Western Receives $22,720 Grant From National Science Foundation

Fifteenth Grant Brings Total To $484,700

The National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C., has awarded Western a grant of $22,720 for the purpose of conducting a fourth "Summer Science Training Program for High School Students," according to Dr. Kelly Thompson.

The grant of $22,720 is the fifteenth received by Western from the National Science Foundation in the past three and one-half years. The total amount of the 15 grants is $484,700.

A total of 80 high-ability students from Kentucky schools will be accepted to participate in the program which will be held during Western from June 11 through August 3.

The project is designed for students who have completed the junior year in high school, but who have had limited experiences in science and mathematics. In special cases, high school seniors may be accepted. Information concerning the program is being mailed to high schools throughout the state this week.

Objectives of the program are to help identify students who have excellent potential for becoming scientists and to accelerate these students' scholarly achievement through providing the opportunity for instruction in scientific content by scientists of recognized stature.

The program is also designed to further develop cooperation between Western and the high schools of the state in increasing the quality of education in the sciences.

Western conducted the first program of this type in Kentucky during the 1959 summer session, and similar programs have been conducted in successive summers. Dr. Tate C. Page, head of the Department of Education, will again serve as director of the program.

Senior Day To Be Held April 27

Western's annual High School Senior Day is scheduled this year for Friday, April 27, beginning at 10 a.m.

Invitations have been sent to 164 high schools in south-central and southern Kentucky so that plans can be made for the high school seniors to attend. Additional information will be mailed soon explaining registration procedures and outlining the day's program of events. This event provides an excellent opportunity for high school seniors to visit the campus and see what Western has to offer.

In the past, senior day programs have included demonstrations by the Physical Education and Military Science departments. The visiting seniors receive box lunches and are invited to watch a review of the ROTC Battle Group and the ROTC awards day ceremonies.

In the afternoon, open house is

Nine Seniors Receive Army Commissions

Nine members of Western's spring graduating class were commissioned Second Lieutenants in the United States Army January 26 by Lt. Col. James F. Marquis, professor of military science.

Those seniors receiving commissions and their branch assignments were: Donald B. Bryant, Earlington, commercial education major, Transportation; James H. Duncan, Jr., Russellville, agriculture major, Transportation; Robert A. Fritz, Jr., Fairview, agriculture major, Infantry.

Philip E. Kohl, Sebree, English and art major, Armor; Murriel W. Moore, Madisonville, agriculture major, Armor; Ronald L. Pond, Colonial Heights, Va., social science major, Infantry; John A. Rowley, Morganfield, agriculture major, Transportation.

Duncan E. Sanford, Franklin, agriculture major, Armor; and George E. Warren, Sebree, commercial education major, Infantry.

The new Second Lieutenants will soon be assigned to an Army installation where they will receive additional branch training and begin active duty.

Western's Faculty Adds Six New Members

Six new members joined the faculty at the beginning of the second semester on February 2, according to an announcement by President Kelly Thompson.

S. Reza Ahsan joined the Department of Geography and Geology; Holland Earl Boaz joined the Department of Industrial Arts, and Jack D. Neale rejoined the Department of History.

Ahsan is a native of India where he received his early education. He was awarded the M. S. degree and the LL. B. degree by Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, U. P., India in 1956.

From 1956-58, Ahsan served on the faculty at the University of Dacca, Pakistan, as a member of the Geography department. Since 1958, he has studied at the University of Florida, Gainesville, for the Ph. D. degree which he expects to be awarded in June.

At the University of Florida, he worked on the Florida Atlas project during 1958-59, and was a fellow in Arts and Sciences during 1959-61. He was awarded a traveling Fellowship by the Council on Economic and Cultural Affairs, Inc., New York for field study in Trinidad, West Indies, during April-September of 1961.

Ahsan also served as a Fellow under an Asia Foundation Re-

DEBATERS

WIN 10, LOSE 3

The Western debaters journeyed to Arkadelphia, Ark. this past weekend and compiled a 10-3 record in the Mid-South Tourney. This was good for a semi-final berth for both the junior and senior division teams.

The junior division team was composed of Bob Denhardt and Jim Smith while Gary Gardner and Bernard Madison made up the senior team.

Classes Elect Eight Campus Favorites

The winners in the Campus Favorites election, held in December, were released this week by the Public Relations office.

Four boys and four girls were elected by each class to run for campus favorites; of the sixteen, eight were selected.

The winners are as follows: Mary Jo Butler, sophomore Commercial Education major from Henderson; Linda Gilbert, sophomore Physical Education major from Bowling Green; Ann Rippey, senior Mathematics and History major from Lawrenceburg; Lou Rouse, senior Elementary Education major from Erlanger; Brentley Barnard, senior Biology major from Russell Springs; Dick Coop, senior Biology major from Campbellsville; Bernard Madison, senior Physics and Mathematics major from Smith Grove; and Bob Sears, junior Physics and Mathematics major from Alvaton.

The Campus Favorites will be featured in this year's Talisman and will be among the attendants for Talisman King and Queen at the Talisman Ball.

THE CAR in which three Western students died and another was seriously injured is shown being dragged from Jennings Creek. The tragedy occurred on the Barren River Road, Saturday, February 3.

