GAMMA SIGMA SIGMA

Official Song

Strongest of bonds, uniting the world,
For service and brotherhood we strive.
We pledge now all our might,
For friendships healing light,
To keep this truth alive.

(Chorus)

Gamma Sigma Sigma
Let our tributes echo clear,
So that all who bear your colors
May rejoice in your fame.
So that all who hear our voices
Look for service in your name.

Dear Gamma Sigs, we're faithful to you,
For service we work so constantly.
To college and our land,
We pledge the helping hand,
Of our sorority.

SHIELD representing the protection afforded by sisterhood.

SCALES representing equality and justice.

MAROOM representing bygones to the death.

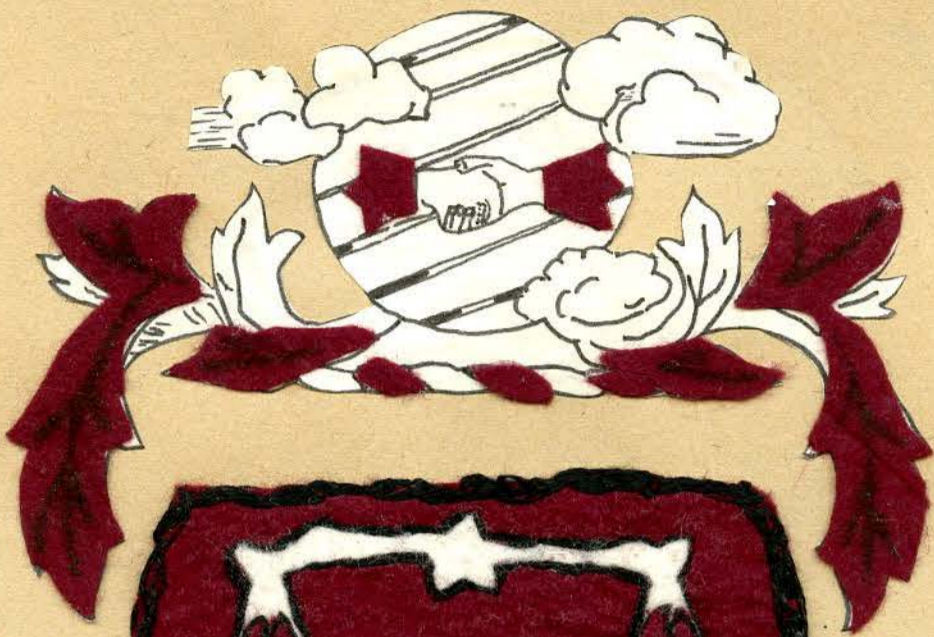

CHEVRON representing service.

STAR representing bygones integrity and valor.

TORSE representing the inspiration of the high ideals of the sorority.

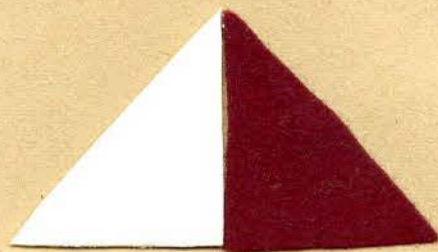

CLASPED HANDS representing friendship all over the world.

SCROLL containing our name meaning we must prepare a sign of prudence and the reputation of preparing good deeds.

Gamma Sigma to get charter

Western's Gamma Sigma Sigma colony will be initiated as a national service sorority, Beta Sigma, during installation ceremonies Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Susan Glass, third national vice president, will preside at the 2 p.m. ceremony at the Catholic Student Center. Also representing the national organization will be Loetta Haller, regional director, and Mrs. Nancy Steppe, regional aide.

Officers for the year have been elected. They include Marion Lane, president; Brenda Miller, first vice president; Ann Goins, second vice president; Dianne Williams, recording secretary; Marie Taylor, corresponding secretary; Bobbie Hannah, treasurer; Anita Cabading, historian.

The sorority currently has 13 pledges. They are Jane Atkinson, Kay Browne, Gwen Browning, Nancy Breeden, Sharon Carter, Wanda Crain, Sharon Cropper, Julia Edwards, Carol Beth Grow, Janet Jolly, Glenda McCamish, Rebecca McCoy and Martha Mansfield.

The sorority's service projects include ushering at concerts, working with the Girl Scouts at Delafield, visiting nursing homes and the Potter Orphanage. The national project is mental retardation.

PARENTS' CABIN ON THE STEAMER COLUMBIA

On any steamer riverboat trip a large portion of the traveler's time was spent in the passenger cabin. This large main room served as a combination lounge, ballroom, dining room and place of entertainment. An orchestra played during the meals and for dancing in the evenings. The cabin was lined on each side with many passenger 'staterooms'. Often each stateroom was named for a State and sometimes they were numbered.

Normally there were as many as 24 cabin boys, cooks, pantrymen and a steward who served the 100 to 200 paying passengers, not only at mealtime but at midnight lunch. The midnight lunch was really a full meal. Excellent hot coffee was available at any hour day or night.

Probably, the most exciting adventure of a trip on the old packets was the food. This cuisine of the culinary department was delectable, plentiful and unique. The food was cooked in a small galley and brought up steps to the pantry where it was put in steam tables and then served in small dishes to the hungry traveler.
