Dairy Judging Team Tops National

Mr. Billy Adams, of the Agriculture department, received official word last week that his cattle judging teams had placed First and Third in the 32nd Annual Dairy Judging Contest conducted by the Heard's Dairyman. A total of 188 teams throughout the territories of thirty-nine states, Canada and Southern Rhodesia, were entered in the contest. This was the first time in the history of the contest that a non-land grant college had won the contest much less a first and third. The competition had never been any better than it was in college division.

The first place team was coached by Larry Mutter, a senior from Glasgow. Larry is student assistant in the dairy department at Western. He was a member of the 1959-60 and 61-62 Dairy Judging Team which placed high at both the Mid-South and International contest. Larry will graduate from Western this June, after which he will do graduate work at the University of Kentucky. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mutter of Glasgow.

Other members of the team are:

Marney Nunnally, a sophomore from Glasgow. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemore Nunnally. Both Nunnally and Mutter are owners of registered Brown Swiss cattle in Barren County.

Coleman Shouse, senior from Sturgis, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Shouse. Coleman will

Present And Past

By DOUGLAS L. VERDIER

"Go West, young man, and grow up with the country!"

Horace Greeley's frequently quoted statement might very easily be changed slightly and appropriately applied to this college. "Go to Western, young man, and grow up with the college!"

Growth certainly has been the watch-word here at Western during the past few years. It is almost impossible for students to travel anywhere on the campus and not be confronted with evidence of progress. Busy painters, carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, chattering jackhammers, blasting, surveying, drilling — all surround the student at every turn and anticipate the Western of the future.

Rapid expansion has not been confined to the present generation of students. A similar building-boom erupted on the Hill in 1926 and continued at a spectacular pace until 1932. During that seven-year period, the Library, the Training School, the gymnasium, home economics building, the President's home, the stadium, the industrial arts building, and West Hall (now called Whitestone) were constructed, and the expansion was felt in academic and financial areas as well as student life. This period of progress also marked the ascension of a small two-year normal school to one of the nation's recognized institutions of higher learning.

Growth from 1932 has been steady and consistent. Cherry Hall was opened in 1937, the Music Building in 1938, and the Kentucky Building in 1939.

Following a relatively dormant period during World War II, Western emerged strong and again began building. In 1949, Potter Hall was converted to a men's dormitory and McLean Hall for women was opened. The beautiful Paul L. Garrett Student Center was dedicated in 1952.

The "building bug" attacked Western once again in 1955, Western's Golden Anniversary, and has been around ever since. The stately pylon was erected that year at the main entrance to the campus to commemorate fifty years of progress.

In 1957, two new men's dormitories, East Hall and South Hall (now known as North Hall), were opened for occupancy in January. During the early spring of that year, an addition was begun to the Administration Building to house the Business Office. The new additions made necessary the expansion of the Heating Plant and Maintenance Service Building, and this work was also completed during 1957. With the coming of fall, Potter Hall was converted to a woman's dormitory and as 1957 drew to a close, Western was still planning future expansion.

The New Residence Hall for Women was completed at the opening of the 1958 fall semester.

Another men's dormitory, South Hall, was completed in 1960, and in the same year, plans were being made for the construction of a $1,500,000 science building and an additional men's dorm.

September, 1961, saw the dedication of the Kelly Thompson Science Hall and the opening of the new dorm and grill on 16th Street. Although enrollment conditions made it necessary to use the new dorm for women students, it will become a men's dormitory next fall.

The current year, 1962, began with the dedication of the college laundrette in January. Since then, much more building, renovating, and repairing has been going on.

One might ask, "When will it all end?" No one can accurately answer this question. One may only say this: Western is an institution fired with a spirit dedicated to the improvement of higher education. So long as men believe that education must be intensified to meet the ever-increasing challenges of the modern world we live in, that spirit will continue to flourish and Western will continue to grow.

