Heart On Display...

This Friday more than 3,000 high school seniors will visit the campus as Western again holds its annual High School Senior Day.

Throughout the day, these future college freshmen will be given the opportunity to see what Western has to offer them in the way of academic curricula and extra-curricular activities. Most departments of the College have arranged some sort of display, exhibit, or demonstration, and several clubs have also planned activities to interest the visitors.

The total effect of these preparations is intended to show these seniors in one day what we as college students are exposed to daily. Very often we tend to take for granted many of the features of life at Western and would be surprised at the awe and enthusiasm displayed by these high school students.

The heart of any college is its student body, and as Western's student body is constantly growing, so is the heart of the College growing. This Friday the heart of the College will be as much on display as any building, department, or club on the Hill. Let us take advantage of this opportunity to show these visiting seniors how big a Western Welcome can be and make every effort to make them feel as much at home here as they do at their high schools.

In return for our Western hospitality, perhaps we can contract some of the enthusiasm these people will bring with them and realize once again the many opportunities Western provides us to acquire a valuable and well-rounded education.

Volume Of Selected Essays Reflects Southern History

By CARLTON JACKSON

Department of History
In this volume of selected essays Professor Woodward endeavors to show the rich heritage of Southern history. To do this, he explains the contemporary position of the South relative to the rest of the nation, develops this theme into why the South attained that position, and concludes with an interpretation of the South's importance in world affairs today.

The first two essays, "The Search for Southern Identity," and "The Historical Dimension," are concerned with the Southerner and his sense of the past. The industrial and "bulldozer" revolutions with their consequent rush of people to the urban areas has caused, in the Professor's opinion, attempts by Southerners to identify themselves with the national whole and try to escape their history. These attempts are made because of a long standing sense of aberration from the national norm and because "faults" of the South are growing less conspicuous and therefore less useful for purposes of regional identification. It is regrettable if not impossible for the Southerner to destroy his past, for in Woodward's opinion, "The South was American a long time before it was Southern in any self-conscious or distinctive way."

For maintaining the distinctive Southern heritage, Woodward credits the men of letters in the South—Faulkner, Wolfe, Warren, Felty, and others. These are writers with a "historical consciousness" of the past in the present. The Southern "literary renaissance" of the 1930's has prevailed despite the assurances of such people as Allen Tate that it was "quite temporary." New writers have appeared, says Woodward, who will continue to present themes of the Southern past as a way of making judgments on the present.

The next five essays deal with certain Southern experiences which helped to produce the heritage which we bear today. His essay on "John Brown's Private War" explains how the the Harper's Ferry incident produced a "crisis psychology" in both North and South and affected their

Want to make billions with the Sheikh of Kuwait? Go on a desert raid with Lawrence of Arabia? Discover the secret of Shangri-La? Float down the Mississippi on a raft, or orbit the earth? How about a visit to the Twenty-fifth Century? Or, maybe the Fifth? Want to chat with Einstein, Socrates, or Schweitzer? Find out how to gain friends or lose pounds? You can find the answers to these and many more questions in the College Library.

During National Library Week, April 21-27, everyone was urged to enjoy his fifth freedom by reading. As students and future teachers, we are reminded that limited resources for education and information endanger free people.

The resources of Western's library are being continually enhanced by many contributions and gifts. These contributions are appreciated, particularly by those who use and enjoy them.

The American Civil War was presented to the library recently by the Citizens National Bank, in memory of Mr. Robert Rodas, who died February 2, 1963.

Mr. Rodas was chairman of the board of directors of both the Citizens National Bank and the Bowling Green Bank and Trust Company. Serving as president of the Citizens National Bank for 44 years, he was regarded as the dean of Kentucky Bankers. He was a graduate of Ogden College and served twice as sheriff of Warren County. Mr. Rodas was the brother of Warren Circuit Court Judge John B. Rodas.

Earl Miers has covered the years of 1861-1865 in The American Civil War. He has accomplished this through the artist-correspondents who were

Are you a Civil War fan? If you are, the Kentucky Museum now offers you the opportunity to see previously undisplayed relics from the Civil War era. The displays include local Civil War artifacts as well as many others from scattered sections of the state.