Auto Accident Kills Three, Injures One

Three Western students died and a fourth was seriously injured when a car in which they were riding plunged through the rail of a bridge and overturned in Jennings Creek about 11:30 p.m. Saturday, February 3.

The dead have been identified as Charlotte Willett, 19, Louisville, Nancy Marie Adams, 19, Owensboro, and Peter A. Heller, 20.

'Ole' Matador To Be Seen By Spanish Club

'Ole' Matador! The scope and color of the Spanish bullfight have been captured by the Spanish movie, Ole Matador, which will be shown at Van Meter Auditorium on Tuesday, February 20, at 7:30 p.m. The film is sponsored by the Spanish club of Western. Admission will be seventy-five cents except for high school students who will pay fifty cents.

The film is not a documentary but rather a full-length dramatization of the famous novel, Currito de la Cruz, by Perez Lugain and is said to create the most intense Robert Resch, 21, 819 E. 11th St., has been credited by State Police with saving Scrivner's life. Resch told police he was traveling north on Barren River Road when he was met by a Dixie Garage wrecker driven by Roy (Shorty) Edwards who had seen the car go over the bridge.

Resch removed his clothing and entered the water, which was about five feet deep, and pulled Scrivner from the car. He re-entered the water in an effort to rescue the other occupants but due to the cold and poor visibility, he was unable to locate anyone. At this point he attached a cable from the wrecker to the car and waited while Edwards pulled it nearer the bank.

Professional Workshops Held Here Are Praised

Western's professional organization workshops were the subject of an article appearing in the December, 1961 issue of the Student N. E. A. News, a nationally circulated publication.

The article pointed out that three highly successful NEA workshops have been held since the first one in 1959 and that a fourth was now being planned for April 23-24 this year. The purpose of the program is to familiarize preparing teacher with their professional responsibilities and with the interrelationships of professional organization — national, state, and local.

The workshops, which covers a period of two days, requires six months of planning and involves a dedicated group of faculty and student education association members who bring plans to fruition. Firm support is given in all stages by the President and administrative staff of the College.

Students invited to attend these workshops are selected from the sophomore, junior and senior classes on the basis of their scholastic standing and potential contribution. Between 400 and 500 students, faculty members, consultants and administrators become involved in some phase of the program each year. Faculty members come from all departments.

All aspects of professional organization are represented in the leadership team conducting the National Education Association, Kentucky Education Association and the State Department of Education, school superintendents and other administrators are on hand. Small group discussions take place between assemblies,

Western Says Welcome To New Students

By WILLIAM E. HOCKER

To those students who came to the Western Hilltop in the fall of this school year, an editorial written for the purpose of welcoming students to Western may seem strange. However, Western receives many new students each year at the beginning of the spring semester, and to these students is extended the welcome and best wishes of the college administration.

New students have learned or will soon learn that college is quite different from high school. It is a strange, exciting, appealing world that spans those years between childhood and the time when a person must take his part in the responsibilities of adulthood. College is a time for growing up, and for those who think they are fully mature, it is a time for the shattering of certain childish dreams and pseudo-adult philosophies of life.

One will find college a more exacting situation than high school, but life as a mature, thinking adult is more exacting than childhood. The courses are harder, the teachers more demanding, the study hours longer; but the rewards are so much greater than any other that the average student has experienced during high school.

The new student will find Western to be a warm and friendly college. Some will be critical, but most any college or university, however, is criticized. Western hopes to make the student capable of good, just constructive criticism.

There will be times, as a student, when you will think that Western is the worst of all places; there will be times when you wish you could say, "Curses, a thousand curses," but these times pass and are never of long duration.

May I also be permitted to say that there will be times when you could stand and say simply but sincerely, "I like Western!" You will someday wish that your years at Western were longer. May I also tell you that of the previously mentioned experiences the latter come more often and remain with you longer. Western can be most kind, but largely any college, and Western is no exception, is to the student what he wants it to be.

As a beginning student, decide now that you are going to make the most of Western. This college has something to offer to almost everyone, and you have a very definite place here too.

When you get ready to leave and graduation is imminent, these things may have more meaning. You will begin to look at your college life more seriously; you will think of the friends you have made in college and the invaluable experiences that college has offered you; and you will feel a certain inescapable nostalgia. I know, however, that most of you will glad to say, "I went to Western!" When you begin to feel this, you are beginning to understand "The Western Spirit."

Welcome to Western!

Alumnus Described As 'Gracious And Smooth'

"Gracious and smooth, quiet on the floor of the House but talkative in private." This is how Kentucky Congressman William H. Natcher, Bowling Green, a 1930 graduate of Western, was described Sunday, February 4, on the program "Personalities In Your Government," presented by radio station WLW, Cincinnati.

The fifteen-minute program, broadcast weekly by WLW-Radio, featured the biography of Congressman Natcher, who has just taken over the chairmanship of the House appropriations subcommittee which handles the District of Columbia budget.

William H. Natcher, 52, is now in his tenth year in the U. S. House of Representatives. He was born in Bowling Green in 1909, received his A. B. degree from Western in 1930, and his law degree from Ohio State University in 1933. He was admitted to the Kentucky Bar in 1934, and engaged in private practice in Bowling Green that same year.