Not Enough Space..... Then There's Problems

By Bernard Madison

I have eight pages to fill. I can use 448 column inches of type. Subtract 330 inches for advertising. That leaves 118 inches. Subtract another 40 inches for editorial copy. That leaves 78 inches. Allow approximately 80 inches for headlines and cuts with cutlines. Then I have 122 column inches. In this space I must include the news of over 5,000 students, faculty members, administrative personnel, and other interested persons on campus. This is to say nothing of the numerous alumni and other associated persons. Oh, woe is the life of this editor.

Within those 172 column inches there must be news of the SNEA, the Iva Scott club, the Congress Debaters, the intercollegiate debaters, basketball team, football team, golf team, tennis team, faculty activities, and so on down the seemingly never ending list. It is impossible. I quit. Well, maybe it can be done.

Let's see now. If we leave out the news, we can't do that. Perhaps, if this could be held...no, it occurs tomorrow. I'm sure this can be left out. Sure, that can...but, it's only an inch long. Doesn't help much. Maybe, if I just shut my eyes and pointed to something and leave it out...that...wouldn't be fair, would it?

I have a solution. I will edit a 12-page paper. (That is what I did this week) No, I can't do that, I don't have enough advertising. We will lose money. This would never do. Oh, woe is the life of this editor.

What is the answer? How has this been worked out? By sweat, toil, and sweat. How do you satisfy everybody? You don't. You act and hide and hope. What happens if you are found? You apologize and explain, and apologize and promise. You don't get all the blame. Other persons are sometimes the scapegoats. For example, your faculty sponsor. But, it all works out some way. You have help, but still you have an impossible job. But it's great. I have loved every minute of it.

There have been times when the desire to throw in the towel hit me, but it went away. I have stayed and stayed and stayed. I have made mistakes and, mistreated people at times, but it was not done intentionally. With hope that each future editor of the Herald will do a better job, I must resign. I shall never speak to you again from where I sit. It is over. It is all done.

We write good-byes with ease. They are much more difficult to say and face. From where I sit the future looks bright. There is possibility and more possibilities for advancement, make the best of it.

Dr. Marchant Tells Club Of Attitude In Brazil

Dr. Alexander Marchant, professor of history at Vanderbilt University, was the speaker Thursday night at the A. M. Stickle History club's annual dinner at the Helm Hotel.

Dr. Marchant spoke on "Brazil: The Past Shapes the Present." Dr. Marchant stated that Brazil has a continuity of historical development and has a relatively unchanged economic pattern over a long period of time. Although Dr. Marchant does not believe in a national psychology, he related that "Boom or Bust" is the national psychology of Brazil.

Brazilians have a long history of voting and are in a habit of voting which they want to maintain. Brazil, which is the fifth largest country in the world, has its population doubled every thirty-three years.

Dr. Marchant has been employed as specialist on Latin America by the United States Department of State and has been editor of the Hispanic American Review. Dr. Marchant, who is the author of several books, received his B. A. degree from National University; M. A. degree from American; and his Ph.D. degree from Johns Hopkins University.

Mr. Bill Weaver, president of the History club, presided at the dinner. Mr. Weaver introduced Mr. James Bennett who introduced the speaker. Mr. Oscar Page gave the invocation. Dr. J.H. Poteet introduced Miss Gabrielle Robertson and Dr. A. M. Stickle, special guests of the History club; former History club members, members of the faculty and others present. About eighty people attended the dinner.

Dr. Poteet announced that Oscar Page is this year's winner of the History Award. The History Award is awarded each year to the senior history major with the highest standing.

One of the most important features our library has is the government publications issued by the U. S. Government Printing Office. These valuable government publications constitute a great part of a library covering almost every field of human knowledge and endeavor. They are especially useful in the study of history, geography, political science, economics, and sociology.

An approach to African education and politics is found in Africa and the United States. The image and realities in the role of science and technology, the changing attitudes of the African toward art and music, and the African student in the United States.

A Pocket Guide to the Philippines, published by the department of defense, is a valuable publication for tourists. It tells places to go, things to see, and has a language guide.

