BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Frank Morehead Thomas (1868-1921) was born in Bowling Green, Kentucky, the son of physician Richard Curd Thomas (1838-1879) and Elizabeth (Wright) Thomas (1842-1931). Their other children were lawyers Thomas Wright (1866-1930) and Richard Curd Pope (1872-1939). Thomas attended Bowling Green schools, including Ogden College where he received his A.B. and A.M. degrees. In 1893 he was awarded a B.D. from Vanderbilt University and at a later date he received his D.D. from Kentucky Wesleyan College. After joining the Louisville Methodist Episcopal Church Conference in 1893, he served a number of the larger Kentucky churches – Louisville, Owensboro, Henderson, and Morganfield. During Thomas' four-year stay at Fourth Avenue Methodist Church in Louisville, he was elected book editor and editor of the Methodist Quarterly Review, a position he held from 1915 until his death in 1921. From 1894 to 1916 Thomas served as chaplain of the Third Kentucky Infantry and participated in the Spanish-American War in Cuba during 1898 and 1899. Thomas' most notable work during his ministry was his twelve-year secretaryship of the joint commission planning for the merger of the Northern and Southern Methodist churches. Thomas married Stella Phillips (1868-1924), and their children included Sarah Elizabeth, Thomas Richard, and Frank Morehead, Jr. (1910-1934).

His mother wrote poetry, essays, and articles for the local newspapers and recorded her reminiscences of childhood friends and of her Civil War experiences.

THE COLLECTION

This collection is comprised chiefly of sermons, 1893-1930 (462 items); speeches, 1893-1920 (58); and letters, 1898-1913 (33) of Frank Morehead Thomas. Included are his letters written to his family while serving as chaplain in the Spanish-American War during 1898-1899 (25 items) which describe his regiment while stationed in Lexington, Kentucky, en route to Cuba, and their return to the United States. There are also letters written to the editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, 1908-1913 (3); prayers; poems; essays; sermons composed for newspaper publications; compositions written for publications; and the foreword to his book The Coming Presence, published in 1912. The manuscript (original and revised) of Thomas' "The Heart of America," ca. 1910, coupled with a penciled copy of "Uncle Tom" from "The Heart of America" are present.

Miscellaneous items concerning Thomas include a letter probably written by his mother; miscellaneous pamphlets; a "Requiem to Frank M. Thomas" by Lucien V. Rule; clippings; resolutions enacted at Methodist meetings; receipts; and a church certificate of membership (photocopy) of Thomas and Ann Bridges, formerly of Scotland, 1793.

Elizabeth Wright Thomas' writings include the "Fall of Fort Donelson," a personal Civil War experience, and an essay written on the occasion of her graduation from Mary Kendall Jones' private school in Bowling Green. Other items include a small scrapbook, pictures, death and funeral notices of Bowling Green residents, and newspaper clippings, one of which relates an account of a "malicious shooting and riot" at Potter College in Bowling Green in 1901. The law notes of Daniel Webster Wright (1839-1921), Elizabeth's brother, taken while a student at law school in Albany, New York, and law notes of Frank M. Thomas, Jr., while attending Harvard Law School from 1932 to 1934, complete the collection.
