his finger upon the pulse of the institution under his charge. Day in and day out, he is studying the field and the scope of Western Normal. All who know him intimately are familiar with that detached, far away look which sometimes creeps into his eyes. They know that then his mental vision is sweeping far distant horizons denied the common gaze. He is seeing Kentucky. He is seeing democracy - ten, twenty, a hundred years from now."

Crabbe says "rodent-minded persons" who are critical have not been able to attack Western Normal. "The record is clean. It will remain so; at least, as long as the institution is under the direction of Henry Hardin Cherry." "Being a man of spirit, he seeks to infuse that spirit into others by personal contact . . . He labors incessantly in the field, speaking, studying, counseling. Now and then, high flown critics have said of him that he is a one-speech speaker. The charge is just, but . . . [it] reaches down to the fundamentals of life." His theme, his constant text, It is "The Spirit Maketh Alive." "That text is his life."

"Back in his boyhood days, he learned to work. He has not forgotten the lesson. He knows that hard work is the route to any good. He lives the strenuous life, and he sees to it that those about him forswear lives of ease. But he inspires a sort of work which does no deaden. It is tonic in its effect. It stimulates. It is the work of the spirit."

Teachers College Heights, Oct. 1925 - Cherry, H.H. 1925 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/8431/ 8 Dr. Henry Cherry & Dr. Arndt Stickles are listed in Who's Who. President Henry Cherry is President of the Bowling Green Rotary Club.

WKU - Notecards - Cherry, Henry Hardin, 1864-1937 - 1930-1939

College Heights Herald, Nov. 1930 - Cherry, H.H. 1930 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/2280/ 2 Joe Richardson, editor of Glasgow Times, in his column of Oct. 30: "Attended the Home-Coming at Western State Teachers College, Bowling Green, on Saturday, and while there had dinner with Professor Cherry, brilliant, able head of that wonderful institution. Professor Cherry sat us down to average student dinner that sells for 19 cents to students, only. And he balanced, well-balanced, delightfully served and wholesome. And how he manages to secure such a meal at such a price is beyond us. However, Professor Cherry has succeeded in doing so many remarkable things that one need not be surprised at his accomplishments. We don't believe Bowling Green, Southern Kentucky or the Commonwealth, itself, full appreciates the wonderful work being accomplished on the 'Hill.' Eighteen hundred bright, alert youngsters constitute the big family that loves Father Cherry, and show their devotion in no uncertain measure whenever he appears in their midst. This quiet, forceful man has builded an institution with physical assets of more than $4,000,000 from appropriations of less than $1,400,000. His energy is unlimited his enthusiasm unbounded; and the 'Hill' and all it stands for is an imperishable monument to his perseverance - his faith in his task, and in the institution he has created."

J.G. Sims, secretary to Senator William E. Brook (TN) to Henry Cherry, 2/21/1931 - "Those of us who knew you back in 1906 yet retain too high a regard for you to believe Associated Press dispatches or sworn accusations of Louisville police officers."

Frank McVey Papers - Cherry, H.H. 1931
Box 38:4
Henry Cherry to Frank McVey, July 29, 1931 - Has his letter with its 5 questions; will take some time & study before he can express an opinion. "My energies have been pretty well used for the present year and I find myself a little worn from the duties and responsibilities of the year." Will have more time in fall. (Questions are not here.)

11 Captain Brinton B. Davis, Building Architect "I have said publicly on former occasions and am happy to repeat - the progress of the institution with which you are associated is, in my estimation, the reflection of the soul of a single individual . . . I believe the response the people of the State of Kentucky have accorded the plans of this College and therewith made possible the carrying out of a dream noble in its conception is due to the force and determination of a single personality."

2 Dr. Ambrose E. Surie, New York University, Professor of Education, spoke at chapel Feb. 9, 1933. Said he had "the highest appreciation" of Dr. Henry Cherry's leadership. WKU has "a plant almost unmatched by any other in the entire country." "a number of superb buildings." "Dr. Cherry has exerted a powerful influence in the development of the whole educational system and teachers' training program of the state. His name will always loom large among the true benefactors of the Commonwealth since the days of its founding."

Henry Cherry Papers: 21 - Cherry: 1934
General Correspondence 1934
Mattie McLean to A.L. Crabb, Peabody, Sept. 29, 1934 - Henry Cherry's tolerance: "... he never asks and hardly knows the politics or the religious affiliation of his faculty members." He was very effective as superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School - put new life into it, increased attendance immensely.

Mattie McLean to A.L. Crabb, Sept. 28, 1934 - (After reading his draft of Henry Cherry article). Asks him to reconsider sentence that indicates Henry Cherry has no interest in athletics. He sees an educational value in them. And also, "... games he never played." He was a great marble player & he frequently used such reference in his speeches. And he fishes.

1 Dr. Henry Cherry spoke to College High chapel on Oct. 14. Greeted with standing ovation. At end, the audience lingered to shake his hand & thank him for his visit.

A.L. Crabb, "A Prophet Among His Own People." Was in November issue of Kentucky School Journal.
19 On a Sunday summer day, nearly 80 years ago, in a remote section of Warren County, a youth was dying of typhoid. Many neighbors gathered & from time to time entered the room. This annoyed the sick lad who finally said: "Everyone of you get out. I'm not going to die. Now get out." And he lived.

Henry Cherry was born Nov. 16, 1864 as Civil War neared an end. "He wears repose gracefully, but his intimate friends have not often seen him relax." 7th of 9 sons - Cherrys - Irish, the Stahls were Dutch. Only thing he failed in was becoming governor. Home was in Half's Chapel section. Hard work, stern home discipline. Attended school +/- 2 months a year. Jan. 22, 1885, he walked to Bowling Green through 8" of snow to Bowling Green & entered Southern Normal School. Had $70.00 earned by selling axe-handle timber & potatoes. Transport was ox drawn cart. Family sent supply of food to him. He has been associated with school for 49 years - 42 as president.

20 (Full page Ivan Wilson's sketch).

21 Hair: long, straight, thick, dark. Jaw set at challenging angle. When money ran out, Henry Cherry opened penmanship school in Scottsville, then at Gainesville in Allen County. President J.R. Alexander hired Henry Cherry to teach civics and penmanship. J.R. Alexander left for Mississippi, & Henry Cherry & T.C. Cherry took over the school. Had only 28 students in Sept. 1892. Henry Cherry drove his buggy "into every hamlet in west central Kentucky . . . he gave all of his voice burned with the zeal of the crusader." Went to Louisiana & recruited students there. J.R. Alexander returned to the school.

Building burned in Nov. 1899. His 1st major crisis. Henry Cherry gathered students & faculty in front of the ruins the next morning & had a picture made. Then they marched off to rooms he had just rented and resumed classes. Henry Cherry organized stock company & had new building up within 2 months. Never had an enrollment over 500. In 1911, enrollment passed 1,000 for first time. His 2nd major crisis. In 1921, enrollment passed 2,000 for first time. His 3rd major crisis. In 1932, enrollment passed 3,000 for first time.

Henry Cherry insisted on each s
"Only an indomitable optimist can build an enduring institution. And he was building one."

1913 - Henry Cherry conceived idea of Farmers' Chautauqua. Gained national fame.

1917 - Henry Cherry became chairman of state Speaker's Committee.

When oil boom filled Bowling Green rooms, Henry Cherry came up with the idea of Cherryton. Later, the state became generous & gave money to WKU. "And then H.H. Cherry engaged in a riot of building. He is a born builder. No presentment by a great orchestra can reach his soul as can the deep diapason of dynamite preparatory to building. To him the riveter sounds the call to arms, and the puff and creak of the hoisting engine soothes his soul. The power drill sings a lullaby, and the clink of trowels is for him a love song."

Our Civic Image (1906) text. Education, the Foundation of Democracy ([imprint?]) - In it he is both vague and clear. And there is a clash between aristocracy and democracy. He would deny the aristocracy. "His eyes rest eagerly upon his fellowmen struggling toward the light, and his hand is ever ready to help. But for all that there is about the man a sort of aloofness, an insulation against certain phases of human contacts. If he sometimes thrills the galleries with a touch of showmanship, an hour later will find him in his office living the lonely life of one who dwells apart. His life is filled with such contradictions. In further instance, there are times when he tends to grow impatient almost without cause, desire or irritation breaking down understanding. Mostly, he is the patientest and justest of men. On the hand he is an ascetic, preferring solitude. Then suddenly he sounds a blast calling a multitude to his presence." Hasn't played games; "some faint, feeble gestures at fishing." But his is expert swimmer & has swum miles in the river "with an expertness rarely witnessed." He is both a doer and a dreamer. "If he engages in action of cyclonic intensity he also at times goes into states of pre-occupation greatly disconcerting except to those who know the signs. Visitors to his office in the midst of an impassioned plea for favor, orgy of criticism or paean of praise have suddenly become aware that he was there. The salutations of dear friends on the street have been ignored. When his eyes fix at a remote focus, begin to sweep far horizons, the business at (23) hand will just as well be deferred. It hasn't a chance then and there. Even his dreams are not tranquil."

Married Bessie Fayne on April 11, 1896. 3 children: Josephine, Elizabeth, Henry Hardin, Jr.

The city, "The marks of his hands are upon it, and his hopes have given it form." Says that in 5 years he will have directed a college longer than any other American. 42,000 students pass in review before him. "The footsteps of those marching thousands which he in fancy hears will echo upon the Hill as long as time lasts." He's ready to expand, to take care of the next 42,000.

College Heights Herald, June 19, 1936 - Cherry, H.H. 1936 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/3762

2 Editorial - Says that he often leaves his home at 1:00 a.m. & goes to the office to work. Goes at pace that would wreck health of men half his age. Has the ability to relax - as he recently did fishing.

Bowling Green Democrat-Messenger - Cherry, H.H. 1937

Aug. 1, 1937 (Sunday) - Reports Henry Cherry in critical condition at his home on campus. Had been confined for 3 weeks because of injuries to head and body in fall at house, but condition wasn't considered critical until Friday when cerebral meningitis (non- --- --- common in head injuries) occurred(?). He became violently ill 5:30 am Friday. (He had fallen on July 10). Nashville specialist called in Friday afternoon. (He died Sunday afternoon).

Unidentified clipping, 7/12/1937 - Says he suffered severe back injuries from fall of about 8 feet into an airshaft at his house about 2:00 A.M. Sunday morning. Said Henry Cherry was returning from his office. Found doors locked, he was attempting to enter through a window.

1 Story "Biography of Doctor Henry Hardin Cherry." (Probably done by A.L. Crabb; 1 column)

"Henry Hardin Cherry died August 1, 1937 - died after three score and twelve years packed with achievement, but too soon. So much work yet to do, so many battles to be waged. The thunder of battle never faded from his ears, and they grew tired from marching with the din. He never dropped back from the rank and file, but always ahead, searching out the land, blazing trials. [sic] And his life too often was lonely and hard, as the life of a frontiersman always must be. But he set into motion great deeds whose influence shall continue through the years, creative deeds whose end is the human brotherhood he envied."

This is Founder's Day issue: Memorial Service for Henry Cherry, Van Meter Hall, Tuesday, Nov. 16, 1937.

3-4 A.L. Crabb, "An Estimate in Strong Colors." Repeats much of his earlier article on Henry Cherry, with some added.

5 "The Hill isn't the same place without him. It will never again be the same place."

"Death has come to the President. But it has n't come to his work. He will be seen no more, but the dreams he dreamed and the work he did will reach across the pages of records for a long time to come. Death has come to the President, but 'The Hill' is vibrant with the voices which he made articulate and rich with the ideals caught from his contagion. And that is immortality."

6 Gives program. Dean Finley Grise president.

7 H.L. Donovan 1st student to enroll at WKU; president of Eastern Kentucky University. Says Henry Cherry often helped students - too often for his own financial welfare. Donovan (8) had used up his money ($156. 10) and was about to leave WKU to earn more so he could return. Received call to Henry Cherry's office. As far as he knew, Henry Cherry didn't even know he was on campus. He asked why I was leaving, talked about value of an education. "In a few minutes he opened up a vista of the future for me that I have never forgotten. He kindled in my heart an ambition which has never burned out." Then he told me if I wanted an education he would personally loan me the money. Donovan wrote home that he would stay on - and he received $100 by return mail. Says that for him & other students & alumni, "he ranks as one of the greatest Kentuckians of all time. He was a great personality engaged in a great work. The nature of the task to which he devoted his life will become increasingly important with the passing of time."

"For sheer ability to inspire youth, I have never known President Cherry's equal. For over forty years he assembled at the chapel the young people of his college and shared with them the bread of life. From the hills and lowlands of Kentucky come young men and women rich in racial heritage, but poor in culture and material things, to be awakened for the first time to the possibilities of a more abundant life by this great teacher."

. . . "Daily he lifted the skyline of our horizon, and the world became larger and larger to those who lingered in his presence. . . . He stirred our ambition: he aroused in us a passion to be somebody and to do something in the world. It is no mere accident that he located his college on a hill where there are long vistas, where there are no obstructions to the view as far as the human eye can see. This view is symbolic of the meaning of life to him. This is the meaning of the life he wanted his students to catch - the larger, more abundant life."

. . . "He was our teacher."

J.L. Harman, president of Bowling Green Business University. "The Man"

8 Says Henry Cherry was born in log cabin 9 miles from here to George Washington & Martha Frances Stahl Cherry. 7th of 9 sons.
9 Became 3 farmers, 1 minister, 2 lawyers, 1 manufacturer, 2 educators. Little money, little formal education. Has known him for 45 years. "His mental and physical energy electrified those among whom he worked. The shy, frail man became the forceful man of impelling appearance."

"At his age of twenty-eight, when I as his student knew him first, he was setting a pace that his friends thought could not long endure. At seventy-three the pace had been quickened, and ever the younger men of his organization had difficulty in matching it."

"His determination was as matchless as his energy, and he overcame most obstacles, whether he surmounted, passed through, or went around them." He passed through many hardships. Says that after 1899 fire destroyed building, J.L. Harman & Henry Cherry slept among the ruins several nights to protect what was left. One night after they had retired Henry Cherry talked about his woes, sobbed aloud, "I can't! I can't go on! The burden is too great!" But about at once he changed: "I can! I can! I did not commence in order to quit!"

"Trifles never absorbed him, and only a few of the hours of his long professional life were devoted to non-essentials. Now and then he had outbursts of simple and almost child-like humor produced by things that most men would have passed unnoticed."

". . . I am convinced that the most charming and glorifying feature of his personality was his ability to inspire."

10 J.R. Alexander, "That Other Thing" - Henry Cherry was especially attracted to Epictetus. Says College Heights is sometimes called "Cherry's Dream Come True."

". . . he marched onward and upward with a continuity of effort rare in human experience." The campus is imposing. But: "The embodied 'Spirit of the Institution' is by far the most valuable asset in our heritage from the past. To preserve and nourish this intangible guiding force in the life of the institution is a delicate and difficult responsibility."

He "prescribed no limits to his hours of work." . . . "the center of his world of light and life were College Heights." He was devoted to "That Other (11) Thing." He said: "One can not die while struggling to land a five-pound bass."

"Ring the Rising Bell in the Human Soul."

"He had high resolves, strength, persistence, conviction and courage."

"Something of his spirit must have gone into every brick and stone and sod of mortar in these buildings, as well as into every tree, shrub, and flower on the campus."

But he built few "Castles in the Air." Free from "maudlin sentimentality."

11 Arndt Stickles, "The Practical Philosopher" - Denied opportunity for formal education, he was self-educated. "Henry Hardin Cherry ever believed in the importance of the individual. . . . the goal of giving the humblest human being with an ambition and a will a chance to break his fetters." . . . 8

"He desired an education that would transform a citizen into the full realization that he himself is the unit of democracy." . . . 10

"His philosophy ever envisioned for his college scholarship, character, ethics and a will to work, a combination that should hourly be in evidence to its students. In courage, force, and rigor he was cast in an heroic mold rarely found."

"So discerning a judgment had he that he made surprisingly few mistakes. He had the prescience of seeing possible obstructions in the trail he blazed and almost invariably his ingenuity found a way to remove or circumvent them." He would "compromise anything but principle."

12 He was "modest, fair-minded, lovable human being always considerate of others until the end." Says Henry Cherry might leave the office discouraged, but he drew inspiration from the chapel exercises. "He was tolerant of almost anything that would not injure the cause of the institution he reared, nursed through tortuous and devious days, and presided over." People would confide in him when they would not in anyone else. "Those who knew him best wanted to be near him, felt a loneliness when long absent from his presence."

6 Speech of John B. Rodes at dedication of Kentucky Building. "I say he was a memorable man. He possessed talents of organization and management which would have made him successful in any field of endeavor. Such talents were utilized and exhibited in this institution, and indeed over the State in solidifying the forces of education, in giving definite form to public opinion, and finally, in bringing influence and pressure to bear on public officials in advancing his educational programs.

“The origin of normal schools and teachers colleges in this State is more largely due to him than to any other single man. He utilized these practical talents in the management of this College. He knew men and gathered about him a faculty whose confidence never failed and whom he inspired higher efforts of usefulness. Dr. Cherry was not a scholar in its strictest sense. His education was not of the University brand, nor did his subsequent active career afford the leisure always necessary for high scholastic attainments. His life led to the battlefield and not the laboratory. Surrounded by men whose M.A.'s and Ph.D.'s showed the highest attainments of scholarship, he was his trusted leader. He displayed qualities of patience, sincerity, justice. Essentially, he was an idealist. Must have vision. "Education was a personal adventure, a quest for life, more life." He wrote in 1931: "The glory of a college is not in its material possessions, is campus, its walks, its buildings, but in its ideals."

28 He helped lift thousands of young lives "above the rim. " "The heart of Dr. Cherry still rests on this Hill."

8 Arndt Stickles speech, dedication of Kentucky Building, 1939. "He frequently asserted that it was not only necessary to build on our campus for today; it was his belief that when intelligent folk two centuries from now should come this way, they, too, might declare that we in our day had builded wisely and well."

Alfred Crabb's 1942 Founders Day Speech

16 First saw Henry Cherry at commencement in Opera House about 1900. "He was thin and there were great unfilled places on his body and in his face. His hair was heavy and long, and if a jutting jaw bears witness of an indomitable spirit his was indomitable. His eyes burned with a sort of holy fire . . . I was warmed by the burning zeal of the (17) man that night. It still warms me, though they have called him dead five years."

Alfred Crabb knew him around 1922-1927 when he was at his peak. "I was permitted to know something of the dreams that burned within his mind . . . "

"unflagging vitality
"He never had any concern for the weak who would remain weak . . . To me it has always been doubtful whether Mr. Cherry ever had any sympathy for the permanently weak."

"The most beautiful physical experience of Mr. Cherry's life was to watch buildings arising to the organized glory of God and service of man . . . "

College Heights Herald, March 26, 1948 - Cherry, H.H. - [https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/4568]

1 Story on Matilda Taylor, library custodian. "I feel sorry for you students who don't have the chance to know Dr. Cherry. He was truly a fine gentleman. He always made a point (8) of complementing those of us cleaning around the campus, making us feel our work was just as important to Western as the teachers and others. I shall never forget his encouragement and how much it meant to me."

1 J. Lewie Harman entered school at Bowling Green in 1893. Henry Cherry's office was 10' x 14'. He was "a bony, cordial man." Took Harman on tour of building. When Henry Cherry took over attendance was 35.

2 He wore a bow tie. He was then 27 years old.

3 Only time Henry Cherry ever wept in Harman's presence was when his school burned. But he rebuilt without loss of patronage.

4 At different times he built 2 bungalow on the river. "There his hospitality and his pranks were as ceaseless as the flow of the river he loved."

"By documentary evidence it might be hard to prove that Dr. Cherry knew his A.B.C.'s. Records were poorly kept, often destroyed."

"Debate in youth. "When he was about thirty he told me he could not live long. A well-formed head with some classic features were poised on a frail body. His eyes were steady, hair long, teeth poor, voice strong, dress becoming. As he grew older he became stouter, won health and overcame shyness. The matchless energy of his young manhood grew, and at the age of seventy two, members of his staff were often pressed to keep up with his mental and physical strides."

5 Started professional career at a little wooden(?) school house at Gainesville in Allen Co., about 20 miles from Bowling Green. Taught a writing school. At it's close when he tried to say goodbye, he "forgot his piece, became speechless . . . ."

5 "He was two-fifths genius, three-fifths work, one hundred per cent --- honest and a thousand per cent loyal to this institution. If he was institutionally selfish, he was individually generous . . . ."

6 "restless as quicksilver and as resourceful as a general who wins a major battle with a minor army(?)" Would have done well in any field.

Prof. J.R. Alexander said: "Cherry could never have played football because the goal posts were too near each other. He would have set one pair in New York and the other in San Francisco."

"He couldn't sing a note, had trouble telling one song from another. He also couldn't do poetry, and he couldn't build with his own hands."

7 "His sense of humor was as odd as were his habits of work . . . The jokes and situations at which most people laugh, he heard and saw with vague recognition unless a fantastic or ridiculous feature appeared. Then he was convulsed with laughter."

7 "He was allergic to watches, poetry and fiction." Would ask time when he had (8) a good watch in his pocket. "If a poem contained as many as eight lines, he allowed someone else to do the drudgery of reading it, and if he ever finished reading a novel, the event was not known."

Epictetus was his favorite philosopher; Henry Cherry quoted him frequently.

"Democracy was his constant theme . . . but in dealing with matters pertaining to his college, seldom were vital questions submitted to a vote of his staff." He treated janitors with the same consideration as a dean. "He exalted all persons with whom he worked from janitors to governors, and his encouragement added tonic for any task." He complained of what his college did not have - not of what there was.

9 "His step was quick, movements forceful and purposeful. In public speaking his words were boomed as if they had been generated in a spirit world of power and thrown out by a machine in superb working condition. His speeches were of a distinct type - moving and inspirational, but rarely factual. He was masterful in reading his best and quite as masterful in reading his worst. If he stared well, he ended well, but if he started poorly his ending was disastrous."

"Shooting a small target rifle was his chief recreation when I knew him first, and swimming then and as long as he lived, was principal exercise and there were only a few better swimmers." "Audacity in the water"
10 His periods of bewilderment were rare, but when one came he was as flustered as a quail in a parlor. One came in Frankfort when he was trying to get WKU created (?) and a rival delegation showed up from Richmond with an attractive offer of physical plant. Henry Cherry to J. Lewie Harman: “By gorry! (?) He can't do that to me!” (Tell’s how Dr. J.N. McCormack got the 2 groups together, got them to support 2 schools.)

12 “His plans were audacious, but he approached them with stealth.” Senator Mills Logan would --- to get Cherry (?) Hall approved, “… said he was compelled to get Cherry’s project settled so he would have some time to give to the matters of state.”

He was not just interested in the overall building. "On the contrary, his sympathy for and interest in individual students --- as genuine when he presided over a few thousand students as when he presided over forty.” In faculty meetings when teachers wanted to send a poor student home, Henry Cherry would say: "If he is decent and doing a little better than he would at home, let's keep him."

13 "Under the pressure of institutional problems, when all of his time was needed for his solution, it was his pleasure to send for an unpromising student and through sympathy and advice fill the youngster so full of enthusiasm that new hope was his, but if the President discovered the youngster was not working or was lacking in honor, he would be sent away so full of fear that he would either work or go where he could squander time.”

"... he was a man without a pattern.” Didn't look or act like anyone else. "Though the founder is gone, you are keeping your institutional soul.”

College Heights Herald, July 13, 1956 - Cherry, H.H. - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/2919/
Bob Wallace, “Western's Three Presidents Build College Spirit.”

3 Says much of the “spirit of Western” has been developed by the presidents. Gives outline of Henry Cherry's life. He was a member of Kentucky Education Association during his entire career, was its president in 1926-27. Was a member of Board of Directors for 30 years. Says University of Kentucky bestowed LLD upon him in 1907. Says that at his wish, the Loreda Taft statue of Henry Cherry was not erected until after his death.

5 (Good article on Henry Cherry). Says that University of Kentucky gave him an honorary degree in law in 1917.

Gordon Wilson Diary, March 5, 1964 - Cherry, H.H.
WKU resulted from many influences, not just Henry Cherry, as important as his influences were. "The chief feature of our school is that it kept on trying to get to where it was going, even though it lead to zig-zag.” Interplay between zeal of Henry Cherry and Dean A.J. Kinnaman. “There was never any knee-bending by either of the two; President Cherry marveled at Dr. Kinnaman's great learning and was after visibly irritated by the dean's calm, logical approach to any school matter. "They would work out a compromise "between the fire enthusiasm of the one and the good-humored slowness of the other.” Gordon Wilson "greatly respected" both of them, although feeling that both often misunderstood him, especially the president. Often irritated by Kinnaman's "painstaking, plodding approach to problems.” Kinnaman was a fine scholar, should have stayed in classroom where he was needed. As a dean, he spent time on chores an ordinary office girl could have done. "That, I am sure, prompted President Cherry to suggest that the dean resume his teaching . . . .” Kinnaman would spend hours going over a student's irregular credits; a week later he could go over it again and arrive at a different answer.

To Henry Cherry: “It was not easy to get across an academic idea that had little immediate connection with the general policy of the school.” Gordon Wilson and Dean Finley Grise decided in 1929 to section freshmen English classes without telling Henry Cherry, to whom the idea would have been strange(?). It worked well, & when Henry Cherry learned of the individual conferences & drill with those who needed help he praised it highly.

College Heights Herald, April 28, 1965 - Cherry, H.H. - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc_ua_records/3866
4 Says Henry Cherry taught penmanship and civics at Southern Normal. On one occasion when he was giving talk at Helm Hotel Henry Cherry became so absorbed that he forgot where he had parked. Reported car stolen, but 3 days later it was found in front of Post Office where he had left it.

5 Article on him. On Dec. 20, 1918 he announced his candidacy for Democratic nominee for governor. But poor health forced him to withdraw in April. Says 4,000 paid tribute as he lay in state in Van Meter Hall. H.L. Donovan: “Plato had his teacher Socrates . . . but we of Western have our Henry Hardin Cherry - a builder of men, an architect of personality, a human engineer, an inspirer of youth. He was our teacher.”

By about 1916, student body was changing.
1 Mature, older ones who had had no chance to attend high school
2 Much younger ones who were products of the new high school system.
This 2nd group didn't feel toward Henry Cherry as the older group did. "Most of us felt rather downhearted and inadequate. But we went to chapel and heard Mr. Cherry; we did not always understand what he meant, but we went out from that hall with firm new steps.” This was type Henry Cherry knew(?). Doubts that he was even "completely at ease with the student who had had a competent income(?), a straightAlong high school career, a place already achieved socially. He was the friend of the strangely ambitious fellow from some back hollow . . . Too little has been made of the missionary spirit of Western. Think how many people whom you could name who were so devoted to this place that they were never tempted to leave it for double the salary paid here.”
"Western, largely in the form of President Cherry, came into lives that needed them and at the right time.”

"The one great tragedy in President Cherry's career, so far as some of us faithful ones could see, was that the school was outgrowing his range of thinking. He had been a pioneer, a great bringer of new things. He had kindled a fire that had lighted and warmed a whole area. From the time of the establishment of the four-year college I, personally, began to feel that the old spirit of the school, the kind that President Cherry had started and kept alive, was changing." More divisive students: different curricula; old school boarding house went; more outsiders on the faculty. "There was no sudden change; and many may not have felt it at any given time."

A.J. Kinnaman warned at faculty meeting about change that would occur because of divisive interests of students. As example of different attitude - less response from students on the campus work days that had helped with everyone(?). "The last work day, and I regret that I do not recall its exact date, was as nearly a flop as any program ever sponsored by Western . . . I felt very sorry for President Cherry, for I knew that he had not realized how the makeup of our student-body had changed."

"President Cherry was at his best when there was a contest going on. He had the soul of a soldier and enjoyed the smoke of battle. The odds against him, and they were often immense, somehow inspired him. When he was at his best, he practically(? overawed many people. He looked and acted like one of the Major Prophets. In a few of the times that I felt I was close to him, I told him how he reminded me of Emerson; that pleased him greatly." Like Emerson, he lifted up people. We soon surpassed his knowledge in our fields, "but we kept a faith in the initial uplift that he gave, after unexpectably and unplanned, to a group of mature men and women who were trying to catch up with the rest of humanity. No other ten men of my acquaintance had powers, if put together, to equal this radiance fo Mr. Cherry at his best."

This manuscript is Chapter XIX (deleted) from a book length manuscript by Professor (PE) C. W. Hackensmith of University of Kentucky. Called "Out of Time and Tine, the Evolution of Education in Kentucky," it had become too long. He sent it to Dean Tate C. Page (June 14, 1968), who sent it to Kelly Thompson (June 18, 1968).
1 Says Henry & T.C. Cherry had only 2-3 per year at local(? school until after 21. Fail, 1883, T.C. Cherry went to Glasgow Normal. Taught & attended school next 6 years. Spent 1 summer at a Business College in Delaware, (2) Ohio. Went to New Orleans to --- in 1889. Then to Nashville. Came back to Southern Normal & graduated in 1889. To Texas, then Louisiana. Became president of Acadia College, Crowley, Louisiana in Jan. 1890.
3 In 1892 Henry Cherry called him back to help with the Southern Normal which had taken over. Called it Bowling Green Business College etc. 4 "It reached back into the past for medieval fervor and it reached forward for its modern conception of human growth."
Miss Bessie Schwartz, Pennsylvania came to (6) teach in 1896, married T.C. Cherry on June 21, 1898. T.C. preferred teaching, went off to study, including Harvard in 1901. Henry Cherry's genius was in administration.
8 "One of Henry Hardin Cherry's characteristics which was to be responsible for much of his future success is apparent in his early advertising; namely, his ability to take another man's idea and expand it far beyond the conception of the one who originated it." But within a few years, other schools were copying his advertising.
10 Says that in 1890s many Bowling Green people had supercilious attitude toward the Normal students, most of whom were poor. Ogden College & Potter College tended to look down on them. Nickname was "Soups." Attitude changed gradually as the school became more important in the economic life of Bowling Green.
15 17 year old Bessie Fayne entered Southern Normal in 1895. From Crab Orchard where father was a prominent physician. Married Henry Cherry on April 3, 1896. She soon became "Director of Social Features of the Institution."
16 Students - chiefly poor. "They came to Southern Normal to get as much education as they possibly could in the short time their limited funds would keep them in school. The majority studied assiduously and prided themselves upon the amount of work they could do." Mature - In 1904 T.C. Cherry found median age in a class of over 100 to be 23.

Henry Cherry - " . . . his belief in the worth of the individual, and his faith in the potential greatness of every man and woman." Henry Cherry sold Bowling Green Business University to J.S. Dickey, J.L. Harman and W.S. Ashby for about $16.000.

Kelly Thompson did a great deal of driving for him. On one 5 day trip to high schools: "We shared the same hotel room each night; we ate our meals together; and there developed a relationship similar to a father-son relationship, as well as that of the employer and the employee. This close personal bond continued throughout the years until H.H. Cherry's death."
"He was distinguished looking, flamboyant before an audience, exceedingly communicative in his facial expressions, authoritative in his actions, and extraordinarily compassionate in his understanding of the frailties and problems of others."
Today "we would say he had charisma." Most unusual speaker. Best known ones were made at chapel. "Each semester he made the same speeches over and over again - never the same speech, but always the same points." Such as:
"Paint Your Fence Posts Red"
"Put the Apples Above the Rim"
"Don't Hesitate to Detour" ("Don't ever hesitate to detour as long as you know how to get back on the main road")

"The Mules Ate the Hay:" 2 mules tied together, 2 piles of hay. Neither could eat until they cooperated.

"That Other Thing" real spellbinder. Would reach in air & pretend to get a handful. "You can't see it. It's invisible; but it's all around you - 'it's that other thing.' It's something that will help you succeed in life; it's something that will help you face your problems.

"He believed unequivocally in loyalty." Brought A.W. Mell in "to help" so he could give financial assistance in room & board. Something of a practical joker - story of scaring secretary with facsimile of 2 mice on a piece of cheese that he put on a water fountain. His ability to inspire. Story of asking Kelly Thompson how far he could see. Main items: Integrity, loyalty, hard work

Must develop education until "we shall have rung the moral, intellectual and industrial rising bell in the life of every child in the land."

He had "a missionary zeal; and the world of education became his mission."

Saw him once towed across Barren River by his big toe. Was letting his son & some young friends have a contest. even(?) effort could produce great results. Was in swim suit at his river cottage. Went down to water, tied a twine(?) to a big tree, told his son to pull, easily but steadily. And that effort pulled him across the river.

Says that the greatest part of the legacy he left Western "is the Western Spirit - born with him, nurtured by him, and bequeathed to us."

Western Alumnus 42:3 Spring 1973 - Cherry, H.H.

Speech by Kelly Thompson at Founder's Day Luncheon, Nov. 8, 1972.

20 Henry Cherry hired him as field representative in 1929. Kelly Thompson often drove for Henry Cherry on trips. Once they did a 5 day trip to high school assemblies in Western Kentucky - shared hotel room, ate together, etc.

"He was distinguished looking, flamboyant before an audience, exceedingly communicative in his facial expressions; authoritative in his actions, and extraordinarily compassionate in his understanding of the frailties and problems of others." Today, "we would say that he had charisma." Was unusual speaker. Best known ones at chapel. "each semester he made the same speeches over and over again - never the same speech but always the same points."

"Paint Your Fence Posts Red," to protect his fenceposts, one sharpen & paints them red. Hen others begin to do the same. And progress & improvement are made.

"Put the Apples above the Rim." Father told him to do this when selling apples. Everyone should do more than was required to succeed.

"Don't Hesitate to Detour." Based on bad roads. "Don't ever hesitate to detour as long as you knew how to get back on the main road."

"The Mules Ate the Hay!" With each mule trying to eat his pile of hay at once, neither could eat. So they cooperated, eating first one and then the other pile.

"That Other Thing." "truly a spellbinder." Would reach out & pretend to grasp something, then open his hand. "You can't see it, it's invisible; but it's all around you - it's everywhere on this campus - it's that other thing." And it would help you succeed in life.

Kelly Thompson says Henry Cherry was "a sort of cross between Aesop and Elbert Hubbard."

Has story about Miss Mattie McLean getting excited when girls were going to the gym in bloomers, etc. "Miss Mattie, you don't see girls walking across the campus. You just think you see some girls walking across the campus. Those are not girls going across the campus; Bloomers. That's a cyclone going across the campus; and Miss Mattie, if you get in front of it, it will blow you away."

Deep believer in loyalty. Told Kelly Thompson one day to put out small news item that Professor A.W. Mell was going to be consultant to president that year. Mell had started Glasgow Normal School, then moved it to Bowling Green and established Southern Normal School. He was old, in financial problems & Henry Cherry this way could get Mell room and meals on campus.

22 Says he had a remarkable sense of humor. Story of how he fooled girl in office with facsimile of 2 mice on piece of cheese. Ability to inspire others. Took Kelly Thompson out on steps of Van Meter Hall and asked how far he could see. Thompson said to the horizon. Henry Cherry: "Young man, you have to be able to see beyond the horizon. You must be sure that you can see beyond it."

His formula for success had 3 main ingredients, in this order; integrity, loyalty, hard work.

Quotes his principles. He had "a missionary zeal." Saw him one Sunday afternoon being towed across Barren River by his big toe. Was showing his son & young friends how a constant, even effort will produce results. "No one who knew him could rightfully doubt his sincerity." a dynamic personality - a personality that literally destroyed opposition in his work for a better education for the community, the state and the nation.

Says the greatest part of the Cherry legacy was & is "the Western spirit." Says Henry Cherry was "The Most Unforgettable Person I Have Ever Known."

Western Alumnus 43:2, Winter 1973-74 - Cherry, H.H.

21 Walter Nalbach (Industrial Arts) "He had the ability to move mountains." Says Henry Cherry loved animals. Had a small dog that barked a great deal. "That dog frightened many coeds and staff members, and Dr. Cherry loved to imitate the dog's bark and scare people half to death." Says Henry Cherry would "tell" faculty to do things, not ask them.

Grace Overby: days when everyone attended daily chapel, smoking was prohibited on campus, no fraternities or sororities, Goal Post was the "in" place.

B6 Story by Tom Caudill on L.L. Valentine. "Western has an unusual spirit, a togetherness more than any college anywhere." So big now that some of personal contact is lost, but Valentine is still impressed by the friendliness on campus. Henry Cherry in chapel. "I can still see him clenching his fist, closing his eyes and telling us about that other thing."

7 James Potet: Well, you've seen the statue up there -(right)-well, that represents his physical appearance. He would stand generally, if you notice, I think isn't it something like this -
Carlton Jackson: Yeah, an arm hooked into a pocket. Yeah, right. Uh-huh.

JP: That was his gesture; and stern and when he tried to be humorous, he didn't know how to do it basically and when he had told something and smiled, he held his hand over his mouth and somebody said that was because he was afraid he would lose his false teeth! But that was the way of him. He seemed to become conscious, self-conscious, when ah-very pleasant but on the other hand very authoritarian.

CJ: He could be quite the disciplinarian then?

JP: He could be quite disciplinary. As for the salaries. He said that it was no one's business to know anything about salaries except his own, and he didn't want faculty members discussing their salaries and there was no professional rank. (I see). You were just an instructor.

CJ: Well, this was still true when I came. I believe, uh, ’63 was the first year Western instituted any rank.

JP: Well, I guess you're right. It has just doled out on the basis now of one or two. And Dr. Stickles and Lee Francis Jones and for some reason Dr. Bert Smith - Bert Smith - became doctor later, but for some reason they were classified as professors. And I was given my title of professor in oh, I guess, it was around about 1952. I know I had been contacted by a school that - and I had expressed a little interest in considering it, and Dr. Garrett came down to where I lived and sat on the porch and said, "Tell me about it." And I did and so the - the next morning he called me in and he said "you - a - we don't want you to go," and said that you are now a full professor.

Kelly Thompson: Yes, he was, a very strong disciplinarian; but he handled discipline through his great leadership ability. He was undoubtedly the greatest educational salesman Kentucky has ever seen. He was a dynamic person. He ran a taut ship, but he left the impression all the time that it was not a taut ship and that he was a kind man. If anyone got into difficulty, he was never vindictive. In fact, he was always for the underdog, and many students in those days would be called to his office for some type of discipline which in later years presidents wouldn't have taken the time to tend to. But he took the time, and he was famous for the fact that when he had a student in the office on a discipline problem, he spent his time sympathizing with the student for the situation he was in; and in 98 percent of the cases, when a student left the office he and Dr. Cherry were great friends and whatever penalty would have been assessed was probated.

CJ: What about his relationship with faculty members?

KT: Dr. Cherry did not graduate from high school. There's nothing unusual about that because when he was at that age I think the only two high schools in Western Kentucky were in Paducah and Owensboro. So, many leaders of that day came to the old Bowling Green Business college. His formal education was limited to his work there and - I think I've lost my train of thought. What was the question?

CJ: His relationship with the faculty . . .

KT: Oh, yes. Thank you. He had the kind of background which could have easily made him an outsider with the faculty if he hadn't had this strong personality and this great leadership ability. In all of the experiences which I have had with him, seeing other college and university presidents operate, and, as you would understand, being president myself for quite a period of time, I have associated with a large number of them, visited campuses, etc.; I have never known a president who came close to having the respect he had from the faculty.

CJ: Could you easily disagree with him?

KT: He was the type of person who wanted disagreement unless it was disagreement that affected Western's present and future. He would flare anywhere at anybody who said something that condemned this institution in any way.

CJ: Did he have a quick flash point in that respect?
KT: Yes, in that respect. But in conferences in his office with the faculty, talking about the routine problems of the institution, he not only invited but solicited differences of opinion. Occasionally a faculty member or some other individual would get too far out on a limb — not in the disagreement but in the stand that he was taking — which, in Dr. Cherry's judgment might be hurtful to that individual with his peers. He then always had the great knack of saying something facetious or funny in such a situation that would always bring us back on the track. I know one department head who would have been terribly embarrassed over a position which he took. It had to do with dancing, and he went out on a limb with a lecture on the evils of dancing; and instead of letting him just stay out there, Dr. Cherry then got into the discussion with him about what the faculty would think if the president himself applied for the position of sponsoring the dances that might be held on campus, and everybody got to laughing about it. The person who had condemned dancing in such a vigorous manner said that maybe he would apply for that job and though he would. Dr. Cherry said, "I accept your application and you have just been appointed in charge of the dance program." So, it became a rather humorous thing; and actually the department head did it and did a good job with the help of others. This was when dancing first came to campus. He had this great knack . . .

21 Kelly Thompson: No, it isn't an unfair question. In fact, I'm flattered by the question. No, I did not. I modeled my philosophy - my educational philosophy - after his, because to know the man was a continuing revelation; and of all the people I have ever known or might ever know, he was the greatest man of all. That was may appraisal of him and whether I modeled my educational philosophy consciously or unconsciously, I don't know; but I became a great subscriber quickly of his beliefs and to his ideas, and they have stayed with me all of my life. I don't know but maybe in doing this, I did try to imitate him. I've never been conscious of trying to imitate Dr. Cherry when I've been called upon to make speeches; and if such occurred, it was subconsciously.

22 Carlton Jackson: I was just wondering what kind of voice Dr. Cherry had. Deep? High-pitched? Mellow? Mellifluous?

Kelly Thompson: He had a deep, resonant voice, and he had the scale of power of inflection in which he could accent certain phrases or certain words about as well as any speaker I've ever heard.

CJ: Was he fond of twisting phrase and things of that sort?

KT: No. I wouldn't classify him as that, but he had certain fundamental messages that he conveyed over and over. Now, he would change them around, but if one would go back and study his utterances, you will find this thread of continuity in almost every speech he made. He believed in certain things, and he could make a different speech but say the same thing and make people love it, but as far as turning a phrase or that type of thing, it was very fundamental. He had a lot of personal illustrations that he used over and over which are famous to this day with the alumni of that period, such as, "that other thing," which referred to the spirit of the campus; "put your apples above the rim," which told of an experience he had at selling apples to raise money in Bowling Green; and a countless array of almost personal anecdotes - Horatio Alger appeal. They made great impressions upon everybody, especially, young people.

CJ: Was he ever seriously interested in politics?

KT: Yes. I only know about this facet from what I've read and what he told me in a discussion one day driving down the highway. You see, he announced for governor of the state. It was an actual movement on the part of a lot of devoted alumni to have him announce for governor, and he did. He had endorsements and was well on his way through the first stages of the campaign when a series of things happened that made him withdraw from the race. I would prefer not to go into it, but the opposition brought forth later by candidate from this very town made him realize that he didn't have a lot of chance. He was starting from scratch to begin with, and the fact that two people in the race were from Bowling Green brought about his decision to withdraw. That was the only political venture in his life. He told me and he told many other people - I don't mean that I had some kind of exclusive line with him, but I did accompany him on so many trips - that the only reason he was willing to leave Western to become the governor, or to take a chance on becoming governor was his thinking that this was the one opportunity where Western could take a giant step forward if you have a governor in Frankfort who would be committed to doing something about elementary and secondary and higher education, he never had any more interest in anything except leading Western.

26 Kelly Thompson: . . . Now getting back to the story I was going to tell you about the aftermath of soups. Years went by, and I'm guessing that it is now about 1933 or '34. In that era we had a fine football player from Glasgow whose name was Oliver and whose nickname was "Soup."

Carlton Jackson: Soup Oliver!

KT: Soup Oliver, and he was an outstanding halfback. Dr. Cherry was out at the football game, where the Ivan Wilson Center for Fine Arts is now located, and Soup Oliver got loose for a long run of about seventy-five yards and scored a touchdown. The student body took up a chant in which they used his nickname of Soup. I've forgotten just how the chant went, but in their cheering they were saying over and over again, "Soup! Soup! Soup! Soup! Soup!" Dr. Cherry was sitting in the very small press box which was at the top of the stadium, the present site of the colonnade, along with L.T. Smith who died recently, bless his memory, and me. I had charge of the press box. He went over, opened a little door at the end of the press box, walked down, and called us outside. He said, "I thought that was dead forever. I don't know how it's been resurrected; but I want something done immediately. We mustn't let that get started again." When we explained to him what had happened and that the students in yelling "Soup! Soup! Soup!" were not making fun of the football players but were cheering for Oliver, whose nickname was Soup, Dr. Cherry said, "If you all ever tell this on me, I'll deny that it happened;” and he turned around and walked away. But he thought that the old soup situation had been revived after all those years.

CJ: What was his favorite game - football, basketball, baseball? Which did he enjoy?

KT: His favorite game was anything at which Western won.

CJ: Oh, I see!

KT: Dr. Cherry really didn't know much about football. He didn't know much about basketball. In fact, he didn't know much about organized sports, in my judgment. But if Western won . . .

CJ: . . . then he was for it?

KT: Oh I'll tell you, nobody ever got any more pleasure from a game than he did if Western won or did well either one.

CJ: I see. Did he ever address himself to a balance between academics and athletics?

KT: Yes, he did. I can't recall the year, but I wrote a feature on this one time when I was in public relations, and it's still used sometimes. I see it occasionally in an athletic handbook's historical background of Western. At any given time, let's say about 1916, he made a speech to the faculty and student body in which he said that organized athletics had no place in this institution - that he had studied the matter very carefully - and there would be no organized athletic programs such as football, basketball, etc., on a scheduled basis - you know - competing basis. He recommended very strongly that the student body direct its recreational desires toward field trips, including trips on the river which you could take at that time because of the packets that came to Bowling Green, nature studies, hikes of various kinds; and he outlined a list of things which he thought should take the place of organized athletics, making a very strong statement that they were not compatible with academic performance. Two years later, he hired Dan McGugin, who was one of the most famous coaches of his time and he was head coach at Vanderbilt at that time, to come to Bowling Green and he came by train a couple of times a week to organize the instruction and the first athletic groups that we had including the football team. It was probably 1918 and he was interrupted by the war, but it may have been '16 or '17 when he made the statement but in a couple of years reversed himself and hired Dan McGugin to come up here and conduct practice which he did for a year or so. Actually in a way, the first coach of Western was Dan McGugin the famous coach of Vanderbilt in those days.

He got to know Henry Cherry quite well. Worked as student representative meeting trains, then bookstore. Says that Henry Cherry's manner seared some people but didn't him. It was just his way. . . . I've never seen anybody with a personality like his, dynamic personality. And he was a marvelous speaker and he could move the public and students and everybody else as readily as any man I've ever seen or got to the legislature. He'd go right up there and camp on their trails 'til he got money."
"You see, he had no degree of anything. Of course, there were no high schools hardly in that day, and he didn't have a high school diploma any more than I do, and I knew Gordon Wilson didn't have one and there were many, many others . . . ."

22 Lowell Harrison: As an undergraduate, did you have any occasion to come in contact with President Cherry? Did a student typically see much of him?

Walter Nalbach: No, no. The student could any time he wanted to, at least that was my observation. Of course, as a student I came here, of course he was president and then, too, he employed me. And then I worked for the department. We were building many things for the University and we'd design and build some of the museum cabinets in the Kentucky Building.

LH: That are still there now.

WN: Oh, yes sir. And Mr. Cherry was very much interested in the Kentucky Building. And he'd drop by the building and he'd chat with me and I got to know him a little bit better then, and learned to really appreciate him because frankly, I was afraid of him, just like most students were. I'll be just honest, here was a boy just twenty, twenty-one, something like that, you know, but I don't think anybody had any problem. I think we were afraid really to go in there unless they really had something on their mind. But my feelings and observations were that any student who wanted to could.

LH: Now you were, at that time, did you have chapel daily?

WN: Yes, we did. Uh-huh.

LH: Now did he always preside over that?

WN: Oh yes.
LH: And speak? What sort of speaker was he?

WN: Well, he was a very forceful speaker - could be enthusiastic speaker. He's a man that truly, my analysis of him, truly a leader. If I might digress from this point.

LH: Yes. Fine.

WN: . . . come back to your great people. Funny I never had a class under Dr. Cherry. I've had some experience; one when he hired me, but we'll come back to that in a moment.

LH: All right.

WN: All through my early years, you studied History, you studied great people but you never know what they actually look like and how they behave, et cetera. It's a strange thing, when I hit this campus and the first chapel I attended, there's no question that man was a great leader. It's a funny thing, I know it, I was just a kid but I recognized it. Now here's a man that I imagine could be a big executive of a big insurance company or type of industry. He had the makings of it, and that was Dr. Cherry.

LH: Well, was it primarily a matter of appearance or personality or . . . ?

WN: Personality, I imagine, and then his appearance, too - physically. He had that physical stature. And I think it's pretty well exemplified in the statue in front, every time I go by that. I see a lot of things in that statue that makes me recall the first time I ever met the man.

LH: The one here in front of Cherry Hall, is it . . .

WN: I can understand why Lorado Taft accepted that commission to sculpture him because he saw in Dr. Cherry a real piece of art and he reflected those strong lines of leadership. What one has to do is look at that statue and see a strong, forceful individual.

LH: What did you do in chapel five days a week?

WN: Well, there were times that Dr. Cherry would speak to the group.

LH: What type of speech? Inspirational?

WN: Oh, usually inspirational type. Yes, inspirational type relating to a lot of our problems in education in the state of Kentucky. Usually we'd open the morning calling upon some student to quote a passage from the Bible. He encouraged the timid soul - he could get that soul just to get up to say a few words, that's what he needed. He is a great inspirer of youth.

LH: You never knew whether he'd call on you or not?

WN: That is right. And that's not only students but faculty. Some didn't know they were gonna be on the program till maybe about ten or fifteen minutes before chapel because I know since then I've heard a lot of them have canned programs to give.

LH: Just in case?

WN: That is right. But he was a unique individual; I've never seen one like him since. He was a great man.
LH: And you never had a chance to say, "No."

WN: No. Good gracious. I walked out dumbfounded, so I started, I headed for the Industrial Arts building to see Mr. Smith. He was gone. So I went home and so the wife and the people we stayed with were sitting on the porch and saw me walking down towards the house, saw me all dejected and said, "Are you sick?" I said, "Yes, ma'am, I'm sick." They said, "What happened?" I said, "We're going back to Bowling Green." That's the way Dr. Cherry operated and since then I've learned the fact - Dr. Stickles told me, by the way - that that's they way he was employed. Didn't ask him to think about it.

LH: He just couldn't assume that anyone could possibly say no.

WN: Right. I found out later that's just the way - he made up his mind he wanted a faculty and that's it.

LH: It wasn't?

WN: Well . . .

LH: Well, Dr. Cherry must have been very persuasive.

WN: . . . no, no it was, really, because what happened, they gave us a ten percent salary suspension so this was more because we never got that ten percent so this was more.

LH: This was one of the depression measures?

Interview with George V. Page.

Says that Henry Cherry was a genius.
Brought in the best singers, speakers, in the country. “It was his idea that it would enhance the value of Western . . . add to its prestige to have people of that type.” Says that Henry Cherry was a genius. Among those who helped him a great deal: W.J. Gooch, Franklin, was Speaker of House of Representatives; Whit Potter - influential in this area; Sterrett Cuthbertson. Says that as faculty she considered Henry Cherry “one of the best friends I ever had . . .” Henry Cherry used committees some, but “he understood his committee.”

