CARDINAL WILL DECIDE LONG DEBATED QUESTION

Ogden Gives Radio Program

Students and Friends Give Delightful Program from Station WNAB to Boost Building Campaign

Wednesday night Ogden pulled a good stunt to help the campaign along by having an Ogden night at the radio broadcasting station WNAB, through the courtesy of Mr. Riley, of the Park City Daily News.

The program was started by a piano solo by Miss Mary Ann Jones. This was followed by two selections by our well-known violinist, Lawrence Duncan, accompanied by Miss Mary Baker Jones. It was impossible for several members of the Ogden Orchestra to be present, so it was necessary to rush in Ben Wilkin's Orchestra, who proceeded to render a few popular songs. This was followed by speeches by Mr. McElroy and Kinslow, regarding the Ogden campaign, and the program was closed by the Ogden Alma Mater.

Washington Lee Swing

There will be a full program given Monday night by the Ogden Orchestra which we hope will meet with even more approval than the first Ogden program.

$5.00 REWARD

The Cardinal offers a reward of five dollars for any information that will lead to the identification of the thief who stole the twenty-five dollars belonging to the Prep Senior class last week. Any one wishing to give any information on the matter, please see the Editor-in-Chief. It is your duty for the honor of the school to tell what YOU know.

Ogden Campaign Goes Over Top

Snell's Gifts of $20,000.00 is Assured by Liberal Response: New Building, Extra Prof. Other Improvements Now on Way

Detailed Report

Raised by Students $ 4,180.50
Raised by Workers $ 16,125.00
Total $ 20,305.50

There is no doubt but what Ogden is appreciated by the Bowling Green people. The success of the campaign proves this statement. The ease with which the fifteen thousand mark was reached and passed indicates that there is more where that came from if old Ogden needs it.

The business men were the ones who did the work. There were several teams in the field and the rivalry between these groups made things interesting. Mr. Mosely's team was unusually active. The first day's work netted nearly six thousand.

One of the things that caused Bowling Green to respond so liberally was the fact that the Ogden boys had contributed over one-fourth of the amount. This was indeed a great help and the determination of the students to make the Snell offer of $70,000 available is, by many, credited as the cause of the splendid success.

Of course we are to have the new building. Work will be started immediately and although it will not be completed by next term, it is more than likely that we will move in by the Christmas holidays. The completion of this building and the other improvements that are to be made will cause an ancient dream to come true and will start several new dreams. However, there are other additions to our little school that will not be so long in coming.

Who's Who in Ogden?

In order to keep certain members of the student body from coming to blows, the Cardinal has decided to hold a popularity contest.

All you need to do in order to vote is to mark the following ballot with the names of the men you think will fill the bill, and drop your ballot in the Cardinal box. The final result will be announced to the waiting world in the final edition of the Cardinal.

A wonderful list of prizes has been arranged, headed by a fur-lined bathtub, which will be awarded to the winners.

Clip your ballot now, and vote. Do it now.

To be voted and deposited in the Cardinal Box outside the Cardinal office in the near future. This ballot will be reprinted in the next edition. (Write name of candidate on dotted line.)

BETHEL, LET'S SHAKE!

THE resumption of athletic relations with Bethel is hailed with delight by the entire Ogden student body and it is this spirit that shows with what regard the present students hold an athletic program that involves an eternal squabble with the colleges in the surrounding territory.

The students are to be congratulated on their attitude and the Athletic Association is to be complimented on its action. There is no doubt but what the move is for the best.

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM

OUR little paper has been the object of a great deal of criticism lately. But since most of this talk comes from students who have never contributed an article and have not paid their subscriptions, it is not given much thought. However, we are open to criticism when it is constructive criticism. We believe that the right way is for you to hand in something better than that we are publishing. Let's heard from you.

LET'S BOOST OUR ORCHESTRA

IT certainly is a shame that the orchestra has to import a new group of musicians every time they want to put on a program. It looks as if the school talent would support Manager Sledge more than they do. We object to "ringers" on the athletic teams. Why don't we object to ringers on the orchestra? Of course, if the school cannot provide the necessary material, it is perfectly all right to get outside help, and there is no doubt but what it is appreciated. However, there is also no doubt but what the Ogden boys appreciate what talent we have ourselves more than the best that the town can provide.

WE ARE DISGRACED

OGDEN'S school spirit, which we are so proud of, has come to a disgraceful point when money is stolen in the buildings. I am referring to the twenty-five dollars that was stolen from Mr. Carmichael last week. What do you think about it? What are you going to do about it?