Among the local artifacts displayed is a well arranged exhibit of projectiles which fell into Bowling Green during the Civil War. These include a sixty pound solid shot fired from the famous cannon "Old Lady Polk." To the right and left of the projectile exhibit hang original uniforms of both the Union and Confederate soldier. This new exhibit will be added to as artifacts are processed by the Museum's staff.

Many more artifacts and displays depicting some phase of the Civil War are scattered throughout the Museum. These include an outstanding exhibit of four life-size portraits of noted Civil War participants. These portraits were originally commissioned to be painted for a Civil War museum to be located in Kentucky. However, the museum was never constructed and the portraits are now the property of the Kentucky Museum. The group is composed of life size portraits of Admiral Semmes, John Cabell Breckenridge, Isham Harris (Civil War governor of Tennessee), and John Jordan Crittenden (Governor of Kentucky before the war; as senator from Kentucky at the beginning of the war he tried to prevent the war by sponsoring the so called "Crittenden Compromise"). There are also several group portraits of both Union and Confederate generals.

There are also several artifacts from the families of the Civil

Do You Know...?

By GEORGE

— That Western has the winningest golf team in the Ohio Valley Conference?

— That all the football and basketball coaches at Western are Kentucky Colonels?

— That President Cabell often told the girls at Potter College, "Girls, you can never get higher than your hearts, be true, girls, be true?"

— That Major William Alexander Oberchain, A.M., former President of Ogden College and teacher of math, required students to wear their coats when in his room in the hot days of September and May? On one occasion, when a student ventured to ask him why he insisted on such a rule, he mildly suggested that by learning to endure heat one would be better able to stand it in his future existence.

— That Ogden College had a Lady Killers Club, Upper College Street Visiting Club, Literary Society, Glee Club, Dramatic Club, Peanut League, Bench Club, Loafers Club, Porch Club, Smokers Club, Bible Class, Auto Club, and a Mumble-Peg Club?

— That at Potter College the girls marched into the dining room, also into chapel, to the accompaniment of music?

— That the girls at Potter College fashioned hooks above their door, from which could be suspended at night a thick blanket, quilt, or comfort in order to prevent the teachers on the hall from discovering that lights did not always go out at ten o'clock?

— That in 1917, twenty-five per cent of the student body of Ogden College went out for football?

— That in 1962 Western won the O.V.C. Crown in golf, tennis, basketball, football, and baseball?

— That in 1913 the senior class statistics at Ogden College were:

1. Number of students—Four.
2. Number married—Two; (others under age).
3. Religion—Undecided, but favor the principles of Mormonism.
4. Preachers—Four.

Joseph Morris Makes Study Of Effects Of 1962 NSF Summer Science Institute

A study of the achievement and attitude changes of National Science Foundation secondary students has recently been made by Mr. Joseph W. Morris of the Education department.

The study was designed to determine the effects of the 1962 summer training on a selected number of high-ability students who were participating. The students studied physics and chemistry.

This was the fourth summer science session which the National Science Foundation has sponsored at Western. The first session was in 1959. Grants from the foundation for these sessions ranged from $22,717 to $26,076.

The National Science Foundation believes that the gifted child must be found at the secondary level and must be provided with experience in science and other subjects beyond the program available in the typical high school. Mr. Morris said in his analysis that, "Since the advent of Sputnik, our nation has realized the importance of discovering gifted youth who may become future scientists."

The study showed that there was no real gain the way of understanding science, and there was only a slight change in the attitudes of the students toward science. Mr. Morris said that the slightness in attitudinal change could be attributed to a better than average interest of the students in science before receiving the Institute training.

The gain in achievement of the physics and science students pointed out some of the impact of the training.

The experimental group taking physics showed an advance of 15.22 percentile points at the end of the program. The group taking chemistry showed an advance of 32.10 percentile points.

Mr. Morris recommended that a study be launched in order to analyze the progress and success of former Summer Science Institute students now attending college.

thinking long after the Civil War. The exposition "Equality: The Deferred Commitment," discusses the evolution of Lincoln's war policies, beginning with the President's determination to preserve the Union, going to his plans of emancipation, and ending with a commitment of equality to the Negro race. Here, Woodward makes clear that Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation was purely a political device that freed not a single slave — rather, it was the Thirteenth Amendment which accomplished that.

