The Kentucky Eta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity was initiated on Western's campus May 7, 1966. The national fraternity was founded December 29, 1848 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. The Phi Delta colors are maroon and yellow with the white carnation as their flower. Each semester the fraternity presents a trophy to the sophomore pledge class having the highest scholastic point standing. In addition, the group sponsors the "Phi Delta Spring Sing" during Greek Week. A community service day project is held annually by the national fraternity as a philanthropic service.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Virginia on March 1, 1885. Zeta Epilus, the local chapter, was established on February 6, 1965. One year later, the Pilis purchased a house on College Street, and spent the entire summer redecorating. The university, along with their mascot, "Flair," moved in fall semester. Parked outside the house is the Pilis "mode of transportation," a red fire engine. The fraternity's colors are green and gold with the City-of-the-Valley as its flower.

Army R. O. T. C.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps at Western Kentucky University, a voluntary four-year program, is administered by the Department of the Army as a means of providing the Regular Army and the Reserve with qualified officers. Those men who complete the Advanced Course are awarded commissions as second lieutenants in the Reserve or, in the case of outstanding students, directly into the Regular Army. Major Norman E. Orr, Professor of Military Science, assisted by three officers, four non-commissioned officers, and one civilian secretary, provides the leadership and administration for Western's 32nd Annual Cadet Corps. Western counted 21 out of 53 universities and colleges represented at the 1966 Indiana-Ohio Military Reservation summer camp.

With three of Western's top performers sidelined with sickness, the Hilltoppers opened the 1966 season with an unimpressive 14-0 loss to St. Joseph's (Ind.) College.

A stalling passing attack lifted the visiting Pioneers to a second quarter 24-0 lead over the heavily favored Hilltoppers. A late second period touchdown by sophomore quarter} Johnny Vance was Western's only highlight for the first time in 1966. A 13-yard pass interception by sophomore W. G. Helton, three touchdowns by freshmen Jim Veitner and Dan Lasswell, and TDs of the season paved the way for the Hilltoppers' first victory.

Veitner's 18 points tied the University record held by six additional Hilltoppers.

Eager and youthful Westerners battled tenaciously to a 13-7 halftime deficit against winning OVC defending champion Middle Tennessee before collapsing 35-9 for the Hilltoppers' first defeat in three outings. With the score tied 7-7, a MTSU 73-yard touchdown punt return put the Raiders on top to stay. The Hilltoppers' lone touchdown came on a one-yard plunge by Vance. Western outgained MTSU 317-275 in total offense. Wes Strauss carried four times for 55 yards, and Clark carried 19 times for 85 yards in his 1966 debut. Top defensive performances were turned in by "Hoggar's Heroes"—middle guard Wes Deick, endback Allen Rogers, safety W. G. Helton, and cornerback Jerry Hambur. The victory kept Western in the hunt for the OVC crown.

Slow starts seemed to be an early season trademark of the Hilltoppers as Western won its first OVC contest of 1966 at East Tennessee, 21-7. The Hilltoppers did not make a single first down in the scoreless first half. However, three third quarter Western touchdowns by Vance, halfback Billy Bone, and Veitner ended the Hilltoppers in comeback situations. Following the contest, Wes Strauss was named OVC Defensive Player of the Week for making ten solo tackles, three assists, and recovering a fumble. In two games, the youthful Vance had completed 14 of 19 passes to lead the league in pass completion percentage.

Tennessee Tech 21

The Hilltoppers rolled into a rugged East Tennessee Tech's Golden Tornado spiced Western 21-7 in a season-opening contest at Middlesboro. For three quarters, field and fumble piled the ways on a 52 yard pass touchdown interception and two more touchdowns ended Tennessee Tech's offense. The game ended at 16:00 in the third quarter, as the Hilltoppers scored two touchdowns to drive the game 7 before forcing a safety. Moon gained 86 yards on 15 carries.

Drake's Bulldog defense was dominated by Tennessee Tech's running attack. Sticking Western which suffered its third loss in six games, 32-0, Western's touchdowns were scored by Tom Bird, who returned an 18 yard pass and 23 yard punt from Mike Ross, and a four yard punt. The Trojans trailed 15-0 at halftime against the same opponent, but Western gave up two third quarter touchdowns. The Bulldogs ran up 152 yard total offense in the game. Western defense scored its fourth touchdown, Drake led 32-0 as the Western Trojans had their busiest day of the season. Western's chief offensive threat, again, was Moon, who carried 14 times for 79 yards.

Defensive end Jim Gilmour hopes to recover a fumble.

