HIS WAY, MINE

"HIS WAY-MINE" . . . was the theme of the guest speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, the Rev. James A. Lollis. R.E.W.'s initial meeting was last week's chapel program held at 10 a.m. in Van Meter Auditorium. The Rev. Lollis (standing) was guest speaker for the assembly.

Two Capacity Crowds Hear Reverend Lollis

"A lot of Americans are already so preserved that when they die they will not need to be embalmed. What are we saving ourselves for?"

With this statement, the Reverend James E. Lollis, pastor of Crestwood Christian Church, Lexington, startled the freshmen chapel assembly last Wednesday

Bonfire To Begin Activities For Homecoming

Mr. John Hoagland and Mr. Jim Cole, directors of South and North Halls, respectively are co-chairmen working with the Tri-County club in assembling construction materials for the bonfire. The materials to be used will consist of cardboard boxes and other similar materials. These will be acquired from various business places downtown, plus several points here on campus. 2

The Maintenance department will be in charge of erecting a tall wooden pole which will mark the center of the construction.

A platform along with a battery powered loud speaker system, will be provided for the speakers at the site of the ceremonies.

The bonfire is an annual event that inaugurates the festivities of the Homecoming weekend.

at the initial meeting of Religious Emphasis Week.

Rev. Lollis spoke on the subject, "Let's Think About Me." He said that the art of living was based on three things: being ourselves, giving ourselves, and forgetting ourselves.

President Kelly Thompson introduced the speaker. Rev. Lollis was pastor of the First Christian Church here from 1945-1951. A native of North Carolina, he received the A. B. degree from Milligan College, Tennessee, and the B. D. degree from Yale University. He was pastor of the First Christian Church at Danville before accepting the Lexington pastorate.

After the invocation was given by Pat Chamberlain, president of the student religious council, the Western chorus sang "Hail Thee King of Glory."

A special assembly program was held in Van Meter Auditorium Wednesday, October 25, at 11 a.m. in conjunction with Religious Emphasis Week. This program, for upperclassmen and interested people, was held because the large number of Freshmen made it impossible for other persons to attend the regular chapel assembly at 10 a.m.

The Rev. James A. Lollis, this year's speaker, spoke at this meeting. After invocation and two selections by the Western Chorus, Reverend Lollis was in-

Players Will Present 'Winterset' Tonight

This evening at 8 p.m., the Western Players will present in Van Meter auditorium their fall production. Maxwell Anderson's powerful drama of social justice, Winterset is the choice for this occasion. Tickets for Wednesday and Thursday evenings are on sale in both Cherry Hall lobby and the Student Center, and reservations for the Thursday evening performance may be secured at the Business Office in the Administration Building.

Winterset is a departure from the usual run of dramatic productions. When it flashed upon the theatrical horizon it won both its audiences and the Critic's Award as the most exciting new contribution to our American theater. With Winterset, Anderson achieved heights not often reached in Broadway production. Believing it inescapable that prose is the language of information and poetry the language of emotion, Anderson knew that under the Red Means To Stop; Green Means To Go!

By William E. Hocker

It has been brought to the Herald's attention that Western students are not observing the signal light at the intersection of 15th and State streets. This is the intersection between the Training School and Ogden Campus. The negligence of certain students in observing this traffic light has resulted in innumerable traffic problems. The majority of these problems has been traffic congestion causing many drivers to yield their right of way unnecessarily.

In a letter to the editor, a friend of the college and an alumnus of Western had this to say.

"There is a light at the corner of 15th and State Streets. It is there for the very good reason that this is a busy corner. The purpose of this light is to distribute fairly and equally time between pedestrians and drivers so that both groups may pass the intersection. My small son knows that a red light means to stop, but apparently college students do not. I have seen cars lined up at a green light many times while a long procession of students meander leisurely across the street. They seem to have no awareness that a light exists. This doesn't speak well for a group that is supposed to be the 'cream' of our country's intelligence. Children attending the Training School must wonder at this complete disregard for the simple laws of 'stop and go.'"