One of the more interesting essays is entitled "A Southern Critique for the Gilded Age," in which Northern writers turn to the South for their heroes. Disgusted with the corruption of post Civil War government, such writers as Herman Melville in his poem "Clarel," Henry Adams in "Democracy," and Henry James' "Bostonians," look to Southerners for values in life. Always careful not to condone a rebellious spirit, the Northern authors nevertheless find the culture and grace of the Old South more compatible with their mood than the blustery North.

The last essay, "The Irony of Southern History," gives a lucid description of the South in the world today. The United States, as a whole, has never been nationally degraded in the form of military defeat as have most other nations. The only section of this country to suffer humiliation is the South. It has had, therefore, an experience similar to most countries, giving it the qualifications to judge world moods and history, its natives never say "history is something that happens to other people." The South now knows the futility of creating an inflexible society — one that is committed to stand or fall on a single institution. Professor Woodward sees this as an important lesson for the United States to take to heart at this juncture of world affairs.

The Burden of Southern History will attract both Southerners and Northerners who take their history seriously. It should serve the purpose of dissipating quite a number of quaint theories existing on both sides of the Potomac.

The book is bound in hand-crafted mission leather by Brown and Biglow. It contains many full-page color pictures of the happenings, customs, and styles of the Civil War period.

The American Civil War is just one of the many books with which a student can enjoy his privilege of reading.

Be glad you live in a country where the press is free to print and you are free to read. Enjoy the fifth freedom—Read!

Delta Sigma Delta Gains Recognition On Campus

The Fraternity Committee has recognized another fraternity on the Hill. This now brings the number of recognized fraternities at Western to twelve.

The new fraternity, which has assumed the name Delta Sigma Delta, is composed of 39 members. This organization began in 1961 when two different groups of college men banded together for the purpose of promoting civic and social activities. These two groups merged earlier this year to form one larger and stronger organization.

Prior to being recognized by the college, the fraternity had engaged in many worthwhile activities such as donating a television set to Potter Orphanage and helping a needy Bowling Green family at Christmas time.

The fraternity officers are: president, Don Craig, Louisville; vice-president, Jim Starks, Franklin; treasurer, Mike Roberts, Hatfield, Ind.; recording-secretary, C. B. Embry, Beaver Dam; corresponding-secretary, Darrell Lambert, Hawesville; historian, C. W. Robertson, Hawesville; sergeant-at-arms, Chuck Carothers, Louisville; pledge-master, Terry Hodges, Bowling Green; custodian, Gary Hatcher, Bowling Green.

Tom Lewman Visits Army's West Point

Thomas J. Lewman of Western was one of twenty-five ROTC cadets from Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky who took a four-day orientation visit at the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

These ROTC students were selected from 19 colleges and Universities within the 20th U.S. Army Corps.

Lewman is a junior at Western majoring in industrial arts. He is also a member of the Pershing Rifles and the Scabbard and Blade.

STUDENTS TAKE FIELD TRIP

Western's geography staff sponsored a field trip to Mammoth Cave on Saturday, April 27.

Students and sponsors took the Mammoth Dome Trip of two hours.

The trip was a free educational trip, with students paying for the chartered bus fare.

NOTICE

An officer's selection team from the United States Air Force will be on campus Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of interviewing both male and female students, preferably seniors, for the Air Force's OTS program.

The selection team will be in the Paul L. Garrett student center from 10-3.

PR's Score Twin Victories At Regimental Drill Meet

Sam Hall Judged Best Driller In Field Of 175

Western's Pershing Rifles drill team added to its rapidly growing list of honors last week with a double victory at the annual Regimental Drill Meet held on the Purdue University campus at Lafayette, Ind.

The Western team, made up entirely of freshmen and sophomores, placed first in both Regulation Drill and Individual Drill.

The Hilltopper ROTC cadets had earlier won first place in Regulation Drill at the Illinois Invitational Drill Meet, the largest competition of its kind in the nation. Western's Pershing Rifles pistol team recently won a national championship by finishing first in the Ninth Regimental Rocky Mountain Invitational Pistol Match.

