

10-13-2017

UA12/2/1 WKUHerald321

WKU Student Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records

 Part of the Higher Education Administration Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, Mass Communication Commons, Social History Commons, Sociology Commons, and the Sports Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

WKU Student Affairs, "UA12/2/1 WKUHerald321" (2017). WKU Archives Records. Paper 5332.
http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/5332

This Other is brought to you for free and open access by TopSCHOLAR®. It has been accepted for inclusion in WKU Archives Records by an authorized administrator of TopSCHOLAR®. For more information, please contact topscholar@wku.edu.

October 13, 2017

Don't have time to sort through every article published in the Herald to get your daily news? No worries! Just check out the Herald 3 – 2 – 1, a weekly newsletter that recaps the most important or interesting stories we've put out over the past seven days.

Each issue, we'll highlight 3 breaking news stories, 2 amusing or fascinating features and 1 photo, comic or social media nugget to put a little spice in your day.

3 Noteworthy News Stories

Campus reflects on 100 days with Caboni

As Monday, October 9, marked Tim Caboni's first 100 days as President of WKU, members of the Student Government Association and campus Greek organizations take note of Caboni's strong start in open-mindedness and dedication to pursuing truth and cooperation.

Read the full story by Rebekah Alvey.

13 Reasons Why sparks discussions of mental health

13 Reasons Why, a young adult novel by Jay Asher, tells the story of the aftermath of a teenage girl's suicide, and was the subject of a discussion on Tuesday night led by a panel of mental health experts in the campus area. Panelists encouraged participants to examine questions such as the need for open discussions on suicide or the accuracy of the novel's portrayal of depression and suicide.

Read the full story by Laurel Deppen.

Caboni, Beshear commit to end domestic violence

President Caboni and state Attorney General Andy Beshear signed a proclamation to declare October National Domestic Violence Awareness Month at WKU at a public ceremony on Monday afternoon. Caboni and Beshear both expressed that they viewed domestic violence as an important issue that they plan to continue to address.

Read the full story by Monica Kast.

2 Fun Features

SETTING SAIL: WKU Theatre debuts student-led show

The opening of "The Yellow Boat" tonight, October 13, marks the start of the WKU Children's Theatre Series, a three-show set of student-directed, designed and sometimes written stage performances intended for young audiences. "The Yellow Boat" follows the author's emotional journey of losing his son to AIDS.

Read the full story by Nicole Ziege.

Big Red Marching Band shares music, builds community

Take a closer look at the Big Red Marching Band, the massive and extremely dedicated band of around 250 student musicians responsible for keeping crowds interested during halftimes and maintaining team spirit. Members share their favorite moments and their preparation processes.

Read the full story by Brooke Wright.

1 Entertaining Extra

Sorority Shenanigans: Photo Gallery

Members of campus Greek organizations showed off their hard work and dedication by putting on dances choreographed and performed by their members as part of the Shenanigans event at SKyPAC. The event took place on Tuesday, October 3, and was hosted by Kappa Delta as its annual philanthropy event.

View the full gallery by Grace Pritchett.

