BIOGRAPHY

Joseph Llewellyn Price was born on February 12, 1877, in Fair Dealing (Marshall County), Kentucky, the son of John Powers and Elizabeth Goheen (McCleod) Price. His father was a farmer and a Confederate Civil War veteran. Price attended the Farmington Institute and Benton Seminary prior to matriculating at Marvin College in Clinton, Kentucky. He later transferred to, and graduated from, the Southern Normal School at Bowling Green, Kentucky. He taught school in several western Kentucky communities prior to 1904.

In 1904 Price was elected clerk for the Marshall Circuit Court, serving for six years. He was admitted to the bar in 1907, and from 1910 to 1914 Price served as county judge of Marshall County. Also, he practiced law in Benton from 1910 until 1922. Moving to Paducah, Price became the judge of the Second Judicial District of Kentucky. The district was comprised of Marshall and McCracken Counties, and Price remained in that position until his death in 1949.

In addition to his judicial responsibilities, Price was a church and community leader. He was active in the Benton Baptist Church and later at the First Baptist Church of Paducah. He served many years as a Sunday School teacher and filled the pulpit on a number of occasions as a lay speaker. Price was a member of the American Bar Association, the Kentucky Bar Association, the Masons, the Odd Fellows, and the Modern Woodmen of the World. He married Maude Lee Brandon on October 17, 1907, in Benton. They had four children: J. Brandon Price, Norman Price, Sue E. Price, and Sterling J. Price. He died on January 1, 1949.

COLLECTION

This collection consists chiefly of legal papers from Joseph Llewellyn Price's legal practice in Marshall County from 1910 to 1922 (Boxes 2 - 9). The cases are filed alphabetically by plaintiff. To locate a specific case consult the listing at the end of this finding aid, which includes a separate listing arranged alphabetically by plaintiff. For each case the listing will tell the case type, court tried in, and the inclusive dates of the material in the collection. The cases are chiefly equity related but there are also divorce, military discharges, collection of debts, incorporation, and sundry other cases and legal files. The collection also includes personal correspondence, including three folders of material related to Democratic Party activities in Kentucky from 1914 to 1921. Several folders of World War I related items, including correspondence and letters related to the American Protective League, a list of war deserters arranged by county, and some patriotic poetry are in the collection. Also, there is considerable manuscript and printed information related to Price's role as Marshall County food administrator for the U.S. Food Administration in 1918-1919.