Heads Field Of Eight

At Purdue, Western headed a field of eight teams, including entries from the University of Illinois, DePaul University, the University of Michigan, Purdue University, Indiana University, Western Michigan University and Murray State College.

Western's Regulation Drill team is commanded by Cadet P-R 2nd Lt. Thomas Lewman, a junior IA major from Bowling Green.

Cadet Sam Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hall of Louisville, won top honors for Western in the individual competition.

Three other Western cadets also placed among the top 13 finishers. Glen Ping was seventh, Douglas McConaughay ninth and Ned Turner 13th in a field of 175.

War. These include a wooden churn from Glen Lily, the stately river bluff home of Confederate General Simon Bolivar Buckner. There is a delicately embroidered christening robe worn by the daughter of the famous Confederate raider John Hunt Morgan; stirrups from his saddle, and a scale model of his home.

Several weapons such as sabres, shoulder weapons, and pistols are displayed throughout the Museum. Many are either known to have been used, or were likely to have been used during the Civil War.

There are several interesting stories connected with many of these Civil War artifacts and portraits. If you are curious, interested, or just a Civil War fan, the Kentucky Museum opens its doors to you, free to charge, and bids you to partake of these and other fascinating exhibits.

Western was well represented throughout the eliminations, placing 11 entries in the final 35, three in the final nine, and one — Hall, the eventual winner — in the final three.

Defending Champs

Western was defending meet champion in Exhibition Drill, but could finish no better than third this year behind brilliant performances by the University of Michigan and Murray State College. Michigan already held the Illinois Invitational title and the national championship awarded each year at the annual Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C.

Western's sponsor, Miss Patricia Norman, attended the meet. Holding the rank of Honorary Colonel, Miss Norman is also sponsor for Regimental Headquarters, located at Indiana University, Bloomington. She was chaperoned by Mrs. John Vittoe.

LARRY DYKES, Sports Editor

Sometimes you have to go north or should I say mid-west to find out what southern hospitality is really like. I am speaking of a recent trip I took with the track team to Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota.

We were greeted with a warm welcome at each school we visited especially at North Dakota State University where we were their guests for three days.

Although bad weather prevented the meet from being held outdoors, Western went on to turn in the most tremendous performance ever by a Hilltopper athletic team. Not only did they set six new Nemack Fieldhouse records, but won the respect of all the athletes and coaches with their friendliness and competitive spirit.

Much credit is due to Coach Tom Eckert who arranged the trip and who in the span of one short year has brought Western from the depths of despair in track to now a major contender in almost any league.

Ron Kirk's outstanding performance is just one of the many examples of the competitive spirit Eckert has instilled in his trackmen. My thanks along with the members of the track team who made the trip to Coach Eckert and the college for making it the most enjoyable and most successful trip so far.

Wade Speaks to The Athletes
Bill Wade, former quarterback great at Vanderbilt, and now the Chicago Bears number one quarterback, spoke to a group of 75 Western athletes in the Student Center last Wednesday. Wade emphasized the TD as the main part of his speech. He said that athletics (football) "teaches and demands". It teaches one to think and react to tension and demands dedication to a cause of winning, devotion to the coach and discipline to conquer.

John Wallace, student assistant track coach, has been instrumental in helping organize the Bowling Green Junior High Track and Field Championships. The event is to take place Friday afternoon on the Stadium track. Wallace states he hopes this will become an annual affair. He is being assisted by Hilltopper griddler Elmer Patrick.

All Spring Sports Underway
Spring sports have taken over completely now. The tennis team had a successful spring vacation trip to Memphis. The netmen of Coach Hornback have won eight matches against one defeat. This was to Memphis State. Their next home match will be tomorrow against top OVC contender Murray.

Diddle Signs All-Stater Dwight Smith

Dwight Smith, a 6-4 forward-guard from Princeton Dotson High School, has become the latest signee for Coach Ed Diddle's freshman yearlings. Smith, an all-stater during his senior year, scored 22 points for Dotson in 22 games for an average of 35.7. He helped lead his team to the State Tournament where he was a solid pick for the all-tournament squad.

A host of major basketball schools throughout the nation sought Smith, who is brilliant in the classroom as well as on the basketball floor. He was recently named valedictorian of his class.