Western 7
Morehead 12

Western's offensive ineptitude on Morehead's OCTC champs in every phase of the game...except on the scoreboard—as the Trojans scored their first defeat of the season. A third period touchdown by the OCTC's Movie of the Year Tommy Grylls released Morehead to advance toward the 1986 league crown. A 24-yard punt by Dickie Moore gave Western a 7-6 halftime lead—and kept hopes for an upset. It was a playing deficit because Western controlled the football for 71 minutes to 46 minutes for the Eagles. These Trojans concluded Morehead in total offense 216 to 219 and in first downs 29 to 7. Following the game, Davis said: "Each game brings three things which they have never faced before—they just have no substitute for experience."

Defensive end Jim Gilmour hopes to recover a fumble.

Western 12
Eastern 24

Eastern Kentucky played its home defensive game of the season by shattering Western's 21st Annual Homecoming record 31-14. An estimated 32,000 fans packed into Western Stadium to watch the game. Hilltoppers attempted a kickoff return of 17-6 at halftime. On the second play after the half-time correlation, Western's Dave Brown intercepted a pass and returned it 86 yards for a touchdown. A Scramble Field goal by Tim Arwood made 9-17-10, before Eastern scored its final touchdown in the fourth quarter. A safety was the game's added two points to the Trojans' tally. The loss left Western with a 3-1 loss and a 3-1 overall mark.
Western snatched 35-0 victory from Butler Bulldogs in the first game of the season. A résulted touchdown pass from quarterback Mike Egan to Jan Old set the Toppers rolling. Egan scored two more touchdowns in the second period to make the Toppers gain a 21-0 halftime lead. Dickie Moore scored for the first time. Defensively, Wes Rhinehart, W. G. Kelton, and Alam Sigler kept the Bulldogs in the defense throughout the game. It was Western's fourth win in nine games.

Basketball

Having a 13-1 OVC basketball record this year and a 14-9 record the previous year, Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers, coached by John Oldham, have at long last received the nationwide recognition they so deserve. Despite a rather sluggish beginning this season which resulted in a 6-point loss to Vanderbilt and was witnessed by a crowd of over 15,000, the Hilltoppers quickly fired themselves and were undeterred for their remaining scheduled games with the exception of a 6-point deficit to Murray. Because of the first loss to Vanderbilt they were undervalued nationally. However, with victory after victory the Hilltoppers eventually advanced in the national polls and were ranked third when they entered the NCAA tournament with Clem Haskins being placed on the All-American team. Western's "bulldog front", Clem "the Great" Haskins, Wayne Chapman, Dwight Smith, Greg Smith and Butch Klemmer caused thousands of fans to marvel at their speed, agility and defense. The Hilltoppers proved to be, once again, one of the greatest, if not the greatest, basketball teams in the nation.

Toppers Advance in Polls to Number Three

This season's Hilltopper squad, having lost Steve Cunningham, the starting center of last year, found it necessary to experiment with each player to discover who was best suited for a particular position. The Toppers were extremely adaptable to the task as Glen Hablot and Wayne Chapman started at forwards, Dwight Smith and Butch Kaufman at guards, and Greg Smith at the pivot.
Clem "the Gem" makes All American Team

The Topper's adaptability was put to the supreme test when Clem "the Gem" suffered a broken wrist bone and was unable to play for several weeks. With this upsetting turn of events, Hilltopper's Mike Fascezi won for the occasion.

Fascezi, plus an all star effort from the center team, wrapped for one win after another, while continuously climbing the national polls for the number three spot.

The Western Kentucky freshman team, coached by Buck Sylvester, had a slow season to the beginning, but were quickened up by the starting five in the season. Despite losses, Starbuck, Sylvester and Bright claimed top scoring honors, averaging between 25 and 30 points per game. Bright captured rebounding honors with about 15 per game.

Freshman Basketball
Track

The 1967 track season marked the first year for Burch Oglesby at the helm of Western's internationally recognized track program. Oglesby succeeded Tom Ecker, now coach at Indiana, who developed Western's track program into a winning tradition. Coach Ecker's four-year tenure concluded in 1966 as his Hilltoppers captured their second consecutive Ohio Valley Conference championship. Ecker and OVC Meet double winner Fran Smith gained the highest conference accolades as the conference's athlete of the year. Coach Oglesby inherited a diversified nucleus with Morris Clark, Eddie Coleman, John Wray, Frank Dellman, Craig Senn, and Derek King. During the 1966 season, Western extended its home dual meet victory string to nine and competed in the Corn Palace Relays and the Indiana Relays.
Cross Country

Cross country head coach Burch Oglesby completed his first season at the helm with a team that was relatively unexperienced and injury prone. Despite early season injuries which forced Western to drop four of five dual meets, the Toppers placed second in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Championships and fourth in the Ohio Valley Conference Championships.