Natcher served as Federal Conciliation Commissioner for the Western District of Kentucky in 1936 and '37 and became County Attorney for Warren County in 1937—a post he held until 1940. During World War II he was a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy between 1942 and '45. Between 1951 and '53 Natcher served as Commonwealth Attorney for the 8th Kentucky Judicial District.

He was elected to the 83rd Congress from the Second Kentucky District and has been re-elected each two years since then.

Natcher married the former Virginia Reardon in June, 1937. They have two daughters, Cleste and Louise.

Congressman Natcher notes that there are three main problems for the City of Washington and they are problems common to all big cities—welfare, police, and schools. He does not want the Nation's Capital City turned into a haven, as he puts it, "For those who roost on welfare payments the floaters."

Those who've watched Natcher in operation for the past nine years do not expect any violent dust-raising now that he's taken over his key new assignment. Any changes to come, they predict, will be changes in emphasis. They also know that William H. Natcher knows his city budgets—and the Washington city budget in particular and in detail.

Brewer Returns From IFYE Exchange Program

Janet Brewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brewer of Bardstown recently returned home from six months in France as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate. Janet and other IFYE delegates of Europe, Brazil, Venezuela—a total of 48 young people from 28 states—arrived in New York November 14. They have returned to their homes after a six day evaluation session at the National 4-H Club Center in Washington, D.C. Janet will continue the last phase of her IFYE experience by reporting to the people at her home in Nelson County. Janet was anxious to get home but her homecoming was mingled with a note of sadness. "The hard part was leaving some truly good friends that I know I may never see again," she declared.

Her reports show how busy she has been, how much she has learned about France, and how much her French hosts have learned about the United States through her. For instance, she told about living in one region where several of the people are Communist. "Some don't hesitate to let you know they are Communist, either, and that is when you really have to be on your toes," Janet says. "Yet during all the time I spent in this area, it was a wonderful feeling to watch the expressions on their faces as I told them about America."

How did Janet manage the French language while she was abroad? She said that she didn't have a bit of trouble. The first family she visited could speak English as well as French, but

Book Marks

Today with censorship and banned materials being greatly discussed, it seems especially pertinent to be aware of what has happened to certain, now classical, works in the past.

Through the month of February our library will have on display a traveling exhibit from the Kansas University library. Included in the display of twenty-eight are many books which are well known to almost every student and eight books which are required reading in several courses here on the Hill. The required readings represented are: Gullivers' Travels, The Illiad and the Odyssey, The Scarlet Letter, King Lear, The Maltese Falcon, Tom Sawyer, and Huckleberry Finn. Also included are several more recent editions such as Gods Little Acre and Lady Chatterley's Lover. The exhibit, while offering no judgment on either the books or censors, does give a brief account of the objections to each book.

HILLTOPICS

By WILLIAM E. HOCKER

Today is February 14, St. Valentine's Day. Since the Herald was scheduled to be published on this date, the staff discussed several ways by which we might convey our St. Valentine's Day wishes. The best suggestion offered was to cut the Herald into a large heart and print it entirely in red. As you can see from reading today's paper, this idea was impractical. But regardless of the shape of the paper and the color of the ink, the Herald staff wishes you a "Lovely" St. Valentine's Day.

HillTopics

If you have noticed, there are several changes in the format of this week's Herald. The changes have been made in an effort to make The College Heights Herald more readable, more attractive and to vary the makeup. The Herald staff sincerely hopes that our efforts will have the desired results.

HillTopic

Once again "Western" is to do an all-college musical. The choice for this year's production is Showboat written by Jerome Kern and based on a novel by Edna Ferber. The directors for the production are once again Mr. Russell H. Miller, director of theatre and forensics, and Mr. Claude Rose of the Department of Music. Mr. Miller will be the producing director for the show, and Mr. Rose will be the musical director and will conduct the orchestra.

This is an all-college production and is not limited to music majors or members of the Western Players. If you are interested in working in some capacity on the production, see either Mr. Miller or Mr. Rose.

All About Roommates, How They Come And Go

By Sidney Wardle

Yes, Joe, I'd be glad to go get Mary, but you see she isn't in 304 anymore. You hadn't heard? Well it's a little complicated, but I'll try to explain.

Mary was in 304 with Joyce Watercross. They were the best of friends. But one of their suitmates kept tadpoles in the bathtub. I believe she was a very devoted science major. Well this made for general discord among the four suitmates. Especially since Joyce was a physical education major and wanted to practice her swimming in the bathtub.

You're right about the trash . . . 27 full bags at one time. But that wasn't completely Joyce's fault, because she did keep pretty busy with her swimming. And the tadpoles did have to be fed every 20 minutes!

No, I heard that Mary broke her arm after making a jump shot through the transom. The ball got stuck, and she had to stand on a chair to get it out. That's when the counselor came in for room check. It was a pretty hard fall. The counselor was very sorry about it all!

That was an unfortunate incident! As I understand it, they offered to change her sheets since Mary was going to be out during linen change. They short-sheeted her, and when Mary climbed into bed that night she rammed her feet right through the box springs. "Very unfortunate incident!"

Anyhow, I don't suppose that helped any. I heard it was pen soup. It had just come to a boil when Mrs. Bendall walked in. Mary offered her a bowl, but Mrs. Bendall wouldn't be reconciled.