There are several general publications on Civil Defense. One of the most recent is Fallout Protection. Not only does it tell people facts they need to know about nuclear attack, but also tells of the Civil Defense program.

Each year the department of agriculture publishes books on various aspects of agriculture. Soils, Agriculture Yearbook 1951 provides a new and improved basis for understanding the complex order of Nature's forces as men can better shape them in a positive and creative fashion. The book lists the importance, the life processes, production, processing, certification, testing, and marketing of seeds.

A listing of the annotations of cases decided by the Supreme

HILLTOPICS

By BERNARD MADISON

Last year just about this time, I wrote in this column, "Congratulations, graduates". This year, with this writer among those to walk "through the line", I again say, "Congratulations, graduates".

It remains only to say that it has been a long road, difficult in spots and enjoyable at times. With only two weeks to go, it looks bright from here. (Hilltopics)

Seniors, be sure and attend the reception to be given Thursday, May 24, by President Kelly Thompson and Mrs. Thompson and the faculty. If one is a senior, it means that some four (or some, five) years of work has been done for the faculty members. This is your chance to let the faculty do all the work. Don't miss this event. It is solely for graduating seniors and their wives or husbands.

Lest we seem a little too sentimental, we are careful in reminding, but here we go. Remember "Ole-bona", "Summer and Smoke", "Our Town", and go on down the long list. These, combined with the four major productions of Western Players this year have provided students on the Hill with an immense amount of entertainment.

It is now that I bow to Mr. Russell H. Miller and his Players for their untiring efforts in bringing to Western the best in stage productions.

There are so many that have done so much that this writer will not attempt to express his sincere thanks to each individual. As I depart, with this last "Hilltopics", I can only say "Thanks, Western".

Alcotts Freed In Charge Of Attempted Thievery

A verdict of "not guilty" was declared by Judge Basil Griffin, although the jury voted 6-1 in favor of guilt, in the Congress Debate Club's annual Mock Trial, May 7.

Without the necessary unanimous decision of the jury, Warren County Judge Griffin held that Fred and John Alcott were not guilty of a charge of attempted theft of a coat-rack from the Western Grill, April 18.

Numerous witnesses were called to the stage of the Little Theater in the Library to be questioned by the defense lawyers, Jerry Traylor and Gordon Frank, and the prosecution, Richard Anderson and Pat Chamberlain.

The Alcott brothers, from Allenville, were accused and tentatively identified as the two who attempted to carry a 12-foot coat-rack from the Western Grill 8:30 p. m., April 18, but were halted before the crime could be completed. Campus Policeman H. B. Bailey later made the arrest. The Congress Debate club, under the sponsorship of Dr. William Jenkins, stages a faked crime and mock trial every year to give some of the members an idea of what confronts a lawyer, and again this year everything developed as planned.

ALL WESTERN ... This group assembled for conversation about the Hill, past and present, after the Governor's Seminar for college newspaper staffs across the state in Frankfort, May 16. From left to right, they are Robert G. Cochran, Director of Public Relations; Field McChesney, associate director of the Division of Industrial Promotion in the Department of Public Information; Bernard Madison, editor of the Herald; Mary Ann Wood, advertising manager of the Herald; William

E. Hecker, editor of the Herald; Miss Helen Henry, director of News Division in Department of Public Information; Maj. Gen. Arthur Y. Lloyd, State adjutant general; Miss Frances Richards, faculty sponsor of the Herald; Charles Wheeler, director of the Legislative Research Commission; and Carlos Oakley, commissioner of the Department of Welfare. Hilltoppers Receive Extras In Governor's Seminar

By BERNARD MADISON

"A matter of balance" in higher education in Kentucky was the reason Governor Bert T. Combs gave last Thursday for his endorsement of the recently enacted junior college system in Kentucky. This was in answer to a question asked by one representative at a seminar held in Frankfort for the college newspapers in Kentucky.