"This is one boy who can do it all," said an elated Diddle after the signing. "He has all the moves — he can shoot, pass, and run with the very best."

He joins an already impressive list of high school talent signed by Coach Diddle and assistant coach Ted Hornback.

The signees include 6-3 Mike Redd of Louisville Seneca, 6-3 Robert Redd of the Marine Corps (Mike's brother), 6-2 Billy Warren of Butler County, 6-7 Pearl Hicks of Clay County, 6-2 Tommy Brown of Taylor County, 5-9 Woodie Gardner of Park City and 6-6 Hamilton (Ham) Watkins of Middletown, Ohio.

Tops Shock Murray 5-2 In Net Match

Western shocked defending Ohio Valley Conference champion Murray, 5-2 in a tennis match at Murray Friday, April 26.

The triumph gives coach Ted Hornback's team the inside track to its 10th OVC championship in the league's 15-year history.

Larry (Pamcho) Whitaker, the Hilltoppers' number one performer, set the pace by beating Bill Bowen 6-2, 6-1, in the featured match.

Western lost only the no. 5 singles and the no. 2 doubles. In the latter match, veterans Don Meyer and Danny Day took their first setback of the season; but, both won their singles in three sets.

The triumph was the eighth in nine matches for Western.

Thinlies Win Triangle Meet In Louisville

There was no rest for the travel weary Hilltopper thinlies as they journeyed to Louisville after only one day of rest for a triangular meet with the University of Louisville and Bellarmine College.

The Eckermen racked up a total of 57 points to the 55% for the host U.L. Bellarmine finished with 19% points. The Toppers finished 1-2-3 in the 440 and the 888 outscoring the Cardinals 61-24 in the running events. Louisville outpointed Western in the field events 314-25. The Hilltoppers scored a victory in eight events while Louisville captured only six and shared one with Bellarmine.

Roger Nelson set a school mark in the 440-yard dash when he edged team mate Bill Moore with

Netmen Blast U. Of L. 7-0

In their first home court match, April 23, Western's tennis team swept over arch-rival University of Louisville 7-0. The cold and windy weather seemed to have no adverse effect on coach Ted Hornback's netmen as they didn't lose a set. In the non-OVC match only five singles and two doubles were played.

Western's next outing will be with Murray State April 26 at Murray. The Racers are the only team expected to give Western competition for this year's conference crown.

Summary:
Larry Whitaker (W) def. Bill Cooper, 6-4, 6-4.
Don Meyer (W) def. Phil Schuhmann, 6-4, 6-1.
Bob Smith (W) def. Danny Krite, 6-3, 6-2.
Danny Day (W) def. Chuck Kinyan, 6-2, 7-5.
Jerold Moore (W) def. Phil Scholz, 6-1, 6-0.
Whitaker - Smith (W) def. Cooper - Scholz, 6-3, 6-4.
Day - Meyer (W) def. Krite-Schuhmann, 9-7, 8-6.

Woodie Gardner Inks Pact With Western

Woodie Gardner of Park City High signed a basketball grant-in-aid with Western last week.

Gardner, whose academic standing is very high, is also one of the Commonwealth's best "little" men, said Coach E. A. Diddle of his signing.

In addition to holding academic and athletic records, Gardner is also president of his class, co-editor of the yearbook, and a national science selection for advanced study last summer.

COLLEGE POLLS SHOW BREATHITT FAR IN LEAD HERE'S WHY:

All political polls taken in Kentucky colleges have shown that students are basing their choice for governor on facts, not campaign oratory. Briefly, here are some of the reasons why they intend to vote overwhelmingly for Ned Breathitt.

AGE: Ned Breathitt is 38 years old. Just a few years back he was a college man himself. He remembers the problems that face students when they graduate... problems of this generation, not another generation. He has the drive, the energy, and the insight to tackle these problems.

EXPERIENCE: Ned has served 3 terms in the State Legislature. He was a supporter of the Minimum Foundation Act that has been the biggest factor in giving Kentucky better schools. He also backed bills that provided $40,000,000 for new college buildings and $18,000,000 for the use of Kentucky's five state colleges.

