SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION AGAIN RECOGNIZES PREPS

The following letter was received by Dr. Edgerton last week:

"My dear Sir:

"At the regular meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Preparatory schools held in New Orleans last week, your academic department was continued another year as an accredited school of the Southern Association.

"With best wishes, I remain,"

"Mo't sincerely yours,

"McHENRY RHoads,

"Chairman"

From this, you see that the graduates of the Prep Department of our schools may enter any college in the Southern Association without examination. This is an honor which our lower department has maintained since 1913.

1922 FOOTBALL

LETTER MEN

As is the custom at Ogden, the football men who rendered especially noticeable service to the institution during the past football season will receive the honorary O. The order for these honors has been placed for some time but they have not yet been presented. The men who will be awarded these letters are: Porter, Gilliam, McGlinley, Cole, Smith, J., Houser, Shelton, Fitch, Pickles, Williams, Hill, Thomas, Thornton. Several other men were in line for letter but were forced to give up the game before they had complete all the require-

NEW PRESIDENT AT ODGEN

At chapel this morning a bomb shell was dropped in our midst. After the reading of the Scriptures, Dr. Edgerton announced that it was his last time with us. Then he said a few appropriate things. But nothing that he or anyone could say could fill up the void that he had left in our lives. For the last two and a half years he has been the inspiration of the whole student body. As he goes on, I am sure that the entire assembly will follow him.

Then our Regent, Mr. Thomas, in a forceful speech, introduced the new man. He said that he was sure that the loyalty of the students would be with him in all that he undertook to do. And that loyalty was what counted in the long run. Then he presented the new man.

But he is not a new man. He is an old Ogden student. He graduated from this institution, then from Yale. After that Mr. Whittle taught for a year at his Alma Mater. So we see that is familiar with the life of the school. We feel that it is quite an honor for an old student to receive the presidency of the school.

The encouraging thing about the future is that there is so much of it.

THE BEGGAR'S PRAYER

I'm only part a man, misshapen, slouched,
I'm just a shriveled cripple thing, and queer.
The men they laugh at me, and have no fear
Of such as I, poor filthy creature, crouched
Beneath this gilded brazen minaret,
High flung in scorn above my lowly ear.
The women they draw close their silks, and peer,
But shudder, yes, even you gay grisette,
Oh God, forgive them this, forgive the toil
Of jeers, the thoughtless mirth, for they forget,
This homeless multitude, a human soul,
A throbbing heart that fills in vain regret
Beneath this wrinkled skin, these ragged rags of mine—
Though they forget, remembrance shall be Thine.

NEW EDITOR ELECTION

On account of an increase in his courses, Mr. Temple, our former editor-in-chief, was forced to give up his position. Mr. Lashmit, who up to this time has served as associate editor, was appointed to take his place, and Mr. Thomas was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the shifting of Mr. Lashmit. Mr. Lashmit has served faithfully this year and took charge of the paper during the football season. There is no doubt but what he will make a success in his new position. Mr. Temple will continue on the staff as contributing editor.
THE TREES ON OGDEN COLLEGE CAMPUS

The largest and most beautiful trees in the town of Bowling Green are probably situated on the spacious campus of Ogden College. These trees are not only abundant leaf producers and a hardy specimen of their kind, but are also very beautiful in shape, size and situation.

One does not realize the amount of time and labor, not to speak of money, which must have been put into the importing, planting, caring for, and trimming of these trees before they grew to be what they are today.

To name all the various specimens on the whole campus, of which there are sixty different varieties, and really do the trees as well as the campus justice, would be a preposterous task.

There are trees here from nearly every country in the world, besides numerous highly prized specimens of our own land. In addition to the common varieties a few among the uncommon are the Judas, the Magnolia, the Japanese, and the Linden.

Furthermore, the atmosphere of peace and quietude and rustic effect made by the trees, which reigns thru the grounds, is the best inspiration in this wide world for the growing, learning minds of the students of Ogden College. As Joyce Kilmer said:

"I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth’s sweet flowing breast.
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in Summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain. Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.
H. H. EDGERTON, 1926

BASKETBALL NEWS

Since the last issue of the paper the basketball teams have been unusually busy and have succeeded in chalking up a number of well won victories in their credit.

The first and second Prep teams defeated the representatives of the Scottsville High School by large scores.

These teams also defeated the first and second teams of Memorial High School at Camner, Kentucky, week before last. These scores were very much closer than any of the seasons games games and the games were above the average when it came to fast playing.