Representing the College Heights Herald at this conference were: Miss Frances Richards, faculty advisor; Robert G. Cochran, general manager; William E. Hecker, editor; Mary Ann Wood, advertising manager; and Bernard Madison, editor.

As one can see, the writer of this article was present at the meet. It turned out to be quite an experience for the Hilltoppers who attended. In addition to the question and answer series with the governor and various state administrative officials, the approximately 100 college newspapermen and newspaperwomen lunched in the Executive Mansion, viewed a film about Kentucky and discussed informally the problems of state government with the State officials at the seminar.

The above was not all by any means for the Westerners. They were greeted by many Western alumni and friends of the Hill. They were taken on a guided tour of the Capitol Building by Mr. William Bivin, administrative assistant to lieutenant Governor Wilson W. Wyatt and a graduate of Western. To end a most informative day, the Westerners were accompanied back to Bowling Green by Mr. Edward T.

Breathitt, Jr., candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor next year.

Breathitt

Mr. Breathitt explained to a most inquisitive audience on the way home what was involved in the preparation for a campaign and what he expected the issues and results to be in the race for the governorship of Kentucky. Many have speculated that the Combs-backed Breathitt will form the number one spot on a Breathitt-Ward ticket. Governor Combs pointed out in his conference with the collegians that he had asked Highway Commissioner Henry Ward to run for the lieutenant governor's spot. He said, "He (Ward) did not say absolutely that he would not."

Mr. Breathitt is presently opposed in his race for the Democratic nomination by veteran campaigner A. B. 'Happy' Chandler and Rumsey Taylor. Former Governor Chandler is running for an unprecedented third term as governor. There has been speculation that Attorney General John Breckinridge will enter the race for the nomination.

When asked if he thought that the Breathitt announcement of his intention to seek the nomination for governor was premature, Governor Combs answered negatively. He added, "I ran three or four years myself." Mr. Breathitt feels like the governor on this issue. Some have criticized the timing of the announcement in that it may tend to play down the senatorial campaign now in progress.

The questions asked the governor by the college questioners ranged from the State Civil Defense Program to the situation regarding Kentucky State College and the integration situation in Kentucky. Governor Combs answered most of the questions himself but referred some to members of the cabinet and other administration officials.

The question and answer series was informative and interesting; the discussion with Mr. Breathitt was colorful and encouraging; talking with and meeting Miss Helen Henry, administrative assistant to the Commissioner of Public Information Department and former advertising manager of the Herald, Mr. Field McChesney, director of Industrial Development and a former member of the Herald staff, Mr. Charles Wheeler, director of the Legislative Research Commission and former Herald editor, Attorney General Breckinridge and many others proved to be a highlight of the day's activities.

It was an experience that this writer will never forget and congratulations are in order for Governor Combs and his staff for the work that they did in order to make the event possible.

Wood Represents College At Kentucky Meet

Dr. William E. Wood, head of the Department of English, represented Western in a meeting of English department heads from 29 colleges and universities throughout Kentucky recently.

The meeting which was called by mutual consent was held on the University of Kentucky campus. An agenda for the meeting had been prepared in advance and was made up of all the problems which the representatives hoped to discuss.

The problems with which the representatives dealt included (1) the amount and kind of training which should be required for English majors who plan to teach in public schools; (2) what the English minor should consist of; (3) problems of scheduling; (4) problems related to departmental staff, such as the recruiting of new members and (5) numerous details pertaining to the organization and handling of English departments.

Dr. William S. Ward, head of the UK Department of English, served as chairman of the meeting. Dr. William F. Ekstrom, professor of English at the University of Louisville, acted as special advisor. Dr. Ekstrom was a member of the Curriculum Study Committee which recently made a report to the Committee on Public Education.

The group spent four sessions: two Saturday, one Saturday night, and one Sunday morning; working on the problems common to all English departments. Results and conclusions arrived at during the meeting will be published later.

The Sunday morning session was divided into individual groups of state colleges, private colleges, and universities. These groups discussed their specialized problems.