Oh, excuse me! I didn't mean to ramble so! As I started to explain, Mary isn't in 304 anymore. She rooms in town now with a music major, Nancy Hornblow. You remember, the fat one who plays the tuba!

Fourth Studio Production To Be Tonight

"Ten Steps to the Presidency," the fourth production by the Western Players Experimental Theatre, will be presented tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Snell Hall auditorium. The play, directed by Charlie Legason, is a cutting from Dore Schary's Sunrise At Campobello.

The play is concerned directly with Franklin Delano Roosevelt's re-entry into politics after his serious bout with polio.

Roosevelt will be portrayed by Frank S. Hammond, a veteran performer of many Western Players productions; and his wife, Eleanor, will be played by Anne Talbott, who has appeared in other studio productions. The colorful and dynamic Al Smith will be performed by Al Young; and Sara, the dominating mother of Franklin, is played by Millie Wood.

Sandy Marshall, Don Alexander, Sylvia Salem, Stan Billingslea, Dave Williams, Dennis Penick, and Ed Curtis compose the supporting cast.

Mrs. Frances Dixon of the English department is the advisor for the play. The technical staff includes Ann Downing, Kim Benson, and Howard Evans, lights; Larry and Darla Siria, sound; Al Young, Ed Curtis, Ronald Dowdell, and Don Alexander, set construction; Linda Ford, Sharon Stanley, and Shirley Lanham, costumes; Rita Hernandez, typist; Betsy White, properties; Shirley Lanham, publicity; and Betty Jo Atkinson, Benny Vickous, Runnel Hamilton, Polly Jacques, and Jane Steadle, makeup.

The next studio production will be a concert theatre production. This new theatre technique will be presented for the March program in Snell Hall on March 14.

Madison Wins Ogden Oratorical Contest

Bernard Madison, senior from Rocky Hill, was the winner of the 1962 Ogden Oratorical Contest in the last of four oratorical events held at Snell Hall.

Bernard won over five other entries with his speech entitled "Will We Work?" William F. Locke, a junior from Bowling Green, was runner-up in the contest with his speech entitled "What Are They Saying?"

The speech contest is sponsored by the Ogden Alumni Association to select the outstanding speaker from the men of the junior and senior classes.

Bernard is editor of The College Heights Herald and a member of the varsity debate team. He will be presented on the annual Ogden Day program on March 28, in addition to representing Western in intercollegiate speech events.

In other oratorical contests held in Snell Hall at the same time, Barbara Reynolds, a sophomore from Bowling Green, won the SNEA Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Lee Francis Jones Chapter of the Student NEA.

Carolyn Alston, a junior from Florissant, Missouri, was judged best speaker in the AAUW contest for junior and senior women sponsored by the Bowling Green Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The Robinson Oratorical Contest for men of the freshman and sophomore classes was won by Mike Owsley, a sophomore from Barlow.

All four of the speech events were conducted by the speech division of the English department with Russell H. Miller, director of forensics, in charge. The events are used as an eliminating process to select the outstanding speakers in intercollegiate events for the current school year.

Following his graduation from Western in 1952, Boaz served two years in the U.S. Air Force before entering Texas A. & M. for graduate study. From 1956-58, he taught in the Jefferson County School System, and then taught in the Antioch, Illinois High school from 1958-60.

While enrolled at the University of Missouri as a graduate student Boaz also served as an instructor in the Engineering School of the University.

Boaz is married to the former Polly Ann Warren, also a Western graduate. They have three children.

Neale, a native of Birmingham, England, rejoined the History Department after an absence of five months. Since September of last year he has been engaged in work toward the Ph. D. degree at the University of Kentucky. Neale first joined the faculty in February, 1961.

Miss Pauline Lowman and Louis E. Arvin have joined the Department of Mathematics, and Bartolo J. Spano has joined the Department of Psychology.

Miss Lowman is a native of Newton, North Carolina, and was awarded the B. S. degree by Lenoir Rhyne College. Following graduation from Lenoir Rhyne, Miss Lowman was awarded a graduate fellowship by the University of Alabama where she received the M. A. degree. She has done further graduate work toward the Ph. D. degree at the University of North Carolina.

Prior to coming to Western, Miss Lowman taught at Elop College, North Carolina. She previously served as an assistant professor at Hardin - Simmons University in Abilene, Texas, and has taught at East Carolina College and in junior colleges in North and South Carolina.

A native of Logansport, Indiana, Arvin was awarded the B. S. degree in mechanical engineering by Purdue University. He has done graduate work at Indiana University and Indiana State.

Prior to joining the Western faculty, Arvin taught in the Orleans, Indiana High school. He has also taught at the Otwell, Indiana High school and was a design engineer for the Sunbeam Corporation, Chicago, before entering the teaching profession. He has also devoted several years to farming interests in Indiana.

A veteran of World War II, Arvin served in the U. S. Navy from 1943-45 as an Engineering Officer. He is married to the former Elizabeth Nightengale.

Spano is a native of Cortland, New York, where he received his early education. He attended St. Thomas College in St. Paul, Minnesota, and was awarded the A.B. degree by Maryknoll College in Glen Ellyn, Ill., in 1956.

From 1956 until 1960, Spano pursued graduate work in theology and education at Maryknoll Seminary, Maryknoll, New York, and at the University of Buffalo, New York.