The college administration allots enough time between classes for students to traverse from one building to another without causing a great deal of congestion. The duration of time for a stop light is never long enough to greatly impede the progress of a student's changing classes.

This problem may be caused by several different things. Is it possible that Western students are thoughtless and do not heed even the simplest laws? We do not think so. We believe it is merely a case of forgetting to look to see whether or not you the student have the right of way. It is easy to forget when you are in a large, moving crowd or when you are day-dreaming or when you are looking at those notes for the last few seconds before a test.

Regardless of the reason, however, the driving citizens of Bowling Green would appreciate a little more courtesy from the Western student. Courtesy is but an easy task to do.

Deputy Corps Commander Visits ROTC Detachment

Col. Glenn Cole, the new deputy commander of the XX (Twentieth) Army Corps, visited the ROTC installation here Tuesday, October 23.

Colonel Cole, a graduate of the Military Academy in 1935, was formerly the commander of the southern sector, stationed in Louisville. He is presently stationed at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

Maj. Carl E. Tice, chief of ROTC division G3 section, accompanied Colonel Cole.

The colonel was informally entertained at the home of Western's

PMS, Lt. Col. James F. Marquis, Tuesday evening and remained overnight in Bowling Green to conduct an informal inspection of the Military Department Wednesday morning.

Following the tour of the ROTC department, Colonel Marquis and Colonel Cole visited with President Kelly Thompson.

As deputy corps commander, Colonel Cole is responsible for the supervision and monitoring of some 52 army ROTC senior division units in this area.

Western Graduates Are Praised For Bulletin

Dr. T. O. Hall of the Education department represented Western at the annual fall conference of the Kentucky Personnel and Guidance Association, at Cumberland Falls, on October 11-13.

"Group Guidance Guidelines," a work of the Education 493 class, was among materials distributed at the Friday morning general assembly. The Division of Guidance Services stressed the importance and worth-whileness of the bulletin.

The subject of this study has been treated under three general divisions: (1) group counseling or guidance; (2) specific illustrations of selected types of guidance activities; and (3) a general summarization with suggestions, recommendations, and conclusions.

According to Dr. Hall, the bulletin is being accepted as a new and unique approach to group guidance.

The post-graduate students who worked on the bulletin are: J. Wayne Ashly, Wilma Avery, Billy Braden, Christine Cox, Ruth Fuller, Lurene Gibson, Cecil P. Haven, J. E. Jones, Thelma Lowe, F. O. Moxley, and Georgia Sublett. Dr. Hall was the instructor of the class.

Art Collection Housed In Kentucky Building

In the mid 1920's Mr. C. Perry Snell, a native of Warren County presented to Western an art collection consisting primarily of paintings, but also including statue work, furniture and carvings. Some of it is represented at the stairway in the Italian garden near Snell Hall. Also, there is the beautiful fountain in front of the main library with other statues and paintings in the building, with most of the remainder in the Kentucky Building.

Of the entire collection, undoubtedly the best part consists of approximately 100 miniature carvings and paintings on display in the faculty room at the Kentucky Building. Most of these are portraits of people who, unfortunately have not been identified. Among those to which names can be given are:

1. Queen Elizabeth

2. Napoleon Bonaparte

3. Marshall Ney (Napoleon's right-hand man.)

Others in the miniature group represent mythical scenes such as "Cupid and Psyche" and "Jupiter and Io." Paintings representing religious scenes are the "Madonna and Child," and other which are unidentified. Another outstanding group consists of five Russian religious pieces called icons. Two of these are carved out of walnut and two are overlaid with engraved silver, while the last is carved ivory.

Two others in the collection of unusual interest are a small snuff box and a jewel box in which the owners picture appears on the top. Many of these miniatures have very elaborate frames with the majority being made of ornamental ivory.