Dr. Wood stated that the conference was a very valuable one which enabled department heads to discuss mutual problems.

Three Discuss Religious Views At Vespers

Roy Brigrance, Baptist Student Director at Western: Mr. Terry Horton, of the English department at Western; and Yogi Hoshino of Japan, stated their religious views at recent Vesper services.

"Mystery of the Cross" was the title of the talk given by Roy Brigrance. He pointed out the deeper meaning of the cross and questions that could arise such as: Why was the Cross necessary? What really happened to Christ?

Mr. Terry Horton stated that "Religion must be approached in the context of the time in which we live." He asserted that religion arises out of man's basic needs to explain the unknown and that man's creations in religion are subordinate to technological needs attending were urged to have a religion flexible enough to accept new knowledge and to adjust to the changes this knowledge will create.

"Preachers are active only on Sunday" was the reason given by Yogi Hoshino to become a Christian social worker when returning to Japan. He added that he had expected the entire United States to be Christian but found this very untrue after his arrival to America. However, he said that all of his experiences at Western were enriching and rewarding.

perior ratings in the small ensemble division.

Under the direction of Miss Gertrude Bale, the College High Girls' Chorus and Choir received superior ratings in the large ensemble division. The chorus sang as their two selections "Send Out Thy Light" by Hounod and "Breakers Off Barranquilla" by Clokey. Numbers performed by the choir included "Lord Most Holy" by Davis and "We Praise Thee, O God" by Sateren.

The Girls' Quartet, composed of Judy Miller, Elizabeth Stovall, Paula Wagoner, and Susan McLellan, received an excellent rating. Their selection was "Horn-ing" by Del Riego.

CRAM COURSE NO. 5: SHAKESPEARE

Continuing our series of pre-final exam cram courses, today we take up the works of William Shakespeare (or "The Bard of Avon" as he is jocularly called).

First let us examine the persistent theory that Shakespeare (or "The Pearl of the Antilles" as he is affectionately referred to) is not the real author of his plays. Advocates of this theory insist that the plays are so full of classical allusions and learned references that they couldn't possibly have been written by the son of an illiterate country butcher.

To which I reply, "Faugh!" Was not the great Spinoza's father a humble woodcutter? Was not the immortal Isaac Newton's father a simple second baseman? (The elder Newton, incidentally, is one of history's truly pathetic figures. He was, by all accounts, the greatest second baseman of his time, but baseball, alas, had not yet been invented.) It used to break young Isaac's heart to see his father get up every morning, put on uniform, spikes, glove, and cap, and stand alertly behind second base, bent forward, eyes narrowed, waiting, waiting, waiting. That's all—waiting. Isaac loyally sat in the bleachers and yelled, "Good show, Dad!" and stuff like that, but everyone else in town used to snigger and pelt the Newtons with overripe fruit—figs for the elder Newton, apples for the younger. Thus, as we all know, the famous occasion came about when Isaac Newton, struck in the head with an apple, leapt to his feet, shouted, "Europa!" and announced the third law of motion: "For every action there is an opposite and equal reaction!"

(How profoundly true these simple words are! Take, for example, Marlboro Cigarettes. Light one. That's the action. Now what is the reaction? Pleasure, delight, contentment, cheer, and comfort! And why such a happy reaction? Because you have started with a happy cigarette—a felicitous blend of jolly tobacco, a good-natured filter, a rollicking flip-top box, a merry soft pack. As Newton often said, "You begin with better makin's, you end with better smokin's." Small wonder they called him "The Swedish Nightingale!"

But I digress. Back to Shakespeare (or "The Gem of the Ocean" as he was ribbally appelted).