Spano entered the University of Illinois in June of 1960 for further graduate work and was awarded the M.A. degree by Illinois in August, 1961. Following completion of work for the M. A. degree, he was awarded a Public Health Grant to initiate work toward the doctoral degree in clinical psychology at the University of Florida, where he has been since September of 1961.

Spano is married to the former Jolene Ann Myers of Urbana, Ill.

Little Music Theatre Arrives Here Friday

By Cheryl Rose
—With the gaiety of the operetta theatre and the glamour of Broadway, The Little Music Theatre arrives here on February 16 to present a lighthearted evening of entertainment for Bowling Green audiences at Van Meter Auditorium.

In a unique presentation of three of the all-time popular favorites of the musical stage, The Little Music Theatre brings to Bowling Green three top-flight young singers, Shirlee Emmons, William McGroth and Ronald Rogers in a highly imaginative production staged by the noted David Tihmar.

The program of The Little Music Theatre features condensed performances of Die Fledermaus by Johann Strauss and "The Song of Norway", featuring the music of Edward Grieg. The entire musical score of both these perennials will be presented, thus giving full play to their contrasting moods—the Strauss work of spoff of love and intrigue and wit in Old Vienna; the Grieg an inspiring story of the life and music of an endearing composer.

In addition, the third part of the program is a revue of the best music of the immortal George M. Cohan, entitled "Yankee Doodle Boy". Concert-goers of all tastes are bound to find this one of the most pleasurable evenings of musical entertainment available.

Shirlee Emmons was the leading soprano of the Santa Fe Opera Association and winner of the Marian Anderson Award. Miss Emmons starred in the New York revival of the Gertrude Stein-Virgil Thompson opera, "Mother of Us All", for which she won the "Obie" (off-Broadway) award for the most distinguished performance. A former soloist with the Robert Shaw Chorale, Miss Emmons has also appeared with the American Opera Society and on recordings for RCA Victor.

Tenor of the three singers is William McGroth who has been called "a superlative musician."

Pershing Rifles Undergo Annual Reg. Inspection

Western's Company B-3 of the Pershing Rifles underwent the annual Regimental inspection February 3 in the ROTC department.

The five-man inspection team from Indiana University, location of Third Regimental Headquarters, was headed by P-R Col. John S. Gall. Assisting P-R Col. Gall were P-R 1st Lt. David Fosnough, P-R W-O Alvin Koestring, P-R Pvt. Steven Sabat, and P-R Pvt. Ray Gines III.

Following the inspection of the company files and personnel, P-R Col. Gall presented the rank of Honorary P-R Lt. Colonel to B-3's sponsor, Miss Pat Norman, sophomore commerce major from Glasgow. Miss Norman has been selected by Regimental Headquarters to be assistant regimental sponsor.

The inspection was concluded as Drillmaster Tom Lewman led a platoon through a sequence of Infantry drill.

by The New York Times and "an impressively gifted young American tenor" by The New York Herald Tribune. Mr. McGrath has appeared with the Buffalo Philharmonic, the NBC Symphony and the Robert Shaw Chorale. Recordings, radio, and recital appearances round out his brilliant career.

Ronald Rogers, baritone soloist, has been heard by symphony audiences across the country as soloist in the Rogers and Hammerstein Night concerts. In New York City he has been soloist on numerous occasions at the Radio City Music Hall, as well as one of the stars at the Hotel Pierre's Cotillion Room.

Many audiences have found Mr. Rogers a familiar face and voice as the leading man in productions of "Kiss Me Kate", "Kismet", "Carousel", "Guys and Dolls" and many other operettas. A star in England as well as in this country, Ronald Rogers has been seen on BBC-TV series and also won the award for the outstanding record in Great Britain.

The talents of everyone involved in The Little Music Theatre guarantee audiences in Bowling Green an evening of first-rate artistry combined with unbeatable entertainment value.

Western Grad Receive MS In Anatomy

Martha E. Welch, BS '60, received her MS degree in anatomy from Ohio State University on December 15. According to Dr. L. Y. Lancaster, retired biology professor at Western, Miss Welch is the first graduate of Western to major in anatomy in graduate school.

Miss Welch, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sewell K. Welch, 924 Laurel Avenue, was among 637 students to receive degrees at Ohio State's Autumn quarter commencement.

Miss Welch is a graduate of Bowling Green High school. While attending Western, Miss Welch majored in biology and was active in both the biology and chemistry clubs. She also was a laboratory instructor in both biology and chemistry.

She is attending Ohio State with an assistantship and has already started to work on her Ph. D.

Next year, Miss Welch will be an instructor in human anatomy for dental students at Ohio State. She will conduct both the lecture and the laboratory in the human anatomy course.

University officials at Ohio State have said that Miss Welch, who is 22 years of age, could become the youngest person to ever receive a Ph. D. from Ohio State.

LESSON 7- Keep moving

One of the most important rules of girl-watching is this: keep moving. In fact, it is always a good idea not only to move, but to appear to be going somewhere. (This is especially important on group field trips.) Beautiful girls, although they enjoy being watched, are instinctively suspicious of strollers and downright fearful of loiterers.

The man who is walking briskly, who looks like he's "going places," makes a better girl watcher. For one thing, he sees more total girls and in the end he enjoys his hobby more. (If you are planning an extended field trip—to Paris and Rome, for example—be sure to pack a couple of cartons of Pall Mall.)

