ORGANIZATIONAL HISTORY

The Kentucky Agricultural Women's Leadership Network was established in 1999 with the goal of enhancing communication between women about agricultural products and services. From this foundation, the Kentucky Women in Agriculture nonprofit organization was officially created in July 2003. Its goal is to "empower women through education, involvement and action." Their financial resources are used to provide scholarships for undergraduate women in agriculture as well as attain keynote speakers for their annual conference.

COLLECTION NOTE

Collection includes Kentucky Women in Agriculture's minutes from quarterly board meetings, financial records, conference handouts, newsletters, digital photographs, and interviews. Digital photographs are located within the Photo Archives, while the recorded interviews are stored within the Sound Archives and have been restricted indefinitely. The strength of this collection rests in the number of quality interviews, conducted over a span of nearly 3 years, which offer in-depth insight into the complex and nuanced issues faced by women in contemporary agricultural endeavors.