“... I think he was a man of tremendous power and ability.” Had quite a bit of contact with students despite all he had to do. Someone said of him: “H.H. Cherry looks like a king, and he acts like a king.”

“... he didn’t have time to waste. He was too busy doing something for that school.” Brought in the best singers, speakers, in the country. “It was his idea that it would enhance the value of Western . . . add to its prestige to have people of that type.”

College Heights Herald, Nov. 6, 1980 - Cherry, H.H. - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/6548/5 Interview with George V. Page. On H.H. Cherry: “He was so enthusiastic about school. His favorite expression was ‘young man come to school and get an education.’ I never come in sight of the school building, that I don’t imagine Mr. Cherry with his hands stretched out saying, ‘young man come to school and get an education.’"

WN: Oh, yes. Oh, yes. He stayed on in his department until ’57. Well, I just wouldn’t know what to say. We’ve had a fine group. Western has always been blessed with some very fine people, all the way from the president all the way down to the people on all levels.

LH: Have you ever speculated on why that’s been true? Because certainly for a long period of time, Western wasn’t in a position to compete with money for attracting some very able people, but I would agree with you, I think it has done so. What brought people here and what held them here?

WN: Well, I often wondered myself because when I came here, I didn’t expect to stay here two or three years, see. And something about Western is just when you get hooked, you’re hooked. And that’s what happened to me.

LH: And Dr. Cherry hooked you.

WN: Yeah, somebody did. I didn’t know whether he - well, it’s more than that, too, but I think it all evolves from your leadership, I think. Dr. Cherry was an inspirer, yet in a way he was a very common man in one sense of the word. He came up the hard way. And he always was out for the young boy and girl to get an education because it was something he failed to get - I mean, formal education - and I think his zeal for that - to do this - that he’s gonna have to resort to something other than money to do what you have and do the best job you can with that; and work on the hill [blank] and I think that’s what he did. Because my association with a lot of faculty - like you and others - we felt the same way - that there’s something about Dr. Cherry that would instill in a person that you are willing to sacrifice because you have something else to sell much more valuable than the dollar, so to speak. And I think this was the secret. And I think that was the secret behind “The Spirit Makes the Master.” I think this is that driving force. And that’s the way it turned out. As I can recall, boys and girls, particularly students who look, not hardly though without much background education, finally emerged and they’re great leaders today - very successful and Dr. Cherry’s the one that sparked it and I think this is probably the answer. And now I can appreciate what you’ve said, I could have g

LH: Well, I was sure of that.

WN: But there are other values that I think a man or a woman who has something of love for people will inspire so that he can or she can contribute to society or mankind. I think this is it.

Marie Adams Interview, December 14, 1976 - Cherry, H.H. - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/684

24 Evadine Parker: Well, Miss Adams, we have mentioned several of our students. Let’s think campus-wide a little bit. You mentioned 1930 coming as a faculty person. That was during Dr. Cherry’s administration, right?

Marie Adams: Yes, it was and that was quite an experience to be interviewed by Dr. Cherry, which I enjoyed. And I always liked the - of course Dr. Cherry was a great one for you going to chapel and I liked to - I enjoyed chapel. Many of them that - the thing that sometimes you'd get a little amused when you'd go in and hadn't been playing very well and you always had quotations from the Bible and sometimes they might be from Shakespeare and sometimes the Bible. But, anyway, they got up and gave the quotations and I - we were laughing the other day, several of us about the salaries when we started teaching, and another thing I think so many of the girls don’t want to go to small towns. Well, I thoroughly enjoyed the small towns that I taught in 'cause you knew the people and I guess it wasn't much to do by today's standards, but I had a good time. And I know I started out in Virginia at $100 a month and it’s the only time I ever saved three-hundred out of that, so I really felt like I’d accomplished something. And I don't remember what my salary was at Wingo, but it was a little bit more when I came to Western. I think I got eighteen-hundred for nine months.

“... I think he was a man of tremendous power and ability.” Had quite a bit of contact with students despite all he had to do. Someone said of him: “H.H. Cherry looks like a king, and he acts like a king.”

“... he didn’t have time to waste. He was too busy doing something for that school.” Brought in the best singers, speakers, in the country. “It was his idea that it would enhance the value of Western . . . add to its prestige to have people of that type.” Says that Henry Cherry was a genius. Among those who helped him a great deal: W.J. Gooch, Franklin, was Speaker of House of Representatives; Whit Potter - influential in this area; Sterrett Cuthbertson. Says that as faculty she considered Henry Cherry “one of the best friends I ever had . . .” Henry Cherry used committees some, but “he understood his committee.”

College Heights Herald, Nov. 6, 1980 - Cherry, H.H. - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/6548/5 Interview with George V. Page. On H.H. Cherry: “He was so enthusiastic about school. His favorite expression was ‘young man come to school and get an education.’ I never come in sight of the school building, that I don’t imagine Mr. Cherry with his hands stretched out saying, ‘young man come to school and get an education.’"
Canon was toastmaster. 7 brief talks, each based on one of Henry Cherry's favorite sayings.
1. W.J. Craig, "My first Barlow Knife"
3. Ella Jeffries "What's Above the Rim Counts"
4. J.H. Claggert, "Paint the Tops of Your Fenceposts Red"
5. Arndt Stickles, "If Mr. W. Waits for Mr. B."
6. Gabie Robertson, "You Win the Game Before It's Played"
7. W.L. Matthews, "That Other Thing"

Large box of gifts. He was "visibly affected" by the program. "You bring these words to me in appreciation, then let me bring words back to you in an expression of a sincere gratitude for your loyalty and your help in striving to build of this school a better institution and striving to build a great educational program for a greater commonwealth."

Parents - "good old-fashioned puritanic pair"
Father is said to have called boys at 3 a.m. so they could be infield 3 miles away at sunrise. Boys knew they had to walk.
Cut ax handle timber, sold it in Bowling Green for $72.
Tells of the 28 students enrolled at Southern Normal. Moving them from room to room to take photos for advertising. After he bought the school, Henry Cherry lived in a room there to reduce expenses. One night a black burglar tried to break in. Henry Cherry fired an old pistol, but missed, chased the man. Henry Cherry had on night gown. Henry Cherry kept firing the pistol and yelling "Police! Police!" Henry Cherry finally cornered him in a deserted cabin, stayed there until the police caught up & made the arrest.

(14 years ago +/- 1913?) - Elegant(?) apartment for the Cherrys in the college building. Wife & child were away. He had a faculty meeting until 11:00. A couple of hours later the building burned. Henry Cherry climbed ladder to his office, threw out records, typewriters until he got out just before the roof fell in. One of the teachers invited him to his room. "I must be up early in the morning, and make arrangements for the school." By nine o'clock, all arrangements had been made. No student left, no class was missed.

Henry Cherry to Depot Master, L&N, Nashville, Jan. 24, 1920 - Left Louisville last Thursday on No. 7. Hand an architect's drawing of proposed Girls' Boarding house, which he left on train. Contacted General Agent but has heard nothing. Needs it badly. Can you help?

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 5 - Cherry: Absent Minded 1922
General Correspondence 1922
Henry Cherry often leaves items on trains, in hotels, etc. Fairly typical (after Kentucky Education Association).

Henry Cherry to Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, Nov. 22, 1922 - "I beg your pardon. I telephoned you the other day from the depot that I left my overcoat in room 939 when I stayed there. I discovered that I checked my coat. I am sending this to you by Special Delivery. I need the coat immediately. Please express it or send by parcel post. I shall leave for Western Kentucky next Tuesday and will want my overcoat before that time. Please rush this to me. I will not do this again, especially in view of the fact that this is the second time in the last few weeks."

"Doctor, this is just a little reminder that on the evening when my car was taken by mistake I used Long Distance telephone to the amount of $2.20 and rented a car making an effort to locate my car which cost me $4.95. I had thirteen gallons of gas in my car when taken and only three gallons when received. I also had to have it washed and greased as it must have been left out in the rain. The total amount of these little expenses incurred, to say nothing of being out of my car three or four days, amounts to $12.85." Will appreciate his check for that amount. At recent meeting of joint boards of the 2 Normals I (Henry Cherry) said: "I favor making the Western Normal a Teachers' College. I am committed to this policy. I have gone too far to retreat. I shall fight for this to the end." Says he favors gradually eliminating "work at the bottom and extending it at the top . . . " Should depend upon educational needs of the state. Does not intend at once to require high school graduation for admission. Wants faculty to decide what should be added at top & eliminated at bottom. He is opposed to actual cost analysis of cost in each department & the need in the state. Ex: we are often attacked for offering Latin.

Henry Cherry to Ladies & Gentlemen of the Faculty, Dec. 6, 1921 - Asks Dean A.J. Kinnaman to read it. Raises some of questions that must be answered in move to have a teachers college. The economic cost? What students are doing? How long are they attending? We need "to get down to a survey and interpretation of our own work . . . "

"We will not have time to interpret or organize after the battle comes."

1 At opening session in 1916 (after songs, Scripture reading, prayer) Henry Cherry spoke on "The Value of the Positive Attitude." He said: "There who enter school in a negative state of mind, must change their attitudes or fail. Those students who do not enter into the life and spirit of the institution; those students who do not arrange immediately for their proper classification; those student who do not enter promptly and earnestly upon their work, are the ones who contribute to the school's failures."

A.C. Burton, Superintendent of Mayfield Public Schools, June 15, 1909 to Henry Cherry - He had attended Convocation of Superintendents at WKU - car fare was $11.90.

"Allow me to say that I was much more than surprised at the great strides you are making with the Western State Normal. I feel sure that some of the departments are now five years further along in their department than conservative men had a right to expect. I found a remarkable spirit for scholarship and investigation among a number of the students. I am sure that we are to have a great school in the Western Normal School. Three of my teachers are there, I p--- and other will come. You may count on me for anything that I may be able to do in the interest of the cause." (A.C. Burton joined WKU's faculty in 1912).

Henry Cherry to Mr. Sherman Goodpastor, State Inspector, Frankfort, July 18, 1912 - 1st Assistant Inspector spent several weeks here last September & made a detailed check. Would like you to make such a check of our books & our work at end of each year. Would like your suggestions for a better system. "If any wrongs exist, we will correct them; if there are any weak points that could be improved, we will improve them."

"Earnest and patriotic assistance will be giving . . . in making the examination."

Henry Cherry to E. Davenport, Woodland, Michigan, March 2, 1931 - In answer to a questionnaire, Henry Cherry has not felt restricted. Purchasing Agent has worked closely with Henry Cherry & Regents. "I have, as President of the institution, had all the latitude that a President could desire; . . ." Regents have held line in all his desires. "Confidentially, this may not continue," but it is there now. Governors have not interfered.

Includes cards Cherry: Arrested

Louisville Times, Thursday, Feb. 19, 1931 - Cherry: Arrest 1931
1 Judge [John] Stark in effect ruled that Henry Cherry and W.M. Pearce can appear whenever they want to for trial. Henry Cherry - operating a motor vehicle while drunk. W.M. Pearce - drunkenness in public place.

Slight auto accident at Fourth & Walnut Wednesday afternoon. Henry Cherry's car bumped another car. Officers said that they found an unopened pint of prescription whiskey in rear seat. They were paroled(?) by Mayor [William] Harrison and taken to Kentucky Hotel in his official car. Judge said that he required defendants to appear in person, but they could do so whenever they were in Louisville.

Henry Cherry statement: "I was not intoxicated and did not have a bottle of whiskey in my pocket."

"A car in front of mine at Fourth and Walnut Streets, waiting for a red signal light to change, backed into my car while standing still, and caused slight damage to the car in front. A dispute arose as to the blame for the damage, and while engaged in this controversy, the policemen appeared and arrested me for violating a traffic ordinance."

Louisville Times, Friday, Feb. 20, 1931
1 Henry Cherry appeared before Judge Stark at 10:10 Friday morning. Had waited outside until told he must appear personally. Bonded for $100 to appear Feb. 28. Reported noticed that Henry Cherry leaned on Judge's desk - something he doesn't usually permit.

Louisville Times, Feb. 26, 1931
2 Henry Cherry was found guilty on amended motion of a city ordinance & fined $3.00 in Police Court by Judge John Stark. Allowed Doolan to enter it at special session Tuesday. Motions also made for W.M. Pearce. Arrested to break of peace & also fined $3.00. The 2 officers were getting witnesses to testify in the trial. They did not know the case was being disposed of early.

Louisville Herald-Post, Friday, Feb. 19, 1931 [1931?] - Cherry: Arrested 1931
1 Story is much same as others. Judge says the men must appear personally. Says Henry Cherry is in hotel on verge of a nervous breakdown. Patrolman Graves says Henry Cherry's car passed a red light at Fourth & Walnut, then sideswiped car of Paul E. Miller. He called Patrolman McDonald, & they arrested the two educators. Officers said a pint of prescription whiskey issued to W.M. Pearce was found in Henry Cherry's pocket. At Central Station Henry Cherry gave his occupation as a clerk, but he was recognized by Director of Safety. W.M. Pearce said he was a teacher. Director warned Henry Cherry not to drive until he had rested.

Herald-Post, Feb. 20, 1931
1 Henry Cherry appeared in Police Court Friday. Released under bond of $100 for trial on Feb. 28. Warrants have been made out but not yet served. Says Henry Cherry was "trembling visibly" when he appeared.

Herald-Post, Feb. 26, 1931
1 Tells of the special session, the amended charges, the $3 fines. Docket book doesn't show that they appeared personally on Tuesday when cases were settled.

Robert Allen Burton, President Cox College, Ga., to Henry Cherry, Feb. 20, 1931 - "Be brave and fearless, and throw your shining love against the tr--- of your character."

Elizabethtown News (clipping, nd) - Glad that case has been disposed of. "A great life for the welfare of the State should not be broken down by a single action of indiscretion . . . it should be forgotten by the people of the State . . . In this one case the public is inclined to be generous and tolerant but a repetition oof the offense would find the public in a very different attitude toward the distinguished educator."

Mary Geogheyun, Bardstown to Henry Cherry, Feb. 24, 1931 - "We sincerely regret the effort to humiliate and worry you."

S.D. Sample, Edna, Texas, to Henry Cherry, Feb. 26, 1931 - ". . . I know that the charges upon which you were arrested were absolutely unfounded. "The charges are so ridiculous as to be humorous were it not for the fact many(?) of one's personal or political enemies or enemies of the Christian plan upon which you always lived are ready and eager to capitalize upon a situation like this."

Dr. H.E. Sanders, Louisville, to Henry Cherry, Feb. 19, 1931 - ". . . I think it is a damned outrage that they will print a thing like this about a man like you." "these yellow y---" "unwarranted publicity" "a prominent man"

H.L. Donovan, President, Eastern Kentucky University to Henry Cherry, Feb. 26, 1931 - "I feel that the press has been manifestly unfair to you. There was no need of their giving you this unfair and unjust publicity. I hope that you will have the courage to ignore it and not let it affect you in any manner whatsoever. "I want to tell you that your many friends here and throughout the state - and for that matter, throughout the entire country - believe in you. I did not hear a single individual express the slightest doubt regarding you and your integrity. Even though you have been maligned, people knew you well enough to bestow upon you their confidence. What the newspapers have done on this occasion is absolutely inexcusable."

Lebanon (Ky.) Falcon, Feb. 25, 1931

Editorial: "If not guilty, Dr. Cherry and his cohort should leave nothing undone to prove conclusively their innocence and to have prosecuted those who have brought these charges against them. This paper hopes they may be able to prove the accusations were not founded upon fact. "If guilty, Dr. Cherry should at once tender his resignation as president of the Bowling Green College; if it is not forthcoming, the resignation should be demanded."

Louisville Times, Feb. 24, 1931

Editorial: Points out that whatever happens to a prominent individual is more newsworthy than if it happened to an obscure person. "Suppression of news is hardly honest."

Glasgow News, Feb. 20, 1931

"It is hard for anyone who knows Dr. Cherry to believe that he went to Louisville and got on a spree and it will take more than the word of one or two policemen to off-set the denial of Dr. Cherry. If a moral, upright and worthwhile life of more than fifty years is not to be considered in behalf of an accused there is little virtue in living such a life. Not until after Dr. Cherry has been convicted in an unbiased court of competent jurisdiction will this newspaper believe that Dr. Cherry was drunk in Louisville."

Lima (Ohio) News, Feb. 19, 1931

Quotes Henry Cherry as saying that after a car backed into his and slightly damaged itself, "a dispute arose as to the blame for the damage. While engaged in this controversy, two policemen appeared and arrest me." Says that arrest came after Henry Cherry settled with other drive and started to drive away. "(If Henry Cherry was not at fault, why did he "settle" with the other driver?)"

Congress Debating Club, Minutes, Feb. 20, 1931 - Cherry: Arrest 1931

111 Congress Debating Club - d--- their appreciation (112) of and support for "Dr. Cherry in his difficulty." Committee appointed to write him to that effect.

Henry Cherry Papers: 17 - Cherry: Arrested 1931
General Correspondence 1931

James T. Basham (attorney) Leitchfield to Henry Cherry, Feb. 21, 1931 - Takes liberty to make suggestion. Many people violate Louisville traffic laws because they aren't familiar with them. This isn't a "criminal act," & citizens will continue to be arrested for violations. Suggests you enter "guilty" plea to an amended charge of violating traffic laws. Fine will be about $10 and "that will end the matter, and will save you the embarrassment of a public trial. It is only recently that a well known Minister did this very thing." Hearing on present charge is only an examining trial; if enough evidence, you will be held to grand jury. See your attorney. Will be glad to help in any way he can.

E.B. Bassett Hopkinsville to Judge Max B. Harlin (Bowling Green), March 17, 1931 - Is "much incensed at the outrageous [treatment?] of Dr. Cherry by the Louisville police, it was an outrage beyond measure and an insult to all of Kentucky, no corner of which but has felt Dr. Cherry's uplifting influence and brilliant achievement. "I am much pleased at the action of the student body in their unquestioning faith in Dr. Cherry . . . " Nothing can alter my trust & confidence in him.

Courier-Journal, Thursday, Feb. 26, 1931 - Cherry; Arrested 1931

1 President Henry Cherry of WSTC was arrested last Wednesday after minor accident at Walnut & 4th Streets. Was last Wednesday (25 or 18?). Neither street is a boulevard. Was accompanied by W.M. Pearce, head of the extension department. Charge filed was operating a motor vehicle while drunk. After regular session of Police Court ended about 11:30 Tuesday morning, W.L. Doolan, Sr.; attorney for the educators, appeared before Judge Frank Starck, who imposed $3 fine for violation of city ordinance requiring a stop at boulevards. Judge Stark became angry Wednesday afternoon when asked to explain the special session and how the case was settled. Judge entered the case in his own hand on books. At 1st hearing last Thursday Judge Stark ruled the defendants would have to appear personally. Dr. Cherry appeared Friday and case was then continued to Saturday Feb. 28. Mr. Doolan's 1st motion ad--- it on the docket. Neither patrolman who made arrest (Joseph Graves and Willis MacDonald) was present when Judge made decision. Stanley Brill, Police Court Prosecutor, said the procedure was "entirely regular." He was in court & did not object to either of Doolan's motions. Stanley Brill says he thinks the liquor held as evidence belongs to W.M. Pearce & he can pick it up. After arrest, they were paroled by Mayor William B. Harrison & taken in his official car to the Kentucky Hotel.

J.D. Falls, nephew by marriage (Superintendent Ashland [schools]) to Henry Cherry, March 2, 1931 - Has meant to write for 2 weeks but delayed by a meeting in Detroit. " . . . I do not believe the reports published in the papers concerning the incident at Louisville. Neither do I believe that other school men are taking this seriously. I talked to several men while in Detroit some of them resented it very highly."
experience has created a loyalty that we have not had for many years."

Henry Cherry to Louisville Mayor Wm. E. Harrison, Feb. 28, 1931 - "It is impossible for me to find words to express to you the depth of my gratitude for your interest in my recent unpleasant experiences. I hope I may be worthy of this interest and vindicate the same by deed and conduct."

Henry Cherry to W.G. Hoagland, Bowling Green, March 9, 1931 - Thanks him for the work you did in my behalf in Louisville; I have been told of it.

Henry Cherry to H.L. Donovan, Eastern Kentucky University, March 11, 1931 - "My heart is warm with the deepest gratitude for your expressions of confidence in me and for your appreciation of the work I have done." Will try to "vindicate and justify indeed and conduct your confidence . . . "

(H.L. Donavan's letter is not here.)

Henry Cherry Papers: 18 - Cherry: Arrest 1931
General Correspondence 1931
Henry Cherry to Mrs. Shepherd Lowman (daughter Josephine), Tulsa, March 9, 1931 - "I shall not write you concerning my recent experience. Mama tells me she is doing this. Everything is moving along splendidly. While I have been terribly embarrassed and have suffered terrifically, I believe at this time that everything will work out all right. Possibly I can get some satisfaction out of the experience by being more effective and splendid in the future than I have ever been in the past. Do not worry yourself about the matter. I judge Mama has told you that the charge was amended to simply a violation of the traffic law for which I paid a $3 fine."

"I shall make the supreme effort of my life to be the best President Western has ever had and I am saying this realizing that any human being has had an experience similar to mine has been more loyally supported by the general public than I have been." In that respect, it has been "a wonderful experience."

Henry Cherry Papers: 76 - Cherry: Arrest 1931
Personal Correspondence 1931-33
Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Enterprise, Oregon, May 25, 1931. (calls it the "incident") - "The incident really awakened my friends and made them militant . . . Not one but thousands of friends in every section of the state went to the battle line to make my fight. The big metropolis paper in Louisville that gave it so much publicity experienced a terrific knock-back. The reaction was universal. I think I can safely say I have never been in a stronger position than I am today."

Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, March 9, 1931 - Writing about the auto accident & charge that the Associated Press gave national publicity. "I was arrested for operating an automobile while intoxicated. This happened following an automobile collision which occurred at the most congested corner in Louisville. Mayor Harrison paroled me immediately upon arrival at the City court. The charges were afterwards amended to a violation of the traffic law for which I was fined $3.00. Of course, I was not intoxicated. If I had been, the publicity it was given would not have been justified in view of my long career and service. The Board is rallying by me to the man." Has shown him the value of friendship.

"Of course the experience will serve a hardship on me but I propose to make the supreme effort of my life and I believe I shall be able to hold things together in a splendid way and go forward without any great injury to myself or [of] the institution."

Henry Cherry Papers: 18 - Cherry: Arrested 1931
General Correspondence 1931
Kelly Thompson, Princeton to Henry Cherry, July 13, 1931 - "Since the last time that I talked to you, I have not heard a single reference to that Louisville charge, and the whole thing is faded away and forgotten, that is with the exception of one person." Wife of president of Campbellsville College mentions it in connection with field work for that college, "but it has only helped us and hurt her."

Henry Cherry Papers: 19 - Cherry: Arrested 1931
General Correspondence 1932
J.M. Guilliams, Berea to Henry Cherry, Jan. 28, 1932 - "Quite a number of men and women connected with Berea Col. Have come to me within the last year and said, 'Will Cherry not have to give up the presidency of 'Western.' My invariable reply has been: Cherry drunk six days a week and sober one day a week will give Western more true inspiration and determination to do more and more for childhood in Kentucky than all the other college presidents of the state can accomplish --- seven days a week.' My reply has seemed to settle the discussion in every instance."

Henry Cherry to Mrs. J.W. Cherry, Atlanta, Aug. 3, 1910 - Says he has built "a little home" on river bank. "It is idea, it is restful, it is the best nerve tonic that I have ever had." Is 3 miles out of Bowling Green on pike leading to the old home place. Is sleeping on screened porch & enjoying it greatly.

Henry Cherry to Ford Auto Exchange(?), Louisville, Nov. 8, 1923 - They are to let Professor M.C. Ford have Henry Cherry's Ford coupe that he left there a week ago.

Henry Cherry to Rainey T. Wells, Omaha, Neb., Feb. 4, 1933 - Henry Cherry favors a State Board of Education but will oppose any effort to place the state teachers colleges under control of it or any other central board. Teachers colleges are under severe attack all over the country - much of this is the result of their work attitude in the past. I call to mind that I could get no support in Kentucky from the normal schools when I inaugurated the program to make them teachers colleges."

"A college is like an individual. It is a vision, an ideal, a spiritual thing. People will respect a strong personality and they will have but little respect for a weak personality."

"I have not been very diligent about knowing credits and professional techniques, but I have been an earnest student in matters of educational policies and I am inclined to believe that much of the trouble the teachers colleges are experiencing now comes from their failure to exert their rights, to indicate a territory in which they should work and a failure to keep their individuality and yield their responsibilities to no one."

General Correspondence 1923-1934

E.W. Barnes, Lyons to Henry Cherry June 9, 1924 - E.W. Barnes is a traveling Baptist minister. Says Henry Cherry had promised to have his daughter met at train but didn't. Objects that $5 reservation fee was not the down payment on room, etc. "Do not ask me to solicit for you [sic] school unless you are going to do what you say. I can not understand why you treat people as you have me."

Henry Cherry to E.W. Barnes, June 10, 1924 - Henry Cherry is really fired up. Says every train has been met for past week. Student may not get in touch with the school representative. "I have personally worn myself out in giving attention to little details." Of over 2,000 students, no one else misunderstood about the $5. "I shall be forced to be very frank with you. Your letter is not becoming a minister. It is --- from every standpoint." Henry Cherry has talked with your daughter, who attaches no blame to the institution. "Your charges are false from beginning to end . . . all you say is absolutely untrue."

E.W. Barnes to Henry Cherry, June 11, 1924 - A much more moderate letter. Sorry that he wrote "in the passion of the moment." Hopes there will be no more misunderstandings & we can be friends.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 7 - Cherry: Criticism 1924

General Correspondence 1923-1924

On bottom of a form letter from Henry Cherry urging students to return to school N.D. Bryant, Scottsville (n.d.) wrote: "Dear Mr. Cherry: When you were anxious to get help in making the Normal a college, you promised me on more than one occasion, that those who had sufficient credits and had spent their required time in residence, would be granted a degree. When the job was put over, and you no longer needed our services, you forgot your promises, and pay [sic] no attention to our appeals. I would not mind spending one summer in the school but I cannot comply with the requirement of eighteen weeks. Again, if you would forget one promise you might forget another, and some other requirement be raised before the eighteen weeks expired. Under the circumstances I am forced to go to another school."

Henry Cherry to N.D. Bryant, Scottsville, Jan. 15, 1924 - "Your esteemed favor is received. It seems that all the sins of this life are in me and that you are perfect. There is not a man in Kentucky in whom I have taken more interest than yourself. I have not received many letters from you that did not have some kind of --- or personal grievance in them! You made charges concerning the enrollment of high school students and other similar statements in the past which afterwards proved to be without merit. I am not mad. I have no personal feeling in my heart but your insulting letter is entitled to a reply. I have never made a statement to you that I did not comply with, your statements to the contrary. I never said in the past anything other than I would go with you to the limit in the work of establishing the Teachers College, and would do everything within my power for you, of course, keeping in mind those regulations that are forced upon us in order to get the Teachers College recognized. All of this I have done in your case. In fact, I have embarrassed myself on several occasions in silently trying to help you in this matter. You are one man in Kentucky in whom I have always been interested and who seems to be without appreciation and one who apparently makes everything personal. I have had your letter filed that you might read yourself in the future, if you want to, in order that you may know exactly what you said. There is not a thing personal in these statements. I have done everything I could for you. I shall be interested in you in the future and if anything should come my way that would enable me to help you, I will do so gladly and enthusiastically, notwithstanding your ugly, contemptible letter." (In future years, there are frequent letters. N.D. Bryant was superintendent.)
Henry Cherry Papers: 15 - Cherry: Criticism of 1930
General Correspondence 1930

W.T. Black, Principal De Rohen(?) High School, Sept. 8, 1929 - After professing love for WKU (graduated 1928) he wants to call attention to some weaknesses. In last few years, WKU has "gone beyond all ethical bounds" in trying to serve students. "In that respect you have but one god before you, and that is the god of numbers; it does not seem to matter how you get them, just so they come in ever increasing numbers . . . The result is the Kentucky profession over crowded and full of young people who would be better off in some other line of work." "Inexcusable" and "unethical" that in a nearby high school you persuaded 3 seniors to come to WKU their last semester so they could get teaching certificate for next fall. Result was that they didn't graduate and missed all that. " . . . that policy has created much ill feeling in this part of the state and is fast loosing [sic] you many friends." At Henderson conference of education leaders on Aug. 27 it was discussed while Prof. W.J. Craig was out of the room. He was "forced to admit that the charges were true" when he returned. Representatives of WKU will find doors of this school closed to them. "Suspects that you "send your most eloquent speakers and most influential men to the school with the strongest pull." (For commencement speakers). You've made WKU "a land mark of real beauty" by "unceasing effort." But doubts that another school has as weak a faculty. "You have men on the faculty that I would not employ for my high school . . . men who teach there for a very meager salary because they would have difficulty finding work elsewhere. Time is wasted taking classes with them. You don't pay enough to get competent teachers, & you have several "hanger-ons" who have been there many(?) years. "Frankly, Sir, it is being whispered that you are more interested in building a monument for yourself than in making a real college. I hope you will pardon my saying that, --- it is true, and you should know it before it is too late. Let me urge you, Doctor, to get rid of some of that dead timber on your faculty and put a little of the money now going into buildings into the pay check of your over-worked teachers." No reply here from Henry Cherry.

Henry Cherry Papers: 15 - Cherry: Criticism of 1930
General Correspondence 1930

Mrs. Joseph E. Davidson, Norwood Station, Pa., Sept. 9, 1930 - She is ex-student. In spring of 1928 she visited WKU. Had worked in office as student 20 years before. Said Henry Cherry was "too busy" to see her. Wants her named removed from mailing list. "I am no longer interested in the work you are doing, and, while I am now in a position to grant your various requests for money for the Kentucky Building. I am 'TOO BUSY' to accede to them."

Henry Cherry to Mrs. Davidson, Sept. 11, 1930 - In his 38 years as president, "I have never intentionally or knowingly done the thing you mention in your letter." Has no knowledge of the incident & can't account for it. "I have never yet been to busy to see a former student." Worst that could happen would be a delay if tied up. "I am not saying that what you say did not happen, but if it did it was a misunderstanding or an oversight that I cannot explain." " . . . I do not want your money, in view of the way you feel." But the Kentucky Building "is a patriotic proposition. Those who have given to it do not give to me, but they are giving to a program intended to be an asset to the future citizenship."

Henry Cherry Papers: 88 - Cherry: Criticized 1937
Courier-Journal, Sept. 5, 1937 - Letter to "Point of View" from "from the Sidelines" Russellville - Endorses selection Paul Garrett. Says new blood is badly needed at WKU. "In the latter years of Dr. Cherry's administration and criticism stand out and that was to the effect that Dr. Cherry insisted on keeping on the staff at Western a number of individuals who were in one way or another detrimental to the welfare of the institution. Some [were] said to be incompetent, others too much mixed up with politics and political campaigns. Possibly because of personal friendships or due to the fact that as age advances we become more or less averse to change, Dr. Cherry permitted these individuals to remain in various positions year after year when Western's best interest would have been served had they been replaced by others." . . . "We believe it would have been a great mistake to select as president anyone who has been born, bred and raised in the system operative at Western for so many years."

J.T. Cotton Noe - Cherry, Henry: Criticism
Beverly Hills, Calif., to J.Lewie Harman, Jan. 11, 1938 - (in Harman Correspondence, Bowling Green Business University Box 1) - Liked his speech at Henry Cherry Memorial Services; it is least one to be put in the anthology. "I confess I never had an enthusiasm for Cherry, but I believe it was because I did not know him as you and thousands of others knew him. He never seemed easy with me, and I never got close to him. I don't believe he liked me, probably for the same reason I did not care for him, namely we did not know each other, never got acquainted . . . I knew he had tremendous ability of a kind that I did not possess or wished to possess, and I admired him in the etymological meaning of the word. But I can well believe that if I had known him I should have loved him. I once told [Arndt] Stickles that I would not agree with him on the divinity of Cherry, for his worship of him indicated that he considered him divine."
Henry Cherry to Mrs. Henry Cherry, [Bess (Fayne) Cherry] St. Petersburg, Feb. 27, 1937 - Had good meeting in New Orleans. Didn't attend all meetings but read papers. “The facts are that the average speaker speaks so low that I cannot hear in a large auditorium.”

Amrd Stickles Interview - Cherry: Death 1937
Says Bowling Green attorney Charles Bell was with Henry Cherry the night of his accident. Says there were a lot of rumors that Henry Cherry was drunk. " . . . Mr. Cherry occasionally sipped a drink of whiskey, but he was no more drunk than I was, and I hadn't tasted any." (Not clear if Arndt Stickles mean himself or was quoting Charles Bell). Cherry fell into one of the holes for windows.

Amrd Stickles Collection: 1 - Cherry: Death 1937
Autobiography - "The greatest sorrow that ever came to me outside of the deaths of my own family was the death of President H.H. Cherry. I had so relied on his good judgment and could [sic sound] sense as the years rolled by that I could not for a long time realize what had happened. Of course I knew that I must eventually occur some day and I knew that his place would be very hard to fill. But I was not, and as were my associates ready, and for the sudden abrupt end. I had repeatedly said what I am saying here that Mr. Cherry was the greatest natural genius in an executive position I ever knew. He made the fewest mistakes I ever knew a man to make. He never moved on an important subject until he had considered it fully. I think he made some mistakes and he would never have claimed perfection . . . I knew that a change would come and it came in a whirl. Mr. Cherry was and the institution being made greater than any individual so there was nothing to do except accept the results, put our shoulders o the wheel and push and pull. Changes were inevitable and I have tried to keep up my end of the work the best I can and be loyal to the college as I new Mr. Cherry would want me to be.

Held in Dean Finley Grise's office. To provide for conducting affairs of college until successor is named. Executive Committee appointed by chairman Harry W. Peters: Finley Grise, dean; Lee Jones, Education; W.L. Matthews, Director Training School; B.J. Borrone, Regent; Mrs. W.P. Drake, Regent. At request of Governor Albert Chandler, appointed committee to consider burial and erection of a suitable monument.

EKU H.L. Donovan Papers - Box 60 - Cherry: Death 1937
Undated clipping from Richmond Daily Register. "The passion of his life was to raise the intellectual level of the citizenship of the state in whose service he labored unceasingly."
"Dr. Cherry perhaps touched more lives kindled the fire of ambition in hearts of more young men and women than any other educator of the commonwealth. He aspired them with the ideal of service which was the dominant motive of his life. Thousands of Kentuckians who came under his influence, felt the glow of his intellect, caught inspiration from his enthusiasm, are heavy-hearted because of the death of their friend and counselor."
"He will live long in the hearts of the multitude that were blessed by his influence."

General Correspondence
Finley Grise to “Students, Alumni and Friends of Western,” Aug. 18, 1937 (form letter) - Regents in a called meeting set up Executive Committee to administer affairs until a successor to Dr. Henry Cherry is selected. Members: Finley Grise, chairman; Lee Jones, Education; W.L. Matthews, Training School; B.J. Borrone, Regent; and Mrs. W.P. Drake, Regent. Committee pledges its best efforts.

Mattie McLean to A.L. Crabb, Peabody, Sept. 5, 1937 - "All of us here shall, of course, undertake to do as far as it lies within our power what President Cherry would like for us to have done."

Mrs. H.H. Cherry [Bess (Fayne) Cherry] to Student Body, Aug. 12, 1937 - "(To be read in chapel is Finley Grise's wishes) Thanks for flowers to her & the lovely wreath at funeral. "Mr. Cherry has left in your keeping 'The Spirit of the Hill.' . . . The Western of the future will be largely what you make it."

Special Correspondence M.C. Ford, 1937-1940
M.C. Ford to Garrett Pool Hayes, Cerulean, Ky., Aug. 18, 1937 (Says much same in many letters). "I have delayed considerably answering your letter of July 27. President Cherry became fatally ill and died on August 1. The experience was such a shock to us that we have done little since except to take stock of our loss. However, we are recovering ourselves, and the progress of the college is going forward nicely."

M.C. Ford to Dr. D.R. Theophilus, University of Idaho, Sept. 16, 1937 - Henry Cherry: “He was in the best of health prior to an accident that occurred about three weeks before his death. He fell on entering his home and sustained a fracture of the base of his skull. He was recovering nicely until meningitis struck him. He died Sunday, August 1.”

Owensboro Messenger - Cherry: Death (n.d.)
Clipping in Henry Cherry file - Illness & Death - "Henry Hardin Cherry's monument is the Hill whereon he labored for more than three decades."
Western without Dr. Cherry will lack the vital spark that lit the flames of resolve in many almost despairing hearts. But it left as a legacy that others may pass on without the dismal days he faced."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 3 - Cherry: Debt 1915
General Correspondence 1916
Henry Cherry to Roy Osburn, Louisville, Jan. 29, 1916 - Regrets he can't contribute toward a church building fund, but he hasn't been able to save a cent & has a family to look after. Spent $6-7,000 while in governor's race & got much in debt.

WKU - Notecards - Cherry, Henry Hardin, 1864-1937: Defense of Normals

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Defense of Normals 1911
General Correspondence 1911
Henry Cherry to J.H. Sharon, Richmond, Oct. 9, 11 - Response to article in "Watch Tower" of Southern School Journal. Says R.S. Eubank's attitude(?) is "violent." Says "President Patterson's contention from the beginning is the contention of Mr. Eubank." Henry Cherry has heard Patterson say what R.S. Eubank put in last article. Doesn't want to make a public issue of it, "but I believe the friends of Education should speak out and let him know what they think of his position." "It should not come as a fight from the Normal Schools. I put a number of leading citizens of Kentucky in possession of the facts this week, and they entertain absolutely no sympathy for his attitude." You or Pres. Crabbe should make sure Judge Sullivan sees the articles.

J.H. Sharon to Henry Cherry, Oct. 3, 1911 - Hand written so no one will see it. Thinks that R.S. Eubank is g--- after losing nomination for state superintendent. He tried every way to get Dr. Ruric Roark to hire him here. Mrs. Eubank came to Ruric Roark here & cried & annoyed him greatly. R.S. Eubank took up Patterson's ideas about 5 years ago. R.S. Eubank hates Dr. Crabbe (R.S. Eubank's president). Think we should "use great caution in dealing with a wounded and disgruntled candidate. Get an abundance of ammunition ready, but do not fire unless we are forced to it. I shall stand with you on this proposition until I am put under that six feet of earth. If we are forced to come to an open fight, I shall carry my part." When I see you, will tell you of my plan to fix R.S. Eubank. "When Kentucky decides to restrict the Normal schools to rural school grade work and have State University to prepare all other teachers, good bye progress in the old state. We have the friends and we can win the fight. I want to see all parts of our educational tree grow together. State University must advance, but we must not be hampered in our splendid hopes and aspirations."

W.T. Lafferty (president?), State University of Kentucky, to Henry Cherry, May 22, 1911 - Committee on Degrees & faculty by unanimous vote have recommended to Trustees that degree of LL.D. be conferred on you on June 1, Commencement Day. No questions about B.

E.H. Mark, Washington, Ohio, to Henry Cherry, Jun 5, 1911 - (E.H. Mark is or has been on Board of Regents). Congratulations on the LL.D. degree. "They honored themselves far more than they honored you . . . you have done more for Kentucky than all the Faculty of the University combined."

2 "The State that has the men has the present; the State that has the schools has the future; and the State that has the teachers has the schools."
"The greatness of the school is not in its buildings, grounds, and equipment so much as it is in its life; not so much in its organization as in the life that is behind organization; no so much in the course of study as in the teacher's vision of the needs of the pupils and the ability of its teachers to interpret its course of study into effective human power and service."

Henry Cherry to Dr. Fred Mutchler, Washington, D.C., Jan. 16, 1916 - Says he was in dentist's chair yesterday 8:30 - 12 & 1:30 - 5:00. Will continue "this delightful experience" until late Satu. Dr. Rose & a dentist from Louisville "is literally cutting me to pieces." Will come to Washington next week if you think it necessary. (Lever & Page bills are being considered.)

Dr. Cherry was a politician, keen, incisive, alert, but no mere politician is meet to master the political process, and he did not hesitate to put this knowledge to work effectively in promoting his educational objectives.

A newspaper writer (Vertical File, Kentucky Library)
"Dr. Cherry was a politician, keen, incisive, alert, but no mere politician is meet to master the traditions that flourished about him and absorb them. He was a master manipulator of politicians when the future of Western was at stake. He knew how to gain the ear of those who held the purse strings of the state, and his deftness loosed those strings for making the Hill the incarnation, the epitome of his dream."

147 Knew value of organizing, of enlisting support. Had knack of foreseeing obstacles & finding ways to avoid them. He was seldom completely defeated. Would compromise when necessary.

148 Spent much time developing public support.

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabbe, March 17, 1914 - "I am a little excited about this underscored line. I cannot understand that any change has been made in the requirement for resident work as that has been written in the promise of the Normal Executive Council heretofore and we have certainly had no meeting to my knowledge within a couple of years." Error or what?

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabbe, March 17, 1914 - "He is, perchance a dreamer, but at the same time a dreamer with a knack of making his dreams come true." General Assembly appropriated $200,000 for capital improvements after WKU had the Assembly visit Bowling Green on George Washington's birthday.

Henry Cherry to R.F. Flege, Irvine, May 22, 1923 - "I am sending to you under separate wrapper the suit of underwear which I borrowed the night of the commencement."

George Colvin, Superintendent, Frankfort to Henry Cherry, March 25, 1921 - "Congratulates him upon success in expansion in western part of state. "I am interested to see which enrolls the larger number of students, whether in residence or in extension, the Eastern or the Western. I will try to find some moonshine if you win, and a prayer book if [Thomas] Coates wins; and I will share the moonshine with you and pray with Brother Coates."

J.G. Crabb to Henry Cherry, March 12, 1914 - Encloses marked clipping from your Feb. bulletin. It says requirement for residence work "has been changed from twenty-six to sixteen weeks."

"I am a little excited about this underscored line. I cannot understand that any change has been made in the requirement for resident work as that has been written in the promise of the Normal Executive Council heretofore and we have certainly had no meeting to my knowledge within a couple of years." Error or what?

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, Eastern Kentucky University president to Henry Cherry, March 25, 1914 - Has his letters of 17th & 18th. Sorry that mistakes were made & published in your ads. "... I am of the opinion that this materially lowers our standards and we certainly should raise rather than lower any of our students." Normal schools should have uniform entrance requirements & meet the same standards for certificates. Wants to think this out & consult with his Board of Regents. "It goes without saying that scores will try to get into your institution to secure the elementary certificate because(?) of the change in residence requirements, while resident requirement is three times at this institution. Students are already asking about the matter. Will write you again."

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, March 18, 1914 - Regrets very much "the little mistake" that you called to my attention. He is entirely responsible for the mistake; wouldn't have happened if he hadn't gone South." But he can't see that it does any real harm (apparently it reduced amount of residence from 16 weeks to something less.) Says it might affect only a few people with excellent backgrounds who are qualified to get a certificate in less time. "I hope your honorable faculty and you will be willing to [make] this change."

Oct. 10, 1914 Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb - After adjournment (?) last Saturday Henry & Dean A.J. Kinnaman discussed the question of residence work, & "we agreed not to present the matter to the State Superintendent. I think it would be much better to stand together in all matters of this kind and we are perfectly willing to accede to your request and the request of your faculty." Told the State Superintendent that we are doing so. Thinks your position is a good one, although still doesn't see anything bad about 16 weeks.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Eastern Kentucky University, 1915

General Correspondence 1915

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, Aug. 2, 1915 - Reports that we do not & will not give credit for any work that Eastern Kentucky University has not officially recognized. In your letter you said: "I told you several weeks ago that certain ones of our Normal students have gone to Bowling Green and that they were receiving high grade certificates when their standing here showed that they could scarcely carry very ordinary certificate work." This is a rather serious statement & needs to be examined. "I have absolutely no knowledge of anything of this kind." You will find that you have graduated more people from the Advanced Course than we have. Please let me have definite & specific information "as to the persons you refer to who have received certifications when not entitled to them."

(Quotes from J.G. Crabb to Henry Cherry, July 31, 1915) Encloses letter from Dean E.C. McDougle (?) to J.G. Crabb, July 31, 1915. He has heard at Williamsburg that 4 of EKU's students who have done a lower certificate are preparing to enter WKU "on an alleged discovery that they can get through . . . and secure the Advanced Certificate with twenty-one credits fewer than we require." Thinks this should be investigated.

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, Sept. 14, 1915 - They have exchanged telegrams. Says WKU's policy is to encourage students from the Eastern District to attend your school. We don't admit them without your consent. Would not "want to make an inflexible agreement by which I could not give my consent to students living in this district to attend school in Eastern District." In a number of cases, that is best for them. Assure you that if he absolutely forbids a student to come, he will accept. "Cases have been put up to me in my district that I felt deserved patriotic consideration and liberal treatment on my part" & I have approved their attending Eastern Kentucky University. Tells of 3 young ladies from Williamsburg who are here & want to attend here. They said they [have] letter from you stating that you would transfer their appointments if the Whitley County Superintendent endorses it. He did so & they returned letter to you & thought that all had been done. "I am permitting them to remain in school until I can hear from you." They are complimentary of you & loyal to Eastern. I will send you more than enough during the year to compensate for them. We must discuss this when I see you."

J.G. Crabb to Henry Cherry, Aug. 2, 1915 - Suggests that they simply do not transfer students from one district to the other (on their free appointments). This is the letter of the law. "If you approve we will make an iron clad rule that no transfer shall be made from district to district and that students without appointments must pay a regular tuition." Could consult on really serious cases.

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, Sept. 24, 1915 - Encloses letter & memo of credits for Miss Lawson. Knows nothing about merits of the case & will proceed as you recommend. Will not write her until I hear from you.

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, Oct. 4, 1915 - He had a great visit at Richmond - Sorry it had to be so brief. Will return (?) late. Had a very enjoyable day at Berea where he spoke.

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, Oct. 2, 1915 - Has a letter from Miss Della Petry, Richmond, who wants to come here. I see no reason why she should not finish there. Will wait to hear from you.

Henry Cherry to J.G. Crabb, Oct. 7, 1915 - "I think we will have no trouble whatsoever in breaking up the tendency on the part of some teachers to leave their district and go to the other." Well understand your referral to grant permission & am sure you will understand when I do the same.

J.G. Crabb to Henry Cherry, Sept. 27, 1915 - Accepts his proposal (in letter of Sept. 14) & will hereafter dispose of each case on its merits.

J.G. Crabb to Henry Cherry, Sept. 28, 1915 - About Miss Lawson (letter of Henry Cherry, Sept. 24). States that she would need at least 29 majors credits & would not be able to finish this year.

Says we do not intend to blame anyone. Such situations are usually due to “a lack of . . . progressive, democratic spirit . . .” “The student-body of this institution is extremely fortunate in having as its chief executive a man whose ideals are such that he is ever ready to give the best that he has for the success of the individual students and trust them to endorse his work or to respect it as they deem best.” Such a spirit of government is the ideal. Says student body here (chapel?) in a recent open vote indicated their approval of the policies of the administration without a dissenting voice. “We are perfectly convinced that so long as our esteemed president pursues the course he has thus far followed just so long will the many students’ who come to him for inspiration and ideals, support him against any who may care to assail his policies, or his executive authority. 5-6 "Perhaps, the worst that can be said of 'The Hill' during the Cherry Era was that life on it moved at the pace he set, its tempo at times exhausting. There was perhaps too little time for rest, too little time for cloistered deliberation, too little time to touch with one's own hands for fundamentals, too little uninterrupted probing of the s--- of knowledge, too little intellectual tranquility. There were, of course, frustrations, dark moments which turned back the light of the torch which he carried and dimmed the outline of the future he envisioned. 7 "He was a born builder . . . To him the riveter sounded the call to arms, and the puff and creak of the hoisting engine soothed his soul. The power drill sang a lullaby, and the click of trowels was for him a love song." . . .

7 But at times there was an aloofness about him . . . "there were times when he tended to grow impatient almost without cause, desire or irritation breaking down understanding. Mostly, he was the most patient and just of men." He was both doer and a dreamer. Could go into disconcerting states of preoccupation when he didn't see friends, didn't hear what was being said. "When his eyes fixed at a remote focus, began to sweep far horizons the wise visitor deferred his business then and there."

9 "Death has come to the President. But it has not come to his work. He will be seen no more, but the dreams he dreamed and the work he did will reach across the pages of records for a long time to come. Death has come to the President, but 'The Hill' is vibrant with the values (?) which he made articulate and rich with the ideals caught from his contagion. And that is immortality."

Cheff, Carl. Politics in Education - Cherry: Evaluation
224 In 1938 past presidents of Kentucky Education Association was asked to name the 5 greatest educational leaders in Kentucky during past century. Henry Cherry received the most votes.
226 "He went about his work with a missionary fervor, preaching educational improvement everywhere from the halls of the statehouse to the remote backwoods." He had the ability "to rally to active service in behalf of education, thousands who would otherwise have remained totally indifferent. Cherry's enthusiasm and zeal seemed to rub off onto others and to compel them to take up the cause for better schools."
228 He had "a certain flamboyance and possessed a sense of showmanship." Often used dramatic --- to make his points. Was an excellent innovator - example was Cherryton to cope with housing shortage.
229 He had he courage to dare difficult tasks & opponents. A.B. Chandler said in 1907 that "Cherry possessed a sort of 'arrogance' for governors."
230 "In driving force, unswerving purpose and hard-headed determination, no one in state educational circles were quite compared."
231 Cherry ran the school much as a strict father would run his family. "Was concerned with students' health and morals. "Rules and regulations were determined largely by the president, and he controlled virtually every facet of the student's life while he was enrolled at Western."
232 Carl Cheff says the teachers college atmosphere still (1968) persists at WKU. The "big, happy family" approach is still sometimes evident. Not until 1965 did WKU have national social fraternities & sororities. "On occasion the president's wife still 'suggests' that the wives of faculty members should dress 'suitably' when appearing in public since they 'represent the institution.'" Furor in 1965 over (233) suspension of 4 students for an off campus paper.
234 He did much to inspire students to become better citizens. He helped promote professionalism among the state's teachers - strongly supported Kentucky Education Association.
235 Understood that all faculty members at WKU belonged to Kentucky Education Association and Third District Teachers Association. Henry Cherry was Kentucky Education Association member for 45 years; president in 1902 & 1926, Board of Directors for 30 years.
236 He fostered the spirit of regionalism in the state - lack of a really unified system of higher education. Thanks to him, " . . . Western usually came out quite well in the competition."
249 One reason why Henry Cherry was so influential in state education circles was his lobbying at the legislative sessions. " . . . one of Cherry's greatest contributions was to demonstrate the utility of political activity in securing desired educational policy."

1941-1946 W-Wil (1947-1949)
Paul Garrett to Miss Mildred Whitehead, Brodhead, Jan. 26, 1942 (senior in high school, doing report on Henry Cherry) - "My opinion has always been that for ability to inspire students to amount to something no one has approached him."

Henry Cherry Papers: 17 - Cherry: Exaggeration 1931
General Correspondence 1931
Henry Cherry to J.C.W. Beckham, Sr., Louisville, Oct. 17, 1931 - "Nothing in my life has pleased me more than your acceptance of our invitation to be with us Friday evening, November 6th upon the occasion of our Twenty-Fifth Anniversary." (Typical Henry Cherry - but he probably believed it when he dictated it.) J.C.W. Beckham signed bill establishing the school. He gave short address.