Charlie Flener Billed As Featured Attraction

Charlie Flener was the billed attraction singing with the Shades during the popular and jazz music show Friday evening, February 2, in Van Meter Auditorium. The two performances were at 7 and 9 p.m.

The program opened with the Shades, a band from Cincinnati. This band featured a singer with a trio background, Panny Sarakatsannis, a Western graduate, played with this group.

Flener drew a rousing applause at the conclusion of his medley of 1961 favorites. Then he introduced his new release, "Moon in My Window". This record was on sale in Van Meter and many copies were sold because of his promotion.

Next on the program was another band, the Escorts. This band played for the remainder of the evening, accompanying the other vocalists including Reta Faye and the Knight Sisters.

Roy Orbison, famous recording star for Monument Records, completed the show with some of his many hits, including "Candy Man", "Crying," and "Only the Lonely."

The masters of ceremonies were W.B.G.N. disc jockeys Lee Denny, Gene Holly, and Dave West. They introduced each act and provided a quick advertisement for Marlboro.

Approximately five hundred people were present for each show, most of whom were students or fans of Flener's and Orbison's.

Hardin Thompson Undergoes Brain Surgery

Hardin Thompson, 24 year-old son of President and Mrs. Kelly Thompson, who recently underwent brain surgery at Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville, was removed from the hospital recovery room Sunday, February 4, and is said to be progressing nicely, according to latest reports.

The operation marked the third time the son of Western's president has undergone surgery for the removal of a brain tumor. Two previous operations took place in March, 1958 and February, 1959.

Before first being hospitalized in 1958, Hardin was a senior at Western.

Although he is making progress in his recovery, Hardin will not be permitted to have any visitors.

Twenty-Six Receive Awards For Penmanship

Mr. G. G. Craig awarded twenty-six students penmanship certificates for their fall semester's work. These certificates were awarded in three specific groups: teachers, business, and advanced.

The following students were awarded the teachers certificate: Ann Bryson, Mildred Burden, Betty Capps, John Chumley, Eugene Dupin, Charles Falkenburg, Marilyn Galloway, Charlotte Gass, Ronald Glass, Nancy S. Nutter, Nana Onstott, Lorna Patterson, Bettie Pogue, Camille Robinson, Nancy Taylor, Genie Thomas, Mary Jo Vincent, Ruby J. Walker and Barbara Whitten.

Rodes-Helm Lecture Series Committee Meets

Members of the Rodes-Helm Lecture Series Committee met on Monday, February 5, to discuss initial plans to inaugurate the lecture series made possible by a $25,000 endowment fund established by Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Helm of New York City.

Discussed at the meeting were the types of lecture series possible, the number of speakers the fund might provide annually, and the general financial arrangement of the fund. No immediate plans were made for bringing a speaker to the campus, but the committee agreed to investigate the possibilities of beginning the series late this semester or early next fall.

A motion passed by the Committee provides that the lecture series be separate from chapel, that student attendance be voluntary, and that the lectures be open to the public.

Dr. Earl A. Moore, member of the Department of English, is chairman of the Lecture-Series Committee. Other members of the Committee and the department they represent are: Dean Raymond Cravens, Administration; Miss Margie Helm, Library Services; Dr. Moore, Miss Frances Richards, and Mr. William M. Jenkins, Jr., Business and Government; Dr. Ward C. Sumpter, Science; Miss Ruth Hines Temple and Dr. Thomas Stone, Fine Arts; Mr. A. J. Thurman, College Heights Foundation; and Mr. Robert C. Cochran, Public Relations.

The Rodes-Helm Lecture Series was established in August, 1961, in honor of Warren Circuit Judge John B. Rodes and Miss Margie Helm, director of library services at Western.

Expansion Was Rule For 1961

Construction costing millions of dollars got underway on many Kentucky campuses this past year as expansion was the key word for Kentucky colleges in 1961. Building reached an all time high on many campuses as students, faculty, and administrators saw long range plans begin to materialize.

Western was no exception to this rule as its building program for 1961 mounted to an enormous $5,790,300. This figure includes the already completed Kelly Thompson Science Hall and West Hall for women, and the yet to be completed E. A. Diddle Arena and six-story women's dormitory. Not included in this figure are the two proposed women's dormitories which will sit at right angles to the six story building.

Western Downs Eastern 96-92 In OVC Tilt

Western's calm, cool, and collected Hilltoppers dropped in 40 of 50 free throw attempts to down Eastern Ky. 96-92 in a thrilling OVC tilt January 27, at Richmond. It was Western's fifth conference win in as many starts. Three of these were on the road, running Western's over-all win streak to six straight.

Big Harry Todd, the Toppers' 6' 7" senior center, dropped in his career high of 29 points. Todd was closely followed by Darel Carrier who bagged 27.

Bobby Rascoe, Western's top-scorer, hit 15 points the first half and added only 5 the second half for a total of 20.

Eastern out-scored Western from the field 37-28, but the Toppers were uncanny at the foul line, hitting 40 out of 50, while the Maroons hit 18 of 24 free throws.

The Toppers out-rebounded Eastern 53-46 with Todd grabbing 18 and Jim Dunn plucking off 14.

