COLLECTION NOTE

This collection contains information and documentation about the Community Scholars Program's workshops held in Cynthiana, Kentucky, during the fall of 2004. Included in the collection are examples of the work completed by participants in the workshops. Instructors in the free six-workshop series taught individuals how to collect and preserve local history, identify and document community traditions, and present these traditions to the public. Participants learned the basic skills needed to help communities explore and showcase local talent, folk traditions, and history. The sessions for this particular program were held every other week from 2 October to 18 December 2004.
