Student paper titled "The Stewart Farm" in which Debbie Cavin and Sharman Mullins provide an expansive look at the homestead of Garrett Graham Stewart, a native of Warren County, Kentucky. The log house, which was built by Stewart in 1850, was originally part of a 400-acre farmstead. Cavin and Mullins collected their historical data from Bill and Bell Muth, a couple who were in the process of renovating and restoring the Stewart home. In addition to a history of the land, Cavin and Mullins also provide commentary on the home's various architectural and design elements. Black and white photographs, hand drawn maps and floorplans, and a Stewart family tree are included in the paper.