The night before the Christmas vacation, the Prep seconds defeated the Woodburn High Varsity to the tune of 20 to 5. The midgets are just about as good as the Varsity squads when it comes to playing, but their size makes the difference.

RUSSIAN RELIEF CONTRIBUTION RECEIVED

The following letter was received by Dr. Edgerton last week:
"My dear Dr. Edgerton,

"Your second subscription for the little Russian children has just come in and I wish at once to thank you for this warm response to our appeal. I hope you'll convey to all of the students our very deep gratitude for this gift which means life to six little children during the coming month. It is a very fine thing that your students are doing and one which I am sure predicts much for a world of sympathy and understanding in the future.

The latest reports from Russia of which you have doubtless seen some in the press, stating that the famine situation is worse than expected and that people are dropping dead in the streets from cold, are not very encouraging. However, much is hoped for through the response of sympathetic America. Whenever your students are able to send more either in funds or clothing, it will be most gratefully received here.

"Thanking you for your very warm sympathy and help, I am,

"Sincerely yours,

"PAXTON HIBBEN,
"Executive Secretary"

When this letter was read before the student body, it was decided that a box of discarded clothing would be the next contribution from the College. Mr. Hill was appointed to look after this feature and he has already collected things to fill a good sized box. The student body of Ogden is to be congratulated upon taking such a firm hold on the situation and we all have found that it is a great deal better to give than to receive.

THE CARDINAL

ENGLISH

At the bottom of all of our dealing with man lies English. I know that that is a pretty broad statement, but it is true nevertheless. This was just as true six thousand years ago as it is today. Can anyone imagine a man trading a flint to another man without the medium of language?

And yet with all this background of reason, there are people that don't want to study English. They advance the argument that they can pick up enough to slide thru the world on. They are absolutely correct. Then can. But, every day some one is judging you by the English that you use. Out in the world you don't have to hand in an examination paper. But you are being graded nevertheless. And the grades you receive are far stricter than those you kick about at school.

You may not realize it, but every day and every place that you go you are being watched. You are not only being watched, you are being compared. And practically everything you do either counts for or against you. So, when you apply for a job, the man you see either knows a lot about you or he can find out very easily. The chief method of learning the ways and habits of a boy is thru his speech. That may sound like a foolish statement, but it is the method of most of the men that really amount to something.

So its up to you to buckle in and get all the English that you can possibly get. It is the one subject that you can't get too much of. In doing this, you are not only heightening the opinions of the men that you meet, but you are better preparing yourselves for your coming fight with this world.
A REVOLUTION

I see in the future of Ogden a necessity in the change of the order of things. We have been talking and thinking too much about what Ogden has done in the past, but what of the future? We can not stand still, we are losing ground or we are gaining ground. Ogden is losing students every year, putting out a losing football team, and it has not got the town behind it. What we need is some athletes that will let Bowling Green know that Ogden is still on the map and going forward.

We need the support of the Trustees in athletics. Without it, Ogden is doomed and from year to year we will see that Ogden, the school we love, is slipping and losing ground. There is one institution in the city that has a wonderful football team, next year, they will have a better one. They are on the upward path. Another local institution will soon have a large gym and a paid coach to stay there the year round. They have also seen the light of a new day, and are pushing forward. Now, we come to Ogden again. It is still the old cry of money, money, with it we can do wonders, without it we can continue to put out losing football teams. Any dead fish can float down stream, but it takes a live one to go up. Come on Ogden. Push hard and work, let's go upstream.

ments. Eisenhart and Kinslow did not play in enough games to make their letter, but in view of their faithful service the Athletic Association has decided to ward them the O. A. A. Temple also receives an O for his services as football manager.

IDLER’S CORNER

Daughter—"Yes, but look what she caught."

"I may not have anything for a rainy day," said the old Geezer, "but I got a little for these dry days."

'Tis True

Love is like an onion,
We taste it with delight.
But when its gone we wonder
What ever made us bite.

For an hour Professor Lee had dwelt with painful repetition on the part played by carbohydrates, proteins, and fats in building up and maintaining the human body. At the end of the lesson, the usual question was asked:

"Can anyone tell me the three requirements to perfect health?"

"Yes, sir," said Welles, "they are: breakfast, dinner, and supper."

On mules we find
Two legs behind—
Two we find before.

We stand behind
Before we find
What the two behind be for.