Henry Cherry to A.C. Webb, Nashville, Sept. 29, 1911 (A.C. Webb was in Art, 1910-1912) - Sorry that he is ill but was glad to learn this morning of your improvement. "Your pupils are asking about you daily. We are taking care of your classes to the best of our ability. Of course, it is not like when you are here. This Institution has a warm and generous interest in you and your immediate recovery. Do not worry for a minute about your work. It will be carefully looked after and no serious injury will come to it."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 3 - Cherry: Faculty Relations 1917
General Correspondence 1917
Henry Cherry to Miss Iva Scott, Feb. 28, 1917 (after the Rural Life Conference) - "I am not in the least unmindful of the aggressive and noble interest you manifested in the Conference, and the great work which you did in your Department, I want to express to you this morning my deepest gratitude to you for your efforts and for your loyalty to a noble cause."

Henry Cherry to Franz Strahm, Feb. 28, 1917 - Thanks him for his help with the Conference. "The work you are doing and the life you are living should be a fire within your soul that would become(?!) a reward beyond all things material, and an inspiration that would make you feel that all this effort that is costing flesh, blood and spirit is worth while. Your noble co-workers appreciate every inch of you."

Henry Cherry asked faculty their views on issue of Murray State University and Morehead State University extending their curricula to 4 years of work. "The faculty . . . authorized him to use his judgement in the matter when the question came up, and that whatever he did would be the sense of the faculty."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Farming 1911
General Correspondence 1911
Henry Cherry to Bennett H. Young, Louisville, Oct. 21, 1911 - Gives him detailed advice about raising strawberries. Field you saw on Covington farm has been p--- for berries ever seen in this section. Soil is thin - produced only 10 bushel of corn per acre last year, but we expect to have matters improved in 2-3 years.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 6 - Cherry: Fees 1923
General Correspondence 1923
Henry Cherry to C.F. Galloway, Elkton, March 29, 1923 - Has asked him to give commencement address May 7. Henry Cherry says he will, that he charges $30 each & takes care of his own expenses. Yours won't cost that much; cities away cost more. "I am saying to you, however, that if the financial situation does not justify this you need not give yourself any worry. I shall be glad to come to you and deliver the address without regard to finances . . . we will take care of than [this] when I see you."

Answer: March 30 - Will get a much for him as he can.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 7 - Cherry: Fees 1923
General Correspondence 1923-1924
Henry Cherry is constantly trying to get lower prices. Here is a --- ---.
Principal Edgar Royse, Boston, Ky., to Henry Cherry April 4, 1923 - Asks him to give commencement address. "If so, please state the fee you would expect. The class is small this year and the fee would have to be paid by the graduates."

Henry Cherry to Edgar Royse, April 4, 1923 - $30, including expenses.
Henry Cherry to R.S. Eubank, Lexington, Oct. 5, 1911 - In the past 4 months Henry Cherry has visited 34 of the 51 counties in this district. Feels sure that the people appreciate what the school is doing. Can't advertise now because of the "terrific financial pressures we are under, and the financial nightmares we are having daily . . . ."

Henry Cherry to McKenzie R. Todd, State Inspector, Frankfort, Oct. 10, 1911 - Is pleased with the report that Mr. Merrimee(?) made on WKU. Could you give us a statement relative to our work that might help us since the funds that we need - "provided we merit it."

Henry Cherry to McKenzie Todd, Oct. 12, 1911 - Has decided to publish entire report in his report to the General Assembly. May I use your photograph?

Oct. 13 [1911] McKenzie Todd agrees but doesn't really want the photo used. But if Henry Cherry insists, OK.

Henry Cherry to H.K. Cole, Atlanta, March 20, 1912 - After the appropriation bill has been --- "I shall deem it a great pleasure and privilege to have the opportunity to write all of our creditors, inclosing check for payment. They have waited patiently and some of them have been inclined to feel that we have not paid as punctually as we should have done." Would his Cotton States Insurance Company like to take some of the bonds? (No conflict of interest here.)

H.K. Cole to Henry Cherry, March 22, 1912 - Interest rates are considerably above 5% you seek. Will discuss it with a firm on some floor that deals in investments.

Henry Cherry to Col. J.M. Guilliams, St. Petersburg, March 22, 1912 - Tells him of the success in the legislature. Increase of "annual maintenance" from $50,000 to $75,000, starting last July. Provided bonds to cover indebtedness ($100,000) & state will pay interest on them. " . . . there is really no money at Frankfort and the State is overwhelmingly in debt." Looked for a time as if the indebtedness might be repudiated " . . . now since it is over, we have decided that it really took a good deal of nerve to presume on the action of the future General Assembly to the extent of $100,000. It certainly did look big to the General Assembly." Other schools still have their indebtedness. We put in a separate bill. "It was the first time the Western Normal attempted to go alone, and it was about the easiest thing we ever tried to do." State University made it hard on us. [James?] Patterson had stimulated investigation of the State University & it was turned on him. Committee recommended his salary be stopped & he be eliminated from it. "Inasmuch as President Patterson has never failed to put a dagger into us through our whole educational life, I feel justified in giving the State University our moral support and in helping it to fight and win the victory. I say to you in all confidence that I do not believe the University would have succeeded, if we had not assisted them in the winning of the battle." Denominational(?) schools joined Patterson in his move against the state university. Efforts were made to stop us from issuing certificates, but this was defeated. Most progressive General Assembly than any in many years.

Several letters from Henry Cherry to Attorney General James Garrett, Jan. 13, 1913 & members of Sinking Fund Committee. Urges them to visit WKU & see for themselves how well the people's money is being spent.
Henry Cherry to W.J. Gooch, Franklin (Regent), Oct. 6, 1913 - "We have been unable to cash a single warrant, but we have decided to start the work anyway today."

Oct. 7, [1913] - Henry Cherry says they have let control for concrete walks & contractor has agreed to take a warrant in payment.

W.J. Gooch to Henry Cherry, Feb. 22, 1914 - Back home after a very satisfactory week in Frankfort. Both members & non-members (General Assembly) "were congratulating the Western Normal and speaking words of praise for it and for you." Says he told them WKU got a good report "because we had the best school man in the state of Kentucky. . . " Will go back to Frankfort later this week to look after some more matters of importance."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Funds 1913
General Correspondence 1913
Henry Cherry to P.W. Grinstead (American Bank Company, Cincinnati(?)), Oct. 20, 1913, (P.W. Grinstead has asked donations of $200 from WKU to group trying to abolish illiteracy in Rowan County) - Henry Cherry says he has recently had to canvass twice for funds. Asked faculty for $125 for the Chautauqua program. Has asked students frequently, despite most of the being poor, for funds for patriotic cause. Indeed, some of the faculty think "possibly I have done this a little too much." Hasn't been able to save anything himself.

General Correspondence 1918
R.H. Royster, The Sebree Banner, to Henry Cherry, Sept. 18, 1918 - The notice you sent to be published is an advertisement. "... I am surprised that you would ask publishers to give it space free." Will publish at regular rate of $.10 per line.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 4 - Cherry: Finances 1922
General Correspondence 1922
Henry Cherry to Mr. V.O. Gilbert, Central School Supply Company, Frankfort, March 18, 1922 - In 2 or more months, we will buy a transportation truck to take student teachers to the Rural School. "I am wondering if the company you represent would not be willing to make very liberal concessions(?). No one will doubt for a moment that the use of the truck at this place would be the greatest piece of advertising that could be done in Western Kentucky. It would be used by the teachers who will have charge of the schools in Western Kentucky. The Ford Automobile Company has just put in a Ford Tractor without any cost whatever to the institution."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 5 - Cherry: Finances 1923
General Correspondence 1923
Henry Cherry to American Seating Company, Chicago, Oct. 29, 1923 - Will equip model rural school as quickly as possible. Will be good publicity to them. "I am wondering if you would be interested in helping us out in the matter in a material way, especially in view of the fact that this institution is terrifically pressed in a financial way and having hard experiences with its budget."

Henry Cherry Papers: 12 - Cherry: Finances 1927
General Correspondence 1927
Henry Cherry to Lela Wright, White Plains, Dec. 20, 1927 - Regrets he can't contribute to church. He had considerable property 22 years ago but practically none now. Being head of WKU "has about wrecked me financially." Must try to put something aside for old age. Has boy 12 and daughter 16 that must be provided for, as well as "a good companion."

Henry Cherry to Radford Cherry (brother), Bardstown, Sept. 22, 1913: In a recent fire, Henry Cherry lost all his farming equipment, hay, 1 mule. Had $200 insurance on mule & $200 on the barn. Bought team of mules recently for $240 & one had already died. A year ago he lost 2 mules in a barn that burned on Normal Heights. "Fire has been an expensive item in my life." Will be more careful about insurance(?) in future.

Biography

Henry Cherry’s Reminiscences in chapel, June 22, 1936 (Quote disjointed; ---, off the cuff). Says when he was a boy Barren River was alive with fish. "I remember I put out five bait lines and caught seven fish . . . " Often had 30-50 pounds of fish by next day.

General Correspondence 1925

Henry Cherry to Charles Henry, Madisonville, Sept. 8, 1925 - Henry Cherry understands he is unhappy because credits taken at summer school at Calhoun High School were not recognized as college credit. Explains that this policy was agreed upon by all the state schools & Department of Education.

Charles Henry to Henry Cherry, Sept. 10, 1925 - Argues that teachers, etc. had been approved, some were college (Alfred Crabb from WKU) etc. "I believe I know you well enough to vouch for the fact that you are politician enough to get around this technicality as you have had to get around many in the past." Talks of all his services to the school.

Henry Cherry & Faculty - J.R. Alexander

(From J.R. Alexander's speech - Anniversary Meeting)

5. "In 1892 began the most heroic, persistent, determined, self-sacrificing struggle in our educational effort that was ever made in this state or in any other state so far as I know. When the Cherry brothers undertook to salvage from the wreckage of the old schools enough patronage to form the beginning of a new school, they entered upon an enterprise that had in it as little promise and encouragement as one could well imagine(?) . . . "

"Nothing less flexible or less resilient than a steel will or less wearing than an iron constitution could have withstood the strain of the next thirty-seven years." . . . "There were hard, lean years with many disappointments, heartaches and hectic experiences, that bore heavily upon the responsible head of the institution." Much help from Regents, Governors, etc.

Henry Cherry Papers: 85 - Cherry: Founding 1906

Folder 4 (1931?)

5 Says he spent 71 days in Frankfort in 1906 at his own expense - at least $1,000 - to get bill passed. Feels that the citizens of Bowling Green should have shared the cost. Henry Cherry says he paid expenses of the Locating Commission when it came to Bowling Green. Henry Cherry had additional expenses as money was raised to clear the Southern Education Building Company of debt. He was selected president without applying. As far as he knows, no friend of his inst--- the Board. Business College was sold to Joseph Dickey, W.S. Ashby and for $15,000. It was easily worth $40,000 over 26 years & is now $5,000. Spends at least $1/3 on public demands.

7 Board decided a new site was needed and after considering several purchased the Potter College one. Much Bowling Green opposition. Group of 100 leading citizens, led by prominent lawyer, came into the meeting and demanded that another site be purchased. "The opposition on the part of the people of Bowling Green was so intense and criticism so severe [sic] that I personally stayed off the streets of Bowling Green for three or four months in order to avoid embarrassing experiences." Took $96,000 to buy Potter College and tracts of land. Without enough money to build. But we contacted Governor and others and decided to put state $100,000 in debt to build present administration building. [Van Meter Hall]. Legislature of 1910 voted payment but governor vetoed it. 1912 Assembly voted bonds to pay it after "one of the hardest and most disagreeable experiences" of his life. "During this session of the General Assembly [8] I was frequently attacked upon the floor of the Senate and the House and even on one occasion was hissed and insulted as I passed down the isle [sic] on the invitation of the House of Representatives for the purpose of explaining the situation. He attack did not stop with me. It was also made upon the Board and wound up by passing a law making it a penitentiary offense for any institution to make a debt beyond its income. In addition to this a resolution was passed by the House of Representatives asking me to leave Frankfort." Henry Cherry is much put out - it was all for the good of the Commonwealth.

| Story dated Frankfort, March 31 says that while Henry Cherry has not given formal consent, supporters have met & decided to try to persuade him to run in 1915 election. State Superintendent Barksdale Hamlett and chief assistant in Department of Education V.O. Gilbert are openly for him. Henry Cherry declined an interview with a Daily News reporter but said he was surprised by the story. Admitted friends had approached him. "The editor of the News wishes to say in this connection that the party might to search(?) further and fare much worse in the selection of a candidate for Governor. Mr. Cherry is favorably known throughout the State, and is loved by thousands of pupils and former students and teachers in every hamlet, village and community within the confines of Kentucky. His conduct of the Western Kentucky State Normal School has been such as to commend him to the public, irrespective of party. He is an educator of great ability and a man of

Governor's Race March - May 1914

Henry Cherry to Dr. E.A. Cherry, Morgantown, April 16, 1914 - Says he has received many letters & suggestions that he run for governor, but "I have not taken the matter seriously ..." Probably won't do so until after Senate race.

Joseph S. Dickey, Jr., Wagoner, Okla., to Henry Cherry, April 6, 1914 - Saw in paper that you were being considered as a candidate. Threw his hat in air & cheered. If he gets in race, he will come back to Kentucky "and stump it from 'cinter to circumference' for you."

Henry Cherry to Joseph Dickey, Jr., April 16, 1914 - Thanks. Hasn't made up mind. Please don't mention it as he doesn't want to appear as a candidate. "You know this institution is like a child to me, and I would be difficult for me to ever give it up. I love its very name, and I believe in the work it is doing. Then when I look into the future, there seems to open a field that seems to open an opportunity o do even greater things." By October 1914 Henry Cherry is seeking mailing lists of former students from many towns & counties; and he is getting many indications of wide-spread support.

Chelf, Carl. Politics in Education - Cherry: Governor 1915

175 By 1914 Henry Cherry began to consider running for governor. Asked friends to sound out sentiment in their (176) areas. Most of the replies were encouraging.

177 About 12,000 in Kentucky attended Henry Cherry's schools.

179 Todd County Times (in Henry Cherry Scrapbook) - saw "a spirit hostile to the elevation of peanut politicians to high office, and a disposition to put at the head of affairs men who have accomplished something really worthwhile." A number of papers endorsed (181) Henry Cherry. Henry Cherry formal announcement in Jan. 1915. "I shall make the race in the interest of a greater moral, intellectual and industrial Kentucky . . . under no circumstance will I be a candidate of any political faction." Asserted he had no political ambition beyond governorship.

182 In a letter to the Regents, Jan. 11, 1915, Henry Cherry resigned. Said as governor he could "render a larger service to my State than if I should remain in my present position ... I am only shifting my labors to other fields. No other motive could have prompted me to take this step." (Givers sketch of Kentucky politics at that period.)

186 In Jan. 1915 Henry Cherry had long meeting with Governor James McCreary, a member of the J.C.W. Beckham faction, but no endorsement was forthcoming then.

187 When J.C.W. Beckham - Haly forces dropped county unit rule & came out for statewide prohibition, they selected H.V. McChesney as their candidate. So Henry Cherry was out. But he continued, although he had little in way of an organization. Nor did he have large funds. Although he had always supported (188) prohibition, but now he was accused of being pro-liquor because he endorsed county unit law. (local option). A.O. Stanley (Henderson) had entered race & would be strong in western Kentucky. On April 29 in a card to voters, Henry Cherry withdrew from the race.

189 Some papers thought he could have won but for his stand on the liquor issue.

190 When he withdrew Henry Cherry did not endorse any one. But at the Democrat Convention in August, which the A.O. Stanley people controlled, Henry Cherry was elected permanent chairman.

191 Barksdale Hamlett, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, had been mentioned as a successor, but faculty members filled in for Henry Cherry & Regent's made little effort to replace him. After he withdrew a faculty committee requested his reappointment & Regents did so. Increased his salary to $4,200 (up $200).

192 Henry Cherry had high claims upon the new administration. Now worked to get state to assume WKU's debt. Suggests he could be kept at his present position. Mayor Bradley had said no. But he continued, although he had little in way of an organization. Nor did he have large funds. Although he had always supported (188) prohibition, but now he was accused of being pro-liquor because he endorsed county unit law. (local option). A.O. Stanley (Henderson) had entered race & would be strong in western Kentucky. On April 29 in a card to voters, Henry Cherry withdrew from the race.

193 1916 session passed bill to do so. Not until 1922 was WKU reimbursed for the 4 $5,000 payments it had made.

Governor's Candidacy 1915

Henry Cherry announced for governor in January 1915. Many clippings & letters, almost all favorable.

Courier-Journal, April 4, 1915, clipping - Henry Cherry launched campaign at Mayfield before audience of +/- 700, many former students. It made good impression. He came out for county unit law & opposed state prohibition. --- "A Greater Kentucky.

Henry Cherry's announcement was praised by most editors.

Henry Cherry to H.L. Stone, Attorney L&N Railroad, Louisville, Jan. 12, 1915 - Returns the railroad pass you so kindly issued me for 1915. He's delivered hundreds of educational addresses hat he couldn't have done without your help. Doesn't think it proper to use the pass after entering race for governor.

Superintendent L.R. Roy, Madisonville to Henry Cherry, Feb. 4, 1915 - Pledges support. Will be some discussion of votes on temperance question. A Mr. Catlett of Princeton was here Monday posting cards for Henry Bosworth. He condemned you severely, said you had been extravagant with funds at the Normal. Also, charged you had taken active part in election for county superintendent. Apparently a student at WKU went back to Caldwell County & defeated his sister. Says she sent you many students. Nothing in such "slush."

Chelf, Carl. Henry Hardin Cherry, typescript - Cherry: Governor 1915

Several pages of letters pledging support & indicating his chance of winning. A "Cherry Club" was (4) formed in Jan. 1915.

Cherry made formal announcement in 1915, January. "I shall make the race in the interest of a greater moral, intellectual and industrial Kentucky . . . under no circumstances will I be a candidate of any political faction."

8 "I want to emphasize that the biggest social and economic question before the people of the Commonwealth today is the education of the children who live in the rural sections. + Henry Cherry favored: county unit law (local option on liquor); women's suffrage; non-partisan judiciary; revision of tax laws. Said he had no political ambitions beyond governorship.

9 Resigned in mid-Jan. Quotes from letters to Board of Regents. After Civil War, Democratic party included the Bourbons and the small farmers.

10 Infusion of Populism by William Goebel had disruptive effect & party became badly split. "Combine" politics began about 1915. Prohibition became a major issue. The Beckham-Haly faction --- from local option to state prohibition. Reform elements talked of ending pari-mutuel betting at racetracks. Coal, liquor, horse racing elements joined to protect themselves against the Democratic reform element. Kentucky Jockey Club, National Association of Coal Operators and Kentucky Distillers and Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association (12) had great influence. They didn't really care if a Democrat or Republican was governor as long as they controlled him. Didn't try to control lesser positions, but wanted a "sound man" nominated for governor in each party.

13 Rumored that J.C.W. Beckham organization would back Henry Cherry. In Jan. 1915 Henry Cherry had lengthy meeting with Governor James McCreary (of Beckham faction) but did not receive endorsement then.

14 Henry Cherry's principal managers were W.J. Gooch of Franklin (Speaker in 1908 Assembly) and Henry B. Hines. They advised him to endorse the county unit law. When Beckham-Haly group switched to statewide prohibition, Henry Cherry was disqualified. They supported H.V. McChesney, former Superintendent of Public Instruction. Henry Cherry was left without an effective organization.

15 He didn't have much financial backing or an established organization. Much of his strength was in "dry western & southern Kentucky. Cherry had favored prohibition, but on local option basis, he was no accused of being pro-liquor. Three other candidates (A.O. Stanley, E.J. McDermott, Henry E. Bosworth) split the anti-prohibition vote.

16 On April 29, Henry Cherry withdrew from race. In 1919 Henry Cherry told reporter he withdrew in 1915 for "fear that he would be forced into a false position regarding prohibition."

18 Undated Elizabethtown News: "Dr. Cherry could have been elected Governor easier than any other candidate but he could not be nominated." Henry Cherry didn't endorse anyone when he withdrew.

19 But he probably supported A.O. Stanley. At August 1915 Democratic convention which the Stanley forces controlled, Henry Cherry was elected permanent chairman. They replaced a number of Beckham-Haly men. When Beckham came in late & moved to --- the change, Henry Cherry ruled him out of order.

20 Platform included county unit law. Faculty members assumed his duties & Regents made little effort to replace him. After he withdrew a faculty committee requested his reappointment & this was done with salary increase of $200 to $4200. Frankfort Courier April 30, 1915, said his resignation "had a good sized cord attached to both ends when it was tendered." Henry Cherry's support was very helpful to A.O. Stanley & several of his supporters got good positions.

202 "The liveliest topic of the Normal is the announcement of President Cherry for governor." Announcement in papers a few days ago. It has been "well known that he had been seriously contemplating such a course for some time . . . ." Still, it came as a shock to faculty & students, the idea "of losing the Father of the Institution, . . . the man whom we have all learned to admire as a father . . . " effects of initial shock wore off & "everyone settled down to make the best of it . . . ."

203 Would hate to lose him, "but we realize that Kentucky is sorely in need of a leader, and if H.H. Cherry can build a State as has built a great institution of learning, it would indeed be selfish and most unpatriotic for us to stand in his way."

Louisville Evening Post, April 5, 1915

7 Gives in full Henry Cherry's opening speech at Mayfield on April 3. Takes up nearly full page. "A person may fish in this hole of water all his life . . . . " Louisville Evening Post, April 5, 1915

Henry Cherry opened his primary campaign for governor (Democratic) at Mayfield Saturday afternoon. Spoke in crowded courthouse for 2 ½ hours. Hundreds could not get inside. Illinois Central Railroad brought in delegation, including former students. "clear and forceful" Crowd very attentive. On temperance, Henry Cherry called for the county unit law. Opposed state prohibition as "demagogy." (His formal address in full on page 7). Says that Kentucky has fished too long in minnow holes - much reach out boldly for needed objectives.

1915 Governor's Race
Fulton News, May 7, 1915 - Says Henry Cherry is one of greatest intellectuals in the state, but "he came out on the wrong side" to have chance at nomination. He would have received the nomination had he come out in favor of state-wide prohibition. . . .

Clipping: no identification, no date, but after his withdrawal. " . . . Dr. Cherry has discovered that there is no room or place in the Democratic party, as now constituted and controlled for the man of limited means who can bring to his candidacy for public office no stronger claim than that of desire and equipment for public service."

Frankfort Courier, April 30, 1915 - "Professor H.H. Cherry, having at last discovered what every one else knew, viz: that he was never in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, had concluded to withdraw from the fight and resume the presidency of the Western Normal School at Bowling Green, his resignation of which position had a good size cord attached to both ends when it was tendered."

Elizabethtown News (n.d.) - "Dr. Cherry, of Bowling Green, could have been elected Governor easier than any of the other Democratic candidates, because he had no handicaps, but under the conditions he could not be nominated. This does not speak very well for the wisdom of the ---."

Clipping, no identification, nd (but Louisville) - Says meeting of WKU's Board was held last night at Seelbach. Accepted Henry Cherry's resignation, as of March 1 with keen regret. I was tendered some time ago when he announced. (Had he continued in meantime to serve as president?)

Faculty Executive Committee:

They venture to suggest "the early reappointment of Dr. H.H. Cherry as president" - "leader of the State's educational forces" "his rare executive fitness" "We feel that you are with us in our desire to have him resume his work here sometime in the future, and it seems to us that it would be to the best interest of the institution for him to begin at a very early date, if the Board can prevail upon him to do so. You may be assured that in this step you will have the approval and backing of every teacher and student in and out of the institution."

At May 19, 1915 meeting, Henry Cherry was elected unanimously to fill out term to June 30, 1916, at salary of $4200 (up $200).

1915: Political
1 page printed statement - Henry Cherry's withdrawal. "A confusion of politics making results uncertain, the attempt to force the state-wide prohibition issue into the campaign before the Democratic party has expressed a desire or purpose to abandon the County Unit Law to which it is now pledged, thereby muddying the political waters and endangering constructive legislation and party unity, and limited financial means prompt me to withdraw from the Governor's race." . . . "No man who knows me, however, doubts for one moment my loyalty to the temperance cause." Thought it best to continue for present under County Unit law. "I do not withdraw in favor of any candidate. I release all my friends without any suggestion or intimation as to their future political alignment."

Dero Downing Papers: 29 - Cherry: Governor 1915
MA-MI
Dr. Jerry W. Martin to Dero Downing, 12/16/1978 - Says Henry Cherry resigned in letter dated 1/11/1915 to run for Democratic candidate for governor. Board accepted it, effective March 1, 1915. Henry Cherry withdrew near end of April. Executive Committee asked that he be re-appointed in letter of May 19, 1915. Regents re-appointed him June 9, 1915. He did not resign in 1919.

Chelf, Carl. Henry Cherry; Educator Politician - Cherry: Governor 1919 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/fac_staff_papers/18/
21 In Dec. 1918 Henry Cherry announced that he would be a candidate in 1919. Platform included: improvements in education & agriculture, women's suffrage, non-partisan judiciary, labor reform legislation, charitable & penal institutions free (22) of politics. Called for adoption of a statewide prohibition amendment, promised to enforce it. (But prohibition was less important now as an issue).
23 Campaign got off to good start. His war work had made him known across the state. Senator A.O. Stanley expressed approval, & Henry Cherry apparently had machine support from Stanley (24) faction. Henry Cherry planned to open headquarters at Seelbach Hotel April 1 and open his campaign at Benton, April 7. Judge John Carroll of New Castle (Chief Justice of Kentucky Court of Appeals) & Governor James Black were expected to be major opponents. As governor, James Black had much patronage.
26 By late March, Henry Cherry's campaign began to have trouble. H.H. Denhardt, Bowling Green war hero, began to be mentioned as a candidate; this would hurt Henry Cherry at home. On April 1, headquarters did not open.
27 On April 3 Tom Rhea of Russellville, who had been expected to run for State Auditor, announced for governor. This would cut heavily into Henry Cherry's support.

28 Henry Cherry was also in poor health & on April 7 he withdrew from the race. It was rumored that the combine had approached Henry Cherry about making certain appointments if elected.

29 Had Stanley men remained firm, Henry Cherry might well have stayed in race regardless of health. He did leave state for several days to rest.

30 Later, Tom Rhea and H.H. Denhardt both pulled out. James Black won nomination over John Carroll but was defeated by Republican Edwin P. Morrow. Carl Chelf says Henry Cherry was probably more effective after these races than before them in his efforts on behalf of the school. But he did not run again for public office.

Chelf, Carl. Politics in Education - Cherry: Governor 1919
195 In December 1918 Henry Cherry announced for governor. Favored: improvements in education & agriculture; women's suffrage; non-partisan judiciary etc. On prohibition, Henry Cherry said he would support the state wide prohibition amendment passed by George Cassidy. (On this issue, all Democrat candidates took much the same stand.)

196 In early 1919 his campaign appeared to be going well. His war services had carried him to every part of state. A.O. Stanley endorsed Henry Cherry. He planned to open headquarters in Seelbach Hotel on April 1 & open his campaign with a at Benton on April 7.

199 Suggestions that war hero H.H. Denhardt of Bowling Green run hurt Henry Cherry’s chances.
200 On April 3 Tom Rhea, Russellville, who had been expected to run for State Auditor, announced for governor.
201 Henry Cherry was in poor health & on April 7 he withdrew. Speculation that Henry Cherry had refused to promise to make certain appointments if elected.
202 Had Stanley forces backed him strongly, Henry Cherry might have stayed in the race regardless of his bad health. (Doesn't this show that recognition in one area is not easily & automatically transferred to politics?)
202 H.H. Denhardt later pulled out. Governor James Black (203) won the nomination but was defeated by Republican Edwin P. Morrow. Henry Cherry remained active in state politics but made no effort to be elected to office. His state-wide contacts may have made him even more effective as president of WKU.

Henry Cherry Papers: 79 - Cherry: Governor 1919
Box consists entirely of letters relating to Henry Cherry's 1919 campaign. Most of them are requests that amounts be distributed, support asked for, etc. All of these appear to have been typed in his office & sent out from there.

Typical: Henry Cherry to Charles Aubrey, LaCenter, Jan. 22, 1919 - "I am earnestly hoping that you are interested in my race and I am writing to you to assure you that if I am nominated and elected. I shall use every inch of the energy, intelligence and integrity that I possess to be worthy of your confidence and to give the State a highly efficient administration. I would not give five cents to be Governor of Kentucky unless I could have executive freedom and responsibility and an opportunity to serve the great people of my State. I know it seems mechanical for a candidate to speak in this way, but I hope you will believe my motives and purposes are patriotic."

Henry Cherry to Judge J.W. Cammock, Owenton, Dec. 24, 1918 - "I am in this race to run it to the end. I going to make a supreme effort to win."

Some school letters also contain requests for help.

Henry Cherry to Lester E. Hunt, Lewisburg, Jan. 14, 1919 - Says he didn't finally decide to enter the race until just before announcement was made. "I want to say in confidence that I am simply delighted with the outlook . . . I am most optimistic. I am hearing wonderful reports from every section of the state." "The former students of this institution can nominate me if they want to."

Henry Cherry to Miss Roberta Tuck, Frankfort, Jan. 25, 1919 - Says headquarters are in his home, but when permanent plans are made, they will probably be in Louisville.

Henry Cherry to L. Boyd Wear, Murray, Dec. 24, 1918 - "I am a poor man without financial means . . . " "Some generous friends have offered to help me in a modes way; otherwise it would have been impossible for me to have entered the race. I have been so busily engaged all my line [sic] in helping others and in trying to educate the poor boys and girls of my beloved State that I have overlooked the matter of making money for myself." (Boyd Wear is editor of paper).

154 Henry Cherry's withdrawal statement, April 8, 1919 - "My state of health forces me to withdraw from the Governor's race. I am not in physical condition to go another inch further. I do not think it is possible for me to go through the strenuous campaign before the primary, and, if nominated after the primary, without serious results." Hope that after a few month's rest he can have more years of active work. "The outlook for my nomination is more than satisfactory . . . ."

Governor's Race - Withdrawal
M. McLen(?) (to J.M. Porter c/o PM(?) New York City, May 23, 1919 - Says Henry Cherry had to withdraw because of "a complete broken down physical condition . . . ." Has been given 3 months leave by Regents.

Courier-Journal, April 9, 1919 clipping - In telephone call last night he said he was completely broken down & had to rest. He was asked about story that he had been approached about making certain appointments if elected as a requirement for support. ". . . Mr. Cherry declined to be drawn out last night. He said, however, that during the entire time he was a candidate he made no promise of appointment of any kind.”

Courier-Journal, April 8 - Account(?); quote Henry Cherry’s letter. No doubt but that Henry Cherry is far from well, “but many of his friends are of the opinion that had some of those who originally encouraged him to get into the race continued loyal, he would have ‘gone to the post,’ as it were, in August.”

Henry Cherry to E.H. Turner, Ft. Deposit, Ala., Feb. 26, 1917 - "To tell you the truth, I am beginning to feel that I am getting old. I am even reminded by my power of endurance, and yet I feel that I am able to do the best piece of work of my life.”

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 3 - Cherry: Health 1917

General Correspondence 1917

Henry Cherry to J.H. Brewer, Louisville, Feb. 1, 1917 - "I have had the meanest case of grip a man ever had on earth, and am not at all well at this writing." Every member of his family had it at the same time.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 3 - Cherry: Health 1919

General Correspondence 1919

Henry Cherry to A.S. McKenzie, New York City, Oct. 11, 1919 - "I came near losing my life before I knew it. I do not think my trouble was caused from hard work. I was simply poisoned from the bottom of my feet to the top of my head, and I became so desperately poisoned that I was stranded and unable to go. In fact, I reached the point where I could not walk without staggering and falling. Two operations, however, have relieved me of the source of the poison and removed a vast amount of it from me, and I am now eliminating the balance of it in a most satisfactory way.”

Henry Cherry to Prof. A.W. Mell, Nov. 3, 1919 - Because so ill he went to Florida but that didn't help. Retired to little house on Barren River, but became terribly smaller from --. Operated on, was in hospital 4 weeks. Then X-rayed in Louisville where 5-6 infected places were found in my face. Had to extract tooth & part of jaw bone. Is now feeling better than he had in years.

No doubt but that he would have won the Democratic nomination for Governor had he remained in the race. Wasn't in his office from Feb. 1 until late September. Still can't do an old-fashioned day's work.

Mattie McLean to Nell Moorman, Chicago, June 28, 1919 - Says Mr. Cherry recently had throat operation. Looks thin & weak but says he feels like a different man.
Henry Cherry to Dr. Fred Mutchler, Lexington, Aug. 21, 1919 - Has gained 12 pounds since leaving Norton’s Infirmary in Louisville.

George Calvin to Henry Cherry, July 29, 1921 - “I think it would be wisdom on your part, regardless of the conditions there in the school, to take a few days rest . . . There is a limit to any man's endurance and you mustn’t forget that you have been attempting to do the work of a half dozen men. It is economy to quit before you reach the breaking point . . . No man has contributed more largely to our educational awakening than you, but we shall need you still, and for that reason you must be careful of your health.”

Henry Cherry to Superintendent George Calvin, June 25, 1921 - Has spent 2 days at Dawson Springs drinking the water. “I want to go to the hospital for an operation as soon as I can get my system in condition for an operation. I think it will be a minor one and that I will be out again within a few days. I am really quite tired.”

Henry Cherry to George Washington Cherry (no address), June 8, 1922 - Says he weighed 145 pounds (?) (May mean 175) until about 1910. When he became ill two years ago, before his 2 operations, he got down to 139. Is now 174 and has “more energy and vitality than I have had in fifteen years.”

Henry Cherry to M.A. Leiper, Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 12, 1922 - “Have been swimming and exercising so much that I am so sore that I can hardly walk . . . ” We’re putting up a tent at Woodbury as headquarters for a month. “It is my plan to live a very active and rough life, doing a great deal of swimming, fishing, walking, etc.” “I am tired, yet I am active and vigorous. I guess I was made out of steel, otherwise I would be dead.”

Henry Cherry to Col. J.M. Guilliams, Berea, Sept. 19, 1922 - Has been resting 3 weeks & had his tonsils out; they were in bad condition. Feels better than he has in 20 years. Had been ill 10-12 years before crisis came. Weighs 171 pounds now.

Henry Cherry to T.J. Coates, Eastern Kentucky University, Sept. 2, 1922 - “I had my tonsils removed here on yesterday (Louisville?) morning but I am getting along splendidly. I pursued this course as a safeguard rather than a necessity.”

Henry Cherry to H.L. Donovan, July 20, 1928 - “I am very, very tired and find some difficulty in attempting to take on extra duties, but I fully agree with you that I should be present. . . . “

July 27, 1928 - “I have been extremely unwell recently. I have just passed through the most strenuous year of my life. It seems that I am completely worn out in a physical way.” Is asking Mr. Will Craig to represent him.

Henry Cherry to Dr. C.W. Dowden, Louisville, Jan. 9, 1933 - Check for $70 to pay for his examination. Is delighted to learn there’s nothing fundamentally wrong with his health. Has tried “the psylla seed with remarkable results . . . ”

General Correspondence Series 2 1910
Mrs. C.J. Mosely, Owensboro to Henry Cherry, Oct. 29, 1910 - Has a son there, "He needs the benefit of an education badly. He has become discouraged and homesick and I fear will leave before you can see him. As he wrote me he would start for home Sun. at 2 o'clock." Please encourage him to stay. He has good habits & works hard. "He has never liked to go to school or be away from home. Bu he is 21 yrs. of age and I feel if he gives up now He will never get an education." An anxious mother.

College Heights Herald, June 1927 - Cherry - History of WKU, June 1927 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/2251/
1 At chapel on Monday, June 27, President Henry Cherry gave a history of Western. Says that Southern Normal enlisted(?) whole-heartedly into movement for normal schools. "This institution offered its entire equipment and organization to the state without one penny of cost, President Cherry said, and as a result the new normal school to be located in the western part of the state came to Bowling Green."
"You may not know it," the speaker declared, "but for four years after this creation it was a difficult task to keep the Legislature from abolishing the two normal schools already established."
Normal students weren't very popular & many thought they should be confined to teaching theories of teaching. Had to struggle to get sound academic training added.
2 1st year, WKU began with enrollment of 1,048, 1 building, 20 faculty & yearly income of $20,000. Now (1927): 3,400 students, 14 buildings, equipment worth nearly $1,000,000.
"It has always been a marvel to us," said the president, "how an institution with an enrollment of over a thousand students could be run on a yearly income of $20,000."
Said that in moving to the Hill it was necessary to get deeds from 42 people & engage in no little litigation to get the site. Henry Cherry: "This thing has cost toil and suffering, it has literally cost blood, and I appeal to you as students and benefactors of its blessings to help carry on its great work and make it even a greater institution."

Henry Cherry to Rev. J.T. Cherry, Elkton, Jan. 16, 1920 - Says they have just moved into new house. Cost was double the original estimate, but we had no place to live. (Where had his home been? City Directory?)

Henry Cherry to Josephine Cherry, Cambridge, Mass., May 17, 1919 - Thanks to the oil situation, Mrs. Cherry made a "splendid" sale of our home to Mr. Morris, an oil man. We took 65' off the back end of the lot - easily worth $2,000. Then sold house & lot for $9,250. Are studying plan for a anew home at earliest possible date. Old one was very expensive to run; new one will be better. Hated to sell it only because of your fondness for it.

Henry Cherry to St. Louis Sash & Door Works, St. Louis, Dec. 8, 1919 - Begs them to deliver door & --- for his home. All fall, he & family have been living uncomfortably in ROTC barracks. All is completed except for door & ---. Can't you rush this at once?

1 [Item by A.J. Kinnaman] "It is now known that President Cherry has been in ill health for several years. He himself never realized his condition. That is not uncommon with men of his energy and will power in the execution of work in which he has a profound interest. Under the pressure of war publicity work he broke the last straw of strength and collapsed physically. Rest seemed to bring little or no relief. Pres. Cherry has always led an extremely active life. Men of his type find it difficult to rest. Intense activity is his only relief.

Recently Pres. Cherry underwent two very serious surgical operations. These seem to have brought relief. Every tissue of his body was full of poison from a local infection. At present he seems to be out of danger, and if all goes well he will be back at his work in September with all his old time vigor and enthusiasm."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 1 - Cherry: Inspiration 1907
General Correspondence 1907
Alonzo Miller, Webb City, Ark., to Henry Cherry, Sept. 21, 1907 - "Thanks him especially for his inspiration. "I don't believe anyone can attend the State Normal without becoming a much stronger character, by absorbing some of the character making elements which are the corner stone of its massive foundation. The S.N.S. are students - a body of peers whose surrounding atmosphere is so fully charged with a mental vigor, moral obligation and educational inspiration that anyone coming among them not endowed with all these necessary assets of life - nor capable of receiving them - is so much out of place as to be driven from it by a sheer consciousness of unworthly." But the others soon feel "as cog in that great educational machine whose first great proof of efficiency is in the unswerving character of its graduates."
Also praises democratic spirit. Of SNS: "... I predict for it a destiny whose brightness will exceed your wildest dreams. Though you and those other master builders may not live to enjoy the full fruits of the institution so firmly planted, still its branches will spring up thru educational inspiration of its students to bless this fair Southland, as a favored heir, in her coming generations.
"All honor to the S.N.S. her noble faculty and you her inspirer!"

Normal Heights, Feb. 1920 - Cherry: Inspirational 1920 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/4058/ 2 "The Qualifications and Salaries of Teachers." "Any citizen who tries to improve the affairs of his community by withholding support to better qualified and better paid teachers proceeds on the theory that the way to be rescued from a leaking boat is to make the leak larger and sink the boat. Ideals and dollars will stop the leak."
"Teach, teach, teach; teach like 'thunder and lightning.' Teach for more life, and then if you want to for more dollars. Teach out of the professional deadwood; teach in the professional spirit. Teach out the inadequate one-teacher school; teach in the consolidated school. Teach for God, home and country, for the rule of ideals of social and industrial justice. Teach from within and if you can, teach from without. Teach with your feet on the earth and with your eyes on the stars, but be sure you teach with the 'sword of the spirit.'"

" Also, much inspired when you visited Kiwanis Club & visited our high school.

"Daily he lifted the skyline of our horizon and the world became larger and larger to those who lingered(?) in his presence . . . he aroused in us a passion to be somebody and to do something in the world. It is no mere accident that he located his college on a hill where there are long vistas, where there are no obstructions to the view as far as the human eye can see. This view is symbolic of the meaning of life to him."

Paul Garrett Papers: 8 - Cherry: Inspires

James F. Ramey, Vice President Washington National Insurance Company, to Paul Garrett, June 9, 1950 - Congratulates him upon work he is doing. "I once met a young man from Kentucky in New York and when in our conversation he expressed a type of optimism and hope and outlook on life I said to him, 'You have been to school at Bowling Green.' He replied that he had. There is something young Kentuckians have gotten at the institutions founded by H.H. Cherry and so ably carried forward by you that so far as I know can be had at not other place."

"I recall that when I had worked my way through Bowling Green Business College and the Southern Normal School and entered business that I felt then that I could lick the world regardless of what opposition was offered."

"I have seen so many who came away from your institution with the same spirit that I just thought I would tell you about it."

Kelly Thompson "What It Will Mean" - Kelly Thompson called to Henry Cherry before leaving on his 1st trip to visit schools in 1920. "He walked with me from his office through the rotunda of the Administration Building [Van Meter Hall] and through the doors of the façade of the Building. As a parting challenge, he said: 'Young man, look as far as you can see,' as he pointed out toward the beautiful view with which we are all familiar. 'Young man, look as far as you can see and describe it to me.' I told him that I could see the horizon very clearly, with the hills meeting the sky and the beautiful countryside between the horizon and the campus. I shall never forget what he said. "You must see farther than that - you must see beyond those hills, beyond that horizon - far beyond are Kentucky boys and girls desperately in need of education. Remember that you must always try to see farther than you can see."

2 Little over a month ago Kentucky teachers elected Dr. Henry Cherry president of Kentucky Education Association for the coming school year. Carries much honor & prestige but it also "carries with it a tremendous amount of hard work and unceivable responsibility." He spent several days last week in Louisville working on plans. --- on membership (sub 12,000) and a legislative program. Rally to his leadership!

General Correspondence 1927
William S. Taylor, University of Kentucky, Education to Henry Cherry April 26, 1927 - This Kentucky Education Association was "by far the best that I have ever attended. You are to be congratulated upon the excellent program, upon the spirit of good will that prevailed, and upon the great success that you achieved in enrolling the largest number of people ever recorded as members of the organization. The teachers of Kentucky are indebted to you for many services and not least of these is the remarkable achievement of the past year."

<td>Henry Cherry to H.K. I fully realize, however, that a man can stay on his job until live things become dead things, until a profession might become routine rather than life [sic] which is absolutely necessary to one's own personal development and to the success of the thing he works for. I think it would be good for me, and good for the institution, to get away awhile so that I can have a rest and remain until I become deadly homesick to return to this splendid work which is to me a religion, a gospel.&quot; The interest &amp; confidence of that Board - &quot;... it is this kind of confidence that develops the highest effort in me.&quot; &quot;The school is in perfect condition ...&quot;</td>

Henry Cherry to H.C. Stephens, Nov. 13, 1916 - "I am literally overwhelmed with work that I have to do . . . I am out of the city more than one-half of each week, and sometimes away for a number of weeks. The vast amount of work where I should take the initiative is no piled on my desk . . . "

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Loans 1912
General Correspondence 1912
Henry Cherry to Mary E. Collins, Crab Orchard, Jan. 12, 1912 - Unless he receives $20 per month payments on her note, he will have to turn it over to a collector. Says it was cash from his own pocket for her education. He just can't carry it any longer.

Mary E. Collins to Henry Cherry, Nov. 11, 1911 - Sorry she hasn't been able to pay for past 2 months, but will soon start (in Jan.) at $25 per month.

Dec. 7, 1917 Henry Cherry to Mary E. Collins - Received check for $65.00. New note of July 19, 1909 was for $135.95. You have paid:
Jan. 1912 $10.00
May 1912 50.00
Dec. 1912 65.00 Total of $125
Balance + interest of $9.29 = $20.24
Says he has been paying 6% interest at bank. The $65 came "when I was much In need of funds."

Henry Cherry to D.H. Anderson, Jan. 1, 1932 - Interested in helping carry out suggestion, but impossible to know what can be done at the legislative session.

R.B. Atwood, President, Kentucky State Industrial College, Frankfort, Jan. 29, 1932 to Henry Cherry - Won standardization less than a year ago. Asked Budget Commission for $190,000 for 2 years to maintain it. It has received only $140,000. We can't keep our rating with that sum. If so, "There will not be any place in the state where a colored teacher can qualify to teach in our own accredited high schools." Seeks his help in getting more aid.

Henry Cherry to R.B. Atwood, Feb. 4, 1932 - Is "deeply interested in your work and the advancement of your school." Will continue to support it. (No specific pledge.)

Henry Cherry to Mrs. Anna Garvey Kemper, New Liberty, Ky., Sept. 16, 1913 - "I certainly have no prejudice against a college graduate. On the contrary, I am doing everything within my power to influence as many people as possible to go through college and the university."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 1 - Cherry: On Certification 1907
General Correspondence 1907
Henry Cherry to Miss Lou Ella Acree, Patterson Hall, Lexington, July 16, 1907 - Denies that he had attacked Prof. White and the granting of diplomas for so little work. There is considerable talk across the state about this & there is obvious need for uniformity. "Never in my life anywhere or any time have I made a personal attack on any educator or any institution, public or private. This has been my life and my conduct." Says he used little influence to keep her & her sister from going to State College (University of Kentucky). "I believe in a standard and a uniform standard and a harmonious development of all school interest."

<td>Henry Cherry to W.M. Pearce, Oct. 7, 1913 - &quot;No. 1. Our school is not a visible organization. We put no emphasis whatever upon mechanical organization. The school, however, is a growing living organism that has a vision that sees the right and a nerve that fights the wrong. The responsibility for the conduct and the standards of the institution is put on the individual, and the school is ruled largely by a spiritual spontaneity that shapes the policy of the institution and makes it[s] standards. I do not believe in a mechanical organization. Ethical man is more important than organization. “No. 2. The select(?) but strong and aggressive leadership of the teacher is the greatest factor in the life on the school. The great teacher must necessarily have great ideals; and if he is living these ideals, he will transmute them into school life, and a mechanical effort to turn an ideal over to the school is usually a failure. While on the other hand, living the ideal will establish it in the work of the institution.”</td>

When E.H. Canon first met Henry Cherry in 1910, E.H. Canon Interview

Henry Cherry to B.W. Sherrill, Pineville, March 22, 1926

“We are very happy over the general condition of the institution and look buoyantly into the future for even greater experiences.”

Talk with Gayle Carver, Oct. 16, 1981 - Cherry: Personal

“...But he drank heavily on weekends. A secretary told several people (including Gayle) about competing with Henry Cherry after the office closed on Saturday to see who could drink the most. When Henry Cherry stopped by a downtown hotel each morning to pick up an early paper, it was often evident that he had had something to drink. Gayle Carver doesn’t think that there is any doubt but that Henry Cherry was drunk in 1937 when he had the fall that led to his death. As to women, Gayle Carver had never heard any rumors of that.

Henry Cherry to Howard Kinnaman, Earlham College, Dec. 16, 1911 (Howard was son of A.J. Kinnaman at WKU)

General Correspondence 1910

“...At any rate, I have given every inch of my whole life to this institution. For forty-three years I have literally lived in it, making every sacrifice within my power to advance the cause of education through its organization.”

Henry Cherry to Judge J.P. Haswell, Louisville, July 17, 1924

“...I think I shall be in very good shape in every way. At any rate, I have given every inch of my whole life to this institution. For forty-three years I have literally lived in it, making every sacrifice within my power to advance the cause of education through its organization.”

Henry Cherry to Howard Kinnaman, Earham College, Dec. 16, 1911 (Howard was son of A.J. Kinnaman at WKU)

General Correspondence 1911

“...I have insured [sic] every inch of my whole life to this institution. For forty-three years I have literally lived in it, making every sacrifice within my power to advance the cause of education through its organization.”

“...When E.H. Canon first met Henry Cherry in 1910 - "Well, I was overwhelmed with him. I don't know how to approach him. 'Cause he was a very positive man and..."
Henry Cherry had very little formal education. He ran WKU in a very personal way. Henry Cherry was effective fund raiser, worked with legislative leaders. Says most students didn't understand Henry Cherry. Nor Dero Downing. "But men of leadership really would be attracted to him if they knew him for his real worth." Not sure just how promotions & tenure were handled then; not much was said about them.

J.S. Brown - Nov. 19, 1932 - Cherry: Personality
Founder's Day Address. O.J. Wilson "History" "Western's Old Idealism in A Modern Setting"

"How often have I heard him with the zeal of a missionary and the fire of a prophet fling out from this platform the admonition of vision - vision to push back the horizon of ignorance, of stupidity, of lethargy and self satisfaction."

"I Never [sic] heard him use the phrase, public relations, but as we understand the term today, he was a master of the art."
At "critical junctures" he would invite the legislature to visit Western - and he usually got what he wanted.

Donovan, H.L. & N.S. Papers - Cherry: Personality
Box 7 F. C

"For sheer ability to inspire youth, I have never known President Cherry's equal. For over forty years daily, he assembled at the chapel the young people of his college and shared with them the bread of life.

"We can hear him now as he urged us not to fish with a pin hook for minnows in a shallow stream, but to launch out into deeper waters for a larger catch. We can never forget how he bade us be seekers of life, more life. We sat on the edges of our seats as he interpreted to us the meaning of democracy and education. Daily he lifted the skyline of our horizon and the world became larger and larger to (3) those who lingered in his presence . . . He stirred us in a passion to be somebody and to do something in the world.

"It is no mere accident that he located his college on a hill where there are long vistas, where there are not obstructions to the view as far as the human eye can see. This view is symbolic of the meaning of life to him."

Kreisler, Carl, Henry Hardin Cherry - Cherry: Personality

27-28 T.O. Hall: "Dr. Cherry possessed the true quality of a leader in that he never doubted his own importance and his own destiny."

28 Arndt Stickles: "He never did a dishonest thing as long as I knew him."

"Had a keen sense of honor at time . . .

29 E.A. Diddle: Henry Cherry was early riser, would usually go eat at a local restaurant. Then came back & walk over the campus before going to the office for a long day.
30 A fighter, but not foolhardy. "He knew when to fight and when to wait until a more favorable moment." He bounced back from defeats.
31 Didn't have a great speaking voice, but he could hold an audience.
38 Henry Cherry had a need for approval.
39 He was hurt by the rejection of his friends when he ran for governor.
40 Wanted to be esteemed(?). "He was a proud man if not a vain one."

42 Liked to quote Ralph Waldo Emerson: "Let us affront and reprimand the smooth mediocrity and squalid contentment of the times."