Book Marks

By Sally Greer

A set of the 9th edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica has been given to the library by Mr. T. T. Gardner, a long time resident of Bowling Green and friend of the College. Mr. Gardner is a retired member of the insurance firm, Thomas-Spaulding Co., formerly known as Galloway, Gardner, and Grider Insurance Agency.

The Britannica is considered by some authorities as the most famous encyclopedia in English. The 9th edition is a carefully edited collection of important monographs by specialists and contains good bibliographies and illustrations. The library is grateful for the gift because this edition, the high mark of the Britannica, may be used profitably for subjects where recent information is not essential.

"Imphos" is a fifteen program literary series that is currently being produced on WLW-radio, Chicago, by the University of Chicago. Each week, a guest expert discusses a book which has influenced the thinking of mankind in the twentieth century.

Several of these books are on display in the reading room of the library. A list of the dates of the series and the experts who will review the selections accompanies the display.

The thirteenth in the series will be a bibliography by the host, Professor Joseph J. Schwab, of the University of Chicago. He will discuss John Dewey's Experience and Education. This book has been said to offer educators a pelative philosophy of education. The author evaluates both the traditional and the progressive schools and sets forth their defects.

Sketches of contemporary viewpoints on education are presented in Philosophies of Education, edited by Philip H. Phenix. Dr. Phenix is professor of Education at Columbia University. Opinions representative of the main varieties of positions on educational policy are given. This work is based on series produced for the National Educational Television and Radio Center.

Certainly, with the current publicity being given to the evaluation of Kentucky public schools, Martin Mayer's The School is a timely selection. The author, a Harvard graduate, attempts to get at and understand what is actually going on in the classroom. In his efforts to learn the realities of education, Mr. Mayer has written both an entertaining and informative book.

Do you believe that thinking is essential for maintaining the individualism that is such a vital part of the American way of life?

Teaching students to think is a commonly expressed aim of education in almost any subject field. Education for Effective Thinking, a joint product of Roland B. Kimball, Richard L. Wing, and William H. Burton, gives the reader an introduction to what it means to think.

The information in each of these books can be put to use in areas of general education as well as teacher training. Why not take advantage of these recent additions to the library as background material for your philosophy of education.

Homecoming is practically here. Cardboard boxes, old automobile tires, and paper are being collected furiously for the Western Homecoming Bonfire, which will officially begin Western's 32nd annual Homecoming Friday night at 8 p. m. Following the bonfire Homecoming activities will continue Friday night with Carl Garvin's orchestra playing for the Homecoming Dance. When Saturday gets here, the festivities will continue with breakfasts, luncheons, a parade, and the Western vs Morehead game.

This is a week-end that no student should miss. Leave those suitcases in the closet and plan to participate heartily in Western's Homecoming.

Look Out For... Repercussions!

By SIDNEY WARDLE

No, no, I'll be alright! Please don't trouble yourself. Explain? Oh yes, I can explain. But it's very long and complicated. . . you want to hear anyway, huh?

Well, last week I was in line for my Master's degree. "Very proud of it, too. But the trouble all started when I wrote this silly little article for the. . . you read it? It didn't make you mad or anything? I wish that everybody felt the same!

To get back to my story. . . .

The very next day things started happening. I walked into first aid, and two advanced students grabbed me and tied my hands behind my back with a triangular bandage. Then they started punching me in the neck. When I asked what they were doing, they mumbled something about looking for a pressure point.

I went on to biology, bruised, but undaunted. My biology teacher met me at the door with a giant hypodermic needle.

"Flu shot?" I questioned.

"No, smallpox!" she replied, and jabbed me with the needle.

"I'm sorry you didn't enjoy my article!" I apologized weakly.

Something very unusual happened in art. Each of us has been assigned a number, and instead of saying "here," we just call out the number. Well, this time there was some irregularity in the procedure. When our art assistant came to my number he said. . .

"Wardle!"

