ORGANIZATIONAL HISTORY

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was founded 12 February 1909 in New York by a group of activists, both white and black, who felt the need to renew the abolitionists' struggle for civil and political liberty on behalf of African Americans. The group's mission was "to ensure the political, educational, social, and economic equality of rights of all persons and to eliminate racial hatred and racial discrimination."

The Bowling Green, Kentucky branch of the NAACP was organized ten years later on 2 February 1919 at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, 716 College Street. Fifty-three persons were enrolled as charter members. Mr. E. I. Smith was selected as the group's first president, serving until 1925. The local chapter's charter was presented to the organization 1 January 1920 at a gathering celebrating the anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation. After a period of more than 80 years the Bowling Green branch of the NAACP became dormant on 31 December 1999 but was reactivated in 2003.

COLLECTION NOTE

This collection consists of photocopies of the minutes of the Bowling Green, Kentucky chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from 2 February 1919 to 8 June 1927. The minutes reveal the concerns of the group and its many activities on behalf of racial justice locally as well as nationally. The minute book also provides membership lists, including the charter members, and financial reports. The collection includes various communications from NAACP headquarters, 1925-1927, that kept members informed about national issues such as the anti-lynching law.