Western Takes Middle Tenn. Down 89-59

Western's guards combined a total of 58 points to down Middle Tennessee 89-59 here January 20. The win was Western's fourth in OVC play against no losses.

Bobby Rascoe, the Hilltopper's All-American candidate, hit for 33 points, while sophomore guard Darel Carrier bagged 25.

The Toppers held a narrow 43-41 half-time lead. Late in the second half with Rascoe and Carrier on a shooting spree, and Todd and Dunn clearing the boards, Big Red spurted to a 79-59 lead with 3:20 remaining to break the game open and down the visiting Tennesseans.

The win gave Coach Ed Diddle, Sr., a 10-1 edge in over-all competition against his son, Ed, Jr., who coaches Middle Tennessee.

Coach Diddle Honored By State House

On January 24th the State House of Representatives passed a resolution congratulating Coach Ed Diddle and inviting him to speak when convenient.

"I appreciate the honor," said Coach Diddle. "And I'll try to get to Frankfort to talk to them."

The resolution noted that Diddle is the first coach ever to skipper a team through one thousand games and has established numerous national records the past ten years.

"He has brought honor and fame to Western and the entire Commonwealth with his prowess, ingenuity, and outstanding ethics," the House said.

The invitation stated that Diddle could speak on any subject he chooses.

Hilltoppers Gain Lead In OVC

Since final exams the Hilltoppers have been pounding the hardwood and racking up victories in the Ohio Valley Conference.

The Toppers took the lead in the OVC with an 80-79 overtime win at Morehead on January 18.

Jackson was the hero in this tilt as he scored a 15 foot jump shot with 44 seconds to go. Rascoe led the scoring with 24 points and was followed by Todd with 12.

On January 20th guards Bobby Rascoe and Darel Carrier collaborated for 58 points to lead the Hilltoppers to an 80-60 victory over Middle Tennessee.

Rascoe sank 33 points while Carrier added 25 in leading the Toppers to a 50 percent shooting performance from the field.

Todd and Carrier led Western to Junior Mike Roberts and freshman Stanley Cottrell, two distance runners of Coach Turner Elrod's Western track team, will compete along with such stars as John Uelses, world record holder of the pole vault, and three time Olympic gold medal winner Wilma Rudolph at the Mason-Dixon Games February 17 in Louisville. This is the first time anyone from Western has participated in this meet. Coach Elrod said that an announcement would be made soon when track practice is to begin.

Football Coach Nick Dames has announced the signing of four top high school football prospects. Two Kentucky boys, Larry Johnson, an all-state halfback from nearby Russellville, and Jerry Perry, a 190 pound all-conference end from Elizabethtown. Two out-of-state boys, Jim Meyer, a 215 pound all-city tackle from Evansville, Indiana, and John Baird, a 175 pound halfback from Mt. Carmel, Illinois, complete the signing to date. Coach Dames stated that several more boys would be signed in the near future.

While the basketball season is in full swing football seems a little out of season. Spring practice is slated to begin around February 22, depending on the weather. According to NCAA rules a school has 36 days to get in 20 days of practice. The annual Red-White game is tentatively set for March 22.

Several new faces will appear when spring practice begins with five transfer students, three coming from the University of Kentucky, one from University of Tennessee, and one an ex-marine. Robert Gebhard, a 200 pound tackle; Robert Holman, a 190 pound fullback; and John Hopper, a 270 pound tackle. The University of Tennessee transfer is Harold Chambers. Chambers lettered as a tackle at UT last year and will be classified as a junior, the other three are sophomores. Tom Carbotti, a three year marine who played service ball will be a freshman. Carbotti is from Brooklyn.

"Fabulous 3" Wins Women's Bowling

With a record of 39 wins and 14 defeats, the Fabulous 3 won the women's intramural bowling last semester. Members of the team were R. Maier averaging 132, C. Royal averaging 122, and Cravens with an average of 102. The BSU team was runner-up with 26 wins and 18 defeats.

Are you interested in bowling this semester? If so, contact Frank Moore or be at the Crescent Bowling Lanes today at 4 P.M. Teams consisting of three members plus substitutes will be organized. The teams will bowl each Wednesday at 4:15 P.M.

Women's intramural volleyball is in full swing now with practice scheduled for week nights. February 22 is the only open date for practice. The first team manager who contacts Miss Langley may have the open date. Tournament dates will be announced later.

Hilltopper Frosh Have Good Record

Western's surprising frosh, under the able direction of former Topper great Dan King, have done remarkably well on the hardwood so far this season.

The frosh have compiled an overall 8-3 record and are undefeated in OVC action. This includes hard fought victories over Murray, Middle Tennessee, and two wins over Tennessee Tech. The victory over Murray was a really big one, since the Thoroughbred Yearlings were supposedly the strongest team in the conference.

The baby Tops are led by Ray Keeton, 6'6" center from Portsmouth, Ohio, and Ray Rhorer, 6'2" guard from Bryon Station. Keeton has been highly praised by the coaches for his play this season. His high game after a two point outburst against Tennessee Tech at Cookeville.

Rhorer, one of the hardest drivers on the team and usually a twenty-point performer, has also been looking very good.

Rounding out the well-balanced starting lineup are Mickey Brown 6' 4" "jumping-jack" forward from Campbellsville; Ralph Baker, 6' 2" forward from Monticello; and Phil Henning, 6' 0" guard from Daviess County.

a 96-92 win over Eastern at Richmond on January 27.

