SENIOR LITERARY SOCIETY.

As a result of S. P. U. accepting the challenge of debate Ogden on the subject of "Immigration," a series of debates are being held at most every meeting of the Senior Society, so that the men in the society from which the debating team is to be picked may become more familiar with the subject, and more proficient in the art of debating.

As a result, much enthusiasm is being aroused, and even the heretofore most bashful speech makers are jumping at the chance to offer assistance, so that Ogden will be more able to survive the final clash with flying colors.

On Wednesday, March 1, a team composed of Sumpter, Perkins and James, representing the affirmative side of the question, met a team composed of Adsit, Lee and Schneider, who represented the negative side. The result was a unanimous vote by the judges for the negatives.

At the next meeting one week later the same subject was debated by Holland, Smith and Henson, of the affirmative, and Renfrew, Stout and Causey, of the negative. The result of this meeting was a two to one vote by the judges in favor of the affirmative.

Besides these debates which take up the majority of the time of the regular period, short biographical sketches of noted men are read. Also short criticisms of present day books and poems.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

As was stated in the last issue of the "Cardinal," the Ogden Literary Society has challenged Southwestern Presbyterian University for a debate on the "Immigration Question," to be held here April 1. In reply to this challenge, we received a letter from S. P. U. stating that it was accepted.

So let's go, boys, and get behind our men and give S. P. U. a hard, clean fight on the "Immigration Question."

ATHLETICS.

Friday, March 3, the Prep. basketball team met the Memorial High School five. The Memorial boys were all large, tall, husky fellows and displayed a wonderful brand of basketball for a team which had practiced only on an open court.

Memorial took the lead early in the game and at the end of the first quarter the score stood 12 to 6 in favor of Memorial. At this stage of the game Ogden rallied and at the end of the half had brought her total up to 21, while Memorial had not scored a goal. The final score was: Ogden, 40; Memorial, 21.

The entire Ogden team, although starting late, played a brilliant game after the first quarter. Smith and St. Claire were the star basket tossers, while Shelton at center and Pickles at guard played their usual stellar game. Howerton, who had the task of filling, Captain Vales' shoes at the other guard, played a good game. In the final minutes Winkenhof, Taylor, Massey and the smaller St. Claire were put into the game.

With the exception of Shelton the entire team was composed of midgets. Taylor shot two baskets and Massey shot a foul.

The Prep team is to play Memorial at Camner about March 7.

PREPS DEBATE FRANKLIN.

In the contest between the debating teams of the High Schools of Butler, Edmonson, Warren and Simpson counties, Ogden Preparatory Department has drawn Franklin High School for its opponent.

The debate will be held at Franklin, March 24. The oratorical contest will also be held with Franklin High on the same date.

A great deal of enthusiasm and hard work is being shown in preparation for these contests. We feel sure that the preparatory department will uphold the past glory of old Ogden. The following men will represent Ogden: James Chandler, Maurice Burton, Paul Hollins, Roy Milliken.

DR. EDGERTON RECEIVES APPOINTMENT.

Dr. Edgerton has just received word of his appointment as president of an Eastern college under control of the Federal Government. Although the position is more lucrative than his present position, Dr. Edgerton has declined the appointment.

Since his arrival as president of the college, Dr. Edgerton has been deeply interested in the welfare and prosperity of the school, and the student body believes he had these ideals in mind when he refused such a splendid offer. We are hoping that he will be with us through another scholastic year.

WANTED.

Ogden, taking a greater interest in its former students, would appreciate the present address of any of the following:

Glenn, Samuel Wilson (attended school about -895).

Campbell, Preston B. (attended about 1880).

Rigsby, Frank L. (attended about 1890).

Wightman, Frank A. (attended about 1884).

Carpenter, Wm. E. (attended about 1894).

Barnett, Wm. W. (attended about 1880).

Turner, Wm. S. (attended about 1895).

Rigsby, Wm. C. (attended about 1880).

Johnson, Sam (attended about 1885).

OGDEN MAN HONORED.

A card received recently from Princeton University states that R. W. Covington, Jr., has been elected to the Triangle Dramatic Club and will receive his charm in May.

As will be remembered, Mr. Covington is an old Ogden man, who always played a prominent part in athletic and dramatic activities of the colleg and we congratulate him upon his high standing at Princeton.

THE VALUE OF INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATING.

No college can be a modern up-to-date college without a debating team. If this deliberating group is lacking it is a college which is not upholding a high standard; it is not keeping abreast of the advancing age.

Debating in any form is of inestimable value to those participating in the debates and also to the audience. Men learn only by doing or listening to others. In debates the debaters are kept constantly on the alert and must be ready at all times to refute arguments of their opponents. Most of our great orators and statesmen began debating while in school. This debating gave them the poise, the ease of speech and the alert mind, which now marks them as great men.

Speaking in public enables a man to understand his fellowmen more clearly, he feels more at home with them. A man who can speak in public with eloquence and dignity is always a leader in a common conversation. It helps him in his command of words, to shape his thoughts with these words and it enables him to think quickly.

Inter-collegiate debates tends to keep up the spirit of the two emulous schools. If there is anything that tends to make the school drag and every activity about it dull it is the lack of school spirit. Inter-collegiate debating strengthens both colleges. The student body of each school becomes more familiar with each other and a better understanding and a more equal footing is obtained by each college.

It is good to have a change from the ordinary routine of school activities. And for this alternation nothing could be better than a friendly debate with a neighbor college.

PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENTS OF OGDEN.

Ogden College has taken many progressive steps in the past year. The entire school has been placed on a systematic working basis. A marked change is noted in athletics. All current debts are met promptly and back debts are paid as soon as possible. An entirely different spirit from that of former years prevails in the athletic activities of the college. Whenever her team plays they make the name for themselves of being the cleanest, hardest playing team in the state. The spirit of fairness is prevalent on every side.