"Yes," I admitted.

"Sidney Wardle?" he persisted.

I nodded. And then! A rock hit me in the head! Later on I noticed that it was a very unusual rock, taken from the surface layer of the earth.

I think that I'd better give up writing, don't you? The repercussions are just too physical!

Speaking Of Society?

By ALLEN PARDON

Last week, I dwelled upon a problem of not the proper thing to wear to the basketball game but what would be more comfortable. Since I cannot reach all of the Western students except through this medium of communication which I am presently using, I would like to hear from you, the Hilltop student. To do this, all one has to do is to sit down (or stand) somewhere and express your comments concerning casual dress at the forthcoming basketball games.

Of the few that I have been able to talk to, the majority favor the wearing of casual dress to basketball games. One coed hesitantly expressed that she was in favor of more formal attire to the games. But, she also said that casual dress would be more comfortable.

After you have expressed your feelings on your cards, letters, paper sacks, or the like, mail or bring them by the Herald office on the second floor of Van Meter Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Helm announce the birth of a son, Kenneth L., born September 21, at Warren County Hospital.

strain of an emotion the ordinary prose of our stage breaks down into inarticulateness, just as it does in life.

Of his purpose in Winterset, he says, "I have a strong and chronic hope that the theatre of this country will outgrow the phase of journalistic social comment and reach occasionally the upper air of poetic tragedy. I believe with Goethe that dramatic poetry is man's greatest achievement on this earth so far and I believe with the early Benard Shaw that the theatre is essentially a cathedral of the spirit, devoted to the exaltation of men, and boasting an apostolic succession of inspired high priests which extends further into the part than the Christian line founded by St. Peter."

Ky. Library Has Material About State Parks

State, national parks and shrine are popular subjects at the Kentucky Library at this time. Willard Rouse Jillson's book, Kentucky State Parks and the Federal Writers project, Kentucky, are favorite references. More recent leaflets and clippings on each of the parks bring the material up-to-date. Special editors of the Courier Journal's magazine section each year give the latest facts about the state parks. Kentucky's system of twenty-six state parks and shrines are regarded as among the finest in the nation.

Other than these state parks, there is an interstate park, Breaks of Sandy, which is a Kentucky-Virginia venture. Then there are three monumental national parks, Mammoth Cave, Cumberland Gap and Lincoln Memorial Park, and the Zachary Taylor Memorial Cemetery.

Kentucky has eight major lakes plus 600 smaller ones, and 14,000 miles of running water, making it a "water-rich" area for vacationers.

HUSBANDS, ANYONE?

It has been alleged that coeds go to college for the sole purpose of finding husbands. This is, of course, an infamous canard, and I give fair warning that, small and spongy as I am, anybody who says such a dastardly thing when I am around had better be prepared for a sound thrashing!

Girls go to college for precisely the same reasons as men do: to broaden their horizons, to lengthen their vistas, to drink at the fount of wisdom. But, if, by pure chance, while a girl is engaged in these meritorious pursuits, a likely looking husband should pop into view, why, what's wrong with that? Eh? What's wrong with that?

The question now arises, what should a girl look for in a husband. A great deal has been written on this subject. Some say character is most important, some say background, some say appearance, some say education. All are wrong.

The most important thing—bar none—in a husband is health. Though he be handsome as Apollo and rich as Midas, what good is he if he just lays around all day accumulating bedsores?

The very first thing to do upon meeting a man is to make sure he is sound of wind and limb. Before he has a chance to sweet-talk you, slap a thermometer in his mouth, roll back his eyelids, yank out his tongue, rap his patella, palpate his thorax, ask him to straighten out a horseshoe with his teeth. If he fails these simple tests, phone for an ambulance and go on to the next prospect.

If, however, he turns out to be physically fit, proceed to the second most important requirement in a husband. I refer to a sense of humor.