Competing in the dual meets were Craig Brown, John Zorn, Pat Courtney, Pat Sullivan, Jim Zorn, Ralph Holden, and Jim Walker. The Toppers also held the first annual Western Kentucky University Invitational Championships with six competing teams. Oglesby was assisted by Ralph Thomas throughout the season.

Tennis

Western's 1967 tennis team under Coach Ted Hornback is filled with veterans of international, national and conference competition. During the 1966 season, Western missed the OVC title by one point, but the Hilltoppers won individual championships with the sparkling play of Jackie Cooper, Bill Beverly, Jim Malone, and Ed Easter. Newcomer Hector Corlero, Western's first foreign athlete, comes from Puerto Rico to give Western an international flavor on the courts. In 1966, Western was 14 of 18 dual meets.
Baseball

Head baseball mentor Jim Pickens guided the Hilltopper squad to a promising 9-13 season in 1966 and guided a team with strong pitching and hitting for 1967. Western finished third in the OVC's Western Division, but the Hilltopper baseball team displayed a promising future. The Hilltoppers defeated arch-rival Murray State in a home double-header for the first time since 1951 in addition to hosting St. Louis University in two games. Outfielder Jim Bondell was named to the first team Western Division squad with catcher Tom Watkins and pitcher Stan Markham earning honorable mention. Hitters Mike Rings, Dean Deyoing, Ronnie Howell, and infielders Bobby Boyle and Vassos Lloyd look to a strong season for future success.

A Hilltopper letter takes a full swing in the season finale with Austin Peay State College.

Golf

Head Coach Frank Griffin enjoyed his 20th season at the helm of Western's golf team in 1966. The Hilltoppers unbeaten their dual meet record to 37 meets without a defeat in completing their third straight season undefeated. The Hilltoppers finished fourth in the OVC Meet. Veterans Ken Schreiber and Bill Beiley formed the nucleus for the 1967 season as the Hilltoppers searched for their eighth OVC crown.

Western's golfing twins Craig and Bruce Clark prepare for another meet.

Veteran Ken Schreiber sinks a putt while Gary Bale awaits his turn.
The "W" Club is a unique organization at Western. Its members are those men who have earned a varsity letter in one of the various sports while at Western. The club is very active in campus activities as well as intramural activities. Participation in competitions with other colleges and universities is one of the many ways in which the W Club promotes school spirit.

Coach Fox sponsors the club.

Coach Fox and W Club members design strategy for one of their many sports activities.

Intramurals

Participation in the intramural program has increased in all sports under the direction of Coach Frank Griffin, Mrs. Ballard Morey, and Cecil Franklin of the Physical Education Department. Nearly all sports are offered under the intramural program. All students who wish to participate are eligible to belong to one of the following teams: discriminative, frequentative, societies, elves, and off-campus groups. The spirit of competition provides the incentive for all teams to work up in yearday.

Sigma Nu fraternity captured the intramural football title.

Junior Class Officers

Hearing pleased express in the field of knowledge, planted the seed of decision, reason, or calculation and tended the ground with the implement of his moral curiosity, he reaps the harvest of self-knowledge and a growing respect for the essential dignity of every man,—the knowledge of the worth of each individual which is the essential ingredient in any scale of peaceful existence, personal security or national security. The Junior is aware of his role as a leader and his duty to prepare himself for his role with confidence, knowing that the man with which he accepts and attacks world problems will be affected in the history of men to come.

Freshmen

We'll probably get more whistles than sun.

Hey! It's a boy!

The Sophomore class is dedicated, realizing the necessity for cooperation on campus. They have achieved social integration and have gained the motivation of setting high goals and working to reach them. Believing that honest effort results in success, success comes in a professional and as a person capable of living life to its fullest, leaving a favorable influence on his contemporaries as well as society. These students know the importance of being people who have the moral and spiritual strength to guide youth toward a life of meaningful relationships and worthy deeds.

Freshmen Class Officers

The student's first year at college is marked by beginnings—new friendships, new surroundings, and new ideas. Social and academic successes mean more than a challenging and rewarding college career. They advance toward the end of a more discerning mind and the habit of self-assurance; the assurance that comes from worthwhile accomplishments. Freshmen eagerly anticipate the fulfillment of personal destiny and parental hopes, based on the truth that the security of the future for our nation rests in an educated, well-informed citizenry.