43 He was driven to excel & he wanted others to do the same.

48 In Henry Cherry, Our Civic Image, 34: "Enthusiasm is the fire that blazes in every successful life."
55 Henry Cherry had firm belief in a democratic society. Always, he stressed the absolute necessity of a good educational system. It was essential to democracy.
77 Believed in progress toward a better society.
90 Henry Cherry had read some of James, but there are no indications he knew John Dewey's works.
94 Never approved(?) social frats at his college. (Most of his ideas come from him.)

1 from Kelly Thompson's message when University Bill passed. "I shall always remember what Dr. H.H. Cherry said to me when I started as a field representative for Western in June, 1929. I had called on the Western founder before leaving on my first trip to visit schools and school officials in Western Kentucky. He walked with me from his office through the rotunda of the Administration Building [Van Meter Hall] and through the doors to the façade of the Building. As a parting challenge, he said: 'Young man, look as far as you can see,' as he pointed out toward the beautiful view which we are all familiar. 'Young man, look as far as you can see and describe it to me.' I told him that I could see the horizon very clearly, with the hills meeting the sky and the beautiful countryside between the horizon and the campus. I shall never forget what he said: 'You must see farther than that - you must see beyond those hills, beyond that horizon - far beyond are Kentucky boys and girls desperately in need of education. Remember that you must always try to see farther than you can see.'"
Henry Cherry to Col. J.W. Guilliams, Berea, July 14, 1921 - Must construct a Training School as soon as possible. Then a central heating / power / light plant - it would reduce costs considerably. Modern gymnasium. Improvement of grounds. At earliest possible moment, got to 4 years beyond high school instead of 2 years. "We have already begun a campaign along this line . . . before many days I hope to be able to present arguments that will be unanswerable." Wants his help. What would be Berea's reaction? "The normal schools in the United States are rapidly becoming teachers' colleges."

Henry Cherry to J. Brown, Campbellsville, July 18, 1923 - "... every energy and influence within our power will be used in a most constructive way to make College Heights an outstanding West Point, a great plant for the training of teachers."

Henry Cherry to Amy M. Longest, Alaska, Feb. 19, 1929 - Seeks funds ($300,000) for Kentucky Building & Loan Funds. "I am telling my friends that this [is] my last will and testament. In other words after this program is put over I shall not assume any extra duties or leadership outside of my immediate position. I have given over half of the energies of my life to community programs not directly connected with my position."

Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Medford, Ore., Jan. 20, 1914 - Inspectors will be here next week to see "if we are running business right down here." Hope to satisfy them. "I know we have a great school and I know that it is being conducted in a most efficient manner and the state's interest has been safeguarded. It sometimes happens, however, that a man is subjected to criticism because he doesn't follow the inflexible law. I have been convinced from the time that I was put at the head of the institution that it would be impossible to have a great institution by blowing it through a quill or making it in a mould. There must be latitude, and it must have the power of the initiative or it would not be stronger than an individual who does not have individuality or the initiative."

Henry Cherry to George Cherry, Feb. 24, 1914 - Sends him Courier-Journal that tells of the state's investigation. "Not a single educational institution escaped a most terrific criticism except ours . . . the institution has been highly complimented . . . Nothing has ever happened since I have been the in the school work that has helped me so much as the friendship of the Committee and the State Inspector."

We've got extensive publicity.
Henry Cherry to Walter Forgy, Dec. 2, 1911 - "The Western Normal is entirely out of politics, and for this reason, I have never taken any active part in anything of a political nature." Is sure all the candidates are good men.

75% in rural schools
17% in graded
4% in high schools
Since start of State Normal, WKU trained teachers have taught at least 250,000 different children.

Henry Cherry to John W. Cherry, Atlanta, Dec. 29, 1911 - General Assembly convenes next Monday with a bitter fight expected over Speakership. He has been in Frankfort. Is sending you a copy of my report to General Assembly. "I have attempted to show that we are reaching the masses and are accomplishing the purpose for which the institution was created. This report is regarded by those who have seen it as about the most clever piece of work that has been done in the State. In fact, strong men have spoken in a most enthusiastic manner of it. A few enemies have already been converted."

Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Medford, Oregon, Oct. 9, 1911 - "Bitter election but thinks Democrats will win. "The Normal will be in good shape regardless of the result, as it has staid [sic] out of politics and has merited support regardless of the party that may be successful."

Personal Correspondence 1909-1912
Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Medford, Oregon, Dec. 18, 1912 - "We have made a tremendous fight in this state, and fortunately or unfortunately the institution which I represent is in attitude of the leader in matters of legislation, and I came in prominently in the fight . . . Of course, I am making a hard fight. Maybe we have pressed the Legislature too hard, and maybe we have really gotten an unusual large amount of money, considering the condition of the Treasury. There is one glorious thing in this whole proposition, and that is we have not been forced to kneel down before dark-corner politicians and ask them if they would allow us to have an appropriation. We have smashed political conventionalities and made our fight from a progressive viewpoint, and it has been eminently successful."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Politics 1913
General Correspondence 1913 (Assistant Superintendent of Education) 1913
Henry Cherry to V.O. Gilbert, Frankfort, Jan. 30, 1913 - "Urges non-personal approach in press dispatches out of Frankfort relative to school matters. Talk of politicians organizing against us may --- opposition. Believes most people are for progress. "Education is a gospel; it is contagious, and the people are inherently for it." Let us take a stand on principles, not personalities. (Number of other letters between them.)"
Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Medford, Ore., Jan. 20, 1914 - "I may decide all at once some of these days to leap over into a new field of action and try my hand at a public contest. I have been solicited to do it many times but I am afraid of results in the political field."

Henry Cherry to Rev. Jeremiah T. Cherry, Jeffersontown, March 11, 1914 - "By the way, speaking in the most profound confidence, I am about to enter a new effort that will be state wide, but it will be the supreme effort of my life. I may not do it, but I am thinking about it seriously, and a good deal of pressure is being put upon me to take the step. If I do, I am hoping to make it the most productive and the most capable attempt in all of my public experience."

Henry Cherry to Rev. Jeremiah Cherry, Jeffersontown, April 22, 1914 (Folder 1914-1916) - "I am refraining from making any statement that I am interested in the Governor's race." But much interest is being shown in it. "In fact, it looks as though I would have no trouble winning the nomination."

Henry Cherry to Jeremiah Cherry, Sebree, Jan. 11, 1915 (Folder 1914-1916) - "You've probably read my account(?). "I am now in the fight. There is no way for me to come out. I am going to win . . . The way to win is for everybody that loves me to go to work and talk to their friends and get their friends and their friends friends to talk to others and thus make an endless chain." William E. Bohannon, Superintendent Wickliffe City School, to Henry Cherry, May 13, 1914 - He is "glad to read that the good people of Kentucky are asking you to make the race for governor." Henry Cherry to Superintendent Jonathan N. Gosney, Falmouth, Ky., May 19, 1914 - "I have not, at this time, even a silent purpose to enter the race for the Governorship of Kentucky. After 22 years, "It would be very difficult to withdraw from the school field and especially from this institution."

Henry Cherry to Mrs. Pearl Hindman Harris, Catlettsburg, Sept. 8, 1914 - "Confidentially, I have been wondering if anybody in Boyd county would vot for me if I should enter the race you mention. I am not thinking about it very seriously yet."

Henry Cherry Papers: 76 - Politics 1914
Personal Correspondence 1914-1916
Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Medford Ore., Oct. 1, 1914 - "I keep thinking that I shall not enter the race. In fact, I feel reasonably certain I should not. I want to say that there is quite an interest being manifested in the proposition. Many people want me to enter the race and believe I would not have any trouble in winning . . . I have such a tremendous piece of work to do on the bill that I dislike thoroughly to leave it . . . I shall decide, however, within a few weeks just what I am going to do. It will be necessary to do this. I am feeling at this time, as though I shall not enter the race. There is, however, a tremendous pressure being brought to bear upon me. There are many reasons why I dislike to go into it. One reason is the State Wide Prohibition question which I believe will complicate the situation and jeopardize the democratic party."

Henry Cherry to George Cherry & family, Dec. 8, 1914 - "Have had a great deal of trouble in settling my own mind as to my next step in life . . . If certain things happen, I will be forced to make the race. Will have no choice about it. I feel certain that I could go in and win." But would hate to leave the Hill, & there is risk ---. Will probably decide soon.

Henry Cherry to George Cherry & family, Dec. 23, 1915 - "Thousands of the leading citizens of the State believe, beyond any doubt, that if I had remained in the race, I would have walked up with the nomination within three weeks from the time I withdrew. Many believe that I would have been elected in the final election by an overwhelming majority . . . There is a general feeling that if I want to be, I can be elected governor of Kentucky four years from now . . . I hope you will understand the spirit in which I am writing. There is not the smallest part of egotism in it . . . I came out with flying colors."

Special Correspondence 1914-1916
Henry Cherry to President H.S. Barker, State University, Oct. 14, 1915 - Henry Cherry has been in habit of giving to state Democratic campaigns $50 - $75, sometimes as high as $150. Just as an individual - nothing to do with the college. But he has spent thousands on his recent campaign & hopes he won't be asked for more.

Henry Cherry to Miss Laura Frazee, Indianaplois, Nov. 9, 1915 - "I went into the Governor's race with high motives and a great program, but after entering it I decided that it was going to be turned into an intense wet and dry fight and I was not willing to get mixed up in a fight of this nature... I withdrew out of a high sense of a moral duty and in order to avoid being put in the appearance of throwing rocks at my own ideals. " But that issue didn't develop that way. Is sure he would have won. But he is in stronger position than before. "The announcement which I wrote, the speech which I made, the withdrawal card which I submitted and the speech that, I made before the Convention at Louisville were all of a nature to create a respect in the minds of the people for me that they had never entertained before... I have made thousands of prominent friends by... entered the race... I have more influence than ever before."

In a field report from A.L. Crabb to Henry Cherry, nd (But Henry Cherry stated in 1916 in faculty). - He has though a great deal about the governorship & has kept his ears open, "and the more I think the more insistently it occurs to me that you are the man and this is the time." Personally, doesn't want him to run because he cares more for the welfare for the school than anything else. But for the good of the state, you should do it. - would give "a new dignity and a new vitality such as has lately been --- with the Presidency of the United States."

Henry Cherry to A.O. Mell, Jeffersontown, March 17, 1916 - Has been very busy in Frankfort. Slipped down to Louisville Saturday night and slept from 8 pm until 2:00 am Sunday. Then back to Frankfort. Lttle sleep for several days but got passed the 4 bills in which he was concerned. Nearly lost one on --- last night - the one that took care of our indebtedness & relieved us of paying $5,000 per year out of current expenses. It passed at 2:00 am Wednesday - the last bill passed in the session. All were of vital importance to us. "I am at home tired and overwhelmed with work. I really have about two or three times as much as I can do." Leave Monday morning for Louisville for a few hours, then to Lexington about 4:00. Speaks at the University next Tuesday morning.

Eastern Kentucky man said you were a fine educator but would not make a good governor. "That your entering the race was a movement to put the Western State Normal in power or position to dominate the educational affairs of the state."

Was in the hospital in Louisville for over four weeks and in the hospital here for about the same length of time. I believe I am in better shape now than I have been for some time. (Number of T.J. Coates letters from 1924 & 1925 are in this folder)
Henry Cherry to T.J. Coates, Eastern Kentucky University, Jan. 2, 1924 - Henry Cherry said nothing to Governor about the talks he & T.J. Coates had had. “He assured me that the thing we feared would not appear in his message. I opened a way for the appropriation through the budget commissioners . . . “ but did not mention our talks “because I felt it would be more effective for the Eastern to make its own initiative(?).”

T.J. Coates to Henry Cherry, Feb. 29, 1924 - Budget Commission turned him (T.J. Coates) down. Will be glad, personally, for you to get anything you can. This doesn't necessarily speak for Board or people of this district.

Henry Cherry to T.J. Coates, April 3, 1924 - We got $200,000 for Training School building. [College High Hall] "It was a difficult, and in many ways, unpleasant experience, but it was also necessary to secure the building in order to save the institution. We were really in a very serious condition . . . we would have been forced to go back, rather than forward, without the building. We shall, as it is, be subjected to many severe hardships."

Grateful for his attitude & “the enthusiastic statements made by Senator Brock and Judge Carmack to the Governor. I believe without these statements, the Governor would not have signed our appropriation.”

Thinks we should try to establish a more concrete organization between institutions. Can we get together to do so?

Henry Cherry to Judge J.W. Carmack, Owenton, Ky., Aug. 12, 1927 - Congratulates him on nomination for Democratic Party for Attorney General. “My great desire now is to see the full democratic ticket elected in November and this effort will have my earnest support.”

Henry Cherry to Homer Nichols, Frankfort, April 28, 1917 - Thinks the teaching profession "should nominate the next Superintendent." He is supporting Bill. If "selfish interests" that have become associated with education challenge this, we should fight them to see who controls education in Kentucky. "I am not willing to sit still and allow some outside interest and influence to direct the educational policies of our State . . . I think we should fight along this line.”

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 12 - Cherry: Politics 1928
General Correspondence 1928
Henry Cherry to Judge M.M. Logan, Frankfort, Jan. 14, 1928 - Our appropriation will depend upon Budget Commission: Governor, Mr. Coleman the Auditor, Mr. Lewis, Chairman of Tax Commission. Left his statement with him. Very important that you get Mr. Lewis interested in our requests. Also, try to interest the others as well. Presidents will probably be called before the Budget Commission within next few days.
Henry Cherry to Capt. Brinton B. Davis, Louisville, March 10, 1930 - Thinks Governor will sign budget bill. It gives WKU $225,000 for building and capital improvement. Has in the Senate a proposed $50,000 for Kentucky Building, but hasn't pushed it until budget is out of the way. 15 Senators told me they would be for it. Isn't going to Frankfort this week if he can avoid it. Has sent M.C. Ford & William Craig over to look after the Kentucky Building bill. General Assembly will visit WKU Saturday from 12 until 3. Can he be present?

Henry Cherry to Brinton Davis, March 3, 1930 - Budget bill passed House after terrific fight. Should be OK in Senate. "I shall introduce in the General Assembly today a bill for the appropriations of $50,000 to the Kentucky Building on the condition that the College Heights Foundation put up $100,000." Governor will help get it approved & Henry Cherry thinks it will go through.

Henry Cherry to Regent Col. E.B. Bassett, Hopkinsville, March 11, 1930 - Members of General Assembly will be our guests 12 - 2:00 pm on Saturday, March 15. Dinner will be served on College Heights. Hopes he can be there.

Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Enterprise, Oregon, March 31, 1930 - Ripper bills took much of Governor's power away from him. But I came out in splendid shape, having avoided being identified with either side. Governor "has told me emphatically and with a good deal of warmth that he is going to stand by me and this institution to the end." He & State Superintendent of Public Instruction (whom Henry Cherry says he selected for that position) have tried to destroy each other. We will have about $50,000 --- to work with next year.

Henry Cherry to H.L. Donovan, Nov. 15, 1933 - I guess you know that under no conditions will I agree to a law of this kind . . . You can depend on me to be active."

"I do not myself feel like Western needs a guardian."

"The idea of holding a responsible leader of an institution for effective work and at the same time deprive him the privilege of making his courses of study and of taking initiative is beyond my comprehension." Will ask for meeting of Teachers College Council on Nov. 24.

Henry Cherry to Dr. Henry J. Willingham, Florence, Ala., Jan. 13, 1934 (Henry Willingham is not running for governor of Alabama). - "I have come to the conclusion, however, in recent years that a president of a teachers college will in the end render his state a greater service than a governor of the Commonwealth. This is true unless political sections change to an extent that will enable a worthy leader to be considered on the merits and ability and leadership."

J.D. Falls, Morehead to Henry Cherry, June 18, 1934 - "I want to congratulate you on knowing your psychology and politics. Your predictions concerning the Sales Tax Bill was perfect. I do not see how you do it, but you do." Sales tax & new school code puts education in Kentucky in good shape. "I believe that you have done more to bring this about than any man in the state."

Form that says Henry Cherry is on the "Democratic Roll of Honor" for having contributed $50 to the Kentucky Democratic Committee.

General Correspondence 1935
Henry Cherry to Rainey T. Wells, Omaha, Neb., July 17, 1935 - "The political campaign in Kentucky is the worst in its history." Nearly all candidates are attacking Tom Rhea & sales tax, but none indicate what they would replace it with. Present tax automatically ends July 1. If something is done: "This institution and others like it will almost be forced to close their doors." Kentucky's credit will be destroyed & Kentucky wouldn't be able to match & obtain federal funds. Only Tom Rhea "has diagnosed the case and offered a prescription . . . " Next is Huddleston unless something happens, Tom Rhea or A.B. Chandler will be the nominee. Believes Tom Rhea will win, although A.B. Chandler has been gaining rapidly of late.
A.B. Chandler spoke here Saturday. "He did not speak a word of a constructive nature. All of it was a superficial nature. Some of his statements where [sic] even in bad taste and extremely unethical when referring to his opponents. He did not mention education in his address or any institution in Kentucky." Emory Dent, Frankfort to Henry Cherry, Sept. 12, 1936 - Governor has accepted my resignation & I understand Bartlett's as well. As I see it, this + his failure to make new appointments is an effort on his part "to force you to curb the activities of Rodes Myers." He knows you can't let contracts for new building until Board nominees are filled.

Charles G. Franklin, Madisonville, to Henry Cherry, April 11, 1936 - Governor has accepted my resignation & I understand Bartlett's as well. As I see it, this + his failure to make new appointments is an effort on his part "to force you to curb the activities of Rodes Myers." He knows you can't let contracts for new building until Board nominees are filled.

General Correspondence 1936
Amael Rhodes Price, Oakville, to Henry Cherry, Dec. 30, 1935 - Heard indirectly that you feared you would lose presidency of WKU through political upheaval. "This is foolish and absurd." Your friend Tom Rhea, not satisfied with the complete mess he had made of things, started fight with A.B. Chandler to control the legislature. A.B. Chandler: "He has no intention of firing you or your regents unless you swing off with Rhea and join a legislative fight." I agree with A.B. Chandler that the corrupt Tom Rhea machine is wiped out. "Simply do nothing, and things will straighten out." Thinks Rodes K. Myers might as well withdraw from the Speaker's race. He has allowed Tom Rhea to make a fool of him.

Henry Cherry to Mr. Emory Dent, Dept. of Revenue, Frankfort, Sept. 1, 1936 - Emory Dent has approached Henry Cherry to fire some campus people & replace with others. Henry Cherry defends specifically Joe McCarty, Jack Meredith and Lee Kelly. Says his aim is to give everyone a square deal & to expect 100% service & loyalty. Would destroy morale to discharge men who have served well and faithfully. Henry Cherry indicates that they have had several conversations on this.

Emory Dent is of C-D-S Drugs, Bowling Green).

Emory Dent, Frankfort to Henry Cherry, Sept. 12, 1936 - Angry letter. Charges that people had been appointed because of politics. Since Jack Meredith has invalid wife, will not insist on him. Does insist on other two. Sends copies to Mrs. Drake, Mr. Bororne, Mr. Cuthbertson.

Henry Cherry to Emory Dent, Sept. 28, 1936 - Anxious to see him. Went to store but you had gone. Hopes to see you Wednesday in Frankfort.

Henry Cherry address to faculty, Jan. 19, 1937 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/8550/
Rambling talk to effect that school should be non-political but as citizens faculty members should participate. Says he did get involved last campaign but it was to save education in the state. Whole education --- had been repealed. "That was when we ordered two special trains, twenty-eight coaches in all, and marched on Frankfort. We'll do it again to save education if it becomes necessary . . . we were left stranded without a dollar. The old school would have been closed unless something had been done. Some of you stood back and criticized and put burdens on some of our leaders because you did not understand the situation." Says he stood out in 110 degree heat when he was tired & worn out and spoke. "Grise, I don't know whether there are any other Republicans in the world besides you or not . . . Now Dean Grise has a mortgage on his home because he gave so much to the Republican Party." Doesn't know what church or what party they belong to. "Dean Grise, you were here for years before I knew you were a Republican, and I haven't thought much of you since, and I mean that, provided you don't take it too seriously."

Henry Cherry Papers: 88 - Cherry: Politics
Owensboro Messenger, Aug. 13, 1937 - Will be difficult to fill Henry Cherry's position. "Dr. Cherry was a politician, keen, incisive, alert, but no mere politician is meet to master the traditions that flourished about him and absorb them. He was a master manipulator of politicians when the future of Western was at stake. He knew how to gain the ear of those who held the purse strings of the state, and his deftness loosed those strings for making the Hill the incarnation, the epitome of his dreams. And his successor must be able to so impress the public with the need for further expansion or the translation of Dr. Cherry's earlier plans into stone. and steel will cease. Evidently the prime necessity for a president now is to carry on the program so far advanced. Not in adding buildings, in beautifying the Hill, in increasing the enrollment, but to continue the transmission of the high purpose of the founder . . .

Wilson, Gordon. Diary, March 31, 1968 - Cherry: Politics
"... I could never be enthusiastic for President Cherry as a candidate for governor. I would have voted for him, of course, and would have done everything reasonable to help him achieve the position. But I felt then and feel now that he did a wise thing to withdraw from seeking a political office." His comments may have helped call attention to education generally & Western especially. But look at political caused problems Morehead State University & Murray State University have had. Glad that WKU hasn't been involved in such.

Kelly Thompson: Well, in the archives of Western, one will find today all of the material which Dr. Cherry used in sounding out the possibility of his entering the race and the statements he made in entering the race for governor. They're all well documented and I know it because I have perused them myself. Suffice it to say that he did enter the governors race. Made the announcement that he was going to run for governor, and then through a strange series of events which are not documented in the archives of Western, opposition of a local nature developed. H.H. Denhardt, who later served as general of the National Guard in Kentucky, and who was a well known individual in his own right, also announced for governor. This was construed by those with whom I've talked to have been a direct political move to keep H.H. Cherry from running for governor, and when it happened, after conferring with friends, alumni, people who had urged him to run, Dr. Cherry simply withdrew from the race. And that ended his only political venture of his entire life.

Carlton Jackson: Was he a democrat?
Kelly Thompson: Yes, he was of the Wilsonian mold and probably the greatest exponent of the Jeffersonian outlook that one could find.

Ellsworth Regenstein, Newport to Henry Cherry, March 9, 1914 (Ellsworth Regenstein is attorney who is on Board of Regents - head of?) - "I was more than delighted to see the splendid report that the Legislative Committee made on the Western Normal. I could have prepared that report for them in advance, and so saved them the trouble. I do not mean to flatter, you, Cherry, nor to indulge in idle talk, when I say that you are the man who ought to be at the head of our State University, and I hope that I may have the privilege in the not far distant future of helping to put you there. I want to have a talk with you along this line."

| L.C. Guffey, Manual Training Normal School, Pittsburg, Kansas, July 1, 1920 - Says of Henry Cherry: "Never have I sat and listened to anyone delivering an address with the same deep feeling of appreciation for the lecture . . . I like to think of you as the Horace Mann of Kentucky and as one who has meant more to me than words can express."

| Mrs. W.R. Rhoads, Los Angeles (?) to Henry Cherry, April 27, 1922 - "Words fail me when I endeavor to express my joy and gratitude at receiving a personal letter from you." Has seen many schools, "... but never in any of them have I seen the fine spirit of good will and good fellowship that I found when I was in school there in 1900." "... sincere cordiality" was in the very atmosphere. |

News of it is always welcome, for I still insist that it's the best school in the whole United States or even the whole world. It is known by an enviable reputation down here."
| William E. Bohannon, Dean, School of Education, Harvard College, to Henry Cherry, May 18, 1927 - (Henry Cherry has been helpful to his niece. He was at Southern Normal School). "You have certainly done a great work in Kentucky. They talk about the State Teachers College and I talk about President H.H. Cherry. Page 119"
Park City Daily News, Dec. 22, 1928 - Cherry: Praised

10-12 John Wilson Townsend after a visit to the Western Teachers College wrote an article, or what he called his "Bowling Green Autobiography" about it. He opened his article with "I've been down to Bowling Green and I want to go again because in Bowling Green they have the finest men and women and one of the outstanding educational institutions in Kentucky - Western State Teachers College of which Henry Hardin Cherry whom Henry Watterson once characterized as 'a hell of a fellow,' is head." He concludes it by saying, "I intended to close by nominating Henry Hardin Cherry, 'the man that never met defeat' for the next governor of Kentucky, but the editor intimates that while he doesn't object to the candidate, he insists on first seeing 'the fellows that are to put him across.' I have invited him to go to Bowling Green and he will there find not a 'few fellows' but a whole damn country-side claming 'Cherry, Cherry,' all night long."

Dr. Granville S. Hanes, Louisville, President Kentucky State Medical Association, March 4, 1930 - Granville Hanes has visited WKU & spoke in chapel. Has told his friends that " . . . I never experienced a greater surprise than when I saw what was being done on College Heights. You have done and are doing a work in Bowling Green that the people of the state by no means know about and appreciate. I wish the facts concerning the wonderful work you are doing could be known to every one in our Commonwealth."

H.L. Donovan, Eastern Kentucky University to President Sam H. Whitley, State Teachers College, Commerce, Texas, Oct. 19, 1931 - "There is a spirit at Bowling Green that I have never seen manifested anywhere else in this country. The morale of the faculty and students is higher than is to be found in any other college of my acquaintance. This I attribute, in a very large measure, to the dynamic personality and wonderful ability of its President - H.H. Cherry. Somehow or other, he inspires the students of his college to attack their work with a vigor that leads them to achieve. Mr. Cherry is an inspiring leader and a splendid executive. The history of Western Kentucky State Teachers College is, in a large measure, the history of the life of H.H. Cherry. "If it had not been for Mr. Cherry's interest in me when I was a boy in his college, I probably would never have received an education. When I was out of money and about to leave school, he offered to loan me personally funds that would have enabled me to remain. While I did not accept his loan, nevertheless, I was able to borrow the money elsewhere because of his confidence in me."

I was greatly pleased, too, to see the enthusiastic spirit of the institution and the fine loyalty shown to you by all connected with it."

J.L. Crawford, Ed. Corbin Times-Tribune, Oct. 20, 1933 - "I think you have the greatest school in Kentucky, and I never fail to say a good word for it when the opportunity arises. I went from Western to the University of Kentucky for my junior and senior years, so that I might get journalism, but I never felt 'at home' in the Lexington institution."

A.L. Crabb, Peabody, to Henry Cherry, Jan. 22, 1934 - Heard recently that you were going to resign or go on emeritus basis. A.L. Crabb covets(?) for him the distinction of longest tenure of an American college president, and you need 5 ½ more years. "If I am any judge at all you have enough stamina to last five and a half years. If you have just simply got to die in the meantime, it would be far better to die sitting in your chair in your office. There would be a distinction in that. I do not believe there would be much for you in coming to a serious(?) old age, sitting placidly while the institution which you had formulated and developed goes to its destiny in other hands."

Henry Cherry to A.L. Crabb, Jan. 31, 1934 - Doesn't know the report's source, but it isn't true. "I think I shall be able to reach your suggested objective. I might add five years to it. I have never felt better nor had better health than now." Is tired as result of heavy detailed work of past year, but much of that is over.

Superintendent Frederick Archer, Louisville, to Henry Cherry, July 27, 1934 - "I have been associated with many colleges in my life and was raised in a college town, but I have never seen quite the spirit that is more than manifest on College Heights. Kelly Thompson to Henry Cherry, May 17, 1937, (Kelly Thompson has job with Indianapolis baseball club). - Lack of vision is main problem here. "The more I think of it the more I know that you would have been a billionaire had you spent you[r] life in the business world."

Glad that you were in Hot Springs when I left. "I think more of you than any man I have ever known. You just don't know how deep and sincere my admiration for you is. I told you at Western that you would be my guiding star from now on, and you will be just that. I hope to measure my important decisions that I made with the analysis of just how you would face the same situation."

Unidentified Bowling Green paper clipping, June 10, 1937 - Excellent prospects for WKU next year. "Pres. Cherry is doing the best piece of constructive school work that he has ever accomplished in his entire very successful career."

Richmond Register, Aug. 4, 1937 - "Within the space of his life great educational progress was made in Kentucky. No single individual contributed more to that advance than this beloved patriarch . . . Dr. Cherry perhaps traveled(?) more lines, kindled the fire of ambition in hearts of more young men and women than any other educator of the commonwealth. He inspired them with the ideal of service which was the dominant motive of his life."

Henry Cherry Papers: 58 - Cherry: Praised 1937

Mayfield Messenger, Aug. 9, 1937 - "Western without Dr. Cherry will lack the vital spark that lit the flames of resolve in many almost despairing hearts. But he left it as a legacy that others may pass on without the dismal days he faced. The foundations are as deeply imbedded on the Hill that Cherry traditions will live . . ."

Mary Abdoo(?), Neon, Ky. to Mattie McLean, Sept. 3, 1937 - "I was certainly grieved to hear of Dr. Cherry's death. I shall never forget him. He was always so good to me. I hope that I shall always live [up] to those ideals that he had for Western students." Here is $5 toward the statue; wishes it could be more.

Undated "Resolutions" by a committee of 3 for the Crittenden County Institute that WKU has run.

"3. That we are resolved to go forth into our respective schools with strong determination to put into practice the hitherto untried theories and principles that we have gained from instruction in the Western Kentucky State Normal School."

"4. That we intend making it our purpose to advocate the work done by the Western Kentucky State Normal School, and to bring our influence to bear upon the teachers of our county, to induce them to supplement their present knowledge of the teaching profession by taking a course in one or several departments of the Western Kentucky State Normal School."

General Correspondence 1930

George Shankle, State Teachers College, Fredericksburg, Va., to Henry Cherry, Feb. 11, 1930 - Wants information about his "booster" program.

Mattie McLean to George Shankle, Feb. 13, 1930 - President Henry Cherry is out of town. "President Cherry has a wonderful capacity to inspire loyalty and cooperation among the faculty and student body. Practically every member of the institution is a worker in the interest of Western."
Henry Cherry to George Shankle, Feb. 15, 1930 - Henry Cherry says he doesn't believe in booster campaigns. "I think every day should be a day when each student in school and every former student out in the state, as well as every member of the faculty is a booster . . . I believe the fundamental thing to do is to create a morale that has a depth of soul and loyalty that will be active at all times."

You may be thinking of our quiet campaign for student loan fund & Kentucky Building. We've raised $214,000 and hardly started. We will put an active campaign within a year to raise the rest. Will not be a high-pressured drive . . . but more of the nature of gathering the fruit that has grown as a result of the dissemination of the ideals and principles of the program." Warren County isn't wealthy, but its people have subscribed $100,000.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Problems 1914
General Correspondence 1914
Henry Cherry to W.J. Gooch, Franklin, Feb. 14, 1914 - Here are some of the items in the report that were criticized at Richmond & State University:
Purchase of Normal Farm
Purchase of President's Home
Running of a book store
Member of American Bank Company being a regent
Double salaries of teachers
Filthy & unclean buildings
Short hours for --- Internal strife
Morals of students, cigarette smoking, etc.
Water Power Question
Nepotism, favoritism, etc.
Indebtedness

"Most of these criticisms can be applied to us." ("Most" perhaps should be "none" for he goes on.) "We really have built up a very high standard, unusually high at places where many of these criticisms were offered." Public believes in us & expected that we would get a clean bill of health. Hopes nothing will be done to "withdraw the limited number of men that I have been putting into the field during the summer. This is not done so much with a view of increasing the attendance as it is with a view of developing the educational spirit . . . ."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 7 - Cherry: Problems 1924
General Correspondence 1923-1924
Henry Cherry to A.C. Crabb, Chicago, July 30, 1924 - Says this "has been one of the hardest years I have ever had. The work, however, has been inspiring and the present outlook is most flattering. It is very evident, however, that it is going to take a renewed devotion and energy on the part of every friend of the institution to put things over in the state and to make it an outstanding success in the educational field." The A.B. class was outstanding.

I want to get it out of your head that we are in competition with high schools. We have been very active in this policy. We want to support the normal, but we feel like we are entitled to a square deal.

I do not know how on earth you find the time to write personal letters and think of people as you do.

Henry Cherry to M.L. Shelton, Greenville, May 21, 1927 - "We have been anxious to hear from your daughter who left here a short while ago because of illness. I am earnestly hoping that her condition is improving and that it will not be long before she shows a decidedly turn for the better. We shall appreciate having a letter from you telling us how she is getting along."

General Correspondence 1930

I have written to you as courteously and respectfully as one human being could to... I desire a most earnest cooperation with you and your work.

Henry Cherry to J.L. Foust, March 14, 1923 - Expresses regret. We do not esteem any school system higher than yours. Faculty has often remarked upon this. "I am going to be frank, however, and say that there may have been an indiscretion on the part of some members of the faculty in their statements concerning the faculty of some of the high school graduates to get proper credit for the work they have done when they enter this institution." Had your letter read at faculty meeting Monday afternoon & Henry Cherry talked to them about Owensboro & the respect he has for it. "... I desire most earnest cooperation with you and your work... the Owensboro schools will always have a booster in this institution." Can he come over before Kentucky Education Association, speak in chapel, & discuss some education problem? WKU will take care of expenses.

Henry Cherry to J.L. Foust, March 14, 1923 - "I have written to you as courteously and respectfully as one human being could to another and asked that you let me have the name and addresses of the teachers of your county. We have asked this many times but I cannot even get an answer... If you have made up your mind you are not going to do this, I want to pursue some other course... I am unable to understand this matter..." Is registering this letter.

Henry Cherry to J.L. Foust, Dec. 5, 1923 - "Would he be interested in being Head of Department of Secondary Education? Wants to make it into "one of the outstanding features of this institution." Thinks he can find money to pay the right man $3500. Is sure Board would approve if we can find the money. Is afraid he won't be interested. (No response here.)

Henry Cherry to J.L. Foust, March 14, 1923 - Henry Cherry offered him 6 weeks summer school teaching. J.L. Foust couldn't take it, so Henry Cherry asks if he could them 3 days in the Relay Course.

Several pictures of 1931 celebration. One shows the 3 surviving members of the original staff: Henry Cherry, J.R. Alexander, which it seeks to serve."

38 Thanks to the community. "I do not believe that another institution of the character of Western has been the beneficiary of such an enthusiastic reception."

36 "Western has had a goal that it has been trying to reach, but this goal lies as far beyond it tonight as it did twenty-five years ago." "Effective administration depends more upon the natural process than it does upon formal rules and printed programs."

34 "A college is an ideal, a spirit, a long tradition, a zeal for more life and more knowledge."

35 "No college that is content with merely imparting knowledge, functions properly . . . An appeal must be made to the heart, to the spirit, to the emotions, as well as to the intellect." "The spirit of Western is the central theme of all its various activities."

368 President & Mrs. Henry Cherry gave informal reception at their home on May 22. Cut flowers inside, Japanese lanterns outside. String band. Punch & individual cakes.

Henry Cherry compares 1907 to 1931 in many ways. "It will help us in our efforts to advance the academic work of our institution, as well as to develop its physical plant."

Henry Cherry uses their information to send brief news items about counties for the Southern School Journal. Henry Cherry does a lot of field visiting.

Lucile Grogan to Henry Cherry, May 31, 1911 - "From no one else more than yourself could I appreciate [sic] such praise and commendation relative to my efforts in the work I am trying so hard to make a success."

Lucile Grogan to Henry Cherry, May 31, 1911 - "Every visit only serves to increase my respect and admiration for every individual member of the Faculty . . . Such sympathy exists between students and Faculty as is seldom seen in a School of this kind. It is not out of place to say that such feeling is due to your own personal effort. You are the lever - the motor power which propels the machinery, and the work you are doing for Kentucky today is going to tell on her citizenship in the future. We are a greater state today because of your ability, your efforts and accomplishments."

Henry Cherry uses their information to send brief news items about counties for the Southern School Journal. Henry Cherry does a lot of field visiting.

"Won't you do this for College Heights and the childhood of the State, as well as for me personally."

Mr. John Dean, Owensboro, has resigned because he couldn't make some meetings. Thinks you could persuade him to continue. If not, I & Board recommend Judge W.L. Prince of Benton. Has asked Mr. George Colvin, head of our Board to discuss matter with you.

Gov. Edwin Morrow to Henry Cherry, June 18, 1920 - Is going to reappoint R.E. Cooper. Is seriously considering a woman in place of Mr. John Dean; will decide within next few days. Always glad to have your advice "and to appoint those who will have your approval since I know that you desire nothing but the very best interest in the Institution which you so splendidly serve.

Henry Cherry to Gov. Edwin Morrow, July 28, 1920 - Appreciates appointment Mrs. Mary Gilmour & Mr. R.E. Cooper.

Governors Correspondence
President Henry S. Barker, University of Kentucky to Henry Cherry, Oct. 18, 1911 - "I regard you as one of my staunchest supporters and I assure you that I am always ready and willing to uphold the care of the Normal Schools. . . . all of the public educational interests of Kentucky must stand or fall together. If we have internal jealousies and bickerings, we are sure to fail of revealing the high usefulness which should be our aim."

Henry Cherry Papers: 76 - Cherry: University of Kentucky 1912
Personal Correspondence - 1913-1914
Henry Cherry to John W. Cherry, Atlanta, March 13, 1912 (Is writing about legislative session) - "The new President of State University [Henry Barker] was attacked by the former President [James Patterson] and a terific light was made upon him. The denominational schools were uneasy, restless, and gave him aid and support wherever they could without coming out in the light and making an open fight. I roomed with the President of State University [Henry Barker] and, insomuch as the Western Normal enjoyed an unprecedented sentiment and had an influence that no other institution had, I was able to give the State University great support. I had pleasure in doing it for President Patterson has never failed during my whole educational experience in putting a dagger into me whenever he had the opportunity.

"I enjoyed thoroughly my association with the new President of State University. We worked together like good soldiers and a most delightful association has come from uniting our forces. About the funniest thing that occurred during the meeting of the General Assembly was the investigation of State University. This came through the legislative resolution calling on the General Assembly to appoint a committee to investigate State University. This investigation was stimulated by the former President of the University. The Committee reported after six or eight weeks work, thoroughly vindicating the new management of the institution and repudiating completely the fight of the former President and asking that he be removed from the University as President Emeritus and that his salary of $3,000 be withdrawn."

Says he --- ill most of time in Frankfort with grip. Don't know what we would do if Governor [James McCreary] should veto Enabling Act but doesn't expect him to do so. Great reception in chapel.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: University of Kentucky Relations 1912
General Correspondence
Henry Cherry to A.W. Moll, St. Louis, March 22, 1912 - General Assembly is over after a silent but very intense struggle. "Dr. Jas. K. Patterson, the one man in the State of Kentucky who, in my private opinion, has done more to block the progress of universal education than any other man who has ever lived in the Commonwealth, has been sent to the background and informed that he can no longer interfere with the onward march of a democratic State. The fact is, Dr. Patterson has never failed since I entered school work in 1892 to put a dagger into me upon any and all occasions . . . He has been a for(?) to the establishment of Normal Schools; he fought the movement to establish them in 1906 and had the act contested in the Court of Appeals; then he fought the movement to make appropriations in 1908 but failed in his attempt." Patterson has opposed Judge Henry Barker since the latter was made president. Committee recommended end to James Patterson's President Emeritus salary of $3,000 & other benefits. Says he was wrong about James Patterson being an "astute and effective" politician. "I regard him as about the most stupid public officials that I have ever met." Tried to rule a few influential aristocrats. Looks as if the denominational schools support James Patterson. "I threw the entire moral influence of the Western Normal to President Barker's fight . . . I do not know when I had more pleasure in a task than I had in the performance of this one. President Barker and I roomed together at Frankfort. " They tried to remove the Normal's right to certify - this failed. Delighted by financial actions: WKU's debtedness, higher appropriation, assured(? bonded debt. Only real hardship was poor financial condition of the State. Good spirit otherwise. Refers to young daughter as "Cherry Blossom." [Elizabeth Cherry] Wants him to come visit & speak.

Cherry, Carl. Politics in Education - Cherry: Relations with University of Kentucky
163 Henry Cherry feared that bickering among the state schools would hurt them with the legislature. In fall, 1907 he proposed meeting to discuss their problems & plan legislative strategy.
164 Resolved agreements at Galt House (Details the points).
165 In 1908 legislature created University of Kentucky, but its Normal School was changed to Department of Education. Could no longer take pre-freshmen. James Patterson was upset, said change came from "the persistent jealousy and hostility of the Normal Schools . . ."
166 Relations improved after Henry S. Barker replaced James Patterson as president. Baker said [167] all the schools "must stand or fall together."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 5 - Cherry: Religion 1921
General Correspondence 1923
Henry Cherry to Dr. J.W. Carr, Department of Education, Frankfort, Oct. 21, 1921 - Only five(?) years ago there were 9 boys; only 4 now 3 have died in accidents, 2 in operations. [Henry Cherry's siblings] "I cannot understand a Divine Providence (if it is a Providence) that will take a Father and Mother, five brothers, a sister-in-law, two nieces, and two nephews within a few years.

"Of course you will not misunderstand me. I have a silent respect and prayer for things divine and I am more humble and devout today than ever before. I am only indicating that I believe that this little world, though large to us, is mighty small in the spiritual universe and that the only thing we can do is to make the best of the talents we have while here, and have a faith in the beyond."

Folder 5: 1935-1937
Address by Henry Cherry to Faculty, Jan. 19, 1937 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/8550/

"I didn't believe in the Methodist church or the Baptist church, or any other church, but I do believe in my personal relation to things divine . . . You can't prove that Christ ever made a Baptist church or a Methodist or Christian church . . . Put Christ at the head of a class on College Heights, and I don't think he would pay very much attention to credits."

"I am a Methodist and a mighty poor one, I want to tell you that. I could be a better Presbyterian than a Methodist. I wouldn't have been a Baptist, though under any condition. Don't take that seriously under any condition . . . I am not a good Methodist. Even the preacher doesn't know I am a member, but I am going to stay in the Methodist church if they will let me. I don't see any reason why I should change camps.

WKU - Notecards - Cherry, Henry Hardin, 1864-1937: Report to Regents

3 "enjoying unprecedented success"
"a great body of earnest students, efficient teaching, hard work, high ideals, noble purposes and a fine discipline."

"As you know the organization of the Normal has been a monumental task and freighted with many difficulties and great labor." Public can have little conception of what is involved. Faculty has met every Monday afternoon to study he development of the institution
4 Includes report of McKenzie R. Todd, State Inspector & Examiner. "I was impressed with the unusual enthusiasm among the students, their ambition to improve their moments, whether in the schoolroom or during the recess hours; they can be seen scattered about the grounds some sitting, some walking, but constantly in deep study. This is an inspiration and should be an encouragement to those in charge." Says Kentucky needs to spend much more on education & should even go into debt to do so. Would be best investment the state could make.

Describes the 3 buildings downtown [Original Van Meter Hall, Frisbie Hall, Bailey Hall]
Purchased 169 acres for $95,048.91.
Cabell Hall - 8 rooms, handsome stone building. Some of land has been sold at profit & about 145 acres remain.
Van Meter - "is a magnificent structure, very handsome in appearance and its usefulness can not be estimated. Cost $130,000.00 Seats nearly 2,000. Act of creation provided $5,000 for equipment and $20,000 annually for maintenance. 1908 - annual sum(?) increased to $50,000 with a special grant of $150,000 for buildings, grounds, etc.
Local income: $10-12,000
Overdraft on building = $78,000
5 Grant needs revision. Urgent ones are:
Cover deficit - $78,000
Culinary Department (to feed students) - 25,000
Dorm for Girls - 75,000
Improve campus grounds - 10,000

Frisbie Hall is several blocks off-campus & not in good shape. Campus still rough in many places. Walks & roads needed. Present barn is small & about to fall down. 4

6 Gives details of finances - value of buildings, other assets, etc. Book-keeping before 1909 wasn't very good; it is now adequate Insurance in force: $91,400. Teachers' salaries for past fiscal year: $43,455.17

7 Old Van Meter Hall was donated to school by city of Bowling Green. Now leased to Bowling Green Business University for 10 years for $1,700 per year with $800 of that being spent on repairs. Thinks Bowling Green Business University will ultimately purchase this building. Frisbie Hall - about 50 rooms, 100 girls. Needs some repairs. Use for boys' if a new dorm is built for girls. Hopes to sell it. Bank value $20,000.

Bailey Dormitory - 12 rooms, old, frame, dorm for boys. Bank value $4,500. Williams Dorm - for 50 men, small, frame, rented, not owned.

Farm: 125 acres, of which 100 are suitable for cultivation. Much interest in agriculture - 125 took it last year. 5 acres strawberries $900; 17 acres wheat; 22 corn; ½ acre potatoes; 6 acres cow-peas & hay.

"I have felt considerable interest in their work, I have personally seen what has been accomplished, I have faith in the future and perfect confidence in the result."

McKenzie Todd

Henry Cherry to H.R.(?) Cummins, Princeton, July 12, 1924 - Has just got back from East for 14 days. Plans in next month to spend afternoons and evening on the river bank - will do much of his work there.

Henry Cherry to K.R. Cummins, Eddyville, April 7, 1924 - Would like to give your commencement address, but he has accepted only 2 this year. "a very tired body and an immense volume of work.”

Biography
Sheet (4 pages) has brief statements made by Henry Cherry. "Effective administration depends more upon the natural process than it does upon formal rules and printed programs. It would be about as easy to write a universal rule for the conduct of an individual as it would be to write one and for the conduct of a college."

Phil Grinstead to Henry Cherry, Oct. 24, 1912 - Quite proper to ask. John Crabbe is $3600 + home for which he had paid $50 per month before school bought it. He pays no rent now, so that is equal to $600 per year. - (total of $4200).

At the age of twenty, Henry Cherry was the most unpromising physically: "underweight, perhaps touched, encouraged and inspired more young lives than any man in the entire Southland. Countless numbers of young women and young men have passed out through the portals of Western Teachers College (2) to take their place in the life's battles, bearing the impress of his dynamic personality, challenging courage and militant spirit, carrying in their hearts renewed faith and courage for what lay before them in an untried future.

"A great educator, a great citizen, a great heart. We shall not look upon his like again."

College Heights Herald, Oct. 1, 1937 - Cherry Statue 1937

1 The statues of Dr. Henry Cherry (pictured) will be unveiled on Nov. 16, Founders Day: The public is invited. Cost $20,000 - contributed by faculty, alumni, friends. Still $1,500 short. Appeal letter from Miss Elizabeth Woods. "Unique in his field of endeavor and remarkably successful in his achievements, he has perhaps touched, encouraged and inspired more young lives than any man in the entire Southland. Countless numbers of young women and young men have passed out through the portals of Western Teachers College (2) to take their place in the life's battles, bearing the impress of his dynamic personality, challenging courage and militant spirit, carrying in their hearts renewed faith and courage for what lay before them in an untried future.

"A great educator, a great citizen, a great heart. We shall not look upon his like again."

College Heights Herald, Nov. 5, 1937 - Cherry Statue 1937

1 Tues., Nov. 16 would have been Dr. Henry Cherry's 73rd birthday. Bronze statue will be unveiled then at 1:30 p.m. in front of Cherry Hall. "It will rest on a marble base at the apex of the limestone Hill which by imagination and energy he transformed during the thirty years that he worked here, into a mountain of educational opportunity."

Chapel that morning at 10:00 a.m.

Prof. W.J. Craig & 10 people who have been with WKU 25 years+ are preparing box to go in the base - list of donors, other records. Mr. J.R. Whitmer will be in charge of the unveiling. Grandson, Sheppard Cherry Lowman, of Houston, Texas, will unveil it. Cost $22,000 but Lorado Taft gave ½ to the school.

College Heights Herald, Nov. 16, 1937 - Cherry Statue 1937

1 Thousands gathered in front of Cherry Hall at 3:00 p.m. for the unveiling after a memorial chapel at 1:30. Professor Franz Strahm played "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" on the Cherry Hall chimes. (WHAS (Louisville) is carrying ½ hour of the speeches at 3:30). Then the College Chorus sang "College Heights." Dr. Herman Lee Donovan, President of Eastern Kentucky University was 1st student to enroll at WKU as a state institution. He was one of early graduates. His topic: "Henry Hardin Cherry: An Inspirer of Youth."

4 Says life was a struggle for Henry Cherry; he knew poverty & hardship. "He would often say that out yonder is a boy or girl with ambition and talent but without money and that they must be given an opportunity. I heard him stand up in a meeting of the Educational Commission and oppose with all the force of his great personality the suggestion that larger fees should be charged students."

Herman Donovan says he came to WKU with $156.10. It had been spent by March & he prepared to leave. Was called to Henry Cherry's office; had never met him. Asked why I was leaving, talked about importance of education. He said: "Henry Cherry was the most unpromising physically: "underweight, feeble, unusually shy.""

"Whatever the beginning, it was without money, without formal education, without robust health, with no educational background and no particular guide except his own almost unerring judgment. This slender, frail, timid, youthful man, not taken seriously except by a limited group who knew his worth, was destined to become Kentucky's foremost educational promoter and college builder and to reach the distinction of serving at the head of an educational institution longer than any American ever served, with possibly one exception."

6 "His mental and physical energy electrified those among whom he worked . . . At the age of twenty-eight when I as his student knew him first, he was setting a pace that his friends thought could not long endure. At seventy-three the pace had been quickened, and the younger men of his organization had difficulty in modeling it."

He believed in democracy but was seldom swayed by the masses. "He was indifferent to personal greed and often to personal interest . . ." Tells of Henry Cherry's discouragement night of 1899 fire - but his resolve then to go on. Often did things in his own unorthodox way. "Trifles never absorbed him . . . " Devoted few hours to nonessentials. But at times he would burst into child-like humor. His ability to inspire is what stands out.

J.R. Alexander, one of last survivors of the original faculty. "That Other Thing." Almost superhuman power & effectiveness. College Heights is sometimes called: "Cherry's Dream True." Especially important is our inheritance of the "Spirit of the Institution." He set no limits to his hour of work. "The center of his world of light and life was 'College Heights.'" The untouched possibilities, the untapped reserves, he called "That Other Thing." He said: "One may be sure he has hit the target when or before he pulls the trigger." And: "One can not die while struggling to land a five-pound bass." "Ring the Rising Bell in the Human Soul." "He had high resolves, strength, persistence, conviction, and courage."

"Something of his spirit must have gone into every brick and stone and hod of mortar in these buildings, as well as into every tree, shrub and flower on the campus."

"The virile, sane, exciting and aggressive quality of the Cherry spirit that permeates the atmosphere of College Heights is free from maudlin sentimentality."

Armad Stickle - "The Practical Philosopher" He always believed in the importance of the individual. Education was basic to democracy. He saw obstacles & usually found a way around them. "His strength lay in self-sacrifice, devotion to a course, absolute honesty, and a keen sense of justice." Would compromise anything except principle.

8 He was "modest, fair-minded, lovable human being always considerate of others to the end." He was seldom pessimistic. "He would leave his office when sick and tired of body, go to a chapel exercise where the inspiration of youth before him caused a forgetfulness of pain and illness and make a stirring, eloquent appeal for leadership and the more abundant life."

"He was tolerant of almost anything that would not injure the cause of the institution he reared, nursed through tortuous and devious days, and presided over."

"Those who knew him best wanted to be near him; felt a loneliness when long absent from his presence."