A man who can't take a joke is a man to be avoided. There are several simple tests to find out whether your prospect can take a joke or not. You can, for example, slash his tires. Or burn his "Mad" comics. Or steal his switchblade. Or turn loose his pet raccoon. Or shave his head.

After each of these good-natured pranks, laugh gaily and about "April Fool! If he replies, "But this is February nineteenth," or something equally churlish, cross him off your list and give thanks you found out in time.

But if he laughs silyly and calls you "Little Mipx!" put him to the next test. Find out whether he is kindly.

What should a girl look for in a husband?

The quickest way to ascertain his kindness is, of course, to look at the cigarette he smokes. Is it mild? Is it elegant? Is it humane? Does it minister tenderly to the psyche? Does it cuddle the synapses? Is it a good companion? Is it genial? Is it bright and friendly and filtered and full of dulcet pleasure from cocker to the heart of darkness?

Is it, in short, Marlboro?

If Marlboro it be, then clasp the man to your bosom with hoops of steel, for you may be sure that he is kindly as a summer breeze, kindly as a mother's kiss, kindly to his very marrow.

And now, having found a man who is kindly and healthy and blessed with a sense of humor, the only thing that remains is to make sure he will always earn a handsome living. That, fortunately, is easy. Just enroll him in engineering.

Toppers Defeat Eastern Revenging '60 Upset

For the second time since 1949, Western defeated Eastern Kentucky at their homecoming. The Toppers beat Eastern two years ago and duplicated the defeat Saturday by the score of 16-15.

Last year it was Western doing all the fumbling and Eastern the recovering, but this year the tables were turned with the Toppers recovering four fumbles.

A crowd of 7,000 saw Billy Booker and Buzzy Best ripping through the Maroon's line and gaining yard after yard.

Sam Clark's only good extra-point of the game of both teams proved to be the deciding point of the game.

Eastern started the scoring after they drove 71 yards on the opening kickoff with Bill Goedde taking a Tony Lanham pitch 19 yards for a 6-0 lead.

Eastern kicked and then the Toppers drove 61 yards with Best scoring from the three and Clark's conversion was good.

The second period was just underway when Eastern drove from its 42 to the Hilltoppers 10. Here Western's defense held and on the fourth down, Dave Hatfield booted a 31-yard field goal to put the Maroons back on top 9-7.

The 9-7 lead lasted about 10 minutes, for Topper Sam Clark kicked a 23-yard field goal making the score 10-9 going into the half.

"W" Club Plans Money-Raising Projects

The "W" club met October 24, at 6:30 in the "W" club room with President Bill Booker presiding. In the brief meeting, ideas were brought up concerning some money-making projects for the first semester. It was agreed that the club would sponsor a sock-hop after one of the home basketball games or possibly a raffle. A committee was appointed by the president to investigate further details concerning these projects.

The next meeting was set for November 7, at which time all members must have paid their dues to treasurer, Buzzy Best.

In the final period Lee Murray pounced on an Eastern fumble on the Maroons 20 yard-line. From here it was Booker on a run-for-the-goal-line touchdown.

Western led 16-9 late in the fourth quarter. If the Maroons scored it would be 16-15 in favor of the Toppers. With this in mind would Eastern go for a one-point conversion or run for two?

After Western's kickoff the Maroons stormed back going 60 yards in 10 plays to the Toppers 1 yard line. Here Jimmy Chittum drove over from a yard away on third down.

With the score 16-15 in the Toppers favor, Eastern decided to gamble and go for a 2-point conversion. Lanham rolled out and passed, but Carson Culler was there to bat it down.

The game was far from being over. There had been too much excitement to let it die there.

With 2:30 remaining, Western gambled on the Eastern 46. On fourth down and one, Booker was stopped short of the first down. The Toppers had lost control of the ball.

Lanham started passing. His main receiver was Goedde who caught two consecutive passes good for 7 and 8 yards. Goedde gained three more by running. It was fourth with about four yards to go. Maroon halfback Larry McKenzie went through the middle and was stopped one inch short of a first down at the Topper 33.