Todd hit for 29 and grabbed off 18 rebounds while Carrier scored 27 points including 17 free throws in 19 shots. It was Carrier's two singles with 4 seconds to play that clinched the game.

Western suffered their first OVC loss at the hands of Tennessee Tech by a score of 79-72 in Cookeville, Tennessee on January 30.

Dunn led Western's scoring with 20 points and was followed by Rascoe with 15.

DePaul defeated Western 86 to 78 in Chicago February 3.

THE MANY LOVES OF THORWALD DOCKSTADER

When Thorwald Dockstader—sophomore, epicure, and sportsman—first took up smoking, he did not simply choose the first brand of cigarettes that came to hand. He did what any sportsman, epicure, and sportsman would do: he sampled several brands until he found the very best—a mild, rich, flavorful smoke—an endless source of comfort and satisfaction—a smoke that never palled, never failed to please—a smoke that age could not wither nor custom stale—a filter cigarette with an unfiltered taste—Marlboro, of course!

Similarly, when Thorwald took up girls, he did not simply select the first one who came along. He sampled. First he dated an English literature major named Elizabeth Barrett Schwartz, a wisp of a girl with large, luminous eyes and a soul that shimmered with a pale, unearthly beauty. Trippingly, trippingly, she walked with Thorwald upon the beach and sat with him behind a windward dune and listened to a conch shell and sighed sweetly and took out a little gold pencil and a little morocco notebook and wrote a little poem:

*I will lie upon the shore,
I will be a dreamer,
I will feel the sea once more,
Pounding on my forehead.*

Thorwald's second date was with a physical education major named Peaches Glendower, a broth of a girl with a ready smile and a size 18 neck. She took Thorwald down to the cinder track where they did 100 laps to open the pores. Then they played four games of squash, six sets of tennis, 36 holes of golf, nine innings of one o'cat, six chukkers of lacrosse, and a mile and a quarter of leapfrog. Then they went ten rounds with eight ounce gloves and had heaping bowls of whey and exchanged a firm handshake and went home to their respective whirlpool baths.

Thorwald's final date was with a golden-haired, creamy-browed, green-eyed, red-lipped, full-calved girl named Totsi Sigafos. Totsi was not majoring in anything. As she often said, "Gee whillikers, what's college for anyhow—to fill your head full of icky old facts, or to discover the shining essence that is YOU?"

Totsi started the evening with Thorwald at a luxurious restaurant where she consumed her own weight in Cornish rock hen. From there they went to a deluxe movie palace where Totsi had popcorn with butter. Then she had a bag of chocolate covered raisins—also with butter. Then they went to a costly ballroom and did the Twist till dawn, tipping the band every eight bars. Then they went to a Chinese restaurant where Totsi, unable to translate the menu, solved her problem by ordering one of everything. Then Thorwald took her to the women's dorms, boosted her in the window, and went downtown to wait for the employment office to open.

While waiting, Thorwald thought over all of his girls and came to a sensible decision. "I think," he said to himself, "that I will stick with Marlboro. I am not rich enough for girls."

© 1962 Max Shulman

Marlboro, however, is rich enough for anybody. It takes mighty good makin' to give you unfiltered taste in a filter cigarette. That's the flavor you get in the famous Marlboro recipe from Richmond, Virginia. You get a lot to like.

and William Gregory, were with Resch and aided in removing the bodies from the car. State Trooper Rondal Brown said that many college students aided in the recovery of the bodies.

According to State Police, the car apparently was traveling south on the Barren River Road when it went out of control on a curve approaching the bridge, plunged through the guard rail, spanned the creek and struck the opposite side and then bounced into the water upside down.

Warren County Coroner J. C. Kirby said the victims were apparently stunned by the impact of the crash and died of drowning rather than injuries.

State Police tentatively have identified Miss Willett as the driver of the car due to the fact that she had borrowed the car earlier in the evening from Carol Doolin, Morgantown, a former Western student who was visiting Miss Willett.

Miss Willett was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stanley Willett, Louisville. Also surviving are a brother, A. Stanley Willett II, her grandmother, Mrs. R. J. Whistler Sr., and a grandfather, Mr. R. A. Willett, all of Louisville.

Miss Adams was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Adams, Owensboro. Other survivors include a sister, Miss Jennifer Adams, a brother, Michael Adams both of Owensboro; her grandmother, Mrs. Felix Adams, Cadiz, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Sims, Princeton.

Heller was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Heller, Merchantville, N. J.

The Adams' service was attended by Dean and Mrs. Charles Keown; Dean Judith Moore attended the service for Willett, and the Heller service was attended by Ronald David Carroll, Heller's roommate, and Rudell Nann, a Western Alumnus. Western students also attended the services.

luncheons, and receptions. Students have multiple opportunities to express their own ideas and to question the professional leaders.

According to evaluators, the most important element of success of this program is the complete backing of the institution's president, its faculty and administrative staff. Other elements are (a) a hard core of faculty and student planners; (b) major responsibility carried by the local Student Education Association; (c) able consultants selected because of ability as professional leaders; (d) effective and continuous communication; and (e) orientation of all categories of participants. Success also depends on one person who keeps things moving and acts as over-all chairman.