"... the dynamic, unconquerable spirit of Henry Harden Cherry . . . "

J.B. Whitmer. Says idea of statue started in 1928. Group worked 3 years without Henry Cherry's knowledge. Consulted with Lorado Taft: approached Henry Cherry in 1931. "I am in the hands of my friends." 8 faculty members contributed $12.50 each & $100 was sent to Lorado Taft. Henry Cherry spent several days in Lorado Taft's studio at different times. Lorado Taft cut his price from $20,000 to $10,000 as he became interested. After working on an 8' statue he tore it down & started on a 10' one. Finished in clay in 1934 - the last major work he did.

Mr. Henry Wright's 1st location was on west side of hill looking toward Kentucky Building; changed to Cherry Hall side on Henry Cherry's last visit to Hill. (Henry Wright died July 16, 1936; Lorado Taft Oct. 30, 1936; Henry Cherry Aug. 1, 1937). Faculty $4,000; alumni, students friends $5,000; Bowling Green citizens $3,000.

12 J.R. Whitmer, "Story of the Statue." In 1928 group of friends conceived idea of having a statue erected to him. They worked 3 years without his knowledge. Contacted Lorado Taft (who liked idea of working with live model) and late Henry Wright. Finally, in fall of 1931, when Mr. Henry Wright was present, the proposition was presented to Henry Cherry. He "stepped back into the corner of his office and sat down. The group waited in silence for his final answer. He replied, 'I am in the hands of my friends.'"

Group needed to organize & see about funds. Eight faculty members contributed $12.50 each & $100 was sent to Lorado Taft. Henry Cherry spent several days with Lorado Taft in Chicago at different times. Lorado Taft became so interested he cut price from $20,000 to $10,000. After working on 8 foot model he tore it down and went to 10 foot one (at cost of $1,000 to himself.) It was finished in clay in 1934, his last major work.

Henry Wright first suggested location on west side of hill, toward Kentucky Building & Henry Cherry's old home. But on Henry Wright's last visit to Western, he moved site to place it now is. Henry Wright died July 16, 1936; Lorado Taft on Oct. 30, 1936; Henry Cherry on Aug. 1, 1937.

Faculty contributed +/- $4,000
Alumni, students, friends 5,000
Bowling Green citizens 3,000

Henry Cherry to R.J. Bell, Louisville, Feb. 25, 1913 - Answering letter from Bell. "It is so full of appreciation and good-will that I cannot refrain from telling you this morning that your letter has encouraged and stimulated me to greater efforts. After all, it is a little hard to work without feeling that you are accomplishing something - without expressions of appreciation life becomes a grind and a drudgery."

general correspondence 1911

Henry Cherry to Mr. C.L. Herren, Liberty, June(?) 9, 1912 (2 pages) - "Your boy seems to be thoroughly indolent when it comes to an effort to prepare his lessons, and is very careless as to his obligations in being regular at class recitation." Was on street when he should have been in his room, etc. "We feel that we are not getting any results; in fact, our efforts were not responded to with a similar effort on his part." Might get better results elsewhere. Is personally fond of him; he has always been a gentleman in my presence. We use honor systems & have no way for constant supervision. "Now, Mr. Herren, I always felt that there is something wrong with the school when it fails with the boy." We want to cooperate with you to do what is best for him.

Henry Cherry to Mr. B.O. Hinton, Paducah, May 26, 1913 - "...I have worn myself to a frazzle trying to help others and to build up a great school."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Student Supervision 1913

General Correspondence 1913

Henry Cherry to C.S. Coleman, Gracey, Ky., April 24, 1913 - Your sister, a fine young lady, has perhaps been seeing too much of a young man in this community. "It is difficult to know how she succeeds so well with her studies and has company so often." He has talked with her, but thought it his duty write you about it.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Students 1914

General Correspondence 1914

Henry Cherry to Carl Ellis, Saris, Ky., March 24, 1914 - Has heard he may leave the school he is leaving 3 weeks before it is scheduled to close. Warns him that this could create a bad impression and would "hurt him afterwards." Urges him to continue to its end.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Cherry: Students 1915

General Correspondence 1915

Henry Cherry to Mr. J.D. Driskill, Fisherville, Ky., Feb. 18, 1915 - Does he know his daughter Bess is not in school? She came in to settle upon Feb. 5, said she was going home because of mother's illness. I --- today she is still here, says she will leave Monday. "owing to the fact that we feel --- a large measure responsible for the students who come, I feel it our duty to state those facts to you at once." Let us know if you have any special directions to give her.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 5 - Cherry: Student Relations 1922

General Correspondence 1922

Henry Cherry to Mrs. R.E. Overton, Owensboro, Oct. 12, 1922 (Good 1 page example of his close contact) - Your daughter admits she went riding in an auto from 8:30 to 10:30 at night, contrary to rules of the hall. Good attitude, so we won't hold this against her, but it must not happen again. "She was guilty of a few minor indiscretions on last year(?) and I had a talk with her. In fact, I had several talks with her." She promises now to do well, but I feel that you should know the circumstances.

Mrs. R.E. Overton to Henry Cherry, Oct. 19, 1922 - Thanks him for kind letters of 12th & 10th. "Words can not express my appreciation of your great kindness to my little daughter.

"I tremble to thin of the result had you not been so lenient and liberal."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 5 - Cherry: Student Relations 1922
General Correspondence 1922
Nellie L. Wooton, Hopkins County to Henry Cherry, Oct. 31, 1922 - "I was among the hundreds who stood in the Normal Chapel on that morning in last June, thereby promising to write you a letter during October."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 6 - Cherry: Student 1923
General Correspondence 1923
Henry Cherry to B.R. Pidcoek, Mitchell, Ill., June 14, 1923 - Regrets that he must tell him that his son has been cashing a number of bad checks. He withdrew from school, told Henry Cherry he was going home. But Henry Cherry has discovered he is still in city. Sorry to have to tell you this.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 8 - Cherry & Student Care 1924
General Correspondence 1924-1925
Henry Cherry to L.V. Stone, Clay, Jan. 12, 1928 - "I am sorry, indeed, to report that your boy is absolutely failing in his work . . . I regret that I have failed and that the school has failed in stimulating him to make use of his opportunities. Of course, you know the school cannot do the whole job." We can't locate him. Several merchants have called about cold checks & one has taken out a warrant.

Henry Cherry Papers: 13 - Cherry: Students 1928
General Correspondence 1928
Henry Cherry to Dr. W.C. Haydon, Feb. 3, 1934 - Except for band, your boy is about failing. I called him in at once. He promised to do better, begged for 2 weeks to show he can improve. I believe he can do it & that he will.

"Your esteemed favor is . . . "

A.L. Crabb: 8 - Cherry: Successor 1937
Correspondence with Bowling Green persons
Myrtle Todd Towery to A.L. Crabb, 8/3/1937 - Says that a number of people have mentioned A.L. Crabb as a proper successor of Henry Cherry. But, "it is not easy to project with the present status of affairs" what will happen.

A.L. Crabb to President J. Lewie Harmon, Nov. 14, 1939 - Realized later that he may have said some things "as to Governor Chandler and his ways and means" that would have been better unsaid. Doesn't retract them, however. Doesn't talk about it with the people on the Hill. They owe president loyalty, if a principle(?) doesn't bow(?) to be sorrowful. "I have heard that President Garrett has dealt with his staff . . . Of all those concerned, he perhaps, by his own actions offended least."

"I hold Governor Chandler and his own procedure in the matter as much below the level of ordinary decency."

Faculty Meeting Minutes, Thurs. Aug. 5, 1937 - Cherry's Successor
Held in Little Theatre, Thurs., Aug. 5, 1937. Finley Grise presides, introduces local regents B.J. Borrone & Mrs. W.P. Drake who want to make official news about carrying on until Henry Cherry's successor is appointed. Urges all to cooperate in finding Henry Cherry's successor. Broke down when he said: "I miss him." Couldn't continue.

Mrs. Drake - Regents decided that it wasn't fair to expect one person to carry the burden until a successor was appointed. Decided upon: 1) Dean 2) head of Department of Education 3) Director of Training School. The old Executive Committee consisted of Dr. Henry Cherry and 2 local regents. This 3 man committee will act as one in replacing Henry Cherry. "At the meeting of the Board Tuesday afternoon, the Governor [A.B. Chandler] gave his promise of vigorous support when Dr. Cherry's successor is appointed . . . If Dr. Cherry were here, he could tell you that the Governor never made any demands upon him. Dr. Cherry was left free to direct this school."

"With the undivided cooperation and loyalty of this faculty, with the Board, Committee, and faculty working together we can carry on."

Finley Grise: praises the great Board of Regents WKU now has. Pledges support to carry "forward to the great goal which our great leader has set for us and toward which all have been laboring and will continue to work." A few faculty members speak up. L.T. Smith pledges faculty support. Dr. M.C. Ford pledges faculty support for the Board & Committee. "It isn't the province of any employee of the college to be concerned with the successor . . . As one member of the faculty, I am expressing myself most earnestly that we will leave those problems to our Board and express confidence n that Board to select a leader that will carry on the great work of the president. Whoever the Board selects, either in the immediate or remote future will have the full and undivided cooperation of this faculty."

Mr. Billy Craig: "We are going to carry Western on." This has brought us closer together.

"I do not know what 'that other thing' is, except it is an intangible spiritual force that largely determines every known success, establishes communal(?) credit, and impresses itself in our souls as we think and act."

W.K.U. Notebooks - Cherry, Henry Hardin, 1864-1937: Textbook

Henry Cherry to W.T. Howe, ---, Dec. 4, 1911. For second year Henry Cherry has been working on a textbook for high school government. Plans one later for the grades. Has about ¾ of manuscript in rough form. When you come to town (American Book Company) would like to show it to him.

Henry Cherry Scrapbooks - Cherry: Textbook Commission 1929

208 Rep. Flem Sampson was elected governor (209) in 1927 while Democrats won all other offices. Democrats used ripper legislation to take away his powers. Governor had power to appoint State Textbook Commission to select books for public schools. Democrat Superintendent of Public Instruction W.C. Bell accused Gov. Flem Sampson of pressuring members to select certain book; W.C. Bell filed suit challenging several selections. One was a history supplement containing a number of factual & grammatical errors that Henry Cherry & Arndt Stickles had authored. Henry Cherry denied he had done any of it. Arndt Stickles explained that Governor had asked state colleges to prepare some supplementary text materials. Henry Cherry wanted W.K.U. to do something so different (210) members of the faculty were interested in it. W.C. Bell charged most of the errors were in the history materials.

Flem Sampson was cleared. He tried to get W.L. Jayne (of Morehead State University) elected president of Kentucky Education Association but the charge was brought against Governor for accepting gifts from book publishers. Flem Sampson was cleared.

Cherry had stabbed the temperance movement in the back - "... a common everyday liar. He may be more; he is certainly no less." I stated at very beginning that I would vote dry and I shall certainly cast my vote with the temperance organization.

Henry Cherry to J. Lewie Harman, Bowling Green, June. 2, 1910. Henry Cherry is highly incensed at anonymous person who told J. Lewie Harman that Henry Cherry had stabbed the temperance movement in the back. "... a common everyday liar. He may be more; he is certainly no less." I stated at very beginning that I would vote dry and I shall certainly cast my vote with the temperance organization. But he is strongly opposed to bribery (Not clear what he means).

1 Letter from Henry Cherry “To Normal Students Now in Service.” “You have wrought well. Everywhere - whether in the red flood of battle, or in the grinding drill of the cantonment - nobly have you borne yourselves. Officers and men, you have upheld the Spirit of the Institution. You have been true Americans. “

“But presently taps will be sounded for your military assignments. You will return to civilian life and take up you usual lines of activity just where you dropped them to assist in making the world safe for Democracy. The prospects of the teaching profession were never brighter than today, and the Western Normal never as able to assist adequately in the realization of those prospects as now.

“We'll be looking for you - hundreds of you - at the opening of the next two terms.”

General Correspondence 1924

Henry Cherry to Ticket Agent, L&N, Louisville, Dec. 23, 1924 - “On last Friday evening, I purchased a ticket including a seat in the chair car, from Louisville to Owensboro. The young lady who sold me the ticket told me I had only a half minute to catch the train. This made it impossible for me to take a receipt for my ticket. I only caught the train by throwing my suit case on the rear car and grabbing it on the run.” So, would like a receipt for his expense account.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 1 - Cherry: Workload 1911
General Correspondence 1911
Henry Cherry to Fred. W. Chunn, Lexington, Nov. 29, 1911 - (Fred Chunn wrote 11/25/1911 for information on the tariff question and tariff vs. direct tax). Henry Cherry regrets he isn't informed on the issue as everyone should be, especially if in public life, "... but my excuse for not being is a lack of time to read as much as a public man should read. This lack of time is the result of over a thousand details that reach my office daily and have to be worked out. Then, I have been so busily engaged with the educational questions of the State that I have given them all of my time." Will ask librarian to see if she can help you.

Dean of Faculties: Kinnaman, A.J. Correspondence 1916 - Cherry: Work 1916
Dean A.J. Kinnaman to Superintendent Virgil Chapman, Franklin, March 3, 1916 - (Doesn't say what the matter is.) "Let me say I have done nothing on the matter as yet. I find myself overwhelmed with work and get practically no time to think. I wanted to talk the matter over a little while with Mr. Cherry, but when I brooked the subject I got a glimpse of his coat-tail as he shot from the office, for he is too busy to say scat. So I expect it will devolve upon you, seeing that you are not busy at all and have nothing to do, to write it up and I can write my name down at the lower end. But really I will try to do something with it later."

Henry Cherry Papers: 76 - Cherry: Work 1912
Personal Correspondence 1913-1914
Henry Cherry to John W. Cherry, Atlanta, Nov. 4, 1912 - Had stormy Board meeting all day last Friday - failure of contractor to meet certain terms on new building. Finally got it settled without lawsuit. "We are very happy over the situation. At no other session of the Board has such unbounded confidence been manifested in me individually as in the session. . . It has warmed my heart and put iron in my nerve, and I believe I can do more than ever before . . . I have promised myself to give the State the best service of my life." Board raised my salary from $3600 to $4,000. Now weighs 169 pounds, am strong in body and quite active. Spent 6 weeks last summer on the river bank "and that six weeks of long distance swimming made me over."

Henry Cherry Papers: 76 - Cherry: Work 1917
Personal Correspondence 1916-1917
Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Medford, Oregon, March 7, 1917 - "I am in a sense of slave, absolutely bound hand and foot to this institution and its demands. The school has grown until it is a tremendous proposition to handle. It requires a vast amount of labor and patriotism to do the work in a proper manner. I am very tired, however. I do not know when I have been so thoroughly worn. I have not had a minutes [sic] vacation for a long, long, time."

Henry Cherry to Mrs. Henry Cherry, Daytona, Fla., Feb. 25, 1918 - He got up at 3:00, ate breakfast at depot & got to office at 4:00 to work until 3:00 when he has to catch train for Frankfort to look after our bills. Some opposition but thinks we can get it through Senate. Governor will sign it.

Cherry: Work 1926
By this time Henry Cherry is delegating more work. Placement goes largely to Billy Craig, A.L. Crabb, Finley Grise handle more on admissions, evaluation of credits, etc. He is not giving as many speeches. The building program takes up much time. Henry Cherry is very busy this year as president of Kentucky Education Association.

General Correspondence 1917
Henry Cherry to Dr. A.P. Bourland, Washington, D.C., Oct. 6, 1917 - Has just had Patriotic Week in Kentucky for which Henry Cherry did most of the work. Had 450 meetings in rural areas during the week. "I must admit, however, that the last inch of my energy is about gone." Hasn't had a vacation in years, & "this participation in so many things is about to break me financially."

Henry Cherry to Mr. Shirley T. Borah, First Division Headquarters, American Expeditionary Force, France, Nov. 9, 1917 - "The sentiment is getting stronger every day and the whole nation is entering into the conflict and is enlisting everything spiritual and material for the fight for democracy. I feel the pull in my own life. If I were the right age, I would be in the service. I might feel different, however, if I were of the right age, but I do not think so ... The hop and inspiration of the world, its freedom and liberty depend upon the success of the Allies."

Henry Cherry to E. George Payne, St. Louis, Oct. 27, 1917 - "School is enjoying splendid success. "Of course the war has brought its complications to the institution and has take [sic] a large number of men from us. The Western Normal, however, has been quite militant and has been quite aggressive in supporting the Government."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 3 - Cherry: WWI 1918
General Correspondence
Henry Cherry to "My dear Mrs. Cherry" at Daytona, Florida, March 23, 1918 - "the war is looking mighty bad this morning and there is an absolute danger of Germany winning this war, unless the American people wake up ... Of course, I have never felt for a minute that we would do other than win but we have a hard task before us. I shall devote every energy I have to my country until this war is over." Can't take vacation but will try to get a breathing spell at the Barren River cottage. "With a heart full of love for Elizabeth, Henry and yourself, I am Affectionately yours," (Josephine is in Kentucky).

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 3 - Cherry: War, WWI 1918
General Correspondence 1918
Henry Cherry to K.L. Varney, Pikeville, March 28, 1918 - Says they were able to get ex-President William Howard Taft to speak at Bowling Green by influence of his secretary & by starting several months in advance. Had to pay $616 to secure his services.

Henry Cherry to J.A. Carnagey, Louisville, Feb. 23, 1918 - Says 3,000 were in the hall last night to hear Mr. Taft. Many turned away. Rural Life Conference closed last night. Over 8,000 people on the hill yesterday.

Henry Cherry says: says that in 1919 when there was a housing shortage because of the oil boom, students joined in building 76 small houses. Later belonged to state while costing it nothing.

Henry Cherry & Potter attempted "to work out the establishment of the Normal Camp and to construct as many houses of the different types as seem best and as many as the finances of the institutions will permit."

Henry Cherry Papers: 76 - Cherryton 1922

Oil congestion is not as bad as it was; the industry has settled down. Warren Co. produces 100-150 barrels per minute [?]. Much of land is not developed. "More people are losing money than are making money... a man like myself or anyone without money had better stay away from it."

But more buildings have gone up in Bowling Green in last 2 years than in previous 10 years.

8 Price allows people to attend school who couldn't have done so otherwise. "A family, consisting of a mother, two sons and a daughter, live comfortably, fare well, from the standpoint of food, and enjoy the inspiring surroundings of the home at an average cost of $11.00 per month for each member of the family, including rent, table board, and all other items. This family leased one of the little houses in The Village. They keep house and take advantage of the commissary which is conducted by the school." Gives several other examples of students who live cheaply there. A number have made improvements, screen doors, etc.

Peter had observed that any boy or girl who had gone on both the Chestnut Hunt and the Boat Excursion and had not fallen in love was a sorry spectacle.

Track events, football or baseball, once a beauty contest. You had a date, the boy fought for the girl.

Blight was already underway; Gordon Wilson doubts if he ever picked up 2 dozen chestnuts at the Cherry farm. But the day was beautiful. Lunch around a little hill side spring. Athletic contests in afternoon. "We have never seen a better example of the Normal spirit of good will, fellowship, and hearty cooperation than was manifested upon this occasion."

Friday Nov. 4
17 Fruitless search. Dinner. Games, contests, etc. Tug of war between Seniors & Juniors that the Juniors won. Then Henry Cherry challenged Dean A.J. Kinnaman to (18) tug of war. A.J. Kinnaman removed coat, but as soon as word was given, "he was pulled across the mark, as though he had been a boy." Prof. J.R. Alexander then challenged president but was twice pulled across the mark. "Their loyalty and sweet fellowship was shown in the ringing cheers they gave just before they disbanded."

Friday, Nov. 11
12 Chestnut hunt has become a custom for several years. Outing was Oct. 29, 1909 to the Cherry farm, out about 8 miles. Ideal weather. Reached farm about 10:30. Rambled, then ate the picnic baskets. Baseball game between students & faculty. Prof. J.R. Alexander distinguished himself at bat, & Prof. F.O. Putnam with running, Back to town +/- 6:00 p.m. "making the air ring with yells for Pres. Cherry."

Baseball game between students & faculty. Prof. J.R. Alexander distinguished himself at bat, & Prof. F.O. Putnam with running, Back to town +/- 6:00 p.m. "making the air ring with yells for Pres. Cherry."

17 Friday, Nov. 4 - annual trip to President Henry Cherry's old home. Cool, frosty, but most went. Half-dozen wagons (horst got sick & 20 student had to walk back 6 miles). Fruitless search. Dinner. Games, contests, etc. Tug of war between Seniors & Juniors that the Juniors won. Then Henry Cherry challenged Dean A.J. Kinnaman to (18) tug of war. A.J. Kinnaman removed coat, but as soon as word was given, "he was pulled across the mark, as though he had been a boy." Prof. J.R. Alexander then challenged president but was twice pulled across the mark. "It was simply, as all Normal Excursions are, a day spent in the fellowship of a great and loyal student body."

11 Held on Friday, Oct. 11 - Eight miles out of city - cars, wagons. President Henry Cherry & 32 others walked. Rambled through the woods - beautiful.
12 Grapes in abundance. Lunch around a little hill side spring. Athletic contests in afternoon.
13 "We have never seen a better example of the Normal spirit of good will, fellowship, and hearty cooperation than was manifested upon this occasion."

1 Comments that the chestnut hunt is another tradition that has ceased.

Gordon Wilson Diary, Oct. 1, 1963 - Chestnut Hunt
Blight was already underway; Gordon Wilson doubts if he ever picked up 2 dozen chestnuts at the Cherry farm. But the day was fun. 9 miles to Hall's Chapel. If you had a date, the boy furnished transportation, the girl supplied the lunch. Same for boat excursions. "We didn't know the term 'Dutch treat' until much later."

Track events, football or baseball, once a beauty contest. Sang all the way back. "Romance always flowered on the Chestnut Hunts. Some of us used to say that any boy or girl who had gone on both the Chestnut Hunt and the Boat Excursion and had not fallen in love was a sorry spectacle."

Civil Defense

On August 4, 1967, at request of Corps of Engineers, Louisville District, Dept. of Army, Regents gave permission for use of WKU's facilities "in the event of an attack or an imminent attack by hostile countries."

Memo: Kelly Thompson to Charles Keown & Owen Lawson, Jan. 28, 1964 - They are co-chairmen of our Civil Defense Committee.

Memo: Director of Housing, Hubert P. Griffin, to Charles Keown & Owen Lawson, Feb. 18, 1963 - Gives lists of buildings on campus that have been designated as shelters & the capacity of each. Shelter supplies (food concentrate, water, sanitation kits, medical kits) are being shipped this week to be stored for emergency use.

Kelly Thompson to all state presidents March 29, 1966 - A report on WKU by Kentucky Civil Liberties Union & the Kentucky Conference of University Professors was released to news media & sent to college & university presidents. A similar report by the Louisville Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi. "These two reports contain inaccurate statements, innuendos, and personal opinions of the writers." We have been tempted to respond, but this would violate long-standing policy of not releasing data in disciplinary cases, on or off campus. "Western has never held a public hearing involving discipline. Therefore, it follows that it has never publicly re-tried a disciplinary case. Western has no intention of deviating from this policy now or in the future." Lists 6 person committee that heard the case. Appealed to President, who upheld the decision. Appealed to Board of Regents, who upheld the decision. Vote was unanimous in all cases.

Civil Rights Act 1964

Memo: Vice President Dero Downing to Kelly Thompson, 2/12/1968 - Concerned because of unfavorable attention Wku got in press for adding an honest footnote in response to Housing, Education & Welfare survey. WKU said it did not make sure that all off-campus housing listed was available to any student. Dero Downing says no school in state could honestly say "yes." They have considered if race should now be required on admission application forms. Tentative decision is to continue leaving it off for now. A way of life - begin to include the "Compliance Report" required under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

In 1977-1978 there were 4 coaches for men, one for women. Scholarships are 10: 1 will be added next year, the maximum under AIAW regulations. + 1 managerial. Men - 15 + 2 managerial.

Response: Dero Downing to Louis Bryson, Dec. 21, 1978

Memo: William E. Bivin to Interim President John Minton 1/12/1979 - Advising on Title IX on site investigation, last paragraph: "Finally, it is important to be as positive and confident as the facts justify. Defensiveness, anxiety, and fear do not help. Openness and candor may help. There is no lawful or ethical way to conceal, or otherwise avoid HEW discovery of what has actually happened in the programs."

Biography
He loved nature, fishing, quail hunting, his — and the poetry of Dante, Milton, Shakespeare.

30 Near end of his life he said to Mrs. J.R. Alexander. "I have had a happy life, for no man ever loved poetry so much, and had so much opportunity to study it; no man ever (31) loved teaching so much, and had such delightful pupils; and no man ever loved the out-of-doors and hunting and fishing so much, and had so much time to devote to it."

33 Went - University of Chicago in summer of 1909, but he wasn't happy with the approach toward poetry, the seriousness of the students and the pace of the city confused him. Baseball was all he enjoyed there. After early 1920s Ivan Wilson & wife became close friends.

38 Taught himself Italian after age 60 so he could read Dante in the original. "The classroom was to him a place where he could share with young people his enthusiasm for the things he loved."

41 By fall of 1936 he had to admit that perhaps he needed to rest. He came to chapel occasionally, but more & more he stayed at home. He loved nature, fishing, quail hunting, his — and the poetry of Dante, Milton, Shakespeare.

53 Not long before his death he said to his wife: "When I am no longer able to teach on the Hill, then I no longer desire to live."

College Heights Herald, Friday, April 2, 1937 - Claggett Dies 1937 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/3773
1 Professor John H. Claggett died at his Chestnut Street home on Friday, March 19, 1937 after an illness of about 3 months. He was 80. Native of Grayson County. Educated at Central University, now Centre College (Right - or was it Eastern?) Taught in several public schools. Was at Cedar Bluff College for Warren at Woodburn, then taught 9 years at Potter College and 4 at Ogden before joining the WKU faculty. During 30 years at WKU "He was a constant help and friend to President H.H. Cherry . . . "Special memorial service at chapel on "last Thursday." (April 1 or March?). Henry Cherry, Finley Grise, Arndt Stickles, Gordon Wilson, Billy Craig paid tribute to him in brief speeches. Arndt Stickles said he was "courtly of manner, tolerant and considerate to all persons, but he had the scholar's flaming contempt for hollow pretense and flummery."

A.L. Crabb Founders' Day Address, Nov. 16, 1942(?) - Claggett, J.H.
John Claggett was small, of slight built, hair touched with red, "very gentle eyes." No better instruction could be given to a youth who was groping for beauty than his Shakespeare.

Class Scheduling

Memo: Raymond Cravens to Kelly Thompson, Dec. 31, 1959 - Raymond Cravens proposes "step-scheduling" plans which he says would be more efficient. Was developed during 1959-1960 year & experiment with in 1957.

(Undated Park City Daily News clipping). Says it "increased classroom space by 57%." Tried in Jan. 1960 & well received. Started generally fall 1960. Classes met at regular time 2 days a week, at irregular periods 3rd date.

Academic Affairs 35: Box 3 - Class Schedule 1960

Annual Report to American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education

College Heights Bulletin 30:4, August 1963 - Class Schedules 1963

Kelly Thompson Papers: 14 - Class Schedules 1963(?)

Class Scheduling

Raymond Cravens, "Class Scheduling: An Analysis of the Problem and A Possible Solution." - Calls for "Half-Semester" scheduling. Divided into 2 8 week half-semester. Classes meet daily. Studied negative fee 2-3 classes in each one. --- few class at any 1 time. --- carry 6 hour over half, 9 the other.

College Heights Herald, Jan. 20, 1965 - Classes Scheduled 1965 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/3864

2 Editorial protests because teachers' names are not given for spring schedule. Denies that it is just because students seek easiest teachers, calls that idea "insulting."

Too many small classes & two many large ones. Too much specialization. Should offer majors in broader fields.
50 “The personal desires of faculty members to offer specialized courses should have no consideration in determining curricula.”

Unfortunately that all 6 classes with over 75 students were freshmen, since those students often need individual help.

2 In fall 1978 the student-faculty ratio was 17.8 to 1. In spring 1979 it was 16.5 to 1.

WKU - Notecards - Classes

Elevator 1:5 March 1910 - Classes 1904 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/1904/
Unsigned "Memoirs of An Old-Timer"
3 Entered Normal in Jan. 1904. Didn’t take long to register. “Prof. [A.S.] Dickey would write down the names of the branches to be taken, tell one joke and was ready for the next candidate.” Met in chapel that afternoon - work of the term was projected. Some of the classes were large - he remembers a grammar class with 70. Prof. A.S. Dickey “performed the role of umpire.” “It was no uncommon thing whenever a heated discussion arose in the class for Prof. Dickey to assume a dramatic pose and in tones equally dramatic, deliver something like the following: ‘Ladies and Gentlemen: - Let us now have the haze which seems to envelope this point dispelled by a few sentientiling gleams from the transcendent intellect of Mr. Transitive Verb Alphabet Snider, Ladies and Mr. Snider.”
4 Some very elite students who made nearly as much of an impression as the faculty. "Congress was a wonderful affair.” Supercharged with enthusiasm. Some great speeches were made. Several shouting for recognition. Henry Cherry usually presided. (Continued in 1:6, April 1910 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/1924/)

Gordon Wilson Diaries, Dec. 8, 1967 - Classes 1908+
Most teachers called on as many students as possible; and they were graded on answers. Student stood to recite. Professor R.P. Green would use this approach: “George Alexander Green, rise and shine.” Student thus introduced sometimes couldn’t remember his name. Robert Green took classes on several outings, including Lost River Cave.

From early days, room size was the major factor determining class sizes. But he taught one in old barracks that had overflow into hall; students rotated sitting out there. "We hold classes in every available space: on the stage of the auditorium, in the anterooms there, out in the balcony, and, --- largely to stress the need for more room, in some tents set up one summer out in the fort."

WKU - Notecards - Classical Club

Teachers College Heights June 1925 - Classical Club 1925 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/8432/
3 F.C.G. Classical Club was organized Feb. 10, 1925 with 22 charter members. Chiefly concerned with study of Latin.

1 The F.C.G. Classical Club was reactivated Jan. 12, 1949, at home of Miss Sibyl Stonecipher, sponsor. It had disbanded in 1942. Dean Finley C. Grise started it in 1925.
Henry Cherry to Mrs. Henry Cherry [Bess (Fayne) Cherry], St. Cloud, Fla., Feb. 12, 1923 - Will probably have to send someone to Peabody to find more teachers or just be swamped. Library is being moved to Senior House [Cedar House] & library rooms are being made into classrooms.

Second Semester 1933: total rooms available 68. 7 class periods are listed, starting with 7:30 to 8:20 and ending 3:20 - 4:10 . (But it points out that a number of classes are offered 4:20 to 5:10). Rate of utilization was 88% with 7 being empty at peak hour. Spring term 1933. Rate was 97%. No room was available at 8:30 to 9:20 and only 7 at 3:20 to 4:10. Points out that a number of the rooms being used aren't really suitable for classrooms. Especially true of the ones in the P.E. Building on 2nd & 3rd floors - gym classes are too noisy.

President Henry Cherry declared Friday, March 24, 1911 as "Clean-Up Day." Professor Billy Craig was chairman of all committees. Collected hoes, saws, axes for days in advance.

112 John Claggert - committee for sawing & trimming trees.
[Charles?] Taylor - committee for cutting dead trees
Colonel Guiliams - for cleaning front yard
[Robert] Green - burning brush
[Arndt] Stickles - moving lumber
"Professor [J.R.] Alexander was much grieved because he could not be present, but was forced to do some surveying." Girls seized rakes & helped clean front yard. Mrs. Cherry served coffee & wafers. Dean A.J. Kinnaman lost his sledge hammer. Requests that it & other lost property be brought to his office.

Classes were dismissed Oct. 21-22 & all students & faculty worked on cleaning up the campus under direction of Mr. Henry Wright, landscape artist from St. Louis. Workers divided into divisions with a leader for each. Lunch was served, then cornerstone was laid (Friday) for the new dorm. [Potter Hall]. "The immense amount of construction which has been in progress during the past year created considerable disorder and confusion on the hill." All is now taken care of.

Willard Cockrill was offered the post but preferred to remain in full-time teaching.

University: History - Clubs, Department 1924
Faculty Minutes 1907-1933 - Oct. 28, 1924 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/8532/
Home Economics Department is interested in establishing a department club. Question was raised about former requests from other departments, such as English, Latin, etc. Matter postponed.
Primary Organizations: Professional clubs, Literary societies, debating clubs, theatre guilds, similar clubs.
Secondary Organizations: athletics, student relief organization, A Capella Club
All students are expected to be in at least 1 primary organization, not over 2. All Normal Students, Freshmen & Sophomores must be member of a class literary society. Each group must have faculty sponsor, present statement of purpose to the Extra-Curricular Committee. Then must be approved by Faculty as a whole. To become effective in 2 weeks.

8 Ones discussed under club news: Mathematics, French, Classical, Campus Debating "Sunday Baseball in Kentucky", Arts & Crafts, Cherry Country Life, Rural School Club

1 "in one of the most forceful addresses of his career, President H.H. Cherry of Western Teachers College put his stamp of disapproval upon organizations and societies in the American teachers colleges which do no function in a cooperative manner with the general program of those in charge of the college and which fail to further education and democracy." Response at chapel was "a tremendous ovation from the students . . . " Henry Cherry said he was in favor of any club or fraternity "that stood for high thinking, just dealing, and the spirit of service."
*"However, I am not now, never have been and furthermore never will be in favor of that group of people which meets in secret organizations and seeks to gain special privileges and to further its own advancement at the cost of injury to democracy in the institution." WKU has been built upon a tradition of democracy."
*"There has been no agitation on the part of this student body for such societies, and I do not mean by this address to imply that we are battered with such a demand, but I am making this talk to illustrate he value of a human contact by cooperative working with the social whole."

Kelly Thompson to Mrs. Ethel Myers, Jr., Glasgow, Feb. 9, 1961 - Says that many colleges have unofficial clubs, many of which soon die. WKU is studying the matter now. Perhaps 100 students of 3,599 belong to them. Some are quite good students. "More of them, however, do not succeed very well in college." He is concerned because they operate entirely without college supervision & the public gets the idea they are officially connected.

WKU - Notecards - Co-Residential Housing

Committee on Student Affairs moves that administration prepare specific plan for co-residential housing to be submitted to the Board. Approved.

Adopted statement: "Effective the fall of 1985 the Division of Student Affairs will offer a plan of co-residential housing." Passed unanimously.

Applications are being taken for co-ed housing for Hugh Poland Hall next fall:
1) Have completed 60 hours
2) Be enrolled full time
3) Have 2.0 GPA
4) Not be on disciplinary probation
Floors 2-5 women, floors 6-9 men

Sophomores will be eligible for housing in the co-ed dorm (Poland Hall) as upper-class applications so far number only 33. But people often apply for dorm rooms at last moment.

J. David Cole

John David Cole joined the Board of Regents. Partner in law firm of Cole, Harned & Broderick.

(J. David Cole was regent for 8 years; chairman of Board for 4 of those)

J. David Cole had known Julian Carroll for some time, had been sort of county chairman for him. They became friends. When Julian Carroll became governor J. David Cole expressed interest in being a WKU regent. Dero Downing was open & frank; he was committed to Henry (?) Moss of Horse Cave, who would be counted on to support him. (1975). At lunch one day, Dero Downing asked J. David Cole to suggest Henry (?) Moss & not seek appointment. J. David Cole told him that he couldn’t withdraw. Opponents of Dero Downing though J. David Cole's appointment would give majority to force him out. But J. David Cole didn’t believe best interest of WKU would be served by forcing him out then. So he voted for a 4 year extension of Dero Downing's contract. When Dero Downing went off, wanted it to be done in way that wouldn’t hurt the university. Wanted Dero Downing's supporters to feel he had been treated fairly.

Thinks his main contribution may have been to expand the Board. He was the first non-WKU graduate on it. Influenced Julian Carroll's appointment of people with different experiences. Thinks a strong president needs (?) a strong board. (Tom Jones talks the Mike Hanried story - in his undergraduate days Dero Downing had told him he should go elsewhere.)

The Board had no bylaws as the university attorney pointed out. With much help from Bill Bivin the bylaws were assembled(?). WKU was 1st Kentucky university to do this. University of Kentucky & University of Louisville followed example. "... the bylaws was really the first step in Board independence..." Boards here & at other Kentucky schools had been dominated by the presidents. They had much input on appointments. Then we searched (?) the minutes of Board and codified Board decisions. Then identified what presidents had done I way of regulations & policies. All this also identified areas in which policies had not been formulated.

J. David Cole & Tom Jones agree that there had been an era of strong presidents - Kelly Thompson, Robert Martin, Adron Doran.

When J. David Cole became chairman, on important issues he would call on each member to express opinion and used roll call votes so that members were put on the record. "... we did not have a Board that honestly discussed issues. I think for a Board to disagree is fine. " Needs a loyal Board that accepts decisions, but "... I don’t think to disagree is to be disloyal." But that had been the case. And J. David Cole established a regular committee system for the Board. The finance committee was possibly the most important. Mike Harreld was the chairman. --- also set up. Disciplinary Committee had a number of appeals because "we had a very rigid student code of conduct." We amended the student code & delegated much more --- of Office of Student Affairs. Athletic Committee, Student Affairs Committee, Created Faculty Senate. J. David Cole supported it then & now.

(Tom Jones - J. David Cole refused to recognize Phil Constans & Tom Jones at Board meetings. J. David Cole says it just doesn’t remember the incidents. Tom Jones - Southern Association asked why no body(?)). Ad hoc committee; William Buckman, J. David Cole - all ----. Phil Constans - old union leader from Florida, had led strike there. Tom Jones - remembers Phil Constans 1st speech: "the administration may ignore us, but they ignore us at their peril." Tom Jones - said administration did ignore Faculty Senate for next 2 years. Senate passed guidelines for selection of administrators. Dero Downing had told Phil Constans he would consult with him before going to Board. But, in Phil Constans’ opinion Dero Downing violated that promise. And Tom Jones had helped get 26 faculty members there. Tom Jones says J. David Cole didn’t recognize Phil Constans. J. David Cole says he just didn’t remember - was remiss if he didn’t. But Board publicly did have a policy.

JDC: Dero Downing didn’t support concept of a Senate. Board created it over his sincere opposition. J. David Cole doesn’t believe Faculty Senate should have direct participation except through faculty regent. Amendment required president to present matters from Faculty Senate to the Board.

TJ: Do you share Donald Zacharias’ view that there should not be a faculty regent - that it is a conflict of interest?

JDC: Sees no conflict except in budget. I strongly support student & faculty regent. William Buckman made the position a strong position. With 1-2 exceptions the student regents were good.

Dillingham-Padilla controversy. Administration denied tenure to them. Dero Downing didn’t recommend it. Some faculty felt they had been unfairly dealt with. Brought to Board. William Buckman fought for tenure for them. Issue: Board can only hire & fire president - can’t go beyond president if there can be good administration. Discussed (?) over several Board meetings. J. David Cole supported Dero Downing's position on this because Board by law & by policy shouldn't take such action.

[ JDC - says that Dero Downing earlier had fought for tenure for Norman Holy when a Board member wanted to deny tenure for him. J. David Cole - before his time. ]
Dillingham-Padilla very unfortunate situation. J. David Cole says he told Dillingham & Padilla why he voted as he did.

They were finally kept on. Board didn’t grant them tenure then.

JDC: - his recollection is that Board didn’t grant them tenure but accommodations were made. Tenure was later granted.
TJ: - Steve Henry - student regent released confidential memo from Dean Robert Mounce re: Padilla to the College Heights Herald.

JDC: - doesn't recall it. Believes Steve Henry suggested granting tenure.

Resignation of Jim Richards as basketball coach:
JDC: in his opinion, wasn't a forced resignation. J. David Cole told Dero Downing that there should be a legitimate search & it was made. Committee recommended Gene Keady, chaired by John Minton. Gene Keady was significant(?) in life of WKU. Was 1st non-WKU basketball coach. Paved way for non-WKU president. Saw a different dimension(?). Red Towel Club - made bigger budget. Gene Keady and others went to Dero Downing with idea of the seats - with reluctance from John Oldham & Dero Downing this was done. Danger of outside control.

TJ: didn't Dero Downing fear any type of outside control?

JDC: much concerned. They sold one side, went back to Dero Downing & asked for another side. Dero Downing & John Oldham were astounded, though it impossible to sell. Red Towel Club - $750 - $1250. Other side sold at once - waiting list since then. Gene Keady expanded control to give outsiders some input on athletic policy. Keeps public dollars for other uses. "Purpose of athletics is to generate dollars, it is to generate people support, for the curriculum programs of the University."

JDC: in last year on Board, he voted against adding scholarship, a coach, release of teaching duties. With Gene Keady, he & assistants were not given teaching responsibilities - thus they could not gain tenure. This meant that they could be let go if no longer needed.

TJ: Why emphasize non-Western?

JDC: believes you have to expand Board, etc. to expand the vision of the University.

TJ: was amazed 21 years ago when he came to WKU about the number of Western people.

JDC: This was common in early 60's in other schools as well as WKU. Occurred with the rapid growth in the 1960s - easiest to promote your own people. But a broader cross-section was needed, new ideas, new approaches.

Friday evening call from Dero Downing, asked J. David Cole to come for breakfast on Saturday. Perhaps Ronnie Clark, Tom Emberton, Ron Sheppard were there. J. David Cole thought nothing of it. At Dero Downing's home told them he had reached decision to resign after considerable thought. Best for him & WKU; pledged to work best he could to reach(?) for a good transition.

JDC: emphasizes that it was Dero Downing's decision - as to time, place & why.

JDC: never urged him to resign. He knew that Board split. Dero Downing had greater --- ---- to regents --- than to the campus(?)
Dero Downing preferred valuable service to WKU. Assured Kelly Thompson supported him.

TJ: says Dero Downing handpicked by Kelly Thompson.  Dero Downing had a split board - about 6-4.

TJ: J. David Cole was --- some of his power.

JDC: He may have been the swing vote. Was determined that WKU not have a president fired - not have a case like Murray State University (D. Curtis(?)) Time & place selected by Dero Downing, in way that wouldn't hurt WKU, generate support to go forward with good selection process.

TJ: lunch he & J. David Cole had in 1977 or 1978 at B----. Tom Jones was Chair of Faculty Senate. J. David Cole was chairman of Board. Tom Jones says he didn't really know what he was in. J. David Cole said he had a dream of Western. Might be only 3 universities in Kentucky in 10 years. Dream of able, --- younger president - WKU needs a better president than Dero Downing, who had done a good job. Tom Jones predicts Dero Downing wouldn't show up well on an administrator evaluation. J. David Cole said I'll ask for it on the Board.

TJ: April that year, Dero Downing finished his report, said, "That's all." Then J. David Cole asked to see the results of the Faculty Senate evaluation.

TJ: your sentence probably altered history of WKU more than anything since Henry Cherry said "Let there be Western."

JDC: was a lack of communication between president's office and the Faculty Senate. Sees in future: Commonwealth University (--- of University of Louisville & University of Kentucky), Western & Northern Kentucky University. (Wants to be sure WKU is there). Evaluation showed significant faculty unrest. He was determined to avoid a Murray State University situation. Knew at Board meeting that here had been an evaluation.

TJ: didn't believe Board should not go into the ones below president. Board needed to know how faculty felt.
JDC: as chair he should not have expressed the faculty opinion. Some Regents did not take copies. This helped lead to Dero Downing’s decision to resign later.

TJ: Did he (J. David Cole) leak results of the evaluation to the Courier-Journal? Courier-Journal had 1st page story of non-support. Only Tom Jones and Regents had the results. Tom Jones didn’t leak it.

JDC: “I did not leak the results.” Dero Downing had support of majority of Board until he resigned. Think the leak came from the Board minutes.(?) A very difficult period. WKU was very lucky that we came out as we did.

TJ: He supported Kern Alexander of Florida.

JDC: Dero Downing’s resignation saddened many people. Some critics lost an issue. Was a sort of unifying effect. Many were skeptical of things being done any different. J. David Cole was chairman & had a solid (at least 8 votes) majority. Gov. Julian Carroll & J. David Cole had expanded the Board. J. David Cole never asked a member to vote for or against a particular issue. Operated by consensus. Had power; did we know how to use it? J. David Cole consulted(?) Richard Wilson (Courier-Journal) and Paul Oberst(?) University of Kentucky law) on how to conduct a model search. Courier-Journal helped make ours a successful search. Set up a procedure & a process. Included faculty, students, alumni - a broad cross-section of community. 176 names - office with own secretary. Tom Madron did splendid job.

TJ: Committee met every Thursday night. Process could have been shortened.

JDC: We were doing it for first time. Would do it somewhat differently. Cut to 20, then to 10 by the Board. The Regents & search committee members visited the 10 at their schools. Cut to 5 (names them). Things had gone well to this point.

TJ: 2 (in-house Paul Cook & J. D---) had been returned in top 20; earlier, W.R. Horigan, J.D. Sandefur (was 21st?), Marvin Russell. Gene Farley.

JDC: criteria argued upon. Format argued upon. Today would be invited to WKU - public sessions with several groups, including press. Todd Bullard at RIT & others visited. The Donald Zacharias’ came first. Kern Alexander withdrew his name without visiting.

TJ: says Kern Alexander was supported in advance by College Heights Herald & Daily News. Dero Downing & Kelly Thompson were on radio --- him as the only WKU graduate.

JDC: He got some supporting letters for Kern Alexander than anyone else. Regents considered if search should be broadened to include more names, to see if Kern Alexander could be re-scheduled. Board voted to meet Kern Alexander in Nashville. J. David Cole opposed. About 5-6 met Kern Alexander in Nashville. J. David Cole did not & some others didn’t. Kern Alexander called J. David Cole on Thursday of that week. Kern Alexander said he wanted to change the format that other 4 had met; he wanted to do several things differently. J. David Cole told him he should do what others 4 had done - could do as he wished beyond that. (Such as informal visits around the campus.)

TJ: He & Ron Sheppard had been amazed at Kern Alexander’s qualifications.

JDC: has never met Kern Alexander. There was strong effort to get Kern Alexander without regard to the selection process. Has never understood why Kern Alexander wasn’t willing to do what the others had done. J. David Cole wasn’t willing to change the format. Dero Downing & Kelly Thompson never spoke to him about it. The WKU connection was strong support for him. Kern Alexander withdrew his name. When Donald Zacharias was elected, Ron Sheppard [Sheffer?] & Tom Emberton voted no. They wanted to re-open the process. By then Todd Bullard, James Drinnon had withdrawn. Only 2 names remained - --- the California man. Good relations among Board members. Hugh Poland was a strong, objective person. So was Michael Harrell, Ronnie Clark. Board met in president’s office as a full Board. Much pressure on Steve Thornton (death threat?). Came close to starting over again. Came close to selecting someone on the WKU faculty but not in the search. Not Paul Cook, not Gene Farley. Consensus (8-2) was for Donald Zacharias. Concerns of Ron Sheppard [Sheffer?] & Tom Emberton, especially Tom Emberton, was that we were letting the procedure dictate the results. J. David Cole had faith in the process. They didn’t object to Donald Zacharias as a person.

TJ: Ron Shepperd’s [Sheffer?] objection was partly to Donald Zacharias. He & Tom Jones thought Donald Zacharias was arrogant. Tom Jones says he was very wrong there.

JDC: could have been a disaster to continue longer. Hugh Poland & Mike Herreld were solid rocks. - must have survived the process. J. David Cole called Donald Zacharias in the closed session, told him it would be 8-2. Donald Zacharias said he wouldn’t come if there was a split on the Board. J. David Cole told him that he was sure that the 2 would be strong supporters.

TJ: Ron Shepperd [Sheffer?] didn’t attend for about a year. Meeting of Donald Zacharias with executive committee of Faculty Senate ended his doubt about Donald Zacharias.

JDC: believes that Ron Shepperd [Sheffer?] & Tom Emberton --- supported Donald Zacharias. We came close to failure, but we showed that the process could work and that we could get a president with a broad base of support. J. David Cole was much impressed by Todd Bullard. Regrets that Kern Alexander withdrew, that he never met Kern Alexander. But would not change format. Donald Zacharias accepted. Created a committee to get new presidential home. Support from College Heights Foundation. Brought it early enough to show it to the presidential candidates. Provided facility for entertaining. A great coming together of support for Donald Zacharias. He set up lines of communication with faculty & students. We set up inauguration - hadn't done anything like it earlier(?). Henry Hardin came up with a makeshift medallion - since redone in more permanent form. Served 2 years as chairman with Donald Zacharias as president. Good relationship. They would lunch a week before a meeting & go over the agenda. Open & cordial meetings - didn't have to agree. J. David Cole disagreed with Donald Zacharias on leasing Jones-Jaggers School; J. David Cole opposed it, Donald Zacharias favored leasing it. He has been a very good president. Has had to deal with reductions in state funds.

(TJ: $8,000,000 total in 3 year period.) Hard to provide adequate needs. Harder to lead in this situation. WKU has gone from 7th in --- to 3rd.

JDC: Donald Zacharias realized that can't operate on public money. Budget in John Sweeney Bluegrass Plan - had to oppose Ed Pritchard. Doesn't believe Council members understand the proposal - represented more the staff views. Succeeded in getting changes. Meeting of the other schools to present plans to legislature, which modified the plan. Bluegrass Plan arbitrary. Council has since --- all the universities 2 years ago & came up with a sound plan. Donald Zacharias was a --- advocate. Proud of getting journalism department accredited. Able leadership by Carroll Knickey. Some opposed it & for Business. WKU is in business in doing service for people in the area. Yesterday WKU reacquired content of bookstore & laundry - there had been some legal question. J. David Cole's special project was the FM station. Henry Hardin deserves much credit for it. Glad to see expansion in Somerset area & --- elsewhere. Hopes we have made Western a better place. Hopes to be remembered as someone who had ability to --- Board. - interrupted, went back to John Minton. He was president, not interim. J. David Cole had to exercise power during that period.

TJ: someone said Kern Alexander said he didn't want to come to school where Board chairman though he was president. How do you respond?

JDC: There was a sort of ---. John Minton wasn't a candidate. Board had to make many decisions. J. David Cole led it. If Kern Alexander felt that way, it was a gross error on his part. The other 4 didn't feel that way. He never met me, so how could he make that judgment? I cared about Western and I continue to care. Cares mostly about the students. Was a process of ---whether correct or not. But selection of Donald Zacharias helps vindicate it. Exercised power with fairness, reason and with a good sense of humor.

TJ: you assured me that it was an open race - not set up for Harry Snyder. Your decision to request the faculty evaluation as a hard one to make.

JDC: Disagreed with Dero Downing on many issues, but we both agreed on what was best for Western. If he hadn't spoken up, some other Regents would have requested the results of the evaluation. If he hadn't done what he did, the 73% of the faculty might have taken a course that would not have been desirable. J. David Cole wasn't' going to lose control of the situation.

TJ: Thinks faculty --- is higher than in his 20 years on the faculty.

JDC: faculty acted responsibly.

J. David Cole elected for 1977. Same executive committee elected.

Dero Downing Papers: 9 - Cole, John David 1977

Board of Regents: Cole

J. David Cole (Chairman) to Dero Downing, 2/16/1977 - Wants basis on candor & to "be supportive of Western Kentucky University in all of its endeavors." Some points:

1) Inbreeding. Paul Cook's survey of 2/4/1977 shows it isn't true on that level. --- over in Student Affairs, Athletics, etc.