Topper quarterback Jim Daily froze out the clock and the thrilling game was over.

Booker, Murray and tackle Jack Poynter were outstanding defensively for the Hilltoppers.

The Hilltoppers finish their gridiron season with two home games, meeting Morehead, November 4 for their Homecoming and Murray November 11.

'Round The Hill In Sports

By John Blair

Western will be host to Morehead's Eagles this Saturday before a predicted crowd of 8000 fans. The contest will be the highlight of the '61 Homecoming festivities, and a tough battle is expected.

Despite Morehead's 0-4 record in OVC competition, the Eagles have a strong scoring club against all opposition with points. They have dropped three contests when their foes scored in the closing minutes to claim victories.

Although behind in the won-lost column, the Eagles present a fine scoring threat in two good half-backs, Howard Murphy and Art Hastings, a freshman speedster who was a prep All-American at Missillon, Ohio, High School.

The Toppers are two games away from the end of their football season. These two toughies could give them a share for second place in the final conference standings.

After entertaining Morehead this week-end the Big Red will then welcome Murray on November 11 to wrap up the pigskin season.

With the basketball magazines and yearbooks coming out left and right, previewing the up and coming season, it seems that everyone is picking the top players.

Western Will Seek Revenge

The Hilltoppers will be seeking revenge when they meet Morehead on November 4th in the Homecoming tilt.

Western suffered a 6-12 loss to Morehead last year, our first loss to them in 14 years.

Prospects are for a high scoring offensive duel since Western is employing a new "Slingshot" formation which is primarily a passing one. Coach Nick Denes has also built it into a running offense.

The Hilltoppers have posted a 1-3 record against the three Tennessee schools in the Ohio Valley Conference, dropping the two games by a total of nine points. If they can bag the Kentucky division of the OVC they will have a good chance to finish third and possibly tie for second in the conference.

Another capacity crowd is expected to be on hand for this colorful event.

Flag Football Intramurals See Much Action

Flag football saw a lot of action last week in both of the leagues. The Sigma's, the Hardin County club, and the Kingmen, won in the "A" league and the Baker's Dozen, the Lambda's and the Colonials in the "B" league.

In the "A" league the Sigma's defeated the Unmatchables in a hard fought battle by a score of 13-7. Dennis Schoen caught two of Tony Fitzgerald's passes for touchdowns. Bob Noy scored the six-pointer for the Unmatchables.

The Hardin County club rolled over the Northeastern's 28-6. Scoring in all four quarters the Hardin County club showed it has what it takes to come out on top.

The Laxy 3 again went down in defeat, this time to the hard running, ground gainers who call themselves the Kingmen. The Kingmen showed they had the "royal" punch of winning 36-15.

In the "B" league the winners racked up 90 points to the Losers 20.

Led by the strong passing arm of Jack Waff, the Baker's Dozen subdued the Blanks 35-0. Waff, throwing two TD passes to Melvin Vogel and one to Bill Dexter, picked up six more points by running the ball over from 6 yards out. Vogel ran around the end for 35 yards and a touchdown to put the final points on the score.

For the second straight week Leon Mudd and Bill Chambers have been the scoring punch for the Lambda's. Last week Mudd threw three more touchdowns passes to Chambers. This brings his total to six TD passes in two weeks. Larry Jones brought the spectators to their feet when he intercepted a Roughneck pass and went 80 yards for the score. The final score was Lambda's 28, Roughnecks 6.

In the final game of the last week the Colonials defeated the Yankee-Doodle Dandies 36-14. In a game highlighted by long runs and passes the colonials proved to be too much for the opposition. All games were played at 4:15 p. m. on the various respective fields. Six more games are planned for this week.

INTRAMURAL COACHES MEETING

A meeting of all intramural coaches will be held today in Coach Frank Griffin's office at 4:30 p. m.