TRUTHFULNESS: A man's age and experience mean nothing if he cannot be trusted. In his entire career Ned Breathitt has never broken a promise to anyone. No hint of scandal, no rumor of using a state office for personal gain has ever touched his name. Ned Breathitt can be trusted to do what he promises. Check the record... as so many students already have.

A-A Bldg. Dedication Set Dec. 7

Vanderbilt Named First Opponent In New Arena

By Martha Rascoe

One of the biggest events ever to take place on Western's campus is scheduled for December 7, 1963. This is the date set for dedication of the Academic-Athletic Building and E. A. Diddle Arena.

It has already been announced by E. A. Diddle, athletic director and head coach of the Hilltopper basketball team, that Vanderbilt University's Commodore basketball team will be the opponent for the dedication game. This will be the first game ever played in the new gym.

Preliminary plans for dedication ceremonies are already underway as committees are working to arrange for the all-day event. Efforts are being made to have the dedication televised. Western has been promised coverage of the event by all of the major newspapers in this area.

Tickets for the dedication game with Vanderbilt will not be sold with the regular season tickets next season, but will be placed on sale on a single game basis.

Some individuals sure to be honored at the dedication include E. A. Diddle, head coach of the Hilltopper basketball teams for 42 years, and Dr. Kelly Thompson, President of Western.

Others who have contributed greatly to this accomplishment are the architects, Frank Cain, Bowling Green, and Ben Johnson, Owensboro. Western will want to express its thanks to the Clark Construction Company of Owensboro, since that unit provided the "sweat" necessary to produce this spectacular structure.

Largest On Campus
This building when completed will be the largest facility on campus. It will be financed by means of a bond issue, with tuitions and other school receipts used to retire the bonds.

When completed, the new Academic-Athletic Building, will not only be a "dream come true" for those who have worked so hard to see it become a reality, but also for those who will prosper because of its existence.

Construction of the $3,000,000 structure began on Wednesday, November 16, 1961. Ground-breaking ceremonies were held in a rather unusual way. A bulldozer with E. A. Diddle at the throttle turned the first dirt on the site instead of the traditional spade. Construction began immediately and the building is expected to be ready for occupancy when the 1963-64 school year opens September 10.

More than 1,000 persons attended the ground-breaking as it was held in conjunction with observance of Founder's Day, an annual event held as close as possible to the birth date of Dr. H.

H. Cherry. Dr. Cherry is the founder of our 58-year-old college.

To House 3 Departments
Three major college departments will be housed in this building. The Department of Foreign Languages will move from Cherry Hall, and the Departments of Physical Education and Military Science will move from the present Physical Education building.

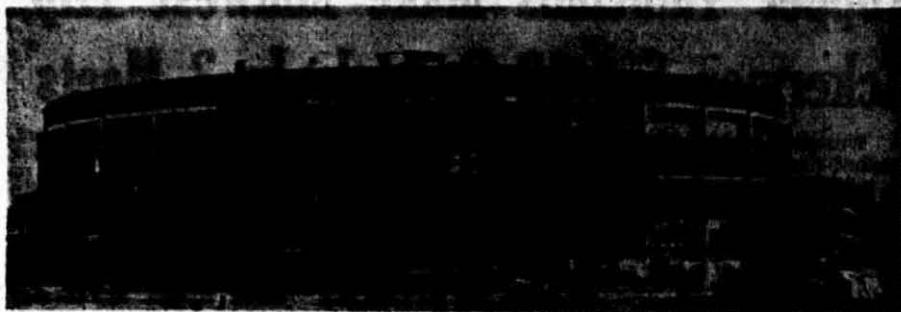

The E. A. Diddle Arena was named for the man whose career-long dream was to see erected on Western's campus a structure as magnificent as the one nearing completion. In addition to the basketball arena, thirty master classrooms are being included to further increase the educational facilities of the college.

A portable stage will make it possible to convert the arena into an auditorium for large meetings, theatrical, and musical productions.

An Olympic-size swimming pool will probably be a year-round attraction of many of the students and faculty. There will also be office facilities for departmental faculty, an auxiliary gymnasium, dressing rooms and storage areas.

Has TV Accommodations
Accommodations for telecasting equipment are built into this building as it is being constructed. The engineers surveyed buildings across the nation and believe that the new academic-athletic building will have the finest facilities for telecasting and broadcasting possible.