Shakespeare's most important play is, of course, Hamlet (or Macbeth, as it is sometimes called). This play tells in living color the story of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, who one night sees a ghost upon the battlements. (Possibly it is a goat he sees: I have a first folio edition that is frankly not too legible.) Anyhow, Hamlet is so upset by seeing the ghost (or goat) that he stabs Polonius and Bare Bodkin. He is thereupon banished to a leather factory by the King, who cries, "Get thee to a tannery!" Thereupon Ophelia refuses her food until Laertes shouts, "Get thee to a beanery!" Ophelia is so miffed that she chases her little dog out of the room, crying, "Out, out damned Spot!" She is fined fifty shillings for swearing, but Portia, in an eloquent plea, gets the sentence commuted to life imprisonment. Thereupon King Lear and Queen Mat proclaim a festival—complete with amateur theatricals, kissing games, and a pie-eating contest. Everyone has a perfectly splendid time till Banquo's ghost (or goat) shows up. This so unhinges Richard III that he drowns his cousin, Butt Malmsey. This leads to a lively discussion during which everyone is killed. The little dog Spot returns to utter the immortal curtain lines:

Alack, the play forsooth was sad and sobby,
But be of cheer—there's Marlboros in the lobby!

Sports Slants

By LARRY DYKES, Sports Editor

This past week has been a bad week for all spring sports except track and they had the misfortune of having a meet rained out after only eight events. The track team did set two more school records before the rains came as Mickey Brown and the 440-yard relay team battered two old marks.

Brown set a new school record and a stadium record as he ran the high hurdles in 14.9. This gives him the best time in the OVC to date. He now holds two school records, the high hurdles and the high jump (6-2 1/2).

The 440-yard relay team bettered their old record of 44.0 as they lowered it down the 43.4. This still is second to Murray as the Racers have the best in the OVC so far as they have run it in 42.2. The Toppers who are on this record-breaking team are Bill Moore, Jim Miller, Roger Maylor, and Larry Watkins.

Jagers Leads Golfers

Joe Jagers led Coach Frank Griffin's golfers to a victory over four Southeastern Conference plus University of Louisville and Murray as the Western Linkmen finished a respectable 17th in a 27-school field in the Southern Intercollegiate Golf Tournament at Athens, Ga., last week. The Princeton senior shot a 75-76-151 to lead the Hilltoppers golfers. Other Topper scores were Dave Rayn-155; Smitty Taylor-157; Denny McAtee-157; Terry Jones and Mickey Dale had 148's. Western's team total was 621 for 36 holes. The University of Houston was the team winner.

6-8 Hoosier Latest Recruits

Dick Davidson, a 6-8, 215-pound basketball star from Portland, Ind., became the sixth prep cager to sign within the last two weeks. The big Hoosier, who is the second tallest of the cagers to sign averaged 18.3 points and 18 rebounds a game last season. Coach Diddle stated that "he's big and he's agile," and comes very highly recommended as a boy who will develop and improve in the next few years. Coach Diddle also said that his recruiting still isn't finished and he is particularly searching for another guard.

Murray and Burt Leading Hitters

Lee Murray and John Burt are leading the baseball team in hitting as they are currently batting .310 and .304. The baseballers broke a four game losing streak and they split a doubleheader with Murray last Thursday.

OVC Play-offs in Richmond

The golf, tennis, and track teams will be leaving for Richmond Friday as the OVC-play-offs in these spring sports will be held on the Maroon campus. Murray ranks as the track favorite and Middle Tennessee will be bidding for their second straight golf crown. The Hilltoppers will be out to defend their tennis title. Don Mayer got his revenge last week as he downed his No. 1 challenger in OVC tennis competition Bob Cooper of Murray 6-2, 6-4, although it was in a losing cause as the Racers up-ended the Hilltoppers 4-3. The netters have lost seven matches which is something that has never happened before!

Western Splits Two With Murray

Western's W. C. Thomas and Dick Coop combined to hurl the Hilltoppers past Murray in the 4-1 first game May 10. Coop relieved in the sixth with two out and the bases loaded and retired the next batter.

Lee Murray's two-run single was the big blow for Western. Jerry Anderson of Murray fired a three-hitter at the Hilltoppers in the second game, giving up two of the safeties in the last frame for a 4-0 victory.