2) Concerned about weak teams on basketball schedule. To get back to top, we need to play top teams. Wants information.

"I am very supportive of Coach Richards and believe that from a management standpoint where problems exist in athletics, whether basketball or football, we should first look to the athletic director. It is the athletic director who is given the overall responsibility and additional compensation for the area of athletics."

3) Problem of double punishment for students. Hopes committee you appointed on --- ---.

4) Wants information about WKU's policy on research and publication.

J. David Cole to Dero Downing, 11/15/1977 - Likes administration's response to student demands for open housing. Change can't be made "as the result of demand or petition." The students knew what our policy was. Thinks it important that we establish goals: "I believe that Western Kentucky University has an obtainable goal, over the next ten years to emerge along with University of Kentucky and University of Louisville as one of the three major universities in this state."

Must rise above Eastern Kentucky University, Murray State University & Morehead State University. "The only real opposition would be from Eastern, and it is simply too close to UK to have any --- independence.

Athletic program is one way to arouse more support. "I feel over the last seven(?) years that the overall athletic program has been on the decline, and the primary problem in [sic] one of recruiting." Questions assistant coach, especially in football. Supports the two head coaches.

J. David Cole says he will give up chair in December but will complete his term as regent (to March 1983). Said 4 years as chairman was long enough for anyone. Has been member since 1975.

Donald Zacharias Papers - Cole, David 1981
Regents Correspondence John David Cole Folder
Donald Zacharias to J. David Cole, Oct. 16, 1981 - Hates to see him resign as chairman. Thanks him for his support. Appreciates his leadership style. They have discussed many issues. He has always been available "but you have never attempted to assume the role of president."

J. David Cole announced that he felt one could serve too long as chairman, said he did not want to be considered. Joe Campbell was elected.

Donald Zacharias Papers: Cole, David 1984
[Martha Layne] Collins Folder
Donald Zacharias to [Martha Layne] Collins, June 11, 1984 - Suggests J. David Cole for membership on Council on Higher Education. "... he more than any other person set the tone and gave the leadership which led Western to break away from the tradition of selecting someone internally to assume the presidency." "... most of the progress which Western has made in the last five or six years is the direct result of his courageous leadership."

Bowling Green has not had anyone on Council since Donald Zacharias has been here.

WKU - Notecards - Coleman Case

Henry Cherry Papers: 24 - Coleman Case 1936
General Correspondence 1936
Henry Cherry to Dr. M.C. Ford, Sept. 4, 1936 - "If there has ever been a human being mistreated by an institution that individual is J.E. Coleman." He didn't get a square deal. Problem basically is between him & the registrar. "Coleman is not a tactful man. ... He has made me mad a half dozen times, but notwithstanding this I could always feel behind the man a real integrity and a sincere honesty. ... "I feel like killing him sometimes because he does not know when to stop pressing his own program." "Dr. Crabb is a man of a peculiar attitude. I don't think Coleman has been helped by Dr. Crabb, Dean Grise, or anybody else. I made the fight alone, and I failed, notwithstanding I went so far as to embarrass myself several times personally."

WKU - Notecards - Collective Bargaining

Collective Bargaining
Collective bargaining was a --- item about this time with the legislature considering it. Needless to say, WKU was opposed to it. Considerable studying by the administration of the issue and arguments that could be used against it.

Associated Dean James L. Davis to Dero Downing, 6/17/1974 - Recommends establishment of Faculty Advisory Panel that Dr. Lowell Harrison recommended. In addition "to being extremely useful to the University" it "could be one of the factors that would make collective bargaining seem unnecessary and unattractive to our faculty."

Opposition: see Dero Downing's written statement to Special Committee 2/11/1975 (It is dated 1/31/1975). Not in the public interest.

Dero Downing to Governor Wendell H. Ford, 12/3/1973 - opposed to the concept.

Board of Regent: William Buckman
Memo: Dero Downing to William Buckman, July 19, 1976 - Re: Growth of Collective Bargaining. "I am firm in the belief that such a trend is a blight and a serious detriment to our profession."

Donald Zacharias Papers: Box 11 - Collective Bargaining

Collective Bargaining

Around 1980, some efforts on part of --- employees to get pay increases. They had an organization WKU Classified Employees Organization.

The Board policy was adopted Dec. 1, 1979. Until & unless the General Assembly adopts a public policy on collective bargaining, WKU will not do so. WKU will not recognize a union or 3rd party representation. In case of strike, slowdowns, etc. President is directed to take steps to ensure full operations. Includes discharge of those involved.

Undated memo from Henry Cherry to Miss [Mattie] McLean - Wants her to catch Pan American this afternoon if possible & go to Paducah to organize former students. Things 500 can be brought to the banquet. Gives a number of suggestions for mailings, people to call, etc. Doesn't think a plate should cost over $.75.

Henry Cherry to J.R. Harrison, Nortonville, March 11, 1924 - Would he consider making a contribution to CHF with loans going to such relatives or individuals as you indicate? Confidentially, Senator Rash donated $500, all of which was loaned to one of his nephews. Would be glad to do the same with him.

Henry Cherry to Thomas Logan, Madisonville, June 6, 1924 - Wants to employ him for about a month's work during summer to raise money in Hopkins County for CHF. Henry Cherry wants to raise $15-20,000. He will spend a week with him, speaking of groups, etc. "I raised several thousand dollars myself in Hopkins County during the week I was there and I hardly made a beginning."
"Before you turn this down, if you should have an inclination to do so, kindly give me a chance to speak to you personally about the matter."

Henry Cherry to Miss Mary McGimsey, Shreveport, La., June 26, 1925 - She is only one of 600 who has disavowed (?) her "sacred obligation" in regard to it. You certainly aren't expected to pay it until due, but you have failed to answer letter. "Your indifference and failure to be -- to your obligation has not done you any good." Can't believe this is intentional. "I feel it is a failure to interpret the ethics of the responsibility . . . " Unless your attitude changes, will be forced to withdraw my endorsement to your superintendent & others.

Henry Cherry to Mary McGimsey, July 13, 1925 - Check you sent in payment of interest was returned "No funds on deposit." Likes the spirit of your letter. You shouldn't have ignored earlier letter.

Henry Cherry to J.J. Howe, Carrollton, Jan. 18, 1926 - "I often wish that some of the millionaires of this county who are worried about what to do with their wealth, could come to my office and be with me far about a month. They would have visions and see things and do things they have never done before." We've helped over 700 students with loans in past three years, but we have urgent need of more money.

8 "The directors of the College Heights Foundation met in regular annual session yesterday morning in the offices of the Foundation at Western Teachers College."
"The secretary presented to the directors a very interesting report. The report revealed that 500 different loans were made to students last year. These loans amounted to $20,000. It also showed 1,530 loans have been made since its organization four years ago. These loans aggregate $60,000. It pointed out also that the repayments were very satisfactory; that students were appreciating the opportunity given them by the Foundation to help themselves, and that the fund was a big factor in helping to build the attendance of the institution."

College Heights Herald, July 1928 - College Heights Foundation 1928 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/2260/
4 Dr. Henry Cherry spoke on the CHF in a recent chapel talk. About $80,000 has been loaned to 2,000 students. The Foundation is in its infancy, will be able to do much more in the future. C.U. McElroy had been very supportive of it, left an additional $1,000 in his will.

Daily News, August 3, 1928 - College Heights Foundation 1928
2 "Discussing the College Heights Foundation at a chapel session of Western Teachers College recently, President H.H. Cherry of that institution brought out some interesting facts about this organization which was formed about five years ago.
According to President Cherry the Foundation has made upwards of 2,000 student loans amounting to $80,000 in the five-year period. . . . Mr. Cherry then took occasion to mention the part played by the late C.U. McElroy saying that Mr. McElroy was one of the twelve original incorporators as well as the author of the charter and by-laws. In addition, Mr. McElroy had assisted the Foundation financially before his death and in his will made a bequest of an additional $1,000 for his work."

Kentucky Building Campaign - Henry Cherry Correspondence
Henry Cherry to Professor J.F. Lipford, Baskett, March 5 (nd - 1928-1929). - "You borrowed from this patriotic organization $125. The Secretary has repeatedly asked for simple courteous replies to his letters. I am writing as President of the organization to say that it will be necessary for me to hear from you at once, or I will embarrass you in a way that you will not forget for many years. I am not meaning to be unjust or unkind, but this obligation which you made from this foundation is too sacred to be treated in this fashion. I am writing your County Superintendent today. I shall take legal actions at once unless I hear from you."

Murray Kerr Letters
Murray Kerr, field representative to Henry Cherry, Feb. 25, 1929 - "Next time you assemble a page of Kentucky notables please leave out that damned old skunk, Yancey(?) E. Allison. You may remember I told you of my difficulty in trying to sing my recitation into his deaf ear - I left the story with his son to absorb and later went back to see what could be done about it and found nothing - the old man says he did not get any education after he was nine or fourteen or some tender age and that he is not a believer in education for the young. Wrap that up for an inspirational statement to be accredited to one of our foremost literary citizens - and the son won't help either way."

(This is a carefully organized campaign. There are lists of students by counties, list of graduates by counties, field representatives, college personnel going out, brochures, news stories, endless letters.)

E.F. Sporing, Greenville to Henry Cherry, March 7, 1929 - (E.F. Sporing is field agent collecting for CHF). Relates his experiences that day. A Mr. Hughes was with him. At Graham school, got $615, of which $65 was from people who had never been at WKU. Went back to the young lady who had said she wasn't able to give. She signed for $50. So, $650 at Graham.
Then to Bremen(?). Three married women held the total dun. "The first one, a graduate of Western, Joyce Felts refused and had to be given the 2nd degree in order to get a subscription. Will tell you about it later. He [sic] finally signed $50.
"Mr. Hurt a very close friend of yours told me he had signed $100 but I told him I wanted his sub as much as Clyde Vincents and if he signed $250 I may be able to get several more to do the same, etc., he was too proud to be out done by Clyde and thinks so much of you he "said put it down" and tell Pres. Cherry if he needs more and does not get enough, call on Hurt." Will go to Central City tomorrow. Told Mr. Hughes we expect $5,000 from this county, & it is possible. Will probably be here all week. Have Mr. Seward mail about 100 new blanks when the payment falls due in April. New subs today about $700.

Laib & Company, Louisville to Mr. R.H. Seward, CHF, Nov. 4, 1931 - "Upon investigation, we find that the subscription which you refer to was conditioned with our receiving a certain contract, which later became somewhat involved and really resulted in a loss to us. Under the circumstances, we hardly think it possible for us to contribute the amount which was originally specified, nor do we feel that you are justified in holding payment of the bill for materials furnished until you have received payment on the subscription."

Note: Henry Cherry to R.H. Seward, Nov. 11, 1931 - "I didn't write them as I said I would. I think it is decidedly better for me to see them personally some time. You might write them and say that I attend the subscriptions myself in the office and that I am out of the city and will be for three or four weeks, that I will write them or see them on my return; . . ."

R.H. Seward to Logan & Company, Louisville, 12/23/1931 - Confirmed about your account. Your contract was for $624.00. "You were to donate $100.00 leaving a balance of $524.00. In order to keep you books and our books straight I believe it would be a good idea to pay you the full $624.00 and let you send us your personal check for $100.00 as your donation."
Let me have a letter "together with a new bill including the $100.00 donation" to resolve this matter at once.
(There's a check stub from Logan Company for "Donation 100.00")

"If owners prefers omit donation and the writer will furnish engineering services on heating & plumbing instead of a cash donation."

Ambler Asbestos Shingle & Sheathing Company (gene Ferrell, Nashville) to Dr. Henry Cherry, April 18, 1931 - Confirming conversation with you. We'll quote three prices for brick for the Kentucky Building, per 1000.

$15.65
Less 10% special discount 1.56
[total] 14.09
Freight 4.35
[total] $18.44 FOB Cars Bowling Green
"The 10% special discount is a donation by the Company to the building fund of the Kentucky Home Building. In addition to the 10% special discount the writer will give $100.00 if this Brick is accepted by the Architect and Board."

Thomas L. Barrett, Louisville to WKSC, April 22, 1931 - Concerning steel joists, etc. Will donate $200 to CHF if favored with this order.

Grainger & Company, Louisville to Captain Brinton B. Davis, April 22, 1931 - Re: Structural steel. Our donation to the building would be 7 1/2%, so cost would be $5,771.00.

10 Loan fund got started when faculty member Miss Lalla Boone gave $100 to Henry Cherry to be loaned to needy students. Two people borrowed, were able to graduate, repaid loan with interest. Henry Cherry expanded the idea.

11 As of June 1, 1935 - 4,141 loans; $154,058.92 Part of campaign for Kentucky Building didn’t get underway until 1928. Depression halted its progress.

13 6,020 subscriptions = $247,000
WKU Faculty $32,579.00

50 Creation of President Henry Cherry "to build up and make available a fund for use by worthy and needy students of Western." Made over 13,000 loans, $420,000. Bookstore is an auxiliary.
51 "No security other than the student's pledged word of honor is required."

1 At meeting on Oct. 10 Mr. Roy Seward requested & was granted a change of work status. He will be succeeded as executive secretary-treasurer by Miss Florence Schneider, bursar. Mr. Seward had been with the CHF since 1923 when it was organized. He graduated from Southern Normal in 1904 and was employed part-time by Dr. Henry Cherry as a secretary. Joined WKU's staff full-time in 1909.
12 When CHF was organized its officers were in Cabell Hall. It moved several times before going to basement of Kentucky Building. Offices will now be moved to 2nd floor of Van Meter to be more accessible.

Original article
Apparently articles that students wrote during the early fund-raising. This one was typed, 1 ½ pages single spaced by Melvern H. Berry. "In the still darkness of night with head bowed upon his desk which his elbows were resting, while the rain on the outside flooded the countryside with torrents, was the soul of a great man. On his face could be seen the contours of many winters, while the snow dotted here and there his hair. The lines about his wellformed mouth were drawn which gave indications that of a troubled brain. As president H.H. Cherry sat in perfect oblivion, his mind was with the thousands of humanity that lived everywhere. As he gazed into the outer darkness his expression changed from one of intense thoughtfulness to one of triumph."

36 Picture of the frame building between Potter Hall [Recitation Hall] & Training School that housed CHF. Caption says this "small bungalow" was acquired when WKU got Potter College property. Was 1st home of CHF. Henry Cherry used it as his office for a time when his Van Meter Hall office was being redone. Was taken down then Potter Hall gave way to Cherry Hall. CHF moved to ground floor of Kentucky Building.

1-2 Letter, Oc. 1, 1978, Kelly Thompson to Dero Downing - Established 1923. Until 1969, chief function was loans to students. Kelly Thompson started in 1969 to reorganize it & to create a perpetual trust fund. In 1969 - Memorial Fund had $193,650.78
Now 1978 $2,450,199.74
To 1969 scholarships - $24,597.04
1969 to present - $490,985.95
For 1979-80, budgeted $175,000; next year $200,000
Awards other than scholarships:
1962-1969 $17,893.05
Since 1969 $45,359.09
Believes that will bequests now planned with exceed total current assets of the CHF.
Assets of the CHF:
Support of loan program - $137,500.00
Memorial Fund 2,450,199.74
General Operations 630,709.41
(laundry, bookstore) $3,218,409.15
Averaged 7.76% last year on all investments. Great praise for Miss Georgia Bates, Executive Secretary-Treasurer.

At age 70 Kelly Thompson says he plans to retire as soon as a capable successor is found to head the CHF. Says he will recommend Dero Downing.
Downing says he hasn't really considered his plans beyond his sabbatical which ends Aug. 15.

Kelly Thompson on 1955-1969 growth. "We knew the growth had to come together in all areas. If we let down in one area it would have thrown the balance off. The real challenge was to keep everything together so there was no weakness in any one area. You can't conduct a university program with too many students and too few classrooms."

"We began to experience the thrill of seeing things happen." He & staff were often in Washington and Atlanta seeking aid. Kelly Thompson estimates 200 trips to Atlanta. "Time will work with you if you stay with something and give constant attention to making everything better. I had a very firm conviction that the best way for Western to compete, no matter the circumstances, was to do everything humanly possible to make programs superior.

"The challenge to Western is to stay so far ahead of the pack that you're no longer part of the pack."

"I know the foundation had to reorganize but I didn't have time when I was president. I put it on the back burner. We have accomplished that reorganization and we now have one of the best business operations of any foundation in the country." The memorial fund totals $2,642,547. It will continue to grow. "I have never hesitated to criticize Western. No institution can consist of all up periods. But I am so proud of this institution that I excuse it when mistakes occur or when less than the best effort is demonstrated."

Joint meeting of Regents & CHF Directors. Kelly Thompson reported on the CHF. Chief function of the CHF after the completion of the Kentucky Building to 1969 when Kelly Thompson became head was the emergency loan program. Sept. 1969: in trust, $193,650.70 which was used to start Memorial Fund. May 19, 1979 - Memorial Fund had $2,605,664.37. Also: $473,083.72 in operations of bookstore and laundry; and $147,500 in student loan program. Total assets: $3,226,248.05. The loan program and scholarship programs are administered by the University. CHF can be the marginally difference in WKU's operations. Donald Zacharias has been elected to the CHF Board of Directors.

Daily News, 8/14/1979 - College Heights Foundation 1979
Board of Directors Monday approved re-organization. Effective officially Feb. 1, 1980 (but starting in October) Dero Downing will replace Kelly Thompson as president. Kelly Thompson will become chairman of the board, a new position just created. Kelly Thompson will not be paid. Dero Downing will receive $12,000. Georgia Bates - treasurer. Mary Sample - executive secretary.

18(?)! At Aug. 1979 meeting the Board named Dero Downing President of the CHF as of Feb. 1, 1980 and named Kelly Thompson chairman of the Board. Kelly Thompson had completed 50 years of association with the school.

State is going to assume more supervision of university-affiliated bodies(?), but Dero Downing doesn't see any problem for the CHF. Under the president's plan many inside bodies would be exempt from legislative review when budgets are being created(?). But an annual statement would be filed & state policies would govern spending. Finance Committee of Regents said last Saturday that WKU will buy the Bookstore and Laundromat from the CHF.

College Heights Herald, 8/23/1983 Section B, 8 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5841
Regents won't buy the facilities at least for now. Joseph Cook II: "We're in a budget crunch, and we didn't have the money." Gross income for the Bookstore in 1981-82 was $2.6; net operating income was $244,000. Net assets of both as of Feb. 28, 1982 were $783,467.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, 2/7/1984 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5892
Regents decided Saturday to purchase the Bookstore & laundry from the CHF by July 1, provided no reductions are made in WKU's state appropriations during 1983-1984. They will then be operated by the University & any profits will go into University funds. This move had been urged upon he schools by the state. Dero Downing: called the move "timely and appropriate" for both sides. Harry Largen estimated cost at $800 - 850,000. In 1982-1983: sales were $2,600,000 and $27,000. Combined net income = $215,000. Dero Downing hopes loss of revenues will not reduce aid to scholarships.

A training school was started in 1906 with 4 grades. 5th added 1909, 6th - 1910. 7-8 - 1912. New building in 1925 - $200,000. 1st senior class 1926, had 10 graduates.
Dero Downing: “The decision to close the school came after much study. It grew out of the fact that the school did not typify public schools where teacher education students would be working after they graduated. If it could not be justified for its teacher education functions, there was no reason to keep the school operating.” |

College Report, 1982 (to Regents) - College of Business Administration 1981
1 College was organized this way starting in 1979, so earlier data doesn't apply
2 Excluding Business & Distributive Education, in past 3 years enrollment in spring semesters increased 28.1%, from 1214 to 1555. Including Education, increase was 22.8%.
Student-Faculty Ratio: Fall 1979 19.7, Fall 1980 21.6, Fall 1981 22.8
Student Credit Hours: Fall 1979 18,284, Fall 1980 19,434, Fall 1981 20,384, Increase of 11.7%
Total enrollment in MBA programs:
44 - 50 - 72 - 100
4 - 5 - 7 - 11 degrees enrolled
13 Goal is 150 by fall 1983. More faculty will be required
15 Not enough computer hardware & software. Low salaries, especially for summer teaching.

The Graduate Summer 1984 - College of Business Administration 1984
(Neveloper of College of Business Administration Associates) - Statement by Dean Robert Nelson, who will return to full-time teaching & research in Aug. 1984.
"My first major concern for the future of the College of Business Administration is that the financial resources become available and the constraints of tradition and irrelevant comparisons with other academic units in the university be lifted so that the highest quality of faculty can be employed to teach and guide our students."
Must hold the good people that we get.

1 Bowling Green College of Commerce will become part of WKU on June 1, 1963. Announced last Friday at student faculty meeting of College of Commerce by Kelly Thompson & Dr. Joseph H. Young, president of the College of Commerce. Many details to be worked out, but the merger has been accepted in principle. Real estate not included, but WKU will be allowed to use it during next year. Plans now are to continue classes there. Fees will be less than half what the 400 students are now paying. Kelly Thompson told WKU faculty at special Friday that "we stand on the threshold of one of the great historical developments of Western."

"Summary Report of the Bowling Green College of Commerce merger with Western Kentucky State College."

Meeting in Kelly Thompson's office, May 7, 1963 - 5 from each school. 10:00 a.m. meeting at Kelly Thompson's home with 8 of 10 present(?). College of Commerce Trustees reported fund drive had failed. Couldn't continue. Appealed to Kelly Thompson for merger with WKU. Kelly Thompson stressed the Regents would have final say

3 Assets were listed as $5,858.01 (not including buildings & ---). WKU would assume expenses for April & May of $27,377.30. Dr. Joseph Young had submitted resignation to Trustees. Feeling was that he should stay on during period of transition. Kelly Thompson asked about cost of using the building. Agreed that WKU could give no guarantee about using members of staff of College of Commerce but would consider their applications on basis of need.

6 "In all fairness, it must be stated that a lack of leadership on the part of those representing the College of Commerce became quite evident when none of those present wanted to assume the role of spokesman or accept the responsibility of giving direction to the plan." Mr. J.C. Holland, Trustee, authorized to write(?) with WKU an agreement. Both sides agree to "sleep on it" & say nothing to press.

May 8 - 1 Meeting in Kelly Thompson's office: Raymond Cravens, (---?) Page, Robert Cochran, Dero Downing. Decided to call J.C. Holland and seek other arrangements. Original ones not acceptable. Dr. Joseph Young called for conference with Kelly Thompson. From this came another approach. College of Commerce continue to end of present semester, when WKU would take over. Purchase price would allow debts to be paid. Any surplus would then go to WKU.

1:00 p.m. meeting with College of Commerce representatives. Kelly Thompson authorized new plan; Joseph Young concurred. J.C. Holland, asked if he approved. "You see me smiling, don't you?" Agreed that WKU would protect students, as far as possible preserve traditions. Hold-up on cost of using building by WKU to get Bowling Green College of Commerce would dissolve as of June 1 & WKU would assume operations then.

Thursday May 9. Meeting at lunch(?): Kelly Thompson, Raymond Cravens, Dero Downing, Douglas Keen, Max Harlin. To inform those regents & get their reaction. Both approved. Kelly Thompson said agreeable lease for 1 year had been agreed upon. Then a new agreement would be made if WKU needed it.

Friday May 10 - 9:00 a.m. - Special assembly at College of Commerce. (The actual property is not part of the merger proposed). WKU people also there. Joseph Young read prepared statement, introduced Kelly Thompson who got standing ovation. Kelly Thompson read prepared statement. General approval was obvious. Joint press conference.

12:30 p.m. Special meeting of WKU faculty & staff to inform them. Kelly Thompson's prepared statement: "Consummation of this union brings about an extraordinary meeting of the future with the past." College of Commerce & WKU were once the same. We have common ancestry. Final legal dissolution is still underway in 1965. See memo Dero Downing to Kelly Thompson, 1/25/1965 & 5/3/1965

Bowling Green Daily News, May 21, 1965 - Gives history of the building - started as private mansion in 1852 (A.G. Fire of June 20, 1964 sealed is doom. Too extensive to be repaired. Future of 1.1 acre site still uncertain, but building is being torn down.

Memo: Raymond Cravens to Kelly Thompson, Nov. 12, 1963 - Mr. Owen Lawson thinks College of Commerce heating system may go out anytime & building got poor report from fire marshal. Suggests we move to campus as soon as possible - Rock House, Kentucky Building, possible classrooms, etc.

Raymond Cravens to Mr. Walter Hager, Executive Secretary. AASCU, Jan. 14, 1964 - President Kelly Thompson asked me to give you a paragraph about consolidation of Bowling Green Business University & WKU. "Western Kentucky State College assumed the operation of the Bowling Green College of Commerce on June 1, 1963. The curricula previously offered by the Bowling Green College of Commerce were combined with existing curricula at Western to form a comprehensive new program in Business, Economics and Public Administration. The buildings of the College of Commerce are presently being used by Western. Western hopes to continue and to build upon the fine traditions and reputation of the Bowling Green College of Commerce."

Henry Cherry Papers: 24 - Commercial Work 1936
Correspondence C 1936
Fannie Harrington, Milledgeville, Ga., to F.J. Pentecost, Henderson, June 8, 1936 - Urges him to get commercial work started at WKU. It "will help Western grow faster than anything she has ever done." Says there is a great demand for well-trained college people.

Henry Cherry to F.J. Pentecost, June 25, 1936 - Agrees that she is correct in her educational conclusions, but: "I do not believe it would be possible to put in commercial work at this time."

Paul Garrett Papers: 3 - Commercial Work 1943
1941-1946 Me-My
Paul Garry to A.W. Musgrave, San Marcos, Texas, Nov. 18, 1943 - WKU doesn't offer commercial work. "The chief reason for not doing so is the presence in Bowling Green of the Bowling Green College of Commerce, a private institution which has a fine record and with which we prefer not to compete."

1 Dean Finley Grise announced that WKU has organized a 4 year curriculum leading to BS degree and the provisional high school certificate for teaching commercial subjects. In co-operation with Bowling Green Business University where students will take the commercial subjects. Students will pay only the regular WKU fees & the degree will be granted by WKU. WKU has also recently organized a 2 year curriculum that meets admission requirements for the School of Veterinary Medicine at Auburn. State pays $1,000 per year per student. Student pays only the Alabama tuition.

Kelly Thompson Papers: 39 - Commission on Higher Education 1964
Council on Public Higher Education
3 page paper for Ted C. Gilbert, Executive Director, Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education - Gives a brief history of it & its function. Says that Kentucky Commission on Higher Education was created by executive order of Gov. Ned Breathitt on March 9, 1964 to administer the federal grants program for higher education. Has 18 members, representing both public & private, on all levels. Ted Gilbert is Executive-Secretary of both, some --, etc.

Kelly Thompson Papers: 15 - Commission on Higher Education 1964
Commission on Higher Education - Minutes
Met April 30, 1964 in Governor's Conference Room. List of members. Ned Breathitt spoke. William Abell to be chairman. Suggested 3 committees:
1) Committee to Draft State Plan
2) Committee on Projects & Priorities

Met May 25, 1964, Governor's Conference Room. Spagens for Committee: presented detail plans for allocation of funds. [Robert?] Martin & [John?] Oswald wanted more weight given to enrollment increases. No actions taken.

July 14, 1964 - [Robert?] Martin to alter formula by Monsignor John F. Murphy, Villa Madonna College, failed for want of a second. Plan was approved after some changes.

Aug. 12, 1964 - Kelly Thompson absent; Charles Zettlemoyer there. Wanted details of plan.

Sept. 28, 1964 - Spragens & John Murphy try to get several changes, failed 2-8. Request made by Committee 2.

Dec. 4, 1964 - Report by Committee on Projects & Priorities. Gives summary of applications & rankings. Western --- addition (estimated construction of $1,405,861; federal grant requested $439,566) got the 2nd priority with 96 ranking (100).

Report by Committee 3: Long Range Plan. Spragens objects to several things, as does Murphy.

Dec. 22, 1964 - Approved Committee 3 plan. Kelly Thompson asked about financing of long range study. Chairman William Abell said Dept. of Finance had assured him it would be awarded(?)

April 29, 1965 - Kelly Thompson absent. No one there from WKU. Routine business.

June 17, 1965 - Committee 1 met

June 28, 1965 - Member of Survey Team present. They present tentative plan for the study.

Sept. 1, 1965 - Governor has re-appointed ones whose terms had expired. Committee 2 reported. Has list of applications by Aug. 2 closing date. WKU's request for science building was given 6th priority. Dr. Chambers gave report on work of the Survey Team. Oct. 21, 1965 - Much discussion over establishment of a separate staff. William Abell is unhappy with Survey Team’s progress - much discussion here.

Dec. 16, 1965 - Discussion again over Committee 1’s formula. Report from Survey Team - discussed at length.

Dec. 30, 1965 - Committee 2 for Kelly Thompson. Considered survey team report. The Team & Committee 3 both split on recommending what overall council or agency should exist. William Abell - presidents not vote. [Robert?] Martin - presidents should vote. Vote on 3 general plans.
1) 9 laymen + 6 public college, all voting. 7 votes - Charles Zettlemoyer favored.
2) 9 laymen + 6 non-voting members from colleges. 10 votes (University of Louisville, University of Kentucky, private schools).
3) 9 laymen; 6 non-voting; 3 non-voting from private colleges. No votes.

Gives the votes, item by item.

Kelly Thompson Papers: 38 - Commission on Higher Education 1966
Commission on Higher Education

Despite progress Kentucky still ranks well below (1) national average. "Although it is moving upward, it has a long way to go."
2 For all Kentucky colleges: enrollment of 73,068 in fall 1965 will reach 130,000 by fall 1975. Percent in private schools will decline from 30% to 23%.
3 Costs will probably more than triple by 1975.

4 Recommendations:
1) 4 regional schools should expand M.A. level graduate work.
2) They should become regional state universities. So should Kentucky State University when it has developed M.A. work. John Oswald (University of Kentucky), Irvin Lunger (Transylvania University, Monsignor John Murphy, Villa Madonna, dissent on this point. They want change based upon education criteria established by Council on Public Higher Education.)
3) University of Kentucky expand doctoral & post-doctoral
4) Regional universities expand research and public service
5) Legislature should invite University of Louisville to become a state school.
6) For undergraduate education - present schools expand, University of Kentucky expand community college system, expand schools’ community colleges, Council on Public Higher Education study needs & make recommendations.
6.9 Financing - Capital funds for construction should come from Kentucky general obligation bonds. Should gradually end use of revenue bonds for which student fees are pledged. Continue financing non-academic buildings by using revenue bonds from the income of such buildings. Student fees should be studied carefully.

Organization
7 13. End ex-officio memberships on the governing boards. Replace by another member appointed by Governor. Each Board should elect its own chairman.
Suggests staggered terms of 7 years.
14. Board shall be autonomous - budget, programs, personnel, service.
15. Membership of Council on Public Higher Education should be:
9 laymen, appointed by Governor for 4 years. (9 years would be better) + president of each school as a non-voting member. *The 5 presidents & 2 others dissent on this. They want presidents to be voting members.

William H. Abell, Chairman, Commission on Higher Education to Governor Edward T. Breathitt, Jan. 17, 1966 - Transmits the above report & recommendations. Says that vote on changing 4 colleges to universities was 11-3. One on voting power on Council was 11-7. On other 14 recommendations, vote was unanimous.

WKU - Notecards - Committee of 75

Kelly Thompson Papers: 22 - Community Colleges 1963
P - General

Mrs. Amabel R. Price, Hopkinsville to Kelly Thompson, Dec. 5, 1963 - University of Kentucky putting community college in Hopkinsville will kill Bethel College.

"Kelly is there not some way to stop this power grab of the University? It is going to hurt you and every other college in the state . . .

"This fool Oswald, the new President of the University [sic], who has the manners of lowest class of people. --- here though the paper, that his only interest is in the University, and that he is training students for the University. He seems to be a man who has never held a big job before, and it has gone to his head. He disgusted nearly everybody in Hopkinsville, except for a few politicians [sic]."

48 Community College has been established to facilitate offering special courses etc. in late afternoon & evening.

Raymond Cravens to Harry L. Keith, Research Analyst, Survey Team, Aug. 3, 1965 - In Sept. 1960 WKU started evening classes in Community College Division.
Has about 375-400 students in each semester. On June 1, 1963 when WKU absorbed Bowling Green College of Commerce it inherited several 1 & 2 year terminal programs. WKU is firmly committed to such programs. Thinks best times are late afternoon, evening, Saturday. Will be expected.

3 The extension centers became community colleges in 1962. Number increased to present (1968) 13 + 1 extension center + 1 technical institute. (Lexington Technical Institute established 1905). Ft. Knox is not really a community college. Jefferson Community College opened in 1967. In 1966 bill brought the municipal 2 year junior college at Paducah into the system. 1968 Assembly authorized colleges at Madisonville, Glasgow & Carrollton. Madisonville started in 1968; the other w have not been funded.
6 There is a local advisory board, but University of Kentucky administers the system. There is no local control over the Community College & no local (direct) financial support.

H.L. Olyniec, President Community Concerts Association(?), to Kelly Thompson March 30, 1962 - First two performances about filled the house. Thank you for your generous support - but could you increase WKU's share to $2500 for 1962-63?

Kelly Thompson to H.L. Olyniec, April 2, 1962 - Believes in the program, is delighted with its season. But - The sponsors came to him with request that WKU help finance it for 2-3 years, after which it should be self-supporting. We agreed & have now budgeted $2,000 for each of past 5 year. which "is more money than is being budgeted each year for all programs being brought to the college by the college itself."

We could bring in a very fine series to the college for this sum. We have to wonder what would benefit the largest number of students?

Wonders if all patrons & sponsors have been asked to increase their contributions in the same ratio?

We have passed the 2-3 year period.

H.L. Olyniec to Kelly Thompson, April 14, 1964 - Proud of what has been achieved; we are finally filling the auditorium to capacity. Costs of attractions are going up - St. Louis Symphony that was $3,000 a year ago is no $3750. We have increased adult tickets from $7 to $8 and students from $3.50 to $4. In past we have charged college faculty $5 with the college paying the other $2. (75 were sold last year.) Can you paid $3 instead of the $2 if we retain the $5? Any help that you can give will be deeply appreciated.

H.L. Olyniec to Kelly Thompson, April 22, 1964 - Indeed grateful for your help. Understands you will take care of the extra dollar for faculty & add enough over the amount paid for faculty tickets to make $2600. We will not be charged for Van Meter, so the WKU contribution will be $2800.

Article by Sheila Conway
1 Dean J.T. Sandefur is pushing it. Wants it generally available by May, 1974 in some course, in some undergraduate courses by fall, 1974. J.T. Sandefur explained:
1) "First we must identify the skills (competencies) which a teacher must have in his first job, and the tasks he must do."
2) "We then must find out how we can use teacher preparation at Western to get the teacher ready to perform in the classroom."
3) WKU must "devise methods of evaluating a student to see if he (or she, of course) can show that teacher competencies have been attained."
WKU is one of 81 in country, only one in Kentucky, using CBTE. WKU is using parallel courses will --- 40 elementary & 40 secondary students on this program in

| Mrs. D.E. Pickens, Providence, Ky. to Henry Cherry May 3, 1926 - (Extra pains had been taken in 1925 to place a son who needed work.) Daughter considers entering summer school, June 1926. Is hesitant "on account of hearing different ministers tell of the corruptness of our various colleges. We have recently had a Bible Institute here (which I attended) and all ministers present urged us to send our boys & girls to Christian colleges where they would be surrounded by a religious atmosphere, and told of one Southern College that dismissed 13 girls during one Semester." Had dream of her children going to college, "but when we hear ministers of the Gospel tell about evolution, and different Sciences and the snares & temptations" where we must think carefully about doing so. But Bowling Green has sent us such good men as Superintendent Jones and Principal Lee Jones, so she isn't afraid to send her children there. (6 of them, poor). "I want you to send me the addresses of some good, nice, respectable Christian families (with whom you would trust your own girl if she were away from home to board) for her to get board with while there."
"I mean people who do not have dances, etc. in their homes, but are real Christians." She doesn't want to stay in the dorm. Asks for a personal reply. | |

Memo: Bill Bivin to Dero Downing, Dec. 13, 1974 re: Staffing & Organization of the Computer Center. - Great masses of data must be dealt with, both for internal use and for government agencies. "The manner and means by which this task is accomplished and the usefulness, integrity and quality of the result will determine, or substantially influence, the integrity and quality of management decisions based upon such information, and therefore the extent of compliance with applicable laws and regulations." At a critical period, WKU had "the foresight and the commitment" to find and "apply to the task" outstanding personnel such as Harry Largen and Charles Zettlemoyer. "You have characterized that move as a watershed event of the utmost importance to the life of Western." I think you are correct. WKU is now at another such watershed and ". . . the same foresight and commitment that got us where we are needs to engineer another watershed event to assure a similar performance reward(?) for the future." Must find equally well qualified people if you provide strong leadership. May be able to do much of this by reassignment. But "urges him to keep open mind on requests from capable, hard-working administrators for back-up technical people. Denies that WKU is over-loaded with administrative staff. The resignation of Charles Zettlemoyer in late 1974 led to much high level discussion as to what should be done.

"Western Kentucky University: Request for Computer Services(?)" 27 pages - With letter to Council on Public Higher Education, April 21, 1977
1 WKU began electronic computing with IBM 1401 computer in 1967. It replaced unit record equipment used for business & student records prior to that time.
2 In 1971 it was replaced by IBM 360/40 as need increased. In 1970 WKU adopted a 5 year plan to guide development. Plan included these systems on-line through a tele-processing network:
Library reclassification from Dewey Decimal to Library of Congress;
Library circulation
Student records
Admissions
Payroll

Batch systems planned for general ledger accounting, accounts payable, accounts receivable, inventory, alumni records, student registration. By 1973, WKU was ahead of schedule on the 5 year plan; additional systems were being developed(?). But much of systems documentation had been deferred. Administrative computing used major part of the capacity of the system. Computer sciences & data processing ---, research, academic applications were ----. Got 2 small computers & devoted them entirely to computer science & data processing.
3 In early 1975 Kentucky Department of Finance offered services on its IBM 370/155 through use of remote batch terminal (RBT) for academic computing & research. We shifted those areas that remained on the 360/40 to the Department of Finance computer and used the 360/40 relieved(?) capacity for other administrative purposes. This has continued to the present.

The number of on-line terminals(?) & transactions is now more than double what was planned. Capacity of 360/40 was increased in 1973 by adding on-line disk storage & in 1975 by expanding core from 192K to 256K. These additions brought 360/40 up to its practical(?) maximum. It is used only for administrative uses. Academic research & institution(?) are handled by 2 small computers. DEC PDP 11/45 & IBM System 3 & IBM 3780 RBT connected to KECNET
5 Most of applications software was developed locally & is completely ----.
6 Over 100 user transaction programs are being accessed by 47 terminals with an average of over 9,500 transactions per day.

10 Among pressing needs:
Library --- file
Library of Congress cataloging system
Student financial aid
Database management
Accounting & budgetary
Student needs - academic registration
Alumni records
Purchasing & inventory
Physical assets inventory control
Department of Public Safety

22 Propose to upgrade present system. Program cost of $709,006. Would meet needs for 5-7 years.

Dero Downing to Sectary Russell McClure, Department of Finance & Administration, 8/8/1977 - Proposal is to acquire IBM 370/148. Says over 4-5 years cost of $709,006 will be at least $127,000 cheaper than leasing.

8 "Bowling Green's musical season for 1927-28 will be ushered in this evening when the All-Star Concert Series will have its opening concert in the auditorium of the Western State Teachers College on the hill." Mrs. Marie Miller harpist and Stanley Deacon, operatic baritone will perform in a joint recital.

Daily News, November 7, 1927 - Concerts
3 "The Russian Symphonic Choir which appears in the Teachers College Auditorium on Wednesday evening at 8:15 is world-famous."
"The programs of the Russian Symphonic Choir, as arranged by Basile Kibalchich, its director, contain a good many musical numbers which were originally written for orchestra or piano and which he has ably arranged for his chorus. Some of his arranging might be called daring, if it were not done so masterly."

Daily News, January 24, 1928 - Concerts
8 Suzanne Keener, from the All-Star Concert Series performed on January 23, 1928 in the teachers' auditorium. "The program was opened with the Aria from 'The Abduction from Seraglio' by Mozart followed by songs by Donaudy and Veracini."
"For her second group there were songs in the vernacular by Sinding and Gretchaninoff, after which encores were demanded and given."

Daily News, April 30, 1928 - Concerts 1928
1 "The final concert of the All-Star Concert Series will be given tonight in the Teachers College Auditorium, and the program will present Lorna Doone Jaxon, prima donna contralto of the Chicago Civic Opera, and Harry Farbman, celebrated American violinist. These two performers will appear in a joint recital at 8:15 p.m.

Daily News, Oct. 6, 1928 - Concert Series
8 "The largest crowd ever attending the opening concert of the All-Star Concert Series assembled last evening in the Teachers College Auditorium to hear the Russia Symphonic Choir on the occasion of its second visit to this city. Every seat in the auditorium was taken and several hundred additional chairs were necessary to seat the huge audience."

7 Associated Student Government took a loss on fall entertainment. Activities Vice President Mike Fiorello says it was one of best series they had had. Said loss came about largely because only 5,500 attended Jethro Tull. (Lineup was: Chicago, Jethro Tull, Beach Boys, Howdy Doody show, 3 mini-concerts, 2 lectures). Jethro Tull got $20,000; Chicago $15,000 + 70% of gate. Students were free; Beach Boys 60% of gate drew 7,000. Said overall loss was small and could be made up next semester.

1 About 30 demonstrators met on steps of Diddle Arena Friday at 7:00 p.m. to protest the Doc Severinsen concert. Tom LaCivita, Associated Student Government Activities Vice-President, met them & defended choice: "I can't please everybody with one concert." Agreed to meet with Tom LaCivita Sunday afternoon. At that meeting, Student Action Committee (12) was set up to draft a protest document for the administration. Doesn't feel Ron Beck has enough time to do the job.

College Heights Herald, Friday, Oct. 18, 1974 - Concerts, Associated Student Government 1974 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5034
2 Article on how concerts are selected; Ron Beck is interviewed. Many are out of WKU's price range. Ex: Elton John wanted $75,000. Will not use ones (such as Alice Cooper) that bring in a drug climate. Associated Student Government this year has $42,000 for all forms of entertainment. $27,000 is used for 2 free concerts; $15,000 for mini-concerts, dance, etc. Major concerts are financed by their gate receipts.

4 Editorial on "the annual entertainment controversy." Urges improved role for activities committee. Numerous letters both pro and anti Doc Severinsen concert.

1 Dean Charles Keown halted Louisville & Nashville promotion of Loggins & Messina concert scheduled for Sept. 17. Doesn't want the "bad influence of outsiders" on campus. Has had "people stoned out of their minds" disrupting concerts. Charles Keown: "And if the drug and pot smoking evidence doesn't change over there (Diddle Arena) there won't be any concerts." Charles Keown later apologized for his "sharp retort" but not for his sentiments.

4,300 paid to see Loggins & Messina. They were paid $17,500 + supporting act $1,000. Associated Student Government lost $7,000. Survey showed 40-50% were not WKU students.

3 3 non-students were arrested for possession of marijuana.

4 Editorial Says that if students do not support concerts adequately, they should probably be dropped. "Entertainment has been ASG's number one problem for too long. The time has come for student government to decide whether to keep trying or give up."

College Heights Herald, Friday, Dec. 5, 1975 - Concerts 1975 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5124
1 Ron Beck spent an hour Tuesday defending concert policy before Associated Student Government Congress "a vocal and sometimes hostile group. Ron Beck had earlier said he would not appear. Ron Beck: "Any programs the university presents should have a certain degree of educational value, or it has no business being here." Huston Monarch: "Does basketball teach to count by two?" Ron Beck defended policy of selecting programs that would minimize drug use.

1 At December meeting Steve Henry proposed a concert appeals committee. To hear appeals from Student Affairs decisions. Dero Downing, Charles Keown & Bill Bivin objected & Board delayed action. Dero Downing said it was not wise "to vest this authority in anyone other than university officials." Bill Bivin questioned legal considerations.

5 Estimated crowd of 7,500 attended Associated Student Government sponsored free concert featuring Wet Willie and the Spinners last Friday. Advanced sales were about 1,200 or $9,000. Fee of $12,500 for The Spinners came out of Associated Student Government activities budget. 6 people were arrested at the concert --- info., but 2 were apparently students.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, April 27, 1976 - Concert Appeals 1976 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5151
1 At Saturday Board meeting, Regents approved procedure for appealing concert decisions made by Office of Student Affairs. Set out conditions under which Student Affairs can reject a concert. Committee of 2 students & 3 faculty, appointed by president, may consider appeal & report to Vice President for Administrative Affairs who renders decision.

1 The Kenny Loggins and Dave Mason concert Tuesday night lost $13,200. Only 2,916 attended, including 1,878 students. So, no balance(?) for a free concert.

1 Associated Student Government's entertainment fund may be cut in half next year & eliminated the following year if Dean Charles Keown's recommendation is followed. Must be approved by President & Regents. The University Center Board would probably handle all programming. Charles Keown said Associated Student Government should concentrate more on academic & student affairs. Only 2 concerts a year at Diddle Arena - one at Homecoming & one in the spring.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, April 25, 1978
Memo: Ronald D. Beck to Dean Charles Keown, April 7, 1978:
1974-75 Doc Severinsen -11,155.33
1975-76 Loggins & Messina -9,369.85
Linda Ronstadt +5,504.60
[total] -3,865.25
1976-77 Chicago +1,800.00
Seals & Crofts -5,541.62
Jimmy Buffett -7,297.36
[total] -11,038.98
1977-78 Waylon Jennings +1,904.17
Charlie Daniels - Black Oak +382.74
Loggins & Mason -12,511.50
Atlanta Rhythm Section -13,277.59
[total] -23,277.59
Cut back programming to cover the losses.

5 Feature was the group Exile, plus Ranger. Sold 4,296. After tax gross was $25,694.29. WKU got 13% or $3,340. The Sunshine Promotions probably broke even or made a small profit.

1 Tonight's concert (Outlaws and Wet Willie) was cancelled when Outlaws manager learned Friday that only 242 tickets ($6) had been sold. Promotion Company Page 200

1 WKU netted $5,200 on Thursday's concert of Heart & Trillion. 4,399 sold in advance; 1,422 sold at gate. Ron Beck was a bit disappointed, said group had been selling out. He said Sunshine Promotions about broke even. 12 WKU got 13% of gross after taxes (40,160.95).

5 David Whitaker review. Said Trillion wasn't very good but Heart was good.

1 Sunshine Promotions may cancel its contract to book concerts at WKU because of poor attendance. Only about 3,200 attended last Friday's Homecoming concert (Pablo Cruise). Ron Beck said WKU made about $2,900 while Sunshine probably lost $10,000. WKU got 13% (says "of profits" but it must mean of sales.)

12 WKU lost over $3,500 on the Spyro Gyra - Michael Urbanick concert last week. Only 500-550 tickets were sold.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, Dec. 4, 1979 - Concert 1979 - [https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5580](https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5580)
12 WKU lost $3,500 on the Spyro Gyra - Michael Urbanick concert last week. Only 500-550 tickets were sold.

1 Sunshine Promotions did not bid on this year's contract, & it looks as if no major concert will be scheduled. It promoted 4 concerts at WKU in past 2 years & it lost (6) money or barely made a small profit. WKU made about $10,000 last year. Rent on Diddle Arena is $1,000. University Center Board sent invitations Tuesday afternoon to 10 other promoters.

College Heights Herald, 4/6/1982 - Concert 1982 - [https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/2461](https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/2461)
The "Kool" concert [Kool & the Gang] drew about 6,000 on Thursday evening (sold 5,977). Grossed $51,262, Profit: $7,524.52

Talisman 1982 - Concerts 1982 - [https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/405/](https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/405/)
74 Kool and the Gang concert drew 5,977 paying customers and made 1st profit for a concert since Heart in 1979. Grossed $51,262 with net profit of $7,524.52. Since WKU hadn't been giving promoters a profit, WKU took only 10% of the net profit.

College Heights Herald, 4/10/1984 - Concert 1984 - [https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5900](https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5900)
Hank Williams Jr. Friday night concert drew 6,340. Profit to WKU was about $3,600. 9 arrests were made.

(Sunshine) needs at least $22,000 to break even.

1 Mme. Ernestine Shumann-Heink, "the world's greatest contralto" who has been singing for 51 years will be at Van Meter Hall on Thursday, March 15, 1928. Made her U.S. debut on Jan. 9, 1899 at Metropolitan Opera - was recalled 20 times (child born 4 weeks later). She will soon retire but will teach.

College Heights Herald, Feb. 1929 - Concert: Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/2265/

1 Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra with Henri Verbrugghan conducting, appeared Saturday evening (no date). Received very enthusiastic welcome. Three encores & the audience begged for more.

1 Blood, Sweat & Tears will perform on April 25 in Diddle Arena. 9 piece band - combines jazz, rock.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, Nov. 17, 1970 - Concert: Temptations 1970 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/4951

1 The Temptations will give concert in Diddle Arena Wed. night. Rated top vocal soul group. Expected to be top show of the year.

Nov. 20 [1970] - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/4974

5 They drew capacity crowd & few left early . Usual complaints about poor acoustics.

College Heights Herald, Friday, Jan. 22, 1971 - Concert: Diamond 1971 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/4811
1 Neil Diamon will appear in concert on March 4. Will cost about $17,000. Charles Keown says Associated Student Government doesn't have the money to guarantee another big-name group. Doug Alexander, vice president says Charles Keown is too cautious, that Neil Diamon will have an almost full house.

7 Isaac Hayes last Thursday drew slightly less than capacity crowd to Diddle Arena. Much of audience gone by 11:30; Isaac Hayes was on stage another half hour. But writer says it was "an exceptional performance." Had cancelled in February.

3 The Carpenters played to capacity crowd Tuesday night in Diddle Arena and "were nearly perfect." 10,000+ people.

8 Audience of +/- 6.500 was "captivated" by their performance. Some called it best concert ever given at WKU.

1 Beach Boys will perform in Diddle Arena Friday night (Nov. 3). $2.50 in advance, $3 at door.

College Heights Herald, Friday, Nov. 10, 1972 - Concert: Marine Band 1972 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/4886
2 U.S. Marine Band will present 2 concerts Sunday (2:30 & 8:00) in Van Meter Hall.

2 Stevie Wonder concert was Tuesday night (Feb. 13). Sparse crowd of 3,850. Al Cross says it was 4 hours of excellent music. (Stevie Wonder did 1 ½ hours himself).

1 Pianist Van Cliburn will perform Tuesday evening in Van Meter Hall before a sold out house.

College Heights Herald, Friday, Nov. 9, 1973 - Concert: Preservation Hall 1973 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/3512
7 The New Orleans Preservation Hall jazz band will give concert Tuesday evening in Van Meter Hall. Says everyone in it is over 60 and has been playing jazz over 40 years.