This huge plant, which is circular with a diameter of 300 feet,

ALMOST READY for the official dedication ceremonies December 7, is the $3,000,000 Academic-Athletic Building located on the Russellville Road. This back view of the huge structure shows workmen erecting two of the four ramps that will allow spectators to reach any level of the building.

has a height of 90 feet from playing floor to the highest point of the roof. It is being constructed on a twelve-acre tract on the Russellville Road, near the maintenance service building. All of the site not occupied by the academic-athletic building and a practice football field will be devoted to parking areas and access roads.

Seating Capacity Of 8,500

The three-tier structure will be equipped with approximately 1,000 bleacher seats at court level, 3,500 chair seats at the second level, and 3,400 bleacher seats at the top level. This makes the seating capacity approximately 8,500, and the addition of folding bleacher seats on the concourse will make it possible to expand the seating capacity to 13,000.

The building is being constructed of concrete, brick, and steel. Protruding shafts of concrete will break the brick exterior around the complete circumference of the structure. The roof is suspension-type with a concrete compression ring and pre-tension steel cables and trusses supporting it. Opaque glass brick is being used near the top of the circular wall.

Entranceways to the building are being located off Russellville Road and Dogwood Drive. The principle lobby, which is 112 feet wide and 56 feet deep, faces the Russellville Road about 150 feet from the highway.

Spectators will enter the main floor of the building over twin

Topper Thinclads Make Midwest Trip; Eckermen Set 12 Records In 3 Meets

Western's highly successful young track team added another first to its increasing list when the thinclads left on a 2600 mile trip during spring vacation which covered seven states. Participating in meets in Iowa, North Dakota and South Dakota, the Hilltoppers left a definite mark among the midwestern schools that they are becoming a rising track power in the south.

Wartberg College of Wartberg, Iowa, became the first victim of the Topper barriars when they handed them a 51-30 defeat. The Toppers fought a 30 mile-an-hour wind to win nine events and finish 1-3-3 in three events.

Gary Imel and Dale King set a school mark in the pole vault when they each cleared 14 feet. King was declared the winner on fewer misses. The old mark was held by Paul Woodall at 13 feet, 4 inches.

Bill Moore converted his talents from the 440-yard dash to the shorter dashes and won both the 100 and 220. He also ran a leg on the victorious mile relay team.

Tom Graham won the mile in 4:33.5, but was defeated in the two mile. Charles Rich grabbed a first place in the discus with a throw of 128 feet, 1 inch.

Other first place finishers included Jerome Beazley (800), Roger Melson (440) and Ron Kirk (low hurdles).

Snow Moves Meet Indoors

Snow forced the seven team meet in Fargo, North Dakota, to be moved indoors in the Alex Nemzek Fieldhouse in Moorhead, Minnesota. This proved to be just what the doctor ordered as the Toppers set six indoor records.

Ron Kirk personally accounted for three of the six records set by the Toppers. The Columbus, Ohio, freshman scored 19 points, setting three records and was by far the outstanding performer of the meet. Western went on to roll up 78 points which was 46 points better than the second place team North Dakota State University. Other teams competing in the meet were Mayville College, Concordia, Moorhead, North Dakota State University Freshman and Valley City Teachers.

Kirk's records came in the broad jump (21 feet, 10 inches), the 60-yard high hurdles (7.8 seconds) and the 60-yard low hurdles (7.2 seconds). His most remarkable achievement came during the qualifying heat of the low hurdles when he stepped the distance in 7.0 flat. This mark is good enough to place him first in the nation in this event. He also placed second in the hop, step, jump.

Beazley Sets 800 Record

Jerome Beazley captured the 440-yard dash in 52.7, then came back to set a record in the 800-yard run with a time of 2:02.2.

Paul Woodall cleared 13 feet, 5 1/4 inches for a new indoor standard in the pole vault.

Bill Moore edged out running mates Larry Watkins and Jim Miller for a first place finish in the 60-yard dash. Moore's time was 8.6 seconds, just one tenth of a second off the record.

The mile relay team of Bill Moore, Roger Melson, Jerome Beazley, and Tom Graham set the last record of the day when they sped the oval in 3:37.

