BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Beulah Ethel Morgan, the daughter of John James Morgan (1849-1923) and Virginia Ann Oliver (1861-1909), was born in Graves County, Kentucky on 13 April 1894. She was educated in county schools, Mayfield High School, Western Kentucky State Normal School (now WKU), Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, and the Bowling Green College of Commerce. She taught school in Cuba, Kentucky and gave private classes in music, art and expression in Mayfield.

On 16 August 1917 Beulah married Bert Raldon Smith (1885-1961), who was then a school principal in Owensboro, Kentucky. They were the parents of two sons, Raldon Morgan Smith (1919-1985), an engineer, and Charles Burnett Smith (1923-1999), a psychiatrist. After Charles's birth in 1923, they moved from Nashville, where Bert was on the Peabody College faculty, to Bowling Green, Kentucky. Bert joined the faculty of the Western Kentucky State Normal School and Teachers College, where he would serve until his retirement in 1955.

At age 15, Beulah had lost her mother to tuberculosis (her grandmother also suffered from the disease), and in Bowling Green she helped to organize the Bowling Green-Warren County Tuberculosis Association, leading a movement to educate citizens about the prevention and detection of tuberculosis and to establish a tuberculosis hospital. Located at Riverside (near Richardsville), the Warren County Tuberculosis Sanatorium was dedicated in September 1942 and operated until 1956, when patients were moved to the new Sunrise Hospital. In addition to serving as the Association's president, Beulah also served on the board of the Warren County Tuberculosis Sanatorium Trustees and the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association. In July 1944, Governor Simeon Willis appointed her as the sole woman on the Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission of Kentucky, charged with selecting sites for state-supported hospitals in six sanatorium districts. Bowling Green campaigned actively for selection, offering its existing hospital or several alternate sites, but Glasgow was chosen as the site for the district.

Beulah Smith participated in many other areas of church and community service. She served for five years as chairman of the Warren County Crippled Children's Commission, and was a charter member of the Salvation Army. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the National Society Southern Dames of America, and the Huguenot Society of Kentucky. Other memberships included the Music Club, the Bowling Green Garden Club, the Bowling Green Mothers Club, and the Altrusa Club. At Bowling Green's First Baptist Church, she was superintendent of the intermediate Sunday School. She also took up genealogical research on her own and others' behalf.

Beulah was also an active member and officer in the Kentucky Mothers Association of the American Mothers Committee, Inc. In 1963, the organization selected her as its Kentucky Mother of the Year, an honor that led to a profile in the Louisville Courier-Journal Magazine (see Box 1, Folder 2), and to eligibility for American Mother of the Year.

Beulah Smith died on 8 February 1987 and was interred in Bowling Green's Fairview Cemetery.

COLLECTION NOTE

This collection consists of correspondence, photographs (both original and photocopied) and papers of Beulah (Morgan) Smith relating to her family, genealogy, club activities and community service.

Box 1 includes clippings with biographical data (Folder 2), but otherwise contains material relating to Beulah Smith's work with the Bowling Green-Warren County Tuberculosis Association and the Warren County Tuberculosis Sanatorium. Correspondence from 1941-1944 (Folder 3) covers planning and financing for the hospital, the difficulties in supplying water to the property, the consideration of various physicians for employment as superintendent, and a program celebrating the hospital's second anniversary of operation. Correspondence from 1945-1946 (Folder 4) chiefly documents searches for superintendents, nurses and staff, but includes a copy of a letter to the editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal disputing the advantages of Glasgow over Bowling Green as a candidate for the Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission's district hospital. Correspondence from 1947-1968 (Folder 5) includes material relating to the Warren County Tuberculosis Sanatorium's equipment and finances, payment for the care of African-American patients in other facilities (the hospital was not integrated until 1952), a volunteer award to Beulah, and the dedication of the Glasgow sanatorium. Some statistical data on finances and patient numbers is also present in the correspondence. Undated material (Folder 6) includes articles on citizens whose illnesses highlighted the need for a tuberculosis hospital in Warren County; photocopied photographs of personnel and volunteers connected with the hospital and the Association; and statistical information. Forms (Folder 9) include applications for hospital admission and related forms; also included is the text of a petition by citizens of Warren County requesting the Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission to locate one of the planned hospitals in Bowling Green. The 1945 report on prospective hospital sites for the Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission (Folders 10, 14) includes evaluations and recommendations for each district. A 1943 report to the Governor from the Division of Engineering and Construction for the Department of Finance (Folder 11) includes photographs of state prisons and hospitals. Material relating to assistance given by the Bowling Green-Warren County Tuberculosis Association in hosting European high school students under American Field Service Scholarships (Folder 12) includes correspondence, clippings, photographs, and thank-you letters from students. The 1945 proposal by the Bowling Green/Warren County Chamber of Commerce to the Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission (Folder 14) touts Bowling Green as the site for one of its hospitals; it provides information on the existing facility and the city's amenities, and includes photographs.

Box 2 contains material relating to Beulah Smith's membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) and the National Society Southern Dames of America. Her DAR material (Folders 1-3) includes her 1942 membership certificate, clippings, correspondence, literature, mementoes of her attendance at a 1952 congress, and documentation of her participation in the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage, a DAR program recognizing high school girls for their civic achievements. Also included (Folder 3) is research and correspondence relating to her presentation of a program on Eleanor Roosevelt to her local DAR chapter, and her invitations to Mrs. Roosevelt to visit Bowling Green both for the program and in conjunction with the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage. Materials related to her involvement in the National Society Southern Dames of America (Folders 4-10) include her application and those of several other women from Kentucky, reports and meeting materials, the Society's newsletter, and literature concerning its promotion of the Eye Bank Program for corneal transplants.

Box 3 contains correspondence and papers of Beulah Smith and members of her family. General correspondence (Folders 1, 2) consists of letters from her sons and their wives about their activities, and from her grandchildren thanking her for Christmas and birthday gifts. Also included are several responses (mostly photocopies) by or on behalf of public figures for Beulah's expressions of sympathy or support; of interest is her letter to President Richard Nixon's daughter and son-in-law offering son Charles's medical expertise to treat Nixon's "strain and worry" arising from the "present crisis" (presumably the Watergate affair). Materials related to Beulah's selection as Kentucky Mother of the Year for 1963 (Folder 3) include nomination letters, congratulatory messages and other correspondence. Collected personal mementoes (Folder 6) include family photographs, clippings, commendations and other keepsakes. A small amount of material relating to husband Bert Raldon Smith (Folder 9) includes photocopied family photographs, speeches, and a poem about his WKU class of 1914. Material on Beulah Smith's sons Charles (Folder 10) and Raldon (Folder 11) and their families include biographical data, clippings and letters, especially from Raldon's children.

Boxes 4 and 5 contain genealogical and historical research on Beulah Smith's ancestors, although research on the Getty family (Folder 2) appears to have been performed as a service for a third party. Much of the research concerns her ancestors in the Pryor family, but data on several associated families has also been collected. The research includes correspondence with others interested in the same family line.

Box 6 contains an accretion to this collection consisting of Beulah Smith's correspondence and records relating to her involvement in the Kentucky Mothers Association and its parent organization, the American Mothers Committee, Inc. Included are meeting minutes, membership lists, correspondence, and newsletters.