6 Eugene Fodor, concert last night in Van Meter Hall. Violinist. Two standing ovations, 3 encores. About 900 attended.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, Nov. 4, 1975 - Concert: Ronstadt 1975 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5116
1 Homecoming concert by Linda Ronstadt was attended by about 6,300, made profit of $4,300. She got 90% of gate, Associated Student Government 10%. About 3,900 attended Pat Paulsen show.
College Heights Herald, Friday Dec. 5, 1975 - Concert: Dickens 1975 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5124
8 Final program of Fine Arts Festival for fall will be "Emlyn Williams as Charles Dickens." Next Tuesday, Van Meter Hall.

9 Jazz vocalist Natalie Cole sang Wednesday night in Van Meter Hall. Crowd estimated at 325.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, April 27, 1976 - Concert: James Taylor 1976 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5152
3 James Taylor concert Friday night drew 5,768 was well received.

1 Chicago drew 10,450 to Diddle Arena Wednesday night. Ron Beck: "one of the top concerts we've ever had here . . . ." Gross receipts: $53,092. Chicago got $34,509 & $4,000 for rental of their equipment.
2 Review by Richard Ribar. " . . . Chicago sounded like they hadn't practiced in about a year. Peter Cetera can't play bass to save his life and he sings worse."

1 Seals & Crofts concert Saturday night lost about $3,800. 5244 attended. Seals & Crofts cost $20,000. Ron Beck says they may have to consider going back to Friday night instead of Saturday. Homecoming Dance (Saturday) lost about $1000 although 450 attended. Ron Beck said it wasn't expected to make a profit.

1 About 7,000 attended Barry Manilow concert Monday night. Free to students. Associated Student Government sold 2,025 tickets. Fee was $15,000 + production costs of $9,000. Did better than expected, Ron Beck said.

7 Richard Ribar is critical of Van Cliburn's performance Saturday night. He had been ill, his plane was late arriving, had no time to practice on piano. Full house.

9 Metropolitan Opera bass Jerome Hines will sing Sunday at 2:00 in Van Meter Hall.

1 Waylon Jennings' concert for Sept. 9 is up in air as he and his secretary were arrested Aug. 24 on drug charges. Ron Beck has recommended that the concert go on as planned.

1 Bill Monroe & the Bluegrass Boys, Sept. 6 evening Van Meter Hall - University Center Board's series.
12 Estimated 1,000 attended.

8 About 5,000 attended Waylon Jennings' concert in Diddle Arena Friday. Receipts of about $27,000. WKU should make profit of about $1,000. Waylon Jennings' wife Jessie Colter got $16,500 & other expenses came to about $8,500. Estimated half of audience was non-student.

7 Homecoming concert was given by Black Oak Arkansas and the Charlie Daniels Band. Audience of 5,281 (made a small profit). Reviewer (Richard Ribar) didn't care much for them.

College Heights Herald, Thursday, April 20, 1978 - Concert: Band 1978
1 Tuesday night concert of Average White Band and Ramsey Lewis Trio played to about 3,300.
2 It was a free concert for students. About 520 tickets were sold.

1 Danny Davis (&) of the Nashville Brass entertained Friday night at Homecoming concert in Garrett Ballroom. About 500 (2) attended. His music was better received than his jokes.

7 12 person Italian string ensemble performed in Van Meter Hall last evening (Wednesday).

1 The Statler Brothers (named top group in 1980 by Country Music Association) and special guest Brenda Lee will perform Sunday in Diddle Arena. Ron Beck says only 5,550 tickets will be sold (all reserved seats), & 3,500 had been sold by yesterday afternoon.
8 Interhall Council will support WKU's inspector policy, a committee says that investigated the matter. Said it was needed for health and safety standards

Sold 3,972 tickets. University Center Board made $2,872.38 on gross gate receipts of $30,160. Ron Beck said the promoter was quite pleased with size of the crowd.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, 10/26/1982 - Concert: Alabama 1982 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/579/
Sunday's concert Alabama, sold 10,633 seats (of 12,000) in Diddle Arena. Price was $12.50. WKU got about $5,000 + (Ron Beck said) incredible publicity.

Oak Ridge Boys drew just over 5,800 in Diddle Arena on Sunday.

Over 10,100 were in Diddle Arena Sunday night to hear Alabama.

Includes cards: Conditions in Kentucky

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 5 - Conditions in Kentucky 1907
General Correspondence 1922
Henry Cherry to Mrs. Otis Mae Ommen, Cambria, Calif., Dec. 28, 1922 - "The educational development in Kentucky has been a miracle. I doubt whether any state in the Union has equalled [sic] her educational advancement since 1907. In 1907 she had no Normal Schools, no high schools outside of Louisville, Lexington, Paducah and one or two other cities. She had no consolidated school. In fact, she did not have anything to indicate educational progress."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 1 - Conditions: 1911
General Correspondence 1911
Henry Cherry to Col. J.M. Atherton, Louisville, Oct. 31, 1911 - "It would be a calamity for us to have friction during the next General Assembly. It will require the effort of all the educational interests to accomplish what we have in mind to accomplish; in an educational way. The outlook out in the State is extremely bright. It grows brighter each day. Of course, it is going to take time to work out the problems. Nothing great has ever arrived on this earth through magic, but a greater Commonwealth is coming; it is coming in obedience to the law of Democracy, not through the assent of man to certain platforms and artificial principles of reform, but through the ascent of man to a masculine, positive, ---, constructive, sympathetic and growing life. The Public School System exists for no other reason except to accomplish a constructive life."

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Conditions: 1913
General Correspondence 1913
Henry Cherry to H.K. Cole (regent) New York City, March 21, 1913 - School is better than ever. "I know this sounds like a conventional statement but it is really true . . . I have never seen such a splendid internal condition, and the spirit is the best I have ever known."

Henry Cherry Papers: 76 - Conditions 1921
Personal Correspondence 1920-1922
Henry Cherry to George W. Cherry, Wallowa, Ore., Dec. 27, 1921 - "I am at the head of an institution that is larger than its finances. This is my nightmare. No human being on earth can have any conception of the difficulty experienced in trying to put over this institution with its present finances. We received during the present year for current expenses about $150,000. We should have had $250,000 or $300,000. It has been necessary to teach in tents, under trees[,] in hallways..."
and elsewhere in order to meet the demand made upon the institution. “Will ask legislature for more despite state's financial condition. Also, will ask for 4 year course of study. "I think there is a warm battle ahead."

"I have grown somewhat weary with the tenacity of public life. If I had money enough I would stop. I would do so and enter a more conservative position where I could have a little time to read, to think, as well as a little more time to pray and be religious."

Henry Cherry Papers: 20 - Conditions 1933
General Correspondence 1933
Henry Cherry to Mrs. Shepherd Lowman [Josephine (Cherry) Lowman], Tulsa, Oct. 31, 1933 - Henry Cherry says he has never had as much hard work to do as during the last few months. Griffenhagen firm is doing survey of the state, & this has caused much work. Not optimistic about the General Assembly. Economic conditions are about as bad as Kentucky could have(?).. Political factions make it impossible to solve the problems.

Minutes Nov. 1919 - July 1924

1 In 1919 some of "the most progressive students" believed that the literary societies "did not offer adequate means for the development of the art of public speaking . . ." W.K. Berryman, Harold S. Cherry, C.S. Lowery & others discussed it in spring but no action was taken until fall. Then joined by some members of literary societies who failed to put their clubs on a progressive basis. Petitioned President Henry Cherry for permission to form a club on equal basis with other literary societies & to give credit for work done. Faculty rejected it - It was exclusive (3 members' objections could exclude anyone) (2) it would take best talent from other clubs. Others were well established. So many new clubs had failed that few thought this would succeed. "Prof. Wilson predicted that the new club, if organized would not last six weeks." Club appreciates assistance of Miss [Gabie] Robertson and Prof. [Billy] Craig. [Billy] Craig asked Henry Cherry to announce in chapel on Nov. 25, 1919 that a meeting of interested parties would meet that afternoon after school. Temporary organization was established then with W.K. Berryman as president. Committee to draft constitution. Selected Finley Grise as sponsor. Meetings to be each Friday evening at 7:00 in Room E.

7 After "heated discussion" the constitution was adopted on Dec. 12, 1919. Limited to male students.

Some topics:
18 Jan. 2, 1920 "Resolved that the United States should have the greatest navy in the world."
19 April 21, 1920 "Resolved that savagery is preferable to the present state of civilization."
37 Nov. 5, 1920 "Resolved that the U.S. should adopt compulsory military training."
30 Nov. 12, 1920(?) "Resolved that the U.S. should adopt an old age pension law" negative won.
Jan. 7, 1921 "Resolved that science has contributed more to civilization than literature." Affirmative won.
61 July 22, 1921 "Resolved, that Darwinism or the Origin of Species as advocated by him is --- as truth." Negative won
86 March 3, 1922 "Resolved, that the 'Four Peace Treaty' should be ratified by the U.S. Congress without reservations." Negative won.
90 April 7, 1922 "Resolved that every American boy and girl be required to continue in school until they had secured a high school education." Affirmative won.
117 Nov. 17, 1922 "Resolved that the Ku Klux Klan as it exists today is a menace to American society." Affirmative won 146 March 2, 1923 "Resolved that all International Debts should be cancelled." Affirmative won.
(From time to time convened as legislature, House of Lords, etc. to pass bill.)

Volume II
9 Jan. 18, 1929 "Resolved, that the negroes should be segregated in this country." Negative won.
Big event of year was the Club's mock trial. In 1929, W.R. Winfrey was charged with --- and detaining Miss Mary Elizabeth Penrod of West Hall. Defense attorney - Kelly Thompson. (W.R. Winfrey was found guilty & fined 3 dozen --- payable at next meeting.)
March 21, 1930 Affirmative won to proposal to allow sale of wines, beer, etc. up to 4% alcohol.
72 April 11, 1930 3 girls from the girls' debate team. "Resolved: That the Women of the United States should be segregated in this country."
120 April 11, 1930 3 girls from the girls' debate team. "Resolved: That the Women of the United States should be segregated in this country."
May 22, 1931 U.S. should recognize Soviet Union. Affirmative won.
202 Nov. 18, 1932 Resolved that U.S. should cancel her war debt immediately. Lost.
258 March 16, 1934 "The critic of the evening made his report. Some of the criticized ones interrupted the criticism on their own behalf."
Conservation of Energy

Includes cards:
Conservation
Conservation: Energy

Tells of steps taken to conserve energy, asks cooperation from everyone. Hot water reduced 10 degrees. Decorative lighting turned off. Turn off unneeded lights, etc. Stop purchases of heater, air conditioners, etc. that use electricity. University vehicles not to be operated at over 50 miles per hour. Schedule classes in as few buildings as possible - night ones.
Dero Downing Papers: 24 - Conservation: Energy 1978
Physical Plant: Energy Conservation
Memo: Vice President Harry Largen to Dero Downing, 6/30/1978 - Small computer was approved by Regents in July 1974 and was in full operation in July 1975. It has exceeded our estimate(?). Kilowatt hours have been reduced 17% (10,000,000 kilowatt hours) from 1973-1974 to 1977-1978. The peak demand has been reduced +/- 10%.
Cost per kilowatt hour: - 1973 June $.0042 - 1978 June $.0155
Kilowatt hour on demand - 1973 June $2.00 - June 1978 $3.16
If we were now using the 10,000,000 kilowatt hour, the additional cost would be $233,000.

Cutting back on Cherry Hall operations in summer 1982 saved $17,984. Air conditioning $8,000. Electric $1500 + water, cleaning staff, waste collection, etc.

WKU - Notecards - Consolidation
Regents approved re-organization plan at meeting Friday night. See clipping.

WKU - Notecards - Consortium: Owensboro
7 Regents on May 21 approved plan for Graduate Extension Consortium at Owensboro with Kentucky Wesleyan University & Brescia College.

Minutes of Graduate Council, Nov. 23, 1969 - Consortium, Owensboro 1969
Meetings held during 1968-1969 - WKU, Bresica College, Kentuck Wesleyan College "to discuss the merits of a cooperative approach to the offering of graduate extension courses in Owensboro." Support came from many Owensboro groups. So - Graduate Extension Consortium. Graduate courses will be extension classes. The college will not charge for normal use of their rooms & labs. They will make their libraries available. WKU will make more books, etc. available, which can be used on reserve book basis by the college students.

Categories of graduate courses:
Kentucky Wesleyan College: Business Administration; Secondary Education; Humanities; Social Sciences; School administration; History & Philosophy of Education; Social Foundations of Education
Brescia College: Science; math; technology; elementary education; special education; Psychology; Guidance & Counseling; Curriculum; Educational Research
College faculty members may become candidates for graduate faculty rank at WKU. Graduate classes should not conflict with regular undergraduate offerings. "It is understood that expansion of the course offerings beyond a normal increase of current offerings will be underwritten by the Owensboro business and industrial community." Effective: June 1, 1969 if approved by Boards. Terms may be altered by mutual consent. Any party may withdraw upon one year's notice.

Dero Downing Papers: 24 - Consortium: Owensboro
"Concept Paper" from Keith Taylor to members of the Board, March 2, 1979 - Owensboro Higher Education Consortium has been in existence since 1969. State funding since 1974. Registration has increased from +/- 200 to +/- 1800 in 1978-1979. Office was housed at Brescia College until 1975; Since then, at Kentucky Wesleyan University. Staff in 1969 was a ½ time director. Now: director, part-time --- education center director, 2 ½ secretaries, 2 ½ time librarians, 2 part-time students in library. Proposes a building be erected to house the offices.

Dero Downing to Harry Snyder, Aug. 11, 1978 - Cites budget and enrollment figures. In 1977-78 WKU had 89% of students at Owensboro, Murray State University had 11%. But WKU's budget allocation was reduced from $130,825 to $81,000. Murray State University's went up from $36,456 to $42,500 & the administrative(?) budget went from $118,969 to $150,000. WKU has 65% to Murray's 30%. Why? Asks that the $26,500 --- to added to WKU's & others be altered(?) to bring WKU back to last year's total - $130,825.

Paul Constans Interview - Constans, Paul
Executive Secretary - Florida Education Association - 3 years, then fired. Earlier, public school administrator. Wanted to try out some ideas. In Florida during the "school crisis." Led 1st strike. Got to Kentucky & the Kentucky teachers went on strike. Gave some advice, talked to the Owensboro teachers. This upset our Regents. Dean Tate Page apparently assured Dero Downing the Paul Constans would never again be --- in Florida type office. Dero Downing once called this to 1 Re-writing of the constitution has aroused considerable controversy. One point is the proposed change in composition of the membership.

1 Work has halted until next semester on the revised student constitution.

1 Constitution Committee chairman Joe Gerard says a complete revision will be done after 8 attempts to amend it in past 4 years.

College Heights Herald, Friday, Nov. 6, 1970 - Constitution 1970 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc_ua_records/4959
1 Associated Student Congress met last night, head John Lyne discuss plans for a new constitution which he hopes students can vote on by end of semester.

Nov. 20 [1970] Friday - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc_ua_records/4974
1 Associated Student Congress in 3 ½ hour meeting last night endorsed proposed constitution. Will have to be approved by students & administration

1 Constitution will be voted on Dec. 10. Dean Charles Keown says that the University can't accept several parts of the document & "I have advised the A.S. that the document is not acceptable." Says it confers judicial powers that the University itself does not possess. The financial powers, according to an attorney "shows a total ignorance of the statute's of the Commonwealth of Kentucky." If WKU collects money, It becomes state money & must be handled accordingly.

1 Constitution was ratified 1397 to 697. Will now go to administration. About 23% voted.

1 President Dero Downing appointed 8 person committee to discuss 5 year old Associated Student Government constitution. Dr. John Minton, Charles Keown, Dr. Curtis Englebright, William Bivin, John Lyne, president; Doug Alexander vice president; Phil Myers and Ken Bowman, member of Congress. No mention made of constitution ratified last month by student body that is not acceptable to the administration. Parts are deemed illegal and/or not in best interests of the school.

College Heights Herald, Friday, Feb. 12, 1971 - Constitution, Student 1971 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc_ua_records/4810
4 Letter from Bruce Tucker, Senior. Highly critical of the constitution consideration committee & failure to consider the new one. Says 2 students were opposed to the new constitution, "the other members of this committee are Dean Keown (who rejected the new constitution sight unseen), University Attorney William Bivin, who did the same, Dean John Minton, and Dr. Curtis Englebright, whose job will be endangered if he opposes Downing or Keown . . . It is in such loaded committee meetings that hatchet-men like Keown with the assent of toadies like Bivin and Myers crush student programs. "It is all part of the continuing story of Downing's and Keown's arrogance. Certainly, press coverage could only expose them further."

3) University status
4) Change in governance style - needs more faculty involvement on all levels. Not consistent among departments. Faculty invested in promotion & tenure
5) Tenure, rank, promotion; grievance procedure, etc.
6) Change in WKU's state role. University of Louisville & Northern Kentucky University changed the picture of higher education institutions. Time when it was pretty clear that WKU was No. 2 institution behind University of Kentucky. Above the rest.
7) Donald Zacharias presence - changed many on-campus attitudes. Old WKU vs New WKU. Different less provincial outlook.
8) Retirement of some very outstanding faculty members. Not sure we have as high % outstanding people now as we did in early 1960s. (We have had some interesting characters).
9) Personal behavior isn't now viewed from institutional view.
10) Research - a growth pain - or at least a pain - now at WKU. Differences between colleges. Also, public service.

Future - immediate future. Unless we attract more non-traditional students, will have a decline or at least stable enrollment. Thinks there is a substantial non-traditional market, but we haven't done much. Could become important partner with business & industry for this area. Doesn't see WKU breaking out of the role of a regional university. Bringing Chase Law to Northern meant that WKU has no chance now to start law school. Then bringing in University of Louisville has drastically affected how WKU will develop. Paul Cook thinks that Saturn plant spin-offs could have great effect on the I-65 corridor. Could be very important. Next president of WKU will have great effect. But a president can't always bring others along the path he/she wants. Sees no chance for professional schools. One possibility is in teacher education but doesn't know if WKU will capitalize on it. Unless there is a technology explosion in this part of Kentucky that affects us, Paul cook believes that the changes over next 15-20 years will be much the same as the next few years. Has been at WKU 25 years, in president's office for 15 years. His one regret is that he hasn't been able to continue to do some teaching. He misses that.

On Campus, 8/26/1985 - Cook, Paul
Native of Hart County. Caverna High School, WKU BA & MA. University of Kentucky doctorate. 1960 Training School. History Department. Staff in office of dean of the faculties. In office of vice president for academic affairs & director of Bowling Green Community College. Assistant to president for resources management & director of budget since 1975. (See his first interview).

WKU - Notecards - Cooks

5 John Bland (cook and Tom Parker (baker) have been cooking at Potter Hall for 25 years. Started with coal stoves; start day by breaking up boxes for kindling. Now, gas ranges. Tom Parker married John Bland's sister, has 5 children 3 of whom are college graduates, one is a college senior, youngest has just graduated from high school. John Bland has 4 children - 2 are college graduates, one is a senior, fourth is 13 year old boy.

Paul Garrett Papers: 7 - Cooks 1950
Cafeteria 1950
Paul Garrett to other 3 presidents, June 9, 1950 - 2 cooks get $125 per month & 3rd gets $100. Also, meals. Paul Garrett pays taxi fare back & forth. They seem to feel that they should be paid extra when football practice begins Sept. 1 and when we have groups such as Future Farmers, Methodist Conference, etc. Cooks get vacation Aug. 6 - 31. "... they do work seven days a week, but they only work eight hours per day."

203 In fall, 1907 Dr. E.E. Hume, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Education Improvement Commission, invited to a Louisville meeting representatives of the 2 normal schools, the Kentucky State College, the Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Education Improvement Commission. Growing feeling that the state college and the 2 normal schools "get together and work together for their common good, sinking all differences of every kind. The purpose of the conference was to find a common ground of agreement and of action in approaching the General Assembly for the benefit not only of the three institutions, but of the cause of education in the State of Kentucky." Met Nov. 19, 1907 in Galt House. After considerable discussion, a basis of agreement was reached. Effort would be made to get change of name to Kentucky State University. Sub-freshman work should be eliminated as soon as possible. The 3 would unite in seeking more support for higher education.
204 A committee undertook to work with the legislature. Very successful.
1) County board bill passed
2) Normals can award 3 grades of certificates (205)
3) Made state college the state university
4) $200,000 to University of Kentucky; $150,000 to WKU & Eastern Kentucky University, $30,000 annually to WKU; $20,000 to Eastern Kentucky University
5) Kentucky University name changed to Transylvania University

Paul Garrett Papers: 1 - Cooperation 1939 1937-1940 Ba-Bj | |
| Paul Garrett to President H.A. Babb, Morehead State Teachers College, Sept. 16, 1939 | Asks his views on several points - example - no. scouting(?) in football. "I still think we need to get together about twice a year to discuss matters of this type." |

Paul Garrett Papers: 1 - Cooperation 1939 1937-1940 Dj-Dz | |
| H.L. Donovan, Eastern Kentucky University to Paul Garrett, Sept. 18, 1939 | "I am absolutely certain that we need to get together not less than four times a year to talk over the problems of teacher education in Kentucky. When I first became president of Eastern, these conferences were held regularly. They have been held with considerable regularity until three or four years ago. I feel the need of coming together with the other presidents and talking over problems of mutual interest. I think that we are likely to drift far apart in our educational philosophies and ideals unless we do this. If the time comes when we need to unite for mutual protection against vested interests, we shall fare a good deal better if we have been meeting regularly to understand better our problems." |

Paul Garrett Papers: 10 - Colleges: Cooperation 1940 Murray Students | |
| Paul Garrett to Miss Rose Zella Henry, Murray, Nov. 11, 1940 | (She has sought work so she can continue her degree program). "It has not been my policy to offer employment to students who are in the immediate territory of Murray." |

Paul Garrett to Miss Charlene Martin, Cadiz, July 24, 1941 | Similar request for work; she wrote on Murray stationery, as Paul Garrett points out.) "It is not my policy to pull students from another institution by offering workships. I shall be glad to have further information from you if there is some justification for your request." |

| Henry Cherry to President Lida Lee Tall, Maryland State Normal School, Towson, (n.d., 1932) - Says that Board has never employed anyone without Henry Cherry's recommendation. Praises the Teachers Colleges Council which provides excellent cooperation. Is opposed to a single board. Some states with central boards aren't doing as well as Kentucky. Less initiative, less freedom, less help from board members. Is writing to a few people, would like your views. | | | |

Consisted of the 5 colleges, 1 member of Regents of each state college, 3 appointive members from University of Kentucky Board of Trustees, 2 lay members of State Board of Education, Dean of College of Education at University of Kentucky, State Superintendent of Public Instruction was to coordinate work & determine curriculum (219) offerings. It would become object of heated dispute between University of Kentucky & state colleges. | | | |
| 17 General Assembly in 1934 abolished the normal executive councils & created the Council on Public Higher Education. (Gives membership). | | | |
| 18 Lists the functions. Organization was completed May 6, 1935. | | | |
| 19 In early years Council met 1-2 times a year. In 25 years, it met 51 times. No provisions for staff or facilities. Spent most time on teacher education. The teachers' colleges were made state colleges in 1948 to indicate new scope. | | | |
| 22 Commission decided more coordination was needed. Said Council was weak because it was not adequately staffed. (Secretary & office secretary,) 23 Recommended creation of state board of public lay members (9-13). Present Council would serve in advisory capacity. 1962 legislature made minor changes. 1962 - Ellis Hartford elected executive secretary. March 9, 1964 Gov. Edward T. Breathitt appointed 18 members to Kentucky Commission on Higher Education. (It was NOT the Council on Public Higher Education). | | | |

It found no evidence of bad coordination or waste of resources. 2 of 3 members recommended lay council; the other wanted to retain the Council as it was. The Kentucky Commission on Higher Education. 27 Legislature created Council on Public Higher Education in 1966 (Quotes it.) 9 lay members + non-voting presidents. One function was to review institutional budgets for the various schools. Voted to present them to the Dept. of Finance. (They also submit budgets for the black schools.)

28 In Oct. 1969 professional staff recommended added power for Council to approve all new graduate degree programs and new professional schools. And to review proposals for new community colleges.

29 But 1970 Assembly did not pass the proposals. Ted Gilbert returned in 1964 as executive director.

30 In period 1934-1950 Council did little on uniform budget preparation. It just passed (37) on the individual budgets of the schools. Nor did it publish the required reports (at least biennial) on the schools.

31 Most of work was done in regard to teacher education. Council began to enlarge functions about 1950.

32 Began to use standing committees to coordinate work. More use of staff studies.

33 In 1969 policy on out-of-state registrations - 20% undergraduate, by 1973 15% overall with no school over 20%.

34 Few programs have been submitted to the (45) Council for approval. It feels that it doesn't have legal power to control curriculum offerings.

Kelly Thompson Papers: 3 - Council on Public Higher Education 1956

James L. Miller

James L. Miller, Executive Director, Council on Public Higher Education to M.R. Guthrie, Editor Middlesboro Daily News, Aug. 30, 1956 - Council has been in existence +/- 20 years. Legally responsible for coordinating the 6 state schools. Determines curricular offerings, entrance fees, admission qualifications, receiving & submitting budget requests to Department of Finance; requiring necessary reports; publishing a report at least biennially. "These powers are pretty all-encompassing. The composition of the Council, however, is largely representative of the institutions themselves so that the net effect is that the Council provides one opportunity for collective self-regulation." Has been most active in curriculum in teacher education. Since 1953 State Budget Division has coordinated fiscal affairs in 5 schools (- University of Kentucky). 1956 Assembly assigned more duties & provided money for staff for 1st time. It consists of --- (--- from Budget Division) and a secretary. "Many people in the state-supported institutions fear the threat of a singly centralized board for higher education and see in an effectively operated Council, with its essentially voluntary basis, an answer to that threat." All are cooperating wholeheartedly.

---

Jim Miller to Kelly Thompson, Aug. 22, 1956 - There is a copy of the law creating the Council giving its membership, duties, etc.

Attorney General

Frank G. Dickey, President University of Kentucky to other (5) presidents, Feb. 12, 1960 - Encloses bill which Attorney General John B. Breckinridge may have introduced. (Copy enclosed). Would create 11 man Council as voting members; full time secretary. Presidents & Superintendent of Public Instruction will be non-voting. Frank Dickey is "considerably disturbed" & thinks all of the presidents should oppose it. Our Boards would become "implementing committees" for the Council. "The bill also has the possibilities for establishing a university system for Kentucky or a position of a chancellor of higher education."

Council on Public Higher Education

Ellis F. Hartford, Executive Secretary, "Circular Letter: 1" (8 pages) - Council was provided for by an act in 1934 - (1st in nation). Organized May 6, 1935. 1956 - legislature appropriated money for a full-time staff person.

Ted Gilbert May 1960 - 1962 (to Louisville Schools)

Ellis Hartford 1962 -

Ted C. Gilbert, Executive Secretary, Council on Public Higher Education to Wendel P. Butler, chairman, May 14, 1962 - He resigns effective June 30, 1962. (Doesn't say where he is going.)

Ted Gilbert to Kelly Thompson, May 26, 1965 - Has decided to remain as long as permitted instead of going on staff at Eastern Kentucky University.

Minutes of July 15, 1963 - Secretary (Executive) says that as he understands it, the Council has 9 functions.

1. Coordinate the work. Use of standing & special committees.
2. Determine curricular offerings. Special committee has studied joint doctoral programs.
3. Determine entrance (student) fees. Study recently made of other states. Policy in Kentucky is to keep fees low.
4. Determine admission requirements. No change.
5. Consider budgetary requirements. Much committee work done on a study of this. Council in April 1963 decided to formulate joint requests, based upon a budget formula. Will be used for 1964-1966.
6. Recommend joint budget to Dept. of Finance. Will do so after fall enrollments are known.
7. Require reports from the institutions.
8. Publish a biennial report. This seems not to have been done in the past.
9) Implement participation of Kentucky in the SREB program (Southern Regional Education Board).

7 Last legislature made some provision for a staff. Ellis Hartford is Executive Secretary.

Public Affairs & Public Relations - Council on Higher Education 1963
President Kelly Thompson, 1955-1969
Memo: Robert Cochran to Kelly Thompson, Sept. 26, 1963 - Because of illness of Hardin Thompson, Robert Cochran had attended meeting of Council on Public Higher Education in Frankfort on Sept. 25. University Kentucky not represented. "This report brought forth some very bitter and pungent statements from Dr. Doran and Dr. Martin."
Desired informational (?) publicity for the Foundation Program for Public Higher Education. Assured University of Kentucky will participate, although it hasn't been represented at last 3 meetings of Council.

"Each college president expressed the opinion that if the University wanted a fight the state colleges will certainly not back away. Dr. Martin was rather vehement in his expression of defiance to the University's apparent attitude of complete disassociation with the state colleges. There appears to be great solidarity among the state colleges in regard to the foundation program and the plan to offer graduate work.

Council on Public Higher Education
“Circular Letter: 9” - These are the 9 legal functions on the Council as stated in Kentucky Revised Statues 164.020 (clauses 1-5) & KRS 164.540.
1) Coordinate the work
2) Determine the colleges’ curricula offerings
3) Determine entrance fees
4) Determine admission requirements
5) Consider budgetary requirements
6) Submit (recommend) a budget to Dept. of Finance
7) Require reports from the school

9) Implement Kentucky's participation in SREB Program

Kelly Thompson Papers: 15 - Council on Public Higher Education 1964
Minutes of April 11, 1964
3 Executive Secretary Ellis Hartford said that he had requested 2 year leave from University of Kentucky when he joined the staff. He will return to the University on July 1. Thanks everyone for cooperatin.
7 Mr. Ted Gilbert was employed. (He had served 2 years previously.)

Governor Edward T. Breathitt has appointed 9 laymen. The 1966 General Assembly changed Council's voting membership from 21 (dominated by professional educators) to 9 laymen. The 6 college presidents will continue on council but without votes.

The re-organized Council on Public Higher Education met yesterday. Now - 9 laymen who vote + the 6 non-voting presidents. But Dr. Robert R. Martin moved that the non-voting members could make motions, second them. --- It passed, and the meeting was dominated by the presidents of Eastern Kentucky University, WKU, Morehead State University and Murray State University. (Presidents of University of Kentucky and Kentucky State University were absent).

EKU: Robert Martin Papers - Council on Higher Education 1970
Box 169: Folder WKU 1969-1970
4 page statement signed by Dero Downing. Note to Robert Martin "for your information" since this matter will be agenda item for Council meeting of Monday, Jan. 5, 1970. - Has notice that proposals to reorganize the governing structure "tends to recur each budget season."
"...I think all of us would regret it if, out of our frustrations and difficult choices, we were to turn to reorganization of existing governing structures as a panacea for our problems." There are again proposals to create a "Super Board."
The Council has developed a significant central role in recent years. There is a close working relationship among the schools, the Council, and the Dept. of Finance. We have avoided such pitfalls as line item control of budgets & central control of institutional personnel systems. We have "an economical and efficient program operated by a cadre of highly skilled professional personnel." Creation of a organization "can be and often is merely a gloss and a way of avoiding facing up to central difficult questions." No generally accepted criteria for determining what constitutes success or failure in higher education.

"One of the reasons that we in Kentucky have not experienced dramatic turmoil and confusion on our campuses may be the fact that the power to make decisions is not centralized in some remote part-time body in Frankfort but is localized with the separate governing boards of each of our institutions on which the students have a member."

"... it is risky to assume --- that a 'Super-Board' will always provide itself with reliable data, unerringly make wise decisions, refrain from power politics, and remain forever noble and professional in its actions."

"... it seems to me that the working relationships developed over the years . . . offer greatest possibilities for continuing progress and improvement . . . 'tis better to bear those ills we have than to fly to those we know not of."

General Correspondence Wh-Z
1. Obuts if Council staff --- ---- increasing & is even more doubtful if the executive officer should be elevated (?) to the board (?) members.
2. Strongly opposes recommendation of the ex-officio members (presidents). Their pressure is one of major strengths of the Council. Denies that the presidents dominate the thinking of the Council.
3. Has not strong opinion about a 6 year rather than a 4 year term.
4. Expanded authority - no. We need coordination, not authority.
Re: public schools: "... it would not serve a useful purpose for any of us to base our case upon trying to pull down or take away from another segment of education. Any appeal should be based upon the merits of the case rather than upon an attempt to hurt someone else."

7 Council on Public Higher Education is the coordinating body. "We believe that the Statutes as now written provide sufficient authority and latitude for the Council to perform this function."
8 "Restraint and responsibility have been the dominating characteristics of the Council's operation's to date. It would be presumptuous, therefore, to assume that the Council or that the institutions will depart from this path." No need for change just for the sake of change.
10 Predicts 15% increase in enrollment over the next 5 years.

Selection Process for New Executive Director
Memo: Ted C. Gilbert to Members of Council on Public Higher Education, June 15, 1972 - Says goodbye, Governor Wendell Ford, a personal friend told him that there would be a new Executive Director for the new council. Ted Gilbert has been the executive officer 10 of last 12 years. Thinks the Council has done well with a small staff. Is not a t the moment bitter about the changes. Pledges his cooperation. Thanks for their help.

Courier-Journal 8/30/1972 - Chairman Gordon had appointed 5 men to a search committee. (Singleterry & Doran(?)) are members + P, , & Barney Tucker.

(Dero Downing writes Doran(?)) time to --- 3 people suggested by Raymond Cravens - all are out of state.)

Council on Public Higher Education 1972
The General Assembly gives the Council more power in 1972.
1) Develop & transmit to Governor comprehensive plans for higher education.
2) Review budget requests of the schools, establish standard form of reporting, etc.
3) Review & approve all capital construction projects over $100,000.
4) Approve all graduate degree programs.

Memo: Ted C. Gilbert to members, Aug. 9, 1972 - Act of General Assembly now requires Council review and approval of capital construction projects exceeding $100,000.

Council Meeting Oct. 3, 1973
A.D. Albright, Executive Director, "$Concerns about Higher Education and the Council Council [sic] on Public Higher Education."
He has talked to people across the state to see what are their concerns.
Concern about the "aggressive individual leadership" with "considerable quizzicalness" about some projects. But we are going into a new era where "unbridled competition" must be curbed.
Adding University of Louisville & Northern Kentucky University presents problems. "How the other six can be maintained or strengthened is indeed a serious matter in the face of developing two more." May reduce enrollment elsewhere. New look is needed at mode of funding. Excessive recruitment of students. Giving course in area of other schools. Many students aren't being prepared for meaningful employment. More information is needed by the Council.
"The development of a comprehensive plan for higher education in Kentucky is fundamental to the exercise of all other Council mandates..."

Story on his --- in Lexington Herald & Leader 11/10/1973

Agriculture Program(?)

Robert R. Martin to Executive Director A.D. Albright, June 2, 1975 - "For three years I have seen some people who should be giving leadership to the programs of higher education in Kentucky seize on every possible opportunity to downgrade and defame our institutions and their programs."

Dero Downing to A.D. Albright, May 30, 1975 - "We will resist through every avenue available to us any attempt which may be made to prevent Western from fulfilling the educational role and the mission of the University in the areas of teaching, research and service."

Memo: Dero Downing to Department Heads, March 24, 1970 - Council on Public Higher Education has been working for over a year on Phase I of the Comprehensive Plan for Higher Education in Kentucky.

Dero Downing to A.D. Albright, Dec. 3, 1975 - Comments on Phase I
Feels that the conclusions of the Task Force have been changed by members of the Council staff.
Has supported & will support the Council. "I feel very strongly, however, that the role fo the Council should be one of coordination and not of control... the report is filled with comments and statements which not only imply but directly propose that the Council become a central body." Believes it would increase costs. Is much opposed to expanding Council powers. Can't support idea that state should provide funds one way or another for private schools. Report implies that our institutions have done a poor job - strongly disagrees.

Council on Public Higher Education: General 1975
President Adron Doran, Morehead State University to A.D. Albright, Executive Director, Jan. 22, 1975 - Is totally opposed to proposals that would give the Council control over Capital Construction Procedure. "The procedures proposed a concentration of power and control in the Council staff which is not in the best interests of higher education and which the staff is not prepared by training and experience to assume."

Executive Council's legislative authority takes away powers belonging to the Board of Regents. Council staff hasn't pushed for the appropriation of capital cost funds; staff has sometimes hindered the schools.

"... none of the Council staff has ever had experience in administering the financial and educational programs of an institution of higher education." Believes the 8 presidents can represent the schools better than Council staff. Says that what is needed is "a cooperative effort between the Council on Public Higher Education and the institutions of higher education."

Governor's Office 1975
Dero Downing to Gov. Julian M. Carroll, 1/27/1975 - Thanks for letting him discuss some matters; hopes to consult with him again. "I will mention one such item in particular so that you will be aware of the significance with which I view it. I am referring to the role of the Council on Public Higher Education and the extent to which its function remains one of coordination and not control... I sincerely feel that your understanding and support of this basic principle is essential to the continued success of higher education in the years ahead."

Julian Carroll to Dero Downin, 2/17/1975 - He is sure the Council "will continue to function as prescribed by the statutes. I see no evidence of the institutions of Public Higher Education in Kentucky losing any autonomy."

Council on Higher Education 1976
Example of the greater influence of the Council:
Kentucky and Comprehensive Planning for Higher Education (Jan. 1976) 45 pages

Council on Public Higher Education 1976
Barney A. Tucker speech to University of Kentucky chapter of American Association of University Professors, April 13, 1976 (on Council?) - Created in 1934. Didn't get broad authority until 1966. Didn't do much until 1972 when legislature re-organized it. "... it was usually dominated by the presidents of the schools it was supposed to oversee."

Now: 8 presidents who are non-voting. 11 voting members(?). 10 appointed & Superintendent of Public Instruction.
Full-time staff of about 30.
Lists its functions.
Council has no power over
- Personnel at the universities
- The internal budgets
- Undergraduate programs
Our biggest task is to devise a plan for all of education. Must come up with comprehensive mission statements. "...we must eliminate both duplication and competition."

(On System for Higher Education in Kentucky). That is the title of report, adopted by Board on January 19, 1977
2 "What is needed in Kentucky is a system of higher education designed to fill the needs of the Commonwealth as a whole, rather than relatively autonomous institutions pursuing their own best interests."
4 "There is no need for additional public universities and colleges." "The Commonwealth cannot afford to have every university be all things to all people."

Special Memo: President Dero Downing to Faculty & Administrative Staff, March 31, 1977 - He attached draft of "Staff Recommendations to the Council on Public Higher Education Relating to Roles and Missions of the Public Institutions of Higher Education."
Revised after 1st draft of a week ago. Move is to develop "A System of Higher Education in Kentucky."
2 "...the plan calls for more rigid controls by the Council on Public Higher Education, placing limitations on the institutional role in program development...in the meeting of the Council yesterday there was solid evidence of support for the concept by the voting members of the Council." Staff is to work closely with the presidents in effort to reach accord. (Has draft for each school.)

Council on Higher Education 1977
The name of the Council on Public Higher Education was changed to the Council on Higher Education on April 15, 1977 by executive order (77-331) of Governor Julian Carroll.

Council on Higher Education 1977

Governor Julian Carroll signed executive order yesterday that changed name from Council on Public Higher Education to Council on Higher Education. Will now be responsible for all new degree and certificate programs. Has authority to coordinate the schools. Provided more research assistance.

Courier-Journal, 5/10/1977 - Purchase or sale of property worth over $25,000 must now be reviewed by Council, then approved by Dept. for Finance and Administration. Also, Council must review & approve renovation projects costing over $100,000. Council must approve computer purchases.

Courier-Journal, 6/5/1977 - Even critics of Harry Snyder admit that he was the oft-criticized Council moving(?). Some critics cite the mission statements as examples of "shooting from the hip." Said they weren't well thought out, had to be changed considerably. He says Kentucky must now provide adequate funds. Says University of Kentucky may have to restrict undergraduate enrollment. Does Kentucky need 3 law schools? What is the future of Kentucky State University?

Statement by Dero Downing re: Council & Mission Statements. General Assembly has mandated a redefinition of role & missions; this is being done. At March 30 meeting Council voted to assume power to approve or disapprove programs at all levels. Dero Downing opposed it but voting members approved unanimously. March 30 meeting called for formulation by mission statements by each school before April 20. Too little time, but we did it. Mission statements were approved in principle, subject to review. (Inserted WKU's statement). At first, he was "very pessimistic about the destiny of Western" in the early phases but now has reached a position of "cautious optimism." Less threat than he first thought. Hope for additional clarification.

Council on Higher Education 1977
Council Report, June 1977 - The revised Role and Missions Statements were approved at Council meeting of June 8, 1977.
Real estate purchases over $25,000 by the universities will have to have Council review before going to Dept. of Finance & Administration. Same for renovation projects over $100,000.

When 35 years old Harry Snyder was named executive director of Council on Public Higher Education last year many people, including Gov. Julian Carroll, questioned his maturity & experience. But even his critics say that he has the Council moving. Has --- toward University of Kentucky - University of Louisville roles. Developed new mission statements for all 8 schools. Moved to curb unnecessary duplication. Critics point to the mission statements as example of his shooting from the hip.

Council decided yesterday to recommend no new state funds for construction in 1979 and control of much of higher education from the schools, and (other schools') off-campus offers. Regrets that we weren't made aware of this matter at the meeting yesterday in Lexington. Another instance where lack of time creates a crisis. There "... appears to be a growing attitude emanating from the Council staff to the effect that you are rendering a great service if you devise some means to place limitations and impose restrictions on educational services, particularly at the regional universities. I am firm in the belief that most of the concerns which have generated the attitude are more imagined than real." Little --- for the educational welfare of the people we serve. This policy is inconsistent with the Role & Mission statement about community college & continuing education. WKU has been --- strong at Henderson, Hopkinsville & Madisonville - which you are assigning to Murray State University's area.

In energy crisis, it is better for 1 teacher to travel than for 25-30 students. You have objected to educational service areas & legislature hasn't established them - but this policy does so by Dr. Morford. "He and others who are relatively new to th higher education scene in Kentucky might do well to be somewhat better grounded in the historical developments and educational relationships between and among the institutions and their primary(?) constituents."

Dero Downing to John David Cole, July 13, 1977: "Off-Campus Policy - Louisville/Jefferson County." "Our efforts to reason with Harry [Snyder] have in most respects have been futile."

"I get the feeling at times that Western is getting 'done in' by more and more of the decisions initiated by the Council on Higher Education."

Courier-Journal, July 17, 1977 - The Council staff proposed to restrict graduate education offerings in Jefferson County to the University of Louisville after 1980 was tabled after Dero Downing of WKU spoke against it.

Dero Downing to Harry M. Snyder, Executive Director, Aug. 17, 1977 - Objects to the challenge to extended course offers. We were in Lexington yesterday for a budget meeting but were told nothing about it. [There] appears to be a growing attitude emanating from the Council staff to the effect that you are rendering a great service if you can devise some means to place limitations and impose restrictions on educational services, particularly at the regional universities. Dero Downing to Harry M. Snyder, Executive Director, Aug. 17, 1977 - Concerns challenges to WKU's ( & other schools') off-campus offers. Regrets that we weren't made aware of this matter at the meeting yesterday in Lexington. Another instance where lack of time creates a crisis. There "... appears to be a growing attitude emanating from the Council staff to the effect that you are rendering a great service if you devise some means to place limitations and impose restrictions on educational services, particularly at the regional universities . . . I am fearful that more and more decisions are being reached without regard for the educational welfare to the people we are responsible to serve."

Mission statements calls for expansion of our Community College work; this action conflicts with that directive. Because of energy problems, better for 1 teacher to commute than 25-30 students.

Isn't aware that the legislature has established geographic areas, & this is a concept which you have opposed. Henderson, Hopkins & Calloway counties have historically been in WKU's service area. Doesn't understand on what Dr. Morford bases his findings. "He and others who are relatively new to the higher education scene in Kentucky might do well to be somewhat better grounded in the historical developments and educational relationships between and among the institutions and their primary constituents."

Dero Downing to Regents, Aug. 24, 1977 - Meeting in Lexington between Council staff & presidents on Monday, Aug. 22. After much debate, decisions were reached. WKU will teach all proposed classes except those scheduled at Caldwell County, which Murray State University will teach.

Dero Downing Papers: 29 - Council on Higher Education 1977
Ma-Mi
Dero Downing to Dr. Robert R. Martin, 11/4/1977 (Robert Martin has been elected to Kentucky Senate) - "... the greatest single concern with which I think we are presently confronted is the departure of the Council from a coordinating role to one of dominance and control."

Council decided yesterday to recommend no new state funds for construction in 1979-1980. Reason: to protect operating budgets. Building will have to come from bonds, etc. Universities had proposed nearly $240,000,000. Council considered cutting to 2 Northern Kentucky University projects, but other presidents objected. Most of the presidents (non-voting members) didn't voice opposition. "But they said the building needs would not go away." Also, pointed out that they would soon have to comply with federal requirements of access for the handicapped."

Council will review each school's requests, regardless of funding proposal. Will consider its capacity to handle new bond issues. It must approve all new construction of $100,000+. Revenue bond sale projects must also be approved by Property and Buildings Commission.
provided 1978 General Assembly approves. The governor apparently approves. Doubts if the Council is really qualified to make decisions for each school. Schools may not be able to expect any kind of growth. "... the schools are being denuded of their individuality ..." In 10 years will WKU be "University of Kentucky-Bowling Green"?

1 Council on Higher Education is requiring all schools to submit reports on each degree program. In October Council will decide if some should not be continued.

Tuesday April 4 [1978] - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5502
1 Several WKU officials fear that Council on Higher Education is trying "to assume even more power than it now has over Kentucky's universities." Dero Downing: "I have never felt the undergraduate programs should be a matter of concern for the council." He sees its role as coordinating.

April 13, 1978 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5498
1 Letter from Regent Bill Buckman - "It is my opinion that Western did not fare very well in either the emission statement or the 1978-80 budget. This could be due to the lack of leadership at our institution or a deaf ear concerning our requests by the council. Judging from the past two years and assuming the current conditions prevail, I must admit my pessimism for the immediate future of Western."

1 Harry Snyder, executive director of Council on Higher Education spoke at WKU Thursday & was questioned about Council's review of all degree programs. "I think Western is as solid as a rock and as sound as a dolalr and I don't see any need for drastic changes on this campus." (--- & inflation?) Doesn't believe WKU 'has anything to fear from the program review effort.'
16 Harry Snyder: "Being a regional university does not imply second-class status."

1 Presidents of 5 schools & 2 lawmakers told meeting of subcommittee on higher education of the Interim Joint Committee on Education that the council should not become more powerful.
1 Dero Downing: "In the name of economy and efficiency and with the idea of eliminating alleged program duplication, proposals continue to be suggested to further centralize the administration of higher education in the Council on Higher Education."
1 "I believe that we have now reached the point in Kentucky where consideration needs to be given to local autonomy and the prerogatives of the local boards in directing the institutions."

1 President Dero Downing & 4 other regional university presidents testified before legislature subcommittee Thursday.
1 2 Dero Downing: "I believe that we have now reached the point in Kentucky where consideration needs to be given to local autonomy an dthe prerogatives of the local boards in directing the institutions ..."
1 "I firmly believe we have reached the point where additional controls and regulations have the effect of making the system more rigid and result in a reduction of the educational opportunities for the citizens of the commonwealth." Said inflation was lowering WKU's operational budget.

6 Council on Higher Education has agreed to let a student committee and a faculty council act as advisors to executive director Harry Snyder. Each of 8 schools will be represented on each committee. Each committee will meet quarterly with Harry Snyder. But push to get voting representatives added may continue at next session of the legislature.

1 In yesterday's meeting Council on Higher Education approved capital construction funding for University of Kentucky, University of Louisville & Northern Kentucky University, gave nothing to WKU. It recommended that WKU get about $700,000 in capital appropriations from legislature.

1 Harry Snyder met Friday in Louisville with COSFL (Congress of Senate Faculty Leaders). They agreed that he would meet regularly with a faculty advisory group. Tom Jones (WKU) said they would continue to seek voting representation on the Council. Similar student advisory group was established last year.

1 Governor John Y. Brown reorganized Council on Higher Education last month. Evan Perkins, 2nd year law student at University of Kentucky was put on it. But he removed the presidents as members saying that there was a conflict of interest. They were voting members from 1934 to 1965; non-voting members since then. Voting members increased from 11 to 15.

Frank McVey Papers Box 27:12 - Council of Public Higher Education

Undated Frank McVey memo - Recommends that the institutional boards continue but that the ones for the teachers’ college be made uniform. Coordination is essential. Suggests council of 11 lay members: 1 from each of 4 teachers’ colleges; 1 from each of the 2 Negro colleges; 3 from the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees; State Superintendent of Public Instruction + 1 lay from State Board of Education. Should have power to determine curricular offerings, fees, requirements, etc. This Commission would make budget recommendations to the appropriate state agency. The present Normal School Council should be abolished. Could require reports from the schools. The institutional executive would be invited to sit in on meetings.

[But] Next Memo (n.d., --) is report from Kentucky Educational Commission to establish Council on Public Higher Education calls for council to consist of: 1 president of the 5 white schools; a member of its board from each of the 4 teachers colleges; 3 members from University of Kentucky's Board of Trustees; 2 lay members of State Board of Education; Dean of College of Education of University of Kentucky; Superintendent of Public Instruction, who shall be chairman. (The black schools are not included).

William Buckman Interview - Council on Higher Education

Council on Higher Education had obtained considerable power which it hadn’t had in past. Decisions seemed to favor University of Kentucky & University of Louisville. Surprised that Dero Downing was on committee that selected Harry Snyder. Kentucky hasn't had an effective spokesman from the Council to the legislature. Harry Snyder tends to be pro-University of Kentucky. Perhaps Dero Downing realized Harry Snyder had the votes, just decided to go along with it. Dero Downing & Harry Snyder - "very hostile relations." Says Harry Snyder manages to arouse hostility in about any meeting. Harry Snyder tries to bully people. When William Buckman was working on formula funding, Harry Snyder deceived him, played politics. Bluegrass Plan was deliberately set up to cut the regional universities down to size. Votes had been removed from the presidents. But William Buckman says the presidents still have considerable power. There has been hostility in legislative committee toward higher education.

WKU's relations with Council were becoming worse. Hostility between Dero Downing & Harry Snyder. The mission statements were really designed to pin us down. William Buckman - many universities have tended to ignore them. Fight over funding will hurt higher education for a long time. Hard to convince legislature to provide support for the college. Kentucky gives little local support for education. Great division exists & will continue. Last budget reflects our poor position. Fears that next budget will be bad also. Hears that Dr. Martin has lost much of his influence. William Buckman doesn’t --- that for 1st time last budget legislated the 2% salary restriction(?). That we had had lump sum appropriations before.

Doran, Adron. Council - Council on Public Higher Education

10 Says that (in 1950) there are 2 Negro colleges, both of them under the direct control and supervision of the State Board of Education. The 5 white institutions are governed by their separate boards. In 1934 the Commission recommended creation of Council on Public Higher Education (Quotes from the law 48-49).

54 Passed by votes of 91-2 and 35-0 in Feb. 1934.

60 Boards of Regents were required to accept the rules adopted by the Council.

61 1st meeting was May 6, 1935.

63 Dispute over election of a secretary - inside or outside; what were his functions?

65 Year later Dr. R.E. Jaggers was elected secretary.

72 Council had power to fix fees, which it has frequently done. But it has insisted that these are "incidental fees" and not tuition. Distinguished between in-state and out-of-state & between graduate & undergraduate 73 But it hasn’t done as much with University of Kentucky fees as it has for the teachers’ colleges.