In my several years' experience as an Ogden student, there has been only one thief in the school and he was forced to leave rather hurriedly. Let's have some co-operation on the matter.

CARDINAL POPULARITY CONTEST

THERE has been a great deal of doubt among the members of the Cardinal staff as to Who's Who in Ogden. In order to keep certain members from coming to blows, the management has decided to hold an election among the student body.

The ballots are to be run in the next two issues of the Cardinal. They are to be answered at once. Just fold your answers and drop them in the Cardinal box. The final results of this terrific contest are to be printed in the last edition of the paper.

Now, fellows, don't fail us. You want to know the answers to these all-important questions. We know that the professors will be vitally interested, as the results will help them to make up their grades. But more than that, we are sure that you too will be interested. For if you know the answers to these things, you can more nearly figure out your status in the life of old Ogden.

So come on, fellows, fill out the blanks as soon as you can find the person that you think most nearly fills the description.

The man who has his name on the list the most times will be awarded the fur-lined bathtub, while the prettiest boy will get the cast iron powder puff.

ATHLETIC RELATIONS ARE RESUMED WITH BETHEL

OGDEN ATHLETICS

By Jimmie Chandler: Athletic Editor

The other morning at chapel, Douglas Smith resigned as the manager of our baseball team. We all hate to see "Doug" stop, but it was considered best for a player to devote all his time to the game and let some one else do the managing. This being the case, Estill Mansfield was unanimously elected to succeed "Doug." We are sure that "Pap" will make a success in his new position.

There is a need at Ogden for a tennis manager. It seems that several men just took it into their own hands to run matters. There is an athletic association at school, if anyone should ask you, and this matter should be voted on by the association. If this body thinks it best for the school to take up the sport, it should then be presented to the students at some chapel meeting designated by the President and then a manager for the sport be elected.

At the present time six games of football have been closed for next year. The other games pending will probably be Bell, St. Mary's, Bethel and Morton Elliott. It is doubtful, however, if we will be able to play Morton Elliott. There has been a change of management at this school and the athletic director does not want to go on his own responsibility to close a game. We have played Morton Elliott many years and it is hoped we may continue our pleasant athletic relationship.

After Two Years Lapse, Ogden College Buries Hatchet with Old Rival: Two Baseball Games to be Played In near Future with Bethel College

SCHOOL PLEASSED WITH ACTION

After a two-year break in athletic relations with Ogden's one-time rival, Manager Estell Mansfield announces that he has closed two dates for baseball games, the first to be played at Russellville, April 28, and the second, on May 8, at Ogden. It is expected, too, that the football teams of the two schools will come together next fall.

Bethel and Ogden fell out over a football squabble in 1920, when Bethel refused to come to Ogden for the annual Thanksgiving grid classic.

Molehill grievances became mountain high. All our so-called grounds of disagreement became to both schools as the Rocky Mountains must appear to an ant. In a moment of heat, there seemed to be a thousand reasons for the break, and none for reconciliation. So the break came.

But now that time has vanished the unscalable heights, Bethel and Ogden again stand face to face.

The Cardinal looks on the scene of the little misunderstanding, and laughs at the utter absurdity of the matter. It was childish, but it did not seem so then.

It is hoped that in the future the two schools will meet each other on the same basis as before. The mark of a football player at Ogden is, have you ever played against Bethel? If he has, he is considered good, if not, just ordinary. So for the good of the old Ogden tradition, it is hoped that in the future we will be able to avoid all such squabbles and can play the grand old games in a true sportsman-like manner.

TENNIS MAY BECOME MAJOR SPORT HERE

Business Collegians Now Match for Ogden Nine; Game is Filled with Thrills; Logan Out With Broken Finger

Tennis is not usually on the Ogden calendar, but it is very probable that we will stage a tournament in that game with our old friends, Southwestern Presbyterian University, if present plans go through. The truth of the whole matter, as stated by Mr. Sledge, is that they want to defeat us in tennis as well as the other sports, and have offered to send their racquet artists to Bowling Green on May 19, provided our experts will return the visit the next Saturday. They will play off both singles and doubles.

It will certainly be hard for anyone to get a line on our chances in this contest, as not much is known about the stars in the game who are now in school. However, Ogden has always given the Tennessee school an interesting contest and the Cardinal has not the slightest doubt but that we can give them a good fight in the new venture.

DO NOT DELAY!
TIME IS VALUABLE.

All men who will try out for the college tennis team see Mr. Sledge at once and get your name on the list for the team which we hope to be the first to beat S. P. U. in a sport.