TOPS DROP TWO

Middle Tennessee State added to its Ohio Valley Conference baseball lead by sinking Western twice 6-3 and 8-1, May 8.

The Raiders now have a 7-2 conference record and Western has a 3-6 record with all three victories coming from Tennessee Tech.

Fine relief pitching by Roger Hedrick and John Stafford stopped the Hilltoppers, who collected only five hits in the opener and three in the second game.

Bob Sturgeon took the loss for Western in the first game and Jim Burt suffered the loss in the second game.

Freshmen Prospects Big

Coach E. A. Diddle, the winningest coach in the history of basketball, in the past two weeks has awarded grants-in-aid to one of the finest groups of basketball prospects ever brought to the Western Kentucky State College campus.

Six top notch freshman candidates have joined the Hilltoppers and one outstanding junior college performer will be eligible for the varsity next September.

The veteran Hilltopper coach is looking forward to the 1963-64 season when Western Kentucky will move into its $2,900,000 E. A. Diddle Arena which will seat 8,500 initially, but will eventually seat 13,000 without any structural changes.

The giant Academic - Athletic Building is now under construction on the Western campus and will be ready for occupancy at the opening of the 1963-64 school year in September, 1963. The huge structure, which is 100 yards in diameter, will also house three major college academic departments in 30 master classrooms and will have an Olympic-size swimming pool.

Grants Carefully Selected

Each of the players awarded grants-in-aid have been carefully selected by Coach Diddle to play the particular position the new Hilltopper starred at in high school.

Coach Diddle stated this week, "I know these young men will form the nucleus of a team we can look forward to see play winning basketball in this new building which has been a dream of mine for a long time."

The colorful coach said he was not finished recruiting, as he wants two more outstanding guards to go with the group already signed.

Dave Townsend, 6-6 forward and center, is the junior college product. He averaged 23 points a game this past season and was his team's best rebounder. He comes from Allen Military Academy Junior College, Bryan, Tex. He played his high school basketball at Vine Grove high school. Coach Diddle expects Townsend to be great help to the varsity this coming year.

Top Match Prospects

West Virginia's two top basketball players, Bane Sarrett and Ronnie Kidd, ran; among the best prospects ever recruited, along with Missouri's Steve Cunningham, Indiana's Dick Davidson, and Gary Hage and Keller Works, two of Kentucky's best.

Sarrett is a 6-5 forward and center from Beckley, W. Va. He was voted the No. 1 basketball player in West Virginia this past season, as he led his team to the state championship with a record of 26 wins and no losses. He aver-

"YOUR CREDIT is GOOD with US!"
We Say To EVERYONE Under 21...

Howard Jewelers doesn't see anything wrong with being young! In fact, in our recent years of business, we've found that young people are just as dependable and responsible as adults. We've never subscribed to the theory that a person doesn't achieve maturity until he turns 21. We like young people. We believe in young people. We see no reason why they should be denied the same credit privileges as adult—and we've done something about it NOW!

Coch Diddle Signs Two More All-State Stars

Coch Ed Diddle announced the signing of two more high school all stars in his recruiting campaign.

They are: Steve Cunningham, 6 ft. 6 in. All-Stater from Chaffee, Missouri and Keller Works, 6 ft. 2 in. Harrison County star.

Cunningham is 17 years old and weighs 215 pounds. He averaged 27.6 points a game in 23 starts last season and picked off 10.1 rebounds a game. He had a field goal percentage of .589 and .700 from the foul line.

He had a four year varsity total of 1,776 points. His career average for four years was 29.3 points a game in 85 contests. He had a single game high of 42 points.

Cunningham signed a grant-in-aid following a visit to Western. Works is a two time All-Stater who played guard for four years on the Harrison County squad. He is rated as one of the most versatile players in the state. In his four year varsity career, Works scored 1,880 points. The 160 pounder led his team in every field of play. He grabbed 622 rebounds the last two seasons, had 144 assists and 124 interceptions.
