 * FOUNDER'S DAY NEXT *
 * WEEK. *
 * Friday April 7 being Foun- *
 * der's day, there will be no *
 * school on that day. This time *
 * has been set aside by the trustees *
 * in order that some honor might *
 * be paid the name of the man *
 * that this institution possible. *
 * However, it is usually the cus- * * tom to pass over the day thought- *
 * lessly, forgetting the real mean- * * ing of the holiday, and accepting *
 * this cessation from work as a * * matter of course. To get into * * the spirit of the day, we should *
 * at least have some form of spe- * * cial chapel exercise next week. *
 * We should place the apostrophe *
 * in Founder's behind the s and *
 * not only commemorate the name *
 * of Major Ogden, but also the * * names of those who struggled to * * place the college on the firm *
 * foundation that it now enjoys. *
 * By this I mean Rev. J. W. *
 * Wightman, the first president of *
 * the college; Major W. A. Oben- * * chain, the president for twenty- *
 * three years; Major John E. Rob- * * inson, the endower of the Chair *

 * Hector V. Loving, the first re- * * gent of the college, and the late * * Senator D. W. Wright, the re- *

 * seems as if this rather liberal *
 * translation of Founder's Day *
 * fits in nicely with the spirit of *

The Ogden Bible Class of the West-minister Presbyterian Church extends a hearty invitation to any Ogden student that does not attend Sunday school elsewhere to meet with them on Sunday mornings at 9.45.
 As Dr. Edgerton teaches this class, we are sure that you will enjoy the lesson very much.

END OF THIRD QUARTER.

The end of the third quarter was marked by the appearance of relieved expressions on the faces of students last Friday. The week of examination passed off quietly, and every one is now ready for the final quarter of this year's work.

PREP DEBATE POSTPONED.

The Preps' debate and oratorical contest with Franklin High School has been postponed until March 7 on account of sickness in the Franklin schools. The Ogden team is prepared to give Franklin a hard race for the decision.

OGDEN MAN HONORED.

Edgar Osborne, the holder of last year's Ogden Medal, has been highly honored by being selected as one of the team of three that is to represent the Coreco Society of the Bowling Green Business University in their annual debate with the Big Fours. This is the second Ogden man to hold a position on one of these teams within the last three years, and considering the large student body of the B. U., it is no wonder that we look to them with pride.

INTER-DEPARTMENTAL BASEBALL.

Last Thursday afternoon the Preps defeated the College boys in a baseball game with a score of 14 to 13. A very slow game became very interesting when the College men awoke from their afternoon nap and tied the talley at 12 and in the ninth inning. In the tenth inning, the Preps brought in two more points and then held the upper classmen to one run.

New stars brought to light during the game were Egg Adsit, the spectacular volunteer catcher, and Eddie Stout, the star first baseman of the day. The game also had its funny side, and the casual observer might have been inclined to laugh when Doug Smith lost his temper in the fifth inning because base umpire Sigmier called a Prep out at first.

From the excitement caused by this clash, it is evident that the College men are intending to retrieve their lost honors by playing another game in the near future. Take it from me, it will be worth seeing.

A SPECTATOR.

LITERARY ACTIVITIES.

Senior Society.

The team to represent Ogden in the debate with S. P. U., April 21, will be selected from this society as soon as the try-outs are completed. Everything indicates that we shall have a strong team this year.

Obenchain Society.

Since the team that is to represent the Preparatory Department in their debate with Franklin High has been chosen, the majority of the members are enjoying a well-earned vacation. Last week's meeting was devoted to a number of short talks on subjects of interest to every Ogden boy, and several new speakers were brought to light in the Freshman Class.

Adsit: "I would like to try that suit on in the window."

Clerk: "Sorry, but you will have to use the dressing room."

UNCONSCIOUS KNOCKERS.

When asked if we have any knockers at Ogden, we promptly answer in the negative, because Ogden enjoys the reputation of having a very loyal group of students. When they fail to be loyal, in some mysterious manner, they soon fail to be students. However, almost every one of you has been a knocker at some time or other. You are not chronic kickers, but you are unconscious knockers.

Do you remember the story that you told down at Sally So and So's party, about how you put a mule up on the cupalo, and how wild-eyed she (Sally, not the mule) was while you were busy telling about it? Do you know that your apparently innocent exaggeration started a little smudge against the name of the college? You probably do not, and nine times out of ten you will be tempted to tell the ladies about some more of your murderous experiences if you have the opportunity. Students are just like sailors, soldiers or men of other professions. When they get together they try to tell a bigger yarn than the other fellow can think of. But it is a remarkable coincidence that the boys who try to appear so wild and bold before the ladies are usually the most innocent students in the college. That is what I mean by unconscious knockers.

We should be careful in what we say before outsiders, because they might not exactly understand our attitude. One time, several years ago, a man made some uncomplimentary remarks about a competitor. The hearer took it to heart and began telling it to any who cared to hear it, and the result was that people mistrusted the man until he was forced out of business. Now, we can apply that story to our own institution. We can either make or wreck our school. Which are we going to do? Remain unconscious knockers or bury our hammers and become conscious boosters?