Ogden Defeats B.G.B.U. In Close Contest

Plans Now Underway for Tournament with Southwestern Presbyterians: Players Asked to Report

In one of the best games of the season the Ogden varsity defeated the strong Bowling Green Business University team by the score of nine to seven. Noe was the star for the business boys; in one inning he made three catches in right field, thus giving Ogden three outs. He also brought in one run. Murray for B. G. B. U. made one very nice hit for a three-bagger. This was, however, covered by Evans, of Ogden, for the second three-bagger of the game. For Ogden two batteries were used, Rice and Logan were used most of the game, but Logan was hit by a ball and his finger was broken. This battery was replaced by Fand and "Doug" Smith, who showed up very well indeed. Ogden has uncovered one very heavy hitter this season in McGinley. He made the good record of getting a clean hit every time he went to bat. Ogden's outfield was guilty of several errors, but the infield did some very nice work. They were not stainless though, for they too had several errors to live down. They did this by showing some very nice team work. Several times during the game Ogden made double plays. The Varsity journeyed to Gallatin April 20, to play Gallatin Private Institute. Fant is to be on the rubber.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Ogden	0	1	2	0	2	2	0	2	0	9	14	3
B. G. B. U.	1	1	1	0	1	0	2	0	1	7	9	6

Assault Charge out Against H. Lindsay

Dillard Williams, well-known junior, has charged Harold Lindsay with assault and battery, and is threatening to have him arrested. The friends of Mr. Lindsay have been endeavoring to keep the matter quiet, but the Cardinal attempts to keep faith with its readers and always prints the truth.

It seems as if Mr. Lindsay and Mr. Williams were returning from a class last Wednesday morning when Mr. Williams, who has been training with Mr. Harris lately, made a flying leap upon the back of Mr. Lindsay. The latter was taken by surprise and was unable to defend himself as easily as if they had been on more equal terms and had to resort to a "hammerlock."

This method very near proved the end of Mr. Williams. When the vise-like arm of his opponent closed around his wind-pipe he was unable to say what he meant and was very near choked to death. However, several bystanders separated the combatants before any serious damage was done. It is not known whether Mr. Williams will bring the case to trial or not, but present facts indicate that he is anxious to keep the matter as quiet as possible.

History of Ogden

The course of study is limited to those subjects which can be taught with honesty and with thoroughness and which experience has proven to be the best for mental development. Accurate scholarship is rigidly required and correct habits of study, high ideals and useful purposes in life are constantly urged. The student who is to win the mastery in the competition of life must be thorough. He cannot afford to attempt so wide a range of subjects that he will skim the surface, serenely unconscious of the depths below, according to the Ogden idea.

The number admitted is limited to those who can secure the individual attention and personal contact between student and teacher so essential to the best educational results. The disposition and character of each student is carefully studied, and he receives such individual attention as is necessary in developing character and mind. The fact cannot be ignored that every individual in a school has a distinct personality that must be taken into consideration.

Hi-y Club Year Soon to Close

Ogden Circuit Court May Be Called to Decide Charges Growing out of Encounter

The Hi-Y Club is to disband after two more meetings as school will be almost out by that time. The club has had an unusually successful year. In fact, it was the only one of the group of new organizations that sprang up at the beginning of the year that came through alive. The Hi-Y is not only alive but is one of the healthiest and strongest organizations in the school.

Much credit goes to Secretary Wulfeck who worked so hard and faithfully in order that the club's plans might be carried out. Mr. Wulfeck is highly pleased with the showing the club made this year and is ready to start work next fall.

The club's work has embraced a great many things of interest to the average college boy and the talks and discussions on the different subjects have made a marked impression on several of the members. There is no doubt but what the fellowship that is gained in the Hi-Y is one of the best features of Ogden's social life.

The Hi-Y members are planning a Penny Social which will be staged in the near future in order that they may make some donation to the Athletic Association which is now back to normalcy (in debt). The plans have not been completed as yet, but the affair promises to be one of the most novel and interesting events of the year.

Shade Almost Cuts Throat

A great deal of excitement was caused on the campus last Wednesday when Walter Schade, the well-known Senior Prep, had his grin temporarily dearranged when he fell on the stone steps leading into the main building and cut his leg. Mr. Schade was immediately rushed to the doctor where his wound was found to be almost insignificant.

Excitement ran at fever heat at the college. First, the boys who were not fortunate enough to witness the accident, were greeted with the announcement that our young friend had cut his throat. Then it was noised about that an artery had been severed and that the boy scout training of some of the bystanders was all that saved Mr. Schade from an untimely end. Still another informant had it that six stitches were necessary before the wound could be closed.