77 Council has done little toward establishing standards (78) for admission. Schools have some differences chiefly in high school units, but generally a graduate of an accredited high school has been admitted without question.

80 Council has not functioned well in preparation of a uniform budget. Generally just approved (82) budgets the schools had prepared individually.

84 Only formal presentation was for 1938-1940. Council seems to have assumed that the Governmental Reorganization Act of 1936 nullified the joint budget requirement.

86 So, members now (1950) present their budgets to the Director of the Budget. Required biennial report on the schools has never been done. Several schools have published their own reports. Legislature made no financial provision for publishing such a report.

89+ The schools have been lax in filing reports with the Council.

92 Council has done nothing in determining curricular offerings except for teacher education.

96 It set up an Advisory Committee on Teacher Training to the Council.

97 In 1944 4 public school people were added to the Advisory Committee

109+ Gives the requirements for the various certificates.

Graduate Work

123 1934 school code provided for certificates etc. upon bases of 5 year curriculum for teacher education. Says that in 1934 the 4 teachers' colleges were offering graduate work only in teachers' training. Gov. Albert Chandler called meeting of presidents at Executive Mansion on March 16, 1936. Chandler (124) said he thought it best (& most economical) if all schools didn't offer graduate work. Presidents agreed to drop it & the Council passed resolutions at March 24 meeting. Only University of Kentucky would offer graduate work. University of Kentucky eliminated 2 year level teacher training & its College of Education not offer work to freshmen & sophomores. To be effective Sept. 1, 1936.

After 1978 "The Council on Higher Education (320) had finally, after almost fifty years of existence, attempted to meet the mandate which legislature and gubernatorial executive orders had intended - to guide the evolution of state universities into a coordinated system of autonomous institutions that meet the needs of higher education in Kentucky, for which the Council had anticipated and planned"

333 In 1980 executive order expanded Council membership from 10 to 15 - must have 1 person from each Congressional district. The presidents were removed from the Council and became an advisory committee.

337 | 1982 legislature - 17 members of Council, 1 full time student, 1 from each Congressional district; one graduate (undergraduate level) from each public university. Superintendent of Public Instruction non-voting member. Presidents - advisory conference. | | |

338 | Council shall determine tuition & establish minimum admission qualifications. Schools were allowed greater local management flexibility. | | |

67 The Normal Executive Council was established in 1906. Chairman was Superintendent of Public Instruction & the 2 presidents. In 1924 when Murray State University & Morehead State University were added, another Normal Executive Council was established.

68 | They began to meet together in 1926. Each Normal School was placed under control of a 5 member Board of Regents. | | |

69 | In 1908 the University & Normal Schools presented united request to legislature. | | |

70 | Dean of College of Education was invited to meet with Normal Executive Council as non-voting member in 1928. In 1932 President Frank L. McVey was invited to become ex-officio member. Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education was 1st agency of its kind in U.S. 1934, after report by Educational Commission. | | |

71 | 1934: State Superintendent of Public Instruction, chair; presidents of the 4 teacher colleges; president of University of Kentucky; Dean of College of Education, University of Kentucky; 1 member of Regents from each teachers college; 3 Trustees of University of Kentucky; 2 members of State Board of Education. | | |

72 | To coordinate the work and determine the curricular offerings" of the 5 white schools. To determine fees & admission standards. To recommend budgets. To require reports & to publish reports. But the Council actually did few of these charges. Limited curricular requirements to teachers' training - at least up to 1950. | | |

81 | Adron Doran said that to 1950 Council had been effective in teachers' education; ineffective in all other areas. | | |

82 | Legislature didn't appropriate funds. | | |

83 | Became more active after 1950. | | |

85 | But no unified budget. General Assembly made $1,000 per year appropriation to the Council for 1st time for 1955-56 period. | | |

97 | Organization of the Council was completed in 1935. | | |
In next 25 years it met only 51 times.

In 1956 General Assembly authorized and provided ($15,570) for a full time staff person. James L. Miller was appointed. Chairman was Superintendent of Public Instruction, Robert R. Martin.

In 1960 Ted C. Gilbert became Executive Secretary.

In 1962 he resigned and Dr. Ellis Hartford was elected. When he resigned in 1964 Ted Gilbert replaced him.

Council stayed out of fight between University of Kentucky & University of Louisville over location of a medical school.

Late 1961 saw 1st mention in minutes of a consolidated budget request.

About 1961 two presidents endorsed voluntary cooperation. They declared no new schools should be established until existing ones were adequately supported. But a Governor's Commission for Study of Public Higher Education asked for a lay board to end "the limited visions" and "vested interests" of the presidents.

Council asked that 3 lay members be added; that it meet quarterly. It opposed the Study Committee's idea of a lay council.

Assembly set up the presidents + a member of each Board of Regents; 3 from University of Kentucky Board of Trustees; 2 lay members of state Board of Education; Dean of College of Education University of Kentucky; Superintendent of Public Instruction (chair); and 3 lay members at large in the state.

Advisory Council on Financial Studies reported to Council April 20, 1963 meeting. To draft a formula as basis for money requests.

Decided that 4 were much the same. The problems were University of Kentucky & Kentucky State University. University of Kentucky was to use formula for its programs that (129) were similar in size; but University of Kentucky has not done so. Continues to present its own budget.

Starting in 1953, the state budget division began to involve itself more in the education budget for colleges. The executive budget was usually the key one. Charts (143-145) show appropriations for each school. 1951-52 through 1967-68.

The support rate for Eastern Kentucky University is consistently above average; WKU is above but less so. On basis of general fund appropriations, between 1951-52 and 1967-78

- University of Kentucky + 1261%
- Eastern Kentucky University 1713
- WKU 1508
- Morehead State University 1285

- Kentucky State University 547

In period 1961 to 1967 Kentucky increased state tax appropriations for higher education by 221% - highest % increase of all states.

Passage of 3% sales tax in 1960 helped a great deal.

In 1964-65: in study of 20 states Kentucky was:

- 15th in population (of 20)
- 15 in per capita income
- 12 in legislative appropriations
- 7 in expenditures per person

In % of per capita income spent on higher education

The 1962 Assembly created the University of Kentucky Community College system.

In 1965 a consulting team embarked upon lengthy study on needs of higher education for the next decade. Brought about major changes. Some reasons:

- Legislative concerns over accountability
- General feeling that a State Board would be good.
- University of Kentucky wanted board to protect it from the colleges
- Executive branch wanted to get rid of the lobbying by each school.
- Governor wanted more efficient planning.

Report was Higher Education in Kentucky 1965-1975
169 Council on Public Higher Education functioned well in coordinating many aspects of higher education as long as no one disagreed. "When that took place the Council was helpless." It was actually "a Council (170) of Presidents who dominated the lay members . . . " Did so by ability and technical knowledge.
170 "The appointments of each of the four presidents had political overtones, and they are the executive officers of politically placed institutions." They "are not political hacks. They are strong, capable administrators who have developed the institutions with great energy, sincerity and devotion." Many have done better than purely academic figures could have.
171 Powerful enough to trade a lay board council for university status over objections of those who wanted University of Kentucky to remain the only university in the state. "However, their colleges were open to the charge of being insular and academically shallow." The change to lay board came because that was what the governor wanted: Council is (172) designed to reach solutions before a problem reaches the governor. Lay council protects University of Kentucky from being outvoted by the other schools. Old Council spent most of its time on teacher education but neglected other areas, such as admissions.
174 Needs better formulas for funding.
175 Re: Edward Breathitt's appointments - no graduates of 5 state schools - University of Kentucky had 3. " . . . there is not a large pool of competent well-educated leadership talent available in Kentucky." Council's trend is toward coordination, not control.
179 "The regional institutions harbor a long-standing resentment that the University of Kentucky was responsible for denying them graduate programs which could have been of service to their geographic areas about the state."
182 The community colleges "were originally political plums rather than the results of --- needed or expressed local desires except in the cases of Covington and Ashland."

For Your Information: President - Council on Public Higher Education - Powers 1977
April 25, 1977 - link
On March 30 Dero Downing spoke against the Council's authority being extended to approve or disapprove all programs on all levels. (It had been only graduate & professional levels). But voting members unanimously adopted it.
Also, desired revised statements re: role & mission statements. This was mandated by General Assembly; encouraged by Governor. "I concur in and am supportive of the judgment that redefinition is needed." Council ordered staff to work with each university before April 20 meeting.
Gives the mission statement approved in principle at Council's meeting on April 20. Will be a conference of the 5 presidents & Executive Director to clarify statements and make editorial changes. Council at next meeting will consider important issues. "It is my hope - indeed, it is my present expectation - that these discussions will lead to additional clarification and that Western Kentucky University's essential character as a viable multipurpose regional university will be preserved. It is toward that objective that we have been and are striving and will continue to strive. On the other hand, it would be misleading if I did not state that I do not expect additional substantive changes in the statement approved in principle."

Henry Cherry to President Ralph W. Swetman, Arizona State Teachers College, Tempe, Jan. 23, 1933 - Teachers College Council is provided for by law. Consists of State Superintendent of Public Instruction & the 4 college presidents. Purpose is to coordinate the work "in a spirit of unity." "This Council has been an outstanding success."

WKU - Notecards - Counseling

Kelly Thompson Papers: 17 - Counseling 1964
Dept. of Psychology
Charles L. Shedd, head Psychology to Dean Raymond Cravens, Dec. 11, 1962 - In early Nov. Charles Shedd spoke to Raymond Cravens about need for non-academic counseling. You asked us in psychology to keep records. We did so, & in Nov. the 3 of us spent 140 hours. Referred a number of students elsewhere & did not advertise our availability. Shows great need.
Dean Raymond Cravens to Kelly Thompson, Feb. 26, 1964 - Southern Association Visitation committee recommended employment of psychological counselor. Psychology has been doing quite a bit but can't -- the load. A Mr. Gross who will get his doctorate in June is very important in this.

Raymond Cravens to Kelly Thompson, Aug. 5, 1964 - You gave approval in late February for start of a modest program. Dr. Charles Shedd recommended that 2-3 qualified members of department do it on a part-time basis. We can start modestly in September. Should be of great value to our students.
Memo: Raymond Cravens to Tate Page & Charles Shedd, April 27, 1966 - Dr. Elsie Dotson & Mrs. Jackie Siddens are to spend ¼ time counseling with teaching load reduced by 3 hours. Same for 1 additional faculty member.

Dero Downing Papers: 62 - Counseling 1971
Counseling & Advising Committee

1964 Counseling Services Center was created under Director Dr. John Lane. There had been a committee for Testing Services(?). In 1966 Dr. George Lair replaced Dr. John Lane. In 1967 Mr. James Ewalt replaced Dr. George Lair. In 1968 Dr. Stanley Brumfeld became director.

1969 - Office of Undergraduate Advisement was created.

Oct. 26, 1970 Dero Downing requested Vice President Raymond Cravens to appoint & charge a Review Committee. Found that the advisor-student relationship was doing little except for registration. These general categories:

- 10% need psychological and / or psychiatric services
- 25% need professional counseling to cope with transitional situational anxiety. Personal problems, but these students usually do acceptable class work.
- 40% need developmental guidance services. High deciding on a major; a career
- 25% can handle their own problems. They read & follow instructions.

Recommendations:
1) Establish Advisory Committee on Counseling and Advising Services
2) Keep Counseling Service Center and office of Undergraduate Advisement separate
3) Focus chiefly on freshmen and sophomores
4) Locate CSC in more accessible location. Employ psychometrist to be in charge of testing. Employ counseling psychologist at doctorate level & an intern.
   Employ educational counselor & 3 assistants
5) Put Office of University Advising near CSC one or more advisors(?) in each department, teach only part-time. Appoint University Advising Committee

General Correspondence 1923-1924

Henry Cherry to A.L. Crabb, Chicago, July 30, 1924 - "I am going the last inch to get you permanently connected with the school. Of course, I think you are now, but I am not unmindful of the opportunities that may come to you in the future . . ." Will do all that can be done.

A.L. Crabb to Miss Mattie McLean (nd, ---, 1924) - Has run into 2 Westerners on street. In first class he attended, there were 4 Normal graduates. (Herman Donovan & Alfred Crabb were two of them). "They are like the pear. You simply can't shake them."

6 Dr. A.L. Crabb is back at WKU after 2 years elsewhere.

5 Says Dr. A.L. Crabb, dean of the faculty for past year, has accepted George Peabody position as head of new department for training normal school teachers. He was member of former class of 1910.

4 He has contributed much to growth of the school. Entered Southern Normal. Graduate 1910. Principal at Paducah & Louisville. Got AB from Peabody College in 1916. Joined WKU faculty then. Has been to school at Chicago; Columbia (MA); Peabody (PhD). Became chairman of the faculty in 1925 when Dr. G.C. Gamble resigned as dean. Has served WKU 11 years. "He believes that the measure of a school is its standard of scholarship and conduct on the part of the students and faculty." Has resigned to head a department at Peabody

He will replace Dr. Finley Grise as dean of the college. Came to WKU in 1958, got doctorate that year from University of Kentucky.

Craig, W.J.

Henry Cherry dictated a letter with a job offer and Craig arrived in Bowling Green by train on Feb. 2, 1909 (?). Also getting off was Arndt Stickles who was coming to teach history. 1923 - state borrowed him to be high school inspector. 1924 - elected Rotary District Governor for Kentucky-Tennessee. One of the best known educators in Kentucky. 1924 - he organized Alumni Association & has been its secretary ever since. Has placed thousands of Westerners in jobs. Married Ethel Grant of Danville in 1912; one son.

1 "Uncle Billy" Craig was 72 years old last Tuesday. . . . Uncle Billy is Professor W.J. Craig, Western's director of personnel, alumni secretary, physics teacher, philosopher, diplomat, friend of all students, a gentleman and a scholar, if ever there was one and a perfect example of a man growing old gracefully.

Taught 1st school in Daviess County 54 years ago. Graduated University of Kentucky in 1901, played right guard on football team. In 1908 he met Dean A.J. Kinnaman at a meeting. It is said that Kinnaman told President Henry Cherry that in a 2 block walk 19 mothers stopped Craig to talk with him about their sons.

1 "Uncle Billy" Craig & Arndt Stickles arrived at Bowling Green on same train & are here 40 years later. Graduate of University of Kentucky where he played football 2 years. Taught physics, but for years has been in charge of alumni affairs and personnel placement. Great basketball fan - wouldn't miss a game. Went to New York when team did.

8 Speaks of his "voluminous popularity" "understanding, compassionate, and good natured."

College Bulletin Board, Kentucky State Journal - Craig, W.J. 1953

"Uncle Billy" Craig has announced his retirement as Personnel Director as of beginning of fall semester 1953. He has completed 45 years of service at WKU. President of Kentucky Education Association 1922-1923.

1 "Uncle Billy" Craig has been at WKU since 1909. Has served school many ways - teacher, advisor, personnel director, placement director, alumni secretary.

8 "No individual connected with Western State College has more, or will ever have more sincere friends than 'Uncle Billy' Craig." A "lovable, genial, gentleman."

Dept. of English
Willson E. Wood (head) to Kelly Thompson, July 17, 1961 - "... I continue to congratulate you and the college and to pay myself on the back because we are so fortunate in having Raymond Cravens as our dean. My admiration and appreciation of him continues to grow as I watch him display wisdom and discretion beyond his years in handling his job."

Kelly Thompson Papers: 16 - Cravens, Raymond 1961

Memo: Raymond Cravens to Kelly Thompson, Aug. 19, 1961 - Suggests idea for request to Ford Foundation for funding. Have college adopt a special time each year. Ex: "Understanding the Philosophy of Democracy." All college emphasize it during the year. Would want to try it at least 4 years. (No response indicated.)

Dero Downing Papers: 61 - Cravens, Raymond 1965
Summer Commencement 1969
Memo: Vice President Dero Downing to Dean Raymond Cravens, Aug. 7, 1965 - Compliments him on "masterful" presiding at commencement. "I find it a genuine pleasure to work with you on all matters and congratulate you upon the wonderful job you continue to do in every respect."

Kelly Thompson Papers: 48 - Cravens, Raymond 1966

Kelly Thompson to James C. Porter, Russell County High School, March 31, 1966 - Of Raymond Cravens: "He is truly one of the finest Vice Presidents and Deans to be found at any educational institution in the country."

Presidents: Council on Public Higher Education: 1 - Cravens, Raymond 1971
Correspondence 1971-1973
Dero Downing to Gordon H. Hood(?), March 30, 1971 - (Raymond Cravens had represented WKU at Council Meeting on March 27). "I have every confidence in Dean Cravens ... Raymond gives superior leadership to academic affairs, and Western is exceedingly fortunate to have him in the important position which he holds."

Academic Affairs: Owensboro Graduate Consortium - Cravens, Raymond 1976
Administrating (?) & Staffing
Raymond Cravens to President Dero Downing, April 9, 1976 - Dr. Albright has requested him to work with Council on Public Higher Education. So, he requests that his sabbatical request for summer 1976 to changed to full academic year 1976-1977. Would continue to represent WKU on Eagle University, Owensboro, etc.

Regents Saturday will consider a sabbatical for vice president Raymond Cravens. Has caused some speculation that he is leaving WKU. Raymond Cravens denied it. "It is my desire to continue at Western." He has been asked to work with the Council on Public Higher Education. (Finally, it was for the academic year with the council paying half his salary.)

Dero Downing recommended granting sabbatical leave to Raymond Cravens for 1976-1977. He has been asked to assist several months with the Council on Public Higher Education.

James L. Davis named interim vice president.

Courier-Journal, April 25, 1976 - Cravens, Raymond 1976
At yesterday's meeting Regents approved a sabbatical for 1976-77 for vice president Raymond Cravens. Will spend most of year working Council on Public Higher Education. (Is this the first step in easing him out?)

1 Regents approved 1976-77 academic year sabbatical leave for vice president Raymond Cravens. He will work with the Council on Public Higher Education and other academic organizations in the state.
6 At William Buckman's information meeting with faculty on Monday, at least 2 members had impression Raymond Cravens would not return to WKU. William Buckman said as far as he knows Raymond Cravens would return.

Vice President Raymond Cravens, now on sabbatical, is reported to have requested reassignment. Dero Downing will not comment, will make his recommendations to Regents on Saturday. Rumor is that his new position will be Vice President as coordinator of international education. Dero Downing would not comment to reasons for the report. Raymond Cravens became academic dean in 1959, dean of the faculties in 1964, vice president in 1965.
Daily News, 5/1/1977 - Raymond Cravens request was tabled after 1 hour closed door meeting of Regents. Dero Downing's recommendation was for Raymond Cravens to be Dean of Public Service & International Programs. Raymond Cravens said it was his decision. He wanted "to further pursue academic interests and academic development to an extent not possible as a vice president."

Daily News, 5/2/1977 - Raymond Cravens says he understands that the delay is not because of his qualifications but because of questions about the position itself.

Daily News, 5/15/1977 - Regents approved the position for Raymond Cravens at a special meeting. Christy Vogt questioned the salary (+/- $35,000) being more than that for some vice presidents. Dero Downing said a number of factors were involved.

College Heights Herald, Friday, April 29, 1977 - Cravens, Raymond 1977 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5366
1 Dr. Raymond Cravens, vice president for academic affairs & dean of faculties, has asked to be reassigned to area dealing with international education. Is 46. Dr. William Jenkins, 58, Dean of Bowling Green College of Business & Public Affairs, has asked to return to full-time teaching.

Tuesday, May 3 [1977] - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5365
1 Regents Saturday tabled Raymond Cravens' request after a 1 hour closed session. Dero Downing recommended Raymond Cravens be assigned to Dean of Public Service and International Programs. William Buckman: "We were just wondering whether we needed another $35,000 administrative post." Christy Vogt: "We wanted to know exactly what Dean Cravens would be doing in that new position . . . whether Dr. Cravens could get a 40 hour work week out of it." Raymond Cravens said both Eastern Kentucky University & Murray State University have vice presidents over public service areas. It isn't coordinated effectively at WKU.

June 29 [1977] - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5364
9 Raymond Cravens was named dean at May 14 meeting of Regents. He had been chief academic affairs at WKU for 17 years.

Dero Downing recommended that Raymond Cravens, vice president for Academic Affairs, be reassigned at his request to Dean of Public Service & International Programs. Dero Downing reviewed Raymond Craven's 17 years service as WKU's chief academic officer. To become effective May 15, 1977. Specific scope of responsibilities will be worked out. More emphasis to be placed on both areas. Salary: $35,244 in new position. Ronald Sheffer / William Kuegel moved to table the Raymond Cravens recommendation. Aye: William Buckman, Ronald Clark, John Cole, Tom Emberton, Carroll Knicely, William Kuegel, Ronald Sheffer, Christy Vogt. Nay: John Ramsey, Hugh Poland. Ronald Clark later changed to Nay.

Memo: Dero Downing to Regents, April 18, 1977 - The changes come at Dr. Raymond Cravens' request. When he requested a sabbatical, he discussed his desire to be relieved --- some of the of that expanded office. I suggested we delay decisions until near end of his sabbatical. In recent weeks, we have resumed those discussions.
"I think you concur in my strong belief that Dr. Cravens has made a truly outstanding contribution to the growth, development, and continued strengthening of Western Kentucky University . . . during the 17 years he has been in this important position."
Recommendations are for duties in two areas where his past experience will enable him to make significant contributions. He will be on call for assistance on other areas, such as accreditation & institutional planning.

Dero Downing requested approval of Raymond Cravens' reassignment, John Ramsey/Tom Emberton motion. Christy Vogt questioned salary of $35,244, which was more than 1 vice president was making. Dero Downing said 8-10 factors were involved - academic qualifications, years of service, duties, etc. Passed unanimously.

Dero Downing Papers: 9 - Cravens, Raymond 1977
Board of Regents - Cole, John

Dero Downing to John David Cole, May 6, 1977 Letter - Had phone call from Ronnie Sheffer supporting the reassignment of Dr. Raymond Cravens as recommended. I encouraged him to talk to Raymond Cravens. Dero Downing hopes that this reassignment can be approved at May 14, meeting.

Western Alumnus, 48:1, Summer 1977 - Cravens, R.L. 1977
27 Raymond Cravens, on sabbatical for past year, asked to be replaced as vice president for academic affairs and dean of the faculties. On May 14, meeting Regents named him Dean of International Education and Public Service.

A8 Article by Richard Halicks. Raymond Cravens is 47. Says that by 1975 the job of vice president "began to wear heavily on Cravens. Never having been able to teach or conduct scholarly research in his field - his original interests - he began to feel the strains of personnel problems and the other unsavory tasks that went into the vice presidency." Raymond Cravens: "I never aspired to be an administrator. . . . I said to myself [in 1976] if I want to retread myself as . . . a teacher, I had better do it now."

Vice President James Davis said President Donald Zacharias will make several recommendations to Regents about (?) administrative changes to help some one.
New position of assistant vice president for academic affairs (associate dean of faculty programs Strobe(?) is returning to teaching) will take over WKU's international affairs program. Public affairs program will be taken over by Dean Carl Chelf. Raymond Cravens has been dean of public service and international affairs. He will return to full-time teaching.

Raymond Cravens: "I've been anticipating this for a long time. I am pleased that a major thrust . . . will be in continuing the international programs.

"I feel we've built Western's international programs into a top ranking program in comparison with other institutions of its kind in the nation."

Jim Davis Interview, 6/13/1984 - Cravens, Raymond
Raymond Cravens had more freedom under Kelly Thompson than Dero Downing. Raymond Cravens was very creative, many of his proposals worked. But later he became interested in other things & didn't do much ---. Got to point Dero Downing didn't trust Raymond Cravens.

Interview 7665 (?) - Cravens, Raymond - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/1983
11/20/1984 James Bennett & Lowell Harrison
Born Cincinnati, Ohio in 1930. Then father who was from Russell Springs moved back there. Came to Western thinking he would be an engineer. Started in Industrial Arts, switched to History. As freshman, liked friendly campus. Took room at Burt Smith's home - no dorm for me (1948). Ate at cafeteria in Potter Hall. Was active on College Heights Herald - did cartoons & articles even as freshman. Kept stats for football team then. Bob Cochran had him keep stats for teams without warning. Raymond Cravens didn't know what to do. Had never seen a football game before. Got confused. Raymond Cravens listened to what the radio announcer was saying. Bob Cochran said it was 1st time stats agreed with those of radio. Worked in debate with Russell Miller after they got intercollegiate debate team restarted. Still part of English department. Russell Miller was an exceptional person. About 2,000 students in 1948. Stayed pretty stable during his years as undergraduate. George Page - entertaining, stories, dramatic demonstrations. Department in Cherry Hall, 2nd floor. Carl Barnes - not warm, but interested in students. High standards, hard graders. M.L. Billings - very scholarly, well informed. Had his toupee by then. N.O. Taff - dull teacher, but could learn a lot. Mrs. Simmons - thorough, interested in students. Burt Smith - had 1 class with him. Wrestled on bed, broke it down. They tried to fix it, Burt Smith came in, they told him it had broken.

Air Force - 2 years. Then came back and did masters. Saw lot of Earl Moore while Raymond Cravens was doing graduate work. Chapel was once a week, wasn't compulsory, but Raymond Cravens usually went. Was still all college affair. Will Hill - carried flowers to performers on the stage. Raymond Cravens felt that basketball program was very important to WKU. Students took pride in it. gave them confidence they wouldn't have had. Basketball was the dominant sport. Frank Griffin had pushed boxing. Raymond Cravens not sure if it was there then. WKU had prepared him well for his PhD level work. Was well grounded in research, writing. Kelly Thompson (acting president) & Finley Grise asked him to come in to teach economics, but he wasn't really qualified in that area. Kelly Thompson had offered Raymond Cravens field job but he went on to graduate work. Kelly Thompson called Raymond Cravens, met him at Kentucky Education Association breakfast in spring 1958. Offered research analysis for Kelly Thompson & some teaching. Raymond Cravens came around June 1, 1958. James Poteet had gall bladder operation, so Raymond Cravens filled in for him, including Latin American course. Employed by Kelly Thompson, then he told Finley Grise & James Poteet that Raymond Cravens was going to join staff. Arndt Stickles had retired by then. WKU then put in political science minor for the 1st time. Raymond Cravens was full-time in department for next year, when he taught some history, political science & economics. Finley Grise & C--- due to retire, much speculation about successors. John Minton & others told Raymond Cravens they thought Kelly Thompson would put him into one of those positions. Kelly Thompson came by Raymond Cravens' house on a Sunday in spring, took him for a drive. Kelly Thompson told Raymond Cravens he wanted him to be dean. Raymond Cravens was 28 years old, was flabbergasted. Kelly Thompson told Raymond Cravens he had considered one other person but had decided on Raymond Cravens. Told Regents Raymond Cravens was "about 30" not 28. Miss Gabrielle Robertson & some other old timers had a little trouble adapting. 1959.

Got support of department heads who were disgusted with haphazard state in the Curriculum Committee. Bill Jenkins took Raymond Craven's place in the department. Felt he had arrived with Miss Gabie Robertson in faculty house referred to him as "the dean" instead of "that boy." A few new people were coming in. Gordon Wilson, Lee F. Jones were also retiring at same time. Dero Downing, Tate Page, Willson Wood came in. Some faculty wanted representation on some committees, such as Curriculum, which had only department heads. Kelly Thompson wanted only department heads. Raymond Cravens did many --- drafts of proposals for Curriculum committee. Committee usually approved whatever he proposed. Revised teacher education curriculum, put in more content requirements. --- like A & S except for foreign language. Worked closely with Registrar who was really an academic officer. Raymond Cravens spent much time planning buildings. Registration began to increase about 1959. Some faculty thought a classroom belonged to them, would lock down. James Poteet & Henry Yarbrough were in shouting match when Math wanted to use a history room. Kelly Thompson had meeting of department heads, told them he was taking away all classrooms. Hereafter only Dean could make assignments of rooms.

Had 33% increase one year. Raymond Cravens worked out scheduling system so more classes could be used on TTW. Had large Saturday enrollment of classes for teachers, so TTS wasn't practical. 1st - step schedule. Later - present one sharing Fridays. Steps got around the Wednesday (?) hour for chapels. Put in bi-term classes to help with the student teachers. Put classes to 60 minutes. Cut down lines in cafeteria. Helped recruit faculty - reduced number of contact hours for the teacher. Could often have every other Friday off for dissertation research. Fire Marshall made WKU create another exit in Cherry Hall because it was so crowded. Had one stairway only "UP," another only "Down."
Raymond Cravens got John Minton as assistant to dean for graduate programs.

Raymond Cravens own change of status. Point where he felt he had to start opposing Dero Downing & lead to more delegative administration systems - or get out. Raymond Cravens couldn't see himself as becoming Dero Downing's opponent. They had worked together for 17-18 years. "He would probably have fired me anyway." Raymond Cravens was 45 years old. Doesn't think he has to prove anything - he had survived 17 years as dean. Never applied for any administration job. Dero Downing gave him opportunity to do other things. Had been a state leader in international education. Had helped set --- Kentucky Council of International Education & numerous campus activities - often behind the scenes. Dero Downing asked him what he wanted to do. Raymond Cravens suggested international education & inter-institutional relations. Deanship - 3 years. Latin American - development of Latin American universities(?). Contracts in 4 countries. Study Abroad - regularized it. Summer school in Great Britain. Got couple of grants approved. Had --- $200,000 in grant money in one year. Increased campus enrollment of foreign students, had ---.

Dero Downing wanted coordination of public service. Raymond Cravens tried to make it visible. Find out what WKU was doing & make known our availability. Visited area development districts to let them know what WKU could do & was doing. Got a number of projects underway. Speakers' service. After 3 years, Donald Zacharias came in, decided to do some consolidation. Vice president told him that they wanted to go back to teaching. That was OK, but Raymond Cravens feels that it was done in an unprofessional way. They gave him less than 24 hours notice. Doesn't know what motives were. Perhaps Donald Zacharias desire to clean house to start with his own people. Wasn't a matter of ---. Grants coming in more than paid Raymond Cravens' salary. Deserves more than a 18 hour notice. Interesting(?) public education position open in his department & Raymond Cravens was interested in that. With Jim Davis' approval, kept his interest in the British(?) Summer School. Feared it would die otherwise. Volunteered to do it in addition to his load. Raymond Cravens enjoys his teaching. Easier to teach administration than to do it.

Selection of Donald Zacharias. Raymond Cravens wasn't involved at all. Raymond Cravens nominated but withdrew at once in letter to John Cole. Was interested in the selection process - didn't work well. Some Regents tried to engineer(?) selection of their candidate & it didn't work out. Donald Zacharias became the compromise candidate.

Dero Downing Interview, 4/15/1985 - Cravens, Raymond
James Bennett - Surprise when Raymond Cravens (in 1977) requested reassignment. Was he pushed out?
Raymond Cravens gave great service to the University. Been vice president under Kelly Thompson. Dero Downing became Registrar then. Says he & Raymond Cravens worked well together. Raymond Cravens had more innovative(?) ideas than anyone that Dero Downing has ever known. 5-10 plan was largely Raymond Cravens's work. Make decisions that have cumulative effect. Raymond Cravens came to point that he had made all the decisions he wanted to make. He had filled position effectively for 18-20 years.

William Jenkins Interview, 2/1/1986 - Cravens, Raymond
William Jenkins thinks very highly of Raymond Cravens - innovative, versatile(?). Was a classmate of William Jenkins at University of Kentucky. Worked out class schedule to make better use of rooms. Helped eliminate Saturday classes. Much work on the new buildings - was very good at design. Active in college recruiting, especially where departments had weak heads. Wanted to get WKU up to standards of accrediting associations.

Lowell Harrison: Why the decline?
William Jenkins - know there was conflict between Raymond Cravens & Dero Downing. Inevitable since their philosophies were different. They worked well together when they were vice presidents. Dero Downing had standards, but he was better suited to high school. William Jenkins believes it untrue that Raymond Cravens used his position to rent his properties to new faculty members. Raymond Cravens did amass(?) considerable problems.

William Buckman Interview - Cravens, R.
Very young when he took over. Sharp mind. Says Raymond Cravens & Dero Downing did not work well together. After Dero Downing became president, he wanted to control everything. Raymond Cravens only saw the budget after all decisions had been made. Not a good working relationship.

Herb Shadowen Interview - Cravens, Raymond - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/885
Didn't see much of Raymond Cravens in first few years. Herb Shadowen - I never got beyond the department head.

Credit Union
Memo: William M. Jenkins, Jr. Chairman Committee on Faculty Insurance to Kelly Thompson, Dec. 19, 1962 - Committee recommends establishment of credit union similar to one at University of Kentucky. (Nothing indicates when it was started, but there are several items showing it was well established in 1968. For year 1969, total assets were $31,549.22, up from $18,038.86 for 1968 (end of December each year.)

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 2 - Credits 1914
General Correspondence 1914
Henry Cherry to Dr. Charles E. Little, Peabody College, Sept. 30, 1914 - (Charles Little on Aug. 7 had inquired about cooperation in granting credits between the 2 schools). Henry Cherry tells him about arrangements with Kentucky University, Indiana University & Wisconsin (or Wisconsin?) University. If student has not had 15 units of high school work, we make up the difference from the work he does here.

Story about the bizarre case of 2 freshmen students who claimed they were forced to steal by men who threatened to have them sent back to France. Then they say 3 men attacked them on campus Sunday night & cut one of them across the stomach.

1 Governor John Brown has called for a 5% reduction in employees, but it is not thought that this applies to the colleges. Donald Zacharias: “He is calling for the college to scrutinize their budgets.”

1 David B. Whitaker says that Talisman publications may have to be dropped for lack of funds.
2 Says costs have exceeded funds appropriated for last 5 years. but difference has been made up from a reserve fund that is almost exhausted. Roger Loewen, former advisor, says the University isn’t really committed to it. “If they had a basketball team that was No. 1, they wouldn’t think twice about spending the money.”
(Talisman has won 5 Trendsetter Awards in a row - not other has ever done so.) David Whitaker: “We either do it right or don’t do it.”
12 Article on Donald Zacharias and financial problems. Donald Zacharias: “The picture for the first year of the biennium is not bright. We don’t know how dim that’s going to be.”

”The economic future for them (the faculty) is not very bright.” Not sure whether WKU will have to cut personnel or not. Says the work of the development director - when & if WKU gets one - will be especially important now.

1 Governor's budget calls for 7.5% faculty salary increase 1st year, 9% second year. Supplemented by $13,000,000 that Council will distribute. Also, equalization of retirement contributions.
April 22 [1980] -  https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/5628

5 Letter from William Buckman - Says it was the use of the $4,300,000 (after $1,400,000 for retirement was deducted from $5,700,000) that caused misunderstanding. "I personally believe that your editorial did an injustice to President Zacharias and a disservice to the university. He was diligent in presenting our needs to the council, and he communicated well with our representatives in the legislature."

"I have heard only the highest praise for President Zacharias from the council staff and our legislative representatives . . . he has represented us well."

Henry Cherry Papers: 18 - Criticism of WKU 1931
General Correspondence 1931
Herman L. Donovan, President Eastern Kentucky University to Henry Cherry, June 4, 1931 - Sends him editorial that was critical of all the state teachers colleges & mentioned WKU & Murray State University by name. There is considerable misunderstanding & criticism. Most editors say there are too many students & too much is being spent to train them. One editor claimed ½ of Kentucky's tax money went to the teachers colleges. Essential that we educate the public to truth. " . . . I am persuaded that we are facing a dangerous Legislature."

Finley Grise Correspondence Co-E - Criticism 1931
Correspondence 1931
M.H. Judd, Principal, Broadway High School, Mansfield, LA to Finley Grise, Sept. 9, 1931 - Mrs. Judd & he graduated from WKU in 1909 with outstanding records but have had to make do with obscure positions because college has never helped us secure good positions. " . . . the College has not stood for genuine merit but has stood for glamour, show, frivolity, liquor drinking[ sic] gambling and various other things that do not tend to advance the cause of education."

Finley Grise to Miss Mattie McLean, Oct. 8, 1931 - "Since Mr. Judd feels as he does about Kentucky in general and our institution in particular, I am wondering if he really appreciates receiving our literature."

Finley Grise Correspondence 1931-1936 - Criticisms 1933?
Kentucky Education Association - S
"Conversation with Odorree Reeves" (Probably a memo for Henry cherry. No other --- of Reeves. Not dated, but it refers to upcoming 1934-1936 budget). - Questioned increased supplies for some departments. Favors some small tuition charges. Favors non-teaching training. He isn't sure about graduate work in a teachers college but isn't unfriendly. Vocational agriculture training should be at University of Kentucky. Teaching load is far too heavy. Said director of extension should be dismissed & the money used for another teacher. (He doesn't understand that correspondence & extension make for th ecollege.) Says library is made overstuffed by ½ to 2/3. Poor organization for campus maintenance & operation. Too many people involved. Some poorly planned buildings, especially Physical Education.

(He is Charles E. Reeves with Griffenhagen & Associates. Much correspondence in Henry Cherry papers, Box 20 Folder R).

Paul Garrett Papers: 2B - Criticism of WKU 1941
1937-1940 Wa-Wh
The Rev. Robert A. Whelan, St. Joseph's Rectory, Bowling Green to Paul Garrett, Sept. 18, 1941 - Vague letter, 2 pages filled with great apprehension over some conditions at WKU, based up on "renewing (?) of textbooks, investigating the influences of classrooms, and . . . the attitudes and principles advocated by professors and lecturers. It has been a shocking revelation to me that I find therein influences that are entirely unworthy of an American institution - influences which, instead of aiding, are actually injuring great numbers of the students. That the very pagan principles which have led to bloodshed and the terrible miseries witnessed in Europe are being taught right here in our own cherished institution seems hardly credible."

Why talk of destroying Hitler "and at the same time teaching basic Hitlerism to youths in our schools." Texts & professors tell students religion has no objective value. "It is an unpleasant thing to have to discourage students from coming to our local institution."
Nick Rose won 1st at Indiana University in NCAA Cross Country 1974.

WKU won NCAA District III last Saturday by taking 4 of 5 top places.

Tony Staynings, Nick Rose and Chris Ridler were run over by a station wagon on Dec. 22 in their motel room in Marlboro, Mass. The 3 runners were making an early-morning run. Staynings, Rose, and Ridler all suffered fractures to pelvis, Staynings was pinned under car for ½ hour. Rose 70 stitches. Chris Ridler 5 stitches.

Hector Ortiz became All American in cross country on his 4th & final effort. At Knoxville meet he finished 11th (6 miles in 30'02).

Cross Country 1974

13 Hector Ortiz became All-American in cross-country on his 4th & final effort. At Knoxville meet he finished 11th (6 miles in 30'02). The top 25 make All-American. 2 from East Tennessee State University (7, 8) & 1 from Murray State University (16) made it. Ohio Valley Conference was only conference to have 4 men in top 16.

16 In NCAA championship at Spokane, Wash., Nick Rose ran second. WKU finished in 7th place. WKU's other finishers were: 8, 11, 14, 76.

14 Tony Staynings, Nick Rose and Chris Ridler were run over by a station wagon on Dec. 22 in their motel room in Marlboro, Mass., where they were working. Drunk driver crashed into wall at 4:30 a.m. Tony Staynings - 2 fractures to pelvis, was pinned under car for ½ hour. Nick Rose 70 stitches. Chris Ridler - 5 stitches.

13 Last Saturday WKU's cross country team ran away with Ohio Valley Conference title at Murray State University. Scored 22 points, 3rd lowest in conference history. 4 runners crossed finish line together (Tony Staynings, Chris Ridler, Dave Long, Nick Rose) in record 29:44. Was WKU's 1st cross country title in 10 years & 2nd ever.

Daily News, Nov. 25, 1974 - Cross Country 1974
Nick Rose won 1st at Indiana University in NCAA Cross-Country Finals, but Oregon won the event with WKU second. WKU's other finishers were: 8, 11, 14, 76.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, Nov. 26, 1974 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/disc ua_records/5045
Nick Rose won individual cross country title at Bloomington, Ind., yesterday. Did record time of 29:22:2 for 6 miles. WKU finished 2nd to University of Oregon. Oregon 77; WKU 110; University of Texas - El Paso 136

Chris Ridler - 8th
Dave Long - 13
Tony Staynings 18th
Ross Munro 104
Swag Hartel 109
Joe Tinius 126

9 Nick Rose finished 2nd (behind Craig Virgin of Illinois) in NCAA meet at University Park, Pa. WKU finished in 6th place. Nick Rose got his 4th All-American title.

9 WKU was 4th in NCAA District III championships Saturday at Greenville, SC, qualified for NCAA. (Trailed Tennessee, Alabama, East Tennessee).

12 WKU placed 14th in nationals at Denton, Texas. Tony Staynings was 23, won their All-American for 2nd time. (Was 13th last year but award wasn't given to non-Americans). This was WKU's 4th trip to nationals:
1973 - 6th
1974 - 2nd
1975 - 6th
1976 - 14th

12 Men finished 4th in Ohio Valley Conference cross country on Saturday. WKU's top runner, Bob Swann, was injured and didn't run.

14 Coach Del Hessel: "Fourth place is no place for Western."

14 WKU finished 15th in 29 team field at NCAA District III regional cross-country championship at Greenville, SC last Saturday. Did not qualify team or a runner for national for 1st time since 1972. Del Hessel: "We just didn't have the talent to get the job done." Says he's proud "we got as much accomplished as we did."

9 WKU's cross country team finished 22 in NCAA meet. John Graham, 4th on team, quit school and returned to Scotland a few days earlier. Dave Long was 79th - WKU's top position.

11 WKU won Ohio Valley Conference cross country championship for 3rd time in 4 years. Score was 25 one of best in Ohio Valley Conference history. Larry Cuzzort was 1st.

College Heights Herald, Tuesday, Nov. 20, 1979 - Cross Country 1979 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/5582

12 In NCAA national cross country championship WKU yesterday finished 12th. (Had expected to be in top 10). Larry Cuzzort finished 25th, won All-American status. Del Hessel: "Hindsight is a lot better than foresight. After a performance like this, you wonder about your training, your coaching techniques."

5 WKU was 2nd (to East Tennessee) last Saturday in NCAA region III meet at Greenville, SC. Top 5 qualified for national championship Monday in Wichita, Kansas.

9 WKU was 6th in national. Senior Larry Cuzzort & freshman Simon Cahill earned All-American honors. Ron Becht, 3rd or 4th all year, had flu, couldn't finish. Otherwise, WKU might have been as high as 2nd. (In 1974 - 2nd, when Nick Rose won. In 1973 - 6th).

218 New coach was Curtiss Long. (Had been assistant at University of Georgia). Won Ohio Valley Conference championship. Placed 6th in NCAA (of 29 teams). Larry Cuzzort & Simon Cahill won All-American honors.

Saturday WKU won its 1st Sun Belt Conference title - cross country at University of South Florida. Simon Cahill set record. All 5 WKU runners were in top 10.
Coach Curtiss Long was named conference coach of the year.

WKU easily defended its cross-country Sun Belt championship. With 18 points, beat South Alabama with 51 in 2nd place. WKU runners took first 4 places. 6 of 10 members of All-Conference team were from WKU.

College Heights Herald, 12/8/1983 - Cross Country 1983 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5858
Ashley Johnson, 21 year old broadcasting major from South Africa won All-American honors when he finished 13th in the Nationals.

8 He is a senior majoring in recreation.

WKU - Notecards - Cultural Enrichment Program

Libraries: Sara Tyler Projects - Cultural Enrichment Program 1966

She is on committee for "Cultural Enrichment through Community Action" headed by Dr. O.J. Wilson. Got some (+- $15,000) federal funding to see what could be done in a 20 county area. Idea was to show how communities could use their resources to stimulate interest in cultural activities.

Title I Projects

1 Purpose was to help "eliminate a cultural blight or void in the area of art, music and theatre in the service area of Western Kentucky University."

3 Pilot demonstrations in 5 areas (3 locations) in 1967.

4 Decided to omit library & lecture components & concentrate on workshops.

Regional Advisory Council, aided by county advisory committees.

In 1967-68 1082 participants in workshops in 6 counties

In 1968-69, 889 in 5 counties

In 1969-70, 915 in 5 counties.

Total in 4 years: 5,386 in 16 counties in 48 workshops.

WKU - Notecards - Curfew

Curfew rules for women are being abolished Oct. 31 in order to comply with ban on sex discrimination under Title IX. Female dorm residents will be able to use their keys to unlock door as do men now. Many other adjustments will also have to be made - in athletics, for example.

Courier-Journal, Oct. 31, 1975

Says WKU is last state school in Kentucky to end it.

WKU - Notecards - Curricula/Curriculum

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 1 - Curriculum 1908

General Correspondence: 1909

R.N. Roark, Eastern Kentucky University to Henry Cherry, April 21, 1908 - Says they can't put in Agriculture & Industrial Training next fall - perhaps before year is out. Such matters must be determined by the Executive Council which "is the ultimate authority upon matters of the curriculum."

He is "in great distress" over need for new buildings but can't do anything now. Hard to get their Regents together for a meeting. Does your Board believe it has right to borrow money with which to build? Have you received any money from new appropriation? We applied, were told there was no money. Anxious to have meeting of Executive Council, but dislikes to have one until Superintendent Crabbe (who is ill) can attend.

April 23, 1908 - "We are heavily overdrawn and are feeling the pinch of poverty. Governor Wilson seems to be in a humour to keep us out of the money if possible for reasons that are, of course, satisfactory to him."

R.N. Roark to Henry Cherry, May 27, 1908 - Glad they can at last have a Council meeting. ". . . I shall be entirely willing to vote to let either School offer any subjects each may choose outside of those leading to the certificates. I am sure you will agree with me that we ought to go before the public untied on the certificate program." Feels that we are entitled to full $20,000 appropriation by June 30 of this year.

Votes to add Agriculture, Manual Training and Domestic Science as soon as it can be done.

Institutional Self-Study Report - Curriculum +/- 1910

(S.A. Self-Study) 1962
In early years of WKU 5 regular courses of study were available.

1) Review Course - subjects up to 8th grade. To prepare students for county exams.
2) 1 year
3) 2 year Not quite equal to high school now
4) 4 year About high school + freshman year
5) County Superintendents Course

Faculty Minutes 1907-33 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc ua_records/8516/
April 27, 1911 - Faculty voted unanimously to add a year to the academic work. Committee appointed.

Henry Cherry Papers: Box 3 - Curriculum 1919
General Correspondence
T.J. Coates to Henry Cherry, Nov. 10, 1919 - Would like to get together & discuss our courses. "... I am not satisfied with our courses as at present planned." Has appointed faculty committee to study question. "I am convinced that too much of our educational work is up in the air, functioning nowhere." Will study public school courses by committee; then by the entire faculty; then take result to the public school educators of the Eastern District. Then we will examine our courses to see how we can better teach them. "I believe, President Cherry, that a normal school is a vocational school first. Of course, I do not under rate the training that we give in scholarship but we are training people to go out into the State and do a specific job." Would like to discuss these matters with you.

Daily News, September 6, 1927 - Curriculum 1927
1 Several new additions and improvements were made for the upcoming school year at the Western Teachers College Training School in regards to course work. A "four year course in agriculture" was added. "In extra-curricular activities there are also several additions. Mrs. Nell Gooch Travelstead and Professor Franz J. Strahm of the college are preparing to give additional work in music and the prospects are bright for successful football and basketball teams."

Finley Grise Correspondence - Curriculum 1930
Co-E Correspondence 1931-1936
Minutes of Executive Council of State Teachers College of Kentucky, May 3, 1930 - Council voted to accept the provisions of Senate Bill 117 "and prepare courses of study to be submitted to the respective Boards of Regents for the granting of the Bachelor's Degree without professional requirements.

1 WKU is offering work in 20 departments

Kelly Thompson Papers: 15 - Curriculum 1957
Revised Curriculum (1957)
Memo: Kelly Thompson to Dean Finley Grise, July 2, 1957 (Copies to E.H. Canon & Lee F. Jones) - Reminds him of conversation in Dallas (Dec. 4, 1956) & Chicago (Feb. 15, 1957) about need for comprehensive study of all our offerings in light of frequent criticisms & loss of entire counties to other schools. Nearly all report that it takes 1-3 summer terms longer to get degree at WKU than elsewhere (or certification).

"When it appeared that no recommendations would be forthcoming to the President's office in time to help us for the present summer school, I went to considerable trouble to chart comparisons relative to prescribed courses and elective courses as laid down by the State Department of Education, Eastern, Murray and Western." Pointed out provisional elementary certificate as area causing most trouble. Yesterday you gave me report in answer to my request of June 10. I read it several times last night. "I am very disappointed with the report." It has missed the main problem. Most of it defends individual courses; I never asked about any particular course.

"The report is primarily philosophical and contains many statements which appear to be designed to 'educate' the President, rather than to attack the problem." Net result "will not be of any appreciable help . . . " Withdraws his request for overall study, "as I now feel that the results will not justify the time, expense and effort necessary."

Special report of June 26, 1957 is attached. But a revised curriculum for elementary teachers was approved by July 19, 1957. By July 31, 1957 Kelly Thompson was mailing copies to County Superintendents. Says it is "revised and liberalized(?)."

Kelly Thompson to Finley Grise, Lee Jones, E.H. Canon, June 10, 1957 - Asks them to do the study. Says Murray State University's appears too liberal, WKU's too rigid; Eastern Kentucky University is in between. Attaches the chart he has made.

Gordon Wilson Diary - Curriculum
May 17, 1959 - Says some of teachers weren't enthusiastic about enlarging to add Arts & Science Curricula. Dr. A.J. Kinnaman said it would create many problems to add pre-professional & professional work. "... it would destroy the basic unity of our students . . . " Gordon Wilson says we knew that that era was passing.

"Something very unified and distinctive began to die the day we opened our doors to every type of student . . . the intimate connection of student with every other

Article based on 42 page report issued yesterday by William J. Bennett, chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities. “To Reclaim a Legacy.” Says that liberal arts contents have declined drastically over last 20 years. Blames surrender to student activists in 1960s, pressures of specialization and marketing. Says all students should be required to take a common core, spread throughout 4 years.

Decline in BA majors from 1970 to 1982: English 57%, Philosophy 41%, History 62%, Modern Languages 50%. During that period number of degrees went up 11%. Percent of colleges with foreign language requirement: 1960 - 89%, 1975 - 53%, 1982 - 47%

Percent not requiring: U.S. history or literature 72%, European history 75%, Greece or Rome 86% Says humanities should make up about ¼ of total curriculum.

Regents Minutes II, Jan. 1, 1935 - Cuthbertson, Sterrett 1935

He resigned from the Board, which then employed him as assistant to the president (at $3300) with title to be decided later.

Sterrett Cuthbertson is referred to here as Provost.

Teacher College Heights, March 1935 - Cuthbertson, Sterrett 1935 - https://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/2072/

On Jan. 1, 1935, Regents created position of Provost of the College & appointed Sterrett Cuthbertson of Bowling Green. Board recognized the heavy duties and responsibilities that have (32) devolved upon the president. Mr. Cuthbertson will assist in connection with the College Heights Foundation and Kentucky Building programs. He has been for 10 years vice president of the Bowling Green Trust Company. For past 13 years he has been on WKU's Board of Regents. Graduated from Ogden College in 1900