PRELIMINARY FIELD MEET.

The preliminary field meet was held last Friday afternoon at the Athletic Field with three teams competing for the honors. The College and Prep Departments each had a strong representation, while the third team was composed of former Ogden students and downtown boys who went under the rather high-sounding name of "All Stars." This last team won the meet with a total of thirty-six points, while the Preps came in next with thirty-two and the College men, and their affectionate jinx, came in with a score of thirty-five points. The College team was running with a comfortable margin until some misunderstanding of the rules caused them to take third place.

Only two of last year's records were broken, but considering the condition of the field and the training of the contestants, the results were better than might have been expected. The winners and results of the different events are as follows:

100-yard dash, H. Holland (Prep.), 11.1 seconds.

Running high jump—Tichenor (Col.) Greaves (A. S.), tie, 4 feet 11 inches.

880-yard dash—L. Holland (Col.), 2 minutes 27.1 seconds.

50-yard dash—H. Holland (Prep.), 5 seconds.

Running broad jump—Greaves (A. S.) 16 feet 8 inches.

Shot put—Pitchford (A. S.), 33 feet 4 inches.

Pole vault—Greaves (A.S.), Houser (Prep.) tie, 7 feet 4 inches.

Relay race, 880-yards — Preps 1 minute 53.3 seconds.

Standing board jump—Logan (Prep.), 9 feet 5 inches.

40-yard dash—L. Holland (Col.), 63 seconds.

Standing high—Greaves (A. S.), 3 feet 11 inches.

L. Holland beat his last year's record in the 440-yard dash by four seconds, while Kirby broke the college record of 32 feet 1 inch for the shot put by making a gain of three inches.

The next meet will be a handicap meet where all the winners in last week's meet will be under some sort of handicap while participating in the events. This will take place next Friday, and the team to represent Ogden in the meet with S. P. U. will probably be chosen soon afterward.

EXCHANGES.

The Exchange Department has proved to be one of the most valuable assets of the Cardinal. We are pleased in receiving the following:

The Washington Collegian, Chestertown, Md.—A very fine paper. Thanks for the criticism. We need it.

The Peabody Volunteer, Nashville, Tenn.—One of our best. The account of that "basketball game" deserves special mention.

The Cumberland Echo, Williamsburg, Ky.—A snappy little paper. Don't fail to send us the next issue.

Franklin Hi-Times, Franklin, Ky.—Your joke department is the best ever.

CAN YOU TELL?

When the English tongue we speak, "Why is 'break' not rhymed with 'freak'?"

Will you tell me why it's true We say "sew," but likewise "few," And the fashioner of verse Cannot cap his "horse" with "worse."

"Beard" sounds not the same as "heard,"

"Cord" is different from "word," "Cow" is cow, but "low" is low; "Shoe" is never rhymed with "foe." Think of "hose" and "dose" and "lose,"

And of "goods" and also "choose." Think of "comb" and "tomb" and "bomb,"

"Doll" and "roll" and "home" and "some."

And since "pay" is rhymed with "say,"

Why not "paid" with "said," I pray?

We have "blood" and "food" and "good."

"Mould" is not pronounced like "could."

Wherefore "done," but "gone" and "lone?"

Is there any reason known?

Work was begun last Monday on the sagegrass and wild onions that have infested our campus for the last few years, and the place is already taking on a different aspect. We are glad that our spacious "front yard" is to be restored to the beauty that it once enjoyed.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

The baccalaureate sermon is to be preached by Dr. John L. Caldwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, at that church on the night of May 28. The invitations are now being engraved and will soon be ready for mailing.

The following clipping is from the Park City Daily News, and was written by Douglas Dawson, who will be remembered as a member of last year's Senior Prep class.

The Boy Who Roamed.

Sitting here in my bedroom
A thousand miles from home,
I see again in my visions
The boy who wanted to roam.

The boy who grew weary of waiting
For the dawn of that bright day
When as a man with an education
He could begin life's trying way.

I see him now as I saw him then,
A lad in his twentieth year,
Ready and eager to break from home
And all things that men hold dear.

The rebuke of a loving father
Fell on the ear that was deaf,
So opportunity was cast aside,
College and home were left.

I see him now as I saw him
The day that he said good-bye,
Misguided by the hopes of youth
Which the world soon gave the lie.

And so from a life in college,
Out of a home of bliss,
He entered a world of hardships
Where only the brave can exist.

But now that he's become acquainted
To life's hard daily grind,
He realizes the advantages
Of the things he left behind.

I know that though he may never Again with his classmates stand;
That if he succeeds in the outside world,
He has proved himself a man.

BLINDNESS.

We are all blind until we see
That, in the human plan
Nothing is worth the making,
If it does not make the man.
Why build these cities glorious
If man unbuilt goes?
In vain we build the world unless.
The builder also grows.

CORRECT.

Professor: "Parse 'kiss.'"
Student: "'Kiss' is a noun; generally used as a conjunction. It is never declined. It is not singular, and is usually used in the plural. It agrees with me, and is more common than proper."