The course of study has been rearranged and strengthened by the addition of new courses. The preparatory course has been strengthened by the addition of High School Chemistry. The college course now leads to either of the two degrees, Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. The courses in this department have been improved by Organic Chemistry, College Physics, Quantitative Analysis and Astronomy. The character of the work now being done in the school is of far higher grade than that of previous years. In adding these courses more instructors were needed and assistants were selected to take some of these classes.

Although many progressive steps have been taken recently at Ogden, there are still many crying needs to be filled. The strengthening of the course, and raising the standards of the school have so increased the student body that the present faculty and equipment cannot accommodate them. A new building, several new teachers, as well as an increased library are needed.

These additions to the college are necessary for the future growth of Ogden. In order to procure these, more money will be needed. The logical way to obtain this money is through an endowment campaign. If Ogden is to progress and her students are to enjoy the advantages due them, the progressive steps taken in recent months must be continued until the college reaches the high place in the educational world which she deserves so richly to occupy.

"TRACK."

Now that the basketball season is about over, interest in track is being manifested everywhere about the college. A number of the students have started training under Coach Irwin and he states that he will be able to develop a worthy aggregation by the time the schedule opens.

VISITOR AT CHAPEL.

If there is one thing that pleases the faculty and student body of Ogden College, it is to have one of her disitnguished sons return to the "old nest" with a message of hope and cheer for everyone and a burning ambition for the future success of Ogden.

Just such an individual visited our chapel on Friday, March 3, in the person of Rev. Samuel S. Daugherty, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Harrodsburg, Ky. His subject was "Measurements." In his talk he said: "You cannot measure a man by his height nor weight, his gold nor his silver, nor any of his tangible possessions. The only way to measure a man is by his influence. He who looks upon man of prayer as a sissy has not the first conception of manhood. The greatest men of the world, the men whose influences have counted most in the progress of civilization have been men of prayer."

Reverend Daugherty closed his address by pointing out the great advantages at the disposal of the students of Ogden College, and expressed his hopes that Ogden would turn out many great men in the future as she has done in the past.

Note to readers: The Cardinal does not give entirely all the credit to itself when talking in favor of the pen. We acknowledge there are a few others who can use it also. We don't want to appear a bit selfish. "Now, ain't we nice?"

EXCHANGES.

The Cardinal Exchange Department is pleased in receiving the following exchanges, and we hope the list will grow with each issue:

The Peabody Volunteer, Nashville, Tenn. The largest of our exchanges. It is very much like a regular newspaper.

The Cumberland Echo, Williamsburg, K. A snappy little paper. Your articles are well arranged.

The Bethel Messenger, McKenzie, Tenn. An interesting paper. We like your poetry very much.

The Bethel Collegian, Russellville, Ky. A good paper, but don't you think a story now and then would add to it?

Hi-Times, Franklin, Ky. A peppy little paper. All your departments are well developed.

The Kenutcky Cardinal, University of Louisville. A splendid paper. We enjoy it very much. It's cover design is very attractive and is similar to a regular magazine.

A FRESHMAN'S DIARY.

October 3.—S. P. U. beat us, 27 to 0. The mule was kicking highly. Also Professor Palmers Ford had a fit. He and Professor Ayres spent the day going down. They had the right spirit, but the wrong car.

October 4.—My teachers are too hard boiled to suit me. I like a teacher who is easy to please.

October 5.—Caught thunder today. Professor Palmer saw me with a chorus girl last night and roasted me good.

October 6.—I feel mighty honored. I was allowed to help a bunch of good fellows remove a poor "prunes" trousers.

October 17.—Saw a great football game. Almost wished that I had gone out. We played Hogensville and beat them to the tune of 13 to 0.

October 10.—I blew up a hydrogen generator on the "lab" today and was sent to the office. I tell you, Doc. was sore.

October 11.—I really passed a test. Made 67. That's one over passing. Am feeling fine about it.

October 12.—I am highly elected with my powers. I was asked to referee a dice game today, but a funny guy called Fitch had to go and bust it up. Some guys don't know to act, anyway.

October 13.—Very unluckey—got two goose eggs and one demerit. I got the goose eggs because I did not know my lessons and got the demerit because I accidentally cussed before Doc. Oh, well I guess I can last the year out.

October 14.—The team went to Morgan School today. Guess Ward Sumpter will give us the dope on it Monday and John Hill will tell us how he outplayed the whole team.

"DUTCH."

LEST WE FORGET.

1. Longfellow could take a sheet of paper worth one-tenth of a cent, write a poem on it and make it worth $5,000. That's genius.

2. Rockefeller could take a similar piece of paper, write a few words on it and make it worth $10,000,000. That's capital.

3. The U. S. Government can take an ounce and a fraction of gold, stamp the eagle on it and make it worth $20. That's money.

4. A skilled workman can take 30 cents' worth of steel, make it into watch springs and make it worth $8,000. That's skill.

5. A merchant can take an article that cost him 90 cents and sell it for $1. That's business.

6. A woman can buy a good hat for $10, but prefers one that costs $100. That's foolishness.

7. A miner can dig a ton of coal for less than we would wish to. That's labor.

8. The man that wrote this article can write a check for $1,000,000, but it wouldn't be worth 30 cents. That's tough.

9. There are people who will tell you that you can get as much out of life in other ways as you can by attending to your work. That's wrong.

10. The only way to get anything or anywhere in this world, folks, is to work hard and to the best of your ability. Don't forget that your work, whether good, bad or indifferent, will be recognized. That's right.—Ex.