The sprint medley (440-220-220-880) relay proved to be one of the most exciting races of the meet. The Toppers fought off defending champion South Dakota University in win in a record time of 3:23.8. Roger Melson, Bill Moore, Ron Kirk, and Jerome Beazley broke the old mark by almost three seconds.

Woodall Sets South Dakota Vault Mark

Paul Woodall's pole vault of 13 feet, 10 1/4 inches not only broke the Corn Palace mark, but also a time of 50.2. Jeromone Beazley turned in a fine performance in the 800 covering the half-mile in 1:54.6. John Noel also broke the two minute mark with a 1:57.

Jim Gilbert, former Butler High School product, won the high hurdles in his first try at this event since his high school days. Gilbert had a time of 16.5.

Bill Moore nipped Larry Watkins in the 220-yard dash. Moore was caught in 23.3. Paul Woodall captured the pole vault with a vault of 12 feet, 6 inches. Ron Kirk won his specialty the low hurdles in 27.0.

The mile relay team composed of Steve Lyons, Bill Moore, Jeromone Beazley and Tom Graham outdistanced Bellarmine to win a first in that event with a time of 3:37.6.

Western's thinlies will be shooting for the big one Saturday when they take on the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

the state of South Dakota record. This mark had not been broken for 21 years. Woodall ended up setting records in two out of the three meets in which he participated.

Over 100 high schools and some 14 colleges and universities took part in this annual event held at Kernal Stadium. Approximately 2,500 fans braved temperatures in the low 20's helping make this one of the most successful Corn Palace Relays of all.

Other boys making the trip whose seconds and thirds made the competition that much tougher were Jack Mahurin, John Noel, Mike Oliver, Larry Watkins and Jim Miller.

DALE KING clears 14-feet against Wartberg College. The Toppers won the meet 81-50.

curved bridges which will lead from the Russellville Road to the main entrance. Ten doors will be located at the terminus of each bridge on each side of the lobby. From these bridges it will be possible to look into the swimming pool area, located on the ground level, and enclosed in glass panels.

In addition to the main entranceway, four other entrances located at ground level have been equally spaced around the building. Four ramps around the building will allow spectators to go to any level. In all, there is a total of 78 exit doors in the building.

When completed the entire project is estimated to cost $3,000,000, this includes the cost of the paved parking area. This may seem to some a gigantic cost, but in the opinion of Coach E. A. Diddle this is a gigantic accomplishment. Said he, "That building is so huge that you can walk yourself to death in there." He also mentioned, "I'm looking around for one of those 'putt putt' motor scooters to use in there!"

YES, VIRGINIA, THERE ARE LOTS OF THINGS NED BREATHITT HASN'T DONE

Ned Breathitt's opponent says Ned hasn't had his experience. In a way this is true. Ned is only 38 years old. He has served six years in the state legislature, where, among other things, he supported the Minimum Foundation program and championed bills that brought an additional $56,000,000 in building and operating funds to Kentucky's state colleges. But the fact remains that he hasn't done a lot of things his opponent has. For example:

- He has never promised, as his opponent did in 1955, that he would not ask for new taxes and then, 90 days later, turned right around and asked for $20,000,000 worth.
- He has never, while holding public office, accepted a $32,000 fee from a whisky firm, and then refused to tell the public what he did to earn this fee.
- He has never run farmers out of his office and told them to go back home and mind their own business.
- He has never said, "East Kentucky ain't nothing and never will be."
- He has never resigned an elective office to serve himself rather than his state.
- He has never shut his eyes to the fact that syndicated vice and gambling existed in northern Kentucky.
- He has never allowed political cronies to exploit and despoil our state parks.
- He has never promised to remove $36,000,000 from the tax program that is the main support of our schools and colleges.
- He has never promised to scrap the long-range road program that will enable Kentucky for the first time to compete on even terms with other states for new industry and more tourist trade.
- He has never said that he was "a one-room-schoolhouse man" or implied that such schools were good enough for Kentucky students.

NED BREATHITT'S OPPONENT HAS DONE ALL OF THESE THINGS. NED NEVER HAS AND NEVER WILL. HIS RECORD PROVES THAT HE WILL SERVE KENTUCKY... NOT HIMSELF, NOT A FACTION.