The purpose of the meeting will be a discussion on intramural sports coverage in the Herald.

Football Squad To Be Honored By Optimist Club

Attorney General John Breckinridge will be the principal speaker of the Optimist club banquet honoring Western's football squad at the Olde Fort Restaurant November 13.

Presentation of five awards will be among the highlights of the banquet. WLBJ is presenting a trophy to the most valuable player. Norman's is offering an award to the senior with the highest academic standing. The Colony Shop will present a trophy to the most valuable back. Deno's restaurant is offering a similar award for the most valuable lineman. Christy's Gulf will present a trophy for the best sportsmanship.

In addition a Hilltopper may be the winner of an award offered by Joe McFarland, local laundry owner. This award is for the most outstanding defensive back in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Tickets cost $2.50 each. They may be obtained at Hall's Men Shop, Western Kentucky Gas Company, Holland's Pharmacy, Sports Center, or from any Optimist club member.

Horace Henderson is chairman of the committee planning the banquet. Bob Siddens is co-chairman.

In the country and ranking the top teams. In all the magazines to hit the newsstand so far, the Toppers have been picked to go down to the wire with last season's co-champ Morehead. A couple of the publications have given the Toppers an edge to cop the conference title this season.

If Western has a successful season, in all probability, the magazines will have predicted correctly in crediting Western as a team, and Rascoe as an All-American prospect. Other hopefuls include Bob Jackson, Harry Todd, Darrell Carrier as well as Jim Dunn are all capable of developing into top-notch players before the end of the season.

Baxter Attends Meeting

Dr. Luther W. Baxter, head of the Department of Agriculture, attended a curriculum committee meeting Friday, October 27, in Lexington on the University of Kentucky campus.

HOW A FEATURE EDITOR SPENDS HER LEISURE TIME

Many of the Western coeds participate in some of the Western Intramural sports such as basketball, tennis, and of course, bowling. The Herald feature editor, Miss Bonnie Lyle, a great fan of bowling, takes part in the intramural sport every Thursday afternoon. Pictured above is Miss Lyle as she sends the ball down the alley hoping for a strike.

Western Players Set Homecoming Luncheon

The annual homecoming luncheon of the Western Player's will be held at the Helm hotel, Saturday, November 4, 11:30 a. m.

The banquet is held for the purpose of acquainting the alumni of Western Player's with new members, to form a closer association between these two groups and to discuss the current program of the club.

The luncheon will conclude at approximately 12:30 in time for the various other homecoming activities.

Committees are headed by Chester Day, reservations; Mary Ellen Carnahan, invitations; and Wendy Harrison, food and decoration. All persons interested in attending this occasion should contact either one of these members or Mr. Russell H. Miller in room 117 of Cherry Hall.

Cost of the luncheon is $1.75 per person.

Two Students Victimized By Clothes Thief

It's a holdup. That's not exactly the way it happened, but the results were the same to Western's students Harlan Howie and Bill Davidson of 1268 Kentucky Street.

The two boys returned to school Sunday night, October 22, after a weekend at home. They left their clothes in the car while they went up to their apartment. When they returned to the car their clothes (estimated to be worth $150) were gone.

The incident was reported to the police but little can be expected because of the nature of the case. However, let this be a lesson to anyone who has the bad habit of leaving valuables in a car. Who knows, the next victim may be you.

PR Color Guard Goes To Russellville

Staff Sgt. Henry Dickason, Jr. accompanied the Pershing Rifles' color guard to duties at the Russellville tobacco festival and homecoming, October 21.

The guard carried the colors leading the parade and remained for the queen's ball that night.

The commander of the guard is Ronald Nunn, a sophomore pre-engineering major from Park City; the color bearer is Ellis Morrow, a junior agriculture major from Coopersville; the two color guards are Bob Suffill, a sophomore physical education major from Drakesboro and Clark Fenimore, a sophomore from Benton, Missouri.
